members of the staff. The students sang during the visit "O Canada" and a verse of "The Maple Leaf Forever."

Visit to Hospitals
At Civic Hospital members of the board of governors, John R. Marshall, Dr. G. S. Cameron, William C. Ackerman and V. R. Selkirk were present to meet the visitors. With them was Mr. John Hornal, superintendent, and Miss A. L. Thompson, superintendent of nurses.

At St. Joseph's Hospital Sister Priscilla, Sister Superior, and Sister Gonzaga, superintendent of nurses, were the centre of a reception group after uniformed nurses sang from the steps on the arrival of the Lieutenant-Governor "Canada, Dear Land of Mine." At both hospitals nurses continued about their duties, as Hon. Mr. Lawson looked in on many of the patients whose condition permitted a personal call. Into wards and single rooms, and maternity ward, expressing sympathy and good wishes.

"The patients were delighted," Sister Priscilla at St. Joseph's remarked later to the Examiner. "Some may have known the Lieutenant-Governor was coming, but I think it was a surprise to most of them, and they could hardly believe that it was he. It was a delightful visit."

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Garrulous Distaff Nuisance To Busier Sisters of Skillet

One of the greatest pests in the life of the woman who has nothing in God's world to do but kill time. And, unfortunately, she has to have someone assist her in committing the crime, so she wishes the job off on us, and she does it blithely, with apparently no thought but that we will also have the time of our lives participating in the ghastly rite.

Dorothy Dix

The woman who has nothing to do usually chooses as her favorite hour for making a nuisance of herself and victimizing us, that breathless period in the morning when we are struggling to get the day's work planned and started. It is just when the woman who has all of her own housework to do and who is rushing madly around trying to get her husband and children up and fed and off to business and school; when the dishes have to be washed, the marketing done, the house cleaned, besides a thousand other chores that have to be attended to, that the woman who has nothing to do but kill time decides to drop in for a nice, long visit.

And she stays and stays and stays, and gossips, or maunders on about herself, her symptoms, her clothes, while the busy woman writhes and can think of nothing but how the morning is passing and how far behind she is in her work, and in her soul she curses the idler for her lack of understanding and appreciation of the position in life of others.

Phone Gossips

And, of course when you lock your door against the women who has nothing to do, she creeps in over the telephone, and there you are. Helpless. Defenseless. A martyr crucified on one end of a wire, while she talks and talks about nothing, and you call on your patron saint to give you patience under your affliction.

I knew a woman who told me that she had a friend who called her every day and grabbed along for hours. She said she would listen for a while, then leave the phone and make a bed, then come back and pick up the receiver and her friend wouldn't even have missed her as she hadn't paused in her conversation.

When we remonstrate with these idle women about the actual cruelty they are committing in taking an exceedingly busy woman's time, they very often take the attitude that they are conferring a favor on us by getting us away from our work for an hour or so. But, in reality, they are only thinking of themselves and their own pleasure. Time hangs heavily on their hands and they want to be amused, and they don't care whom they sacrifice to make themselves a holiday.

But there is no excuse for any woman not finding something useful to do, something to occupy her heart and mind and hands, in a world that is crying for help. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

The Stars Say ...

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Wednesday, June 2

While regulation and normal procedures and techniques may have some show of progress and mending broken fences suddenly torn by disastrous gales, yet an entire and enduring comeback may not be counted upon. Certain influential elements may be impressed, placated, or won over to some constructive action, yet there are signs of carelessness, impulsive judgments and these sustained or urged by treachery, schemes or other illicit or pernicious entanglements. Keep alert to all subtle or intriguing contacts, especially social or affectional.

It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it may be able to win the friendly support of certain influential interests, whose substantial aid is vital, to restoration and reconstructed effort. Yet even this may have crafty or dubious undercurrents, in which it may be judicious to be keenly alive to sordid complications, where suspicion and subtlety are menacing. Such might have an element of the social, romantic or domestic, likewise kept to the treacherous and underhand. Sidestep any form of allying commitments, if loss and regret, are to be avoided. A child born on this day may be talented and progressive, although an easy victim to dupes and snares, both business and in its personal life.

I.O.D.E. Spent $129,529 On Child Welfare

HALIFAX, June 1 — (CP). — A total of $129,529 has been spent in the last year on child and family welfare by the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, it was announced Monday by Mrs. A. K. Richardson, Regent of the third day of the 48th annual national meeting here.

Reading the report in the absence of Mrs. H. E. Munro of Toronto, child and welfare convener, Mrs. Richardson told the 400 representatives from across the Dominion that each of the 933 Chapters had done some form of welfare work.

During Monday's sessions, 10 reports were submitted, with another eight scheduled to come up for discussion today.

During the business sessions it was decided that clothing collected by British Columbia Chapters for overseas shipment should be used by the emergency flood conditions in the province.

In her Canadianization and immigration report, Miss D. E. Taylor of Ottawa read a letter from Secretary of State Colin Gibson expressing the appreciation of the citizenship branch of his department for the interest of the IODE in citizenship education among immigrants.

Immigration reports from Alberta Chapters indicated the province needed more citizens to develop industries. In Winnipeg a Polish Chapter, the Marshal Pilsudski, has been active in preventing distribution of Communist literature to new immigrants. A Quebec convener suggested formation of language classes for immigrants with special emphasis placed on accent and grammar.

Mrs. B. B. Osler of Toronto, National Echoes secretary, recommended that if a Junior chapter page is to be regular feature of the IODE official publication, its preparation should be the responsibility of Junior chapters and each Bohoos secretary.

Under the direction of Mrs. F. L. J. Groat, Toronto, national film convener, it was decided to form a national film fund to which each chapter would contribute $1 or more yearly.

The new executive of Alpha Theta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, took office Monday evening with president Mrs. John Vingo presiding. Plans for the annual picnic were discussed, and it was decided to hold it on June 14 at the home of Miss Isobel Birdsall. Retiring president Miss Phyllis Tarkington thanked the members for enthusiasm and co-operation shown in the preceding year.

Movie Audiences Young People Survey Shows

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, June 1 (AP)—The problem of getting ma' and pa into Movie Theatre is an important one in Hollywood to-day.

A recent survey which reported that 80 per cent of the movie audience is under 30 years of age came as a shock to many people in Hollywood.

Some screen savants opine that if Hollywood can figure a way to get the older citizens to attend film houses more often, the current business slump will be solved. At any rate, the AP Hollywood Forum has thrown the question open for discussion by the film fanned.

Van Johnson: "I think popcorn and double features have done a lot to keep the old folks away. And they don't want to sit for hours and hours looking at two pictures. The seats get too hard."

Joseph Cotten: "Movie makers have made pictures so easy for audiences that you can sit and watch them in a half-awakened state. Everything is too obvious. Adults resent this and so stay away from the movies."

Charles Bickford: "Adults get fed up with seeing only 'teen-age romance on the screen. There should be more middle-aged romance, with guys like Charles Bickford."

Ronald Reagan: "I believe there are four factors in the drop of adult movie attendance: 1. Comfort-loving adults are discouraged because of traffic, parking, box office lines, cramped seats and faulty ventilation; 2. few films are aimed at adult intelligence; 3. deceptive advertising often fools people into seeing awful turkeys; 4. publicity about supposed immorality of stars discourages the public's desire to see them on the screen."

Joan Fontaine: "People over 35 have more responsibilities than younger people. I don't know what can get them into the theatre. I believe movies are better to-day than ever and appeal to all age groups."

Brian Donlevy: "False advertising scares 'em away. You can't

10,000 Overseas Buyers At Canada's Trade Fair

By The Canadian Press.

In order to sell, Canada must buy, is one of the slogans of the present Canadian International Trade Fair in Toronto.

Before many countries can buy Canadian goods in any quantity, they somehow have to be supplied with Canadian dollars. This problem is one easily understood by Canadians because they have the same difficulty themselves in the matter of United States dollars.

In any event, the whole problem of world buying and selling is being tested in this present fortnight, as 32 countries lay open their coffers at the Trade Fair, and the buyers of more than 75 countries look at them.

Its dollars and cents results won't be known, for the essence of the fair is to create a place where businessmen from over the world can meet, provide them with facilities, and then leave them alone.

It is obvious that one result will be to make Canada more widely known, for some 35,000 people will be here, about 10,000 from outside North America, and they will carry their impressions home, both from a business and personal point of view. In this connection Acting Trade Minister Mackinnon said Saturday:

"Let us, as individuals, as Canadians, seek out visitors from other countries and make a point of extending to them some special and particular personal attention and courtesy."

"He may be an importer of fish or an exporter of rubber, and your line may be farm implements or textiles. But his very presence indicates his community of interest with trade-minded Canadians."

Claims Drew Fears Depression

PORT ARTHUR, June 1.—(CP).—M. J. Coldwell, national CCF leader, Monday night said Premier Drew had "taken time by the forelock" to beat a period of depression which some people thought would follow the present unprecedented inflation.

Mr. Coldwell addressed approximately 500 persons in the interests of F. O. Robinson, CCF candidate in Port Arthur in the Ontario election.

He said the premier knew post-war prosperity would not last. "Like the period following the last war, we will have a big deflation and the people who will suffer most are those who earn their daily bread. The people who make the fortunes will not suffer to the same extent."

TORONTO, June 1.—(CP).—Leaders of Ontario's three major political parties made speeches as official nominations closed Monday with 290 candidates named to contest the 90 provincial seats in the Ontario elections next Monday.

Premier Drew at Walkerton said the way to keep Ontario youth from emigrating to the United States is to continue to develop the province's vast resources. He also spoke at Arthur.

Ontario Liberal leader Farquhar Oliver spoke at Kincardine and Durham. Ontario CCF leader Edward B. Jolliffe made a broadcast over a CBC Ontario network and spoke at Galt and Hespeler.

Premier Drew said that in the last five years his government introduced many innovations into Ontario education. These included school film libraries, practical courses in agriculture, establishment of technical institutes, expansion of libraries and an increase in the number of scholarships.

Mr. Oliver, at Kincardine, said the Liberal party supports a policy of decentralization of industry to build up farm communities. He said the province's future depends on a healthy agricultural industry in a countryside studded with small industrial communities.

Industries should be brought to these small communities to provide employment for rural people who choose not to work on farms, he said. Hydro-Electric power rates for rural subscribers should be reduced as much as possible so that larger communities would not have an advantage in attracting industries.

At Durham Mr. Oliver charged that Premier Drew's $27,000,000 reduction of the provincial debt was not a matter of good government. He said more than that amount had been refunded by the Federal government as a result of wartime tax agreements. Mr. Jolliffe said in his broadcast that while the Communists say publicly that they are supporting the CCF in the election campaign, in their own party literature they are making "bitter attacks on him personally and on the CCF."

CALGARY — First Canadian application of a system of electromagnetism to prevent mud slides — a German wartime discovery — is being carried out on a steep hill threatening more than a score of Calgary homes. The experiment, which involves forcing of drainage by using an electric current, started on a 90-foot ridge on Sunnyside Hill here Monday.

LONDON—Sophie Tucker kept a sentimental date with her public Monday night—and her reward was one of the most smashing personal triumphs known to the theatre's old timers here. Two jammed houses at the London Casino welcomed the 64-year-old trouper back to this country after

Many a milk bottle makes only one trip in its lifetime. Others survive longer before becoming chipped or broken. But on an average a milk bottle has a life of about three months during which time it goes out from the dairy about 40 times before it is lost or scrapped for one reason or another. BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

THREE WAYS TO NIP IT

ONE OF the painful experiences of a kibitzer at a duplicate game is seeing a contract beaten which can be made in any of several different ways, or the converse—seeing a contract made which can be nipped in several ways. On rare occasions, the defenders may have as many as three entirely different methods of downing the declarer and fail to employ any one of them while they sit him on his way to success.

Hand:

♠ K J 8 6
♥ J 8 6 5 4
♣ A 10 7

West: ♠ K 8 5
♥ A 10 7
♦ K 9 8
♣ A 7 6

North: ♠ A Q 4 3
♥ K 9 3 2
♣ K 5 3

Deal: West. Neither side vulnerable.

West North East South
Pass 1♣ 1♠
4♣ 4♠

That was the approximate bidding at most tables in a social duplicate, except that in a few cases West doubled and in others bid 5-Diamonds, which was not made. The defense began the same everywhere, with the club 9 to the A. Most Easts then returned the 6 for a possible defensive ruff, but South won, took out trumps with the A and K, then led the heart 4 from dummy, East playing the A. So the Defenders got only one trick after that, with the return to the diamond A.

East could have beaten it, and did at one table, by playing low on the heart lead, which obliged South to lose two tricks in the suit. Another East beat it by winning the club lead with the A and laying down the heart A to see what West would play. When he saw the Q felled, he repeated hearts for a ruff by West, who then scored his diamond A.

Not one East made the percentage play on the club 9 opening lead after the dummy put on the 4 or 10. If he had used the J on the 10 or the 7 on the 4, South would have had to lose two tricks in that suit.

A kibitzer who followed the deal around the room, just to notice what variations would develop in East's defensive play, got little pleasure from what he saw.

How should South's play for 4-Spades be influenced by a double from East?

Ottawa Man Seeks Alnwick Connections

ROSENEATH, June 1—(ENS)—Harris Lapp, Ottawa, was in the village on Friday visiting relatives and friends. A great grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Lapp, a grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lapp, who were residents of Alnwick township, and a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lapp of

New Labor Code For World Is Outlined

MONTREAL, June 1—(CP)—Prompt payment of the world's wage earners in cash without unreasonable deductions is provided in the proposed terms of an international labor convention made public today by the international labor office at Montreal. The desirability of adopting such a convention, or treaty, will be debated by the government, employer and labor delegates of 56 member countries at the I.L.O.'s annual conference opening June 19 in San Francisco.

The treaty, based on the replies of governments to an international questionnaire, would provide that:

1. Payments of wages, with certain exceptions, would be made only in legal tender, or by check if the employee approved in writing.
2. In industries where partial payment in kind is customary, such payments would be restricted to those appropriate for the personal use of the worker and his family and assessed at no more than their real value.
3. Employers would be prohibited from limiting in any manner from freedom of the worker to dispose of his earnings.
4. Workers would be free from coercion to patronize company stores which would be operated without profit to the employer and would sell goods at fair and reasonable prices.

5. Deductions from pay would be permitted only under conditions and to the extent described by national laws or regulations.

6. Wages would be subject to attachment or seizure only in a manner and within limits prescribed by law.

7. In the event of bankruptcy or legal liquidation of an enterprise, its employees would be treated as privileged creditors for wages due.

8. Wages would be paid regularly at intervals which would minimize the likelihood of indebtedness among the workers.

4. Workers would be free from

Hasn't Eaten For 9 Years Claims Chinese Girl

CHUNGKING, June 1—(AP)—Astonished doctors reported Sunday that a Chinese peasant girl—who says she hasn't eaten in nine years—has fasted for 19 days without visible ill effects.

In that time she has never been out of sight of a nurse and has taken only a half pint of water, said Dr. T. Y. Gan of Chungking Municipal Hospital. Other doctors vouched for Dr. Gan's story.

"Normally a girl undergoing such a fast would be in an extremely weakened condition, perhaps even in a coma," Gan said.

"This girl leads a perfectly normal life, except for not eating and limited drinking."

I went in to see the girl, 20-year-old Yang Mei. She is a small, homey, little girl with buck teeth. She weighs about 85 pounds.

She shows no sign of starvation. She appears no different from any other peasant girl. I found it difficult to believe her story as told by Gan, one of four doctors on the case.

Her expression and eyes are generally dull. Most of the time I watched her she sat listless, her hands clasped in her lap.

Gan said the girl told him about nine years ago she suffered a severe gastric pain that lasted for two months. She said that she has eaten nothing since.

Communists Gain In German Election

MUNICH, Germany, June 1—(AP)—Western Germany's strongest political party lost almost half its strength in Bavarian cities today.

The party, the Conservative Christian social union, lost ground to the Communists and right wing parties, final municipal election returns from the United States-occupied state show.

Nearly 1,200,000 persons voted in 41 Bavarian cities Sunday. In some areas, particularly the city of Nuernberg, the Communists showed an unexpected increase in strength.

The CSU, strongly backed by Catholic and Conservative elements, got 35.1 per cent of the total vote in 1946 elections in Bavarian cities. Sunday it dropped to 18.5 per cent.

The votes the party lost were picked up by the Communists, who jumped from 9.3 per cent in 1946 to 10, and by small right wing parties.

OTTAWA, June 1—(CP)—Veterans of the Second War War have purchased $56,889,000 worth of veterans' insurance, it was announced today. Applications for the insurance totalled more than $1,500,000 a month. To April of this year 19,812 policies were issued.

CHICAGO, June 1 (AP).—Sally, Irene and Mary—three erudite young ladies from Yale, if you please—began a new project today. The girls are chimpanzees. They were loaned for a few years to Brookfield Zoo by the New Haven, Conn., primate laboratory for exhibition. They were used at Yale in behaviour tests. But, Zoo Director Robert Bean said, his newest charges seem to think they were sent here to study human beings. He explained:

"They haven't yet shaken off the somber mien of the researcher. So far, they've done little but stand and regard their visitors with disbelieving perplexity."

WILLIAM MURNEY

HARWOOD, June 1—(ENS)—Funeral service for William Murney was held Saturday afternoon from St. John's Church. He was taken ill with pneumonia about 10 days ago, and died in Cobourg General Hospital.

He was born in Harwood 63 years ago, youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Murney, and received his education at Harwood school and has lived all his life in the village.

Surviving are his only brother, Henry Murney and one niece, Miss Irene Murney; two nephews, Gerald, of Cobourg, and Jack of Harwood.

The church was filled to capacity for the service, conducted by the Rev. L. J. Delaney, with burial at St. George's Cemetery, Gore's Landing.

When the funeral procession left the church, the bells of St. John's and St. George's tolled simultaneously.

Floral tributes were beautiful. Flower bearers were Harry Hayward and Mr. Freeman. Pallbearers were Russell S. Johnson, Dennis Corkrey, Walter Johnston, Harold Zufelt, Tom Swift and W. O. Harvie.

Find Combine In Optical Goods Trade

US And Canadian Firms, Wholesalers
Rigged Prices Upward

OTTAWA, June 2 (CP).—Several illegal combines have been operating to inflate prices in the Canadian optical goods trade.

Justice Minister Hiley was advised officially today at the end of an eight-year-old federal investigation.

F. A. McGregor, commissioner under the Combines Investigation Act, named two United States optical companies, a Canadian subsidiary and a group of Canadian wholesalers as having combined "against the interest of the public."

Control of patent licences has been the device used to hoist prices in the optical trade, the commissioner found, and his report marked the first Canadian instance in which a patent licensing system has been cited as principal factor in an illegal trade restraint.

Mr. Hiley said no decision has been reached on the question of court action growing out of the commission's finding.

Officials said also that the question of prosecutions doubtless would be considered—all of which have been included in operations of one or another of the combines.

Forced to Charge More

The report showed such conditions as these:

1. The combine forced optometrists and opticians to charge not less than $15 for glasses costing $3.80.

2. A minimum retail price of $10 was set for glasses costing $4.20.

3. Lenses costing $1.65 a pair had to be sold for not less than $5.

4. Low-priced lenses were taken off the market under compulsion, and the prices of others were jacked up.

While the commissioner did not find combine

Six-Power Chat Brings Concord

LONDON, June 2 (CP).—A six-power conference on western Germany's political and economic future reported officially today it has reached agreement on recommendations covering the whole field.

That was the heart of an 80-word communique summing up the results of six weeks of talks which brought together high-ranking diplomatic, financial and production experts from the United States, Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

It mentioned directly none of the major accomplishments of the talks, among them the recommendation to establish a separate western Germany early next year, plans for creating an international control board over the Ruhr's key minerals, or long-range methods for preventing re-birth of German aggression.

But it did say that a report on all recommendations will shortly be made public.

A foreign office spokesman was unable to say whether Russia would be informed by the British government or other participating governments about the results of the conference.

10,000 Homes Vanport City Lost In Floods

PORTLAND, Ore., June 2 (AP).—The Columbia flood crest bore down on the Clatskanie area today in its rampage to the Pacific ocean. The river lapped less than three inches from dike top and was going higher.

Four hundred civilian volunteers struggled to heighten the line dikes in the threatened area 100-mile barricaded stretch between the Clatskanie area today in its rampage to the Pacific ocean.

Behind the hard-pressed earthworks is the town of Clatskanie, its population of about 1,000 has been evacuated. So have residents in other districts of the area.

Other "critical" points included the Sandy and Multnomah drainage districts along Portland's north and eastern outskirts. There 300 troops and 700 civilian volunteers fought to bolster flood-battered dikes and keep Portland's airport and the big Troutdale Aluminum plant from inundation.

The crush of water seaward meant the worst was over upper where the toll is 20 known dead, an unknown number unaccounted for in the Vanport, Ore., disaster. 50,000 homeless and damage in millions of dollars.

The flood peak has passed the major cities—Portland, Oregon's metropolis; and Vancouver and Longview on the Washington side of the state-separating river.

An estimated 10,000 homes were swept away. The entire city of Vanport was destroyed.

Daring Escape Try Fails Convict Slugged On Train

TORONTO, June 2 (CP).—David Nolan, 32-year-old bandit, tried unsuccessfully to escape Saturday from a train on which he was being taken to Kingston Penitentiary to serve 15 years for armed robbery, police said today.

Feigning illness, he was taken to a washroom where he grabbed a hidden automatic pistol and grappled with a guard. He pulled a trigger three times but the weapon did not discharge because the safety catch was on, police said.

The gun is believed to have been hidden in the washroom by a "mysterious stranger" seen on the train as it left Toronto, police said.

Nolan was one of six prisoners being escorted to Kingston. He was shackled hand and foot to a convict named Terrence O'Reilly. Shortly before the train left Toronto, Nolan asked to be taken to the washroom. When he got there, he asked to be unshackled but his request was refused by sheriff's officers.

Later, apparently when the train was near Belleville, he complained of cramps and was taken again to the washroom. With him and O'Reilly was Sheriff's Officer Frank Reilly, former Toronto policeman.

Nolan reached into a corner, grabbed the pistol and pulled the trigger. Reilly struck Nolan on the jaw, dropping him to the floor. Later, 12 bullets wrapped in a handkerchief were found in the washroom.

Police said the believe a friend was waiting with an automobile at Belleville to help Nolan escape if he succeeded in shooting his way off the train.

Kingston police, notified from Belleville of the escape bid, provided motorcycle and cruiser escorts to take Nolan from the station to the penitentiary.

Nolan, 32, of Hamilton, was sentenced last March 16 to 15 years for armed robbery of the Coxwell Inn on east-end Danforth Avenue Feb. 9.

Police said he was released penitentiary shortly before the holdup. He had served most of a 10-year term for the attempted holdup of a Hamilton bank.

7 Nazi Doctors Die On Gallows

LANDSBERG, Germany, June 2 (AP).—Seven German doctors and SS (Elite Guard) officers died on American gallows today for war crimes.

They were convicted of killing and maiming thousands in Nazi medical experiments in Nazi concentration camps.

They were the first to be hanged of 25 Germans sentenced to death by United States war crimes courts at Nuernberg.

Several died protesting their innocence and complaining against the American system of justice which convicted them.

The executions went off without a hitch. The last man dropped to his doom just 62 minutes after the first stepped on the trap.

The experiments described in court included high altitude experiments in which human guinea pigs were crushed and strangled. There also were malaria, mustard gas and sterilization tests which killed many—most of them dying in agony.

Move To Block Rail Strike

OTTAWA, June 2 (CP).—Two federal mediation boards will begin "almost immediately" an attempt to settle the strike-threatened wage differences between the railways and their 140,000 union employees.

Labor department officials said today the boards would go right to work at trying to get the disputants together on a compromise that would avert a paralyzing strike of rail transport across the nation.

In announcing the set-up of the boards Tuesday, the department took about the last step left to the government.

Earlier, conciliation boards had failed to reach a medium on which the unions and companies could agree.

In the latest move, the government reconstituted as mediation boards the two conciliation boards that had acted earlier. Both are headed by Mr. Justice J. C. A. Cameron of the Exchequer Court of Canada.

After the conciliation investigation, the boards recommended an increase of seven cents an hour, against the 35 asked by the employees. The railways accepted the seven-cent figure, but the unions rejected it.

Since then, strike votes have been ordered among the 112,000 members of the 18 international unions involved and the 30,000-man Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and other transport workers (CCL). The CCL members have voted for a strike; the vote of the other unions is due to be finished by June 21.

Under the new setup, the boards chief function will be to get the unions and companies to resume the negotiations they broke off several weeks ago.

Forest Fires Spreading; Out Of Control

100,000 Acres
Prey To Flames; Worst On Record

By The Canadian Press

The fire-ravaged forests of Northern Ontario were closed today to all persons except those on "essential" business.

T. E. Mackey, chief of the forest protection division of the Ontario Lands Department, made the announcement in Toronto.

The ban on travel applies to all

With temperatures in the 80's and the northern country very dry the worst forest fire in history has burned to within 10 miles of Espanola, the Examiner was informed at noon today when in a telephone conversation with the paper company there. In spite of the hundreds of fire-fighters the flames are raging unchecked and vast areas of virgin timber have already been burned.

travel-permit areas and takes in the bulk of the northland, he said. It will be in effect indefinitely.

"This will be tough on a lot of people," said Mr. Mackey, "but the fact is that the forests are not safe to go into. This really is a move to protect people."

"From now on, only people with legitimate business—people engaged in fire-suppression or in some other essential work—will be permitted to enter the bush."

The announcement came as unchecked flames spread over areas totalling almost 100,000 acres.

One of the three major blazes—in the Mississagi district 55 miles northwest of Blind River—is one of the largest and costliest in Ontario history, Mr. Mackey said.

May Get Worse

It is expected to link within a few days with a 40,000-acre fire in the Chapleau-Blind river sector.

The fires now are separated by only 10 to 15 miles.

The travel prohibition applies in regulation areas where permits normally are required by tourists, trappers and fishermen between April 15 and Oct. 31.

Forestry officials took this drastic action, Mr. Mackey said, because the situation is "frankly very bad."

"All fires are spreading out in all directions and if the weather continues dry and hot, things are going to be even worse."

The 12-day old Helen Lake fire raged out of control. More than 300 men fought it with 12 power pumps and two tractors.

Two miles south of Long Lac in the Thunder Bay district, fire was reported spreading through Jackpine stands on both sides of the Trans-Canada Highway.

The first major outbreak of the season at Timmins brought 50 volunteers to the aid of Forest Rangers in Mount Joy township.

New fires also were reported near Beardmore in Northwestern Ontario and at Nellie Lake, near Porcupine Junction south of Timmins. The Nellie Lake outbreak covered 400 acres of timberland.

Arabs And Jews Debating Scope Of Truce

CAIRO, June 2 (AP).—The Arab states informed the United Nations today that any truce which does not provide for a unified Palestine has no chance of success.

The detailed reply was an acceptance of the four-week armistice asked by the U.N., but it left the time of the cease-fire to be decided.

While the Arabs and Jews debated the scope of the truce both accepted Tuesday, gunplay continued in the Holy Land. Whether Israel's statement of "assumptions" regarding the four-week armistice and the Arab reply, would bring an effective armistice could not be said.

The Trans-Jordan Arab Legion repulsed Jewish attacks on three gates of the old walled city of Jerusalem before 3 a.m. Palestine time which Israel had set for a cease-fire. Military headquarters at Tel Aviv asserted that Egyptian armed forces broke that cease-fire twice in actions below Tel Aviv.

The Arab Legion which captured old walled Jerusalem last week said 600 Jews attacked the Zion, Jaffa and new gates of the old city between 1 and 3 a.m. Arab marksmen repulsed the attacks and estimated they killed 20 Jews. The Legion commander said a Jewish plane was heard but that it stayed out of range of anti-aircraft guns.

The Jewish cease-fire order was timed to take effect with the deadline set by the U.N. Security Council for replies to its armistice plea.

Both sides attached strings to their acceptances of the council's plea.

Shertok said the Israeli cease-fire was based on five assumptions of the meaning of the U.N. appeal. One assumption was that free immigration into Israel would be allowed during the truce.

9,000 Homeless At Coast; Columbia, Fraser Continue To Cause Havoc

Flood Loss Nears 30 Millions In BC
Smelter City Of Trail
Hard Hit By Raging Columbia

VANCOUVER, June 2 (CP).—The sorely-stricken Fraser Valley today was licking its $30,000,000 flood wounds, waiting for the worst—which, in many sections, is yet to come. Six thousand more acres of once-fertile farmland late Tuesday became a river floor for the Fraser as a 15-foot silt-laden torrent breached an 80-foot hole in the dike at Cannor, about 55 miles east of here near Chilliwack.

An estimated 1,000 residents were evacuated from the area. An army official said "at least 9,000 persons" have been made homeless in the Fraser Valley alone.

Flood experts advising the Federal Government Tuesday night placed the flood loss in the valley between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000.

The Columbia River has reaped a toll of havoc in BC's East Kootenay district. It is sweeping into the smelter city of Trail and emergency crews were frantically throwing up dikes and retaining walls as the water seeped into the heart of the business district.

Responding to an urgent appeal, the army here dispatched 59 officers and men to the new danger area. The crest is expected today. Fresh outbreaks were reported in Lillooet and Lytton, about 120 miles northeast of here. The Thompson River was at the 58-foot mark at Lytton and flood workers said the situation "is becoming more grim hourly." Lillooet was completely isolated.

The death toll in the 11-day B.C. flood still stands at four. Both the Canadian National and the Canadian Pacific Railway companies have announced the current embargo on rail traffic to and from Vancouver will be continued until June 7.

Flood experts, however, said in all probability Vancouver would be shut off from the rest of Canada for another three weeks.

Veterans Minister Gregg announced his department would help to re-establish veterans in flooded areas.

Officials of wholesale companies, feed and seed supply houses and machine companies said they would not press Fraser Valley farmers and business men to settle their accounts.

Meanwhile, the "battle of the Fraser" continued relentlessly. The cresting river was lapping at the top of dikes at Pitt Meadows 25 miles east.

Dikers used timber, gravel and stones to reinforce the saturated sandbags continually giving way. A new threat, increasing hourly along the whole Fraser Valley still diked, was the danger that a gradual undermining of the dikes would make them topple before the surging waters.

Pope Pius Urges Social Reforms To Restore World

ROME, June 2 (AP).—Pope Pius called today for "just and necessary social reforms" to solve problems "growing out of the ruin and revolution of the war and its aftermath."

Not otherwise could "wayward and embittered hearts" be won back to the "true concepts and sound ideas about the world and God."

He invoked "earnestness, loyalty, energy and fairness" of "all men of right principles" for the task, citing especially the "urgent need to provide the poorer classes with housing, bread and work."

To Roman Catholics he gave the watchword, "Watchfulness"—lest the enemy, whose identity he did not specify, "retake the ground so laboriously conquered."

The speech, which was in Italian and lasted 25 minutes, was the pontiff's first major address since a Communist-led challenge was turned back in Italy's election April 18 and 19.

It was in reply to greetings from 17 Cardinals of the Holy College on his Saint's Day. The Pope's name is Eugenio Pacelli. His Saint is St. Eugene.

The address came, coincidentally, on the second birthday of the Italian republic, celebrated nationally.

The broadcast was carried by the Vatican short and medium-wave stations and by the Italian government radio system.

To the church's enemies, whom he did not name, he devoted less attention than usual.

The pontiff noted that "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do" might be valid for those enemies.

But "that would not change in anything the objective perniciousness of their conduct."

Say Russian Zone
A Police State

BERLIN, June 2 (AP).—An official report of the British military government, said today the Russian occupation zone is a police state where "Soviet ruthlessness" has eliminated virtually all political opposition.

The report said so hopeless has become the position of Germans opposing Russian politics there is "apprehension that nothing short of force will improve conditions."

It was designed to take the steam out of Communists' efforts to extend their influence through such manoeuvres as a current "people's plebiscite for German unification."

Police Gamble Pays

PHILADELPHIA, June 2 (AP).—The city is reaping a profit on its vice squad decoys. Plainclothesmen Frank Wolf and Stephen Cambers for four months have pretended to be bettors in a drive to snare bookmakers and numbers operators. The two not only caused more than 50 arrests but they cleared a profit of $200. A cheque for that amount was sent to the city treasurer.

They were designed to take the steam out of Communists' efforts to extend their influence through such manoeuvres as a current "people's plebiscite for German unification."

Investigators found the Water street premises in wild disorder. Mrs. MacDonald was the wife of Lt. Cmdr. Harry H. MacDonald of Victoria. Police said they understood the husband had filed action for divorce some time ago.

Will Revive Debate On Margarine

Senator Euler Questions Validity Of Law

OTTAWA, June 2 (CP)—It was two to one against oleomargarine in the Commons Tuesday night.

Two Liberal members spoke against it while one Progressive Conservative spoke for it as the chamber again debated second reading of a private bill, introduced by James Sinclair (L—Vancouver North), which would lift the long-standing ban on the contentious butter substitute.

Opposing the measure were Eugene Marquis (L—Kamouraska) and J. O. Gour (L—Russell) while T. L. Church (PC—Toronto Broadview) favored it.

No progress has been made on the bill and it went to the bottom of the list. It likely will not come up again before the end of this month.

But its temporary disappearance in the Commons does not mean the end to margarine debates in parliament. Senator W. D. Euler (L—Ontario) gave notice of a motion which will revive the margarine question next Tuesday.

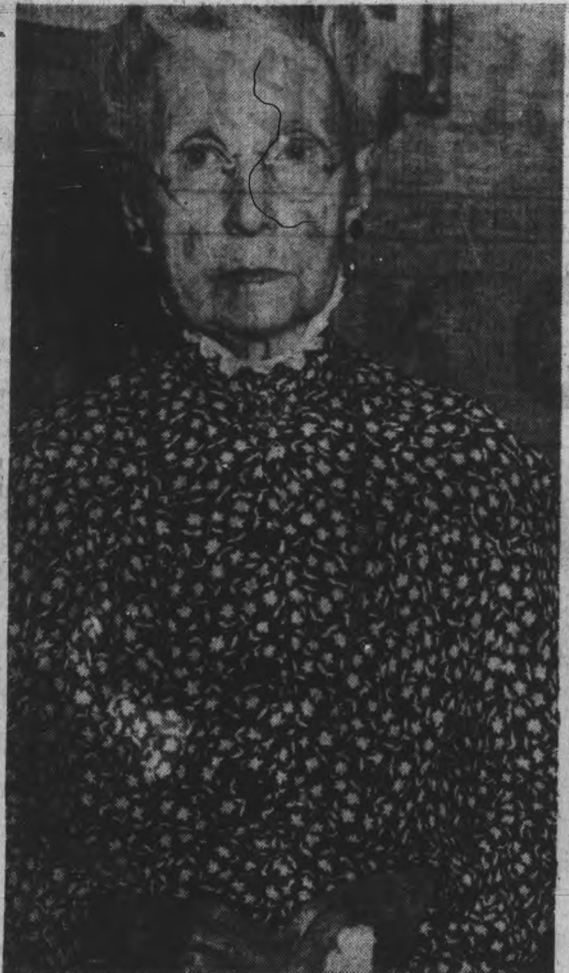

His motion will call on the Senate to express the opinion that the government should have the Supreme Court rule on the validity of the legislation which outlaws margarine in Canada.

Opening the margarine debate, Mr. Marquis said a surplus of 100,000,000 pounds of butter would develop if margarine was made available on the Canadian market. There would be a "disaster," not only for the dairy industry, but for the whole Canadian economy. The recurring butter shortages were only temporary and would pass.

Mr. Gour said there was little difference between the price of butter and that of margarine. Between 1930 and 1935, butter sold at from 18 to 25 cents a pound. A margarine-producing company could not sell even "axle grease" at 18 cents a pound.

Mr. Church said the removal of the margarine ban "will not hurt the dairy industry one bit." Industrial workers deserved some protection and the government should allow a "free" vote, without regard to party lines, on the issue.

The budget debate drew a number of statements from Finance Minister Abbott.

MILLBROOK PIONEER DIES—Mrs. Rebecca Armstrong of Millbrook, resident of the village for the past 60 years, died today at the home of her daughter. She would have been 96 on June 14.

Mrs. R. Armstrong Dies At 95 In Millbrook

MILLBROOK, June 2.—(ENS).—One of the first ladies of Millbrook, Mrs. Rebecca Armstrong, died today; she would have been 96 on June 14. She fell two weeks ago and sustained a fractured hip from which she failed to recover. Mrs. Armstrong was of pioneer stock, born on the 4th line of Cavan, daughter of the late John O'Brien and Elizabeth Riley, and at the age of 20 was married to the late A. T. Armstrong, who died 18 years ago. She lived in Hamilton a short while before moving back to Millbrook where she has been a resident for the past 60 years. She was the last surviving member of a family of 13 children.

Mrs. Armstrong leaves three daughters, Mrs. J. N. McGill (May), Miss Bessie Armstrong, formerly of Ingleswood, Calif., now both of Millbrook, and Mrs. Harold Moncrief of Bensford. There are two sons, Norman of Vancouver and Henry of Toronto, as well as 11 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren. Alderman Gordon Armstrong of Peterborough is one of her grandsons.

A private funeral service will be held on Friday from the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. N. McGill, of Millbrook, and burial will be at the Presbyterian Cemetery.

Mention Doctor's Name At Abortion Death Inquest

TORONTO, June 2.—(CP).—An inquest into the death of Mrs. Jane Gordon was adjourned Tuesday night until Thursday after a married man told of having an affair with her but denied responsibility for her pregnancy. An autopsy earlier showed death due to an abortion.

The 28-year-old estranged wife of a Toronto doctor was found dead last April 9 on a lonely side road in suburban North York township. But Tuesday night's four-hour hearing ended without establishing how she came to be there.

John S. Glover, rangy, good-looking real estate salesman, testified that he started taking Mrs. Gordon out in February.

"Jane came to me and said that she was pregnant," said Glover, who told the jury he had been intimate with the girl on two occasions. "I told her that I could be responsible."

"You say you weren't responsible for her condition and yet you loaned her $500," said jury foreman Raymond Dignan. "Why?"

"Because I was very friendly with her."

Glover said Mrs. Gordon mentioned the possibility of going to Montreal or Buffalo. He repeated he did not know why she wanted the $500.

Glover said that on the morning of April 8 Mrs. Gordon asked him to drive her to North Toronto. He let her out of the car, waited long enough to smoke a cigarette and then drove back to his office. He said that was the last time he saw her.

Glover said he tried to reach Mrs. Gordon by telephone that afternoon.

"At 1:30 there was no answer. I called at two and got a busy signal. I got another busy signal around four and I had tried seven or eight times between then. I think Mrs. Gordon was at home."

"The next thing I knew, about five o'clock in the morning, five or six detectives called at my house."

Glover had said earlier Mrs. Gordon had mentioned three doctors. "A Dr. Watson was definitely one."

William Thoburn, who described himself as a real estate man and a friend of Glover, said that on learning of Mrs. Gordon's death Glover telephoned him and asked him to meet him in a restaurant.

"He (Glover) said he'd been trying to get her (Mrs. Gordon) on the phone the day before and that she had gone to the doctor."

"Did you know what doctor?"

"I understood it was Dr. Watson."

"How?"

"He mentioned the name."

Mass Said Tuesday For W. J. Devlin

Requiem Mass was said Tuesday morning for the late William Joseph Devlin of Indian River at St. Joseph's Church, Douro, by the Rev. J. J. McCarthy. Pallbearers were William O'Leary, Dennis Menogue, Michael Walsh, Thomas and Adrian Devlin and Leo Murphy. Burial was at St. Joseph's Cemetery.

Mr. Devlin died on Saturday at his home after a lengthy illness. He farmed for some years but was chiefly known for his work in connection with the Otonabee municipal telephone system on which he worked until his retirement a few years ago. He was also a telegrapher with the CPR for 15 years.

Toronto Police Robbery Suspect

COCHRANE, June 2.—(CP).—Provincial police here have arrested a member of the Toronto City police department on a charge of attempted armed robbery.

Charles Bernstein, owner of a Cochrane fruit warehouse, told police a man wearing a white handkerchief over his face entered the building late Monday, thrust a pistol in his face and ordered him to "turn out the lights."

Provincial police arrested a man they identified as constable Randolph James of Toronto an hour later, seized his revolver and turned him over to municipal police. Police said the suspect was hiding behind a woodpile in the warehouse.

James will appear for trial next Monday.

West Point, Annapolis Now Admit Canadians

WASHINGTON, June 2.—(AP).—President Truman signed a bill to admit Canadians to Annapolis and West Point, paid tribute today to the "full friendship and mutual confidence" between Canada and the United States.

Annapolis is the United States naval academy in Maryland and West Point is the U.S. military academy in New York.

In a statement the President said: "It is with personal pleasure and satisfaction that I have today approved a bill to admit young Canadians to Annapolis and West Point. These men should be given the same experience gained at the two institutions, while our young men will derive a broader background and perspective from knowing Canadians at closer range."

The Law Says 'No' To Ladies Wrestling

SUDBURY, June 2.—(CP).—"Baby Face Helen" will not be permitted to leave "Ruff House Kelly" out of a local wrestling ring.

Because women wrestlers are barred in Ontario, the Provincial Athletic Commission ordered the promoters to cancel their scheduled bouts.

Provincial police will also ensure that "Princess Alimena" does not take on "Cyclone Nichols," as advertised.

Yugoslav Ambassador Recalled From London

LONDON, June 2.—(AP).—A spokesman for the official Yugoslav news agency, Tanjug, said today the Belgrade government has recalled its ambassadors from London and Ankara.

Later Dr. F. Kos, charge d'affaires at the Yugoslav embassy, said Leontic has been retired "at his own wish."

Kos said he could not speak for Bozhin Simic, who represents the Belgrade government in Ankara.

The Yugoslav ambassador to Britain, Dr. L. Leontic, now is in Belgrade. He left for his home capital some weeks ago.

The Tanjug spokesman could not clarify immediately whether recalled for routine consultations or withdrawn by the government.

Barbara Ann To Assist Crippled Kiddies

OTTAWA, June 2.—(CP).—Barbara Ann Scott today journeyed to Philadelphia as a professional skating artist but her thoughts are with Canadian crippled children.

She has asked that part of the money she will make in future will go towards helping the youngsters. Barbara Ann signed a contract with Music Corporation of America Artists in Toronto Monday and announced that the newly-formed St. Lawrence Foundation, a charitable organization, will share in her future salaries.

"I want to help crippled children and I shall do all that I can," the 20-year-old who thrilled thousands with her ice twirls Tuesday told The Canadian Press. Accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Clyde Scott, Barbara Ann had driven to Toronto Sunday to say goodbye to her amazing amateur career which had elevated her to the highest figure-skating ranks. She travelled in the powder-blue convertible, gift of the people of Ottawa.

estimate the cost to the public, he observed that sale of optical goods to retailers by the 26 chief Canadian wholesalers in 1946 had been worth $8,400,000—or 2½ times that of 1939.

In the same year, the public had paid more than $18,000,000 on eye glasses and the services accompanying their purchase. Combine profits, apparently, lay in some portion of the difference between those figures.

Commissioner McGregor's figures were based on an investigation opened briefly in 1940 and then deferred until 1946 because of court actions. It covered the period between 1939 and 1947.

However, the commissioner said that—despite some 1947 modifications in license controls last year—the combine effects are still carrying through. Retail price competition, he said is still "minimized."

One Company Controls

The giant of the Canadian ring, he found, was the American Optical Company of Southbridge, Mass. It had "substantially controlled" the trade in Canada against the interest of the public, along with its Canadian subsidiary, Consolidated Optical Company of Toronto (now known as the American Optical Company, Canada, Ltd.).

He named American Optical, Montreal; Full-Vue Corp. of Southbridge and Toronto, and 26 Canadian wholesalers as having participated in one or another of the various combines.

Among these firms were: Imperial Optical Co. of Toronto, and three associates firms—National Optical Co., Montreal; Imperial Optical Co. (New Brunswick), and Imperial Optical of Nova Scotia, Ltd.; Bausch and Lomb Optical Co., Ltd., of Toronto, Canadian subsidiary of Bausch and Lomb Optical Co., Rochester, N.Y.; Boyles Optical Co., Charlottetown (inactive after 1942); George F. Brodie Optical Supplies, Toronto (since March, 1946, only); Butler Optical Co., Montreal; Canadian Optical Service Co., Quebec; Chaplain Optical Co., Quebec; Commercial Optical Co., Montreal (including branches in Toronto, Ottawa and three Rivers, Que.); Garnett Optical Co., Halifax (since 1945); General Optical Co., Montreal (since 1945); H. and M. Labard Killed By Police In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, June 2.—(CP).—The trail of James Labard, 34-year-old native of Hamilton, who was followed for hundreds of miles by Canadian and United States narcotics agents, ended today in a fatal blast of police gunfire.

Labard, known also as James Jamieson, was shot by Det. Millard Schath in a raid on a rooming house here.

The fugitive jumped $10,000 bail in Hamilton recently while awaiting trial on a narcotics charge. He was a close friend of Donald (Mickey) McDonald, bank robber and hi-jacker, who escaped from Portsmouth Penitentiary last August 18.

Chief Detective Clem Merz said Labard had been sought as a suspect in "three or four bank robberies in Canada and one in Michigan."

Elaine Peltier, who was found in the room at the time of the shooting, is believed to have accompanied Labard when he disappeared from Hamilton. She is a sister of Joseph Peltier, now in Portsmouth Penitentiary for bank robbery and jail-breaking.

Lift Outboard Taxes Fraser Urges

OTTAWA, June 2, (CP).—R. A. Fraser, Minister of Finance, urged the removal of taxes on high-grade outboard motors was urged in the Commons Tuesday night by G. K. Fraser (PC—Peterborough West).

Speaking during study of budget resolutions, he said they were used by guides who look after American tourists visiting Canada. When buying a motor the guides had to pay $50 in taxes. Finance Minister Abbott said he would lift the taxes as soon as he could. However, it was not possible to give one class of purchaser special consideration.

To the white add one tablespoon of dry starch. Blend it well with the finger. Break the yolk. Rub it well all over the face, rubbing with the rotary motion. Rinse with warm water. Now apply the mixture of egg white and corn starch. Let it dry for 10 minutes; rinse with warm, then cold water. You'll be surprised at the difference of your face. Mr. Ilsley's Retirement

It is a privilege to serve one's country; it is a duty in times of national crisis. The Right Honourable J. L. Ilsley has been in public office for 22 years and his wartime duty as Minister of Finance was unparalleled in those years when many Canadians offered and gave the best that was in them. No Canadian served more arduously and effectively than Mr. Ilsley. Around him he gathered an illustrious group of technical advisers and together they created a financial and economic war-time structure which withstood the inordinate demands of the times and was a model for other nations.

Despite the jocular patter about income tax and controls—'Watch out or Ilsley will get you', the Canadian people appreciated their Minister of Finance's clear-headed, successful work and his colleagues in the Cabinet and the House held him in highest regard. The Acting Leader of the Conservative Party described him in Ottawa Monday, as "one of the brilliant, honourable and patriotic men of our time". Now Mr. Ilsley, a comparatively young man in high government circles—he is 54—is withdrawing from public life. His decision to abjure official public service and to enter private law practice is deeply regretted everywhere in this country.

Mr. Ilsley is retiring at a time when his services are still immensely valuable to the country and when he might even have been called on to lead the party and accept the office of Prime Minister. He has stated that he is retiring solely to give attention to his personal affairs. There seems to be no reason for not taking that statement at its face value.

The fruits of high political office are not riches. In countries where government is corrupt or in earlier times when many public men had private fortunes and did not need to depend on their stipends, cabinet ministers would not need to leave public office to 'give attention to personal affairs'. Mr. Ilsley is not a rich man. There may be many people who think that his total emolument as a Cabinet Minister is handsome and sufficient—$4,000 as an M.P., $10,000 as a Cabinet Minister and an allowance of $2,000 in lieu of an automobile. A total of $14,000 or $16,000 is not large for the position or the man. There are many doctors in Ontario cities (undoubtedly a few in Peterborough) who earn more. Heads of industries, managers of plants, top-ranking lawyers, take in up to two or three times that of a Cabinet Minister and are not considered rich. Mr. Ilsley as a practising lawyer will certainly be able to earn twice as much as he does now as a Cabinet Minister—and with more security, more free time and the opportunity to live outside the sharp and often distressing glare of the public eye.

If men of Mr. Ilsley's calibre are to be retained in or attracted to public service the financial rewards must be greater. This country cannot afford to lose men like him; it can afford to pay senior Ministers twice their present stipend, or as in Britain, provide houses and domestic staffs. Public service brings special rewards—special personal satisfaction in serving one's own people, small perquisites. Man does not live by these alone and after 22 years of public life, Mr. Ilsley cannot be blamed or regarded as selfish if he seeks private life and greater monetary rewards.

Dollar Yapping On The Air

The C.B.C. under the Canadian Broadcasting Act of 1936 is responsible for the character of all programs broadcast over its own and privately owned stations and the proportion of time that may be devoted to advertising in broadcast programs. The central authority of the C.B.C. is vested in the C.B.C. Board. It is this Board which lately has divested itself of wisdom or bowed to commercialism to the degrading extent of permitting (beginning on the first of September) the mention of prices on the air, for a trial period of six months. We wonder what will be on trial—the listeners' patience in condoning such broadcasting or the extra revenue radio stations may be able to take in from advertisers?

This retrogressive concession to commercialism comes at a time when American broadcasters are taking steps to curb and control radio advertising. The Canadian who hears only the great American radio chain broadcasts where advertising is handled generally with a circumspection devised by kid-gloved advertising agents, has no conception of the pummeling single local stations give their listeners. Half the day the programs are simply gramophone recordings preceded and followed by insistent, harrowing, offensive yapping about price bargains here, soft soap for sale there at two packages for so many cents. Is that what the Board of the C.B.C., charged with watching over the character of broadcasting in Canada is surrendering to? Is the C.B.C. stooping to such low folly? We view the mention of prices over the air with alarm and shall hear them with disgust during the few seconds it takes us to turn off our radio.

Victory And Defeat In B.C.

The federal by-election in the riding of Yale (B.C.) had surprising results—surprising to those not familiar with the Okanagan Valley political situation. The seat had been held by the Honourable Grote Stirling, a Conservative since 1924 (he retired for reasons of health), and with the exception of two Liberal terms, since 1871 by Conservatives. In Monday's elections the C.C.F. candidate came first. The Liberal candidate came a close second, the Conservative a slightly lower third. The Conservative had confidently given up his seat in the Provincial house in order to run.

The Conservative slump is more surprising than the C.C.F. victory. The C.C.F. is fairly strong in the west; even in B.C. it is the official opposition against the coalition Liberal-Conservative Government. There were 3,400 more voters on the Yale list than in 1945 and many of these, it is said, came from the prairies. However, the Conservatives did not hold their own even with their own. In the 1945 elections the Hon. Grote Stirling had a majority of 2,000 over Mr. Jones, the C.C.F. candidate then as this year. In Monday's elections Mr. Jones secured a majority of 4,000 over the Conservative candidate. The Liberals pretty well held their own.

Is the Conservative party in danger of disappearing completely except in Ontario? Apparently the appointment of a westerner, Mr. Bracken, to the Conservative party leadership has done nothing to stay the flood away from the Conservatives. The by-election of June 8th in Vancouver Centre, to fill the seat vacated by the Honourable Ian MacKenzie, former Liberal Cabinet Minister, will be watched closely—by both Conservatives and Liberals—and the campaigning will become more vigorous with both older parties faced with such a clear C.C.F. victory in the Interior.

The People's Democracy

Czechoslovakia has now a "People's Democracy". Its Communist Government belongs to the New Order. Over the week-end the people of re-born Czechoslovakia went to the polls to cast their votes in truly New Order democratic fashion. The voting was secret and by ballot. Each voter, on entering the polling booth, was given two ballots. On one were listed the state-approved candidates. The other was a blank ballot, marked on the reverse side by a large cross. If the voter approved of the slate of officials listed on the one ballot, he cast that ballot. If he did not, he cast the blank ballot. In other words, the voter was perfectly free to vote as he pleased—for or against the government-sponsored candidates. A good Czech neo-democrat should not expect, of course, to vote for candidates of whom the Government would not approve.

It is to the credit of many hundreds of thousands of Czechs that they took the only way they could to express their dissent by not voting or by casting the blank ballots. Dr. Eduard Benes, the old liberal President, has not yet been coerced into signing the new constitution of The Peoples' Democracy which the purged parliament passed early in May. The New Democrats will attend to that in their own fashion. Perhaps they have been waiting for him to die.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The Drew Government promised Sudbury $100,000 a year for ten years. Through the good offices of the Honourable Harold Scott, the Conservative candidate, it promises the city of Peterborough a lump sum of $5,000 for the projected secondary hockey rink. Comparison is said to be odious—this one is shocking. However, perhaps we should not look a gift horse in the mouth.

Backwoods Life

By F. M. DELAFOSSE

I HAVE been engaged during the past few days in reading a very interesting book entitled "Twenty-seven years in Upper Canada". It was written many years ago by Mr. Samuel Strickland, a brother of Miss Agnes Strickland, one of the joint authors of the well-known classic, "The Queens of England". Mrs. Katharine Parr Traill, of Lakefield, author of that well-loved book, "Lost in the Backwoods" was also a sister.

Mr. Strickland came to Canada in the year 1827, and very soon after his arrival entered the service of the Canada Company, which had been formed for the purpose of encouraging settlement on lands in the western part of Upper Canada. It is interesting to note that the famous novelist John Galt was the originator of the idea and that he was appointed the first commissioner of the Company. After a stay of some years with the Company Mr. Strickland left its employ and in due course went to Lakefield where he settled down on a farm near the village.

THE book he wrote has a good deal to say about the Kewartha District, which had lately received a great impetus in activity through the settling of some two thousand souls from Ireland in the County of Peterborough. This migration is well known to all as the Peter Robinson Immigration. About fifty years later the Muskoka District was laid open to settlement and to that district I was one of those who came out to attempt pioneering and tilling of new soil. Comparing Mr. Strickland's book with what I knew of our own experience I reached one very definite conclusion and that was, that so far as access to the outside world was concerned the inhabitants of the Kewartha District, fifty years ahead of us in time always had easier opportunities of communication with the outside world than had the settlers in the Muskoka District. Water, rail and road advantages were only thirty miles distant from Peterborough, whereas we were forty-five miles distant from Gravenhurst which was the entrance to our district and the terminus of the old Northern Railway.

THE roads that Muskoka people had to travel on were simply abominable. They lay over boulders of granite, alternated by wide vile morasses through which the patient oxen often pugged along up to their bellies in mud, or along corduroyed swamps, into which drivers sometimes had to leap to remove the floating planks from between the poor beasts' legs. But the difference that seventy years have wrought has been immense. Last year I took a trip with a friend to my old home and noted with gladness the many changes and improvements that had taken place during the intervening years; the chief wonder lay in the fact that whereas the trip by ox-team from Bracebridge, a mere matter of thirty-two miles, had taken no less than eighteen hours to accomplish, it now takes only a drive of one hour and a quarter to cover the same ground by motor car.

How little the district was known to the outside world was amply demonstrated by the fact that on one occasion I received a copy of a magazine from England called "Public Opinion". It was addressed simply to me at "Muskoka". Some verandah individual in the Post Office, presumably in Toronto, had addressed it in transmission and had written on the cover, "Muskoka not known here—Try Australia". And to Australia it went. It reached me exactly one year later, showing at any rate that the Postal authorities never gave up the chase and that, quite as effectively as that wonderful corps The Northwest Mounted Police, they "got their man", though in a somewhat different way.

MR. STRICKLAND speaks of the passenger pigeons in his book and says that their numbers were so vast that the branches of trees sometimes broke under their weight. He also said that it was easy to shoot twenty to thirty birds with one shot from a shotgun when they were settled on the ground and that one set of hunters, five of them, returned from a week's hunt with thirty-five deer as the proceeds of their work. Ideas in regard to what constitutes "hunting" have changed greatly in these so-called degenerate times, for, we would substitute the term "diabolical butchery" for the term "hunting", to such an act as that! I did hear of a case once during my residence in the district when four men went out hunting and for the sake of a little rifle practice shot 23 deer and left their carcasses to rot on the rocks. Those men should have had twenty years penal servitude given to them. No names were given and I was just simply told that it had happened, and was never any the wiser as to who were the culprits and where and when it had happened. Mr. Strickland mentioned amongst other interesting occurrences being almost caught once in one of those fitful tornado blasts of which we had a very vivid description not so many weeks ago from Bancroft and Coe Hill.

THIS is Mr. Strickland's account of it: "Let anyone picture to the imagination a vast from earth to heaven, grating with fearful velocity—bright lightning issuing from the vortex—the roar of the thunder—the rushing of the blast—the crashing of the timber—the limbs of trees, leaves and rubbish, mingled with clouds of dust, whirling through the air—a faint idea is then given of the scene". The writer concluded with saying that "Storms of this description have not been infrequent in the wooded regions of Canada and it becomes a matter of interesting consideration whether the clearing of our immense forests will not in a great measure remove the cause of these phenomena".

Bill had found a new pet name for his wife. He called her "My Cherub" so often that at last the lady became suspicious and asked why he used that particular form of endearment.

Bill looked rather uncomfortable for a moment, and then decided to put a brave face on it.

"It's like this," he said, "you never seem to have any clothes; you're always up in the air, and you keep on harping!"

The Greek Whigs

(THE MANCHESTER GUARDIAN)

THE Greeks were the first to use the word "democracy" and the first to try to put it into practice. Yet it is a curious thing that most of the great Greek writers of the fifth century B.C. were either lukewarm towards the idea of democracy, like Sophocles, Thucydides, and Aristotle, or downright hostile, like Plato. Farly this was due to the chance, as Professor Webster reminds us in a suggestive little book on "Political Interpretations in Greek Literature," that all these writers belonged to the wrong, the "aristocratic," party. Thucydides' father was leader of the opposition to Pericles; Plato's father was an aristocrat, and his uncle, Critias, was the leader of the "Thirty Tyrants." It is as dangerous to read their works without knowing something of the party politics of the time as to read Bolingbroke or Macaulay without knowing that one was Tory and the other Whig. These Greek aristocrats were not against the "ideal democracy" of Pericles, but they believed that too much democracy would lead to tyranny either of the Left or of the Right. They would have agreed with Acton that "It is bad to be oppressed by a minority, but it is worse to be oppressed by a majority." But they were closer to the aristocratic Whigs of the eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries and to the aristocratic Tories of the later nineteenth century. Thucydides would have read Tocqueville with pleasure and both Plato and Aristotle would have applauded the sentiments of Lord Shaftesbury, who wrote to Disraeli in 1865:

I believe that, in proportion as a man is a deep, sincere, and consistent lover of social, civil, and religious liberty, he will be a deep, sincere, and consistent hater of pure democracy as averse to all three.

Unlike Lord Shaftesbury, however, they had both lived through a Fascist revolution, the second of which had put to death Socrates.

Score On Shaw

A foreign correspondent brought us this G. B. Shaw story, which we never heard before:

The bearded playwright had sent Winston Churchill a pair of tickets to his latest play, enclosing a typical caustic message: "Here are opening-night seats for you and a friend—if you have one."

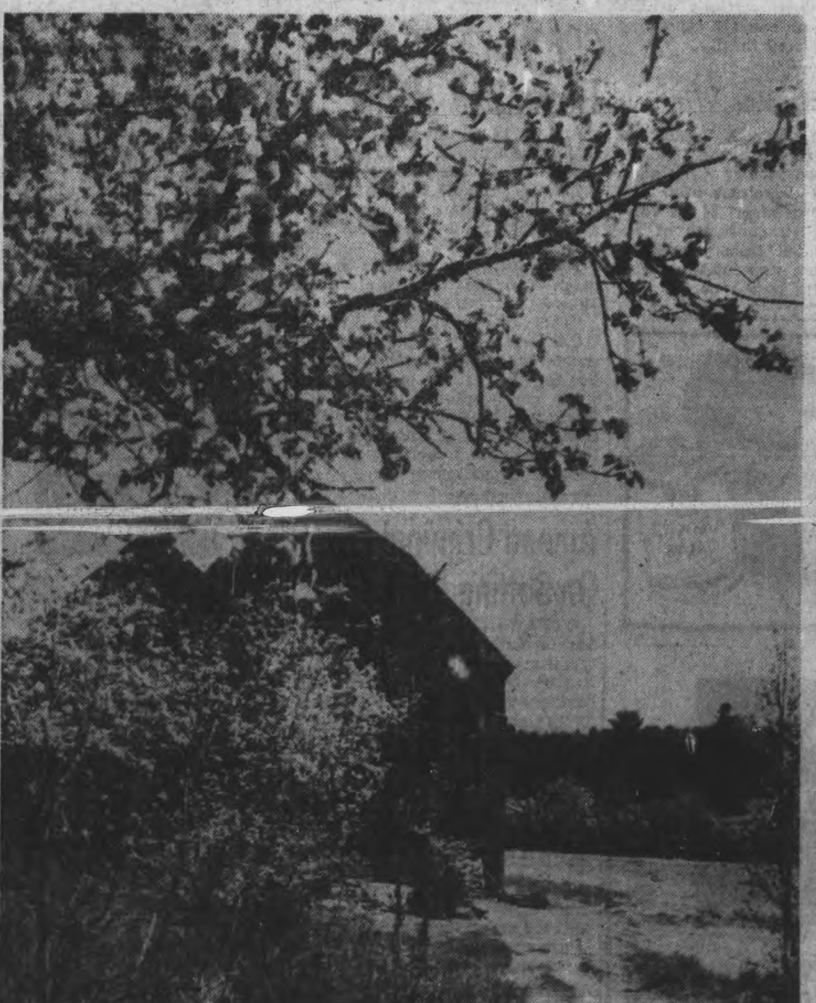

Churchill replied promptly, returning the tickets. "Sorry I'm unable to use these tickets for the opening night of your play," he wrote. "But I'd appreciate tickets for the second night—if there is one."—This Week.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Thus saith God the Lord, he that created the heavens, and stretched them out; he that spread forth the earth, and that which cometh out of it; he that giveth breath unto the people upon it, and spirit to them that walk therein: I am the Lord: that is my name: and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images. (Isa. 42: 5, 8.)

Bless the Lord, O my soul O Lord my God, thou art very great; thou art clothed with honour and majesty. Who coverest thyself with light as with a garment: who stretchest out the heavens like a curtain: who layeth the beams of his chambers in the waters: who maketh the clouds his chariot: who walketh upon the wings of the wind: Who laid the foundations of the earth, that it should not be removed for ever. (Ps. 104: 1-3, 5.)

Known unto God are all his works from the beginning of the world. (Acts 15: 18.)

But as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him. But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God.

For what man knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of man which is in him? even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God. (1 Cor. 2: 9-11.)

The Old Tip, Faintly Disguised

A few weeks ago the British traveller received what he took for his first dividend from the socialization of the railways. Tipping in dining cars was prohibited. But this slight relief did not last more than a few minutes. When he received his bill the passenger discovered that it included an additional ten per cent. for service, in the Continental manner.

This arrangement did not last long either. Soon the patron of the dining car read a new announcement: "The management desires to inform their passengers that as from May 3, 1948, the practice of adding a service charge in lieu of gratuities has been discontinued."

The patron relaxed with an audible sigh of relief. But only for a moment. When the bill was presented the "service charge" had been replaced by a "surcharge." The old-fashioned tip remains under faint disguise—but with one difference: The tip does not go to the waiter but to the treasury of the railway. The waiter, one suspects, will not be as enthusiastic about socialism as he used to be.—Winnipeg Free Press

Where Quebec Lags

We are told from time to time that we Canadians of French origin are more than other people, attached to spiritual values. That is perhaps true, but it does not appear so if we accept as criterion the number of public and semi-public libraries in the various provinces and of those who use them. According to a survey of the federal Bureau of Statistics, educational section, there were, in 1945, 13 free public libraries in our province against 200 in Ontario! We had 18 run by religious societies or communities, such as L'Institut Canadien, the Franciscan Library and the Loyola Library in Quebec. Ontario had 200! On the other hand, the number of our collegian and university libraries was 85, with 40 less in Ontario. But the neighbouring province counted 56 specialized technical, government libraries made the difference.

also that the big English libraries of the country are better off than those of this province. These are eloquent statistics.—Le Soleil, Quebec.

Sunken Ship Holds 3,000 Bodies

Probably one of the most unpleasant salvage jobs ever undertaken is now nearing completion near Tjostia in Arctic Norway. Here, ever since it was sunk by British planes in October, 1944, the 7,000-ton German freighter "Rigel" has rested on the bottom with its prow protruding above the icy blue waters of the fjord. Inside are an estimated 3,000 bodies of German soldiers and Russian and Serbian prisoners. Divers who recently descended to cut loose heavy machinery were greeted by the sight of hundreds of skeletons lying in their bunks from which there was no hope for escape. A Trondheim salvage firm will continue its attempts to raise the vessel, while the disposal of the bodies will be the concern of the Norwegian authorities.—Norway Digest.

Good Fisherman Should Study As He Fishes

At a regular meeting of the Peterborough Fish and game Protective Association in the PCVS auditorium Monday night, Dr. A. O. Blackhurst spoke to about 125 members on the relationship of commercial fisherman to the sporting angler. He is the secretary of the Ontario Federation of Commercial Fishermen.

Dr. Blackhurst told his audience they should be practical naturalists as well as fishermen. The good fisherman should study the fishes, trying to discover why fish bite at a certain bait at some particular time.

"The commercial fisherman is of necessity a practical naturalist, because he is afraid of the loss of his livelihood," he said.

He warned members that a balance must be kept between all kinds of fish in a body of water. The good fisherman should extend equal fishing pressure on all these types of fish.

"Keep your fishing water in balance. Work with the commercial fisherman, and you may someday bring back the good fishing of 15 and 20 years ago," he said.

Idea Exploded

Working several years ago with Professor J. R. Dymond of the Royal Ontario Museum, Dr. Blackhurst exploded the common belief that commercial fishing ruins game fishing in a body of water.

Two years after commercial fishing had been discontinued in a northern Ontario lake, a Fisheries department boat netted 126,000 pounds of fish, throwing back more than three tons of bass and lake trout.

"The hatcheries are still an unknown quantity," said Dr. Blackhurst. In British Columbia the practice of using hatcheries to grow fish has almost ceased. Examining the stomachs of several fish in a certain hatchery, more than 18,000 fish eggs were found in each stomach. Dumping fingerlings into fishing water may only feed other larger predatory fish, Dr. Blackhurst said.

President Bob McCabe stated that in 1948 the association has stocked streams, lakes and rivers with more than a million 'lunge fry', 10,300 speckled trout, and more than 6,000 brown trout.

Hughes Charges Drew Acts For His Self-Interests

MARMORA, June 1—(ENS)—

The Marmora Liberal Association met in the Town Hall on Monday evening in support of Bernard Hughes, candidate for West Hastings. George Aunger acted as chairman. Short addresses were made by Reeve V. M. Lynch, Fred Johnston, and H. W. Sabine, preceding Mr. Hughes' address.

The candidate criticized the premier of Ontario in bringing on an election at this time, when he still had two years to go. He stated that he brought this expense on the province of Ontario for selfish ends.

He spoke of Premier Drew's radio talks on Education, Agriculture, Health and Labor, which should have been dealt with by the ministers of those departments, and said he was making plans to head the government at Ottawa, and was using Ontario as a stepping stone for his own selfish plans.

Mr. Hughes stated it was unfair to the people of Eastern Ontario to have to pay for the change over of Hydro from 25 to 60 cycles by Western Ontario.

He gave the platform of the Liberal party and paid tribute to the leader, Mr. Oliver, as a man to put Ontario on a good sound basis. He was a "Mackenzie King in the making" and that was a lot.

Mr. Hughes said he was new in politics, but had accepted the invitation to run as member for West Hastings, and if sent to Queen's Park, he intended to get some action in this riding, which has been badly neglected.

Maclean Haig, Belleville, was introduced by Mr. Hughes and gave an address on the points of the Liberal platform.

He said the future of Ontario rests on the Liberal Government if it is to be saved from Socialism. He criticized the Drew government in respect to agriculture and said that Premier Drew had neglected the farmers, but after June 7 he predicted that agriculture would get more attention from a Liberal government. They would promote the life of the rural communities and set up a conservation board under the department of agriculture. There would also be training facilities for the youth on the farms.

He spoke of the unfortunate

DETROIT, June 2—(AP).

So, police quoted her as saying, she tried to walk out of a department store with $34.67 worth of merchandise—without paying. Then she planned to return the goods to convince the store it needed a detective, she said. The woman is being held for investigation. The store said it doesn't plan to hire her.

feud between the Ontario and the Canadian government and said the salvation of the province lies in sending a Liberal government to Queen's Park. He expressed the hope that Mr. Hughes and Mr. Oliver would get the support of the electors of West Hastings and the Liberal government would be established at Queen's Park on June 7.

Dismiss Charge Against Minicola

The charge of illegally selling liquor, made against Michael Minicola, 436 Driscoll Terrace, was dismissed today on the request of Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry. Evidence given at a hearing on May 27 showed that the actual exchange of liquor had not taken place, defence attorney W. J. A. Fair claimed. Minicola pleaded guilty to another charge of illegal possession of liquor and was fined $10 and $2.50 costs.

AERIAL WARFARE—The helicopter has found an important place for itself in the Canadian war against weeds, insects and other pests which cause millions of dollars worth of damage annually to forests and crops. Here we see a Bell helicopter dusting a vegetable crop with insecticide. This scene will be repeated across Canada many times this summer. Results obtained from use of aerial sprays and dust in agriculture have been generally acceptable and a good application by aircraft is comparable to the average ground spray. This indicates that aerial chemical warfare against pests is here to stay.

2 Ball Players Banned For Life In Tri-State Loop

WINSTON-SALEM, NC, June 2 (AP)—Police investigation continued today where organized baseball left off Tuesday in the banishment of two men from the game for life.

A lifetime ban was placed against Bernard Deforge, pitcher-manager of Reidsville, NC, team of the Carolina League, and Ed Weingarten, an official of the Florence, SC, club of the Tri-State League and Leaksville, NC, of the Blue Ridge Loop.

They were banned on charges of bribery, gambling and game-throwing.

George M. Trautman, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, ruled the two men out of organized baseball Tuesday at his Columbus, O., offices.

Trautman said Deforge admitted throwing a game for $300. Weingarten denied any connection with the incident.

At Florence, where Weingarten was general manager and major stockholder of that city's entry in the Class B Tri-State League, minor stockholders said the team would continue league play.

Following Trautman's decision, Police Chief Frank N. Littlejohn of Charlotte, NC, said he had assigned two detectives to investigate reports of a betting coup at the Florence-Charlotte Tri-State game at Charlotte May 15.

Littlejohn added that investigation thus far revealed no evidence of a "fix", but he ordered a "crack-down" on all gambling at local games.

Weingarten and Deforge were expelled from baseball, Trautman said, following a May 14 game at Winston-Salem in which club won from Reidsville, 5-0.

An inquiry was opened because of reports that heavy gambling had taken place on the basis that Winston-Salem would win by three runs or better, that a "known gambler" had been seen talking with Deforge while he was warming up, that there was no logical reason for relief of Pitcher Abernathy, and that Deforge had issued bases on balls in order to assure defeat of his team by at least three runs.

Two-bagger by Hawkes. It was a snappy 1.10 game with a stop by Greenlaw the best bit of fielding in a good show. Greenlaw and Akers pitched on pretty even terms. Leather and Hawkes had three for four at bat each for Combines with Borland getting two in three and Pryde two in four. They talked a lot in the NHL last winter of "strength down middle", but it is an old baseball phrase. Meaning a winning club is noted for strength down the middle when on the field. A strong battery, a smart keystone combination and a classy centre fielder. Others are important, too, but if you're strong down the middle, you can afford a few weak spots otherwise. An outstanding centre fielder not only fields his position well and can peg, but he helps cover up the other two fielders. Always goes over to help 'em out. A good pair at second and short play together and click often on down plays. And, of course, a fine battery is always a big asset. Just notice next time you're at a softball or baseball game and see the difference when one club is wobbly down the middle.

Oshawa scribe wrote Monday: "The Merchants were not so hot Saturday but that was to be expected. They got poor pitching and didn't help their hurlers, either. Had eight errors and the scorer was very tolerant at that. Pates had good hitting and good pitching. As a matter of fact, Batawa will beat all of them when it comes to the final sprint—at least that is our humble opinion but, of course, we don't know as much about baseball as Lorne St. John and the other experts. However, we do know this much—the quicker that Oshawa Merchants can get Jack Langmaid out in uniform and in shape, the better it will be." And who the dickens is he?

So Says The OASA

Bulletin No. 5 arrives from the OASA. It says requests for all affiliations must be made to the secretary at 526 Maple Ave., Hamilton. These and fees must be in before July 1. All associations are urged to forward copies of their constitutions at once to the secretary. Players' certificates must be signed before playing and may not be signed after July 15. In the hands of the secretary by July 20. No player or team can play against unaffiliated teams without the OASA permission. Loops declare winners as follows: Senior "A"—Sept. 1; senior "B"—Aug. 29; all others—Aug. 15. Bulletin points out that there is no lead-off in softball. Any runner who stands off the base after pitcher assumes pitching position is out.

Girls' softball games at the Bowl tonight are: Ashby's vs. Marines at seven, followed by Woolleys vs. CGE. Both should be interesting, especially the first one. On Friday, it's Lindsay vs. CGE, and Westclox vs. Ashby's. At the moment, Marines are stop the heap with two wins in two starts, while Westclox, Ashby's and Lindsay each won their first game. Electrics won and lost in two, while the Lakefield losses dropped their opener, and Lock Co. and Woolleys have faltered twice to date. It'll be quite a scramble yet in this circuit.

Fans Home Early

Men's softballers broke their speed record at the Bowl last eve before a goodly gathering by reeling off two full tilts in a little better than two hours. Nice going. Knights broke into the win (no "e" on that, Mr. Printer) list with a neat 6-2 decision over Comstock's Outlaws. Terry Woods threw six-hit ball and his buddies hit hard, led by Manager Freddy Garvey with a triple, double and single in five. Courneyea had two for five to top the losers. It was a lively fray all the way and the boys kept hustling. Jack Mackness came up with one of his fancy catches, but he didn't hit up to par—probably felt like a rest after the terrific thumping he did for the senior Pates down in Oshawa.

The nightcap was almost as snappy and saw the R-E Combines cop an 8-1 verdict against Legion. Pitching was practically even and the fielding too, apart from one two-run error by Legion. The Russell outfit conked the apple hard at the right time in a few frames to gain the victory. Conlin and Loucks hit homers, Leather had a triple and Hawkes a double. The same George Hawkes, in our estimation, is the best third-sacker to show around here in softball for quite a spell. He is heady, has the big leaguers' way of throwing, fields well and is always dangerous at the plate. Anyway, they were two neat numbers and the customers are getting their two bits' worth in this loop.

Bata Boys Victors

Bata Shoemen took a 6-2 victory over Oshawa Merchants under Belleville's lights in a COBL contest last night. Second win in two nights for them with Peacock pitching this time. Sheehan and Hill saw slab service for the Merchants. No less than 11 of them went down swinging in what must have been a pretty fair tussle. Pates lead the loop with two wins in as many starts, Batawa has two and a loss, Oshawa won once and dropped a pair, while Kingston lost their only two starts by close counts. They're here Saturday while Batawa goes to Oshawa.

Up on the greens Tuesday evening we noticed:

1. All rinks that were scheduled were playing, and on time.
2. That the grounds were nice and green, and are now probably at their best.
3. That some of the bowlers still persist in cluttering up the ditches, contrary to rules.
4. The lights of the Quaker Oats tower, lit for the first time in about eight years.
5. That there were few spectators around.
6. That still gets rather cool as soon as the sun goes down.

Remember the mixed rink tournament this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

On Friday night we are holding a men's rink tournament. Draw from the board at 7:30 o'clock.

Cricketers Tie Toronto In Good Show

The local cricket team went to Toronto with some anxiety as to the showing they would make against the strong Toronto eleven. However they put up quite a good performance. The final score was Toronto 152 for 5 wickets (innings declared closed), Peterborough-Whitakers 111 for 9 wickets. So the result was in Toronto's favor but the actual result was a draw.

The Toronto team batted first sending in A. Gerrard and W. K. Smith to the bowling of F. Dyer and J. Wild. Smith was out on Dyer's first over, then Gerrard with K. Turnbull took score to 30. Wells was out at 33 and then Gerrard and L. Gunn made it 80 for 4. The latter received good assistance from K. Cannon 17, making the total to 121 for 5, and G. McPherson stayed with Gunn until the total reached 152 when the innings was declared closed, with 5 wickets down.

Time Called

At 5.15 the locals started their innings with the alternative of getting the runs, all getting out, or remaining at the wickets till time was called at 7 o'clock. And they succeeded in doing the last named. At that time the last two men were in and 42 runs wanted for a win.

Three wickets were down for 26 and then B. Roberts joined W. Wright and the two made a fine stand, taking the score to 87, putting on 61 runs. Roberts was out at that total with a personal score of 27. Wright was out at 101, having gone in when the score was 14 and his contribution was 37—a great display of good defence and hard hitting. The later batsmen did little and the finish was exciting. The last two men were in with the total at 111 when time was called.

Gunn followed up his good batting by taking 3 wickets. The local bowlers had a rough time and of six who were tried, J. Wild 2 for 34, had the best figures.

Next Saturday, June 5, the locals go to Port Hope for a return match with TCS.

HOW A CHAMPION OPERATES—Demonstrating his shotput form is Charles Fonville, rangy University of Michigan athlete whose 56-foot, 3/4-inch mark recently shattered the world record by almost a foot. According to Charley, speed is more essential than beef and weight. In photo one, he balances the shot in his hand as he gets the proper feel. Then (2), he begins to bend backwards as far as he can go. Getting plenty of power behind his drive (3), he has just about completed his forward motion and then (4), the shot is on its way.

Majors Expect 20 Million During Season

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Thanks to the huge crowds which jammed the parks over the holiday week-end, the major leagues today were ahead of last year's record breaking pace when they attracted an unprecedented total of 19,874,539 spectators to the games.

Including Tuesday's games, the 16 big league clubs have played to 4,966,889 paid admissions. At a corresponding date a year ago, the same clubs drew 4,853,034 persons.

At this rate, the majors will play to the first 20,000,000 attendance in its history this season—exactly 21,071,073 will pass through the turnstiles.

The Cleveland Indians, averaging 32,700 persons per game, are setting a wicked pace in attendance as well as in the American League standings, with a total of 556,068 in 17 home games. The Detroit Tigers also are past the half million mark, with 514,038 in 19 home games. The New York Yankees are just below with 478,493 in 17 home games.

The New York Giants, first place tenants in the National League, are also the circuit's best attraction. They have played to 458,131 in 19 games at the Polo Grounds.

A crowd of 44,779 saw the Yankees inaugurate the night season at the stadium. The inauguration proved anything but a success as the Washington Senators, behind the five-hit pitching of Walter Masterson, defeated the Yankees 4-1. Masterson retired the last 20 men to face him in order.

Only 4,908 fans in Philadelphia saw the Boston Red Sox dump the Athletics out of first place in the American League when Joe McCarthy's men beat them 8-1.

The defeat left the A's still a half game in front of the Indians. Eddie Joost, Athletics' bespectacled shortstop, finally committed his first error of the season after playing through 31 consecutive errorless games—23 this season and three in 1947. The miscue ended a streak of 225 errorless chances. Both are new American League records.

Whitely Lockman and Gil Hodges drove in four runs apiece as the Giants and Dodgers played an 11-inning 4-4 tie at Ebbets Field before 9,353 fans. The game was halted after 11 innings in order to allow both teams to catch trains.

Italian Fighter Has Killer Extinct

CHICAGO, June 2 (AP).—Observers said Enrico Bertola, claimant of the Italian heavy-weight championship, had a "killer instinct." After two unimpressive victories in his first starts in the United States, Bertola unceremoniously savaged Tuesday night.

The 193-pound slugger slammed down Oran Ott, 203, Hartley, Iowa, for the count in 1:08 of the first round of a scheduled eight-round bout in the Macgill Gardens outdoor show.

In the space of one minute, Bertola had sent Ott sprawling to the resin for eight counts three times. He finally nailed him with a vicious right to the jaw. Ott was out for about four minutes.

British Golfers In Top Bracket

ST. ANNE'S-ON-THE-SEA, Lancs., England, June 2 (CP). — Quarter-final and semi-final matches are being played today in the British women's golf tournament with British entrants having the upper bracket all to themselves and the three surviving American contenders all in the lower bracket.

In the upper bracket, Maureen Ruttle of England meets Mrs. Helen Holm of Scotland and Mrs. E. M. Hartley of England engages Scotland's Jean Donald.

In the other bracket, Louise Suggs of Atlanta, Ga., United States champion, collides with Dorothy Kirby, also of Atlanta, whom she defeated for the national crown last year. Mrs. Joan Gee of England meets Dorothy Kirby, glamorous stoker from Los Angeles, in the other part of the lower bracket.

Tomorrow the two survivors will play 36 holes for the crown won last year by Mrs. Babe Didrikson Zaharias, only American to win the trophy. She has since turned professional.

Study by the economic committee of the Dominion-Provincial Conference convinced it that a national health insurance scheme required "long preparation."

Jan. 6, 1946, the Ontario Government recommended to the conference that the preparation "should be undertaken at once (and) the whole question... referred to the Dominion-Provincial Co-ordinating Committee."

It said further: "Sound foundations in the form of adequate hospital facilities and trained personnel are essential... Ontario has taken action on the above and is prepared to collaborate with the other provinces and the Dominion in the furthering of these objectives."

The conference adjourned May 3, 1946. It never resumed.

Since then federal ministers have repeatedly excused delay on the promised health insurance by saying Ontario and Quebec, "representing over half the population of Canada, have not yet entered into agreements on a division of taxing powers."

But this month, four days before Finance Minister Abbott announced the large tax surplus in history, Mr. King announced Ottawa would aid the preparatory work. His government would contribute up to $13,000,000 a year for five years for new hospital construction—$1,000 for each active bed; $1,500 per convalescent bed.

In other words Ottawa is doing exactly what its spokesmen have insisted for 23 months could not be done. The Ontario proposal has been put to work without the slightest change in Ontario's attitude toward the tax agreements.

In that period the Ontario Government has made possible the construction of hospital accommodation for 2,358 beds—$1,000 per active bed; $2,000 per convalescent, a total of $9,076,000.

PITCHER WAITS FOR HIS DIET! — City slicker from Philadelphia is Dick Fowler, the Athletics' ace pitcher, waiting patiently for the tall beaker of milk that's part of his daily diet. Fowler, who has won plenty of ball games for the A's this year, is a native of Toronto where he played hockey for four years, then gave it up in favor of baseball.

Will Rogers Jr. May Make Film About Famous Father

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD, June 2 (AP). — The long-awaited trip by Cary Grant for a picture in Europe now is shaping up.

The Bristol-born actor will leave for England as soon as he finishes "Every Girl Should Be Married" (any arguments about that title?) He'll be with Sir Alexander Korda about their picture, which now appears to be unpublished Graham Greene story, "The Third Man." It's an adventure yarn in occupied Vienna, and may be filmed in its actual locale.

Study On Stage
Rudy Vallee, who has tried about everything will take a whirl at the stage. He replaces Joe E. Brown for a week in "Harvey," then does a two-week stand in "Anything Goes" in Los Angeles. Meanwhile, he keeps his hand in radio, films and television.

Will Rogers, Jr., appears to be still set to portray his Dad in the Warner Film Biography. He did a day's work in "Silver Lining," enacting a backstage meeting of the great comedian and Marilyn Miller (June Haver). He's a carbon of his famed father.

Bette Davis has no yen to do "A Streetcar Named Desire" on the screen, as has been reported. She feels the play will be emasculated by film censorship. She has also been mentioned for the other Tennessee Williams Opus, "The Glass Menagerie," but says no to that one, too.

Travel Notes
June Haver to Wyoming for a fishing vacation after "Silver Lining." Donna Reed joining the trek to Europe in July. She'll return for "Monty Stratton," probably opposite James Stewart. Dorothy Malone to her Dallas home after "South of St. Louis." Larry Parks is angling a couple of independent film deals which he hopes will complete his break with Columbia. The studio thinks otherwise. "Wayne Morris" popularity as a golf opponent has zoomed since the Frank Borzage Golf Match, the actor tells me. Wayne had high score: 104.

Ray Milland, whose last two films showed him as a heel and the evil, looks destined to continue his villainy. Among the possibilities for his next vehicle are "Babylon Revisited," in which he'd play a reformed alcoholic, and remakes of "The Scoundrel" and "Death Takes A Holiday," in which he'd play a reformed alcoholic, and remakes of "The Scoundrel" and "Death Takes A Holiday."

Texas Dark Horse Seeks U.S. Open

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP). — The record field of 1,418 which filled for the United States Open golf tournament was reduced to a cozy 171 today with most of the top halfway giants still answering "here."

The championship, golf's most coveted prize, will be contested June 10-12 over the Riviera Country Club at Los Angeles.

The defending titlist is Lew Worsham of Pittsburgh, who got in automatically and thus didn't have to wrangle with par in Tuesday's scattered sectional qualifying trials.

The tests produced good and mediocre golf. The best was from a little-known pro named Jack Harden of El Paso, Tex., who got a hole-in-one.

One big man who missed out was Jimmy Thomson. He turned in a two-round 153 at San Francisco and fell one stroke short of qualifying.

Hottest round of the day was engineered in the torrid southwest. El Paso's Jack Harden did it with a nine-under-par 67-66—133 at Lubbock, Tex.

Groth Blanks Newark 13-0 Pitches First Full Game

By The Associated Press
ERIE, Groth, chunky right-hander for Baltimore Orioles, has finally rewarded Manager Tommy Thomas' faith in his pitching ability.

Groth, on option to the Orioles from Cleveland Indians, pitched his first complete game of the season Tuesday night, blanking the first-place Newark Bears 13-0 on five singles.

Prior to this game, Groth started seven times for the tail-end Orioles and each time he failed to go the distance. Lack of control has hampered the 25-year-old pitcher in the past.

The loss cut the Bears' lead to half a game over the runner-up

Syracuse Chiefs who downed Jersey City Giants 9-2.

Southpaw Jim Wallace checked the Giants on four satflies while his mates pounded out 14 including four-baggers by Kermit Wahl and Clyde Vollmer.

Sixth-place Rochester Red Wings downed the third-place Montreal Royals 10-5, banging out 20 hits with Ed Kazak showing the way with four. Glenn Nelson and Charley Marshall slammed homers and Frank Gravino drove in four tallies.

Eddie Blake, who relieved Starter Ray Yochim in the fifth, and hurried shutout ball the rest of the way, was the winner and Walter Nothe the loser.

Bata Shoemen Clip Oshawa Move Into 2nd COBL Spot

BELLEVILLE, June 1 (CP). — The Bata Shoemen defeated the Oshawa "Merchants" 6-2 under the lights here Tuesday night to take over second place in the Central Ontario Baseball League standing. It was the second win in as many nights for the Shootowners.

The winners piled up a six run lead in the first five innings against "Pat" Sheehan who gave up six hits in the four and two-thirds innings he worked. However, Hill, who replaced the Oshawa starter, held Bata to a single hit and no runs for the remainder of the game.

Ken Peacock toiled for the winners and gave up seven hits. He struck out 11 and walked four. Dick Bridgman and "Mac" Watson, each with two hits in three tries, were the big guns for the winners.

Ed Brisebois had a perfect night at the plate for Oshawa with four singles in as many trips to the plate. "Andy" McMullen had two for four.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Confronted with prospects of the hottest early-summer weather in Montreal, owners, managers and other representatives of the six National Hockey League clubs made ready Tuesday night for their annual two-day meeting.

The early arrivals were reluctant as to what the private deliberations will concern, but it is believed one of the outstanding pieces of business will be a Philadelphia application for a league franchise. Len Peto, representing Philadelphia interests, will present Philadelphia's bid for a second round of Major League Hockey. Philadelphia is seeking the old Montreal Maroon franchise, held by the Canadian Arena Company which operates Montreal Canadiens.

of Englewood, N.J., will also attend.

Middleweight Jake La Motta, in his first fight in six months, Tuesday night knocked out Ken Stripling of Washington in 2:46 of the fifth round of a scheduled 10-round bout, at Washington.

Boston's Ted Williams, 1947 champion, is setting the pace in the American League batting race with 382 in statistics released Tuesday in Chicago. The Red Sox slugger holds a 23-point margin over Lou Boudreau of Cleveland Indians, who has 359. Al Zarilla of St. Louis Browns is third with 352. Ken Keltner leads the home run race with 13.

General Manager Frank Selke of Montreal Canadiens announced in Montreal Tuesday that Maurice Richard and Kenny Reardon have already agreed to terms for next season's hockey campaign. "We have talked things over and they are both satisfied," said Selke. Richard, along with Butch Bouchard, was a holdout last year.

Cyrille Delannott of Belgium, newly crowned middleweight champion of Europe, will meet France's Marcel Cerdan in a return bout in Brussels on July 3, it was announced Tuesday. The young Belgian defeated Cerdan on May 23 to gain the crown.

Permit British Money To Be Invested Here

OTTAWA, June 2—(CP).—Canada has opened a channel for new British investment in this country, Donald Gordon, deputy governor of the Bank of Canada, disclosed today.
The Dominion has told Britain, Mr. Gordon said, that certain dollar reserves now in Britain can be used for investment here instead of their previously earmarked purpose of paying off a Canadian loan.

Testifying before the Commons Banking and Commerce committee, he said that originally this $700,000,000 interest-free loan was to have been reduced by the proceeds of sale of Canadian securities held in Britain.

Now, the United Kingdom has been told she can use these dollars for capital investment in Canada. Up to the present, Mr. Gordon said, Britain has made use of this facility only to a "limited" extent.

He said some $200,000,000 or $300,000,000 of the loan already has been paid off. But he did not indicate how Canadian securities still held in Britain would compare with the outstanding balance.

Golf Or Bust

PHILADELPHIA, June 2—(AP).—A group of golfers were forced to scatter Monday as a small airplane made a forced landing on the city Junanitta golf course. No one was injured. As Pilot W. Hope To Hold July Commonwealth Meet

LONDON, June 2—(CP).—British sources said Monday hopes are rising that a commonwealth conference will be held in July instead of in the fall as previously predicted.

The decision still remains with the prime ministers of the dominions, who have received an outline of British proposals for a meeting to discuss questions of commonwealth concern.

When they have indicated that they or their deputies will be present and what would be a convenient date, a formal invitation is likely to be sent out by Prime Minister Attlee.

All the dominions are interested in the development of the union of five western European powers, Britain, France, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg, and its effect on commonwealth economic relations. The 50-year union treaty signed in March provided for joint defence action among the five powers and harmonizing their culture and commerce.

Polish Textile Workers Happy On Quebec Job

ST. GEORGES DE BEAUCHE, Que., June 1—(CP).—One year ago, 100 shabbily-dressed young Polish girls from displaced person camps in Germany arrived in this Quebec textile and lumbering town to start life anew. Today, except for their Slavic features, it would be difficult to tell the smartly-dressed girls from fellow workers at the Dionne Spinning Mills.

Brought to this town, 75 miles southeast of Quebec, by Ludger Dionne, member of parliament for Beauce and operator of the spinning mill, only 30 of the girls have left the plant.

Those that did leave went to live with relatives in Canada and the United States, and to university.

The girls, who started working for 25 cents an hour, now earn 50 cents an hour. Although they are paid for a 48-hour week, they only work 46 hours.

The refugees live at a home operated by the Good Shepherd Nuns of Quebec, paying between $6.50 and $7.50 for room and board. The company each week takes 25 per cent. of their earnings above $12 and puts it in the bank in their names.

No deductions are made from their salaries for plane fare to this country although under the original agreement, they were to have paid back the money advanced for their passage.

Many of the Poles are hoping to take out citizenship papers, some expressing a desire to live the rest of their lives in Canada.

They are learning English fast and in turn are teaching the Nuns Polish.

As yet none of the DP's have been married and few have boy friends. But the language barrier, which is quickly being eliminated, is responsible for that.

At the mills, the girls have not yet joined the Textile Workers' Union and no pressure has been exerted to force them to become members.

Kiwanis Pool To Be Open For Tots Soon

A long-term Kiwanis effort known as the Hamilton Park project is being carried out by club members who have worked on the project since mid-May. They propose to build a kiddies' wading pool on the Jackson Park Creek at the point where it flows over shallow limestone just north of the Bonaccord St. bridge. Bulldozers and steam-shovels assisted the members in their manual labor about a year ago to level off the banks; there was also a great deal of underbrushing removed by paid labor.

Three weeks ago, the club went at the long project again and many members turned out in the evenings in teams of 15 or so, to shovel and wheel loose rocks and build stone riprap retaining walls. The wading pool should be in full swing in a few weeks time when a log dam will be thrown across the cleaned creek bed to make the necessary shallow head of water required for safe wading.

In addition to the wading pool it is proposed to seed down the levelled banks in the fall to make a grassy playground area in the Spring of 1949 when playground equipment will be purchased and installed. The Peterborough Kiwanis club estimate the cost well into the thousands of dollars, but when completed, they point out, it will be a boon to youngsters living in that section of the city.

SPILL BLOCKS, GRAVEL

Three trucks driving on Hunter St. last night left part of their loads behind as they turned corners. One spilled several cement blocks on the corner of Mark and Hunter Sts., and two other spilled ridges of gravel on the street at the corners of Rogers and Hunter and Water and Hunter. Drivers of the trucks are unknown. Auto drivers claim the blocks and gravel constituted traffic hazards.

A drop of three to four cents a pound is reported in the price of butter. Local merchants point out that this is due to the usual seasonal trend. As the supply of cream is increased the price is expected to dip still further though there are no predictions how far.

PAYMENTS HIGHER

L. H. Ingram, vice-president of the Quaker Oats here and new president of the Industrial Accident Prevention Association, announced Tuesday in Toronto that more than $35,000,000 were awarded in 1947 by the eight Workmen's Compensation Boards in Canada. POLICE COURT CLOSED

Starting a month earlier than usual, police court will be closed every Wednesday throughout the summer. Justice of the Peace James Fleming said today. Normally this does not begin until July 1, but the illness of Magistrate E. A. Gee of Lindsay has forced the early closing. Police court will also be closed on alternate Thursdays during summer months.

ELGIN NEEDS WARMTH AND RAIN

Winter wheat and clover meadows are reported to be showing the need of warmth and moisture in Elgin county. And growth is said to have been slow within the past two weeks. "Hundreds of acres of oats have been dished in that area and barley or corn planted. With few exceptions spring grain is considered a disappointment in that section of Western Ontario."

CAMP APPLICATIONS

Sixty-four applications have been received from boys wanting to visit Camp Kawartha this year. These applications cover 140 weeks out of the total capacity for the summer of 360 weeks. Although the camp is financed by the Y's Men's Club for the benefit of local youth, about 60 per cent of the applicants are not from the Peterborough district. So far, only 10 of last year's campers have sent in applications for this year.

STUDENT APPLAUSE

For a few moments it appeared that Mayor Owens was drawing peak applause from the students at the Collegiate Monday afternoon while the principal, Mr. Carl S. Browne, was introducing the members of the Lieutenant-Governor's party. That was until Major Max Clark was identified as an "old boy" of the school. Finally, however, the boys and girls went all out for the Hon. Ray Lawson. It was a heart-warming greeting from representative youth of Peterborough.

More Donations Reported For Civic Arena

Canadian Order of Foresters Youth Group are to support the Civic Arena drive. At a meeting on Tuesday at the campaign headquarters, committees were formed to organize a June Moon Frolic in aid of the secondary rink. Dick Oulmet, chairman of the Civic Arena committee, discussed with the group arrangements for the dance. Miss Janet Kearns briefly outlined the aims and ideals of the club.

Committee chairmen were appointed as follows: ticket committee, Art Reynolds and Muriel Anderson; publicity, Harold Hamilton; dance committee, Shirley Gordon.

It was decided to hold a softball tournament with Oshawa district on July 17 when the proceeds will also be in aid of the Civic Arena. On August 14, the Peterborough teams will visit Oshawa to play in a tournament there in aid of the Kinsmen Stadium Fund.

Latest contributions to the Civic Arena fund include a cheque for $146 from Peterborough I.O.O.F., $50 from Cherney Bros., $35 from the seven employees of the Trent Valley Feeds, and $10 from the Elizabeth Smellie branch of the Canadian Legion.

County Children Receiving Dental Care

More than 250 school children and pre-school children from 13 school areas in the northern part of Peterborough County will begin to receive dental treatment today from a mobile Junior Red Cross dental coach stationed at Apsley.

On May 13, thirteen dentists from the Peterborough and District Dental Public Health Committee, under Dr. J. J. Craig, made a tour of all but one of the schools and examined and charted the teeth of the children. This was a joint undertaking of the committee and the Peterborough branch of the Red Cross.

To get work done on the children's teeth the parents must sign a consent card. Treatment will be free but voluntary.

The mobile coach is one of two vehicles purchased by the Junior Red Cross for the Ontario division of the Red Cross Society. It is specially equipped with a complete dental unit, including a chair and other equipment.

The coach is situated near the Red Cross Outpost Hospital where it will be able to use water and electrical facilities, and if necessary the X-ray machine. Staff consists of a fully qualified dentist and his assistant.

It is expected that there will be enough work there to take the dental unit all summer.

The one school that was not examined in May was passed up because of sickness, but both examination and treatment will be given by the newly-stationed unit.

In common with other projects, this dental work is expected to give authorities a more accurate idea of the dental health of rural school children.

So far as is known this is the first organized effort that has been made in these districts of the county to look after children's teeth by bringing in modern dental equipment.

CLOCKWATCHER—Fireman Budd Cruikshank had as close a look at the Market Hall clock Tuesday morning as any man when he was hoisted aloft in a demonstration of the city's latest purchase for the fire department, an aerial turret ladder truck; it will cost the taxpayers more than $28,000.

Voters Should Find Now Where To Vote On Monday

Voters are being urged to inform themselves before Monday of their neighborhood polling places. Delay until then will mean cluttering up and congesting the lines of enquiry, and hampering all hands.

Can you answer this question: "Where do I go to vote?" You may know all the other answers, but that is going to be the important one Monday.

The answers are on the proclamations which have been posted, one to each ward. These bills are located as follows: One at the Market, another on Armour Road, another is on the fence at the Provincial Police headquarters, Charlotte and Reid Streets, one at the W. J. Grady corner, at the Exhibition Park, Lock and Lansdowne Streets, one on Romaine St. at Park; one on the fence north of Sanitary Ice, Water St.

Early information from the returning officer's assistants was that the public was not as interested as usual in election jobs, and especially in renting part of their houses for polling places.

The voting places are generally in their usual locations or nearby, allowing for changes dictated by considerations of patronage.

For example: You live somewhere in the area designated as No. 24. Its boundaries are: Gilmour, Albertus, Charlotte, Maitland, King and Park. If you are within those bounds you vote at 541 Gilmour St. That is a double poll. These are the rudiments of finding where you vote. It is up to the voter to get around and find out for himself. The easiest course is to call one of the party committee rooms—some time before Saturday night, leaving their staffs free for other efforts on Monday.

George Benton, assisting the returning officer, D. J. Lawrie, reported that there are 113 polling subdivisions in the riding. Present total is 151 polling booths, explained by the fact that some of the polls are divided into two sections for better accommodation of the voters.

The division is on an alphabetic basis—electors' family names beginning with letters from A to L at one of the double polls and those from M-Z at the other.

Hours for voting are 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Hit By Car, Boy 8 Slightly Injured

Edward Givens, 8 years old, of R.R. 4, Peterborough was injured Monday afternoon when struck by a car near his home on No. 28 highway. The child apparently ran in front of the car, which was driven by Charles Barton, 567 Reid St.

Taken to hospital for examination, he was released soon when it was found only injuries were bruises and shock.

Provincial Constables Les Brown and Lloyd McClure investigated.

Water Mains Being Laid Fast

With benefit of a trench digger, Al Spenceley has been laying water main at the rate of 1,000 feet a week on Braidwood Ave.

"It is just a case of getting pipe fast enough," R. L. Dobbin told the Utilities Commission Tuesday. While 6-inch pipe is available, the work program moves to King George St. and Howden Ave., and to the Brookdale subdivision. The department has 8-inch pipe required for the new line on Weller St. to the Civic Hospital. It was felt that the hospital demand was not urgent, but if he smaller pipe supply runs out, the work may be switched to the west end.

Plan of the pipe line across the Hilliard farm on the way to the pumping station, providing connection to the Bethune St. job which was begun during the war, will be submitted to the City Council. That property is owned by the city, and its management was recently transferred from the City Trust to the Council.

Drew A Spendthrift

Did you know that Premier Drew in 1943 promised to reduce municipal taxes by grants to municipalities.

Look at your tax bills. Mill rate in Peterborough in 1943 was 30 mills. Today it is 41 1/2 mills.

Premier Drew collected 108 million in taxes in 1943. In 1948 he will collect 190 million.

Although he collected 25 million more than he needed in 1947, he imposed a gas tax recently that will net him 13 million, and 2 weeks ago an amusement tax that will net him a further 25 million.

And, next it is anticipated he will impose a provincial income tax.

If Ontario continues THE ONEMAN SHOW, the electors will continue to pay high provincial and municipal taxes.

KING FAROUK of Egypt (centre, wearing Scottish bonnet) is flanked by his army chiefs during a recent visit to Egyptian headquarters in Cairo to discuss Egyptian army

ledgement of the query no statement has been received from Prime Minister Drew.

On April 21 the Temperance Federation asked provincial leaders for their party's stand on the liquor question. Later each candidate was asked for his attitude on cocktail bars and lounges.

Leader's Reply

As of May 26 the respective replies from the provincial leaders were:

Liberal—1. The Liberal party will devote a portion of the provincial liquor revenue derived from the sale of alcoholic beverages for a campaign on education against the improper use of alcohol. 2. The Liberal party endorses the principle of local option in all municipalities and will strictly enforce all existing liquor laws.

CCF—From a resolution on liquor policy—

"Resolved that when elected to power in Ontario the CCF will as soon as possible take over and operate as a public utility the brewing, winery and distillery industry within the Province." The profits will be used to 1. Maintain and care for alcoholics and if possible restore them to a useful place in society. 2. Provide for the innocent victims of the liquor traffic. 3. Conduct an educational campaign upon the dangers of the use of alcohol for beverage purposes. 4. Contribute to the general welfare of the people of Ontario.

The CCF will prohibit all forms of liquor sale advertising. The people will be given an opportunity to decide by a vote upon the method or methods of sale.

By May 26 the only reply received from Premier Drew was a letter signed, E.J. Young, Executive Assistant. It was addressed to the Rev. C. W. DeMille and said: "Dear Sir, I wish to acknowledge your letter of April 21st in connection with the forthcoming election and to assure you that your communication will be placed before the Prime Minister at the very earliest opportunity."

Candidates reply

Of their possible intentions of extending cocktail bars and lounges, the Peterborough candidates replied:

Harold R. Scott, Conservative, Minister of Lands and Forests: I would oppose any change in the act that would extend the operation of cocktail bars and lounges to Peterborough or any centre under 50,000 in population without first submitting the decision of such question to the voters of the municipality concerned.

Charles H. Elliott, Liberal, Liberal candidate: "I am very glad to state that I will vote against any proposed enabling legislation as suggested in your question."

J. C. Marten, CCF candidate: "My answer to your query is, Yes; I am in accord with the policy of the CCF party on the liquor question."

31-Pound Trout

BROCKVILLE, June 2 (CP).—A lake trout weighing 31 pounds, largest fish of the species to be taken from district waters for 20 years, was landed at Charleston Lake, Leeds County, by J. S. Jeffrey, Brockville.

A 32-lb. trout was caught in the same lake in 1928. Mr. Jeffrey's catch measured 37 1/4 inches long and 24 inches in circumference.

NRMA Discrimination Must Stop, Legion Told

OTTAWA, June 2—(CP).—Dr. Pierre Gauthier (L-Portneuf), a member of the Commons committee on veterans' affairs, told the Canadian Legion Tuesday its "discriminations against NRMA men must stop."

He attacked the recent decision of the Legion's national convention to bar NRMA veterans from membership. He spoke as Legion officials appeared before the committee.

Lt.-Col. David Cross (L-Toronto Spadina) agreed that the majority opinion of the all-veteran committee was that "the NRMA men have been kept out too long."

Dr. Gauthier said he would refuse to vote for any Legion request "if this discrimination doesn't stop." Such decision's "set no good example for national unity," he declared.

May Close Airport

KINGSTON, June 2—(CP).—Deputy Air Services Minister A. T. Cowley Tuesday advised City Council that Kingston airport will be closed by the Department of Transport unless the city takes action to lease the property.

City Council recently decided it was not interested in obtaining a long-term lease.

Cyanide Gas Kills Teacher

HAILEYBURY, June 2—(CP).—Arthur Kingsmill, 32, of Haileybury, teacher at the Provincial Institute of Mining, was found semi-conscious in the laboratory here Monday after conducting experiments using sodium cyanide. He died shortly after.

Mr. Kingsmill had been engaged in ore cyanidation studies in preparation for next fall's work when he was found unconscious and gasping for breath by C. W.

Tyson, another member of the staff. Firemen used an inhalator for an hour but could not revive the teacher.

O. E. Walli, principal of the school, said he could advance no reason for the accident because the experimenter was familiar with the materials he was using. Mr. Kingsmill, 35, was born in Calgary and was graduated from Ridley College, St. Catharines, in 1933 and from the University of Toronto in 1939.

MAY SUCCEED SMUTS — Following the resignation of Field Marshal Jan Christian Smuts as prime minister of the Union of South Africa, Nationalist Leader F. Malan (above), who led the opposition, was summoned by Governor-General Gideon Brand, presumably to be given the job of forming a new cabinet. Malan, who draws his support from the descendants of the original Boers, is an advocate of complete South African independence. His rise to power might mean the breaking of all ties with Great Britain.

SOVIET CHIEF MAD AT HIM — Col. Frank Howley, U.S.A., is reported hearing up very well under the circumstances despite the announcement of Major-General Alexander Kotikov, of the Soviet Red army, that he would no longer sit beside the American officer at meetings of the Kommandatura, the four-power governing body in Berlin. The Red general made his point after a bitter 15-hour meeting at which Col. Howley represented the U.S. Henceforth, a Soviet deputy will be seated between Kotikov and Col. Howley. Before his distribute on seating arrangements, the Red general accused the U.S. and Britain of "trying to divide Berlin."

CAUSE AND EFFECT OF DISASTROUS FLOODS—The above photo, taken from an RCAF plane 12,000 feet over Hope, B.C., looking south into the heart of the Cascades, graphically illustrates the cause of the present floods which are raging throughout many areas of British Columbia. Tons of snow on the mountainsides are melting under the spring sunshine and pouring down into the rivers below. The latter, swollen to tremendous proportions, are overflowing their banks in all directions.

Bill Extends Trade Agreements

WASHINGTON, June 2 — (CP) — Congress entering its sixth month of continuous session has put 35,000,000 words on the Congressional record but they spell out only a small part of the session's legislative program. Now, rushing toward adjournment June 19 for the conventions and election campaign, members face a last minute frenzy of work. A great deal of legislation will have to be put aside but Congress must do something about the appropriations for aid to Europe and extensions of the reciprocal trade treaty enabling act. Canada is vitally interested in both measures. The administration says that the foreign aid program cannot be carried out unless reciprocal trade agreements measure is renewed, unimpaired. The House passed a bill extending the trade agreements act one year instead of three. This enables the administration to negotiate trade agreements, providing tariff changes are kept within a certain limit of variation. The House bill added the condition that treaties negotiated must receive approval of Congress, a condition which the administration claims nullifies the whole program.

Illness Or Church Delays Royal Match?

ATHENS, June 2 — (Reuters) — Princess Anne of Bourbon-Parma's wedding to former King Michael of Romania, fixed for Saturday, has been postponed indefinitely because Anne has been taken suddenly ill, it was reliably reported here today. In Copenhagen, however, sources close to Princess Anne's family said there was no foundation in the Athens reports that the princess was ill. She was in good health and at her home in Copenhagen, they said. There was no comment on the wedding date. Earlier reports that Michael had put off his arrival here had suggested that religious difficulties were causing a hold-up. Reports of the delay were accompanied by authoritative reports from the Vatican that the Roman Catholic church would not recognize a wedding in the Greek Orthodox church rites. Anne is a Roman Catholic. Michael is a member of the Orthodox church.

COMMUNIST CHIEF William Z. Foster, head of the American Communist party, tells the Senate judiciary committee in Washington that his party will refuse to obey the Mundt-Nixon "Anti-Red" bill if the measure is enacted. He said that party members will refuse to register as required by the bill, which has been passed in the House.

Mayor In Works Post During Town Shakeup

LINDSAY, June 2 — Mayor Charles Lamb has been named by Council to assume the chairmanship of the Board of Works pending the outcome of the present shakeup. Deputy-reeve Nesbitt reaffirmed his decision Monday to resign Monday as Chairman of the Board of Works. However, there seems to be some doubt now that Mr. Nesbitt will vacate his seat on Council. He is reported to be considering retaining his seat on sign as Chairman of the Works. It is also reported that if he should take this course it will be largely to spare the people of Lindsay the expense of an election at this time and give his supporters continued representation.

F. Paul Lynch Wed at Kingston

Standards of spring flowers decorated St. Mary's Cathedral in Kingston as the setting for a very charming wedding Saturday when Freda Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Findlay Tremblay, was united in marriage to Francis Paul, son of Mrs. George Lynch and the late Mr. Lynch of Peterborough. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a graceful gown of white lace. The fitted bodice was fashioned with sweetheart neckline and short sleeves. Matching mittens came to a point over her hands and the bouffant skirt had a bustle back. Her embroidered veil of bridal tulle was caught in a sweetheart halo and she carried a bouquet of red roses. The bride-maid, Miss Wanda Reid, chose a gown of blue satin and net and carried Johanna Hill roses. Professor Noury was at the organ and Edward Lynch, brother of the groom and groomsman. Ushers were Jack Quirk of Peterborough and James Reid of Kingston.

Following the reception the couple left for a trip to the Laurentians, the bride travelling in a navy gabardine suit with navy accessories and grey topcoat. On their return they will take up residence in Kingston.

TORONTO, June 1.—Of interest was the marriage on Saturday of Margaret Tennyson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald L. Smith, of New Glasgow, N.S., to Mr. Murray-Smith.

The groom's father, officiated in Yonge St. United Church, assisted by Rev. S. M. Beach, and Miss Ruth Tennyson, cousin of the bride, was soloist. At the organ was Vera Crawford Heritage.

Mr. Smith gave his daughter in marriage. With her gown of white satin she wore a matching head-dress and long veil, and carried a cascade of lily-of-the-valley and shattered carnations, with a silver horseshoe and spray of heather from Scotland. Miss Joyce Baskerville, in gold satin, was maid of honor, and Miss Muriel Imber and Miss Jean Murray were in pale green. All had matching head-dresses, and carried cascades of matching sweet peas and carnations. Mr. Kenneth Murray was groomsman for his brother, and the ushers were Mr. Norman Tennyson and Mr. Alfred Thomson.

During the signing of the register, Miss Mary Robson sang "I'll Walk Beside You".

The sleeves were long and pointed over the hand. The sweetheart neckline and long gathered skirt were trimmed with satin roses. Her floor length veil was of white embroidered tulle, caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of American Beauty roses. The attendants were Miss Viola Neals, only sister of the bride, as maid-of-honor, and Miss Mary Robson, only sister of the groom, as bridesmaid. They were frocked in iceblue moire taffeta with matching head-dress and gloves and carried nosegays of deep pink roses and mauve sweetpeas.

The groomsmen were Mr. Jack Bellegem of Peterborough. Ushers were Mr. Jim Hunter, Mr. Clair Sisson and Mr. Cecil Neals. After the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home, where her mother received, wearing a gown of powder blue crepe, with matching hat of Swiss straw, navy gloves and shoes. She wore a corsage of Bettertime roses. The groom's mother, who also received, wore misty grey crepe, with black accessories and squirrel neckpiece, and a corsage of pink roses.

Later the bride and groom left for a motor trip to western Ontario and the United States. For travelling the bride chose a pale blue gabardine suit, with navy accessories and wore a brown squirrel neckpiece. They will live at RR No. 3, Peterborough.

DOROTHY DIX

Family No Reason to Object To Father's Night Out

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have been married for ten years to a good, kind man. He is a wonderful husband and father and I love him dearly. Now this is my problem: He likes to play cards and one night a week he indulges in this pleasure with some of his men friends, playing for very small stakes, but here is the rub:

My family is about to drive me crazy warning me that in time my husband will want to play for big money and that he will become a confirmed gambler, and that I should put a stop to it right now. He has never dictated to me about what I should do and I hate to make any objections to anything he wants to do. What is your opinion?—WORRIED.

ANSWER: There isn't a particle of harm in your husband having a little game of cards with his friends once a week, and there isn't the slightest danger of it leading to anything except an evening's innocent diversion. You could speed him on his way instead of raising ructions about it, as your family want you to do.

There is no quicker or surer way of alienating a husband's affections than by being a sportsman and standing in the way of everything he wants to do. For no man marries to get a jailer, nor does he marry to get somebody to supervise his morals and tell him what he may do and may not do. And particularly, he doesn't get married to have his wife's people censor him.

Man Needs Time Off
What a man wants to do he is going to do, that is, if you married a man and not a mouse. He will do it openly and above board if you let him, but he will lie to you and do it behind your back if you force him to, for the sake of peace. So the sensible thing is to do as you have done and acquiesce cordially in your husband's desire to have an evening off every week with his men friends.

Tell your family that you and your husband feel perfectly competent to run your own affairs and that they must keep their fingers out of your pie.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a girl of 18. My mother and father will not allow me to go out with boys or girls. They say that when I am older the right man will come looking for me. But I don't AFTERNOON TAFFETA—Really useful frock, although of high style, is this navy blue taffeta model. It shows how hips were meant to be padded, as against the frightening wads of stuff which have been pushed into many dresses, and it shows you too, that a long skirt, if filled properly, is not bunched and ugly although distinctly "new look." Tucks on the skirt are detailed with rows of soutache braid.

women past middle age to want to marry? Having spent the greater part of their lives in their own homes in married contentment, why should they not again seek companionship and the shelter of a home? It is awful to be lonely.—A WIDOWER.

ANSWER: No sensible person thinks it ridiculous for an elderly widow or widower to remarry. On the contrary, every intelligent individual must consider it the wisest thing they can do, provided they pick out suitable mates. It is only when an old man marries a gold-digging young girl, or an old woman marries a boy young enough to be her grandson that they make themselves objects of derision.

be the sudden withdrawal of support from high places, possibly caused by unsound, erratic or imprudent moves. Any impulsive steps, litigation, or wild emotion, and decisions, could cause heavy loss.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may step into a year of dramatic procedures and experiences, in their own determined effort to recoup past errors, blundering losses or other limitations and disintegrations. Such may be tackled with sound ideas, keen purpose, sagacity and perseverance, seeming to gain firm foundation by exceptional strategies, bright coups or just hard work. Yet an abrupt rupture with those in influential places who may not see eye to eye, especially as to originality, ingenuity or innovation may in long run prove devastating. Preparation for just such dilemma could save the day and with dramatic and dynamic culmination. Dig deep, go slow, and "stick to your guns" in crisis.

A child born on this day has excellent staying power, with shrewd and profound insight into quizzical situations. This will spell progress against odds, in the face of calamity.

SMUTS SUPPORTER—Deploing the personal defeat of Prime Minister Jan Christian Smuts and his party in South Africa, Israel Blumberg, Cape Town industrialist, said, in an interview in Montreal, "the only hope of a more liberal outlook as a result of the upset is that the victor, D. F. Malan, isolationist and champion of the Boer extremists, might not have sufficient strength with his plurality of only four seats, to implement his republican policies."

Harry Oakes' Home To Become Museum

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 2.—(CP).—Oak Hall, mansion home of the late Sir Harry Oakes, will become a national museum, it was announced today.

VOTE TO RE-ELECT SCOTT JUNE 7

Labor Minister Mitchell, visiting the border city, said in a statement it is expected the building will be reconverted in time for the 1949 tourist season.

The hall, which overlooks Niagara Falls, was given to the people of Canada by Sir Harry's widow after the unsolved murder of the Canadian-born mining magnate at his Nassau home in 1943.

In the building will be exhibited the work of Canadian artists and specimens of the Dominion's natural resources.

Plan Evolved To Attract British Plants

TORONTO, June 2.—(CP).—Leaders of Ontario's three major political parties, nearing the end of their June general election campaign tours, spoke Tuesday night in centres in the southern section of the province.

Premier Drew, in a half-hour broadcast over a CBC Ontario network, explained the functions of the government-sponsored Research Council. He addressed a Toronto business men's luncheon and spoke at night meetings in Brantford and Paris.

Farquhar Oliver, Ontario Liberal Leader, spoke on old-age pensions at a Farry Sound rally. E. B. Jolliffe, Ontario CCF Leader, in a Samia speech hailed the election of a CCF candidate in the Yale, B.C. Federal by-election as "a good sign of what is to come in Canada."

A group of about 100 persons heckled Labor Minister Mitchell at a Liberal election rally in Welland. Premier Drew was heckled at a campaign meeting in the same city last week.

Another Federal minister, Trade Minister Howe, spoke in support of a Liberal candidate at Port Arthur.

Premier Drew at Brantford challenged the Liberals and the CCF to say exactly where they stand on liquor policies. He said the leaders of those parties had criticized his government's handling of liquor sales without making clear their own position.

At Paris he city Toronto as an example of a place where his government's housing program has shown evidence of getting results. It had been announced in Toronto on Tuesday that an agreement had been reached for the Dominion to go ahead with construction of 1,000 low-rental houses.

In his broadcast he said one function of the Research Council is to originate new ideas both in types of production and industrial technique.

"In the past, we have depended a great deal on Great Britain and the United States for new designs and patents. It is extremely important that as our industrial production expands and we bring to use more and more of our resources, we originate new ideas both in types of production and in industrial technique."

A plan has been drawn up by the Ontario Government under which British industry could establish plants in Ontario without affecting the United Kingdom dollar position, the Premier said in this Toronto speech. He hinted the plan would involve advancement of capital here to those companies on the basis of credit in Britain.

Mr. Oliver said the Liberal Party would not endorse a $50 monthly old-age pension because it would involve more money than taxpayers could afford.

If elected June 7 the Liberal Party proposed to raise the basis old-age pension to $40 a month from $30. An agreement with the Federal Government on taxation might enable a still higher pension to be paid.

It had been charged that the Liberal Party would not be able to form a Cabinet if elected, Mr. Oliver said.

"I have no hesitation in saying we are prepared to take over the reins of government. I am very proud of the Liberal candidates. If I can't form a government stronger than the one which has administered the province for the last five years I'll eat my hat."

RICH TIMBER EATEN BY FLAMES IN ONTARIO—Over 20,000 acres of valuable timberland in the Mississauga area of northern Ontario has been destroyed in one of the worst forest fires to hit that section of the province. Supplies and equipment are being rushed to the 400 firefighters as the "battle of the blaze" continues. The weatherman says nothing short of a baby cloudburst will help the situation.

UN Staffers Have Chance To Travel, See The World

LAKE SUCCES, June 2 (AP).—Join the United Nations staff and see the world.

In its first 30 months, the UN has assigned workers to accompany missions to such remote and enchanting corners of the globe as Western Samoa, Tanganyika, and Kashmir.

Others have moved into the battle zones of Greece and Palestine. Some spent a winter in sunny Havana.

The plum now being dangled in front of the staff is Paris, where the 1948 meeting of the General Assembly will be held this fall.

UN workers get their close-up look at the world through being assigned to investigating bodies set up by the General Assembly, Security Council, Trusteeship Council, and Economic and Social Council. The visits to far-away lands vary from days to months.

A worker's salary remains the same, while on "foreign duty." Transportation costs are paid, of course. Each person draws expense allowance on per diem basis, the amount varying with the costs in the area. It was $12 a day in Havana and it is $15 in Palestine.

Personnel to accompany the commissions is selected on the basis of specific requirements, with volunteers being given preference where possible. The staff chart usually calls for nearly all skilled workers such as interpreters and economic experts. The volunteers usually catch on as pool stenographers and secretaries.

Some of the staff ends up overseas more or less permanently. For instance, the Economic and Social Council has authorized economic commissions for Latin America, Asia and the Far East, and Europe. The commission home offices are in Santiago, Shanghai and Geneva, and the staff stays there. Other workers have been shipped out on a permanent basis to the network of UN public information offices in a dozen countries.

The workers travel by plane or ship, depending on the accommodations available and the need for speed.

TORONTO, June 2.—(Special).—Final campaign returns issued by Canadian Red Cross officials on the society's 1948 national appeal for funds reveal that $3,637,445 was subscribed by the people of Canada.

Reports from divisions all indicate public reception of their provincial campaigns as excellent. Provincial figures are: Prince Edward Island, $23,000 or 115 per cent of objective; Nova Scotia, $150,152 or 125 per cent; New Brunswick, $118,952, or 152 per cent; Quebec, $760,000 or 101 per cent; Ontario, $1,429,068 or 119 per cent; Manitoba, $312,951 or 173 per cent; Saskatchewan, $205,222 or 100 per cent; Alberta, $182,860 or 121 per cent; British Columbia, $456,000 or 152 per cent.

Dutch Honor Canadian Soldiers

OTTAWA, June 2.—(CP).—Holland can never forget its debt to the soldiers of Canada. Dr. J. H. Van Roijen, Netherlands ambassador, today declared in an investiture honoring Canadian Army officers and men.

Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, commander of the Canadian army which liberated Holland in the Second World War, attended the ceremony in the Netherlands embassy.

Those decorated included Brig. E. C. Plow, Defence College, Kingston, and Brig. T. F. Flahiff, Quebec City, as Commanders of the Order of Orange Nassau.

Lt.-Col. F. W. Cranston, of Arnprior, Ont., was decorated as an officer of the Order of Orange Nassau.

The Meritorious Service Cross was awarded to CQMS. G. L. Bost of Renfrew; S. Sgt. W. E. Shore of Shawville, Que.; Sgt. W. E. Bayford, of Arnprior; and Pte. G. W. Allen of Prescott.

Fraser Seeking Income Tax Cuts

OTTAWA, June 2.—(CP).—Finance Minister Abbott Tuesday night asked the Commons to remember that income tax rates have been cut by 51 per cent during the last three years.

He made the statement after G. K. Fraser (PC-Peterborough West) renewed a request for greater tax exemptions for persons in the low-income brackets. The discussion occurred while the chamber studied a resolution to a bill providing for the income tax changes announced in the budget.

Mr. Abbott said because of the current economic conditions the government felt that this was not a year when major income tax reductions should be made.

He said that a 29-per-cent reduction in the tax was granted last year and in the last three years the reductions amounted to 51 per cent.

Mr. Fraser said that from 1939 on the income tax rates rose like a skyrocket and a 51-per-cent reduction did not mean much when present rates were compared with those of pre-war years.

DIVER SEARCHES FOR BODIES—Against a background of rubble and debris, a helmeted diver is seen as he searches inundated ruins of Vanport, Oregon, for bodies of residents who may have been trapped when the Columbia river broke through a dyke protecting the town and swept it out of existence in less than an hour. Though property damage is extensive, no accurate estimate of the dead and injured can be made.

Flood Waters Receding Except At Trail

VANCOUVER, June 3 (CP)—Flood-weary residents of sections of British Columbia today were cheered by reports that the levels of swollen rivers were dropping slowly.

The one big question in the minds of 1,000,000-odd citizens was: "Is the worst over?" With nearly 60,000 acres of a watery waste, 9,000 persons homeless and $30,000,000 of devastation, "valley-of-misery" residents hopefully eyed the slow drop of the Fraser river at Mission, 40 miles east of here, from 24.41 to 24.09 early today.

At Kamloops in the north Okanagan the Thompson river showed a similar fractional fall from 20.2 to 20.07. Reports from the north Thompson watershed also indicated the river was dropping slowly in the mountains.

At Prince Rupert, 500 miles north, the Skeena had receded four feet from the crest and now was at 20 feet. Men of the hard-hit village of Usk were returning to their water-ravaged homes.

But while flood fronts in the Kootenays reported relief in most areas, the smaller city of Trail, 230 miles from Vancouver, said grimly its situation was "unchanged" as the Columbia river overflowed into low-lying homes. The nearby village of Castle-gar which received its last ship-river levels

Reds Kidnap U.S. Official

BERLIN, June 3—(AP).—The Russians today released Dr. Harry L. Franklin, a United States military government official, whom they had seized in their sector of Berlin last night. They had held him for about 10 hours.

United States authorities said before the release it was a "plain case of kidnapping."

Franklin, deputy chief of the civil administration and political affairs branch of the United States military government for Berlin was arrested by a Russian patrol as he left a restaurant in the city.

Franklin asserted after his release that the Russians seized him "entirely without justification." He was kept overnight in one of the local Russian police headquarters and was questioned.

BUENOS AIRES, June 3—(AP)—La Nación's correspondent in Formosa reported today President Higinio Morinigo's Paraguayan government had fallen.

A dispatch from Asuncion, capital of Paraguay, a week ago, quoted leaders of four political groups as saying they were planning a

Barbara Cuts New Figure Seeks U.S. Cash For Canada

PHILADELPHIA, June 3—(CP).—Barbara Ann Scott didn't bring along her skates, but she still managed today to cut a few figures—on Canada's shortage of United States dollars. Canada's world figure-skating champion had just added another crown to her many achievements—Queen of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, now in convention here.

In a speech prepared for delivery the newly-turned professional skating star of Ottawa admitted she hadn't packed her skates; she felt "terribly" out of her element without them.

But there were more than school figures and free figures of the skating world. There were other figures that also were "pretty important." "It's because Canada spent two dollars in this country for every dollar you spent in Canada that we are finding ourselves short of American dollars," Barbara Ann told the convention.

"It's because this situation exists that the Junior Chambers of Commerce of Canada has taken on the big task of trying to get more American visitors to come to our country and of showing Canadians how important it is that they handle their American dollars properly."

Explaining to Americans why there are important controls in Canada and restrictions on holiday travel is the kind of "figure skating" she now wanted to do.

The world champion, who turned professional Monday by signing a contract with Music Corporation of America Artists, concluded on a note of thanks. The American people "were wonderful to me while I was skating in the world and Olympic tournaments over in Europe last winter."

"Some of your national magazines even reproduced the exact figures I was going to skate to show how they were both simple and intricate at the same time," she said.

"I am sure that if your great organization can stimulate the same interest in these other figures... then your country and mine can go on to another and much more important world championship."

Hears After 40 Years

GALT, June 3—(CP).—Mrs. David Davies said yesterday that as she and her husband ate breakfast at their farm home near here last Sunday was the first she had heard in 40 years. She continues to hear, and a document has reported that a long-closed left ear tube is re-opened, she said.

Oregon Braces For New Flood

PORTLAND, Ore., June 3—(AP).—The Columbia river system spawned a new flood in its headquarters today as the crest of the old one still threatened to punch out weakened dykes far downstream near the sea.

Warning of the new flood came with residents of Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and British Columbia near exhaustion from their two weeks' battle against what is already the river's most disastrous rampage.

All along the 1,000-mile course of the great river from the Canadian Rockies to the Pacific, water-logged cities and farm communities braced themselves for the new onslaught—if they weren't too busy fighting off flood waters already at hand.

The old crest was rolling down the last 40 miles of its course of death and destruction to the sea. This still was a critical area.

Troops and civilian volunteers worked on soggy dykes only inches higher than the churning waters. Again this morning the danger of break-through was multiplied by a high tide coming up the river.

It was touch and go. Workers strained to build up the earthworks protecting the fertile lowlands. Their fight was against property damage only. The people were evacuated days ago.

Key Murder Witness Found

TIMMINS, June 3 (CP).—The missing key witness in the Frank Deluca murder case, object of a widespread police search since the once-convicted high-grader was knifed to death here May 4, has been located today.

The possibility was seen that the hunt for the killer was gradually moving into its final stages.

On his return to Timmins from Toronto, Inspector W. J. Franks of the Ontario Provincial Police revealed that the witness, a man, had been found and interviewed on Tuesday.

Without revealing the witness's identity, the inspector said that the man may point the way to the knife slayers' doorstep. During the interview he disclosed to police he had seen two men near Frank Deluca's home at about the time it is believed the big-time gambler met his death.

British Halt War Aid To Arab Army

Refuses Young Jews In Cyprus
Passage To Palestine

LONDON, June 3—(AP).—Britain has stopped supplying arms and military equipment to Egypt, Iraq and Trans-Jordan in accordance with the U.N. truce conditions for Palestine, a foreign office spokesman said tonight.

Britain has also barred all fit Jews of military age from moving to Palestine from Cyprus, where 24,000 Jews were interned at the time the British mandate over Palestine ended.

The suspension of arms in effect supersedes Britain's treaties of alliance with the Arab countries. The spokesman said each country understands that Britain's obligations to the United Nations come ahead of her commitments to her allies.

The commitments to the three countries, has supplied them arms of all kinds, munitions, aircraft and ships.

Britain also supplies the other Arab League countries—Saudi Arabia, Yemen, Lebanon and Syria. However, supplies other than unfulfilled contracts were suspended when the United Nations earlier this year called for an embargo on shipments of military goods to the Middle Eastern danger zone.

The council's plea for an armistice had been accepted Tuesday by both sides—the Israel government of the Jews and the Arab League political committee for the five Arab countries with troops in the Holy Land.

The United States was said to want the truce to start by Sunday. But Jamal Hussein of the Palestine Arab higher committee told reporters five days would be needed to give Arab fighters the word.

Israel Wednesday night called off a cease-fire order in effect less than a day on the Jewish side. A Tel Aviv announcement said the order had been based on a misunderstanding.

The order was effective at 3 a.m. Tel Aviv time, Wednesday. The government said it had taken the time to the cease-fire deadline set by the Security Council. Later it explained, it learned that hour for replies to a resolution calling for an Arab-Jewish cease-fire.

The government said Jewish forces had been ordered to resume fire until the time, to be fixed by U.N. mediator, for both sides to stop shooting.

Newfoundland Vote Results Will Be Late Coming In ST. JOHN'S Nfld., June 3 (CP).—By taxis and streetcars in St. John's and by motorboat and on foot in the outposts, Newfoundlanders today travelled to the polling booth to select their future form of government.

They had three choices: confederation with Canada, responsible government as it existed in 1933, or retention of the present commission government for another five years. The main fight seemed to be between union and self-government but, commission government appeared a good dark horse.

Of the total of 176,297 eligible voters, 76,091 or more than one-third live in the Avalon peninsula and the general feeling here is that Avalon will vote responsible. Confederates will draw most of their strength from fishing hamlets scattered around the west, north and south coasts. The best guess is that about 8,000 of the 36,000 eligible in St. John's will

Burleigh-Anstruther Voters Give Dry Majority

APSLEY, June 3—(Special).—The forces of temperance won a decisive victory in the Township of Burleigh and Anstruther, 40 miles north of Peterborough, on Wednesday when voters downed a three-part vote on beer and wine. The vote was more than 60 per cent, "dry."

Of 383 eligible voters in the village of Apsley and in South Burleigh and Stony Lake, 340—more than 80 per cent.—turned out to register their votes. The three polls were well patronized soon after the opening in the morning.

The poll in the village of Apsley, the largest one, received 215 votes, of a possible 243. There were 443 "dry" ballots and 183 "wets". Breakdown of the three ballots were: In favor of beverage rooms for serving beer to men and women: 62 yes, 146 no; serving beer for men only, 62 yes, 148 no; serving beer and wine by glass with meals, 61 yes, 149 no.

In South Burleigh, 100 voters went to the poll, each having three votes. There were 110 eligible. They cast 133 ballots opposing the licences, and 154 in favor of them, with breakdown as follows: Beer to men and women, 54 yes, 41 no; beer to men only, 50 yes, 46 no; beer and wine with meals, 50 yes, 46 no.

At Stony Lake, there were 30 eligible, of which 25 voted. That vote was fairly evenly divided: Beer to men and women, 10 yes, 15 no; beer to men only, 12 yes, 13 no; beer and wine with meals, 13 yes, 12 no.

The high percentage turnout for the vote was attributed to a whirlwind campaign by temperance forces in the district. Headed by a provincial organizer, the anti-beer and wine drive was led by the Burleigh and Anstruther Citizens League, formed about three weeks ago when the vote was announced. Officers of the League were: Norman Leck, Donald Hester, Mrs. MacTucker, Herbert Tucker, Mrs. Stewart Brown and Norman Lalor. Another committee to act on the matter was formed in Mount Julian in South Burleigh.

There were more than 20 active canvassers opposing the licences in the area, the officials reported. Nine years ago, the village's one beverage room was voted out. At that time, it required a 60 per cent, "dry" vote to remove it. The "drys" pointed out that this time, despite the fact that the 60 per cent vote had to be in favor of the beer and wine, that the opposing votes were still over 60 per cent.

Ask Ontario Aid Flood Area

WINDSOR, June 3—(CP).—Mayor Arthur J. Reume asked the Ontario Government to consider establishment of a British Columbia flood relief fund, it was announced here today.

The mayor sent a wire to Premier Drew and dispatched one to T. P. McCann, mayor of Chilliwack, B.C., offering assistance.

A wire from Austin C. Taylor, chairman of the British Columbia Flood Emergency Fund, said at least 1,000 families are homeless and the fund as set $1,000,000 as its objective.

Mayor Reume said British Columbia sent "a great deal" of money to aid Windsor during the disastrous tornado of 1945 and it was "only proper" that this city should remember.

Warns United Church

MONTREAL, June 3—(CP).—Rev. J. I. MacKay, convener of the home missions committee warned that "the United Church of Canada is doomed unless we secure a more adequate supply of recruits for the ministry." In an address delivered to the Montreal and Ottawa conference of the United Church today.

Mr. MacKay's words were reiterated by several other speakers in reports of various committees and was the theme underlying all of the business on a heavy docket. "The sooner our ministers and members discover the seriousness of this situation, the better," Dr. MacKay declared. "It affects the whole life of the church."

All Government Resources Fail To Stem Flames Sweeping Rich Pine Stands

Rain Forecast But Fails To Come
Two Fire-Fighters Unreported
117,000 Acres Of Forest Said Affected

By The Canadian Press

More than 2,000 men, 30 government aircraft, some commercial planes and all the Ontario Lands Department's equipment today battled the biggest forest fires in Ontario's history. A forecast of rain-failed to materialize and firefighting crews faced steadily-rising temperatures. An unconfirmed report from Blind River said arrests are expected in connection with the official announcement that two careless trappers started the Mississagi blazes.

One fire which consumed 200 acres near Mileage 154 on the Algoma Central Railway is threatening the tiny village of Limer, directly in the path of the flames, it was reported. Arthur Leman, district forester at Sault Ste. Marie, said 64 men and three pumps have been rushed to the new outbreak in an effort to stem the flames before they reach Limer.

Jack Dillon, Lands Department official at Sudbury, said three fires started in the Sudbury district Wednesday. Although only about 40 acres in extent, they are not yet under control, he said today.

There were a few thunder showers reported but as flames rolled over thousands of rich timberland, forestry men anticipated a "hot and dry" day today, with thermometer readings as high as 90 degrees.

T. E. Mackey, chief of the forest protection division of the Ontario Lands Department, announced in Toronto that reports indicated generally the situation seemed slightly better than Wednesday. Major fires were not "running" as fiercely as during the last two days.

Two men battling a blaze in Godfrey township near Timmins, Ont., were reported missing Wednesday night but T. E. Mackey, chief of the forest protection division of the Ontario Lands Department said they were experienced woodsmen and may turn up this morning.

Meanwhile, all but essential travel was banned in a 50,000-acre stretch of the north country. The ban was intended not only to reduce possibility of new outbreaks but also to keep unwary travellers from becoming trapped in the fire areas. Private plane operators were warned against flying over the fires.

Except for one blaze on the western side of Lake Nipigon, the fires Wednesday did not spread as rapidly as on previous days.

Developments Wednesday included the halting of operations on a $20,000,000 power project in the Mississagi area, north of Thessalon, to enable 700 men to be diverted to fire fighting.

Crews working under direction of Lands Department men sought to save lumber camps in the path of the flames. Some camps were reported abandoned.

Liberals Nominate Most Election In New Brunswick June 14

FREDERICTON, June 3—(CP).—The Liberal party, which held a clear 3-1 majority in the New Brunswick Legislature that dissolved May 18, has made the greatest number of nominations for the June 28 Provincial election. Nomination day is June 14.

Figures compiled by the Canadian Press show the Liberals with 33 candidates nominated, the Progressive Conservatives with 17 and the CCF with eight.

The Liberal party of Premier John B. McNair held 36 seats in the last 48-seat Legislature with the Conservatives holding 11 and an independent one. The independent entered the House following the 1944 election with a by-election victory, taking a seat from the Conservatives.

The Legislature to be elected June 28, however, will have four additional seats. The new seats giving existing constituencies—three counties and one city—additional representation and do not create new ridings.

Five Tax Acts Amended In Commons

OTTAWA, June 3 — (CP). — The Commons did itself proud yesterday. It approved the budget resolutions after only two days of consideration, the shortest period in the memory of veteran political observers.

Five enabling bills, containing the backbone of the May 18 budget speech, were introduced and given first reading. They will amend the Income War Tax Act, the Dominion Succession Duty Act, the Excise Tax Act, and the Customs Tariff.

The discussion brought the Chamber to two votes arising from Opposition amendments, one a formal division and the second a standing vote in committee stage.

The first contest came when D. King Hazen (PC-St. John Albert) moved to nullify a proposal that the penalty on income tax arrears be increased from 4 to 6 per cent. Deputy Speaker Ross Macdonald ruled the attempt out of order on the ground it would upset the balance of government revenues. The Opposition then challenged the ruling and Mr. Macdonald was sustained by a vote of 85 to 48.

Mr. Hazen moved a second amendment providing that the increased rate would apply only from the date the assessment is mailed to the taxpayer by the Revenue Department. It, too, was ruled out of order but this decision was not challenged.

Dealing with the tariff suspension, Mr. Abbott said he thought it wise for the government to retain power to revoke this concession if it did not work to the benefit of the Canadian people. However, he did not think "for a moment" that the power would have to be used. The United Kingdom had given assurance that exports of cottons and rayons would be increased, and the suspension was expected to be beneficial. It would reduce the prices of these goods in Canada and ensure greater supplies for Canadian consumers.

Mr. Knowles, moving his amendment, protested against delegating such veto power to the Cabinet. The effect was that Parliament made laws and then empowered the Cabinet to change them.

John T. Hackett (PC-Standstead) said Parliament constantly was "belittling" itself by giving up powers to amend laws. Parliament would "ruin the day" when it accepted the veto principle.

John Blackmore (SC-Lethbridge) and Joseph Harris (PC-Toronto Danforth) supported Mr.

Coon Jams Traffic Watches Confusion

TORONTO, June 3 — (CP). — Traffic in midtown Bay and Bloor Streets was snarled to-day for three hours by a raccoon. The animal climbed a hydro pole at the busy intersection and crouched dangerously close to wires carrying 46,400 volts. After several attempts by humane officers and Toronto Transportation Commission emergency crews to scare the coon from its perch, two hydro linemen took over.

Street car and motor traffic was at a standstill and the streets were jammed with pedestrians as the linemen went into action. They scored the coon into a 40-foot slide down the pole into a box held by a Humane Society attendant.

Long after the animal was on its way to Riverdale Zoo, police still were untangling the traffic.

Peterborough Temperatures:

Today: Night low .49 Noon .75

Yesterday: Highest .83 Lowest .53

One Year Ago: Highest .65 Lowest .43

Sun - Rises at 5:38; Sets at 8:54

The weather continued clear and warm over most of Ontario on Wednesday with maximum temperatures generally in the 80s. Along the shores of the larger lakes where the water is still cold, on-shore breezes held temperatures to the high 70s. Evening thundershowers brought some relief to northern sections of the province. Today will be clear and hot again in the lower lakes district. The thundershowers activity will continue today in northern Ontario. Much cooler air will enter the James Bay region today, advances southward through the central part of the province on Friday and probably reach southern Ontario on Saturday, though by that time it will have warmed up considerably. The thundershowers will spread southward in advance of the cool air reaching southern Ontario about Friday.

Forecast:
Georgian Bay and Haliburton regions — Clear until Friday afternoon then cloudy with scattered thundershowers. Continuing very warm. Winds light today and tonight.
Lake Erie, Lake Huron, Lake Ontario and Niagara regions — Clear today and most of Friday becoming cloudy Friday evening with scattered thundershowers. Continuing very warm. Winds light.
Summary for Friday: Mostly clear evening thundershowers.

Canada Refuses To Export Arms

TORONTO, June 3 — (CP). — Canada has had opportunities "in recent times" for large-scale arms exports, but has rejected them, L. B. Pearson said yesterday.

The Under-Secretary of State for External Affairs, in an address prepared for delivery before the Canadian Exporters Association, said, "The Government has consistently refused to entertain suggestions for large-scale exports which would involve a major expansion in the Canadian armaments industry."

Mr. Pearson said there had been a number of "relatively small" foreign sales of surplus war materials, all authorized "only after an exhaustive and conscientious consideration of all factors." He expressed regret at the lack of international regulation of trade in arms.

Maniwaki Fire Under Control

MANIWAKI, Que., June 3 — (CP). — Two hundred and fifty paper mill workers were reported Wednesday night to have broken the back of a series of raging forest fires in this pulp and paper district, 85 miles north of Ottawa.

But a mile-square area of valuable timberland, 47 miles to the north of the town, still is out of control. An official of the Canadian International Paper Company said, however, that fire-fighters are succeeding in their fight and expect to have the blaze under control within 24 hours.

The official estimated the damage so far as $100,000 and said the fires which broke out a few days ago were caused by fisher-carriers way.

A survey by plane earlier Wednesday showed burned-out areas at Petawagama Lake, Piscotoshin Lake and Tudhope Lake to the north and Lake Cayamant to the southwest of the town.

At Venn depot where the only remaining serious blaze still raged, the company has thrown 170 men into the fire fight. They were flown to the area in light planes and directed by Owen Milmore, chief fire ranger in the district.

WINDSOR — John Tarcea, 21, charged with the murder of 22-year-old Reinder (Dutch) Kuindersma, was remanded to June 9 when he appeared again Wednesday in Magistrate's Court. Kuindersma's trussed and blanket-covered body was found in a water-filled ditch three miles west of Windsor April 22.

Bengough Raps New Labor Code

OTTAWA, June 3 — (CP). — Changes proposed for the Federal Labor Code by the Commons Industrial Committee were criticized Wednesday by Percy Bengough, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

In a statement, Mr. Bengough said the Congress — which supported the bill as drafted by the labor department — now had withdrawn that approval from the amended measure.

"In committee," he said, "changes have been made definitely detrimental to the operation of the act."

These changes were:

1. Broadening the definition of a "confidential" employee excluded from operations of the code.

2. Deletion of a clause that would have barred lawyers from appearing before the Canada Labor Relations Board.

Under the enlarged definition of a confidential employee, President Bengough said, thousands of workers could be put outside the code. It would restrict its "already too limited" scope.

Flood Tide In The West

Both the prairies and British Columbia have experienced unusual flood conditions this spring. The conditions in the Fraser River valley have been appalling. Immediate relief measures have been needed and are being taken but this year's floods should occasion more than emergency action. Large long-term damming and irrigation operations should be undertaken not only to guard against subsequent flood conditions, but to conserve and use the water.

The prairie land of Manitoba and Saskatchewan can ill afford to have springtime water run to riot and waste. An extensive system of dykes, reservoirs and irrigation channels would give the land the moisture so badly needed in the summer. It would make productive thousands of acres now sub-marginal.

British Columbia has already tapped its rivers so that hundreds of square miles of nearby slopes have been irrigated and become great orchards—as at Vernon. There are other hundreds of miles, other valleys which could be turned from parched grasslands to gardens. B.C.'s rivers could not only be used for irrigation ten times as extensively as now, but are magnificent potential sources of hydro power. The Ottawa Citizen has suggested that a "Fraser River Authority" be set up to harness the river and develop its watershed, its fisheries and its power potential.

The controlling and developing of Canada's western rivers should not be merely Provincial concerns. There already exists a Western Water Board which is a Dominion-Provincial authority to plan the development of the Saskatchewan River system in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba. Although the Fraser lies wholly within the province of British Columbia, Dominion-Provincial authority should be established to develop it, as the Citizen suggests. The conservation and development of the Fraser system would benefit the whole of Canada, for the good of one province is the concern of all.

Spurious Notions About Communists

There is a regrettable tendency in both Canada and the United States to bat the epithet "Communist" at everyone and everything with which a conservative (and we do not mean Conservative) disagrees. It is being loosely used against liberals (and we are not necessarily referring to Liberals). Expressing this in the political terms of Right and Left, we could say that the Right too often confuse anyone or anything left-of-centre with Communists and Communism, sometimes maliciously, more frequently out of mere ignorance.

A Communist is an adherent of the theory of Communism. Communism has a dictionary definition of "a theory of society according to which all property should be vested in the community and labour organized for the common benefit". Modern Communism in political theory and practice is of course much more and much less than that. For instance it includes a Marxian doctrine that force must be used to overthrow a state's government before political communism can be achieved in that state. It also refers to the new imperial Russian communism.

Premier Drew is not a Communist, even though he supports continued state ownership of the Ontario Hydro. Mr. Oliver, the Liberal leader, is not a Communist even though he is a Liberal, Mr. Jolliffe, the C.C.F. leader, is not a Communist, even though his politics are termed "pink".

The New Statesman (London) reprints part of a letter which a correspondent wrote to the Lincolnshire Echo about this matter. It is an astonishing bit of middle-headedness:

Because a person refuses to sing "God Save the King" he is not necessarily a Communist; because he may be unable to sing at all. If a person parodies the song and deliberately omits our God and our King, then he must, of necessity, become a Communist.

Amusing, perhaps, but sad. It is sad to realize that some people have so little logic, are so lacking in common sense and political education, that they can write such drivel and even believe it. There are many of that ilk in Canada, we fear.

Income Tax And Sales Tax

Two chief sources of revenue of the Dominion Government are the income tax and sales tax. Professor J. L. McDougall of the Department of Commerce of Queen's University spoke in Toronto last week to the Canadian Manufacturers' Association in a provocative manner about both of them.

He thought that income taxes were too high; in that we are inclined to agree with him. The total income tax collected from people with incomes below $3,000 now exceeds that paid by those with $10,000 and over. The reason for that is not that the tax rates on incomes over $10,000 are low (they average well over 30 per cent.), but that there are so many people with incomes under $3,000 who pay tax. Professor McDougall's comment was: "A heavy income tax upon working people is a most powerful incentive not to work". It can also have a similar effect on people with higher incomes unless they happen to like their work or have a sense of responsibility.

Professor McDougall commented on constantly broadening responsibilities thrust on the state for the well-being of its citizens. These cost money, and the working people have to pay a large part of it some way or another, for there just are not enough rich people to foot the bills. He makes this startling statement:

In that situation, the sales tax is a far safer tool than the income tax. People get what they earn. They have full discretion in determining whether they will pay sales tax on the purchase of a new suit of clothes, or on a refrigerator, or will save their money and avoid the tax altogether.

Professor McDougall's argument is not reported fully, so that we cannot, even if we had had the benefit of training in economics under Professor McDougall, assess its validity. It would seem, however, that people have not "full discretion" in determining whether they will pay sales tax. They may have in the buying of refrigerators and luxuries, but the tax is not on luxuries alone. It is on clothes, newspaper and a hundred other items necessary in our democratic climate. They can abstain from buying luxuries and therefore from paying the tax, but they must buy necessities. We cannot rid ourselves of the notion that the sales tax falls more heavily on the people of low incomes than income tax does, that it discriminates less between rich and not-so-rich than the income tax. The Kingston Whip-Standard makes this reasonable comment:

Placing a sales tax on necessities, however, seems to us a contradiction of everything our tax structure is trying to do for people in lower income brackets. The Federal Government has recognized the need for measures which will assure reasonable freedom from taxation in these groups, as well as the need for a measure assuring a more equitable distribution of national income. It raised income tax exemptions, set up the payment of family allowances, and, in the last budget, lifted the sales tax on many articles of food—a tax which was paid by people in all income brackets.

Income tax is an open, honest form of taxation. People pay it directly. They know how much they pay and have something to grumble at; or, if they demand more and more social services, they can understand that they are also paying for them. The sales tax is an indirect tax, and has no such virtues.

Peterborough's Soiled Beauty Spot

When we write about the Jackson Park creek we mean the creek which enters the city at Jackson Park and meanders, open to the air or closed in by tunnels and street paving, to Little Lake into which it empties at Townsend Street (a street no longer at the town's end but springs. Its water is naturally pure and clear.

Now, in the city limits it is foul, filthy, unsightly and altogether ugly. All sorts of offal is dumped into it or thrown along its banks. It is a municipal disgrace, yet it could be one of the loveliest things in Peterborough. Private citizens and owners of garages, laundries or some such commercial outfits are chiefly to blame for its present condition, but the city has been doing little to encourage private citizens to adopt a decent attitude towards it—for instance, the mouth is still clogged. In other years the mess around the restraining log at the mouth has been cleaned up by this time.

Is there no civic body, official or unofficial, which will spend a few hundred dollars and a good many man hours to rescue the Jackson Park creek from squ...? If its water were restored to cleanliness, and its banks to verdure, civic pride would

Germany And The West

By LINDLEY FRASER
(U. K. Information Office)

THE historic issue of economic prosperity versus military security has never been perhaps so acute—or so complicated—as it is at the present moment in the crucial problem of the future of Western Germany.

In London, the representatives of the six Powers most immediately concerned—Britain, France, the United States and the Benelux countries (The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg) have been trying to thrash out this problem. They have found it extremely difficult to reach agreement. Small wonder, too, in view of the basic differences in their approach to the problem.

If this were purely political the issue would be relatively simple. France is in favour of a wholly decentralized Germany on grounds of French national security. The United States is by tradition and experience sympathetic towards a somewhat similar solution of the problem—namely, a federal solution, in which the potential aggressive power of a centralized Reich is weakened by giving as much authority as possible to the various German States and Provinces. Britain, on the other hand, and to a lesser extent the Benelux countries, are doubtful about the adequacy of this approach to the problem. They see two objections to the French solution: first, any effort to impose complete decentralization upon Germany, however desirable in itself, would meet with the implacable and generation-long resistance of the German population itself, and is, therefore, to that extent unrealistic (since no solution of the German problem which will not be accepted by the Germans themselves, after the occupation armies have left, can be effective); and secondly, as things are, political decentralization in Germany means economic disunity also—and an economically disunited Germany is a pauperized Germany, a Germany which cannot hope to be self-supporting for decades to come, much less to make an adequate contribution to Europe's economic recovery.

BUT it is precisely on this economic issue that the six Western Powers split again and along different lines. The French view is easily stated. Everything must be sacrificed to making Germany politically helpless and incapable of aggression.

The Benelux countries, which have also suffered from German aggression, have every possible sympathy with the French standpoint, but are also concerned with the fact that their own economic well-being depends, as that of France does, upon Germany's being economically prosperous. (To take one example, the economic life of the ports of Antwerp and Rotterdam must depend upon a flourishing trade with manufacturing areas of the Ruhr and Northern Germany.)

Britain is not so directly concerned as the Benelux countries with the day-to-day economic activities of the industrial area of the Ruhr. But Britain has an overwhelming interest in seeing Germany, and particularly the British zone, become as soon as possible economically self-supporting and no longer a drain on Britain's financial resources. Moreover Britain, along with the other nations of Western Europe, has had direct experience of what happens if German industrialists are left free to give their support to a militarist German Government.

ON this specific point the United States stands as it were alone against her European colleagues. America does not feel threatened by an independent resurgent nationalist German industry. But she is at the moment carrying the main burden of maintaining Western Germany while the latter is not able to maintain itself. Therefore, in the American view, the vital thing is to help German industrialists in all reasonable ways to rebuild their businesses and to reduce Allied control over them to the lowest minimum demanded by considerations of international security.

Thus the economic line-up is quite different from the political line-up. In the latter case, as we have seen, the main cleavage is between Britain and France, with the United States on the whole (and economic issues apart) sympathetic towards the French approach. As against that, on the economic issue the extreme positions are occupied by France and America, while the view of Britain and the Benelux countries are somewhere in the middle.

AT the moment the economic issue is clearly the more important of the two. Indeed it is already affecting the political issue in that the United States, in spite of its belief in a Federal solution to the political problem, is showing itself impatient to have a unified Western Germany (in the face of French objections) as a means to German economic recovery. The political aspect of the problem points us then to a serious and unending struggle of agreement with Russia as to the future of Germany as a whole.

Therefore the main immediate point is: can the differences between America and France as to the future of the Ruhr be overcome—can a plan for Germany's main industrial area be found which will satisfy the French demand for military security and the American demand for rapid restoration of the Ruhr as a source of much needed industrial products.

It is the function of Britain and the Benelux countries, which are concerned with the realization of both these aims, to act as intermediaries between other two Western Powers and to help the six Powers as a whole to achieve what all of them want—a combination of defence, security and economic recovery.

Margarine and Electoralism

(T. D. BOUCHARD IN LE CLARION, ST. HYACINTHE)

THE question of removing the prohibition on the importation and manufacture of margarine provides a very clear illustration of the effects of electoralism. The Geneva agreements have recently decreed that any signatory government of such accords cannot prohibit the importation of products coming from a country who is a party to that convention. It was understood that this decision had been taken to facilitate among the various governments the abolition of prohibitive tariffs and laws forbidding the manufacture of certain products of necessity or of public utility. To those interested in imposing or maintaining these restrictive measures, the authorities find themselves in a position to answer: "We are prevented from acceding to your request by an international treaty". The question happened to be settled in favour of the interests of the masses without a strong electoral counterblow on the part of the interested.

The spokesmen of the Government have found some loophole or other for expressing the view that the Canadian Government is not bound by this accord in the case of margarine. It will therefore be necessary to have the force of this agreement established by the courts. In the meantime, the point remains to be decided by Parliament. The public itself, nevertheless, remains under the impression that no government, in the spirit of the agreement arrived at, can protect one class of society by imposing prohibitive tariffs or by forbidding the manufacture of a product which is necessary or useful for life.

In the case of margarine those who claim that their industry is threatened by the manufacture of this food product have organized a campaign to induce the senators and members to vote and work against the repeal of the old law which prohibits the importation and manufacture of margarine. The headquarters of this movement of protest is the office of the federation of co-operatives of the province. From here has been sent a message to all sister associations asking them to pass resolutions and to send telegrams to their respective representatives in the two Houses. There is no doubt that this procedure has been followed—one which moreover is not unlawful—to inundate senators and members with messages coming from nearly every part of the Province; one of the secretaries, not understanding exactly what the central association of co-operatives was wanting him to do, made the mistake of sending the telegram on to me and asking me quite simply to act thereon.

I have always understood that the Senate was a chamber which had been created precisely so that laws should not be dictated by an electoral spirit for the advantage of one class and to the detriment of the legitimate interest of another. In the present case, we have a category of producers asking us to prevent that of the consumers from obtaining for themselves a food now recognized as wholesome and on the market of every country in the world. I believe such a demand to be excessive and unfair to those who cannot get butter and who do not wish to eat dry bread.

I have no objection to the Government granting, if it deems it necessary or useful to do so, in one way or another, a reasonable protection to help the producers of this butter; but such protection should not extend so far as prohibiting the manufacture of a wholesome food, especially at times when there is not even butter on the market and when it is so rare that it can all be sold to

(From the Authorized Version)

Man that is born of a woman is of few days, and full of trouble. He cometh forth like a flower, and is cut down: he fleeth also as a shadow, and continueth not. (Job 14: 1, 2)

Know ye that the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture. Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise: be thankful unto him, and bless his name. For the Lord is good; his mercy is everlasting; and his truth endureth to all generations. (Ps. 100: 3-5)

We know that whosoever is born of God sinneth not; but he that is begotten of God keepeth himself, and that wicked one toucheth him not. And we know that the Son of God is come, and hath given us an understanding, that we may know him that is true, and we are in him that is true, even in his Son Jesus Christ. This is the true God, and eternal life.

Little children, keep yourselves from idols. (1 John 5: 18, 20, 21)

A Man With A Heart

Property owners get a hard name sometimes. Perhaps this little story will throw a warmer light upon one of them at least. A Star reader phoned us up to say he was wanting to rent a house and was reading our want ad. column. He came upon one: "House for rent. Five rooms. Only veterans," or words to that effect.

He picked up his phone. The landlord answered. The conversation was short. "Are you a veteran?" "Yes," said the house seeker. "Any children?" asked the owner. "No," said the veteran. "Nothing doing," said the owner and the deal was off.

Sometimes we hear of veterans not getting a square deal and sometimes we read of family men being turned down. Here was something different. If that house was to be rented it was to go first of all to a veteran, and then it must be a veteran who needed it because he had children. Social conscience is what it's sometimes called. It's not bad anyway.—Montreal Star.

Most Popular Card Games

Many people may think that contract bridge is the most popular card game, and the American Association of Playing Card Manufacturers recently took a straw vote to find out.

The Association ascertained that four-fifths of the population play card games of some kind, and rummy was found to be the most popular game among adults and children. Gin rummy, which is a little more complicated and perhaps requires a little more skill as well as luck, is played only by adults. Contract bridge came second among adult players. Second place among children's games was taken by "Old Maid." There were 10 games played by both adults and children.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

Thank goodness Libby's are extra-easy-to-digest!

Because a baby's digestive system is immature, his first solid foods often cause digestive upsets. Even foods which have been commercially strained contain many irritating coarse fibres and unbroken food cells which baby's digestive juices have a hard time penetrating.

But Libby's Foods, the only foods which are first strained, then homogenized, seldom cause digestive upsets. This is because Libby's exclusive homogenization process explodes the food cells and pulverizes the tough fibres.

The extra fine texture makes Libby's Baby Foods extra-easy-to-digest.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

C.E. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Glancing through an Examiner file of 40 years ago—gosh, that guy'll go anywhere for an item!—we noted these three notes of 1908 which should interest oldtimers here: "Fred Whitcroft's Edmonton hockey team has issued a challenge for the historic Stanley Cup.... Fred Simpson, Indian runner, finishes fourth in the final Olympic marathon trial and will represent Canada in the Olympic games at London.... With Quinlan holding the Ontario to four hits, Athletics defeat Port Hope in a Midland League game 9 to 3." Oh, yes, they had lots of good sports in Peterborough away back in those days of swinging doors, sweeping skirts and horse-and-buggy transportation.

About lacrosse, minor, intermediate and senior. Juveniles have a twin bill tonight in Miller Bowl, Legion vs. Queen's at seven, followed by Scouts vs. Comstock's. Open meetings and workout there at 8:30 Friday p.m. for intermediate and everyone interested is urged to attend. Tiger Hewitt has hopes of reviving intermediate lacrosse here, maybe in a group with Port Hope, Cobourg and Norwood. And the senior "B" Petes have a Saturday night exhibition at nine in Miller Bowl with the West York senior "A" squad. The schedule meeting is tonight in Ottawa and the Petes will soon be seeing loop action.

Kingston And Petes

Big baseball attraction locally this week-end is the COBL fixture at three Saturday aft in Riverside Park. Kingston vs. the Petes. Yeah, the old diamond rivals—bitter ones, at that—of pre-war days clash for keeps here day after tomorrow, first COBL contest betwixt them in 10 years. Not too many familiar faces with the Kingston crew any more, but then the Petes have seen a flock of changes, too. It ought to be a swell scrap with the Petes trying to maintain their grip on the top rung and the Locos out to crash the victory column. Given good weather, this one will draw a big crowd.

City Softball League goes again at the Bowl tonight with another streamlined double-header. Comstock's and Legion tangle at seven, followed by Knights and R-E Combines. Stew Richardson's gang can climb into a second-place tie with the Dalton outfit by winning, whereas a Legion win would pull that team right up around the top again. The Combines are leading the way and will be out to put a little distance between clubs crowding 'em tonight, but Freddy Garvey's K. of C.ers can get into the thick of the scramble by winning this one. All sorts of possibilities as the circuit shakes down into a dogfight every night the men are on parade.

CGE And Outboards

Two tidy tiffs in the Girls' Softball League at ye olde Bowls yesterday gloaming. The Electricians pummeled the pumpkins hard to knock off the improving Woollens 15-8 in one half of the twin bill, while Marines cashed in on a few expensive (what isn't today?) errors to nudge out Ashby's 6-2 in the other fray. A pretty fair-sized gathering of fans on deck for both bouts and crowds will grow as the race warms up. The CGE-Woollens' affair saw a flock of kicks in the pasture, but the other game was right snappy and had good fielding, apart from one inning. The lasses go again with a twin bill on the morrow.

No City Baseball League game tonight, school exams these days cutting in on the boys' time. But the east and south midgets go at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow in Riverside. Saturday morn at 10, westend peewees play East City in Riverside, while southenders tangle with Crawford's Grove peewees in Morrow Park. The westend midgets have a workout tonight at six at the Ex. Intermediate Petes play in Bowmanville at three Saturday aft, with our junior Aces there at 6:15 the same day. And the local junior Bees in Whitby at 6:15 Saturday. Yeah, lots of baseball action here and hereabouts these warm weeks.

Nick Nicked Juan

Nick Vichiarelli, local 165-pound pro grappler, made a good show against Juan Lopez, Detroit Mexican, in the prelim mat bout at the Brock last eve. Juan was disqualified for illegal tactics and Nick is asking for a return go, promising to be rougher himself next time. Hope so, and this is his chance as wrestling winds up here next week till out in October. Meske and O'Connor put on a neat semi-windup last p.m., but the big crowd enjoyed that main team wrestling scrap especially. The Masked Marvel and Goon Henry had a big pull on weights over McCready and Flanagan, the latter being pinned twice. Earl more than held his own and took a fall from the Mask. If he had the Whip or one of the Sharps—they're on their way back from Texas—there wouldn't be much to it.

UP AND DOWN SPORTS' RIALTO: A woman is suing Maple Leaf Gardens for $5,000, claiming her nose was fractured when Gaze Stewart and John Marlowe wrestled with sticks flying.... Remember that overcast sports medal left with us some time back? It was finally claimed today for Gordie Cook of Belleville (who lost it here) by a local friend.... Legion took a 2-1 soccer win over O'Halloran's last twilight; Lindsay game is cancelled tonight but Saturday sees CGE at Bowmanville and Legion playing Lindsay here.... Next soccer meeting is Tuesday night.... Bus Drivers beat the Firemen 12-6 last night in a Civic Softball League fixture.... In recent school softball frays, Prince of Wales beat Queen Alex 31-12 and Central 10-6.... Nashua took De Laval 19-2 yesterday eve in Industrial softball; Drafting plays Marines tonight at Brinton and Westclox meets Woollens on the latter's grounds.... It's Canoe and Quaker over east tomorrow.... Girls' games tomorrow: Lindsay vs. CGE and Westclox vs. Ashby's.... The business.

Marines Grab A Verdict From Ashby's

In the snappiest Girls' Softball League game yet seen this season at the Bowl, Marines pulled out a 6-2 decision over Ashby's last night before a good crowd. It was run off in an hour and a quarter and Ashby's errors made the difference. They had only three misuses but Marines—though out 9 to 6—fielded in flawless fashion to earn the verdict. They cashed in on two errors, a walk and a double for four runs in their big second frame and that did it. The last half of the game saw some swell, tight ball.

B. Reid pitched nice ball for Ashby's and H. Wait, who took over in the seventh, also looked good. They had few strikeouts, but the opposition got few hits or walks off them. McConnelly also threw neat ball for Marines, scattering hits well, as she fanned five. D. Callan, J. Dunk, H. LaPointe and M. Behan showed some smart defensive work throughout with J. Dunk having the feature catch. M. Behan led the winners at bat with three for four, and E. Simmonds had three in four tries for the losers.

The teams:
Ashby's—E. McFadden, 2b; J. Reynolds, c; D. Manley, ss; F. Killen, 1b; D. Callan, rf; E. Simmonds, 3b; G. Dracup, lf; J. Dunk, cf; B. Reid, p; H. Wait, p.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

The first round of the club singles is scheduled for Monday, June 21. Only players who have signified their willingness to play by signing a card will be permitted in this competition. Send your entry to C. Grant or K. Shadgett. Tomorrow night (Friday) men's tournament, draw from the board, 7:30 o'clock.
Down at Campbellford on Wednesday afternoon and evening, the club was represented by seven pairs in the big open doubles tournament sponsored by the Campbellford Lawn Bowling Club.
Wm. Jeffries and R. Gamble came second for three wins and J. Fitzpatrick and H. Freeman got the prize for one win. It was an ideal day for bowling and the boys all had a real outing.

Tonight Groups No. 1 and 2 continue with the schedule, and, boys, remember an early start means finishing early.

Nashua Triumphs

Nashua Paper Co. smothered De Laval 19-2 in an Industrial Softball League game at Brinton Field last evening. The winners rolled to their second straight win on 17 lucky hits and 10 De Laval misuses, having but two themselves while Sanderson threw six-hit ball and fanned 10. They had eight runs in the first frame, one next time up, six in the third and four in the fourth. The losers got two in the second. The teams:
De Laval: Johnston, Murray, Richardson, Goodman, Kelley, Shaughnessy, Welch, O'Brien, Carter.
Nashua: Conroy, 2b; Crowley, cf; Pryde, ss; Clark, 1b; Cray, 3b; Loyste, c; Cavanagh, rf; Sanderson, p; A. Lester, lf; P. Lester.

Mask And Henry Winners Over McCready, Flanagan

Jim (Goon) Henry and the Masked Marvel defeated Earl McCready and Pat Flanagan in a team wrestling match, the main tussle of the three-bout pro mat card at the Brock Arena last night. Henry went 270 pounds and the Mask 257 for a total of 527 to 461 by Earl (at 239) and Pat, who weighed 222. It was a fine grapple.

The first bout of the main go saw the Mask win over Flanagan in 19 minutes, using a "walking full-nelson" to put Pat into the enemy corner where the Goon smashed him to the mat. The Marvel, of course, fell on him for the count. Each in turn had worked on Pat as the weaker of their opponents, though the scrappy Irishman gave each a hot battle for a time, but he didn't have the weight. Earl more than held his own in the wild fight as they kept the works at each other and kept the place in an uproar.

McCready Won

McCready pinned the Mask in 18 minutes with his rolling cradle splits, after Pat had tried it just before. This go was really wide open as they fought in and out of the ring with four grapplers in there at times and the referee unable to keep up with the hot action. The crowd loved it. Earl gave the big hooded one a real going-over and had his mask so awry at the finish that the Marvel tackled his own team-mate after the bell. The Goon was tough, too, and they staged a red-hot session.

It ended up in five minutes of the third round on a sad note when the Mask pinned Flanagan. Pat had smashed the Marvel around and set him up for the fall, leading him with a full nelson—after drop kicks—over to McCready in the corner for the "coupe de grace". Earl swung and the Mask ducked. Which left nothing but Pat's chin as a road block for the flying fist. As Pat fumbled about dazedly on the mat, the Mask flopped on him to gain the deciding fall. They had all mixed hard before that with hair-pulling and everything else going including the referee—Bert Maxwell—in the middle at one time. But the villains won out.

Goes To Draw

Dr. Ed Meske, 232, and Dan O'Connor, scaling 240, staged a neat semi-final scrap which went to a draw in the half-hour time limit. They dished up some swell scientific mat stuff for about 10 minutes and most of the fans enjoyed such action by the big fellows. Then the Irishman lost his temper and began to rough it up. He made a good job of it, too, but the Doc came back in similar style to make it a lively fray. They played it wide-open.

Electrics Take A 15-8 Win Over Woollens

The Electrics took a 15-8 victory over Dominion Woollens in a tidy tussle in the Girls' Softball League last night at the Bowl before a fair-sized crowd. While it was loose defensively by both sides, the Woollens were never too far out of the hunt. A couple of big innings sewed it up for CGE. They had a good margin on hitting but kicked in with five errors and the Woollens kept pecking away for a run at a time to show their gameness. They also booted the ball around a lot.

M. Perrin pitched eight-hit ball for the winners, fanning six and walking none. E. Humphries was hit hard as she whiffed two and issued two free bases. M. Selkirk, J. Thomas, B. Hall and S. Harris went best defensively. Homers were hit by E. Humphries, M. Lang, J. Thomas and Marg Selkirk, the latter having two. She led CGE with three hits in four tries, while S. Harris topped the losers at the plate with two bingles in four attempts. The teams:

Prince of Wales pulled out a 10-6 senior School Softball League victory yesterday over Central on the latter's diamond. They got four runs each in the second and fourth innings with two in the third, as Central counted one in the fourth and five in the fifth. It was a tidy tilt throughout. The teams:

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

The judge, two National Hockey League players and a hockey fan agreed in Toronto Wednesday that it is dangerous to sit at a rail seat at a rink. Mrs. Hilda Payne, 38-year-old Toronto housewife, is suing Maple Leaf Gardens, Gaye Stewart, former Leaf player and Johnny Mariucci of the Chicago Black Hawks for $5,000 for injuries received two years ago in a scuffle along the boards.

BABY'S RASHES

are often a sign of upset digestion. See how quickly this type of rash often disappears after the use of Baby's Own Tablets. Pleasant to take, easily crushed to a powder if desired, these little tablets soothe up baby's stomach and clear out irritating material that also may be causing gas, feverishness and fretfulness. Get Baby's Own Tablets today. They have been the standby of mothers for over 10 years. Only 25¢.

Ernest Payne, her husband, has demanded $237 medical costs. Mrs. Payne claimed she suffered a broken nose and other injuries when struck by a hockey stick when Stewart and Mariucci were wrestling along the boards. Mr. Justice A. M. LeBel observed the woman must have known of the risk of a front-row seat. "I wouldn't sit there myself," he said. The case is continuing.

McGill University released Wednesday its home schedule for the 1948 intercollegiate football season. University of Western Ontario, Mustangs play at Malson Stadium Oct. 16, University of Toronto, Oct. 23 and Queen's University, Nov. 13. Coach Vic Obeck of the Redmen also announced that his charges would play two exhibition games, both in Montreal. The first, against Ottawa University, will be staged Sept. 25 with Guelph Agricultural College here one week later, Oct. 2.

Legion Team Has Edge In Soccer Go

Two smart soccer aggregations—O'Hallorans and Canadian Legion—played on Wednesday evening on King Edward Park in a league game, with the latter gaining a win, 3-1. The soldiers trotted out two new players, D. Dunn and J. Craig from Scotland.

Opening exchanges revealed clever tactics with the forwards testing the custodians at either end. Pyle broke up a dangerous attack to send down Newt Downer, the winger, who beat Foster rigging. On the next visit to Legion got the equalizer when Foster rattled a hot drive into the rigging. On the next visit to Legion goal. Featherstone missed the open goal from two yards out. Then to climax the attack he was brought down inside the penalty area and was trusted with the spot kick. T. Foster, Sr., in goal, diverted it over the bar for a fruitless flag kick before the interval.

Lots of Fouls

After a short respite, Canadian Legion opened up a series of attacks to find Chamberlain, in goal, holding his charge intact. Fouls aplenty crept into the tactics thereby slowing up the game. H. Foster broke away on the wing to rattle the cross-bar. Murdoff met the rebound to make it 2-1. With 10 minutes to go, Bert Grant at centre, on an individual effort, registered the third counter while O'Hallorans bombarded the soldiers' goal until the last minute.

Canadian Legion—T. Foster, goal; T. Foster, Jr., and B. Woodcock, full-backs; A. B. Smith, J. Craig and A. Bromley, half-backs; H. Foster, D. Dunn, B. Grant, C. Murdoff and G. Downer, forwards.

O'Hallorans—J. Chamberlain, goal; T. Scott and Art O'Halloran, full-backs; D. Gray, H. Pyle and D. Duncan, half-backs; N. Downer, A. Featherstone, W. Cribbis, G. Croal and E. Boone, forwards.

Referee, Asa Downer; linesmen, E. Woodcock and H. Steel.

Softball Schedule For COF Lassies

The COF Youth Group girls' softball schedule opens June 14, with Orioles playing Cubs. Two nights later, Beavers meet Tigers. On June 21, Tigers play Orioles, while the Cubs meet Beavers on the 23rd. Orioles tackle Beavers on June 28, with the schedule winding up June 30 as Cubs play Tigers.

Games go at 6:30 p.m. at Confederation school grounds. Play-offs are best of three. Two top teams play July 5 while bottom two teams clash July 7. The top two have their second game on July 12 with the bottom two mixing again on July 14. The July 19 date is reserved in case of a tie for semi-finals. The first and second finalists settle it on July 19, 21, 26 and 28. There will be tournaments here July 17 and in Oshawa on Aug. 14.

OLYMPIC CHAMP—For 1944 miles Juan Carlos Zabala, 19-year-old schoolboy from Argentina, held the lead in the marathon, closing event of the 1932 Olympics in Los Angeles, Calif. As 1,000,000 people cheered him on, Zabala continued to set a fast pace in the field of 28 long-distance runners. As the runners near the 20-mile stage, the schoolboy relaxed his pace and Virtanen of Finland took over the lead. Duncan Wright of Great Britain decided it was his turn and as they passed the 20-mile marker he went to the front. But Zabala wasn't to be denied and with but two miles of the 26 miles, 385 yards to go, he forged into the lead once more, and went on to become the victor in the 1932 Olympic marathon. Above he is shown nearing the finish.

Brooklyn Dodgers Climb Back Into Pennant Race

By The Associated Press

Slowly but surely, Brooklyn Dodgers are climbing back into the National League pennant race.

The defending circuit champions, after a disastrous start that found them in and out of last place, are in sixth place today, only five games behind the pace-setting New York Giants.

Manager Leo Durocher's pitching staff, which took plenty of beatings in the early going, has suddenly righted itself with big Ralph Branca, Preacher Roe and Joe Hatten leading the way.

Hatten went the route for the second time this season Wednesday night, pitching the Brooks to a 5-3 victory over the fading Cardinals in a night game at St. Louis. The loss was the Cards' sixth straight.

By losing, the Cards dropped 1½ games behind the Giants who trampled the Reds 7-4 in a day game at Cincinnati.

Larry Jansen, star Giant right-hander, scattered 11 Red hits in posting his sixth victory of the year. Jansen helped his own cause, driving in three runs on two singles.

The third place Pittsburgh Pirates also lost ground, falling two games behind the Giants as they bowed 5-1 to Boston Braves in a night game at Pittsburgh.

Johnny Sain held the Pirates to three safeties, one of which was Ralph Kiner's 12th home run of the year in the ninth inning.

In the eighth inning, the Pirates came up with the first National League triple play of the year. With two on, Alvin Dark popped to first sacker Ed Stevens. Stevens stepped on first to double up Phil Masi and then fired the ball to Stan Rojek at second to get Torgeson as he attempted to slide back into the bag.

In the American League, Cleveland Indians dropped a 2-1 five-hit decision to the Yankees in a day game at New York.

Johnny Lindell doubled home pitcher Vic Raschi with the only run of the game in the eighth inning. Raschi yielded just five hits in gaining his sixth straight victory.

on a sacrifice, to third on an infield out and home with the winning run on Earl Wooten's single.

The last-place White Sox raked Bill Dietrich and Nelson Potter for 11 hits in their night game in Philadelphia while Joe Haynes halted the A's on nine safeties in coasting to his fourth victory.

St. Louis' surprising Browns moved over Detroit Tigers into fourth place as a result of their 3-1 night game triumph over the Red Sox in Boston.

Fred Sanford checked the Sox on seven blows while his mates collected nine off lefty Mel Parnell.

The Tigers, who now trail the Browns by a game, lost a 1-0 decision to the Yankees in a day game at New York.

Johnny Lindell doubled home pitcher Vic Raschi with the only run of the game in the eighth inning. Raschi yielded just five hits in gaining his sixth straight victory.

In the only other day game, Chicago Cubs nosed out Philadelphia Phillies 2-1 in 19 innings at Chicago. Phil Cavarretta singled home Eddie Waitkus with the winning run.

THERE IS NO FINER CIGARETTE

The year was 1847...

... Malcolm McRae was beaten into unconsciousness, left in a ditch to die. He was a voter in the Third District, Prince Edward Island who had, the previous year, voted against certain members who were later unseated on charges of intimidation and violence.

Now a new election was called—but Malcolm McRae was warned not to vote. In those days he was not protected by the secret ballot—yet Malcolm McRae determined to set out for the polls, risking his life for the right to vote.

Today, because of the courage of men like Malcolm McRae, you run no risk at all in your free, unhampered exercise of the franchise.

When YOU cast your secret ballot at every election—municipal, provincial, federal—you exercise a duty and privilege planned, worked and fought for by your forefathers. Your vote protects the future of your children. To fail in this duty is to be less than a good citizen.

THE SAUCE OF GOOD TASTE

100,000 Homes Will Be Built

PORT ARTHUR, June 3 (CP) — A prediction that the Dominion Government's plan to foster construction of 100,000 new homes in Canada during 1948 will be achieved was made here Tuesday night by Trade Minister Howe.

Mr. Howe was addressing a meeting on behalf of H. H. Styffe, Liberal candidate for Port Arthur in the Ontario elections June 7. Terming himself a representative of the only government in Canada building houses, Mr. Howe said Federal housing plans are keeping up to schedule. Last year, the objective was 80,000 homes and 79,000 were built. This year, with a good backlog of unfinished dwellings as a start, the housing was off to a good start and was maintaining a good pace.

The Trade Minister, who said this would be his only election address in the Ontario campaign, criticized both the Progressive Conservative and CCF Parties. He accused Premier Drew of making the Ontario Hydro "a political arm" of the government. He warned of the threat of Leftist elements in the CCF if that party were elected.

Newfoundland Not Sure Of Vote Issues

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., June 3 (CP) — Nobody in Newfoundland is sure what economic union with the United States means. It implies U.S. dollars and for many voters that is enough.

This was typified Tuesday night in a statement by Chesley Crosbie, leader of the party that stands for economic union. He said in an interview, "I'm not quite sure what economic union means myself."

Economic union is an arm of the responsible government movement which places its case before 170,000 voters in tomorrow's national referendum.

Retention of commission government for another five years and confederation with Canada are the other two choices on the ballot. Crosbie said that if responsible government won he would head a party advocating economic union in a general election.

He said he did not know whether Peter Cashin, responsible government leader, would captain a party opposing this movement or would support him.

(Cashin said Tuesday he would not lead any party in a general election if responsible government were returned.)

Crosbie, a big, square-set man with a mustache, said economic union, if it did come about, would not lead to political union or annexation by the United States.

He said there was "quite a large group" in Newfoundland that favored out-and-out political union but the majority was against any such move.

Through economic union, tariffs would be abolished or reduced on various products such as fish.

Crosbie said the United States was anxious to get more bases in Newfoundland—they now have three—and wanted to develop Labrador iron ore.

In return for tariff concessions, Crosbie said, Newfoundland would grant, under economic union, concessions on air bases and resources development.

He said Canada in its proposed terms for union was very condescending to allow Newfoundland to continue the manufacture of oleomargarine.

Want Price Cuts

PARIS, June 3 — (AP) — France's Roman Catholic and Socialist-backed trade movement agreed Tuesday to fight for price cuts against wage rise demands of Communist-led unions. The group claims 2,400,000 members.

Rev. J. D. McCrea, minister of St. Lambert United Church, near Montreal, was elected president of the conference, succeeding Rev. Dr. A. P. Menzies of Ottawa, issued the challenge at a session of the annual meeting of the conference recently in Montreal.

Tory 'Stars' In Movies Attacking Labor Gov't

By JAMES McCOOK.

LONDON, June 3 — (CP). — Lord Woolton, Lord Garry Cooper, but he does his best.

This business man, who won the title of "Housewife's Friend" when he was Food Minister during the Second World War, has become the star of the Conservative Party's film propaganda program.

As party chairman and custodian of the money bags, Lord Woolton recently announced he had been able to collect £1,000,000 ($4,000,000) — much of it in silver and copper from rank-and-file friends — to assist political campaign funds.

Some of the £1,000,000 has gone into films. With a degree of pride the Conservative and Unionist Films Association showed the results of its endeavors at a recent showing in a London movie theatre.

The films often are released through "daylight cinema vans" which stop at street corners, reveal their have a screen inside, and attract crowds in no time, and the crowds, at present anyway, will see a lot of Lord Woolton.

An especial pride is a film called "Lord Woolton Speaks to You." There, on the screen, is Lord Woolton smoking his pipe in an irritated way and listening to the radio.

The broadcast is about more restrictions being announced by way, will see a lot of Lord Woolton.

ton clenches his teeth on the system, and makes a decision: "I'll turn that thing off," he says, then strides across the room — a most handsomely furnished room — and turns the knob on a modernistic white radio.

Then he picks up a written speech lying conveniently on a settee, and, waving his pipe, he makes a vigorous assault on the Labor Government.

Not another soul appears during the show. Lord Woolton, as calm and precise as the veteran of 1,000 Hollywood stages, stops to tap out his pipe on the fire-iron, faces close-ups and long-distance shots with equanimity, never stumbles over a word or loses his easy clarity of expression.

Film critics said it was not the kind of stuff to roll the audience in the aisle, but of its class it was good. They were interested in whether his chief political antagonist, Herbert Morrison, Lord President of the Council, who also smokes a pipe, would attempt a cinema counter-attraction.

Rebate Given Some Doctors On Eye-Glasses

OTTAWA, June 3 — (CP). — Some Canadian doctors get kick-backs from dealers on their eye-glass prescriptions, F. A. McGregor, Combines Investigation Act commissioner, reported to Justice Minister Hiley today.

In 1946, these rebates ran to at least $500,000, Mr. McGregor said in his combines report on the Canadian optical trade.

However, he declared, the majority of doctors do not engage in the practice of accepting these rebates — of perhaps $5 a customer from the firm making the glasses from their prescription. "The greatest amount of rebating," he reported "was engaged in by wholesalers or by retail dispensing outlets operated by wholesalers, such as the retail outlets operated in several cities by Percy Hermant, Ltd., under the name of Optical Prescription Company."

"Imperial Optical Company (Percy Hermant, Ltd.) and some of these affiliated houses made about 75 per cent of these payments and Consolidated Optical about 10 per cent. These two companies have branches throughout Canada, though by no means all their branches make rebates; they both make rebates through branches in most provinces."

Take 2 Rebate (In a footnote, the commissioner said that since competition of the investigation, Consolidated had stated it had discontinued rebating in all branches).

AGRICULTURE GRADUATE — R. Walter D. Hanbridge, Otonabee, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hanbridge, received his degree of Bachelor of Science in Agriculture Wednesday at OAC convocation at Guelph. An honor student, he specialized in Agricultural Economics during his four-year course. He has accepted a position with the C.I.L. in Montreal.

Vote To Re-Elect Harold Scott

Your Thoroughly Capable and Conscientious Representative Since 1943

It takes more than kisses to keep a man happy. If you want your man always to be proud of you... if you want always to look your youngest, slimmest, and loveliest... you must watch your diet! And, in any diet to gain a lovely figure, you should eat certain special foods because of their vital "protective" qualities.

That is why Kellogg's All-Bran is included in scientific weight-control menus. All-Bran is made only from the outer layers of the wheat grain. This is the vital part so rich in iron and certain other "protective" food elements your body must have. Making Tourists Happy Job For All—McGillen

HAVELOCK, June 3 (ENS)—A Fish and Game Association for Havelock and Belmont, sponsored by the local Rotary Club was formed on Friday evening.

The nominating committee comprising George Hubbel, Chris Steenburgh, J. Bard, William Copp and Archie Cumming, named the following officers who were elected for the year:

President, Harold Kennedy; vice-president, William Copp; secretary-treasurer, George Hubbel. Membership tickets will be on sale in the near future.

Pete McGillen, city editor of The Peterborough Examiner, was the guest speaker.

Mr. McGillen said: "It is because we have fishing, the tourists help pay taxes to provide better roads and other things for this township, and we have been neglecting the most important asset we have."

An American wants good fishing, good food and accommodation, he said: "A tourist is a person of simple tastes, a man or woman who for two weeks leaves his job and becomes a loafer. A spender for those two weeks. He wants fair and honest treatment, wants fair value for what he spends and above all he wants that friendly, courteous treatment that keeps his heart singing, that perpetuates his belief in the generosity of his fellowman. Those above all are the things that send him home singing the praises of some particular holiday spot. We need these self-appointed salesmen who not only spend their money here but bring back hundreds of other people as well."

Mr. McGillen spoke on the muskie. He said people who spear them, net them, dynamite or gaff them deplete the adult breeding stock. A muskie is worth $200 in the lake, he said, and only worth $2 when it's out.

Mr. McGillen stressed the serious hazard of fish depletion. The fish laws should be enforced. It was not a job for sportsmen alone but merchants and every citizen in the community have an equal responsibility. It is a matter of simple arithmetic, he said. If we continue to treat our natural resources as a bottomless pork barrel, we will soon be scraping the bottom and as far as the muskies are concerned in the Kawartha Lakes we have come dangerously close to the bottom of the barrel.

Moving pictures from the Department of Lands and Forests were shown on wild life and fishing.

Harold Kennedy officiated as chairman for the evening.

Still Fighting War

PEARL HARBOR, June 3 (AP)—United States Marines Monday shot and killed a Japanese who had been hiding on one of Kwajalein Atoll's tiny islands since the American capture of that Marshall Island base in February, 1944. And there may be another, still living, the navy said. The Japanese was killed after he opened fire on Marines sent to capture him.

CHICAGO, June 3 (AP)—Last fall Michael J. Stragesos, 25, was vitally interested in babies. He was a prospective father.

When he saw a picture of a six-month old boy chinning himself, he said to his wife June, 17:

"When our baby's born he'll do better than that."

Tuesday Stragesos called the newspapers. His son, Michael, Jr., was four months old and the tot celebrating by clutching a rod held by his dad, permitting Stragesos to lift him, and then—Stragesos said—chinning himself.

When photographers arrived, the baby held on to the rod all right, but he wouldn't repeat the chinning exploit. But you know babies when company's around and you want them to show off.

Real Estate Load Too Heavy Reeve Claims

WINDSOR, June 3 — (CP). — Reeve Ann Shipley of Northern Ontario's Teck Township today blamed the housing shortage in Canada on the increasing trend towards placing the burden of taxes on real estate.

In an address prepared for delivery at the convention of Ontario Mayors and Reeves, Reeve Shipley urged municipal officials to look for new fields of taxation in order to ensure that taxes are borne in the most equitable way possible.

"You cannot expect the little man to take a chance on building if he has to bear the ever-increasing cost of services not properly the responsibility of the home-owner," she added.

Reeve Shipley also spoke at length on the brief presented to the Dominion Cabinet by the association last February. She outlined the three main problems currently faced by municipal governments causing a need for further study and definition of the position of these governments.

These problems, she said, were those of "costs of social services, of roadway development and maintenance, and the growth of exemptions from municipal taxation of an increasing number of properties."

Recent aid given by the province in providing social services was welcome, but "it is still not the final solution." Regarding increasing costs of roadway development, Reeve Shipley said the costs were being foisted on the home owner and not necessarily on those using the highways.

The third problem—that of exemption of properties from municipal taxation — has meant that "municipal taxpayers not only pay for their own services, but are burdened with the cost of municipal services up to 25 per cent of the properties exempted from taxation."

Newfoundland Has 3 Choices On Thursday

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., June 3 — (CP). — Who is the Newfoundland?

Outwardly, he is a person who smokes American cigarettes, drinks Canadian beer, and has tea every afternoon.

Before the war Newfoundlanders were British in outlook although there were—and are now—many who dislike the British because they think they regard them as nothing more than "Colonials."

But now the Newfoundlanders is taking on a complexion of four nations — Britain, Canada, the United States, and his own Newfoundland. He is being torn four ways by the referendum that comes off Thursday.

There are three choices on the ballot—commission government, confederation with Canada, and responsible government.

If the Newfoundlanders votes for commission he will be favoring British Colonial Government, if he votes for confederation he wants to become a Canadian and if he votes responsible he will want to govern himself.

If he votes responsible he may as well be pluming for closer ties with the United States, for a group advocating economic union with the United States has been in the forefront of the responsible government campaign.

Newfoundland is a country that exists on fish, lumber, iron, copper and zinc. There is some agriculture on the west coast, but next to none in the Avalon Peninsula where the bulk of her 320,000 population is concentrated. Newfoundland has to import much of its food, and consequently costs are higher here. Most meats cost about 20 cents more per pound than in Canada and an ordinary meal in a hotel comes to $1.50 or $1.75.

One single-track railway line spans the country and there are few roads outside the Avalon Peninsula, in the south-east corner of the island.

St. John's is the heart of the country in every sense but geographical. Here moves the big Veteran Printer Returns To City

A flashback to the days when newspaper headlines were all set by hand and when newsgathering was a much more leisurely occupation was given Tuesday when Thomas A. Slighie, Oakland, Calif., visited The Examiner. Mr. Slighie was a member of the composing room of The Examiner between 1903 and 1909. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas K. Slighie of the Port Hope district, he lived the earlier part of his life in that area. His father, a lake captain, was drowned near the turn of the century.

He learned the printing trade in Port Hope, at the offices of the Times and the Guide, moving to Peterborough to The Examiner in 1903. He said in his visit here (he will be on vacation all summer) that systems of handling news from the composing room viewpoint had changed immeasurably since he had been here. At that time, The Examiner building was on the west side of George St., between Hunter and Brock Sts. In 1909, Mr. Slighie moved to Calgary, Alta., where he worked for the News Telegram until 1923. In that year, he went to the California city, working in a job printing shop there until his retirement in 1943.

He has three sons in the printing business: Thomas P., with the Oakland Tribune; George, who operates his own printing shop in Oakland; and Ray, who is foreman in a cousin's printing establishment, also in Oakland.

Boy Prefers City

NEW YORK, June 3 (AP). — A. Michael Kivatsky, 12, a realist, says the pleasures of the country are nothing compared to his own hot, teeming Manhattan East Side in summer. Michael refused two free weeks at a summer camp offered by the Children's Aid Society of New York because:

He can go swimming any time he wants to in an East Side pool shadowed by skyscrapers instead of trees. He's centre fielder on a baseball team that plays under the Queensborough Bridge. He's a key member of a boys' club punch ball team. Anytime he needs money, he can work delivering orders.

Following Mr. Downer's talk the meeting was open for questions and discussion. The door prize to members was seeds of the Royal Ensign.

Officials Of U.S. Firm Visit City And Westclox

In a rotation of meetings at their constituent plants, the directors of General Time Instruments Corporation visited Peterborough Wednesday. As guests of J. H. Vernon, executive vice-president and general manager of Western Clock Co., the visitors met a group of Peterboro heads of industries, banks and other business at the Peterborough Golf and Country Club.

May Weather Kind To Farmers

Farmers who gripped last year about heavy rain, floods, and cold weather, should find something to console them in the weatherman's report for May, 1948. Precipitation for May this year was 3.07 inches, compared with 3.04 for May, 1947. The average mean temperature this May was higher by two degrees—52.75 against 50.9 for May, 1947.

Three months of chilly weather and heavy rain last year had farmers worried. They predicted a drop in crops of 25 to 40 per cent. This year, the forecast for crops is heartening. Young grains are showing well, and hay is expected in some areas next week.

The fire department was happier last year. Grass fires were scarce. But a warmer May and drier ground this year sent firemen running to 15 grass fires.

The flood panic is finished for this year. Forest fires rage in Ontario, but last year southern Ontario floods caused thousands of dollars in damage.

Last spring was one of the worst in years. Normal crops and dry weather this spring promise a good summer.

Construction Lower Than Peak '47 Level

The 1947 spurge of building piled up figures that are not likely to be overtaken by the prospective program for this season. The total to the end of May last year was $2,092,777 as against $988,962 for the first five months of this year. That is a gap of nearly $2,000,000. Industrial expansion by additions to established manufacturing plants largely accounted for the big figures of last year.

The amount of the permits (171 of them) issued last month was $390,967 comprising: 15 garages, $2,975; 60 dwellings, $339,000; 96 miscellaneous $48,992.

Building permits in May 1947 were: 8 garages, 15 dwellings, $78,500; 78 miscellaneous $1,201,102.

Anglers And Hunters Group Visit Here This Week-end

More than 40 executive members of the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters will attend the quarterly meeting of that body in Peterborough over the week-end.

The executive, representing approximately 60,000 fishermen and hunters throughout Ontario, will be guests of president Robert McCabe and members of the Peterborough Fish and Game Association. Through the co-operation of the Department of Lands and Forests, a special visit will be made on Saturday afternoon to the Deer Lake maskinonge hatchery.

Here visiting anglers will be able to see for themselves the famed sporting fish of the Kawartha country grown just to fingerling size. The Hon. Harold R. Scott, Minister of Lands and Forests has arranged to have a member of the staff accompany the party to answer queries on the business of running a muskie spawning ground.

Hope To Start Housing Plan Within 10 Days

Expropriation of the John T. O'Connell property, between Park St. and Monaghan Rd. north of O'Connell and south of Rose Ave., will be considered by the city council at a special meeting tonight.

A block of land is required for the new housing program, and it is understood that if sufficient area is available by next week the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation agreement for 200 houses will be put into effect in less than 10 days.

The O'Connell property is nearer Lansdowne St. than the Ardon and Housing Enterprises subdivisions. It is the last vacant block of property south of Lansdowne St. and lends certain advantages to the new housing program which the council is hoping to get moving. It is understood that the estimates of the owner of the property and representatives of the city were too wide apart for any expectation of early agreement. The alternative was abandonment of the location or expropriation.

The O'Connell block of 10 acres would provide for at least 65 houses. The city owns 20 other vacant lots in the vicinity, and some others are obtainable, bringing the total number of lots in that section to probably 110 or 115.

In the new terms of government building, the city has to provide the land and services, but the Crown company absorbs any costs over $600. These costs are to cover value of lot, plus cost of putting in sewer and water. Frank Jobbitt, chairman of the Park St. frontage of the O'Connell block, said:

One of the reports from the city hall some time ago was that Mr. O'Connell had proposed $30,000 for his property, but an estimate of the city was said to be something under $20,000. Economy in motion and cost is one of the factors urging that as much of the work of the new housing project should be done in a compact area. And for that reason the O'Connell lot appeals to the council and its housing committee of which Ald. Gordon Armstrong is chairman.

Rambling Reporter GOOD SCOUT?

A pedestrian on George Street at noon seemed to have done his good deed for the day. Before entering a shop he noticed that the car parked outside was beside a metre show in red. He looked around, saw a policeman strolling by, so reached into his own pocket, pulled out a copper and gave the car 12 minutes' safety. An instance of real neighbourliness, surely. It happened, however, that the gentleman pedestrian had merely made a mistake. He thought the car was his own family's vehicle.

SPRING CLEANING

It is not only the venture-some youth of the city taking to the water these first fine warm days. At several spots along the Otonabee lately, it has been possible to watch actual queues of birds lining up to take a "shake-bath" in some back-eddies of the river. It is a fascinating thing to watch the warblers and robins sit solemnly on nearby rocks and branches while one uses the little pebble-enclosed "baths", then move out while the next takes its place.—R. B.

CAUGHT!

Several days ago, city teachers held a meeting at King George School. As they talked seriously within the school, a small boy just as seriously was engaged in removing the gas caps from their cars parked near the school. One teacher, arriving late, spotted the boy calmly unscrewing a cap. Protected by the dark, he went on until the car was empty of gas caps.

Then he led the culprit before a terrifying assembly of

Girl, 5, Rescued From Lock When Tug Captain Hears Screams Of Child's Mother

Marlene Good, 5, of 705 Gilchrist St., had a narrow escape from drowning last night when she toppled into the 10-foot deep water of Lock 19, just below the lower gate. Fortunately for her Captain William Copperthwaite, skipper of the tug Katchiwano, at about 9.30 p.m., happened to be passing nearby and when he heard the screams of the child's mother he ran to the side of the lock and dived in.

By this time she was going down for the third time and Captain Copperthwaite said he had to plunge deep to grasp her. He dragged her to a raft anchored to the side of the lock and handed her over to Eric Kimball, lockmaster, and Miss Mary Morris, McDonnell St.

Mr. Kimball said he first noticed a party of four consisting of the rescued girl, her mother, Mrs. D. E. Good, Miss Mary Morris and Paul Collison, Gilchrist St., fishing just above the dam. Apparently the party then decided to move further down and try their luck below the lower gate.

Capt. Copperthwaite decided it was chilly and decided to go back to the tug moored nearby to get his coat. It was then he heard Mrs. Good scream as Arlene fell into the water.

When interviewed this morning the Captain was modestly reticent.

"I just went for a swim," was his only comment. Although he has been working on the Trent waterway for an estimated 50 years, including 20 with the Trent Canal, he is out of practice as a swimmer. Apparently he jumped in without considering if he could still remember the motions.

Marlene is expected to start school this fall and while she is an ardent fisherwoman she has not yet learned to swim.

"It's a good thing she fell in where she did, and not above the dam," said her father, an employee of the Peterborough District Co-operative. "She's quite alright this morning."

The Lockmaster described it as a "near thing" but added that no person to his knowledge has drowned at the Haggart St. Lock. He said he pulled a six-year-old boy out of the turbulent eddy just below the dam, about five years ago, and three years ago a woman committed suicide there.

Sends His Thanks

Mayor W. G. Owens has received the following appreciative letter, dated Queen's Park, Toronto, June 1, from the Lieutenant-Governor, the Hon. Ray Lawson:

"Your Worship: This is to say how very much Mrs. Lawson and I enjoyed our day in Peterborough yesterday, and to thank you and your associates for all that you did to plan a pleasant and interesting program for our official visit to your fine city.

"Everyone was very kind—even the weather man—and I can assure you that we carried away happy memories of an enjoyable occasion.

"With kindest regards to you and Mrs. Owens, in which Mrs. Lawson joins, I am,

"Yours faithfully,

Scratched Pupil, School Board Warns Teacher

LINDSAY, June 3 — (ENS). — A woman teacher at Alexandra Public School, Lindsay, who allegedly scratched the left arm of a nine year old girl pupils is to be given a stern warning by her principal, "that it should never happen again."

This was decided by the Board of Education Wednesday night when Dr. R. M. Parker, a member of the board informed that the young girl with two scratches on her arm had been brought to his office for medical attention by her mother "who was very much perturbed."

The doctor added that he didn't think the scratches needed medical attention, other than first aid. Principal C. Dettman reported that the child in question had gone home at recess and that her mother had brought the girl back and shown the marks on her arm.

"The girl was apparently standing up talking to another pupil when the teacher grabbed her by the arm and put her in her seat," he added. The board also decided to send a letter of regret to the child's mother.

Monday morning and Friday morning; Prince of Wales, Monday and Wednesday afternoon; King Edward, Wednesday, 10 a.m. to 12 a.m.; King George, Thursday morning; Queen Alexandra, Tuesday afternoon; Queen Mary, Tuesday and Friday mornings, Parkhill will be examined at Queen Mary, Confederation, Thursday, 1.30 p.m.; May's, Thursday, 3 p.m.; and Grove, Wednesday morning 9-10 a.m.

Joel McCrae On Westerns; They've Got Plot Anyway

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, June 3 (AP)—Joel McCrae, the California cowhand, is shaping his career as a specialist in movie Westerns. And not only because he loves the smell of fresh air and sagebrush. In an expansive mood he expounded his film theories:

"A solid plot is the essential ingredient of any good movie. It doesn't guarantee success, but without it even the finest treatment can't make a film good. That's why I have been doing Westerns and will continue to do them. The essence of a Western is plot. So I am sure I have at least got a firm foundation for my films."

Joel cited another reason why he is hewing to horse operas: He has reached a point, he believes, where it is not profitable for producers to hire him for comedies or dramas, the success of which is not as certain and sure-fire as Westerns. You must admit the guy is frank.

Dies In Prison Feud

PHILADELPHIA, June 3 (AP)—Richard Rafter, 44, convict serving a long-term hold-up sentence, was stabbed to death at Eastern Penitentiary Tuesday in what Warden C. J. Burke said was a sudden eruption of a long-smouldering prison feud. Before Rafter died he accused Robert McGrogan, 25, and William Parmer, 23, of attacking him without provocation.

Labor May Call Early Session To Curb Lords

LONDON, June 3 — (CP) — The Labor government's quarrel with the House of Lords may force the government to call a special short session of parliament in September, an unusual procedure.

This session would be necessary to allow the government to get into effect before the 1950 general election its legislation to reduce the powers of the Upper House.

The parliament bill to cut from two years to one the period for which the Lord can veto non-financial legislation from the Commons comes before the Upper House for second reading next week.

Negotiations between representatives of political parties to reach agreement on reform of the Upper House have failed.

Under existing constitutional provisions, the bill will become law without the approval of the Lords in two years, which would include three sessions of parliament.

Normally only two parliamentary sessions would remain before 1950 but an extra one can be fitted in by the government to make sure that the parliament bill is passed in the proper form and that the Lords' power of delay is cut by half.

Any thoughts the Labor leadership may have had of dealing more gently with the peers probably were eliminated by the attitude of the party's annual conference at Scarborough, Yorkshire, last month. There delegates indicated that they wanted firm action.

Herbert Morrison, deputy prime minister, while declaring his faith in the two-chamber system of government, gave a specific promise that the parliament bill, in the present form or slightly amended as approved by the government, would be passed by the present parliament.

The discussion indicated that a substantial element in the Labor party would favor abolition of the Upper House, which is going farther than the present government desires.

Public and Business Places Obey Fire Regulations

"Fire regulations are pretty well adhered to in Peterborough," said Archie McDonald, Rubidge

MRS. MICKEY ROONEY, the former Betty Jane Rase of Birmingham, Alabama, takes the witness stand in Los Angeles to testify in her suit for divorce from the movie actor. She was granted the decree after testifying that living with Rooney was like living in a hotel—"no privacy."

St., who is now employed as a Fire Department inspector. He is a part-time worker, now superannuated from the active force of the Department by which he has been employed for the past 38 years.

Mr. McDonald is one of two fire inspectors who examine stores, businesses, factories and public buildings to see that fire fighting equipment is in tip-top shape, and regulations of the Fire Underwriters observed.

He checks the mechanical faults of fire extinguishers (ensures that the pump is working), and pays careful attention to whether there are proper exits and if these are free from obstruction. Occasionally he finds the shut-off valve of a sprinkler system blocked in a factory by goods piled around it. If a fire should break out and the sprinkler system used, extra damage would be caused by water while firemen shifted merchandise searching for the valve.

He pointed out that his job was made easier by fire prevention units in larger firms. Westclox, C.G.E., Quaker Oats, Outboard Marine all have their own fire fighting men. The Ovaltine plant he described "as one of the best in Canada—practically a fire-proof building."

Peterborough buildings are usually inspected twice a year and he says apart from minor suggestions and infringements he finds local business men and officials educated to the fire hazard.

LIVING TOMB "FOR SINS OF THE WORLD"—By the side of the River Juma, near the cremation grounds in Delhi, an Indian woman, aged 45, has encased herself in a living tomb. She is doing a self-imposed penance for the sins of the world and praying to avert the catastrophe which, she feels, is about to envelope the earth. Her "tomb" is a dug-in brick box, measuring 6 feet by 6 feet by 3 feet. The box is surmounted by a ventilator through which she gets air and receives two daily meals of fruit, milk and water. She is cared for by three attendants, who live nearby with their families. Picture above shows the living tomb, inhabited by the Indian woman in Delhi. An attendant is passing her a cup of milk through the ventilator opening.

CCF Speaker Says Tories Worried About Election

HAVERLOCK, June 3 (ENS)—"The Conservative party is a very worried organization today," said

John Osler CCF candidate in St. Patrick riding, Toronto. "The people who want something better are turning away from that party, but what is hurting worse is their realization that their dyed-in-the-wool supporters have removed the wool and are just not going to vote at all June 7 rather than support Drew." He was speaking here at a meeting in support of John G. Morton, CCF candidate.

He detailed account of conditions in Saskatchewan under a CCF Government.

In response to a question as to how taxes had been affected in that province Mr. Osler replied "The only major tax change I know of is the new tax imposed on undeveloped mineral grants. This tax was placed on these lands so that they will not lie dormant. The big interests will now have to develop, sell to someone who will develop, or pay taxes, they can have their choice."

Chairman was Maurice Ketcheson and introduced Mr. Osler and Mr. Morton.

"Dog-Eat-Dog" Order

"On June 7 we have a great decision to make. Are we to carry on with a dog-eat-dog social order, or are we to start a new era in Ontario under a CCF government, an era of co-operation, of equal opportunity, of health, happiness, and prosperity?" asked Mr. Morton.

Liquor Question

"In a recently letter I received I was asked, 'Will you, if elected, vote against any proposed enable-ing legislation, introduced in the legislature of Ontario, that would extend the operation of cocktail bars and lounges to Peterborough or any other center under 50,000 in population without first submitting the decision of such question to the voters of the municipality concerned?"

"My answer to this question is yes, not as an election promise to gather votes but because it is part of the policy of the CCF laid down at our annual convention not by one man, nor by any inner group but by the 274 delegates sent by their locals across Ontario."

"The law says we can change our government every five years although Drew seems to be on the road to changing it to every six months. Voters who belong to the CCF can at least mould the policies of government every year through their annual convention when CCF is put into power."

Tea drinking in England owes its great popularity to the "coffee houses" of the 17th century.

Would Not Ban Communism

LINDSAY, June 3 — (ENS) — Karl Homuth, M.P. of Preston told the Lindsay Kiwanis Club on Tuesday that Communism should not be banned in Canada. The speaker was of the opinion that passing a law "would not eradicate the evil."

"We passed prohibition in every province in Canada, but Quebec, but did that stop people drinking?" He said that legislation could be passed to curb Communism but this would simply drive them underground.

Referring to Communism as a vicious, treacherous philosophy that has swept hundreds of millions of people under its hands, Mr. Homuth is of the opinion that there are other ways to fight the Reds beside banning them.

"When Christian people realize that the only real enemy of Communism and the army that can fight it, is the army of God, then will come the day we will no longer have to fear the inroads of Communism in this country." He called on men in service clubs to show the way in attending church.

Women's Council Urges Setting Up Nursery Schools

OTTAWA, June 3 — (CP). — Need of supervised nursery schools throughout Canada today was stressed by delegates attending the National Council of Women Convention in progress here.

Mrs. Robert Dorman of Ottawa, urged the women to see that proper legislation is set up in their provinces regarding nursery schools.

She noted that in Ontario there is nothing to prevent any individual, regardless of qualifications, from setting up a nursery school.

Mrs. Verna Walker of Moose Jaw, Sask., remarked that in some of the provinces there weren't even kindergartens.

"I think if we get the nursery schools the mothers will insist on the kindergartens," said another member of the group.

Mrs. Jean Saunders of Ottawa noted a tendency among school children toward dishonesty. She asked what could be done about it.

"It gets right back to the home training," said Dr. Phyllis Bradshaw of Windsor. "I think we could start some sort of education."

Submitting her report as national convener of Child and Family Welfare, Dr. Marion Bradshaw Victoria, said the local councils had found that lack of suitable

13-Inch Hemline Flowing Skirts, Colors Subdued

Subtle glamor with a minimum of extreme effects keynotes coming feminine styles as seen at the fashion revue at the first Canadian International Trade Fair.

Clothes for round-the-clock wear by Canadian and British designers in lovely, yet restrained, modes will be characterized generally by two-piece effects, tight bodies, small waistlines, longer peplums and full skirts. The fullness achieved by pleating, gathers and ruffling gored skirts, flows down to a stabilized hemline of 13 inches from the floor for daytime wear.

Colors are subdued, with dark red, soft blue, beige and black predominating for the street, muted shades for evening and bold plaids for sportswear contrast.

A beautiful dark red wool suit of English design featured two skirts, one straight cut, the other with hip draping. Worn with black accessories, the jacket had a Peter Pan collar and a deep peplum of flat black fur.

Hats now come farther down on the head and are nearly all trimmed with self-colored feathers.

Evening gowns are both strapless and strappy. One model by a prominent Canadian designer was of sequin-trimmed brown net. The strapless bodice was outlined with soft ruching and over the full-gathered sparkling skirt was a half skirt of plain net. A sequined stole to be worn either as a scarf or a mantilla completed the costume.

Dark plain pumps with Cuban and high heels for daytime costumes appeared in more elaborate cut-out styles for evening. A grey-blue crepe evening dress was completed by a pair of 14-carat gold sandals of Canadian design. Shoes for sportswear come in bright colors such as red, green and black calf, lounging boots with fleece linings.

Velveteen suede yokes topped blouses of sports outfits, while monotonous skiing styles featured jackets and hood linings of contrasting plaids.

National Council Hears Reports

OTTAWA, June 2 — (CP). — Cross-Canada activities of the National Council of Women were highlighted at the NCW's annual meeting today as delegates reported on the work of the association's local and provincial councils.

Mrs. J. F. MacDonald, president of the Nova Scotia Council, said there was "a deplorable lack of knowledge" of the rapidly expanding health and educational facilities established by the province. Councils could well establish an extensive information program in this regard.

Mrs. Alfred Carmichael of Victoria said juvenile delinquency was one social problem her group was attempting to solve.

Beatrice Briden of Winnipeg told of her local council's study of penal reform, which eventually had led to the printing of a brief on the subject.

Others who gave reports during session included Mrs. James Roberts, Ancaster, who reported on behalf of the Ontario Council. She said Ontario also had been making a special study of penal reform and housing.

Mrs. Alfred Carmichael of Victoria said juvenile delinquency was one social problem her group was attempting to solve.

Beatrice Briden of Winnipeg told of her local council's study of penal reform, which eventually had led to the printing of a brief on the subject.

Others who gave reports during session included Mrs. James Roberts, Ancaster, who reported on behalf of the Ontario Council. She said Ontario also had been making a special study of penal reform and housing.

Mrs. J. F. MacDonald, president of the Nova Scotia Council, said there was "a deplorable lack of knowledge" of the rapidly expanding health and educational facilities established by the province. Councils could well establish an extensive information program in this regard.

This may be baked after sautéing if desired.

Since a steamed custard may be made hours ahead of mealtime and chilled, it is an ideal nourishing dessert for those who are keeping house with one-burner. Pour into buttered custard cups and steam until when silver knife is inserted it comes out clean. Nice served with sliced bananas.

Suggest Nations Trade Students

MONTREAL, June 2 — (CP). — Exchange of teachers and students between Australia and Canada was urged here today by Francis M. Forde, Australian High Commissioner.

He was speaking at Loyola College convocation.

"Australian universities, like those in Canada, are very crowded just now, but with goodwill many things are possible," he continued.

"The United Nations and all the people of the world have nothing to lose but everything to gain by friendly and frank exchanges of opinion. The peace of the world is too important to be jeopardized by arguments as to protocol or formalities."

"What is needed is a restoration of wartime comradeship, and the early completion of peace treaties, both for the Pacific and for Europe."

Mr. Forde said he believed the nation could not afford to exclude God in their effort to find solutions to world problems. "I believe that the peoples of the world will have to get nearer to the teachings of Christ before a just, an equitable and a lasting peace is achieved," he added.

Dietitians Convened To Discuss Food

MONTREAL, June 2. (CP). — Members of the Canadian Dietetic Association today took a look into Canada's kitchens as they met here at the 13th annual convention to discuss everything from managing the housewife's food dollar to cell metabolism.

After a civic welcome by Mayor Camillien Houde the members — professionally-trained women in the field of nutrition, serving in hospitals, schools and restaurants — heard the first of a series of addresses on food, health and kitchen management.

President of the organization is one of its founders in 1935, Miss Kathleen Jeffs. As a wing officer and chief dietitian for the RCAF during the war she won the MBE.

Firms catering to the Canadian housewife put on exhibits ranging from plastic dishes to lard.

Health maintenance should be as much a legitimate operating expense in any industry as plant or machinery maintenance, experts say.

Element of Surprise Play Big Part In Good Cook

By MARY MOORE

What makes A Good Cook Tick?

I am asking myself that question.

An obvious answer is that a good cook must make the certain number of dishes on her repertoire to perfection, but...

...actually I think it is the element of surprise in the meals that she offers to her family, that makes her successful.

Allow me to make a plea: do not be bound by her habits or traditions—especially if they try or inconvenience you. Simply because some members of family do not like certain foods, do not abandon them entirely. Try a new angle.

The following menu demonstrates the point I am attempting to make.

Cream of Asparagus Soup with Buttered Crumbs
Swedish Meat Balls

Noodles with Chopped Herbs and Poppy Seeds

Glazed Whole Young Carrots
Deep Dish Apple and Raisin Pie
OR Grapefruit Pie Coffee

Now there are some very admirable husbands that keep their homes happy and calm, by assuming that all women are slightly daft and when their wives produce some such preposterous thing as a grapefruit pie they quietly submit and taste it—and occasionally come up with a surprised "That's alright—in fact it's good."

So with the spirit of "nothing venture, nothing gain" try this meal.

Directions
Cream of Asparagus Soup: Reserve the butt ends when trimming asparagus until you have 2 cups. Boil them in 2½ cups water with 1 slice onion and ½ teaspoon salt until tender. Rub through sieve. Mix 2 tablespoons melted butter with 2 tablespoons flour, and stir into them the pureed asparagus butts and cooking liquid and 2 cups milk OR 1 cup milk and 1 cup cream, until thick and hot. Serve sprinkled with buttered fine breadcrumbs.

Swedish Meat Balls: One and one-half lbs. ground beef (or hamburger steak, 3 cups boiled rice (or breadcrumbs), ½ cup raisins (optional), 1 cup grated old cheese, 3 eggs, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper. Mix all these ingredients with anywhere from 1 pint to 1 quart milk or water and mould into small balls. Drop into sizzling hot fat or into boiling water to cook. If in fat they require 10 minutes; if in water 20 minutes. These are very "different" if breadcrumbs and 3 cups homogenized milk are used.

Noodles with Chopped Herbs and Poppy Seeds: Boil broad ribbon noodles in plenty of salted water until very tender. Drain well. Add as much butter as you can spare—up to 6 tablespoons. Place in hot serving dish, sprinkle over generously, finely chopped chives and parsley and sprinkle this with one or two tablespoons poppy seeds.

Glazed Whole Carrots: Simply cook small whole carrots until tender in boiling salted water. Reserve ¼ cup of the cooking liquid and discard remainder. To the water add ¼ cup sugar, and boil until reduced to ¼ cup, then add 3 tablespoons butter and the drained carrots and simmer 5 minutes until all carrots are coated with glaze and it clings.

The deep dish apple and raisin pie is made in deep pie dish with thick top crust only and 2-3 part apples used with 1-3 part raisins.

Grapefruit Chiffon Pie: One-half tablespoon gelatine, 4 egg yolks, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 cup sugar, grated rind ½ to 1 grapefruit, juice of ½ to 1 grapefruit, 4 egg whites stiffly beaten, pastry shell, baked, whipped cream for topping. Soak gelatine in 2 tablespoons cold water 5 minutes. Dissolve over hot water. Mix yolks, salt, ½ cup sugar, grapefruit juice and rind in top of double boiler. Cook, stirring constantly, until thick. Add gelatine and cook 1 minute longer. Beat egg whites to peaks with remaining sugar. Fold liquid mix into egg whites. Turn into baked pastry shell. Chill. Top with whipped cream.

QUESTION: I was given some of those baking dishes in individual sizes and shapes of an ear of corn. I am told they are to be used for baking cornbread. I would like a recipe for cornbread and directions for baking in these dishes. I am not an experienced cook.

ANSWER:

Cornbread (baking powder)
One and one-half cups milk, 1 cup white or yellow cornmeal, 1½ tablespoons shortening, 2 eggs, 1½ teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons sugar. Scald the milk and pour over the cornmeal and shortening. Cool. Add beaten eggs, baking powder, salt and sugar and mix well. Pour into greased crockery moulds in shape of cob of corn, or into greased shallow pan and bake at 400 deg. Fahr. for about 25 minutes.

Cornbread (Yeast)

Three cups cornmeal, 1 yeast cake (or envelope of granular yeast), 9 cups whole wheat flour, 1½ tablespoons salt, ¼ cup sugar, ¼ cup melted shortening. Pour 3 cups boiling water gradually into cornmeal, mixing thoroughly. Add 1 cup cold water. Cool to lukewarm. Dissolve yeast in 2 tablespoons lukewarm water and add to mixture. Add 2 cups whole wheat flour. Mix well. Cover and stand in warm place near stove until light and doubled in bulk, about 2 hours. Add enough whole wheat flour to make a stiff dough. Knead on floured board until it squeaks. Cover, let rise until double in bulk, in greased loaf tins. Bake at 350 deg. Fahr. for 1 hour.

QUESTION: I am one of the "one-burner" cooks who enjoys and uses your "One-burner menus". Once you printed a recipe for Lemon Refrigerator Cake and at that time I was not interested in it. Since then I have tasted it and if it is something that can be made without an oven I would like the recipe, if you do not mind.

ANSWER:

Lemon Refrigerator Cake

(You will have to buy a plain sponge cake or lady fingers for this.)

Beat yolks of 4 eggs until thick or large casserole with split lady fingers or strips of sponge cake. Inside of container must be completely covered, with lady fingers or sponge cake. Pour in the lemon mixture and top it with remaining lady fingers. Chill overnight. This amount serves 16. If your family is small and you would like this for ordinary week-day dinners, make half the amount—it will do for 2 nights for 4 people. It may be moulded in individual moulds.

QUESTION: When you have room would you print a recipe for Scotch oatmeal cookies that you can vouch for?

ANSWER:

Scotch Oatmeal Cookies

Six tablespoons fresh lard, ¼ cup sugar, 1½ cups rolled oats, ¼ cup sifted cake flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon cream of tartar, ½ teaspoon baking soda, ¼ cup cold water. Work the shortening with a spoon until light and fluffy; add the sugar while creaming. Add the oats and remaining sifted dry ingredients and water; mix well. Roll out to ¼ inch thickness, and cut in 2 inch rounds. Bake on greased cookie sheet at 400 deg. F. for 12 minutes. Nice put together with date filling.

Graduation exercises were held in the Collegiate Auditorium with Mr. J. R. Marshall, chairman of the Board of Governors presiding. Led by Miss A. L. Thomson, principal of the School of Nursing, class members solemnly repeated the Florence Nightingale Pledge, with the assembly of more than 400 friends as witnesses. Each graduate was then called to the platform by Mr. John Hermal, hospital superintendent, to receive diplomas and medals presented by the chairman and principal, assisted by Mrs. H. G. Boufield, supervisor of nursing.

The graduates are: Shirley McIntyre Curtis, Anna Esther Jeanette Hubel, Jeanne Edna Metcalfe, Kathleen Ida Quirt, Eula Marie Rosenburgh, all of Peterborough; Muriel Rose Buckfield, Ruth Mary Bushey, Mary Agnes Crichton, Alice Woldnik, all of Parry Sound; Constance Helen Elliott, Lorna Grace Mitchell, both of Lindsay; Mabel Vivienne Mae Hockaday, Willa Hannah Catherine Lobb, both of Norwood; Kathleen Elizabeth Black of Toronto; Iva Kathryn Camelon of Carleton Place; Elsie Goodall Crawford of Kenora; Mae Martha Goodfellow of Codrington; Alice Watson of Lakefield; Helen Irene Wupori of Kirkland Lake.

A memorable address to the class and their friends was delivered by Dr. F. W. Routley, National Commissioner, Canadian Red Cross Society. He described graduation exercises as one of the most important landmarks in the normal life of any community. Reviewing the past half century of medical history he said "The quality of the nurse herself has not changed during the years. But progress of science has been such that graduate nurses today are the finest educated body of young women you will find. Instead of being merely useful to hold a light for the doctor, they are now almost trained doctors themselves."

The speaker also mentioned some of the many opportunities for service which are open to graduate nurses and the exalted positions which they may seek to occupy.

"Through steady progress in medicine and new instruments for diagnosing accurately and for treatment that are being installed in hospitals, citizens have been educated to believe the hospital is the only place to be if they are sick. Some years ago, time to caring for a sick friend, but now all is changed." In addition, Dr. Routley stated, "Health legislation in some form is coming, giving every Canadian the right to proper medical care and attention without further expense. Think what this means to us in providing accommodation and equipment to take care of a greatly increased number of patients."

"Progress in medicine has been the most thrilling romance of the whole world's history," Dr. Routley declared. "It is the greatest achievement of mankind and does much to offset the tragedies of life." He recalled when typhoid and malaria were dread fatal diseases and people died of a pain in the stomach. Research has made doctors masters of all but four diseases: rheumatism, heart disease, cancer and to a lesser extent tuberculosis, are the exceptions.

Dr. G. S. Cameron, chairman of the School of Nursing Committee, introduced the speaker whom he said was born in Lindsay, now lives at Maple, near Toronto, and

The groom's mother also received, wearing her Salvation Army uniform and a corsage of red roses. The guests numbering 150, were from Toronto, Hamilton, Tillsonburg, Buffalo, London, Galt, Oshawa, Belleville and Brantford. DISTINCTIVELY FEMINE — The above were among the fashions presented recently by the Montreal Fashion Institute. Left, Yvel reveals Edwardian fabric and line in a two-piece dinner suit of brown and gold dot satin brocade. The deep peplum is pulled to the back, and manipulated into a flare reminiscent of a bustle. Centre, "The Best Bib and Tuckers" of yesteryear adds a provocative note of Victorian charm to a day dress by Burnt Sienna wool sheer, also by Yvel. The fine tucked bib is of sheer taffeta set in a deep horse-shoe neckline. A matching fold of taffeta circles the skirt, rising apron-wise to release fullness at the back. Right, is a suit you might call "Black Diamond," because it would be show-piece of a fall wardrobe. By the Fashion Guild, it heralds the return of the ensemble, for it is actually a one-piece dress. The jacket is cuffed and collared in satin to match the dress-top.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are in sight of practical goals and important objectives, by a direct, quick and telling attack upon existing prospects or opportunities, in which method, system and sound organization with determined executive ability, are brought to bear upon major operations. There may be certain personal equations, or artistic or cultural aspects to be taken into consideration, but sound, alert and forceful constructive qualities are essential for definite and lasting results. A child born on this day has excellent qualities for a constructive career, with much force, keen faculties and readiness to grasp opportunity when it knocks.

Winning Over Son's Wife Often Difficult for Mother

A woman said to me: I have a son, an only child, to whom I am naturally very much devoted. He is going to marry a fine girl and I am anxious for the marriage to be a success and for us to avoid all of the in-law squabbles that bring about so many heartaches and cause so much strife in so many families.

Can you tell me how I can win my daughter-in-law's affection and make her feel that I am her best friend instead of her worst enemy?

Well, sister, taming a son's bride and getting her to the place where she will look at you without suspicion and eat out of your hand is one of the most delicate and difficult tasks ever undertaken by any woman. For practically all brides go into marriage with a chip on their shoulders and the settled determination not to let a mother-in-law put anything over on them. They are looking for trouble and they are armed to the teeth to protect their rights to monopolize the husbands they have worked so hard to catch.

Still and all, the trick can be turned, but mother-in-law has to do the spade work. She has to give the glad hand. She has to smooth down the girl's apprehensions. She has to be a diplomat who handles the situation with a skill that entitles her to be Minister Plenipotentiary and Ambassador Extraordinary at any court in Europe.

Welcome Son's Fiancee

To begin with, the woman who wants to be persona grata with her daughter-in-law should be forehanded in her appeasement tactics. As soon as John announces to Mother that he is the happiest man in the world because Mary Jane, who is a compendium of all the charms and virtues, has said "yes," Mother should get busy. She should contact Mary Jane, either by word of mouth or letter, and extend to her an enthusiastic welcome into the family. Many a girl gets her first gripe against mother-in-law by being made to feel that she isn't wanted and that John's mother hates her, sight unseen, for having broken into her home and stolen her precious darling.

Also, and note this well, do not on any account put in your little two cents of advice about the wedding. Let the girl's mother run the show. She feels that is her right, and you will make an enemy for life and one who will prejudice the girl against you if you interfere in even the smallest particular.

Don't try to live with your daughter-in-law. It can't be done unless you and the girl are two female angels. The greatest earthly illustration of optimism is when a boy brings his bride home and says to his mother: "I know you and Sally will love each other." That feat can only be accomplished if they do not live in the same house and don't see each other often enough to get a close up on each other's ways and peculiarities.

Don't even make a suggestion or offer a piece of advice to your daughter-in-law if you expect her to love you. Every young wife thinks she knows it all and nobody can tell her anything. Let her run her house and rear her babies without any help from you, except when the children get sick and she sends an SOS out for John's mother.

Don't make the bundle of calling John's bride "another daughter" and treating her as one. One of the plain things girls marry for is to get out from under Mama's thumb, and while they will stand advice from their own mothers, they won't take it from an in-law.

And, finally, and above all, if you want your daughter-in-law to love you, just be lovable. Most daughters-in-law respond to kind treatment.

3 Stubborn Hens

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., June
3—(AP)—Three stubborn old hens went on a 130-mile joyride Wednesday. They roosted regularly at night on the azules and the spare tire underneath a truck owned by farmer Howard Johnson.

He got into his truck before daylight and drove to Bloomington, about 130 miles. When he arrived, he found the three hens still perched underneath, on the spare tire. He put them in the cab for the return trip.

Oliver Raps
Ontario
Planning Dept.

TORONTO, June 3—(CP).—

The pounding of general election guns continued in Ontario last night as the leaders of the three major political parties approached the end of their campaign tours.

Premier Drew, whose Progressive Conservative government seeks re-election June 7, in a Kitcheners speech compared Ontario's labor laws with those under the CCF government in Saskatchewan. He declared Ontario's laws are "far ahead."

Farguhar Oliver, Ontario Liberal leader at Chatham criticized operation of the Ontario planning and development department. In a Simcoe speech he said the Drew government had lost two cabinet ministers because they expressed
"progressive ideas."

Ontario CCF leader E. B. Jolliffe in a Toronto broadcast said the Saskatchewan CCF government had accomplished many things which are part of the Ontario CCF program. In a speech he urged united action by federal, provincial and municipal governments to ease the housing shortage.

In a Kitchener speech M. J.
Coldwell, national CCF leader, asserted that a vote for a CCF candidate in Ontario June 7 will be a protest against high prices and exorbitant profits.

Premier Drew criticized C.C.F. handling of a labor dispute last year at the provincially-operated Sask. He said the Saskatchewan government discharged 70 employees who went on strike in protest against dismissal of two fellow workers. Then as a result of public outcry it reinstated the 70 and instituted arbitration in the case of the two who had originally been fired.

The premier claimed Saskatchewan Resources Minister Phelps told the box factory workers the plant would be closed after three months' trial operation. If the workers did not implement a program to increase production and to decrease unit cost so as to bring the factory out of the red.

Premier Drew declared his Ontario government would not tolerate any company threatening its workers with shutdown if they did not raise production to get the company out of a deficit.

Mr. Jolliffe, in his broadcast, said the C.C.F. government in Saskatchewan in its four years in office had kept its promises. What the party had done in Saskatchewan, it could do in Ontario.

Mr. Oliver said the Agriculture Department, not the Planning Department, should handle problems of conservation of water on land.
He said the Planning Department, which has tackled such projects as flood control, "has nothing in common with farmers or with the problems the farmer meets."

All the Planning Department could do was plan. It had no authority to lend money or to get things done.

A Liberal government, if elected June 7, would set up under the Agriculture Ministry a Conservation board to halt erosion and soil depletion.

The Drew government recently lost two Cabinet Ministers, Mr.
Oliver said. Health Minister
Vivian had resigned two months after expressing "progressive ideas." Former Lands Minister Thompson "could not be persuaded" to contest the June 7 election.

ideas and the Progressive Conser-

Toronto Choir Sings In Omeme Church

OMEEMEE, June 3—(ENS)—The choir of All Hallow's Church, Toronto, under the direction of Henry Lloyd, presented a recital Sunday evening at Christ Church, Omeme.

The numbers, announced by Rev. H. T. Collier, rector of All Hallow's, represented the highlights of church worship from 'Advent' to 'All Saints'.

This visit to Omeme of the All Hallow's rector and choir was in accord with a desire of the Synod to create a better understanding between city and rural congregations. Rev. F. W. Pooley, rector of Christ Church expressed, on behalf of the members and himself, their appreciation of the presentation and of the privilege of worshipping together in this way.

FARMERS ON PRAIRIES USE WONDER DRUG TO KILL WEEDS—The prairie farmer whose "dusting rig" is shown in this photo grew the cleanest flax crop in his lifetime by using the wonder chemical,

2,4-D, to kill off weeds in the growing crop. This year, he may try out the new "chemical summerfallow" which it is hoped will eliminate the need for numerous cultivating operations, largely responsible for serious water erosion in some prairie areas.

WHAT'S THIS?

The closed season on frogs began Tuesday. This is their mating season and the only time of the year when they are legally protected. Tuesday morning a George St. restaurant displayed a sign "fresh frog's legs" smack in the middle of its window, but maybe they're kept in a deep freeze.

BIG BUSH FIRES RAGE UNCONTROLLED

Nfld. Voting Produces A Stalemate

Second Referendum Will Be Held Probably In 2 Months

ST. JOHN'S Nfld., June 4. — (CP)—Newfoundland, in its national referendum, tossed out the possibility of any continuance of commission government but as counting of ballots went forward today, it became clear the island people could not make up their minds between instituting responsible government or confederation with Canada.

What will happen now is that a second referendum will be held

ST. JOHN'S Nfld.—At 12:05 p.m. APT (11:05 a.m. EDT) with 146,844 voters of the 176,397 eligible heard from, results in the Newfoundland Constitutional Referendum showed: Commission Government 60,147, Responsible Government 65,991.

—The best guess is in two months' time—to give the people a chance to decide between the two top finishers in Thursday's national referendum.

Neither responsible government nor confederation could get the 51 per cent required to win the referendum. Commission government, the third finisher, split the vote three ways so there could be no decisive winner.

Confederate Leader Joseph Smallwood said his movement would win the run-off by taking 95 per cent of the commission votes.

With 136,453 voters of the 176,287 eligible heard from at 10 a.m. EDT, commission had 19,633, Confederation 55,614, and responsible government 61,006.

Confederate leader Joseph Smallwood said confederation would take 95 per cent of commission votes in a second poll. He also predicted confederates would win a plurality in the referendum.

One observer said outposts wanted confederation and had been denied by St. John's which voted heavily for responsible government. They would plump even more strongly for confederation in NEWFOUNDLAND

Cyprus Jews Resent Order

NICOSIA, Cyprus, June 4. — (Reuters)—The central committee of Jewish detention camps in Cyprus told a press conference today that they "no longer accept detention in Cyprus."

The committee said the Jews "intend to do everything that men who strive for freedom are capable of doing to achieve it."

They called on internees to join forces against the "common oppressor" and to prevent the inevitable bloodshed which would result if they were not allowed to go to Israel immediately.

British authorities in Cyprus said Wednesday that able-bodied detainees would not be released from the camps during the four-weeks' cease-fire ordered by the Security Council.

On top of this local service CHEX will carry a complete summary throughout the province with results in the various ridings, party standings, etc.

FOREST FIRES UNABATED — With floods afflicting both of Canada's coasts in B.C. and Cape Breton, Ontario is fighting huge forest fires. Rising temperatures, instead of the hoped for rains, posed new problems for the thousands of fire-fighters who are battling some of the biggest forest outbreaks in Ontario's history. Photo above shows flames, fanned by high winds, eating through the high timber in northern Ontario's Mississagi area, covering 100,000 acres on a 72-mile front. Log cabin, lower right, affords graphic comparison with the eight of the surrounding trees. This blaze is the largest and costliest ever recorded in the province.

Palestine Truce Stars Monday; Mediator Busy

CAIRO, June 4. — (AP). — Count Folke Bernadotte of Sweden said today he hopes to clarify within a day or two conflicting Arab and Jewish interpretations of the four-week truce in Palestine ordered by the United Nations. The time of the cease-fire can be fixed only when the conflicts are worked out.

(An earlier Reuters report from Amman, Trans-Jordan, whence Count Bernadotte returned today from consultations with the Arab leaders, quoted "authoritative sources" as saying that the Count had ordered a cease-fire in Palestine from 9 a.m. Sunday and a truce to come into effect from 6 p.m. Monday, Jerusalem time.)

A Trans-Jordan Foreign Office source said the Arabs already accepted a date for a cease-fire.

While the UN's mediator labored for peace, the war went on. Jews and Arabs reported heavy fighting in the Arab triangle of Northern Palestine and on the southern coastal route to Tel Aviv, where the Jews and Egyptians were engaged.

The Jews said the Jenin drive placed the Israelis in a position to threaten Nabulus, the southern point of the triangle menacing Tel Aviv from the east. The western point of the triangle is at Tulkarm, just outside Israel's frontier, 22 miles north-east of Tel Aviv. Jewish planes bombed Nabulus and hit a police fortress, the Israelis said.

The Egyptian defence ministry said Thursday night the Egyptian navy sank one boat and shot up dockside buildings in bombardment.

The ministry said Egyptian troops headed for Tel Aviv beat the Jews in a fierce, all-night battle in Isdud. The Israelis attacked Wednesday night, its communiqué said, but were beaten back with heavy losses.

360 Marooned In Flood Rescued By Navy In BC

VANCOUVER, June 4. — (CP). — The Navy reported today "most" of the 360 persons caught on flooded Barnston Island, 20 miles east of here, have been evacuated to nearby Port Kells.

The tiny island was practically swallowed up by the surging Fraser River which clumbled saturated dikes Thursday night.

The first contingent to be delivered from the uncured waters were 70 women and children. Some concern had been felt for the 290 persons remaining as the saucer-like island was expected to be completely inundated.

The marooned had included 85 army and navy personnel who had been assisting civilians in holding the cracked, water-logged barriers. Col. J. Toogood, commander of the 13th Armored Regiment and of this flood sector, was among the victims.

The evacuation was carried out at the opposite end to the levee break when swirling waters pushed the weary troop of men, women and children to the island's edge.

Persons remaining on the island were believed only navy and army personnel assisting in salvaging some of the islanders' possessions. Late Thursday night, when it was learned that dikes in the northeast corner of the triangular-shaped island had been swept away by the wild Fraser, the Navy dispatched a naval tug, a large harbor craft and four civilian vessels to the rescue.

The island—2½ miles long and 1½ miles wide—had earlier been considered unsafe and many of its residents were taken off. Of those left 85 are army and 60 navy personnel who had been cracked, water-logged barriers. Col. J. Toogood, commander of the 13th Armored Regiment and of this flood sector, was among the marooned.

41 Immigrants Reach Canada

MONTREAL, June 4. — (CP). — Forty-one immigrants, pioneering the Dominion's air-immigration scheme, arrived at Dorval airport at 10:30 a.m. EDT today, and were taken immediately to customs offices.

They were officially greeted by Resources Minister MacKinnon. In the party were men who will establish themselves in Canada before bringing their families; wives rejoicing husbands already here, and four children, including two babies.

Most of the immigrants were from Scotland. They made up the vanguard of another 15 flights that are expected to be made this month. The next is scheduled to leave Monday.

Judge Orders Lewis To Negotiate

Issues Court Order To Prevent Soft Coal Battle

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP)—John L. Lewis today was ordered to bargain with the Southern Coal Producers' Association or possibly face another fine for contempt of court.

Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough, who twice has fined Lewis and his United Mine Workers for contempt, issued the order.

Robert N. Denham, general counsel for the National Labor Relations Board, had asked that Lewis be directed to enter contract talks with the association, head by Joseph E. Moody.

The judge said that it was apparent from the record that Lewis did not want to bargain with the Southern Association because he wanted to "destroy" it.

He suggested the UMW chief might desire to bring about the destruction of the Southern Association "because it is harder to deal with" a single unit than with representatives of the 14 smaller associations through the south which make up the association.

"Certainly it's unreasonable in this present case for the union to say 'we're entitled to one representative for 89 units and the Southern Producers Association is not entitled to one representative for 14 associations,'" he continued.

"That is not only not logical, but it is not reasonable," the judge said.

New contract talks between coal operators and Lewis broke down May 18 when Lewis refused to consent to Moody sitting at the conference table as the Association's representative.

The soft coal contract expires June 30, allowing less than a month for the operators and Lewis to make a new agreement. More than one-third of the United States' soft coal is produced by the groups making up the Southern Association.

The coal operators were standing by, ready to resume contract talks.

Lewis now has his choice of including the Southern Association in the bargaining talks or facing another fine for contempt of court.

Goldsborough is the judge who twice already has fined Lewis and the UMW a total of $2,130,000 for contempt of court. Previous contempt charges arose when Lewis and his union ignored court orders requiring them to end coal strikes.

Explosion Rocks Service Station

TORONTO, June 4. — (CP). — An explosion of gasoline fumes rocked a service station in suburban Forest Hill today, shattering windows over a wide area.

Firemen said the fumes were from gasoline being pumped into storage tanks. They were set off by a spark from a compression engine.

R. C. Foster, driver of tank-truck from which the fuel was being drained, was credited by police with preventing greater damage and possible loss of life.

He had pumped 1,800 gallons into the storage tanks when the blast occurred. He quickly unshackled the hose line and, surrounded by flames, took other precautionary measures before running to safety, police said.

One person, Russell Brand, the station operator, was injured. He suffered arm cuts from flying glass.

ONTARIO'S 150,000-ACRE FIRE—One of the greatest and costliest fires in Ontario's Northland has gained new advances since the above area map was drawn Thursday. Portion indicated by the arrow is now burning furiously to make a solid fire front of 72 miles. Only days of heavy soaking rain will check it and give respite to the weary fire-fighting crews.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON—State Secretary Marshall said today that the proposed $533,000,000 House of Representatives slash in foreign aid funds would turn the European Recovery program into a "mere relief" project.

PARIS—Mrs. Nina Webb of this city is able to breathe and talk normally for the first time in 23 years. A tube which had been in her throat since paralysis that followed a thyroid operation 27 years ago, was recently removed from her throat at Toronto by Dr. R. E. King of Seattle, Wash.

Princess' Baby Expected Next October

LONDON, June 4. — (Reuters). — Buckingham Palace officially disclosed tonight that Princess Elizabeth, 22-year-old heiress presumptive to the throne, is expecting a baby.

The announcement said the Princess would undertake no further engagements after June 15, the traditional date for announcing an impending birth in the Royal Family.

It was expected the child would be born about the middle of October. It will be second in line of succession to the throne of its grandfather, the King.

Today's announcement comes six months and 15 days after the wedding of the Princess to the 27-year-old Duke of Edinburgh — an event which brought a brief, exciting day of color to the sombre tones of post-war Britain and stirred world imagination.

Strong rumors had been circulating in Britain and overseas for the last three months that the Princess is pregnant.

The position of children born to Princess Elizabeth is not altered by the fact that she is heiress presumptive to the throne, as the law does not exclude the possibility of the birth of a son to the King.

Princesses do not transmit any titles to their children. There is therefore, no title provided for the children of Princess Elizabeth until after her succession to the throne.

When this occurs, if she should have sons, the eldest would automatically become the Duke of Cornwall in the peerage of England and the Duke of Rothesay in the peerage of Scotland.

Her other children would be princess and princesses.

Challenges Drew Wage Statement

REGINA, June 4 (CP)—Labor Minister Williams of Saskatchewan today challenged Premier George Drew's claim that Ontario labor laws were far ahead of those in Saskatchewan.

Mr. Williams said in a prepared statement that the minimum wage in Saskatchewan cities was higher than that in Ontario and most Saskatchewan workers had a 44-hour week with no reduction in take-home pay while the Ontario work week was 48 hours.

He said Saskatchewan the law pay for all except agricultural workers and pay for eight statutory holidays," he said. "Ontario legislation calls for only one week's holidays with pay and nothing for statutory holidays."

Workers' compensation in Saskatchewan is 75 per cent of earnings together with payment for the three-day waiting period if the injured workman is off more than three days. In Ontario it is 67 per cent of earnings and the workman loses entirely the first three days of injury.

Premier Drew's statement was made in a campaign speech at Kitchener.

May Win $100,000

KINGSTON, June 4 (CP). — "It's almost too fantastic to be true," beamed Betty Pearson, city tax office clerk today on learning she had drawn a starter in the English derby sweepstakes at Epsom Downs, England. She stands a chance of winning $100,000.

Fittingly enough, her ticket is on a horse named Dramatic. Her ticket number is 25605.

Miss Pearson has another "big event" on her mind. She will be married to John Jeffries of Stratford June 28.

2000 Smoke-Begrimed Men Using Pumps, Bulldozers Battle 100,000-Acre Inferno

Overnight Rain Near Kirkland Lake Helped But 3-Day Downpour Needed; One Fire Said 10 Miles From Timmins

By The Canadian Press

Major forest fires in Northern Ontario still are uncontrolled although overnight rain in some sections brought a measure of relief to weary fire crews. Only in the Kirkland Lake area were the showers described as "heavy." Even lighter falls, however, when combined with increased humidity, tend to help the 2,000 smoke-begrimed men at the fire front, officials said.

But the hazard still is high and the battle far from won. Heavy rain blanketing the entire danger area is needed to check the flames.

Major blazes in the Mississagi and Chapleau districts—called the biggest and costliest in history—still are out of control.

In Sault Ste. Marie, however, District Forester A. W. Leman relayed from provincial air service pilots the word that a two-to-three-mile gap still exists between the big fires.

For days, because of dense smoke, it has been uncertain whether the two were linked.

Coupled with Thursday night's showers was a generally high humidity. In Toronto, the chief of the forest protection division of the Provincial Lands Department said the over-all picture is brighter than at any time in the last several days.

Neither of the two big infernos—which have sent a mass of roaring flame and billowing smoke over more than 100,000 acres—"ran" Thursday, said T. E. Mackay. Lightning, however, caused some new small outbreaks.

Earlier today, prior to Mr. Leman's report from the Sault, Mr. Mackay had reiterated there was no official confirmation of reports that the Mississagi and Chapleau fires were joined, creating a single giant fire 72 miles long.

The overnight rain was a big help in the Timmins area, where a 5,000-acre fire has wiped out 2,000 SMOKE

He was taken to Port Hope hospital where his condition is described as "only fair." Police are investigating the accident.

Protest Rent Boost

TORONTO, June 4. — (CP). — Irate residents of suburban Scarborough township's Geco housing

Thursday night in protest against proposed 25 per cent boosts in rentals which go into effect next month. One tenant, J. Hayes, a contractor, told the meeting the city cost estimate of $1,800 a unit is "beyond all reason." He went on to quote statistics drawn from his experience to show "even the best apartment in this centre would not cost more than $1,400 at an outside figure."

Parodi's remarks, seconded by June Chairman Faris El Khouri, ended the day's session in less than 40 minutes. The Council decided to meet Monday (2:30 p.m. EDT) at which time it is expected the first of Count Bernadotte's weekly reports.

Parodi rebuked the Jewish and Arab representatives for their brief flare-up.

Parodi brought the session to a close with the pertinent remark that the Council might easily undo all the work it had accomplished in the way of effecting a truce in the Holy Land. The French delegate asked that the Council show confidence in Count Bernadotte and allow him

LAKE SUCCESS, June 4. — (CP). — What threatened to be another Arab-Jewish clash — this time on the diplomatic front — was cut short Thursday by the U.N. Security Council.

Acting on a suggestion of Alexandre Parodi of France, the Council halted discussion on the Palestine cease-fire proposal until it receives word from its on-the-spot mediator, Count Folke Bernadotte.

Strikes Spread In Italy 14 Persons Wounded In Rural Areas

ROME, June 4. — (AP). — Fourteen persons, five of them police, have been wounded by gunfire in spreading farm strikes in Northern Italy, the Italian news agency Ansa said today. The bloodshed was the most serious since the April 18-19 election.

The Ansa dispatch was from Northern Cremona province. A one-day general strike was in progress in Bologna province. There were reports of other strikes and threats of strikes of miners on the island of Sardinia and of dock workers in Sicily.

12 Homes Burn In Quebec; No Lives Lost

ST. VICTOR-DE-TRING, June 4. — (CP). — Fire of unknown origin raced through this village of 450 people at dawn today and destroyed more than two dozen homes before it was brought under control.

By 10:30 a.m. EDT, the blaze was under control.

The blaze which broke out in the home of Ignace Tardif swept down the main street, jumping from one frame house to another. Without enough fire-fighting equipment to stop it, the people of this village, about 70 miles north of Quebec were helpless.

Despite the confusion of evacuation of homes in the path of the fire while fire-fighting crews from neighboring localities raced to the scene, villagers said no lives were lost.

After it had raged for five hours, the blaze finally was halted by crews brought in from the neighboring towns of Beauceville and St. Ephem de Beauce.

Before they got into action, some 30 houses and stores lining the main street were destroyed, wrecking nearly two-thirds of the village.

Plan Action To Curb Sex Offenders

OTTAWA, June 4.—(CP).—Justice Minister Halsey indicated in the Commons Thursday action will be taken to curb mentally deranged sex offenders.

During study of amendments to the Canada Evidence Act, he said he will make a statement "on the question of psychopaths" when proposed changes in the criminal code are introduced shortly.

Conceding that it may not go as far as Opposition members had suggested, he said it would be an "attempt" to deal with sex offenders.

He spoke after John Diefenbaker (PC-Lake Centre) urged the government to amend the code to provide that offenders might be sent to provincial mental hospitals or to reformatories for treatment, rather than to prison.

Experience in the United States had shown that sterilization and brain operations failed to curb sex offenders and that the best treatment was that given in psychopathic institutions. Of those given mental treatment, only nine per cent continued to commit sex crimes.

Prison did not effect a cure. Upon release, the offenders would report that they still had an "impulse" which they could not resist. Many of them were well-educated and above the average in intelligence.

Abortion Caused Death Inquest Gets Open Verdict

TORONTO, June 4.—(CP).—An inquest jury decided that an abortion caused the death of attractive 28-year-old Mrs. Jane Gordon. But it fixed no responsibility for the illegal operation.

The verdict, reached after 55 minutes' deliberation on Thursday night at the resumed hearing, confirmed autopsy findings that an air bubble was introduced into the woman's blood stream during a bungled attempt to free her from a pregnancy, and that this led to her death.

A Toronto doctor whose name had been mentioned in connection with the case insisted he had nothing to do with the alleged abortion and said he had never met Mrs. Gordon.

The jury in its verdict criticized the conduct of John S. Glover, a real estate agent, who said at the Tuesday night inquest sitting that he had an affair last winter with Mrs. Gordon, the estranged wife of a Toronto doctor. Glover denied responsibility for the girl's pregnancy but said he loaned her $500.

The jury said it was satisfied that when Glover knew she intended to go through with an abortion and knew where it was to be performed.

Summarizing the evidence, Chief Coroner Dr. Smirle Lawson noted Glover "told one story to police and another story here under oath."

Principal witness at Thursday night's concluding hearing was Dr. George A. Watson, who described himself as a "semi-retired physician." He denied knowing Mrs. Gordon and disclaimed any connection with the abortion.

The hearing was comparatively uneventful compared with that of Tuesday night when interruptions were common, rulings frequent and the jury foreman was led to complain about the attitude of witnesses.

Mrs. Gordon's body was found early in the morning of April 12 lying beside a road north of the city, her clothes in disarray, her shoes and purse lying near her head. The purse contained 10 $50 bills and other smaller amounts of money.

Woman, Child Drown Near Port Arthur

PORT ARTHUR, June 4.—(CP).—Two persons were drowned in this district Thursday. One was the wife of a Port Arthur doctor, the other a 2½-year-old boy of Nola, 30 miles west of here.

Mrs. G. A. Duff drowned when a boat she was fishing from on the north shore of Lake Superior, 17 miles east of here, capsized. Dr. Duff and his two children held onto the boat until help arrived but Mrs. Duff lost her grip in the icy water.

The boy—Arvo Asmunt—disappeared from his farm and apparently fell into a nearby river. His body was found by a search party.

220 Delegates Attend Assembly

TORONTO, June 4.—(CP).—Progress in Presbyterian church mission work in Canada was reported at Thursday night's session of the church's 74th general assembly.

Third-day sittings of the assembly today will consider reports from the treasurer and auditor. Some 220 delegates from all parts of the Dominion are attending the conference, which started June 2, and will continue until June 20.

Expansion of the church throughout western Canada has been "very encouraging," said Rev. J. Allan Munro of Saskatoon, superintendent of western missions.

Mr. Munro said new churches were either built or being built in Edmonton and Calgary, Saskatoon and Yorkton, Sask., and in several Manitoba centres.

He stressed that the western church needs more ministers and more financial assistance.

Growth of a Presbyterian-Hungarian-Canadian parish at Delhi, near Woodstock, was described by Rev. Laszlo Borsay. He came to southwestern Ontario's tobacco district from Hungary last year to minister to his fellow countrymen.

Princess Anne Flies To Zurich

COPENHAGEN, June 4.—(AP).—Princess Anne of Bourbon-Parma flew off to Zurich today, on her way to get married to ex-king Michael of Romania.

"Now I am flying off to Switzerland to meet Michael," the princess told reporters as she entered the plane. "We are going to get married—where and when you can read about it in the papers. I believe I shall get all the details as soon as I see Michael in Geneva."

Some say they are going to be married in Athens, some say tomorrow, some say next week.

a sawmill and part of a lumber camp. Foresters said they hope to have the flames quenched by tonight, thanks to the rain.

The Timmins-district fire damaged a camp of the Carr Timber Company Wednesday and raged up the heavily-wooded slopes of Mount Kaministiquia to devastate a "hanging" lookout post, atop an 85-foot observation tower. Also destroyed was the cottage of Ranger John Hall. At one point the flames were within 10 miles of Timmins.

Rain also brought reports that firefighters now are "holding" an 1,800-acre blaze in the Kirkland Lake district. It raged out of control late Wednesday. Two planes—one a government craft, the other a chartered plane—have made some 40 trips during the last 36 hours, shuttling men and equipment to the fire scene. The fire, in the northern corner of Tack township, is believed to have been started by fishermen prior to the ban on non-essential travel in the bushlands.

A 25-acre fire is being patrolled in Falconer Township, south of Lake Nipissing's west bay. Smaller fires in Mattawan, Askin, Coleman, Phelps and Gibbons townships also are being watched.

Scott At Sault

Lands Minister Scott arrived today in Sault Ste. Marie to help direct the desperate battle throughout the northland.

Mr. Leman said air service planes are continuing to fly men and equipment into the Mississagi-Chapleau front. Smoke now is drifting from the head of the Ottawa River, 90 miles north of Sault Ste. Marie, where the temporary battle headquarters had been established.

He said the Mississagi blaze has swept east of Kindigami Lake for the first time.

In the Mississagi area where 350 men are using 20 fire pumps and bulldozer equipment, crews moved in today along the south and east side of the main fire where they have not been able to approach before. Five new fires were reported in the Sault Ste. Marie area but crews are at work on all of them.

Two new lightning fires added to the worries of crews battling the 50,000-acre blaze in the Chapleau area where the hazard continued high due to insufficient rain. About 100 men fought a 150-acre fire at Panet township but there was no smoke seen coming from an outbreak on Township 11-D Thursday night.

Major outbreaks being fought today, besides the Blind River conflagration, included:

A 3,000-acre fire battled by hundreds of volunteer fire-fighters in the Rouyn area.

A 4,000-acre blaze in Godfrey township near Cochrane.

A 3,000-acre fire at Gull Bay

a second referendum. Another observer however said commission government supporters might decide not to vote at all in the next plebiscite.

The commission government, which took over following the old colony's financial debacle in 1933, will make recommendations to the British government after a 51 per cent majority is accorded one choice.

Any Ottawa action subsequent to a possible victory for confederation would come only after the British home office had considered the matter.

The intense interest of the people in the referendum was indicated by the polling, which was extremely heavy. In St. John's itself—which favored responsible government—32,552 voters of 35,989 eligible had voted and the count still is not final.

Chinese Are Warned

NANKING, June 4.—(AP).—The United States warned China today that Chinese student demonstrations against American policy in Japan is creating an increasingly dangerous situation.

(Chinese government officials have charged Communist agitators with stirring up these demonstrations, which frequently have turned into riotous disorders.)

Ambassador J. Leighton Stuart said the agitation "is seriously damaging the traditional cordiality between the United States and China and, if it continues, it may have unfortunate results."

Peninsula on Lake Nipigon. Geraldton area fires covering 3,800 acres in northwestern Ontario.

Smaller fires also rage at several points along the Algoma Central Railway north of Sault Ste. Marie in the White River area, in the Long Lac section and in the vicinity of Hearst.

More Deaths And Damage Mark Flood Path

PORTLAND, Ore., June 4.—(AP).—Unbridled waters churned today through newly-punched-out dikes on the northwest United States' far-flung flood front.

Reinforcements rushed to soggy dikes along the lower Columbia River's shores in Oregon and Washington as the massive flow of the big river threatened to widen its most destructive 1,200-mile surge to the Pacific.

The fresh flood crest was mounting in the Columbia, far up in the mountains. The Snake River, main Columbia tributary, also was rising.

Estimates from qualified sources soared to $110,000,000 for the Columbia in Idaho and the lower valley in Oregon and Washington, $30,000,000 for the Fraser. The death toll was 21 on the Columbia, two on the Fraser.

On the lower Columbia, more troops and civilians hurried into danger areas to aid weary workers who have spent days strengthening scores of weakening dikes against the river's savage onslaught.

Feed Dyke Workers

VANCOUVER, June 4.—(CP).—Today battalions of sleepless dyke workers in the flood-devastated Fraser Valley will get new energy and incentive from just a sandwich and a cup of coffee.

Day and night thousands of British Columbia women, including young girls and bobby-soxers, are serving the flood army with hundreds of gallons of coffee; thousands of sandwiches, cookies and cakes, cigarettes and "just treats."

The women are marshalled under one banner—the familiar arm-band of the Canadian Red Cross. They are working as a compact army, objective "comfort."

Statistics:

1. The Red Cross already has accommodated 4,000 flood evacuees. It has readied adequate accommodation for 7,000 more.

2. The women are feeding 3,000 homeless every day. Many of these homeless are women over 50, or children under seven years of age.

3. In Mission City alone, nerve centre of Valley evacuees, 15 relief hotels are operating. Five canteens hum with activity. Soup kitchens dot the entire valley.

Killed By Landlord

CHATHAM, N.Y., June 4. (AP) Floyd S. Pulz, 61, died today of shotgun wounds which police said had been inflicted by his landlord in a quarrel over eviction.

District Attorney Thomas Kennedy said a murder charge would be lodged against Frank M. Waldvogel, 64, who signed a statement that he shot Pulz Thursday "because he refused to get out of my house."

Tourists Raise Canadian-U.S. Flags

Proof of the effectiveness of the U.S.-Canada good neighbour policy came on Victoria Day at Indiana Head Lodge on Chondos Lake. An impressive double flag-raising ceremony was held there before about 40 holiday-makers, half of whom were Canadian, and half American. The latter were celebrating Memorial Day.

Proprietor Ernie Balmer has held flag-raising ceremonies for a group of Toronto men for the past two years, but this year was the first double ceremony in which the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes were raised side by side.

B. Schrader, Lancaster, N.Y., opened the ritual with a speech in which he termed Canadian hospitality "much greater even than that of my own country." C. W. Hurd, Elma, N.Y., told the assembly the American viewpoint on the double ceremony, and was answered by W. Brady, of Toronto.

Both flags were then raised, and a two-minute silence was observed.

Jack Duncan of Toronto then sang "God Bless America," stressing the point that he sang it not for Canadian or U.S. America, but for both. Flag-raisers were Scotty and Stuart Macroe of Toronto, brothers and both navy veterans.

Other guests were: Frank Mac, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Karl, and Mrs. Schrader, all of Lancaster, N.Y.; Harry Heim, Elma, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Whipple, Conewango, Valley, N.Y.; N. Cooper, A. Tyler, J. Henderson, and G. Grant, all of Toronto.

Aid Promised To Flood Areas By Government

OTTAWA, June 4 — (CP). — The Commons cleared the order paper of a healthy chunk of business Thursday as the drive for a June 30 prorogation spurred ahead.

Acting after Prime Minister Mackenzie King served notice of a motion to sit mornings starting Wednesday, the chamber gave third and final reading to the final following legislation:

1. A bill bringing the set-up of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics up to date.

2. A bill revising the administration of the Excise Act.

3. A bill amending the Canada Evidence Act to make a husband or wife a "competent or compellable" witness in court cases involving juvenile delinquency.

4. A bill amending the Judges Act to eliminate a $500 allowance formerly granted Nova Scotia divorce judges.

In addition, second reading was given a bill amending the Customs Act to conform with undertakings given at a United Nations conference on trade and employment.

A start was made on consideration of estimates for the post office department.

Highlight of the House opening was an announcement by Mr. King that the government is ready to extend financial aid to British Columbia for the relief, rehabilitation and restoration of the flood-stricken areas.

Transport Minister Chevrier announced the railroads have decided to reduce from 75 to 50 cents the minimum express charges on crated egg shipments in western Canada. The rate was boosted from 35 to 75 cents a crate March 30.

Justice Minister Isley said he does not yet know whether prosecutions will be launched against alleged combines in Canada's optical trade. His department still is studying a report from the combines investigation commission.

Labor Advised Liberals To Give Support

TORONTO, June 4.—(CP). — The leaders of Ontario's three major political parties today were within sight of the end of the long campaign trail which started nearly seven weeks ago with the calling of an Ontario election June 7.

With only two more days left for campaigning, all three were on the hustings Thursday night. Three prominent men from the Federal field joined in the speech-making.

Premier Drew spoke at Toronto and Barrie, Ontario Liberal leader Farquhar Oliver at Windsor and E. B. Jolliffe, Ontario CCF leader, near Toronto.

The Federal speakers were Finance Minister Abbott, who addressed an Oshawa gathering; M. J. Coldwell, National CCF Leader, spoke at the Jolliffe meeting; and J. M. Macdonnell, head of the National Progressive Conservative Association, made a speech at Bracebridge.

Premier Drew told a Toronto gathering that by refusing to accept Federal taxation offers his government saved Ontario from two "burdensome and unfair" taxes.

At a Barrie meeting a persistent campaign of heckling by a woman, Mrs. John Loughheed, resulted in a general uproar at the gathering. The woman was described by the chairman of the meeting as the wife of a CCF candidate.

Mr. Oliver told a Windsor meeting that labor could be confident its interests would be upheld by the Liberal party. But he advised labor organizations against "swearing allegiance" to any particular political party.

"Labor can obtain from the Liberal party every advance in good social legislation it can get from any other party, regardless of what it professes or what it calls itself."

He said the Liberal platform included a pledge to raise workmen's compensation payments from 66 2-3 of a workman's wages to 75 per cent and to shorten the waiting period for payments from one week to three days.

Mr. Jolliffe charged the Drew government is more interested in promoting a housing program.

"The only real answer to Communism is to go ahead with constructive measures for progress. Better housing, better health services, equality of educational opportunity, fair labor legislation, a fair deal for the consumer and producer are things which will do more to stop Communism than any of the wild speeches of Conservative leaders."

Mr. Coldwell, addressing the same meeting, said Premier Drew "is doing his best to misrepresent the work of Saskatchewan's CCF government."

"The success and example of the Saskatchewan government is worrying the old party leaders," he said.

Comparison Of American And Canadian Income Taxes

It is generally assumed in this country that we pay higher individual income taxes than the Americans. In his budget speech Mr. Abbott made a detailed comparison which may help to brighten the depressed Canadians who have just filed their returns. In order that our readers may have the complete figures as he gave them, we have printed elsewhere on this page the tabular comparisons Mr. Abbott set before the House of Commons.

Mr. Abbott's figures on the relative tax paid by Canadians and New Yorkers upset the notion that the average Canadian pays more income tax than the average American. He pays less—if by average one means people in the lowest income brackets. The American tax rate favours people in the middle income brackets; the Canadian tax rate those in the lowest. For instance, an unmarried Canadian with an income of $1,500 pays $120 in tax, an unmarried American with the same income pays nine dollars more. A married Canadian with two children earning $2,500 pays $170; an American in the same position pays four dollars more. A married Canadian with two children whose income is $2,500 pays $130 in tax, an American in that position pays none. However, the Canadian receives the "baby bonus" and the net result is that he is $14 ahead of the American—the family allowance more than compensates for the tax.

The differences between the American and Canadian taxes at the levels we have named are not great, but they are differences in favour of the Canadian. The significant differences between the two come in the higher income levels—and there the Canadian does pay more than the American. For instance, an unmarried Canadian with an income of $10,000 pays $219 more tax than the American (he pays a total of $2,253). A childless married Canadian with the same income pays $434 more than the American. A married Canadian with two children pays $487 more than the American. It is therefore apparent that the Canadian Government's taxing policy is to lighten the tax load for people in the lowest income brackets and increase it on those in the higher brackets. We do think, however, that in view of the high cost of living, the Government might accentuate the policy of giving relief to the people in the lower brackets, although the tax is not as heavy as most people seem to think. A married man with two children who earns $3,000 a year pays only (net) $86 in tax.

There is one inference from Mr. Abbott's tables which Mr. Abbott did not make. The income tax structure seems to favour the bachelors, more than the American tax does. However, the favouritism is not great—a bachelor with an income of $5,000 works one day in six for the government, a childless married man with the same income, one day in only one day in ten.

A Glare At The Optical Goods Industry

The report of F. A. McGregor, Commissioner of the Combines Investigation Act, on the manufacture and sale of spectacles and kindred goods is an eye-opener. In his carefully documented, 80,000-word report to the Minister of Justice, Mr. McGregor alleges that the industry is a virtual combine. According to the report, companies like the American Optical, Consolidated Optical of Toronto and various inter-related companies have combined to control more than 90 per cent. of spectacle frames and mountings—at a non-competitive high price—and the retail sale and price of lenses as well.

Mr. McGregor's report is a statement of the results of investigations. It will be up to the Federal Department of Justice and the various Attorneys-

General to prosecute. A result may be that the prices of glasses will come down. We may need more than specs before we shall see this come about—the parliamentary Price Committee's investigations have been accompanied by no noticeable price reductions.

The Commissioner investigating combines is, of course, in a different position from the parliamentary committee. He investigated an alleged combine, not prices. His report marks the first instance in the history of the Combines Investigation Act in which a patent licensing system has been the principal factor in an allegedly illegal restraint of trade. What action is taken on the report will be important, not merely in relation to the optical goods trade but as a precedent for other reports the Commissioner might be called on to make.

Dry And Wet

On the same front page on which is headlined the sorry news of the floods in British Columbia is the distressing news about the forest fires raging north of us. The floods are acts of nature which man has the cunning and means to prevent; the fires are too frequently due to acts of careless men which nature seizes upon so ravishingly that man can do little to check the consequences, except to pray for the kind of rain which Fraser River people pray not to have.

The present fires in northern Ontario are reported to be the largest Ontario has had. More than one hundred thousand acres of forest stand afe said to be affected. The loss in timber, fine pine and spruce, will be very great. Perhaps a greater loss will be the burnt-out veneer of soil and bracken from which the trees get their sustenance. Trees can be planted so that stands can be renewed in twenty or thirty years, but if the fibrous soil on top of the rock is wasted, trees cannot be grown again for a century or two.

It had not been definitely established how these great fires were started, though human carelessness is suspected to have caused the initial sparks which the hot dry weather has fanned into an inferno. Such disastrous forest fires call attention again to the absolute necessity of vacationists and workmen in our woods being rigorously careful with matches, cigarettes and camp fires. You cannot play with fire in our parklands and forest reserves without endangering their existence.

Vital Trade

This is "World Trade Week". This week and next the Canadian International Trade Fair is being held in Toronto. These two events give us the occasion for emphasizing again the importance of international trade to Canada. We are the third trading nation in the world, ranking behind the U.S.A. and Britain. Three out of every eight Canadians get their livelihood from trade, in one way or another. Trade is a two-way affair—it involves both selling abroad and buying abroad. The Trade Fair is properly devoted to both, for if foreign nations cannot sell us their goods they will not have the Canadian money to buy from us.

Our foreign markets have been almost insatiable since the beginning of the war. Unfortunately for us only the U.S. has been able to pay completely for what it has got from us. (And unfortunately, we buy twice as much from the U.S. as it does from us.) Nevertheless we must export or shrivel. We must continue to extend credits, and as the world economic situation begins to recover and competition for markets is resumed we must prepare to maintain and extend our markets. The Trade Fair is one measure of Canada's preparation.

Fifteen Billions To You And Me

Mr. Howe, the Minister of Trade, has predicted that unless there are strikes...

Canada's national income this year will be $15,000,000,000. That figure is three times as great as the national income of 1939. It is based on the gross value of goods and services going through market channels at market prices. From figures like that it really does seem that money grows on trees—it should be enough to allow us to pin a dollar bill on every tree that grows in every city and town and park in Canada. A bit of arithmetic shows that every man, woman and child in the country—on a gross average—has a $1,250 slice of this sumptuous sum. A French Canadian family of ten children would have a total income of $15,000. Of course, it doesn't work out quite that way. The total sum is not calculated at factor cost, income tax deductions are not included, and the device of "average" is merely arithmetical. Nevertheless, fifteen billion dollars of national income is a startlingly encouraging measure of the country's expansion and productivity.

Comparison of Personal Income Tax IN CANADA AND UNITED STATES FOR 1928

(From Hansard, May 18; Tabled by the Minister of Finance)

These comparisons are made up on the following assumptions:

1. No allowance made for medical expenses, pension contributions, charitable donations, or other deductions. Taxpayers claiming such deductions would pay less tax than shown.
2. All income over $30,000 assumed to be investment income and subject to additional 4 per cent tax.
3. Family allowances for children taken into account as being in lieu of income tax relief for children.

YOUNG LAYMAN—With Presbyterians from all over Canada opening their annual assembly today, the lad on the tricycle pedalled up on the sidewalk of Knox Church to inspect the banner on the front. He was greeted by Rev. R. A. Birnie, a native of Scotland, who has ministered at Duntroon, Ont., more than 20 years, and Rev. W. A. Hunter of Bradford, for 38 years in the ministry. "My name's Kenny," said the boy.

James A. Fraser Dies At Outlook

OUTLOOK, Sask., June 4—James A. Fraser, in his 81st year, died quietly in his bed on Saturday night. Earlier in the evening he enjoyed a game of bridge with neighbors and seemed to be enjoying good health.

Mr. Fraser was born in Norwood, Ont., in July, 1867. He took part in the Boer War and on return married Miss Jean Foulds of Hastings, Ont. Coming West to Carstairs, Alta., the same year, they moved to Outlook early in 1908, where he entered into the hardware business with his brother Tom, who predeceased him in 1921. Mr. Fraser carried on the business until 1945, when a trouble forced him to retire. His son Kenneth took over the business at that time.

Mr. Fraser was past master and charter member of the local Masonic lodge. He served several terms as mayor of the town and sat on the council for many years. He was an ardent curler and in earlier years never missed a bonspiel if at all possible, playing his last game in 1946.

He was always a staunch Conservative and the traffic bridge over the Saskatchewan here was greatly due to his untiring efforts for this project. He was a real old-timer and a great credit to the country.

Surviving besides his widow, are one son, Kenneth J., two daughters, Mrs. C. E. Stuart (Marjorie) of Winnipeg, and Louise at home, one brother at Plenty, Sask., two sisters in Ontario and three grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted from St. Andrew's United Church, Outlook, the Rev. William L. Gourlay conducting. The church was filled to overflowing with old friends and new, who came to pay their last respects.

Palbearers were Dr. W. B. Tufts, J. C. Davison, G. Currell, A. W. Keith, George Nichol and George Mackay. Members of Outlook Lodge AF & AM No. 62 and visitors from various lodges attended the funeral in a body. J. C. Carter, PWGM, conducted the Masonic committal service at the graveside.

Looted Art Treasures Nearly All Returned Home

BERLIN, June 4—(Reuters)—The British Army of Occupation is adding the last items to the array of art treasures which, for the last three years, it has been recovering from German castles, mines, deep air-raid shelters and remote dwellings in the forests.

If art can be measured by the ton, then it is true to say that 180 tons of most prized paintings, statues, church relics and sacred pictures and statues have been tracked down, collected and stored until the museums, art galleries, and churches from which they were looted can take delivery of them again.

The job began in 1945 when Maj. H. Murray-Baile of the Intelligence Corps, Maj. L. G. Perry and Maj. K. E. Steer, all peace-time art experts, were ordered to trace the treasures which Germans removed "for safety" from almost every large town in Europe.

They immediately got to work sifting masses of information, checking rumors, questioning hundreds of Germans, and maintaining close liaison with Americans who had also discovered the huge dumps of art treasures in Bavaria.

Meanwhile, officials of the Monuments, Fine Arts and Archives Division of the Control Commission headed by S. P. Hartley, an expert on German church treasures were entrusted with the task of establishing exactly "what had come from where."

Invariably they found the hiding places of art treasures well-nigh inaccessible. One convoy of eight trucks, for example, had to be backed three miles up a steep cart track to reach a castle in which pictures and ancient manuscripts had been stored.

In this castle were housed such famous pictures as Rembrandt's "Self-Portrait," Renoir's "Mr. and Mrs. Sisley," and works by Rubens, Gauguin and Van Gogh.

Legion Downs Asphodel

HASTINGS, June 4. (ENS).—The Legion's 23 runs won over Asphodel's 10 in the baseball game played in Hastings on Wednesday night.

Legion—B. Scriver, Brinklaw,

Radford, Brooks, Calberry, Killbeck, McKenty, P. Petterew, Pantling.
Asphodel—H. Fife, B. Woods, J. Beavis, D. Elmhurst, B. Warr, M. McMillan, Ray Lynch, R. Warner, Whalen.

Legion Takes Close One Over Outlaws

Legionnaires edged Comstock's 8-7 on Russ Scriver's ninth-inning homer at the Bowl last night to climb into a top-place tie with the R-E Combines. It was a dog-fight all the way in a hot City Softball League scrap before a big crowd. The losers outlived Legion, but gave more walks and had a few expensive errors which offset their extra-base clouting.

Lefty Reid, with an odd delivery, started strongly, but Comstock's took to his offerings later. Parsons pitched the last heat. Eakins went the route in good style, but for six free tickets, on the losers' mound.

White led Legion at bat with two for three as Lewis and Dalton each got two in four tries, and Greenlaw a single as a pinch-hitter. Scriver hit a four-bagger in the last of the ninth to win the game. Courneyea topped the Outlaws with a homer, triple and a single in four. Mackness had three in five. Anderson a homer and double in five, with Thomson getting two for five. Dugan doubled. The winners reeled off two neat double-plays.

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Kingston Locos play the Petes at three tomorrow aft in Riverside Park, a COBL contest first showing of the Kingston ballsters in loop competition since those hectic pre-war battles staged betwixt these teams. Manager Ole Olsen has five fingers, Lefty Sherwood, Jack Soule, Tony Conner, Sammy Mulholland and Howie Garrison. While Manager Eddie Murphy of the Petes has to depend on three, Gunner Whitehill, Bill Edger and Doug Loucks. Can't say who will get tomorrow's slab assignment. Tommy Foley hasn't been out yet as he isn't fussy about playing this semester but they're after him and need him out there. It should be a swell scrap, if the weather is oke, and rates a big crowd.

Scribe Mike Rodden of the Kingston Whig comments: "Unless the signs are misleading, Peterborough is going to be very difficult to halt in the COBL race but, strange as it may seem, George Campbell of Oshawa predicts that Batawa will capture the laurels. Ole Olsen, canny leader of the Locos, looks not with alarm at the situation, the while he could be excused for pointing out that the Kingston team has been hastily assembled and is below the strength it will show in the near future. In a glorious long ago, Kingston was always strongly represented in the COBL and Locos are hopeful they will just as capably carry Limestone City colors in these inter-city battles."

Big lacrosse exhibition here is Saturday—instead of Friday—this week, at nine in Miller Bowl. The senior "A" West Yorks provide the opposition for the senior "B" Petes, who will have to hustle plenty this time if they want to break even. Lew Vipond, of the scrappy Whitby Viponds, is with West York now. The Petes aren't picking any soft spots for these exhibitions as they prepare for another gruelling gutted-stick campaign this summer. Two senior "A" squads and a good senior "B" team have been on their list so far. It is likely that this will be the last exhibition, since the schedule of Huntsville, Orillia, Oshawa, Scarboro and Peterborough, should be started in another week. Likely a hefty gallery on deck tomorrow eve.

Girls' games at the Bowl tonight are: Lindsay vs. CGE at seven, and Westclox vs. Ashby's. Two tidy tussles on tap. Lindsay lasses call themselves the Golden Stationers or Golden Girls and are coached by Johnny Hunter. Dorothy Palmer, who starred for 'em in their win against Lock Co. to start the season, went down with appendicitis next day and will be out for a month or so. The Scugog squad may be tough onions to take as the femmes' teams fight it out down the stretch.

Two swell men's softball scraps at the Bowl last eve before a big and noisy crowd. Legion nosed out Comstock's 8-7 on a homer by Russ Scriver in the last of the ninth in the first 'ray, and Knights edged Combines 11-10 in 11 heats of the nightcap. You can't come much closer than that in a twin bill, huh? Spencer's two-run homer settled the second struggle though Combines had the tying run on third in their half of the 11th when two whiffed. Both tilts were packed with action and arguments as the ump's had a tough night. And we'd advise 'em to look up the rule on base-runners interfering with infielders trying to field a ball. It's Rule 48, section 8.

As pointed out here before, ball is not like cricket—the players pull everything they think they'll get away with. Mackness climbed all over his pal Dalton, who was fielding a ball, and got away with it in the first 'ray. It happened again at short in the second tilt, and the runner was excused. They deliberately try to block off an infielder's vision and we don't blame 'em. It's smart ball, but the ump's should know their rules and be on their toes. That's why the managers and players—not to mention the fans—squawked so much last p.m. Not only those plays but several others pertaining to printed rules. But they were dandy duels, anyway, and Legion and Combines are tied atop with Knights and Comstock's also tied right behind them. It's a good race.

This from Canadian Press: "Mr. Justice A. M. LeBel today dismissed the $5,000 damage action brought by a 38-year-old Toronto housewife as a result of injuries she suffered two years ago at a National Hockey League game here. Mrs. Ernest Payne sued Maple Leaf Gardens and Gaye Stewart and John Mariucci of Chicago Black Hawks. Stewart was a Toronto Maple Leaf at the time of the incident. Mrs. Payne claimed she suffered a broken nose and other injuries when struck by a hockey stick for which Stewart and Mariucci were wrestling. She was in a rail seat. Mr. Justice LeBel commented at the hearing Wednesday that Mrs. Payne must have known the risk of a front-row seat. 'I wouldn't sit there myself,' he said."

HITHER AND YAWN: Lindsay plays Legion a soccer match tomorrow aft in King Edward Park... Legion puck-ist meet Monday eve at Ned Vitarelli's house to arrange a rink canvass... Whip Watson defeated Singh to regain his British Empire mat crown... Oshawa opens the senior "B" lacrosse schedule here next Friday... LAWN BOWLING

And once again all schedule games were over in good time. We're wondering just how long this will last, but anyway we give credit to all. The members are doing fine.

Tonight the men's tournament is at 7:30 o'clock. Please be prompt. It makes a big difference when we all get away together.

And don't forget your entry for next Wednesday's open tournament. Men's rinks and the Stratton trophy. From the reports at hand it would appear as if this tournament is going to be larger than usual.

On Wednesday evening there were 10 mixed rinks out and smiling J. Ridyard tells us they had one grand time. The winning rinks were skipped by L. Loftus, R. Dyer and V. Hill.

Knights Climb With Win Over Combines

Knights moved up into a tie in the City Softball League standing with the Comstock's at the Bowl last night when they nosed out an 11-10 nod over R-E Combines in 11 heats before a large and noisy crowd. Combines had the tying run on third when Crowley fanned the last two batters. The R-E crew had a 7-1 lead till the fifth but Knights kept battling away and it developed into a see-saw overtime tilt with Spencer's two-run homer in the 11th settling things. Though Combines really threatened in their half of the 11th. Akers and Crowley pitched on fairly even terms, the latter being quite wild to issue a dozen walks, with Ron giving up more hits.

Skeeter O'Heron led K of C at bat with a homer and three singles in six. Six others had two hits, with Condon and Spencer bashing out homers, and Tompkins and Willshaw doubles. Crowe had a perfect night for the Combines, with a homer, triple and two singles in four. Conlin got a two-bagger. The winners pulled off two nifty double plays in the lively fray, and Wade had a swell catch.

WINS AUTO CLASSIC—Mauri Rose roared to victory for the second straight time in the 32nd annual Indianapolis Speedway 500-mile race, driving at a record clip all the way. A crowd of more than 150,000 watched rose as he set a new Indianapolis record. Runner-up, like last year, was Bill Holland. Mauri's teammate, who drove a sister car, Rose turned the 500 miles in four hours, 10 minutes and 23.28 seconds, an average of 119.813 miles per hour for a new record. It was Rose's 12th start in the speedway, but it was only his second undisputed triumph. Here oil-begrimed Mauri grins behind the wheel of his racing special in which he won. Behind him is the trophy emblematic of his victory, while beside him is Barbara Britton, the actress.

Dancing Team Big Hit Of "Inside USA"

By PAT USSHER.

NEW YORK, June 4.—(CP).—To skyrocket to prominence is the dream of many an actor, but Valerie Bettis and Erie Victor, dancers in the cast of "Inside USA," are among the few for whom the dream has come true.

They are putting on a show-stopping performance in the musical which stars Toronto-born Beatrice Lillie and Jack Haley. Their number, "Tiger Lily," a vividly-danced ballet centering around a girl who plays her lover is a high point of the show.

Victor is well known as night club dancer in Montreal. Neither he nor Miss Bettis are newcomers to the entertainment world. But they were little known in New York before "Inside USA" opened here five weeks ago.

Arresting Theme

Playwright Ladislav Fodor has an arresting theme in "The Vigil," the new play at the Royale Theatre. It deals with Christ's crucifixion and resurrection, and raises the question of whether or not Christ rose from the dead. But despite first-rate acting, the play is tedious and wordy, failing to measure up to its subject matter.

The setting is an American courtroom on the night between Good Friday and Easter Sunday. But the characters are those who figured in the birth of Christianity, including Mary Magdalene, Pontius Pilate, Simon Peter, and Saul of Tarsus. The gardener in the Garden of Gethsemane is charged with stealing the body of the crucified Christ. Fodor leaves it to his audience to act as jury in case, but makes it clear that he is on the side of the gardener; that is, that he believes in the resurrection. Henry Wilford, Maria Palmer, and Ian Macdonald are in the fine cast. "The Vigil" was produced and directed by Alexander Markay.

FIRES UNCHECKED—This is an airview of thousands of acres of timber ablaze in the Mississagi area, north of Thessalon. The Mississagi fire joined yesterday with another big one in the Chapleau district. The combined blazes are racing eastward. More than 2,000 firefighters were disappointed when thunderstorms produced no rain but started two more fires by lightning.

National Council Women Protest Bombing

OTTAWA, June 4.—(CP).—Protest against the bombing of Jerusalem was made Wednesday night at the annual meeting of the National Council of Women. It came during discussion of a resolution from the Ontario Council urging that the United Nations be asked "to do all in their power" to prevent further destruction of the Holy City.

"I don't know why these sacred things cannot be taken care of," said Mrs. James Roberts of Toronto. "During the war Rome was declared an open city so the religious objects there might be protected."

Employment occupied the attention of the economic group where members learned of the difficulties of older men and women seeking jobs.

Beatrice Bridgen of Winnipeg suggested that some of these "over-40" women might have had office experience. At present there was a great demand for office workers.

Mrs. W. R. Lang of Toronto felt there might be openings for older married women as "temporary housekeepers." At an earlier meeting on citizenship, it was noted that many of the Local Councils deplored the failure of Canadians to exercise their municipal franchise. In one large city only 28.87 per cent of the women's vote was polled in the last vic election.

Subj. ing her report as national convener of child and family welfare, Dr. Phyllis Bradshaw of Windsor, Ont., said the Local Councils had found that the lack of suitable housing was responsible for disrupting many homes.

Lidice's Children

"Seeds in the Wind," a new play by Arthur Goodman, like "The Vigil" has a challenging topic disappointingly handled. It deals with a handful of children from the Czech village of Lidice who fled to a mountain hideout in their country and established their own community. There they dreamed of a world children's republic in which there would be no war.

An experimental theatre production, it was given its professional showing at the Empire Theatre this week. The only grown-up in the cast, Tonio Selwart, last year played a French-speaking lead role in the Montreal production of "Maison Cernée." His characterization is simple, straightforward but convincing.

Grocer Nipped

TORONTO, June 4. (CP).—Eugene Boychuk, proprietor of a North Toronto grocery store, today was fined $200 or one month in jail for a "conditional" sale of butter.

A Prices Board "shopper" said she asked at Boychuk's store for a pound of butter and was told she would have to buy at least $4 worth of groceries to get it. Her bill came to $6.06, she said. Boychuk pleaded guilty.

Over Liquor Board By Ontario Government Dr. Mutchmor Says Iron Curtain Dropped

WINDSOR, June 3.—(CP).

—The Ontario government today was criticized for its "failure" to control the spread of intemperance drinking, by Dr. J. R. Mutchmor, Toronto, secretary of the evangelism and social service committee. He presented a report from his committee to the London conference of the United Church of Canada here.

He said the provincial government had dropped an "iron curtain" over the activities of the Ontario Liquor Commission and that facts and figures had to be obtained by "devious means."

He said that although the sale of liquor in the United States had decreased more than 25 per cent during 1947 from 1946 Ontario liquor sales showed a decrease of only two per cent for the same period.

Beer consumption in Ontario in 1947 totalled 2,702,632 barrels, an increase of 415,199 barrels over 1946, he said.

Dr. Mutchmor said this represented the highest annual increase in any Canadian province since Confederation "and it came about in a year when, under the new liquor licence act, the Robb Board issued 182 additional liquor outlet licences."

Reds Come Up With Bad News Blackwell Clicks

By BEN FLEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cincinnati Reds have come up with a lot of bad news for the seven other National League Clubs. Ewell Blackwell's back is hurt.

The stringbean righthander, sidelined a month with a sore shoulder, Thursday night won his first game since April 23. Although, wild, he held the slugging New York Giants to two hits and a pair of runs in seven innings, one of which was Mickey Livingstone's home run.

Blackwell, who walked six, retired after the seventh and the Reds quelled a ninth inning rally to win 6-4. Blackwell retired after he complained he was having difficulty breathing as the result of a heavy head cold.

Hank Sauer hit his 14th home run with nobody on in the seventh for the Reds.

The loss cut the Giants' first place margin to half a game over St. Louis Cardinals, who broke a six-game losing streak. The Red Birds tripped Brooklyn 4-1 at St. Louis behind the brilliant fourth-hit pitching of Harry (the Cat) Brecheen.

Stan Musial's 11th home run with Red Schoendienst aboard in the first inning sent the Cards in to the lead and they stayed there. Enos Slaughter's circuit clout in the seventh made things certain.

Pittsburgh Pirates pulled to within one game of the top by outlasting Boston 5-3. The Braves had the bases loaded with none out in the ninth when Elmer Singleton came to Kirby Higbe's rescue. The former Boston righthander shut off the hitting immediately although final tally came across on a force play.

Young Fiech Ashburn connected in his 20th consecutive game as the Philadelphia Phils downed Chicago Cubs 4-3. Ashburn, the league's fourth hitter, smashed two singles and a triple as rookie Curt Simmons recorded his third triumph.

In the American League, Detroit spurred for four runs in the 11th inning to defeat New York 6-2, and Boston turned back St. Louis 3-2.

Hal Newhouse held the Yanks to six hits in winning his fourth straight game. Two singles, a pair of bunts, a wild throw by Lopat and Eddie Mayo's double produced a cluster in the second extra frame for the Tigers.

Indian Princes Dominate Turf Picture

EPSOM DOWNS, Surrey, England, June 4.—(CP)—The shadow of two Indian Princes who make horse racing a million-dollar pastime cast gloom over English turf prospects today on the eve of the 169th running of the Epsom Derby.

As capricious weather alternately bathed the rolling Surrey downs in brilliant sunshine and driving rain Thursday, Aga Khan's Mask finished "seconds ahead" in the £10,000 ($40,000) Oaks stakes. Six lengths behind in the field of 25 contesting the classic race for three-year-old fillies came the King's Angella.

Sweeping scythes wielded by the eastern invaders carved up four other events on the six-card race. Aga Khan won the Sussex with the filly Hounya, a 10-1 shot and the Maharajah Gaikwar of Baroda, picked up blue chips with his only starters—Barbari, Bal El'air and Diesel.

It might be the year of the "My My" derby. The Maharajah owns My Babu, lightly-framed colt bred in the Calvados country of France. Aga Khan has a half-interest in My Love, which he purchased from the Parisian showman Leon Volterra for a reported £12,000.

By Babu purchased in Normandy as a yearling, is a 4-1 favorite for tomorrow's big race. My Love is a third choice at 10-1 odds. If the latter falls Aga Khan has a second string in his bow in Noor, a 50-1 outsider.

There are other foreign challengers. William Woodward, 72-year-old New York banker has a double-barreled entry in the favored Black Tarquin and the longshot Senator II, both American-bred. Sola Slipper is owned by an Irishman, J. McGrath; and the French-owned Djeddah and Royal Drake are given better than a fighting chance.

The best chance for native bred appears to lie with The Cobble, 5-1 shot owned by the Sussex sportsman, Lt.-Col. Giles Loder. Others favored are Valognes and Tormie.

JOE LOUIS DOES SOME "ROAD WORK"—Joe Louis, determined to enter the ring in the best possible shape against Jersey Joe Walcott, is shown doing roadwork at his Pompton Lake, N.J., camp. The heavyweight champ is accompanied by Freddy Wilson, right, while little Bobby Brown, 5, hustles along hopefully. Joe is down to 218 and is reaching fighting trim against the man who so ignominiously floored him last year.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

The pace-setting Cleveland Indians of the American League Thursday traded outfielder Pat Seery and pitcher Al Gettel to the Chicago White Sox for outfielder Bob Kennedy. No cash was involved in the deal.

Seery, who could hit a ball a mile but not often enough, had a batting average of .171 for the Indians last year. For three straight years, 1944-1946 he led the American loop in strikeouts. Gettel won 11 games for the Tribe last season while Kennedy, a 28-year-old third baseman turned outfielder, chalked up a batting mark of .262 with the Pale Hose last year.

At St. Andrews, Scotland, four golfers, including two former British open champions, were tied Thursday for first place in the $8,000 Spalding professional golfers tournament at the second round. Alf Padgham and Reg Whitcome, the ex-champions, Norman Van Nida of Australia and John Burton, each had 144 totals for 36 holes.

Dr. W. A. Matthews of Toronto will head the Royal Canadian Golf Association's committee for the Canadian amateur golf championship July 12-17. It was announced in Toronto Thursday. The tournament will be held at the Hamilton Golf and Country Club. Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., 147 Canadian amateur champion and 1948 British amateur title holder, will be on hand to defend his Canadian Laurels.

Liverpool Reds, undefeated on their North American soccer tour, added another victory to their string in Montreal Thursday night with a 4-2 win over Montreal all-stars before a crowd of 5,000. It was the Reds' seventh straight victory in their tour.

Two boxers, Phil Roderique of Lewistown, Me., and Alvin Upshaw of Halifax, who failed to put on a good boxing show, were barred by the Halifax Boxing Commission Thursday from giving further exhibitions here for the next six months. The two fighters

Syracuse Blanks Jersey City 14-0

By The Associated Press

The pitching staff of Syracuse Chiefs is shaping up as one of the best in the International League.

Manager Jewel Ens has six starting pitchers in righthanders: Bub Beber, Dixie Howell, Ed Ewart, Johnny Hetki and southpaws Jim Wallace and Frank Fanovich—something few other clubs in the loop can boast.

Fanovich hurled the Chiefs into first place Thursday night, shutting out Jersey City Giants 14-0 on two hits. It was his second victory of the year as against one setback.

By winning, the Chiefs moved over Newark Bears into the lead by seven percentage points. The third-place Montreal Royals climbed to within 13 points of the Bears as a result of their 6-2 victory over the tail-end Toronto Maple Leafs.

Hank Behrman went the route for the Royals, scattering 11 hits to gain his sixth victory of the year. Oscar Judd went the distance for Toronto and suffered his first loss in four decisions.

Rochester Red Wings nosed out the Buffalo Bisons 3-2 in the other game.

The handicap committee boys, under the leadership of "Sandy" Sanderson, are going to take the entry lists for the Kawartha and President's Cup matches in hand this week-end, and the draws will be posted Sunday. Bob Buchanan is the member in charge of the President's Cup competition and Leo Ackford the Kawartha Cup.

Draws for the Riley Cup competition is to be made on June 11. The senior and men's two ball competition could stand a few more names on the entry list. This is our only mixed competition and is therefore a fine opportunity for you guys and gals to get together and have a mixed match once in a while. Leo Ackford is the man in charge of the Riley Cup matches.

The senior and men's two ball draws will be made June 18 and are under the charge of Bob Buchanan. Members entering all the aforementioned competitions are requested to observe the rules and regulations connected with the same.

Ned Vitarelli and Les Reid are in charge of handicaps this year. If you have any beefs along these lines as to whether they are too low or too high, kindly direct same to these gents. These lads would like to see a few more 18-hole cards handed in. You can't properly handicap a player on a hot 9-hole round. We have 18 holes out there, you know. See you on them this week-end.

County's WCTU Educational Work Increased

The annual WCTU convention for Peterborough and Northumberland counties was held Wednesday in the Gilmour Memorial Baptist Church. There were delegations from all unions.

The convention theme was "May Jesus Christ be praised" and the convention song was "What the world needs is Jesus."

Mrs. A. J. Throop of Peterborough very capably presided at both sessions. The president, Mrs. Gordon Mann and vice-president, Mrs. Austin Poast, have been ill and were unable to preside.

The morning session opened with the worship service being conducted by the Plainville Union with Mrs. Frank Westington and Miss Clara King taking part. Words of welcome were given by Mrs. Gordon Mann.

A courtesy committee was appointed consisting of Mrs. G. F. Kelly, Mrs. Jas. Brown and Miss Clara King.

The treasurer's report by Mrs. Elmer Milburn showed receipts $182.24, expenses $131.78 balance on hand $50.46.

A number of lovely posters were on display made by pupils from Peterborough schools. Judges for posters were Mrs. W. W. Yale, Mrs. G. F. Kelly, Mrs. G. Adams. First prize went to Bob Hendren Prince of Wales School, second to Barbara Kitchen, Queen Alexandra School and third to Jack Peterson also of Queen Alexandra School.

The departmental reports were given special mention being made of the oratorical contests and scientific temperance in day schools. Smith Union held an oratorical contest with 29 contestants for which medals were given. Sixty children wrote on the temperance examinations and twelve received five-year pins. Peterborough reported that 300 posters were made in the city schools. They also sponsored a medal contest in which a large number of children competed. The noon prayer was given by Mrs. Jas. Brown.

Memorial Service

The memorial service was conducted by Smith Union, with Mrs. J. A. Porter, Mrs. G. F. Kelly, Mrs. W. W. Yale, and Mrs. Roy Brown taking part. During the year five members died: Mrs. John West and Mrs. Wm. Benson of Plainville, Mrs. Hanwell of Peterborough, Mrs. Walter A. Heard and Mrs. Mae Jory, Smith Union.

Elected Officers

Mrs. L. S. Haverstock conducted the election of officers as follows: President, Mrs. J. Gordon Mann; Vice-President, Mrs. Austin Poast; Treasurer, Mrs. Elmer Milburn, Smith; Recording Secretary, Mrs. F. Westington, Plainville; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. H. T. Rehili, Peterborough; LTL Secretary, Mrs. G. Lacey, Camborne; Y Secretary, Mrs. J. H. Lewis, Smith.

The afternoon session was in charge of the Camborne Union. Mrs. G. Lacey, Mrs. E. Lean and Mrs. Lander took part.

The superintendent of temperance in Sunday Schools, Mrs. Jas. Brown, gave a splendid report and presented prizes to winners of the scientific temperance examinations. Special mention was made of Hazel McIntosh of Springville who came first in the province and second in the Dominion and also of Nola Wilson of Smith, who received honorable mention from the province. County prizes were given to James Seymour, Douglas Clark, Edith Whetung, Lila Seymour, Douglas Clark, Edith Whetung.

tung, Lila Seymour, Nola Wilson, Elizabeth Shepherd, Carl Sargent, Jack Sargent, Morris Lord, Neil Fowler, Carl Dunford, Veina Garbutt and Hazel McIntosh.

The report of the resolution committee presented by Mrs. W. W. Yale was as follows:

1. Resolved that young delinquents should not be sent to jail for first offences, but that their background should be investigated and the youth sent to industrial school for a second chance.
2. Resolved that we urge the Ontario Government to provide hospitalization with the resources of medicine psychiatry and religion for alcoholics apart from general hospitals, the cost to be paid out of profits from the sale of liquor.
3. Resolved that we agitate for a temperance committee of all parties in parliament to handle temperance legislation.

A very pleasing interlude was a solo by Mrs. James A. Young, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Clayton Telford, who presided at the piano during the day.

Mrs. F. Westington extended an invitation to the convention to meet at Plainville next year.

The afternoon address was very capably given by Mrs. Elmer Milburn. Mrs. Milburn gave a very full report of the Ontario temperance annual convention which was held in Toronto, at which the president, Rev. M. J. Aiken of Peterborough, gave a splendid address in which he quoted the words of the prophet Isaiah, who said, "cry aloud and spare not."

"The liquor traffic desires no better assistance than that the temperance people should be quiet and docile. We will oppose the liquor traffic by education. At present the whole responsibility rests upon the church and its agencies. The government which now derives huge profits out of the liquor traffic, should also discharge its responsibility for educating the people as to the dangers of drink. Failure to do this gives evidence of a callous disregard of the well being of the people," the president declared.

Prof. Watson Kirkconnell, of McMaster University, in his address, Mrs. Milburn said, gave some very vital statistics. "Since 1923 our population has increased approximately 35 p.c. We have more than quadrupled our intake of alcohol in 25 years; received from another angle Canadians in 1947 swallowed over 13 gallons of alcoholic beverages for every man, woman and child in the country of 21 gallons per capita for all those over 19 years of age. The cost of this is approximately $460,000,000 or if one adds to this figure the cost to Canada of extra police and gaoil services, extra hospital and asylum services, losses in employment, broken homes, mangled bodies and ruined lives, the over-all Canadian expenditure for alcohol would come closer to $800,000,000."

Mrs. Milburn quoting from Dr. Jas. Mutchmor's address said, "Today Canadians spend more money on beer, wine and spirits than on the purchase of all motor vehicles."

"The liquor traffic looks upon our children as its future customers. Unless the traffic can have 2,000,000 boys and girls from each generation as future patrons it must shut up shop. The traffic declares our business is dependent largely in the creation of appetite for drink."

Mrs. Frank Westington reported for the nominating committee: Evangelistic and Christian Stewardship, Mrs. Eldred Lean, Camborne; Flower Mission, Miss Clara King, Camborne; Little White Ribbons, Mrs. Earl Joice, Plainville; Lord's Day Observance Law and Legislation, Mrs. G. Lacey, Camborne; Medal Contest, Mrs. Max Archer, Smith; Peace and NORWOOD, June 4—(ENS)—Anniversary services were held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on Sunday, May 30, attended by large congregations for morning and evening.

The Rev. R. E. Duncanson was in charge of the morning service. The church was beautiful with an array of spring flowers.

A number of boys and girls of the Sunday School occupied centre front seats, and the Rev. R. E. Duncanson spoke briefly to them.

The choir, under Mrs. J. Rogers, sang the anthem, "The Lord is My Shepherd."

The Rev. E. A. Mullin, Warkworth, had charge of the evening service, assisted by Rev. E. E. Pugsley and Rev. R. Dick. The choir sang an anthem, with H. Godin and Mrs. Harry Morgan taking the duet. Miss Jacqueline Rogers sang a solo, and a quartette, Jacqueline Rogers, Barbara Cuthbertson, Barbara Davey and Shirley Godin, also sang.

Inferiority Again

CHICAGO, June 4—(AP).—John Keller, former Pentagon building clerk, pleaded guilty on Wednesday to falsifying government files to give himself an impressive war record and was re-manded. He said the act was caused by his 4F draft status suffered at birth, but that he never wore an army uniform or obtained any money from his scheme.

"SPINNING" TACKLE!

Introducing the Leighton No. 1 REEL

We feel that we are offering an article that will add considerably to the joy of fishing and fill a long-felt want.

The general fishing seasons, most of which are now open, are seeing a whole army employing radically different tackle; for spinning, that extremely productive method long popular in England, has finally shown itself solidly established in the United States. Almost every fisherman I've talked to has either already tried it, just purchased an outfit, or plans to shortly. Spinning is undoubtedly the most important and progressive step made in the field of fishing in many decades. It may be defined as the use of a specially designed, long, flexible rod, stationary spool reel, and very fine, light line, for the purpose of casting lures to a light for plug outfits, too heavy for fly outfits. This means, in very general terms, lures in the weight category of from one-eighth to three-eighths of an ounce. Thus spinning fills an important and obvious gap in our otherwise modern angling methods. (Absolutely NO BACK LASH). (Cast further—no drag).

Expropriate Properties To Speed Housing Plan Ninety Lots Now Available

City Council invested itself with authority to expropriate the John T. O'Connell and the W. G. Scott estate properties for No. 10 housing project between Park St. and Monaghan Road at a special session Thursday night. "To avoid dilly-dallying over an agreement of value" was the nub of the explanation by Ald. Gordon Armstrong, chairman of the special housing committee.

Ald. Swanston said the Council would be severely criticized "if we simply paid the amount Mr. O'Connell is asking. I agree with Ald. Armstrong that we would likely have to waste a lot of time trying to reach a price settlement."

Ald. Hugh Waddell enquired about the assessment of the O'Connell Road property, and was informed that its approximate nine acres were classed as agricultural land and assessed at only $2,000. It was understood that Mr. O'Connell's first quotation was $30,000.

Mayor Owens said the city's authority to expropriate was provided in provincial legislation passed in 1946 and sponsored by the Hon. Dana Porter, Minister of Planning. The O'Connell block should yield 66 lots and the nearby Scott property 22 lots. That is a total of 88, and the city has others in hand or available to provide the 110 which Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation set as the minimum for the contractor's beginning of work.

Ask For 200 Homes
Peterborough has asked for 200 houses this year, and it is expected that later in the season additional lots will be secured.

Council has been attracted toward the O'Connell nine acres north of Housing Enterprises area, the Dutton subdivision, chiefly because it will permit economy in having so many building lots in one piece. It lies in the centre of the new housing area, south of Lansdown St., and naturally becomes part of the entire emergency housing scheme. "If we can guarantee 170 lots, the first houses may be under construction in two weeks," said Ald. Armstrong.

Mayor Owens: "We tried to reach an understanding with Mr. O'Connell in the usual way, and we could see where we might be dickering for three or four months. It seems to us that expropriation is fair to him and also to the ratepayers, and there needn't be any strained relations. It is a case of asking the Judge to deal with it, and he determines what he thinks the land is worth. The council took the same view of procedure for the city hall site."

City Clerk Outram explained that the Ontario government was willing to pay half the cost of land and services up to the amount of $600. "If it did come to that amount the city would have to pay only $300, and the province would pay the other $300. Or if the total was $500, we would have to pay $250."

Will Share Costs
Two expropriating bylaws were passed. An Armstrong-Swanston resolution agreed to the city assuming the entire cost of land and services (apart from assistance from the province). Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation proposed last winter that the city should assume such costs up to $600, and the Corporation would absorb any additional cost that is in excess of $600.

Mr. W. W. Scott of the Corporation's negotiations department informed the council that Central Mortgage could not meet even the lowest tender on the Peterborough project and retain this undertaking to pay the services and land costs beyond $600. It is understood that certain changes have been made enabling the lowest tenderer to accept the contract.

REFUTES CHARGE
Dick Outmet, chairman of the Civic Arena committee called the Examiner this morning to deny rumors circulating that the Arena committee had been ousted from their headquarters. He said they are still in the old United Cigar store, and they have not been interfered with by a political party. "We are not affiliated nor associated with any political party either, and I think it would be a good idea for the snipers to make a sensible donation to the arena instead of trying to create discord," he said.

Consideration Of Horses Asked

Drivers of horse-drawn vehicles in Peterborough will be asked to consider a number of humane practices this summer. At a meeting of the Peterborough Humane Society Thursday night, it was decided to appeal to the drivers to make sure that the horses were stopped in shady streets during the lunch time of the driver. It was pointed out that with many shaded areas in the city, it was not necessary to leave the horses standing in the hot sun.

Another step asked will be that the feedbags are removed from the horses' mouths as soon as they have finished the oats, and not left there empty while travelling the streets.

One of the many cases reported by Inspector Gerald Dunford of the Society was that of a west-end resident who had nailed up a bird's nest and intended the birds to starve. As they had been annoying the resident, she had nailed a piece of tin over the hole in the tree where the birds had their nest. It was removed by the Society after complaints were received from the neighborhood.

Society President Morley V. Powell was in charge of the meeting.

$500 Damage In House Fire
A defective wood-stove chimney was believed responsible for a fire at the home of Harold Collins, 469 Donegal St., on Thursday evening that did an estimated $500 damage. While fighting the blaze Mr. Collins received two minor burns on his arms.

Mr. Collins said he started to prepare his supper and lit the wood stove. Soon he noticed it getting hot and he looked into a wooden shed adjoining the kitchen and saw flames near the partition. At first he tried to extinguish them by himself but he was unable to do so and neighbors called the Fire Department.

Apparently the chimney pipe which goes through the partition was responsible for the outbreak. The kitchen was not touched by

Century of Masonry Marked By Corinthian Lodge No. 101

Masons of Peterborough and district joined on Thursday night at the banquet table with the members of Corinthian Lodge No. 101 in bringing to a fitting climax the celebration of the lodge's 100th anniversary. Held in the new Kawartha Room of the Empress Hotel it was attended by 300 members of the craft. Most Wor. Bro. T. H. Simpson, the Grand Master of Grand Lodge, in the Province of Ontario, was present, and he was attended by R. Wor. Bro. E. G. Dixon, the Grand Secretary.

The Grand Master's address was the highlight of a most enjoyable evening, which will long be remembered by Masons of Peterborough. He brought the message that Masonry means much in the affairs of mankind, and has much to offer to men in making them which they live.

R. Wor. Bro. R. F. Downey and Wor. Bro. A. L. Elliott, the ruling master, were joint chairmen and during the evening telegrams were received from members of the lodge who now reside in far distant points. At a roll call 25 Masons stood up who had been present at the celebration of the 75th anniversary and at which time Wor. Bro. F. L. Roy was ruling master.

The toast to Grand Lodge was proposed by Bro. Rev. D. B. Gordon and was replied to by the Grand Master.

fire but the shed wall and ceiling in the corner near the chimney was badly burned.

The flames also broke through the roof of the shed in a couple of places adding to the destruction. Before it could be put out the fire had crept up into the attic of the one-and-a-half storey house where it damaged the wall.

Fire Chief George Smith estimates that fire and water damage combined amount to between $400-$500.

Annexation Not Opposed If Whole Section Taken

Smith township council will not oppose annexation of Queen Elizabeth school section providing its entire area is taken by the city.

A copy of this resolution is to be sent to the city council for its expression of the unanimous opinion of the ratepayers of the section as expressed at their meeting May 11.

Reeve Ross Harrison presided at the meeting this week with all the members present.

The Department of Highways sent their approval of the Smith road expenditure bylaw, authorizing expenditure of $25,300 this year.

Mr. K. O. Birkin, Public School Inspector, explained the proposed plan by which Peterborough county may be divided into three high school districts.

Those districts would comprise the school sections that can be served by Lakefield; the sections that can be served by a high school in the Norwood-Havelock area; and the school sections which can be served by the Peterborough Collegiate and Vocational School.

The council gave its approval to this proposal and divided the township into two parts: school sections Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 11, and 13 to be included in the Peterborough district; and numbers 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 12 to be part of the Lakefield district.

Council discussed a suggestion for the repair and construction of roads in Chemung Park and district. It was decided that if the property owners would agree to the cost of the work, the municipality would proceed to build a permanent road.

The following accounts were passed for payment: Roads, $905.19; relief, $151.56; Municipal World, supplies, $21.03; Peterborough Printing Co., $36.99; Alex. Nichols, sheep killed by dogs, $30; Robert McAdam, sheep killed by dogs, $45; Examiner, notices, $17.40; Provincial Treasurer, in-lieu act, $2.61; Ralph Garbutt, valuing sheep, $2.50.

Delayed Project Accepted Council Asks City Trust To Pay For $11,000 Cost

With funds from the City Trust to pay for it, the Council Thursday night accepted Eastwood Construction Co. tender of $8,975 for a band and performance stand to be built at Nicholls Oval. First they have to get the money from the City Trust Commission. With its own pocket empty, or on the way to that state, the Council is asking the Trust to dig up $11,000. Earnings of the Trust could be left to accumulate or put to other use, but the Nicholls Park stand has been holding its hand out for a long time, and apparently it would never be built if it had to wait for the Council to come by some spare cash.

It might appropriately be called that Bob Cotton stand. As a member of the council he urged that accommodation for picnic entertainment, plus some shelter, be provided at Nicholls Park. Peterborough industrial plants were holding shop picnics up on the Douro outlook, but facilities were extremely sketchy. It appears to be a memory that ex-Ald. Cotton mentioned once or twice that some contribution might be forthcoming from the CGE Social Athletic Club, which is reported to have A-1 credit, but that might have been only a fluff of effervescence, if indeed it was mentioned.

Later, Ald. H. Dodds has taken up the project where the retiring Cotton left it. He tried to frighten the council by telling them that the big local picnics would take off to Orillia, Cobourg or elsewhere, but the council had so many clamorous expenses, demands for money, that it kept pushing the Oval job aside year after year. As a last resource, appeal is being made for $11,000 in a Dods-Swanston motion directed to the City Trust Commission.

Only one tender of $8,975 was received from the council's advertisement, from Eastwood Construction Co., and is accepted. Cost of reinforcement steel and railing, plus some incidentals, will run through the balance of the $11,000.

World News In Brief

Taken from Wires of Canadian Press

LONDON.—The Air Ministry said Thursday E. J. Hicks, former president of the Civil Service Clerical Association, has been placed "on leave with pay" pending a reply to charges he is a Communist. The action followed a recent Government order to transfer or remove all known Communists and Fascists from official jobs affecting Britain's security.

HALIFAX.—A charge of "improper invoicing" in the sale of butter was dismissed against Canada Packers in magistrate's court here Thursday. The charge was dismissed on a technicality and Prices Board officials said it would be appealed. The butter was sold last March at the top price of 70½ cents a pound and later was found to be "below third grade."

PRESTWICK AIRPORT, Scotland.—A party of 41 emigrants, first to fly to Canada in the Dominion's air immigration scheme, left here Thursday in a TCA plane bound for Montreal. Officials said that 15 more flights are expected to be made this month, with the next one scheduled from London Monday.

LONDON.—The Anglican Bishop of Lincoln, Rt. Rev. M. H. Harland, told a diocesan conference today he has given three clergymen authority to practice "divine healing." He said it is clear that many diseases and sicknesses are occasioned by the state of the patient's spirit and consequently are beyond unaided medical skill and knowledge. He added that a doctor's patients now may call on the authorized clergy for aid.

OTTAWA.—Canada's top officials in the Wildlife World joined Thursday in emphasizing the importance of conservation. They met at the 12th Provincial Dominion Wildlife Conference. Dr. H. L. Keenleyside, Deputy Resources Minister, said Canada's rapidly expanding northern frontiers made preservation of extreme importance.

OTTAWA.—A father and daughter will seek election Monday to the Ontario Legislature in adjoining constituencies in the Ottawa area. In Ottawa east, Patrice Brunet, 60, has been nominated Union des Electeurs representative. His daughter, Cecile Brunet, 22-year-old spare-time school teacher in nearby Eastview, will carry the same ticket in Russell county.

TORONTO.—Elmer James, 64-year-old son of Frank James, on Thursday night scoffed at reports that his uncle, Jesse James, notorious American outlaw, is still alive. "My uncle was shot by Bob Ford in his front room in St. Joseph, Mo., and make no mistake about that," said Elmer, who was born in Waco, Texas, and has lived in Toronto for 40 years.

OTTAWA.—Farm wages have increased to such an extent that farmers in many areas are hesitating to enter into contract with hired labor, a Government review of Canadian agricultural conditions said Thursday.

OTTAWA.—Members from the Maritime Provinces urged Thursday night in the Commons that the Government direct its bureau of statistics to compile figures on inter-provincial trade. Gordon Isenor (L-Halifax) said that in making the survey the bureau should attempt to determine whether goods manufactured in Ontario and Quebec could be sold at a common price from one end of the country to the other.

KAMLOOPS, B.C.—A charge of murder Thursday was laid by British Columbia police against H. F. Kissel, 65-year-old retired railway telegrapher. He is accused of the axe-slaying Wednesday of his 85-year-old invalid wife.

MONTREAL.—A resolution requesting the Canadian Government to "prohibit the shipping of arms to any nation in which a civil war is being waged, except at the request of the Security Council of the U.N." was passed Thursday night at the final session of the Montreal-Ottawa conference of the United Church.

TORONTO.—Union prosecution of five steamship companies was postponed Thursday to June 15. Charges were brought by the Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC) against Canada Steamship Lines, Ltd., Sarnia Steamships, Ltd., Colonial Steamships, Ltd., Northwest Steamships, Ltd., and Transit Tankers and Terminals, Ltd.

NEW MODERATOR—Rev. C. Ritchie Bell, left, of MacVicar Presbyterian church, Montreal, is congratulated by Rev. Charles H. Cotterill Urges Labor Vote CCF Lashes At Drew's Labor Views

"Organized labor is in politics whether we want it to be or not," said Murray Cotterill, chairman of the Political Action Committee of the Ontario Federation of Labor (CCL-CIO) in an address to the Labor Rally held last night in the Legion Hall.

"Unions of this country have been taking part in politics for some time. In this election the CCL is participating a little more than usual."

He pointed out the advice of the late Samuel Gompers, well-known American unionist, that organized labor should participate to the extent of rewarding its friends and punishing its enemies. And he added "the only way you can reward friends and punish enemies is to vote for the friends and against the enemies. To that extent you are participating in politics. And that is what I'm asking the working people of Peterborough to do on June 7."

The rally was originally called to hear the three local candidates for the Peterborough riding give their views on labor before an open meeting. However, both Harold Scott, MPP and Charles Elliott expressed their regrets that they were unable to attend.

John G. Morton, CCF candidate, was the only one of the trio present and he was forced to give only a short address before leaving for the Point and Lakesfield later in the evening.

Explaining his presence there Mr. Morton said: "Despite the other two commitments I have tonight, I feel that the people of Peterborough should know where their candidates stand on labor matters."

"In the United States they made great strides with the Wagner Act. They didn't realize how easy it was. But when the Republican came in the Taft-Hartley Act set back labor many years."

"It is not too late in Ontario. Trade unionists must support the candidates and party willing to support labor."

Mr. Morton claimed that promises can only be based upon what has been done and what is being done throughout the Dominion. In Prince Edward Island, he said labor laws forbade unionists to join any national or international unions. He pointed out that it was compulsory to give the government a copy of the constitution and a financial statement every year.

"Locals are being isolated so they can become company unions," he said.

He criticized Quebec for "the padlock law" and "breaking up peaceful picketing."

Charge Smash Unions

Mr. Morton then said that Drew had assured workers that they did not need union by saying "we'll look after you." And he charged that the Provincial Police were out to smash unions.

"It seems to me that the only thing that Drew and Mackenzie King can do to make an honest man out of them is to let them go."

"How can political parties in this province promise labor legislation when they are conducting vicious anti-labor legislation?" he asked.

"All of the provinces have said they need a national labor code, but it should be with the amendments which congresses and unions of this country demand as true legislation." And he suggested a code based on the standards set down by the Saskatchewan Trade Union Act. A 40-hour week, time and a half overtime, two weeks holiday with pay, workmen's compensation up to 100 per cent, prohibition of injunctions for equal work granted to women were included.

"The people of Yale, British Columbia have shown what they thought of the Conservative-Liberal candidate by kicking him out and electing the CCF by a 5,000 majority."

"Everybody loves labor now," said Mr. Cotterill. Referring to employers he charged "they'll do plenty to see that collective bargaining doesn't work. That's why

Canvas Chute, Safety Device Added To Fire Equipment

Civic officials and interested citizens watched today with unanimous approval as the Fire Department demonstrated its latest safety device—a long canvas chute that allows a person trapped on an upper story to slide to safety.

At best the old-fashioned safety-net is a hazardous way of saving trapped persons. Often they would miss the net, but also many persons have perished in a fire because they were too frightened to make the long leap.

With the canvas chute even timid people should have no fear of using it, particularly under the stimulus of danger. Firemen neatly dressed in blue overalls slid down from the roof of the Empress Hotel at the demonstration this morning with the happy abandon of children. The whole operation is no more complicated or dangerous than shooting down a tall slide at a swimming pool.

The chute is part of the equipment carried on the new aerial ladder truck. If a person is trapped it is quickly pulled from the compartment where it is stowed away and the top end is snapped onto the two fixed brackets on the aerial ladder. The ladder is then hydraulically manoeuvred into the correct position and the other end is held by eight men on the ground who pull taut the walls do not give way as the side ropes thus ensuring that person descends.

Descent is swift but the speed is lessened as the person reaches the flattened out portion of the chute held by the firemen. Persons using it are advised to keep their elbows in to their sides and their hands away from the walls. Method of descent may be head-first or feet-first, but in treating an invalid or unconscious person the head first way is advised after wrapping a blanket around him.

Life Goes On

OMAHA, June 4.—(AP).—Mrs. Robert A. Jeffrey, Jr., 25, became a doctor of medicine only a few minutes after she gave birth to a nine-pound 14-ounce daughter. Her husband, who received his medical degree last year, stood in for Mrs. Jeffrey at University commencement exercises Thursday after she went to hospital.

Mrs. Jeffrey was scheduled to receive her MD last year with her husband, but dropped out of school for the arrival of a son in November, 1946. This year she decided to try again for the medical degree. She completed final examinations before going to hospital.

"We have acquired a dignity now that we will not allow businessmen and politicians to take away from us without a fight. We ask only that the inalienable rights of workingmen be observed."

He blamed poor labor relations on a minority of employers who want to go back to pre-war working conditions. And he claimed that as long as this minority is able to find a loophole in the law, the bad example it sets will be reflected even in good labor-management relationships.

"Since 1945 when Drew was elected there has been more lost time, and more strikes and violence than at any time in the history of the province."

"Organized labor does not want strikes; it wants strikes less than any section of the public because the workers lose their incomes and the union loses its treasury. The only party that is not harmed is the employer."

He charged that profits were so high in many cases that the employers can afford to shut down for two or three months. In this period they welcome a strike and even agitate for it so they can break the union hold.

"We ask for labor legislation to take the subject of union security out of dispute as in New Zealand, Australia, the United Kingdom and many parts of the United States."

He said labor wants two weeks vacation with pay, (as in Saskatchewan) and eight statutory holidays. Also 100 per cent workmen's compensation and "a system of Health Insurance as in New Zealand, Australia, Great Britain and the so-called civilized world outside of Ontario."

Mr. Cotterill quoted Drew as replying when he was approached by the workingmen of Ontario want these things. The reason is that there is a political party in Ontario which has proposed these things. They don't vote for it; they vote for me."

"It is my interpretation of Drew's remarks that if you want social legislation it is obviously his advice that you should vote for the CCF candidate. If you don't then vote for Drew or the Liberal party."

A question period followed but it had to be cut short as Mr. Cotterill had two other speaking engagements.

The speaker was introduced and thanked by the chairman of the evening, John Beggs.

building or other structure in the city.

"What an improvement on the safety net," exclaimed one spectator after she had seen three firemen descend the slide in rapid succession, without any one of them so much as ruffling a hair.

And that was the general opinion of all within earshot.

CHARLIE ELLIOTT

Liberal Candidate

LONDON, June 4 — (Reuters) — Britain's poets, in a fine frenzy, are fighting a civil war which has split their 3,000-strong poetry society right down the middle.

The battle has been fought with harsh words, stubborn silences, resignations. Now it will be decided with paper.

Ballot forms have gone out to all members for their views on whether an inquiry should be held into the quarrel which led to the resignation of the society's distinguished president, Britain's great soldier and former Viceroy of India, Field Marshal Earl Wavell.

Central figure in the storm is blonde, 30-year-old Mrs. Muriel Spark, mother of a 10-year-old boy.

Herself a poet, she became secretary of the society and editor of its journal, Poetry Review, a year ago. In her first editorial she offended Britain's orthodox poets by a spirited defence of the modern poetry which conservative-minded critics declare is unreadable, artificial, and almost impossible to understand.

She followed that up by encouraging young, unknown poets to contribute to the magazine and took the unprecedented step of paying them for their contributions.

Battle was joined between the "moderns" and the "die hards." The more orthodox poets felt they were being cold-shouldered. The society's chairman, H. W. Harding, took up their case and called for the resignation of the secretary.

Mrs. Spark countered by suggesting the chairman should quit. The society's council refused to dismiss the secretary and Harding went.

Earl Wavell, a poetry lover and compiler of an anthology called "Other Men's Flowers," intervened with the suggestion that to keep the peace both Mrs. Spark and Harding should resign. His advice was not accepted and he too resigned.

Now the verdict of the ballot

Sheep Losses $262 In Emily

OMEMEE, June 3.—(ENS). — Sheep and lamb-killing dogs cost Emily township $262.50 for May, it was learned at Tuesday's council meeting. Seventeen sheep and lambs were killed or injured, and two dogs were shot while worrying sheep. Of the total, $13.50 was paid out for evaluation of loss to sheep owners.

District Engineer L. A. Bouchier approved a bylaw appropriating $22,000 for road expenditures, and a contract let out for gravel crushed and spread. Road accounts to the amount of $1,290, presented by the road superintendent, were approved and ordered paid.

Communications were heard from M. H. Winter, advising council of the resignation of William Newman as president of the County Federation of Agriculture, and from Toronto General Hospital, advising council of the admission to that hospital of a patient from the township.

Two bylaws were passed, appointing T. H. Rice to assess the township for 1949 at a salary of $150 and 10 per cent of dog tax collected, and repealing all previous bylaws of the township agreeing to pay a percentage of the cost of constructing or repairing Emily creek bridge, since it is now a county bridge.

Council adjourned to make an inspection of the property of J. T. O'Connell of Peterborough, who had addressed the council concerning an entrance into his property at Lancaster's bridge.

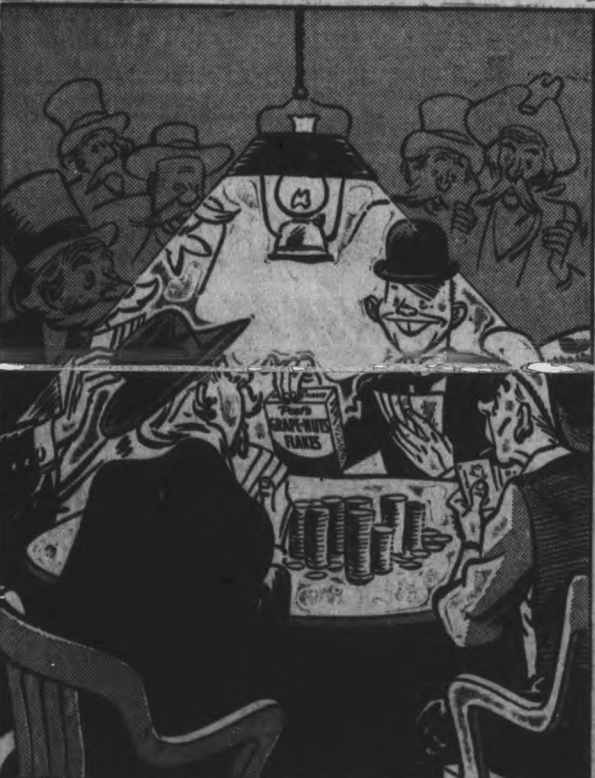

Accounts paid were: R. Williams, salary as auditor, $140; and others totalling $1,055.57. Total accounts paid were $3,058.13.

box is awaited. Mrs. Spark is confident there won't be an inquiry. "I shall just go ahead the way I'm doing," she said today.

Her staunchest supporter in the campaign for the younger poets is the society's veteran, 80-year-old Brigadier Sir George Cockburn. He writes sonnets—in the "old fashioned" way.

OPENS COUNCIL — Lord Nathan, minister of civil aviation, is shown as he made the opening address at the meeting of the Commonwealth Air Transport Council at Aerial House, London, Eng. Tax Inequalities Rapped As Mayors, Reeves Convene WINDSOR, June 4. (CP)—Consideration of compulsory equalized assessments for all Ontario municipalities was urged Thursday by the Association of Ontario Mayors and Reeves now holding a four-day conference in Windsor.

The convention endorsed a resolution asking the proposed committee on municipal-provincial relations to study equalized assessments on a mandatory basis "and if after such consideration such a method is proposed" the municipal heads association be advised before legislation is finally passed.

The resolution was proposed by Reeve Ann Shipley of Teck township. After an address on uniformity in assessment given by Mayor E. C. Sargent of Owen Sound.

Citing his own city where a "high" mill rate (87) is levied on assessments based on 1890 figures, Mayor Sargent said some of the city's most valuable business a foot with the current sale price $550 a foot.

He said small home owners on the back streets were paying on a heavy assessment and directly subsidizing downtown business and industrial properties.

This inequality of taxation, Mayor Sargent said, "could only be relieved by uniformity in assessment. It is just and reasonable to expect a ratepayer to pay proportionately for the municipal services he receives and as long as we have our present system of taxation it can only be done by uniformity of assessment."

Grand Master Speaks

The Grand Master after offering congratulations to the officers and members of Corinthian Lodge and expressing the hope that the second 100 years of the lodge would be as successful as the first, discussed the position masonry hold in the community today. He asked the question "Can masonry justify its existence?" a question which he maintained required an answer, especially for those who are not members of the fraternity and those masons who do not attend lodge as regular as they might.

Suggesting that men crave fellowship and hence join clubs, lodges and other fraternities to get that social interest he declared that the very tenets of masonry satisfy that craving which men have. But masonry goes much further than other clubs and organizations, for it is there that they meet their fellowmen on the same level. It is not ones property or position which recommends him to his fellowman in masonry but a moral character which he finds himself able to build and develop. This fellowship stimulates a man to higher endeavor for he finds that every member of his lodge is his friend and he strives to reach to a higher plane of living. "The whole background of masonry cannot help but have an influence for good. Many men in doubt find comfort in the beautiful ritual which leaves its mark, no matter how hardened the character may be."

Back in the earlier years the lodges had a certain security value, but now much of it has been taken over by social and welfare agencies of the state. The speaker said that masonry none-the-less had an equally important place which never could be assumed by state agencies. He told of the masonic benevolent fund and the work it was doing spending thousands of dollars annually by grand lodge and an equal amount by the various lodges of the jurisdiction. "For our benevolent work alone we can justify our existence in society," he said and here he told of the thousands of food parcels which have been sent to needy masons and their families in the Old Land and how last July the lodge had been asked to give $60,000 and to date $117,500 has been contributed for this worthy cause.

But, the speaker maintained that it was the spiritual qualities of masonry which are more real today than ever in the past. "Masonry has a definite place in our lives. It is a guide to right living and is closely allied with the Christian church. It teaches man to think and to think right and it is an influence for the promotion of good. It educates men to work in a united effort against all evil. It promotes stability, builds character and develops friendship. It is something more than a social or friendly club and never tries to compete with service clubs, for while they have their place, that place is none found in masonry than in the church."

In closing the speaker said that masonry must continue to justify its existence on these principles and it is only through these principles that masonry can ever remain firm.

Toast to the Visitors

W. Bro. F. E. Kerr the second oldest past master of the lodge, and who at the 75th anniversary proposed the toast to the absent brethren, proposed the toast to the visitors and told them that as Corinthian Lodge in the past had always been glad to welcome visitors they were just as welcome on the occasion of the centennial anniversary. R. Wor. Bro. J. S. McGill of J. B. Hall Lodge, Millbrook replied and offered his best wishes for the future of the lodge.

Absent Brethren

The toast to the absent brethren was proposed by Wor. Bro. Charles Ray who in an historical address recalled to memory some of the leaders of the lodge. He first mentioned Bro. Andrew Jobe, James Jopling, Allen Munro and Albert Bradshaw who through illness were not able to be present. Then he told of another group who had through the years given service to the lodge but were now in distant parts of the land and finally he recalled many of the names of the masons who have gone to the "Grand Lodge Above."

Short addresses and greetings were given by R. Wor. Bro. George Free of Campbellford, the district deputy grand master, Rt. Wor. Bro. Dixon and Wor. Bro. [Name obscured].

Using his prerogative the Grand Master appointed Wor. Bro. F. D. Kerr a grand steward of grand lodge which appointment entitles him to the rank of very worshipful.

8-Pound Pickerel Caught At Marmora

MARMORA, June 4. — (ENS) — Bob Scott, well known veteran, had an interesting experience when fishing for pickerel last week-end in the Trent River. A five pounder not only took the minnow, but also took three feet of line with it. Mr. Scott landed the fish by using another line with the same bait.

Senior Public School Suggested At Lindsay

LINDSAY, June 4. — The possibility of having a Senior Public School in Lindsay is being considered by the School Board on the suggestion of secretary F. R. Wilford. He says the system is at present working successfully in Weston, but that the immediate trouble in Lindsay is accommodation. The matter was left open. A senior public school is an intermediate school, for public school children, with just the two grades of 7 and 8. The reason is to fill up the large gap between the public and high school methods and standards of learning, before the change is made.

Consumption Of Liquor Shows Big Increase Brethen Says

Mr. G. A. Brethen, Norwood, chairman of the Peterborough County Temperance Federation, said today that the well-being of the people of Ontario should always be their first concern.

"There has been an apparently deliberate intention of the leaders of all three political parties, and many of their candidates, to avoid discussion of the liquor issue in this campaign.

"Of late, however, they have been prodded into talking more freely, and statements have been made that require some examination by all voters interested in reduction of the serious increase in the consumption of intoxicants. "Premier Drew has been quoted as saying in the Legislature that there has been a decrease in the consumption of liquor by 55,784 gallons since the introduction of cocktail bars. He interprets this as an endorsement of his policy. Some of Mr. Drew's candidates, including our good friend Major Foote, have recently been using the above figure.

"May I draw attention to the fact that in the United States during the same period, and without the introduction of similar new legislation, the reduction in the drinking of hard liquors was 30 per cent. The explanation given was that such liquors are expensive while the cost of living has advanced and there is less money to spend in each country. The drinker switched to the lower-priced beer and wine, but with the significant result that the overall consumption of alcoholic drinks in both countries showed a very marked increase.

"When Mr. Drew took over in 1943 the total consumption of spirits, beer and wine in Ontario was 41,990,770 gallons. In 1947, under the present administration, the consumption had jumped to the staggering total of 64,120,704 gallons.

"A question was asked at a meeting in Peterborough last Saturday night: 'How many people in your community are being debauched or ruined by liquor?' We have seen plenty of evidence, but will leave that question for the people of Peterborough to answer.

"Here are some figures from the Bureau of Statistics, Ottawa. In 1942 the convictions for drunkenness were 17,482. Mr. Drew took office in 1943. In 1944 the conviction number was 18,573 and in 1945 the number was 19,573 and in 1946 it had increased to 20,698. Figure for 1947 is not available.

"Fatal accidents on the highways of Ontario, attributable to drunken driving, have reached the staggering figure of 45 per cent according to Prof. Joselyn Rogers.

"To those interested in the lessening of the enormous increase in the consumption of alcohol in Ontario, clear, straight thinking, unbiased by the force of habit or party affiliations is required, if we are to make Ontario a better place to live in."

Women Demand War On Communism

OTTAWA, June 4—(CP).—A number of Canadian women want the Government and other organizations to make sure there is "no opportunity in Canada for Communist propaganda to root and grow."

National Council of Women, meeting in convention here on Thursday also protested against the lack of subsidized low-rental housing.

One of several resolutions passed asked that the Government "explain the reason why it has not adopted a policy of subsidized low-rental housing."

Of Communism, a resolution said that knowing how the minds of loyal citizens have been deliberately confused by proponents of a political philosophy alien to the Canadian way of life, leaders of Government should make every effort to counteract these tactics "with zeal exceeding that of those who use them."

Later, in the evening, Sir Alexander Clutterbuck expressed hope that Europe has turned "the most dangerous corner" on its road to recovery.

The United Kingdom High Commissioner paid tribute to the European recovery plan. It has had a "tonic" effect throughout Europe.

He described the world as in a state of "transition." The world was going through a spiritual crisis.

Grapple Girls Out Is Ontario Ruling

SUDBURY, June 4—(CP).—"Baby Face Helen," one of four women forbidden to wrestle here Tuesday night by the Ontario Athletic Commission, hoped today "the unfair ruling" would be changed.

The promoters who had arranged the two bouts were told Tuesday female wrestling was banned in Ontario.

Average weight of the quartette is 176 pounds, and they are all less than 24—two being married. For several months they trained faithfully by retiring early, eating fresh vegetables and drinking only milk.

MONTREAL, June 4—(CP).—New emphasis on July 28 as the possible date of the forthcoming Quebec Provincial election was seen today in the fact the Union Nationale Party of Premier Maurice Duplessis has reserved broadcast time on most radio stations in Quebec until July 28.

COINED WORD

The word "gas" was invented by J. B. van Helmont to describe the gas now known as carbon dioxide.

The year was 1847...

Malcolm McRae was beaten into unconsciousness, left in a ditch to die. He was a voter in the Third District, Prince Edward Island who had, the previous year, voted against certain members who were later unseated on charges of intimidation and violence.

Now a new election was called—but Malcolm McRae was warned not to vote. In those days he was not protected by the secret ballot—yet Malcolm McRae determined to set out for the polls, risking his life for the right to vote.

Today, because of the courage of men like Malcolm McRae, you run no risk at all in your free, unhampered exercise of the franchise.

When YOU cast your secret ballot at every election—municipal, provincial, federal—you exercise a duty and privilege planned, worked and fought for by your forefathers. Your vote protects the future of your children. To fail in this duty is to be less than a good citizen.

A Statement About Roads In Peterboro County

In view of the several inaccurate statements made during the present campaign about ROADS IN PETERBOROUGH COUNTY. Here are the Facts, as stated by The Honourable Harold Scott Tenders have been called to eliminate the dangerous curve at the Waterworks Park, just outside the city limits of Peterborough, on the Lakefield Road.

LAKEFIELD TO BUCKHORN

Agreement has been signed with the Department of Highways and the County of Peterborough to improve the road from Lakefield to Buckhorn, the Ontario Department of Highways paying the full cost of this work.

HAVELOCK TO LASSWADE

Agreement has been signed with the Township of Belmont-Methuen to construct the road from Havelock to Lasswade, the Ontario Department of Highways assuming the full cost of the work. This will open up many lakes to Tourist Traffic.

CLARINA TO KOSH LAKE

The Ontario Department of Highways is assuming full cost of construction of the road from Clarina to Kosh Lake (in Dummer Township) turn. This is to assist Nepheline Mines to maintain year-round operation as well as to benefit the Tourist Trade.

BUCKHORN TO LAKEHURST

The Ontario Department of Highways assumed full cost of the construction of the road from Buckhorn to Lakehurst last year, this work will be completed very shortly. This is a great Tourist Artery.

The Ontario Department of Highways has made a grant of $2,000 to the Township of Galway & Cavendish for expenditure on the "Church Line" which is another Tourist Artery.

PETERBOROUGH TO HAVELOCK

The paving of Highway No. 7 from Peterborough to Norwood was completed in 1947 and will be carried on to Havelock shortly.

LANSLOWNE ST. BRIDGE

A grant of $25,000 was made to the City of Peterborough in 1947 for maintenance of the Swing Bridge over the canal at Lansdowne Street. Tenders are now being called for painting it.

NORWOOD TO CLARINA

Surveys are to start the last part of August or early in September on the Ninth Line of Dummer Township, from Norwood to Clarina, to improve this Tourist Artery.

BURLEIGH TO APSLEY

Contract for rock crushing, gravelling, oiling the Highway from Burleigh Falls to Apsley and around Loon Lake was let last year, and this work is now going on.

THE WHOLE COUNTY

With equipment and manpower in short supply, a decision must be made as to what is most beneficial to the County of Peterborough as a whole. While the road from Ketchicum (Catchacoma) to the Northern boundary of Peterborough County will open a road for Tourists to get to Haliburton resorts . . . the undertakings mentioned here are more important to this district, and this road will be one of the next projects.

TO SUM UP

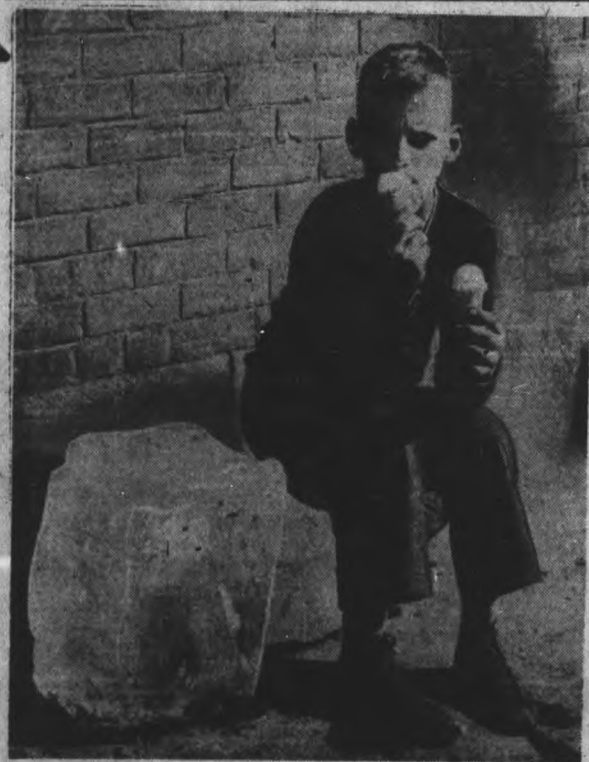

These are only a few of the many improvements the Honourable Harold Scott, your representative since 1943, and your candidate in this election, has been responsible for. To quote from a resolution passed by the Peterborough County Council commending Harold Scott on his visits to Township and County Council meetings: "We wonder how long it has been since the Member for the Legislature for Peterborough County has stood before us and given us the report we have had today from Harold Scott. He has been here on more than one occasion. Probably it is only the member's duty, but it hasn't been done in the past, the way he is doing it."

The above statements are not vague promises by irresponsible people, but by your member of the Ontario Government which comes before you with an undeniably sound and constructive record.

This issue—the real issue—next Monday when you visit the polls, is to keep Ontario strong with your member, the Honourable Harold Scott with his impressive record of worthwhile accomplishment for every part of the City and County of Peterborough.

HALT HEAT? — HERE'S HOW! — What are ice and ice cream for, if not to keep things and people cool. That's the argument of young Norman Guerin, of Montreal. He gets to the seat of the problem on this, Montreal's hottest day this year by depositing himself on a large cake of ice, with another one in reserve, and then arms himself with a couple of ice cream cones.

DOROTHY DIX

Pre-Marriage Blues Are Had By Both Men and Women

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am supposed to get married within a couple of weeks and I cannot make up my mind. I get the most nervous feeling and I do not know if it is against my fiancé, or if it is the thought of getting tied up for life. I think I love my sweet heart, who is everything that is good and fine, and I can't bear to think of life without him, but I am afraid to try it with him.

What shall I do? Will I be happy if I get married?—IN A PANIC.

ANSWER: Almost every man and woman goes through the same experience that you are having on the eve of marriage. They get into a panic in which they lose all perspective and which leaves them uncertain of their own feelings and what is best to do. They are so appalled at the finality of what they are about to do that their very bones turn to water.

They can see nothing but the dangers of marriage that loom sinister and dark before them. And, most of all, they feel the fetters snapping on their wrists and the horror of losing their freedom becomes an obsession, and for the moment they feel that no man or woman is worth the sacrifice that marriage entails.

Feeling Is General

There are not many brides and grooms who, if told the truth, would admit that they spent their bridal eve in a blue funk, and that if they could have made a decent getaway they would have done so. But even greater than their fear of marriage was the fear of gossip and the disapprobation of their friends, and so conventions drove them on to the altar, and once the marriage was an accomplished fact, all the bugaboos of their imagination had conjured up, vanished into thin air, and they started forth joyfully on their honeymoon.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: We are two boys 17 years old, and in college. We have been the closest pals for ten years. Recently we have both fallen in love with

EDUCATION

NEGLECTED

Premier Drew set up a Royal Commission on Education ONLY 4 YEARS AGO. The Commission ceased taking evidence almost 3 YEARS AGO.

Submissions made to the Commission indicated that certain immediate changes to our educational system should be made that were urgently necessary.

THREE YEARS have elapsed and no legislation yet to implement needed changes. Premier Drew is a Minister of Education. He, of course, was busy dabbling in federal affairs, so the welfare of our school children had to suffer.

AGAIN, NO PROGRESS IN 3 YEARS BY THE ONE-MAN GOVERNMENT.

the same girl. She is several years older than either of us, but she seems to care for us both very much.

Now do you think it is possible for my friend and I to maintain our friendship under the circumstances?—BILL H. H.

ANSWER: I am afraid that it isn't very easy for two boys who love the same girl to preserve intact their friendship. Jealousy almost inevitably creeps in and it generally ends in their fighting over her like dogs over a bone.

If you have found a boy friend to whom your heart cleaves as David's did to Jonathan's, a friend in whose loyalty your trust and with whom you have lived in close intimacy for ten happy years I really think that I wouldn't trade him for any girl. Especially at your age, and particularly when she is older than either of you.

My advice to you two boys is to hold to your friendship and let this girl go and find two other girls of your own age with whom you can play around.

DEAR MISS DIX: How can one heal a broken heart? For two years I went steady with a boy and now he has grown tired of me and given me the air. I am alone, unhappy and I wish I were dead. I am only 21 years old. How can I start all over again? How can I get back with the old crowd?—UNHAPPY GIRL.

ANSWER: Well, the first thing to do is to quit being broken-hearted, which you are not really, you know. It is not your heart that is hurt, it is your pride. You are humiliated by having the Boy Friend walk out on you.

But, at any rate, cheer up. There is no use crying over spilt milk, and no one wants a girl around who is sorrowing over a lost love. Especially is that not an attitude that makes a hit with men. Don't advertise your misfortune by telling everyone you meet your tale of woe. Forget it. Get some new clothes, give a few parties to which you invite the boys and girls you know, and that will get you back into circulation again. But your case shows how silly a girl is who lets any one man monopolize her and cut her off from all the other boys until the wedding day is set. (The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Trinity Mothers Fete Children

Trinity Baby Band Mothers entertained their children at a picnic on the church lawn Wednesday afternoon with 150 present. A happy play-time was most successfully carried through by separating the young guests into groups according to their ages. Races and scrambles for candy and peanuts gave every run-about child a chance to win a prize.

Committee in charge of entertainment was Mrs. H. K. Fallis, Mrs. E. Edmondson, Mrs. E. McWilliams and Mrs. F. Heard. Tea tables were set in the Sunday School room and decorated with a centrepiece, balloons and streamers.

The kiddies' laughter was proof of their pleasure at finding cookies in the shape of bunnies and cup cakes that had taken on the colors of spring. Refreshments were in charge of Mrs. K. R. Kempf, Mrs. R. G. Kempf, Mrs. L. W. Thompson and Mrs. R. M. Elliott. A movie film, greatly enjoyed by the children, was shown by Mr. R. Scrymgeour.

IODE Favors Compulsory Army Training

HALIFAX, June 4—(CP)—After going on record for compulsory military training for all Canadian youth, the 48th annual meeting of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire concluded here Thursday.

During the six-day convention, more than 400 delegates, representing 31,000 members of 933 I.O.D.E. chapters across Canada, elected a new national president, passed anti-Communist resolutions and heard reports of 13 national officers.

Chief resolution to come under discussion was the universal training recommendation which was favored because "adoption of universal training would foster deeper patriotism and strengthen Canada."

When they turned their attention to radio, they suggested the Order set up "listening committees" throughout each province to determine whether "Democracy is being undermined by radio programs."

They also urged the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation to make fuller use of commentators and newscasters who will impress upon the public a greater realization of the communist menace.

The federal government will be requested to set up a committee on information which would supply newspapers with information on the history and activities of subversive groups operating in Canada.

During the day about 300 out-of-town delegates were entertained aboard Canada's new aircraft carrier, Magnificent, which arrived here Tuesday. Commodore H. G. DeWolf announced the national I.O.D.E. Chapter had decided to adopt the magnificent.

Plan for Annual Picnic on July 8

MILLBROOK, June 4—(ENS).—The disciple, Matthew, was the worship study at the June meeting of the Women's Association of St. Andrew's United church on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Edmund Ball. Mrs. D. L. Lunn was in charge of the devotional period. Mrs. J. H. Barringer was at the piano, and the president, Mrs. A. R. Payne, was chairman.

The treasurer, Mrs. J. McKnight, reported $91.40 taken in at the rummage sale held recently at the L.O.L. Hall, Peterborough; expenses $10.10; net receipts $81.30.

To date for the hostess tea fund, $46.70 had come in, with more money to be collected. Later in the meeting it was decided to canvass for the fowl supper fund in the fall, rather than hold the supper.

No meetings will be held in

Of Interest to Women

IN REGAL MOOD — Elizabeth Taylor modelled this exquisite white metallic with grey and silver brocade portrait gown at recent Montreal fashion show.

July and August. The annual picnic was set for July 8, with the Memorial Park, Orono, as a tentative meeting place. Mrs. F. J. Smith and Mrs. P. L. Bentley were chosen as committee to charter bus, and make other arrangements. The personage convenor, Mrs. Bentley, reported on work to be started next week, and all outstanding accounts were ordered paid. A solo was given by Mrs. Jean Winslow and closing prayer by Mrs. Payne.

It may seem difficult, perhaps almost futile, to keep the energies and initiative on a firm and enduring foundation, in the face of difficulties, complications, delays and congestions. Want of co-operation, disappointments, postponements and discouragement may instill a desire to "throw in the sponge." A week-end of relaxation, diversion and attention to rebuilding incentives and gain a sounder vision, could be advantageous.

IODE Councillors Are Elected

HALIFAX, June 4—(CP)—National councillors were elected Thursday night at the final session of the 48th annual meeting of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire.

Ontario councillors include: Mrs. M. S. Somers, Tillsonburg; Mrs. Henry T. Ross, Jr., Sarnia; Mrs. W. N. Smith, Sudbury; Mrs. E. H. Lancaster, St. Catharines; Mrs. Ryland H. New, C.B.E., Oakville; Miss Ethel Raymond, Brantford; Dr. Charlotte, Whitton, C.B.E., Ottawa and Mrs. Leona Milen, Fort Nelson.

Home and School Association News

KING EDWARD SCHOOL
Miss N. Schell of Holland was guest speaker at the June meeting of King Edward Home and School Association. She told of the flower growing industry in her native country and the tulip exports, bulbs going all over the world and cut flowers by air to England. She also described the education systems in that country.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. W. Walde and thanked by Mrs. Chas. Wood.

Gail and Sandra Wood entertained with a tap dance. Community singing was led by Mrs. Jas. Goldie with Mrs. L. Monk at the piano.

All parents are invited to attend the school picnic to be held on June 23. A piano recital will be given in the school on June 25.

Members of the new executive and conveners were introduced to the members. Mrs. J. Stuart, president, took the chair for a short business period when reports were read. Miss E. Garbutt's room won the attendance prize. Refreshments were served at the close with Mrs. W. White in charge.

ment may instill a desire to "throw in the sponge." A week-end of relaxation, diversion and attention to rebuilding incentives and gain a sounder vision, could be advantageous.

For the Birthday
Those whose birthday it is, should take themselves in hand and school themselves in rebuilding their vision, energies and initiative if confronted by a static, congested or gnarled state of affairs, discouraging and depleting. It might be wise to change such vibrations of depression, defeatism, limitation, frustration and hopelessness by relaxation and attention to the physical health. Diversion, amusement and fun might be an excellent prescription, working along lines of least resistance.

A child born on this day may be indisposed to tackle the unpromising and frustrating conditions of life. Attention to physical energies could change its viewpoint, give a boost to its ego and modify its outlook of gloom.

Regiment Plans Annual Camp

Last official parade of the season for the 50th HAA Regt. (RCA) PWR will take the form of a smoker for all ranks on Tues-day evening.

The regiment has now finished training for the summer, but maintenance of ve-hicles and regimental duties are continuing.

About 40 officers and men are expected to attend summer camp.

Rambling Reporter

AND SHE COLLECTED TOO

Citizens out for a stroll on north Water St. Wednesday night caught a glimpse of what may well be the "ultra-new look". But grandmother would-n't have looked surprised; as a matter of fact she would have regarded it with an approving eye.

The object of all this at-tention was a pretty young miss dressed in an ankle-length black dress and a mat-ting jacket. It featured a contrasting waist band and sash. She wore a wide, flat hat of black velvet trimmed with sequins over which waved an enormous black ostrich plume.

And the reason for the reversion to 19th century style? Well, the girl's brother bet her $5 she would not walk two blocks on Water St. in her Halloween costume.—DW.

Weeds

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN to all Occupants and Owners of Property within the City of Peterborough that the provisions of the Weeds Control Act will be rigidly enforced.

Section 46 of the Weeds Control Act states: "Every occupant of land or the land is unoccupied, the owner shall destroy all weeds designated noxious by the Regulations as often in every year as is sufficient to prevent the ripening of their seed."

Occupants and Owners of Land are advised to exercise great care in destroying all Noxious Weeds before they mature seed. If these precau-tions are not taken, the Weed In-spector may exercise his authority and may enter on Property for the purpose of destroying Noxious Weeds. The co-operation of everyone is solicited in a general clean up of Noxious Weeds.

Obituaries

MRS. SAMUEL STANLEY DUVAL

After an illness of four months Mrs. Samuel Stanley Duval, 338 Stewart St., died Thursday in Toronto General Hospital.

Born in Sunderland, England, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Duggan, she was the former Georgina Duggan. She was educated in Sunderland and lived in Tyne, Ont., before moving to Peterborough where she has lived for the past 11 years. She was a member of St. Peter's parish.

She leaves her husband, Samuel Duval; three sons, James, David, and Walter; four daughters, Mrs. Arthur Coverly (Ivy), Mrs. Howard Steele (Enid), Mrs. Charles Murney (Jean Joyce), and Mrs. Pearl Webb. There are also three sisters in England, and 12 grandchildren.

The body lies at the Duffus Funeral Home and will leave there at 9:40 a.m. Saturday for Requiem Mass, 10 a.m., at St. Peter's Cathedral. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery, Young's Point.

SAMUEL JAMES HUNTER

Samuel James Hunter, 82, died on Thursday at the home of his son Eric, 240 King George St. Mr. Hunter had been ill for a short time. He was the son of the late William and Anne Hunter.

A retired farmer, he had lived in Peterborough for the past nine years and had previously lived in Cavan township, where he was born. He was educated at Cavan and at Peterborough Collegiate, and was a member of St. Paul's Presbyterian church.

He is survived by two daugh-ters, Mrs. Grace Brandon, of Washington, and Miss Elma Hunter, of Peterborough, also two sons, Eric of Peterborough, and Aubrey of Cavan township, and two grandchildren. One brother, the Rev. R. J. Hunter, of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, is still living.

The funeral service will be held on Sunday at 2 p.m. from Com-stock's Funeral Home. Burial will be at Grace Presbyterian cem-etry, Millbrook, and the officiat-ing clergyman will be the Rev. C. G. Boyd, of St. Paul's Presbyter-ian church.

Adopt Italian Boys

TORONTO, June 4 (CP)—Dr. Franco Pescetto, Italian phar-macist, physician and journalist vis-iting the International Trade Fair here, Thursday urged Canadian Boy Scouts to "adopt" boys in Italy as a good deed. He said a tent or same old uniforms would mean more to a Scout troop in Genoa than a month's supply of food.

To Have Books Available At Playgrounds

Books for children are to be placed at nine public playgrounds and totlots throughout the city during the summer months. Au-thorization for this scheme, which will be carried out in co-opera-tion with the Recreation Commis-sion, was given to W. L. Graft, chief librarian, at a meeting on Thursday evening of the Library Board. Plans are also under way for a vacation reading club for boys and girls of the city.

W. A. Richardson, chairman of the finance committee, reported that more than $1,000 worth of books were bought during the month of May, and that fines and subscriptions to date total nearly $500, which is practically up to the year's estimates.

The librarian's report showed that 3,864 books were in circula-tion during May in the boys and girls department, and 7,345 in the adult department. Mr. Graft again attributed the decrease in circula-tion as compared with last year's figures to the Saturday morning children's movie clubs.

A motion that the staff be given a half day each week in addition to a statutory holiday when such occurs was defeated. Before mov-ing the motion, which was second-ed by the Rev. E. C. Moore, A. E. Borland said that not sufficient recognition had been given to the request of the staff for a half holiday when a statutory holiday occurs. Mr. Graft pointed out that all other libraries in Ontario are given a half holiday, even when a statutory holiday occurs. W. A. Richardson said that a half holi-day on Wednesday was to provide recreation during a long week, but that in a week where there is a whole day's holiday, the half day is not necessary.

Mr. Graft reported on the new staff at the Library. Miss Mary Walsh, of Belleville, has been en-gaged as assistant in the boys and girls department, and Miss Mar-ian Smith, of Quebec City, as catalogue. Miss Helen Watson, of Peterborough, is now working as secretary.

J. C. Rutherford presided at the meeting.

CCF Only Effective Opposition Against Tories, Says Speaker

LAKEFIELD, June 4 (ENS)—"Premier Drew has a high regard for the CCF as the only effective party opposing the Conservatives in this election," said Leslie E. Wismer, CCF candidate in Riverdale, speaking in support of John G. Morton, CCF candidate at Lakefield last night.

"The premier in his Hamilton address a few days ago said specifi-cally that the CCF is not Com-munist. They are very respon-sible people," said Premier Drew. This remark must have embar-rassed many Conservative candi-dates.

"Our CCF program for agricul-ture is the program of the Cana-dian Federation of Agriculture. We are not telling farmers what to do. We have let the farmers tell us what they want."

Turning to the problem of housing, Mr. Wismer read from two letters. One from the Com-munity Chest over the signature of H. G. Kirkpatrick, asking that low rental housing be provided immediately; and the other from the West End Creche, which stated that out of the 120 families served by this day nursery 19 families of two to six persons lived in one room, 18 families lived in two rooms and one family of six lived in one attic room in Toronto.

New Low-Cost Housing "These letters indicate the press-ing need for low rental housing. build 20,000 low rental houses. We, in the CCF are committed to We will build them because no other matter more urgently re-quires provincial government at-tention now," said Mr. Wismer.

"In Saskatchewan over 90 per cent of old age pensioners get larger pensions than 90 per cent of Ontario old age pensioners. In addition," the speaker said, "all old age pensioners in Saskatche-wan get free medical, surgical, dental and hospital care."

DO YOU KNOW THIS GAG? ONE of the simplest, and yet slickest, gags used by keen declarers to bring in a long suit of the dummy consists of an apparent finesse on the first round, followed by the overtaking of an honor on the second. Not too many players, outside those in the upper strata, are familiar enough with the play to recognize the situations in which it should be tried. And only the barest fraction of those are eagle-eyed enough to note when it is being employed against them, so they are self-witted, use the only defense that can thwart it.

At the other table where South tried this old gag of veteran sharpshooters, East knew the device and recognized it. So he played low on the dummy's spade 10. That enabled him to retain the guard J for the third round, and block the suit, so that he set the declarer the same as if the sick maneuver had not been attempted.

Where North bid spades again on this duplicate deal, game was easy, with no excitement, one trick being lost in trumps and two in clubs. But at the several No Trump game tables there were three variations, plus slight variations of those.

Each time the diamond 5 was led against the No Trump games, Several Souths then took it on the chin. The first trick brought the diamond Q, K and A, then the spade K and A were scored and a club led toward the two

TORONTO MAN DROWNS AT HASTINGS

Rain Slows Bush Fires; Camps Burn

Two Worst Fires Cover About 50,000 Acres Each

By The Canadian Press

Several big, unchecked forest fires blazed today over 125,000 acres, or almost 200 square miles, of northern Ontario's vast bushland.

Some 2,000 firefighters hoped for a heavy downpour of rain to help them quell the devastating fires. Light rain and high humidity already had offered some relief and lessened the fire hazard in a few sectors of the flame-scarred north.

No longer "running wild" are the two worst fires in the densely-forested Mississauga and Chapleau districts. Each is still officially estimated at 50,000 acres. District Forester A. W. Leman said at Sault Ste. Marie that they had not joined and were still several miles apart.

Rain which eased the situation in some regions had not fallen in these two main trouble spots. Except near Kirkland Lake, where showers were "heavy," the rain had not approached the downpour experts said was needed.

In the northwestern Quebec district of Rouyn, a one-inch rainfall Friday helped fire crews put out small blazes. Quebec authorities reported fires in Louvicourt and Joncas townships near control and termed the situation there "encouraging."

Oregon Awaits Flood Crest

(AP).—Warning of the highest Columbia river flood crest this year squashed sickeningly on the water-logged Pacific northwest today.

D-Day for the great river's new assault on soggy, crumbling dikes of the already devastated lower valley is Tuesday, exactly one week after the smashing impact of its most disastrous flood.

On that day, said a veteran river forecaster, Elmer Fisher, the bloated Columbia will be 30.8 feet deep at Vancouver, Wash.—15.8 feet above flood level—and 30.5 feet at Portland, Ore. That would top the crest about six inches.

It may go even higher, Fisher said. The total already stands at: 1. Twenty-six dead. The city of Vancouver, Ore., drowned by the blow-out of a Columbia dike Memorial Day, spewed its first bodies Friday night. Both were children.

2. An estimated $140,000,000 damage in Oregon, Washington, Idaho and British Columbia. Fertile farms flooded, homes of almost 60,000 persons inundated or isolated, industries stopped, communications snarled, transportation crippled.

The first flood, down only inches from its peak, still hammers constantly at ever-softening dikes. The pounding will go on every minute, every hour, until the new crest crashes down the Columbia's 1,200 miles to the Pacific—if the levees hold that long.

Examiner To Broadcast Election Results Organization Set Up To Take Returns

Through the co-operation of radio station CHEK the Examiner will provide an election night the most complete election service possible to its readers. With the polls closing at 7:00 o'clock bulletins will be carried almost continuously from 7:15 until the final results are known in the Peterborough riding. Following which Pete McGillen, Examiner city editor, will give a complete resume of the vote in the riding.

The three candidates have been invited to broadcast a message to the people following the final tabulation.

On top of this local service CHEK will carry a complete summary throughout the province with results in the various ridings, party standings, etc.

Nfld. Argues Merits Of Two Plans

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., June 5.—(CP).—With commission government eliminated from the running, Newfoundlanders to-day argued the merits of responsible government against those of confederation with Canada.

But they were not impressed with the idea of going to the polls again to decide their constitutional future.

Commission government, which has ruled since the old colony went bankrupt in 1934, ran a bad third in Thursday's referendum, polling only an approximate 15 per cent of the votes cast an eligible 176,297.

For the other two it was a neck and neck tussle, with responsible government and the attraction of possible economic union with the United States—pulling out a slight lead.

The last official count issued showed a total of 449,525 votes were counted since the polls closed Thursday night. Of these 67,304 were for responsible government, 60,816 for confederation, and 21,405 for commission government.

304 were for responsible government with 45 per cent nor confederation with 40 per cent could get the clear majority of 51 per cent of the votes needed to decide the future form of government for the island.

There is still no official announcement on a second referendum, although close observers expect an announcement "about 10 days and estimate they will go to the polls in a few months."

No matter which future Newfoundlanders faced, they still knew that there would be still another election—to elect their representatives either to responsible government or to sit in the Legislature of a 10th Canadian Province.

47 Families In Tents After Quebec Village Fire

ST. VICTOR DE TRING, Que., June 5 (CP).—Almost half of St. Victor's population today occupied army tents in the valley below this Beauce county village where 40 buildings were razed Friday in a $500,000 fire.

Fifteen marquee tents, beds and stoves provided by military headquarters of the Quebec district were installed Friday night for 47 families left homeless in St. Victor's second disastrous fire in 17 years. Twenty homes burned June 5, 1931.

Relief measures were arranged at a meeting attended by the municipal council, representatives of the military and the Red Cross Society. Housing equipment was dispatched immediately from Quebec.

Destroyed in the blaze, started from an oil-heated chicken brooder, were 35 homes, the convent of Les Servantes du Saint Coeur de Marie, a bank, the post office, telephone exchange and an undertaking parlor. Several other buildings were combination business-shops and dwellings.

Whipped by a high west wind swirling up from the valley to the mountain-top village, the fire swept from house-to-house in little time.

Handicapped by lack of a water system, fire-fighters resorted to drastic measures in an attempt to check progress of the flames. One home was dynamited to force a break. Equipment of four brigades from neighboring centres were pooled to draw water from the Le Bras River to save the church.

Roughly half the buildings in the village were leveled.

St. Victor proper has a population of almost 500. But the parish, which was preparing this year to celebrate the 100th anniversary of its founding, has a population of 2,500 mostly farmers.

Russians Beat American Agent

VIENNA, June 5.—(AP).—

Authoritative British sources said today Russian soldiers abducted an American counter-intelligence agent Thursday night and beat him severely before releasing him the next day.

The United States Provost Marshal's office refused to confirm or deny the report of the incident.

British sources said this is what happened: Two British military police intercepted when they saw a man trying to force a girl into an automobile. A second man, later identified as a United States counter-intelligence agent, ran up and attacked the first man. The girl, an employee of the United States army, fled.

The military police loaded the two men into a car and headed for headquarters, but en route the men began fighting again, so the MPs stopped at the nearest Austrian police station.

While the two were being questioned a Russian officer and 10 n. all heavily armed, entered the station and, after a short argument, took both men away.

Witnesses reported they saw the Russians beat one of the men as they left the station. The British sources said it was the American agent.

Nehru Protests U.N. Activities

NEW DELHI, June 5 (Reuters).—Prime Minister Nehru of India to-day protested to the United Nations Security Council against enlarging of the UN Kashmir Commission's field of activities.

The Security Council Thursday empowered the commission, in addition to supervising a Kashmir plebiscite, on accession to the Hindu Dominion of India, to investigate three other complaints raised by the Moslem Dominion of Pakistan.

They are: 1—The question of a plebiscite in Junagadh, which the Indian troops occupied last year. 2—An allegation that murders of Moslems in India are part of a calculated Indian policy of genocide (racial extermination). 3—A claim that India is not delivering to Pakistan all the stores to which the Moslem Dominion is entitled.

"There can be no question," Nehru said to-day, "of the commission proceeding. If the commission is to visit India, the Indian government would like to know in advance the points or the points of which it would wish to confer."

Topples Into Trent While Fishing

Companion Tangles Line In Bridge In Rescue Attempt

HASTINGS, June 5. (Special).—Fred Baldwin, 39, of Toronto, was drowned early this morning while fishing in the canal beside the Trent River at Hastings. The man met his death near the drawbridge over the canal. Fishing companions were unsuccessful in efforts to reach the struggling victim before his heavy fishing clothing dragged him under the water.

The drowning occurred about 2.15 a.m. today. Baldwin, who lives at 446 Delaware Ave., Toronto, was a member of a fishing party from Toronto which motored down for a week-end of fishing. They arrived only a few hours before the tragedy.

An unidentified American heard his cries for help and called for assistance.

Charles Baker, 32 Sutherland Ave., Toronto, a member of Baldwin's group, ran to the scene. The man in the water called: "Cast, cast."

In attempting to throw the line to Baldwin, Mr. Baker's line became tangled in the bridge. He twice threw his fishing pole out at his companion, but was unable to reach him.

The man was recovered from the river shortly. For more than an hour and 20 minutes, artificial respiration methods were used in an effort to revive him. They were applied by William Emmons, Dr. D. Bell-Smith and Police Chief Leonard Potten, all of Hastings.

Coroner W. Baker, Campbellford, was called and pronounced the man dead at 3:50 a.m. It is believed that the victim slipped on the wet rocks while fishing in the canal.

An employee of a Toronto drug firm for 16 years, survivors of the dead man are his wife and a 19-year-old daughter.

His father, Herbert Baldwin, 84 Kenneth Ave., Toronto, was a member of the ill-fated fishing trip, which included also Mr. Baker and T. Batchelor, 41 Marguerite St., Toronto.

It was reported that it is unlikely that an inquiry will be held.

BRANTFORD, June 5 (CP).—Roy E. Everatt of London, Ont., to-day was elected Grand Counsellor of the Ontario-Quebec Jurisdiction of the United Commercial Travellers of America. He succeeds George E. Unger of Brantford.

What A Man

SYRACUSE, N.Y., June 5.—(AP).—Holding hands in a movie can be dangerous, Miss Mary Stone, 19-year-old Syracuse University co-ed, learned Friday night. Miss Stone told officials at hospital, where she was treated for a fractured arm, that her escort, Chester D. Marcus, 22, drew her arm "just a little closer to him." She did not know her arm had been broken until she left the theatre.

Cost Of Living Jumps To Record High

OTTAWA, June 5.—(CP).—Canada's cost-of-living index leaped to historic heights during April, using increases in retail prices of meats and vegetables as springboards.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported the index gained 1.7 point, climbing from 151.6 at April 1 to 153.3 at May 1.

A year ago the index, calculated on the basis that living costs during 1935-36 equalled 100, stood at 133.1. The rise since the outbreak of war in 1939 has been a marked 52.1 per cent.

Moving up sharply during the last month, the index shattered its previous high of 150.8, established in post-war 1920, early this year. The rate of rise then slackened to a fractional pace.

Although the bureau attributed most of the April advance to substantial increases in the retail prices of meats and vegetables, unofficial quarters said increases reflected the Canada-wide freight rate boosts which became effective during April.

However, apart from meats and vegetables, price changes in the food group were moderate. The food index climbed from 186.8 to 191.2 notwithstanding slightly lower citrus fruit quotations which partially offset scattered advances in other goods sub-groups.

Also reflecting the freight rate boosts were increases shown for coal, coke and gas, moving the fuel and light index from 121.3 to 122.7.

The rentals index advanced from 119.9 to 120.9, resulting from action of landlords who just now are taking advantage of the 10-per-cent increase in domestic rentals authorized last year.

The Canadian farm products index climbed sharply from 141.7 to 144.3—on increases in grain, potatoes, livestock, hides and wool. This index is up approximately 120 per cent over May 1939.

Aga Khan's Entry Wins Derby

EPSOM, Eng., June 5.—(AP).—The Aga Khan's My Love, 10 to 1 shot, won the 169th running of the Derby today.

Lord Volterra's Royal Drake, 10 to 1, was second, and the Aga Khan's My Love, 10 to 1, was third. Thirty-two colts from four countries went to the post before a crowd of 150,000 that included the King and members of the royal family.

It was the second time in the three days of the ancient Epsom Downs meeting that thoroughbreds wearing the Aga Khan's colors triumphed in the feature race. Thursday his Masaka won the Epsom Oaks Stakes, reserved for fillies.

The field was cut by one an hour before post time when the Irish-owned Solar Slipper was discovered to be lame. The colt apparently had injured himself in his stall during the night.

The Aga Khan purchased the winner, only recently from a Frenchman. Royal Drake, runner-up by a length and a half, also is French-bred. Noor was third by four lengths.

My Love, owned by the Maharajah of Baroda and the favorite at odds of 7 to 2, was fourth. Straight Play was fifth and Marcel Boussais the Djedda, on which the odds dropped to 8 to 1 shortly before the race, was fifth.

William Johnston was up on the winner. Gordon Richards, Britain's famed jockey, was up on The Cobble and again was denied a victory in this famed classic.

Three Prospectors Discover Uranium Ore Body East Of Tory Hill Village

Prospectors Swarm Across Territory. As Mining Companies Explore Mineral Possibilities

BANCROFT, June 5.—(Special).—Geiger counters went on a clicking spree May 21, when three prospectors walked over a radio-active deposit in the Wilberforce area, that is rated as one of the most valuable discovered to date. The find was made by Douglas Weaver, Lakefield geologist, H. G. Pitt, engineer for Fission Mines, Ltd., and Fred Walsh, a prospector from Tory Hill. Location of the ore body is near the village of Essonville, in Monmouth township between Wilberforce and Tory Hill villages. The three were prospecting on Crown land when they found the uranium ore and since that time the claims have been staked and recorded.

Mr. Pitt said the find was made four miles west of Wilberforce, in the same area where another find was made last autumn. The surface outcrop extends over 800 feet along the line of strike, he said, and the area has shown outcrops over a distance of three miles through properties owned by private individuals and mining companies.

As a result of the new strike another company has been formed and has purchased 500 acres in Galway township where lead has been discovered. The company is called Lead-Urs Mines, and the assay test of the lead reveals it is 96 per cent pure, but the quantity is unknown. They plan to spend $60,000 in Galway this summer doing exploring and development. Three men who are pushing this project are J. D. Weaver, H. G. Pitt, and Robert Crichton, a Toronto trucking contractor. They own 9,000 acres along the new strike.

Prospectors are using the new type Geiger counters which have a mechanical counter which indicates at once the number of radio-active impulses from an ore body. Previously the prospector had to try and count the clicks per minutes.

Arthur Shore, a prospector at Bancroft, has staked three claims of radio-active ores. Another man named Campbell in Montague is said to have made discovery which was radio-active when examined in Toronto.

At least six companies have been staking and purchasing THREE PROSPECTORS (Continued on Page 2, Column 1)

Age-Old Skeleton Aids Scientists

NEW YORK, June 5.—(AP).—

"Egbert," who met an untimely death about 62,000 years ago in what now is Lebaan, is in New York city.

During his stay, he may provide information on man's development.

Egbert, the skeleton of a boy about eight years old, arrived Friday aboard the Marine Corp.

specimens dug up by archeologists at Ksar, Akil, in the Antelias valley north of Beyrouth.

Scientists hope the skeleton will give them information about mankind's physical development from Homo Meanderthalis, with his sloping forehead and jutting brows, to Homo Sapiens, modern man.

The skeleton is embedded in a concrete-like mixture of clay, rock and other rubble. It will be shipped to Harvard University.

Debate Aid Program Cut Move Angers Senator Vandenberg

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP).—Administration hopes of restoring a $1,000,000,000 House cut in the American global aid program apparently rested to-day on Senator Arthur Vandenberg.

The Republican foreign policy leader who steered the Marshall Plan to Congressional approval in April was reported angered over the House of Representatives refusal to vote full funds for the Europe-Asia-aid program.

By voice vote the House Friday night approved a $5,880,710,228 total to be spread out over 15 months. The administration had set $6,532,710,228 as the minimum for a 12-month period.

Senator Tom Connally (Dem. Tex., ranking minority member on Vandenberg's Foreign Relations Committee, predicted flatly that the House action would be reversed by the Senate.

House passage came after a bipartisan group led by Representative Everett Dirksen (Rep. Ill.) and Sam Rayburn (Dem. Tex.) lost a spirited fight to put the trimmed fund on a 12-month basis and thus lessen the cash reduction. This move was defeated 148 to 112.

Israeli Forces Recapture Yibna Peak

CAIRO, June 5 (AP).—Israeli forces recaptured Yibna, peak of the Egyptian thrust into Jewish territory, and have cut off a "considerable" force of Egyptians who drove up the coast on the road to Tel Aviv, the Jewish high command reported today.

Israeli headquarters said Friday's Egyptian naval sortie into Jewish waters off Tel Aviv may have been an attempt at a "little Dunkerque" to remove the coastal spearhead. The Jews reported their planes and coastal guns routed four Egyptian vessels in the first naval skirmish of the Palestine war.

There were conflicting reports on the battle for Jenin, top of the Arab triangle in northern Palestine. An Iraqi communiqué in Baghdad Friday night said 5,000 Jews were routed there with a loss of 500 killed and 1,000 wounded, but Jewish headquarters in Tel Aviv said Israeli forces continued to "hold all positions captured in this sector."

Yibna, on the coastal highway to Tel Aviv, is five miles inside territory claimed by the state of ISRAELI FORCES (Continued on Page 2, Column 2)

Workers Strive To Save City

VANCOUVER, B.C., June 5.—(CP).—Army and civilian workers in the smelter city of Trail, B.C., on the Columbia river, 250 miles east of here, battled furiously today in an attempt to stem the rampaging waters of the flood-swollen river from sweeping into the heart of city's business section.

Heavy duty pumps and 12,000 sandbags were down in late Friday by the RCAF to help in the fight. The pumps and sorely-needed bags were greeted with cheers by the exhausted flood workers.

With former weather forecast, the higher temperatures were expected to result in increased runoff.

Columbia already had risen 9½ inches in the last 24 hours.

One hundred waterfront residents have been evacuated from their homes.

The public works department warned of a new threat to the defenses of the West Kootenay centre, The Columbia, which has already caused the greatest destruction in Oregon history, was debris strewn and the catapulting driftwood could rip holes in Trail levees.

Presbyterians Hear Story Mission Work

TORONTO, June 5 — (CP). — Mission work in British Guiana and in Moslem countries was described Friday night at the 74th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

Laura Pelton, formerly of Westmount, Que., executive secretary for Foreign Missions of the Women's Missionary Society, spoke. She recently visited that South American country.

Thousands of former East Indians living in British Guiana are "profoundly grateful for education they received from Canadian Presbyterian missionaries," she said.

Miss Pelton asked for more co-operation from Canadian church members.

Rev. Dr. J. M. MacGillivray, of Sarnia, chairman of the General Board of Missions, convened the session.

Improvement of the Christian teaching methods and youth leadership training were topics in a committee report read by Rev. Wilfrid T. Butcher of Toronto.

"There is lack of trained Sunday School teachers," said James Dutton of "Peterborough, in resulting discussion. "I would like to see teacher-training classes where teachers could be taught how to teach and what to teach."

Minimum salary for ministers should be raised above $2,000 a year, a committee under Rev. A. N. Miller of Brampton, announced.

Rev. John McNab of Kitchener was unanimously appointed editor of the Church's official publication, The Record. He had been acting editor for the last two years.

The Record's monthly circulation has increased from 23,000 in the last few years. Rev. W. J. Walker of Galt reported.

The Assembly approved a report given by Col. Charles K. Nicoll of Oakville "that all church publishing boards be co-ordinated by a single committee."

claims in the area, which embraces a section between Bancroft and Gooderham, roughly 20 miles long and nine miles wide. Bill Fairbairn, original discoverer of radium ore in the Eldorado area, has negotiated purchase of claims, it was learned in Wilberforce.

Three field men from the Atomic Control Commission, Ottawa, headed by Dr. Ellsworth, are reported to have spent three days in the field since the find was first reported, shortly after May 21.

It is reliably reported that at least 40 prospectors, representing several mining companies are in the area, and they have explored as far south as Peterborough County in some parts of Galway and Cavendish.

Delegates Appointed To District WA Annual

HARWOOD, June 5 — (ENS). — The social welfare meeting of the Harwood branch of the Women's Institute was held Thursday at Mrs. John Baker's summer home. Roll call was answered by "A daily health habit." Mrs. A. Lawton, the president, presided.

It was decided to send a box of fruit to one of the members, who has been ill. Delegates to the District Annual are Mrs. A. Lawton, Mrs. G. Hogg, Mrs. R. S. Johnson, Miss Lottie Drope, Mrs. Leonard McFarland and Mrs. G. U. Isaac.

It was decided to apply for the short course on "Modern Dress-making."

Mrs. J. Robson was convener of the program which consisted of Mrs. Crick giving a reading entitled "Why I left the farm," a piano solo by Mrs. Garnet Isaac; Captain Cox of the Salvation Army of Cobourg gave an address on the work of the Army and a reading by Mrs. Lloyd Stevenson entitled "Are you a crab, a grouch, or a wolf," completed the program. A baseball contest was conducted by Mrs. Robson, the winner being Mrs. A. Lawton.

The next meeting will be a euchre party in Harwood Hall.

Protests Using Mails For Indecent Literature

OTTAWA, June 5 — (CP). — The staid and sober House of Commons got hit by a risky Friday. It talked sex. It was all in the line of duty, on as praiseworthy an item as the post office department estimates.

John Diefenbaker, the long, lean Progressive Conservative member from the Saskatchewan riding of Lake Centre, injected the spicy subject into the proceedings. He wanted to know what the department was doing to stop the inflow of salacious and pornographic literature into the country through the mails.

Mr. Bertrand said he planned to seek clarification from the justice department on the post office department's powers to deny the use of the mails to indecent literature.

In the opening stages, Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced the appointment of Mr. Gen. B. M. Hoffmeister of Vancouver as Federal representative on the Fraser River rehabilitation and relief commission.

Mr. Howe declined to comment on reports that Canadian cattle ranchers in the United States will be resumed this summer.

Mr. Howe and Cecil Merritt, V.C. (PC—Vancouver-Burrard), clashed over Canada's contribution to the European recovery program. Mr. Merritt accused him of "disgracefully flouting" parliament and

Mr. Howe suggested Mr. Merritt be "a little sensible." He explained it was impossible to know how much money spent here would be from E.R.P.

Mr. Howe disclosed that Sidney Pierce, former Canadian Ambassador to Mexico, has been appointed Canadian liaison officer to E.R.P.

He said the program would require all the food staples Canada could produce, such as wheat, but fish and similar products were a "borderline" case.

Mr. Howe said there had been no appreciable drop in exports to the United Kingdom since drawings on the U.K. loan were suspended last month. Exports to Britain in the first three months of this year totalled $175,000,000 against $143,000,000 in the corresponding period of 1947.

Replying to suggestions by western members that the Hudson Bay sea route through the Manitoba port of Churchill be put to greater use, Mr. Howe said a shipping company official had told him that they were expecting more incoming vessels than ever before.

During study of the postal estimates, Mr. Bertrand told the chamber the government was not prepared to recommend a reduction in the war-boosted postal rates at this time. Expenses were too high and a rate reduction would create a deficit.

Cool air now covers all of Northern Ontario where temperatures are in the 50's this afternoon, skies are generally overcast and light drizzle is falling in some districts. The southern boundary of this cool air is advancing slowly southward across Georgian Bay and Haliburton regions displacing the warm, moist, cool front covering Southern Ontario. Temperatures in the warm air are mostly in the 60's. Interaction between the warm and cool air is causing showers and thunderstorms over Central and Southern Ontario. By Saturday afternoon the cool air will cover the entire province and on Sunday the weather will be clear and cool in all regions.

Hon. H. R. Scott Returns From Inspection Tour

The Hon. Harold Scott, Minister of Lands and Forests, returned Friday night to the city to continue his campaign to seek re-election for Peterborough in Monday's election after two days in the fire areas of Northern Ontario.

Mr. Scott reported finding a general feeling of optimism in the fire areas and that his order banning tourists in Northern Ontario was being extremely well received.

He flew over the Mississauga River section and circled south, west and north as far as the Gap between the Mississauga and Chapeau blazes and said that regardless of consistent reports that the two large fires had joined, he and his deputies could see no indication of it occurring except in a vulnerable narrow area in the eastern portion.

Rain at Sault

Mr. Scott flew to the Department's headquarters at Sault Ste. Marie on Thursday evening and was stranded due to rain from 4 a.m. until 2 p.m. on Friday; there was also a thunder storm and heavy downpour in the Franz area.

In summing up general conditions as he saw them on Friday, Mr. Scott said there was a much greater feeling of optimism among the 30 aircraft operators and the army of approximately 500 weary fire-fighters. The travel ban put on the Northern area, although radical, has been extremely well received by lodge owners, tourist outfitters, loggers and pulp companies. One resort operator in Sault Ste. Marie talked personally with the Minister on Friday and explained that although the stern measure was costing him $4,000 a day during this season, he agreed that it was the only method of controlling the emergency and that he was in complete agreement. The Minister said today that the restriction would be lifted as soon as the danger period had passed.

Students Visit Paper

Thirty-four school children from Bethel and Seagrave, near Port Perry, visited the Peterborough Examiner and radio station CHEX Friday. They saw how a newspaper is produced in all its phases. They watched the setting up of type on modern typesetting machines, the operation of a moulding machine and the printing of the actual newspaper.

At radio station CHEX, they were shown the announcing studios and control room and had the working of the equipment described to them.

The children from Seagrave were in charge of T. E. Emmons, and from Bethel in charge of Mrs. T. E. Clements. Mrs. E. Butt, of Bethel, and W. Crozier, of Seagrave, also accompanied the party. Dinner and supper were provided by the ladies of the Women's Auxiliary of Seagrave United Church.

Advance Poll Vote

Voting at the advance poll was described as heavier on Saturday than on Friday. The polling booth has been set up in the Rehabilitation Office at the Legion Hall. Only those who have a legitimate business reason for being out of town on Monday are eligible, such as travellers, railway men, or mariners.

Successful Bingo

HASTINGS, June 5 — (ENS). — There was a good attendance at the CWL bingo held in the Parish Hall on Thursday night.

Mr. J. Mulholland and Mr. J. Doherty called the numbers. Prize winners were: Mrs. Shortwood, Mr. Mulholland, Mr. John Lynch, Ann Walsh, Mrs. Herr, Mrs. Pantling, Mrs. Foster, Miss Geradine Faux, Mrs. G. Brooks, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Potten, Mrs. D. Walsh, Mr. Pantling, Mrs. Tom McMillan, Miss Foster.

The proceeds of the evening are going towards the purchase of parcels for the destitute children of Europe.

Drew Runs Into Heckling Speaks In Jolliffe Riding

TORONTO, June 5 — (CP). — The Ontario general election campaign ends tonight and the people of the province vote Monday. With leaders of the three major parties adding final touches of campaign oratory, the 290 candidates for the 90 Legislature seats prepared to complete their arguments and await the verdict.

Polls will be open voting day from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., EDT.

Premier Drew, Liberal Leader Farquhar Oliver and CCF Leader E. B. Jolliffe spoke Friday night. John Bracken, national leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, and M. J. Coldwell, national CCF leader, also took part in the speechmaking.

The Progressive Conservatives have 90 candidates in the running, the Liberals 88 plus two Liberal-Labor, the CCF 81 and the Union of Electors, which supports some Social Credit policies, 12. The rest of the field is made up of two Labor-Progressive Party candidates and by independents and miscellaneous groups.

Premier Drew ran into a wave of noisy heckling Friday night when he addressed a campaign meeting in York South, the riding contested by Mr. Jolliffe. A mixture of jeers and cheers greeted the Premier as he rose to speak.

"I did not arrange this specifically to show how the Communists carry on democracy," he said. "We have the CCF and Communists here together. You are hearing the only argument they've got."

Mr. Drew said every Communist would vote with the CCF and that the way to make a vote count was to cast it for the party he (Mr. Drew) led.

Mr. Oliver, speaking at Sarnia, said that if the Ontario government could not come to a taxation agreement with the Dominion, double income tax would be imposed in the province within a year. He said a Liberal government, if elected, would make "a real, honest effort" to reach an agreement with the Dominion.

Later, in a speech over a CBC network, he reviewed his party's 10-point platform and described it as "clear-cut and constructive, based on sound planning and sound management."

He urged all eligible persons to vote June 7. In the 1945 Ontario general election three of every 1

Down Bannister At 101

Frisky Old Girl May Have Set Record

LONDON, June 4.—(AP).—The stately Times mused for half a column today on the report that Miss Florence E. Dolph of Dunmore, Pa., slid down a bannister before breakfast on her recent 101st birthday.

"It is difficult to resist the feeling we have been told either too much or too little" about how she spent her birthday, the editorial said.

"We have no vestige of right to assume she spent the rest of the day in a rocking chair; she is far more likely to have been crouched over the controls of a helicopter, and if she was we ought to have been told about it....

"We do not even know whether she adopted the forward seat or whether she slid astride or side-saddle. These points are of more than academic importance to devotees of this exhilarating sport....

"On the whole, bannister-sliding is a lost accomplishment, and it is sad to think of the vast majority of the younger generation of this country growing up with none of that basic early training in the sport which is so essential if you intend to adopt this means of progression on your 101st birthday."

At a dinner meeting of the Central Ontario Division of the Industrial Accident Prevention Association, A. D. Ballie, works manager of the Burlington Steel Co., Hamilton, spoke to 150 members on "Safety Organization."

The dinner was held Wednesday night at the Kawartha Golf and Country Club.

Demand Apology

SEOUL, Korea, June 5 (AP).—Lt.-Gen. John R. Hodge today demanded a full apology from the Russians for the shooting of a United States military government employee by North Korean constabularymen May 26. The American, Karl S. Smith, was wounded four times superficially, shortly after he and two others had inspected a dam near the boundary line between the Russian and United States occupation zones.

Robins Get Preference

COXSACKIE, N.Y., June 5 (AP).—A family of robins will keep its nest on a coal conveyor here although it means Andrew Spenburgh must shovel his loads by hand.

Spenburgh, a 49-year-old trucker, already has unloaded 30 tons of coal by hand rather than disturb the nest.

"Wouldn't anyone do the same?" he asked.

At home, Spenburgh and his wife have two dogs, 15 cats, a goose and three ducks.

Minister Fails

To Get Nomination

MONCTON, N.B., June 5.—(CP).—The unexpected result of a Liberal party convention here to name candidates for the June 28 Provincial election has started New Brunswick political circles.

Called to name two candidates to contest Moncton City seats, the convention first named C. I. L. Leger to represent the French-speaking population.

Then, in a completely unexpected move, E. A. Fryers, a Moncton grocer, was named to contest the other seat. It had been almost a foregone conclusion that Hon. C. H. Balkeney, Education Minister who has represented the city since 1935, would receive the nomination.

The balloting at the convention was 214 for Mr. Fryers and 175 for Mr. Balkeney.

Slot Machine Divorce

RENO, Nev., June 5.—(AP).—Mrs. Anne E. Batchelor told newspaper men that her divorce Friday from Clarence E. Batchelor, editorial cartoonist for the New York Daily News, was financed by winnings from slot machines.

During her six-week stay here, she said, she hit $9 $15 jackpots on the 10-cent machines along with lesser winnings. It was enough to pay off her lawyer and court costs, she added.

Stallion Destroyed
FORT WAYNE, Ind., June 5.—(AP).—Hattushimo, white Arabian stallion which had been exhibited as the former steed of Emperor Hirohito of Japan, was put to death Friday because he was suffering from cancer. The horse, whose name was translated as "White Frost" was bought three months ago by Paul Hobrock and Charles McKinley of Fort Wayne.

DOWN THE CHUTE—A mass demonstration of firemen tried out one of the accessories of the city's newly-purchased aerial turret ladder truck Wednesday, a canvas safety chute, that would enable trapped fire victims to slide to safety in the matter of seconds; twelve or fifteen firemen slid down backwards and frontwards and proved to a large audience that it was away ahead of the former landing net technique.

Morton Criticizes Lack

Of Musky Hatcheries

Jack Morton, CCF candidate, spoke at Curve Lake and Lakehurst on Friday night.

Mr. Morton, talking on hospital plans said "When Mr. Millard was in Saskatchewan he met a fellow unionist from the packing plant in Moose Jaw. He told me about his little girl, who was taken seriously ill and required immediate hospital treatment. The attention that child received didn't cost my friend a penny. He was covered by the CCF government's hospital plan—and by that piece of legislation he saved more than $300 in one hospital bill. Last year more than 140,000 Saskatchewan residents received similar hospital care—without any worry about the bills."

The CCF candidate touched on game conservation saying "It is my opinion that one musky hatchery is not enough. Out of 27 fish hatcheries we have only one for muskies. If we are to keep the waters of this district a fisherman's paradise, we must be sure that there are plenty of game fish for tourists to catch."

Mr. Morton continued that he felt game enforcement "should be made a fact and not a myth. In two years we have averaged only seven convictions a year and as anyone knows it should be easy to get one a day."

To The Polls

We are now on the eve of the Provincial election.

There is no more important duty attached to our citizenship than the casting of the ballot. We say with great sincerity that in a Province such as ours it is of cardinal importance that every person who has a vote should use it. It is more than our democratic privilege; it is our duty. A slothful electorate is the tool of tyrants. With the example of Czechoslovakia and other eastern European countries before us we should not be worthy of the fine name "Canadian Citizen" if we did not vote.

It is not easy to vote intelligently. There are many slogans, many old-fashioned prejudices, much oratory to confuse us. Nevertheless out of the welter we must garner the kernels and reject the chaff. For it is our duty to vote, and to vote as knowingly as possible.

For whom should the electors vote? This newspaper will not say, for that is a private matter which should be decided by each individual voter. We can say this: Usually it is sound to vote not for an individual but for the party and policies which the local candidate represents. It is not the individual member of the Provincial Parliament who can best affect the affairs of the Province; it is the Party, whether it be the party in opposition or the party in power. Nevertheless, government in Ontario since the time of Howard Ferguson has been too largely centred on individuals rather than party—Ferguson, Hepburn, Drew. This trend is detrimental to party government, for the voice of the party becomes one voice—the voice of the leader. Therefore, it is essential that strong local candidates be elected, if government is not to become dictatorial. The ordinary Members of the Legislature must be individually strong to withstand autocratic tendencies of the leader.

For the convenience of our readers we list the local candidates and sketch the party platforms. The Conservative candidate is the Honourable Harold R. Scott, the sitting member and at present the Minister of Lands and Forests. He is a businessman and lumberman. His Cabinet duties have prevented him in the last eighteen months from giving as much time as he would like to the affairs of the constituency, but the importance of local affairs should not blind the electors to his use as a Cabinet Minister. The Liberal candidate is Charles H. Elliott, whose family has long been identified with Peterborough's progress. He is a retail merchant, and, like Mr. Scott, sincere and honest as the day is long. He is familiarly known as "Charlie", an indication of his popularity. The C.C.F. candidate is John G. Morton, a factory worker, a man well known in industrial circles and respected for his staunch stand against Communist sympathizers in local unions.

The Conservative party leader is the Premier, Colonel George Drew, a resident of Toronto, a man whose familiarity with financial and commercial leaders in Ontario, qualifies him to deal knowledgeably with finance and commerce. The Liberal leader is Farquhar Oliver, a young man among senior provincial politicians, but with many years of experience in the provincial house. He is a farmer by predilection. The C.C.F. leader is Mr. Jolliffe, by education a scholar, by conviction a radical.

The Conservative Government has gone to the polls on the pretext of wanting approval for the large Hydro expansion program. Since both the C.C.F. and Liberal parties have approved of this, the Conservative issue is not the Hydro but the Government's record. The Liberals have the most definite platform. It includes (a) increasing old age pension minimum benefits from $30 to $40, (b) elimination of the 3 cents a gallon gasoline tax, no amusement tax, no provincial income tax, (c) taking Hydro out of politics, (d) co-operation with Ottawa. The C.C.F. platform seems rather amorphous—it includes tax reduction and extension of social services (e.g. housing). It would seem that if social services are to be extended a C.C.F. government would not be able to reduce taxes.

We watch the electric results with interest. In our own riding there are hot issues—for instance the county roads. In this city the support the C.C.F. candidate receives from industrial workers will have special interest, in view of the split between C.C.F. and communist sympathizers in the electrical workers' union. It is assumed by many that the Drew Government will be returned to power. The times are good, the Conservatives' financial record notable. However, there might even be an upset, proving that assumption to be wrong.

Canadian Names

Two weeks ago we remarked in these columns that more than a quarter of the non-French speaking population of Canada is not of Anglo-Saxon stock. People in southern Ontario where the population tends to be more uniformly of British or Irish descent than in the Canadian West have the impulse to look askance at names which sound 'foreign'—at names which do not sound like English, Irish, Scotch or Welsh names. Nevertheless, these 'foreign' names are as Canadian as Anglo-Saxon names. The bearers of them may be second, third or fourth generation Canadians.

In the arts and sciences and in business in Canada there are famous names which did not emanate from the British Isles—names like Emanuel Hahn, Kriehoff, Hambourg, Zeller. The individual contributions of men with 'foreign' names to our culture, industry and science have been great.

In the domain of public service they are legion. There is the name of Senator A. Knatchbull-Hugessen; there are these members of the present House of Commons: L. O. Brethaupt, A. Hlynka, Karl Homuth, F. E. Jaenicke, F. S. Zaplitz. The substitute delegate for General McNaughton on the U.N. Security Council is George Ignatieff. The alternate chairman of the Foreign Exchange Control Board is L. Rasminsky, a really brilliant financial and banking expert. Canadians all, and most of them Canadian by birth.

The Canadian army had and has a splendid roll of un-British names, many of them old Canadian family names. In the late war it had Quartermaster-Generals like Maj.-Gen. H. F. Hertzberg, C.M.G., D.S.O., M.C. and Maj.-Gen. E. J. C. Schmidlin, M.C., and general field officers like Maj.-Gen. C. Vokes, C.B., C.B.E., D.S.O., Commander of the First Division and Maj.-Gen. B. M. Hoffmeister, C.B., C.B.E., D.S.O., Commander of the Fifth Division. There is also the name of Maj.-Gen. Sir Casimir Van Straubenzee, K.B.E., C.M.G.

Among the heroes of war are the Victoria Cross winners in 1914-18 like Cpl. Kaebler, Cpl. Konowal and Sergeant Zengel, and in the late war P. Q. Mynarski. What greater glory could a Canadian with a name like Smith have than to be listed among such 'foreign' names?

Truly, no names can be foreign to Canada. Greek, Slavic, Chinese, Dutch or Italian though the derivation of the names of Canadian citizens may be, they are Canadian names. Merely because Anglo-Saxon names are dominant in English-speaking Canada is no reason for assuming that they are exclusive.

Salut d'Amour

June. Sweet-scented, luxuriant, radiant June. The leafy month of June when roses are newly sprung, when skies are fair, fields are pleasantries and Love is on high. No lovelier time is there for love's parade, no sweeter season for sweethearts' vows. In hailing June we hail the brides, all the happy couples who this month pay their dues to Hymen. The season needs the complement of Cupid and Psyche whom it complements.

With gladness we hear the bells peal, see the pretty brides and their handsome consorts, and congratulate the trembling mothers and proud fathers. Let joy be unconfined. May blessings rain down on them all.

To the brides we give the admonition from Corinthians: "She that is married careth for the things of this world, how she may please her husband." To the bridegrooms Philip Massinger's advice:

To all married men be this a caution:
Neither to dote too much, nor doubt a wife.

To the parents and friends we recall John Selden's seventeenth century observation: "Of all actions of a man's life, his marriage does least concern other people; yet of all actions of our life, 'tis most meddled with by other people." Enough of advice; see, here comes the bride!

Trivia

By ALPHA

FASHIONS change in words as in clothes. It was not so long ago that a woman's ankle or leg was unmentionable in those terms. Polite people referred to her "limbs". Two hundred years ago the word "belly" was considered socially safe and sound. Now it is used only by the people who belch unstrainedly in public, or who are sufficiently pedantic to want to use the right anatomical word instead of the euphemism "stomach". Stomach and belly are not the same physical items; one is more exclusive than the other.

There are other euphemisms current—for instance "hose" instead of "stockings", though people are losing their primness about using "stockings". They even go bare-legged. That is another trick word—"bare". Like the word "naked", one does not use it, one says "nude". An American fetish is to talk about "sock-suspenders" when they mean garters and "suspenders" when they mean braces. In preferring suspenders to braces they are perhaps being merely snooty. "Suspenders" is a long learned word from the Latin; "braces" is short and elastic from Anglo-Saxon.

FASHIONS in English words vary with countries. For instance, "bloody" in England was considered until Shaw used it in Pygmalion as lewd, foul and unmentionable except in brawls. (It has some old religious association, being probably a contraction of 'God's blood'.) In Canada the word has only its literal meaning. Therefore, Canadian troops stationed for years in England and being used to a free vocabulary, adopted "bloody" as their newest swear word. When they came back home they found it quite pleasant to use that epithet at the dinner table—their wives and mothers did not know enough about the word to protest. Sin is pleasant if privately enjoyed. In British Toronto I have noticed a regrettable tendency to adopt the word. Genteel women in polite society who have British pretensions are beginning to pretend that the word is offensive to them. Young things wishing to appear bold and bright are using it daringly—again with British pretensions. It is comforting to realize that by the time it becomes a swear word in Toronto it will be in limbo in England.

THERE are two other words, good sound words, which begin with 'b' which are verboten—"bastard" and "bitch". Debased usage has rendered them unfit for drawing rooms. The word "bastard" cropping up in Shakespeare is one reason for Shakespeare's popularity in schools. "Bitch" is of course an unmentionable female, even when used to refer to a dog. It does my heart good to hear the occasional bold purist talk bluntly about his bitch's litter when he means bitch's litter. Recently I came upon this advertisement from the London Daily Telegraph:

Animal Lover wanted to share work of small modern house on bus route. 2 in family. Can bring own bitch.

THIS being the first Saturday of June, all the churches will be full of brides and the streets noisy with wedding cavalcades; every car tooting its horn. That is the most obnoxious part of weddings—the public noisy parade. There is even a wedding at our house. The bride-to-be is all affluter and pink with anticipation. Her mother is flustered, proudly busy, and for months has been working herself into a wonderful pitch of industry and excitement. In comparison with her, the bride is as unconcerned and calm as one of the camels she received as a present. During the last week the whole house is agog every time the door bell rings—it is either the postman or a local delivery van or the express wagon with more gifts. The presents are domestically referred to as "loot". Her loot, at the time of writing, consists chiefly of the usual silver and crystal and blankets (seven of these). There seems as yet to be nothing at all for the bridegroom—of course, he is the most unimportant thing at a wedding. The most useful gifts are a fly-swatter, a mouse trap and a can opener. Should I survive the wedding I shall probably let my readers into more of the domestic secrets.

ANTIDISESTABLISHMENTARIANISM has little to do with the greatly increased pigeon population of Peterborough, for many of them roost above Elm Tabernacle of Simcoe street and the adherents of Elm Tabernacle hold no brief for the Church of England. (I used the word merely to see what it would look like in this column—it is reputed to be the longest in the language.) To return to our pigeons, I have wondered why they have suddenly become so numerous and last week an old-timer of Peterborough who knows more gossip than all the Examiner's staff put together gave me what he swore was the absolute low truth. It destroys my own theory that the pigeons have emigrated from Toronto because they are now finding there is more corn in Peterborough on which to fatten. I personally do not put much credence in what he says and believe he is showing signs of senility. Anyway, here is his story. (I regret that I must keep the names of the gentlemen involved out of print.)

It seems that Mr. X is a great pigeon fancier. So is Mr. Y. They know each other and at first were merely friendly rivals. Then Mr. X imported a special, high-class pair of breeding pigeons, noted for their stance and plumage. He tended them as jealously as a hen does her chicks. Mr. Y, not to be outdone, imported to Peterborough a really superior pair, and guarded them as closely as a hen does her etc.

Alas, trouble brewed. Mr. Y's pigeons bred, and had a fine flock of young prize pigeons. Mr. Y was elated and took no pains to hide his pride. Mr. X's pair bred, but their progeny turned out to be just ordinary pigeons—no fine strut, no fine feathers. Next year Mr. X imported another fine pair of breeders. Again the same bad issue. Meanwhile Mr. Y's flock was growing by leaps and bounds—all fine, blooded birds. X's jealousy overcame him, so one night (several years ago), he secretly introduced his two pairs of pigeons into Mr. Y's roost! The result was that all Mr. Y's new pigeons were born to be—well, dare I say, bastards?

A BRITISH OPINION

WHAT! NO ROUND TABLE?

(Copyright in All Countries)

To Blossoms

Fair pledges of a fruitful tree,
Why do ye fall so fast?
Your date is not so past,
But you may stay yet here awhile
To blush and gently smile,
And go at last.

What, were ye born to be
An hour or half's delight,
And so to bid good-night?
T'was pity Nature brought ye forth
Merely to show your worth,
And lost you quite.

But you are lovely leaves, where we May read how soon things have
Their end, though ne'er so brave:
And after they have shown their pride
Like you, while they glide
Into the grave.

Canada's Fancy Livestock

(OTTAWA JOURNAL)

THE way Canadian livestock is appreciated outside this country is not generally understood. Yet purebred breeding stock, millions of dollars worth of it, are exported from Canada each year and buyers are constantly looking for more. It is one field in which Canada is rapidly becoming world famous.

There was a time when Canadians, Americans or South Americans desirous of securing the best to replenish their herds looked to the British Isles or Europe for foundation animals. Now they stay in Canada—even the British are investing some of their precious dollars in Canadian breeding stock. A brisk trade has been developed with South America and the West Indies and U.S. buyers combing this country.

That Eastern Ontario is not losing out in this lucrative business and that Ottawa district breeders can supply the kind of high grade stock required was evident at the All-Eastern Ontario Holstein Sale at the Colliseum last week. Out of 56 animals offered, Thereupon Mr. Y, knowing that X had imported a third pair of fine breeding pigeons, decided to burst pigeon-pride sky high. His own lot of purebred-cote was ruined anyway. He secretly let his pigeons make free with X's, and then turned his own and X's into the streets, in the hope that any further attempt X might make to breed fancy pigeons would be thwarted. They were. Now the multiplying results of this feud can be seen, or evidence of their presence, any day at the Library, on George Street, on the Bank of Commerce, the City Buildings, and, of course, at the home of the non-conformists, Elm Tabernacle.

No U.K. Witch Hunt

Action against professing Communists in the United Kingdom government service has long seemed desirable, but it must not be allowed to develop into the kind of excesses which have lately been witnessed in Washington. There may be something laughable in the spectacle of Hollywood reduced to a jelly of fear of "radicalism"; but there is something tragic in it, too. In the last resort, democracies must work out their own means of self-protection by their own democratic method. That is the only final assurance that it cannot happen here. — The Economist (London).

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Now unto him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think according to the power that worketh in us, unto him be glory in the church by Christ Jesus throughout all ages, world without end. (Eph. 3: 20, 21.)

There is one body, and one Spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling; one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all. But unto every one of us is given grace according to the measure of the gift of Christ.

And he gave some, apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers; for the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ: till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ. (Eph. 4: 4-7, 11-13.)

Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honour and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created. (Rev. 4: 11.)

NO MOURNING, BY REQUEST

Outdoors

With PETE MCGILLEN

LILACS ARE PASSING the peak of their flowering as the first week of June ends. Spirea bushes and hedges are cascading their flat white bloom in city parks and gardens, and along farm fences the wild cherry trees are humming with bees gathering nectar. Dining tables in many homes these floral days are brighter with vividly contrasting bouquets of spirea and dark red peonies. The late leafing locust trees are catching up with the maples and elms in spreading their shade, and meanwhile the dandelions have given to the winds the first crop of seeds to be blown about. In the tamarac woods the wild honeysuckle is in flower, and the country air is scented with the growing grasses. Haytime is near. Some farmers will probably tune up their mowers for the cutting early next week.

EVERY FISHERMAN thinks he knows more about fishing than his colleagues and most have their own pet systems for making the innocent members of the finny tribe find their way into the frying pan. Here is the opinion of a back country angler. He claims makers of spoon baits are crackpots and nincompoops. Why? Because they put the hook too close to the spoon. For instance, he claims a June bug spinner is a killer if the angler will attach a six or eight inch leader to the spoon shank, and put the hook on the end of this leader. Here is the theory. A whirling spoon attracts the fish, but when they see what it is they swim away, and the bait be it minnow or worm on the hook is ignored because the fish has its eye on the spoon. He claims, too, that fish will not strike the spoon, but often strike the sinker which is usually a foot or so away. In other words if the minnow is swimming (or being dragged) along on a hook eight inches back of the spoon, the fish will see it, after he has examined the spoon, and will strike. I have heard crazier suggestions that were valuable so maybe his plan will work. Try it.

PICKEREL HAD NOT been biting so good up to Wednesday but that same night, some beautiful catches were brought in. Ralph Fitzgerald, Aspley, snagged a ten pound walleye at Jacks Lake, and R. E. Grove, Warren, Ohio, got his limit within an hour, one a five-pounder. At Young's Point an American from Toledo, Ohio, caught five pickerel in 40 minutes—then they stopped hitting. He was using a yellow fly and a small silver spinner, and all the fish topped five pounds. Mr. and Mrs. Al Karlinger, Cleveland, are staying at Isle O' Mann lodge, Burleigh Falls, the second trip since the season opened, and they report the walleye fishing is out of this world. No reports have come in from the lower Trent, or Deer river, but at Marmora, the Crowe river is producing quite a number of dandies for the natives.

ONTARIO IS FACING its worst forest fire crisis in history, all because of human carelessness. At the time of writing 117,000 acres of white and red pine in the Blind River and Mississagi areas are ablaze. In the past there have been fires more disastrous from the standpoint of loss of life, but none covering such an extensive area. About 40 planes and more than 2,000 fire-fighters are battling the inferno, and reports from the north indicate this holocaust can be blamed on two trappers who allowed a campfire to spread. Weather conditions are conducive to further spreading of the vast blaze and unless heavy rains come, thousands more acres of prime timber will be lost. Surely no other mention need be made to stimulate the utmost care among all campers, fishermen, motorists and tourists. The forests and the cut over bushlands are very dry and a fire can start too easily. Don't throw cigarette butts from cars, and above all, watch that campfire. Any man who was ever near a forest fire need not be warned against carelessness.

BACK IN THE WAR YEARS, two nursing sisters, Sally Trotter, Peterborough, and Barbara McQueen, Collingwood, served in Belgium. Barbara was second in charge in the operating room of a 1,000 bed hospital, and Sally was on general duty. They both became so fatigued they vowed when the war was over, they would get a job where they could wear loafers all day. So they teamed up, and interested Barbara's sister, Mrs. Jean Croxethwaite, Hamilton, an ex-school teacher, and her husband, an ex-army sergeant in a plan to buy a summer resort. The quartet now own Jacks Lake Lodge, 40 miles north of Peterborough. It's a swell layout and the fishing for pickerel and lake trout in that spot is tops. A few years back muskies were introduced and these are doing well. Last summer the bass fishing was first class too. All in all, it looks as if they have a winning combination. Jacks Lake is in the heart of the prettiest part of the county, wild, rugged country with scenery that will delight the tourists.

FROM HERE ON bears are my friends—strictly top-bracket buddies. For some time I have been developing a dislike for turtles, with special animosity toward the snappers. Now I find that the honey eating bears like to eat turtles as well. A former Maritimer told me of seeing a black bear dispose of a big turtle. The bear had been parked along a salmon stream looking for a juicy fish when the turtle swam near. With a sweeping wallop the bear whammed the turtle ashore. Then it picked up the shellback and smashed it against the rocks until Mr. Turtle was a cold turkey. Bruin sat on his haunches and devoured the side dish. That's the reason for my sudden interest in the welfare of bears. These pesky turtles have been cutting a swathe of destruction across the Kawarthas for years, eating fish, young ducks and even young muskrats—and I have declared war on them. Don't misunderstand me, I have no argument with the painted turtle—No, this ultimatum is directed at the snappers.

KEEP THE RECORD STRAIGHT. There seems to be quite a number of anglers who have short memories regarding fishing regulations. Here is the set-up once again: Fishing for pickerel and lake trout in Peterborough county may be done from an anchored boat using live bait only. Fishing for pickerel and lake trout may be done from shore or any other permanent structure using any type of legal bait either natural or artificial. In case that is unclear, it might be said this way. Trolling with artificial bait is strictly illegal until July 1. Jacks Lake anglers and Stony Lake anglers please take special notice of this. Bass and muskies season opens July 1. At present small mouth, and large mouth bass in the hundreds are on the spawning beds. If you want good fishing in years to come, protect them. Any muttonhead can catch bass now, but if he does, the hatch this spring will not be adult fish five years from now. A pair of bass usually produce 5,000 eggs—this could mean 5,000 more bass, if the public does a bit of policing.

PETERBOROUGH FISH AND GAME members are doing everything to make the visit of the Federation of Anglers and Hunters a success. The executive meets here Saturday and Sunday, and will visit Deer Lake hatchery Saturday afternoon. Saturday night, Hon. Harold B. Scott, Minister of Lands and Forests will extend personal greetings to the delegates at an informal meeting specially arranged through the courtesy of the local association. Some of the visitors are expected to bring their fishing tackle, and if they do, guides will be required to show them around at Burleigh, Young's Point or at any of the other favorite spots. Deliberations start Sunday at 11 o'clock and two of the items up for discussion will be zoning and an official publication for the organization. Vivian Sutton, president from Windsor will be in charge. Reg. Hannam, Hamilton, is secretary.

RANDOM CASTS: First broods of robins are cheeping in their spotted plumage from panel fences and shed tops, these balmy June days. Sparrows are screeching from birdhouses which should be renovated so that the front door will accommodate only the wrens or the swallows.

After 70 Years Blairton's Iron Mine May Again Bring Prosperity

By W. M. PLATT

With the shipping this week of several carloads of iron ore from the old iron mine at Blairton to the smelters at Niagara Falls, N.Y., for tests, the attention of this district is centred on that spot, with the hope that it may again become the thriving community that it was 70 years ago. Blairton is situated a few miles east of Havelock, about 200 yards from No. 7 highway on the west shore of Crowe Lake. It was once the centre of life for more than 700 inhabitants and today is the location of two farm homes. It was named after Mr. Blair, a Scotsman who settled in this area. The actual mining dates back more than a century when an English company started operations, but it was not until about 1866 that the iron ore deposits gained prominence. In the fall of that year, United States capital was interested and a syndicate offered to take part in the amalgamation of the Cobourg and Peterborough Railway Company, and the Marmora Iron Company. Pittsburgh investors supplied $430,000 and Edward Burstell of Quebec invested $130,000. Work was begun immediately and the village grew so rapidly a post-office was opened on August 1, 1867 with Roger Bates as postmaster. It was the first post office to be opened between Marmora and Norwood.

Once bustling with 300 miners delving for iron, it was the first settlement in Canada that could claim the title of a mining centre. The work was mostly done with pick and shovel, with a few steam drills which were not very satisfactory. The village was laid out in the form of a big "H". The original map is still in the possession of William Auger, whose father, John S. Auger, as mine manager, found it necessary to make several trips to England for skilled labor for the mine.

From 1868 to 1873 the village was in its prime, for during these years the largest quantities of ore were mined. The peak production came in 1869 when 15,000 tons were shipped. The early summer of 1874 was marked by a visit of the Earl of Dufferin, governor general, and Lady Dufferin, who were the guests of Col. Campbell. The vice-regal couple inspected the mine and visited residents of the village.

At that time the business streets on which were situated seven stores, two bake shops, two saloons, four hotels, several liveries, blacksmith shops and other dealers. Of these buildings the leading hotel, the Purdy House, remains. The Methodist Church still stands. The parsonage however was dismantled and shipped west and rebuilt on a farm near Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan.

The present school was erected in 1890 and contains some of the double desks and a blackboard from the original school, a log structure which was destroyed by fire in 1887. There was also a railway station and telegraph office. Miss Auger was telegraph operator there for a number of years.

The ore was transported by a company-owned railway with a narrow-gauge track to the "Narrows" (Trent River), then shipped by boat to Harwood on Rice Lake where it was reloaded into cars and taken to Cobourg. From there it was shipped across Lake Ontario to the Pittsburgh smelters.

Although it was a water route that helped develop Blairton, it was a water route that brought doom to the village. With freight rates about $4 a ton, the introduction of the Canadian canal system opened the way for cheaper importation of foreign ores. Added to this factor, the discovery of rich mineral deposits at the head of Lake Superior forced the company to abandon production.

Then years after the last ore was taken out, the mining property, land, and dwellings including the railway were sold to Tom Pearce of Marmora. During World War I the rails were ripped up and re-laid behind the Allied lines in France to speed up the shipments of supplies. The last of the machinery was sold as scrap in 1914. After the plant was scrapped, Blairton practically disappeared and only two water-filled pits mark the actual mine. Observers believe, however, that the shipping of iron ore during the past few days may be the means of re-opening this mine again.

Early History Of District Recalled By Dr. Spragge

By HELEN MARRYAT

A new book in the Peterborough Library is the John Strachan Letter Book, 1812 to 1834. Published by the Ontario Historical Society, with copious notes by the Editor, Dr. George W. Spragge, this book will fill in many gaps in the early history of the old Newcastle District, in which Peterborough County lay until the formation of the Coborn District in 1841, on the 14th of October. Dr. Spragge has searched numerous sources of information beyond the reach of the average reader, and his notes have a range and wealth of detail, which makes the Letter Book a Reference work of great value.

Although Dr. John Strachan's connections with early Peterborough were not very intimate, he was as 1st Bishop of Toronto, the head of the Church of England in this Diocese. It is rather as "the most consummate politician in the country," as Dr. Spragge calls him, that his name is either blessed or cursed, depending upon, and according to, the impact his powerful personality made upon the life and opinions of the early settlers in Upper Canada. Your Scotch forbears may have known him as plain "Jock Strachan." Your English ancestors, dating back to the Conquest, perhaps, may have shuddered to think that a Scotchman from Aberdeen had been made a judge and a ruler over them; and they may have offered silent prayer for the return of the day when the Sons of England would come in their own again. Your Irish may yet rise in remembrance of the disputes over the Clergy Reserves. If you are of United Empire Loyalist descent, your opinions on a great many questions may have been formed for you in the days when young Dr. Strachan was displaying an attitude of repugnance towards your Methodist forefathers.

In his Preface, Dr. Spragge notes that Strachan "feared the Methodists because of their connection with the United States," "otherwise, he despised them." "The Methodists are making great progress among us," wrote Strachan in 1807, "and are filling the country with the most deplorable fanaticism... they will bawl, twenty of them at once, tumble on the ground, laugh, sing, jump and stamp, and this they call the working of the spirit..." (Page VII).

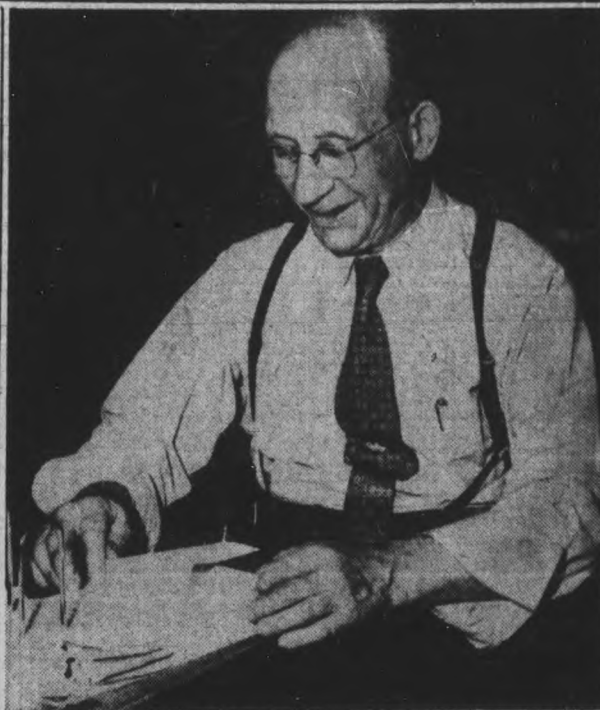

In answer to this outburst, Dr. Caniff, himself a Methodist and a descendant of the Loyalists, came to their defence in his "Settlement of Upper Canada" in 1801. That the Methodists were disloyal, he denied, recalling that the first Methodist preachers both in Upper and Lower Canada, had been connected with the British Army... "Tuffy and Neal. There were those who regarded the holding of camp meetings as questionable, but in the infant days of the country they were gatherings, held in the depth of the forest, awakened the same feelings of awe and veneration that others experienced in the cathedrals of the old land.

The first camp meeting was held in 1805, just a year before the newly ordained Strachan had expressed his opinion of such informal and unorthodox worship. On the shore of Hay Bay, whole families met, having prepared for the pilgrimage for weeks in advance. The meeting commenced on Sept. 7th, and was characterized by deep religious feeling. There are a great many people living today in this district whose forefathers attended that first camp meeting.

Strachan tangled with the Methodists over the system of education to be adopted in Upper Canada. He favored strict control... as the head... but firmly believed that the guiding hand, should be that of the Church of England. In 1844, the Rev. Egerton Ryerson was made chief superintendent of education, and the Common School Act was passed by a reform government.

In the York "Observer" of Jan. 17, 1882, the Hon. James Crooks was reported to have taken part in a parliamentary debate to legalize marriages solemnized by Methodists, and to have said that this bill should make valid marriages heretofore contracted. He "hoped in God it would take place." In 1823, the Assembly, according to the Rev. C. P. Mulvaney, passed the law enabling Methodist ministers to marry their people, "but the Upper House, acting under Dr. Strachan's influence, threw it out." In 1828 the Methodists of Upper Canada separated from the Methodist Church in the United States, and in 1829, Marshall Bidwell passed a bill empowering any Christian minister to perform the marriage ceremony in Upper Canada.

When Bishop Strachan died at Toronto, November 1807, his old-time opponent, the Rev. Dr. Ryerson, wrote "a hearty tribute" which may be found in The Life of John Strachan by his successor, Bishop Bethune. This book and the John Strachan Letter Book offer a picture of men and events which helped to form the opinions of our ancestors.

ROBERT HENDRY

Bob Hendry For 37 Years Been Goodwill Ambassador

By NICK NICKELS

The first man you meet in the J. J. Turner and Sons showroom is, invariably, genial Bob Hendry. He is known as the shipper but no matter how you look at it, he has been the firm goodwill ambassador for the past 37 years. Most people think of shippers as burly fellows in solid canvas aprons, their hands stained with stencil ink but Bob is as far from this description as possible. Always an immaculate dresser, he never looks ruffled even when bundling up a canoe in hay and burlap for shipment to some far-off place.

Bob served his apprenticeship as a grocer in Glasgow where he worked with his brother. He claims that Old Country training in the grocery trade helped him in later years in the shipping business. If neat packing is the answer, you will go a long way before finding as tidy a warehouse and shelves as he keeps. Before World War Two, much of the wrapping business was done with burlap which then disappeared. It was a matter, then, of encasing a shipment in this material and holding it together with steel screws while sewing the edges tightly together with a huge eight-inch curved needle. The firm during the war had to swing to paper wrapping and they find it makes a neat job. Bob still has his original needles and set of screwdrivers that the firm supplied him with 40 years ago.

When Bob came to Peterborough from Glasgow, he remembers first meeting his brother Tom, who was then shipper at the Peterborough Canoe Company, and starting in to work with him the very next morning. He stayed with the boat business for two years before going across the street to the tent manufacturing firm and has been steadily employed ever since, except for four years overseas during The First World War. He received a packet of shrapnel in his jaw and right forearm at Vimy Ridge which he can still put his finger on.

As shippers the world over, he finds no excitement in packing and forwarding goods to far-off places. There are interesting items such as ice cream canvas containers, tarpaulins and horse blankets to the West Indies, tents to the British Isles and canoes to the rim of the Beaufort Sea. Bob tells of one large series of shipments during The Second World War, tents complete with poles, pegs and mallets packed in cases weighing 960 pounds each; they were covered with tar paper and eventually reached units of His Majesty's Forces on some foreign land by being floated ashore from ships.

Work is not the main interest in Bob Hendry's life and as far back as 25 years ago he teamed up Jack Smith, friend and fellow Scot, in the Peterborough Pipe Band. Jack was pipe major and Bob drum major and since both men had an amazing amount of personality and background, it was no trouble for them to organize a pit team called the "Singing Scots." Their performances have great appeal and are something along the line of the entertainment that made Sir Harry Lauder famous. Neither of the boys are aspiring to these heights, however, but their offerings are as popular now as they were when they started 25 years ago.

After living and working for 40 years in one place, a man is bound to form some very definite opinions on the matter. Bob's are very forthright: "I have travelled in Canada from the West to the Maritimes and seen quite a bit of other countries, too," he said, "but Peterborough is the spot for me; I like the people."

It is not a very odd thing, therefore, that there are a lot of people who also have a great admiration for Bob Hendry.

Westclox Gains A Victory Against Ashby's

Westclox moved up into a top-place tie with Marines in the Girls' Softball League last night at the Bowl when they defeated Ashby's 12-8 in a tidy tilt. There was a good crowd on hand till the rain chased them in this twin bill, but the ump kept play going. E. McFadden was hurt in the second inning and finally had to retire. The hitting was quite even, but Ashby's errors made a difference. B. Reid relieved D. McFadden in the fifth and pitched good ball. H. Waite turned in a good chore for Westclox. Seven Ashby batters fanned and 11 Westclox hitters went down on strikes, seven by Doris McFadden.

V. Dorrest and I. Clarke for Westclox, and E. Simpson and J. Reid for Ashby. The winners at bat with a homer and two singles in four, as J. Vass and I. Clarke also hit four-baggers. D. Manley and J. Reynolds had three hits each for Ashby's, one of the former's being a triple, and G. Dracup bashed out a round-trip blow.

Watson And McCready To Tackle Mask and Henry

For his last wrestling program of the current season Manager Jim Laidlaw has dug rather deep financially to bring to the Brock Arena a team bout that should produce the very pinnacle of action and mat thrills. Against the team of Jim "Goon" Henry and the Masked Marvel will be the team of Earl McCready and Whipper Billy Watson, the British Empire Champion. Whip regained his title Thursday night in Toronto.

The Whip was prevailed on to come here on Wednesday after he heard of the loss served his pal Pat Flanagan here the other night. Adding such a man as Whipper Billy Watson to the well-known power possessed by Earl McCready makes a team that should spell curtains for the Mask and the Goon.

An official condition of the match is that if either the Marvel or the huge Henry loses the final fall the Mask must reveal himself. Nick Vicarelli the local lad who did so well against Juan Lopez until he ran into those heavy boots to the ribs, wants another chance at the Mexican. Manager Laidlaw is trying also.

Quakers Take Win Over Canoe Crew

Quakers took an 11-8 Industrial Softball League win from Canoe Co. last night in a tidy tilt. The winners were held to six hits by Schofield, who whiffed no less than 17, but he was wild in several innings to walk nine, which, along with Canoe Co. errors and timely Quaker hits, accounted for the Q.O. triumph. The losers had 12 safeties as 15 of them went down swinging against Shine's good twirling. Dixon led the winners at bat with a homer and single, while R. Mongraw had a homer and two singles for the other side. The teams:

Some Diamond Dope

And today's baseball setup. Senior Petes play Kingston Locos a COBL fixture at three this aft in Riverside Park, while the intermediates and junior Aces are in Bowmanville, and the junior Bees in Whitby. Tommy Foley finally agreed to come out and play for the Petes and may take over right field to help out Joe Stewart in left and Jack Mackness in centre. Foley is a fine general and a great cover-upper for garden mates. He wasn't fussy about turning out this season but Eddie Murphy talked him into it, and it's good news. A classy-around ballster.

There's an exhibition men's softball tussle tonight at eight in the Bowl between Dalton Furriers and the R-E Combines. The Furriers are a powerful senior Toronto outfit, with Cam Ecclestone and Hal Brown as hurlers and Turk Broda catching. Other ace players with 'em are the two Pidderny boys, Hank Rosen, Red Herron and others. Big Cam and Hal have both promised to be here for this joust as well as pugy Turk, the Leafs' great goalie. Bob Strickland, Ken Guilfoyle and Ron Akers are all available for slab duty with the Combines. Given good weather, the tilt should draw well.

Marines Look Good

Currently coasting cozily atop the Girls' Softball League, Outboard Marines—twice intermediate champs here and last year senior finalists—look stronger than ever this semester. Manager Albert Watkins and Coach Gord Reynolds have a promising array of diamond talent lined up. Three pitchers, Marj Downer, Marg Connolly and Eleanor Whitaker, with Bev Larmer catching. Shirley Curtis and Mildred Hill are both on deck for the initial sack, with 15-year-old Ann LaPointe at second, Marg Behan on short, Vera Mitchell at third, and Linda Jordan, who is only 13, a utility infielder. In the garden are Peggy Cheel, Edna Smith, Betty Smith and Marj Stephenson. Yes, they should be do all right.

Despite a dispiriting sprinkle of rain at times, which the ump ignored, two girls' games were run off at the Bowl last p.m. before a goodly gathering for awhile. CGE played fine ball behind good pitching by Marg Selkirk to beat Lindsay 15-7, as M. Sanderson and R. Hewitt stood out defensively. They really bashed the ball. Marg has played a lot of good ball in this loop, pitching, fielding and hitting. Westclox took the other one from Ashby's 12-8, which is close enough, and the Ashby pitching was okay but their fielding not up to par. H. Waite also pitched well for the winners. E. McFadden was hurt and had to retire. The standing is in elsewhere and the games Monday are: Lindsay vs. Westclox, and Marines vs. Lock Co., with CGE going to Lakefield.

More Lacrosse Here

Intermediate "B" lacrossers got organized Friday p.m. at a meeting and workout in Miller Bowl. Players present included: Jack Thomson, D. Hewitt, Renwick—from out of town—Ted Lynch, Jack Carter, Adolph and Nick Caravaggio, Mike Crowley, Al Revoy, Jerry O'Toole, Gord Ellis, George Hill, Frank Marino, J. Williams, Bill Willis, Eric Basclano, Tony Caravaggio and Bill Edgar. Maybe another one or two we missed. The executive consists of Tiger Hewitt, Gord Ellis and Doug Miller Jr. Next practice is Monday at 6.30 sharp in Miller Bowl. More on them later.

UP AND DOWN SPORTS' RIALTO: Soccer match here today betwixt Lindsay and Legion; a meeting Tuesday... Legion puckists meet at Ned Vitarelli's place Monday p.m. to canvass for the rink... Schofield and Shine had a flock of strikeouts as Quakers beat Canoe Co. 11-8 last night; industrial tilt Monday is De Laval vs. Drafting at Quaker... Men's frays Tuesday: Comstock's vs. Combines, and Knights vs. Legion... Open drill for Legion softballers Monday p.m. at 6.30 before the Armouries... Petes' COBL-ers play in Kingston on Tuesday... Walter Dinesen is looking after the north-west juvenile ballsters, who need some used gloves; phone Walt at 2-0847... East City took an 11-5 win from the southenders last gloaming... Port Hope blanked Newcastle—who had previously lost to Bowmanville—by a 14-0 intermediate count the other night; and Cobourg won from Whitby 14-2... The Cobourg juniors knocked off Bowmanville 4-1 recently... And this is where we knock off.

Newark Rookie Bob Porterfield Gets 4th Shutout

By The Associated Press
Bob Porterfield, outstanding rookie right-hander of Newark Bears, continued to roll along in his quest for top International League pitching honors.

The highly-regarded Major League prospect gained his ninth straight victory without a loss Friday night as he pitched the Bears into first place with a 6-0 conquest over Syracuse Chiefs. It was his fourth shutout of the year.

Bud Bestlet, Ted Sepkowski and Ford Garrison sparked the Bears 11-hit attack by getting two hits and driving in two runs apiece with Sepkowski and Garrison including homers among their blows.

Montreal's third-place Royals battled the last-place Toronto Maple Leafs to a 4-4 tie in a game that was called at the end of five innings because of rain. Oscar Grimes and Harry Rackley homered for the Royals.

Rain also halted the game between Rochester Red Wings and Buffalo Bisons with the Wings winning 6-5 in seven innings.

Rookie Frank Oravino's three-run homer in the fifth inning provided the Wings with their margin of victory. Chet Laabs belted his 12th of the year for Buffalo in the fifth with one on. Jersey City Giants edged Baltimore Orioles 4-3 in 10 innings with Bobby Blatner singling home Hal Bamberger with the go-ahead run.

The Leader of the Ontario Liberal Party persists in centering his campaign around the personality of the Premier. On Saturday last he devoted the whole of a broadcast, lasting half an hour, to a biographical sketch of Mr. Drew. The stalwart figure of the Premier must invade Mr. Oliver's dreams, for it has become an obsession with him.

Among other assertions by means of which Mr. Oliver is seeking to discredit the Premier, is the reiterated charge of a "one-man government." The phrase, "Our one-man government," appears throughout his speech, and Mr. Oliver entered his peroration with the statement: "Eliminate Mr. Drew and the Conservative Party in Ontario will literally cease to function." Besides being rather an extravagant tribute to the energy, skill and administrative brilliance of one man, this assertion has no foundation.

If Mr. Oliver thinks that the Provincial Government is run by one man, he must regard the other Cabinet Ministers as nonentities. But the Ontario Liberal Leader was held in no such high regard by former Prime Ministers as to be given a major Cabinet post, and his record does not compare favorably with the present head of the Department which Mr. Oliver administered without any great distinction.

The administrative records of the Ministers in the present Provincial Government prove that they constitute a competent team. Departmental records of the past five years show that they have more to boast about than had Mr. Oliver, who served as a junior member of that wavering Government that presented the Province with three Premiers in a year.

Consider, for instance, Mr. Leslie Frost, the Provincial Treasurer, and undisputed master of the fiscal affairs of the Province. He is paying off the Provincial debt and providing unprecedented sums for grants in aid of municipalities.

Fan Is Bawled Out For Interference

TORONTO, June 5—(CP).—Sportswriters, who direct most of their critical literary efforts toward players, occasionally unload their venom on the spectators.

Recently Don (Sudbury Star) Macintosh used an open letter to chastise the behavior of an on-looker at a Nickel Belt League baseball game.

He said:
"Today Harry Marchand, through your foolish caper, is in the hospital at Copper Cliff. You are permitted some consolation in knowing he spent a more or less comfortable night under the circumstances."

The writer then castigated the unidentified "Mr. Brownsuit" for running out and intercepting a foul fly—an action which caused a collision and cost the player face and leg injuries.

Don concluded on a note of instruction to all tempted to repeat Mr. Brownsuit's mistake. "It is just plain unfair to the athletes on the field to have foolish people like yourself creating hazards."

Indians Blank Senators 5-0 In 15 Innings

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The American League lead, which had changed hands in two previous Philadelphia-Cleveland series, goes on the block again in Shibe Park today.

The Indians moved into Philadelphia for four games with Connie Mack's amazing Athletics. Currently Cleveland has an eight-point margin over the Athletics.

Cleveland suddenly exploded for five runs after 14 scoreless innings at Washington Friday night and beat the Senators 5-0 in a 15-inning thriller.

The Indians put together five hits off Tom Ferrick and Dick Weller in the big rally. Mickey Haefer and Bobby Feller matched pitches for 11 innings before Feller retired in favor of Bob Muncie. Haefer went out for a pinch-hitter in the 12th.

Philadelphia rallied for three runs in the seventh inning to turn back the last-place Chicago White Sox 4-3. Mike Buera's double brought home the winning run and gave Lou Bristle his fifth victory of the year.

New York Yankees whipped Detroit 7-4, despite Dick Wakefield's pinch-hit home run with two aboard. The Wakefield blast knotted the count at 4-4 in the top of the seventh, but Johnny Lindell put the Yanks ahead with a round-tripper in the home half of the same inning.

In Boston, the Red Sox downed St. Louis Browns 10-4, and 7-2. Joe Dobson chalked up his sixth victory in the opening game while Denny Galehouse had his first success in the nightcap. Whitey Platt and Les Moss homered for St. Louis in the first game.

In the National League, New York Giants moved a game and a half ahead of the runner-up St. Louis Cardinals by beating Cincinnati Reds 5-4 in a day game while the Cards dropped a 1-0 decision to Brooklyn Dodgers in a night game at St. Louis.

Buddy Kerry's two-run pinch hit single in the eighth inning off starter Kent Peterson decided the game in favor of the New Yorkers. Hank Sauer kept the Reds in the game with two homers, his 15th and 18th of the season, top output in either league.

Brilliant clutch pitching by Ralph Branca's eighth inning off the Dodgers' victory over the Cards. Branca yielded nine hits but came up with seven strikeouts.

Howie Pollet, after a shaky start, matched Branca pitch for pitch until removed for a pinch-hitter in the seventh.

The third-place Pittsburgh Pirates also lost ground to the Giants, falling two games off the pace as a result of their 10-7 loss to Boston Braves in a night game at Pittsburgh.

Trailing 5-3, the Braves shoved seven runs over the plate in the seventh inning with former Pirate Jim Russell highlighting the rally with a three-run homer. Ralph Kiner of the Pirates smacked his 13th round-tripper in the seventh with the sacks empty.

In a day game at Chicago, the hustling Philadelphia Phillies turned back the Cubs 7-2.

East City Victors

East City boys defeated the southenders 11-5 last night in a neat City Baseball League encounter, riding home on a six-hit hurling effort by Bachelor who fanned a dozen and walked five. They went better defensively than the losers and had 10 hits and lost seven walks while six struck out. Sullivan and Anderson led the hitters. The teams:

East—Ferguson, 3b; McGrath, c; Sullivan, lf; Gandy, 1b; Wyatt, 1b; Driscoll, ss; Mongraw, 2b; Bachelor, p; Foley, cf; Ferguson, rf.

Harness Racing Record Set

FAIRMOUNT PARK, Ill., June 5—(AP).—A world's record in harness racing for the 3-mile trot was established Friday night, as Peaceful Abbey, driven by Charles McGown, covered the distance in 1:14 flat, to cut 2-5 seconds off the old record made by Victory Song at Lexington, Ky., last October.

Peaceful Abbey crossed the finish line in front of Lingo direct and Cardinal Leads to pay $16.40, $8.40 and $4.60 across the board. The record-breaker is owned by Woody Arbuckly of Indianapolis.

Ban Television At Boxing Bout

NEW YORK, June 5—(AP).—The television ban on the Rocky Graziano-Tony Zale fight in Newark Wednesday may be a sign of things to come in the sports business.

Insiders of the fight business are greatly concerned about the effect of television on the sport, particularly in the future when fights may be piped into movie houses.

The recent "strike" by the New York Managers' Guild against the Twentieth Century Sporting Club hinged on the television angle. The managers wanted a slice of the video cash for themselves and their fighters. They got what they wanted.

It is understood that the Tournament of Champions, Inc., a new seven-man promotional group that is promoting the Graziano-Zale bout, turned down a $30,000 offer for the television rights.

The weather and the fact that the fight had to be held at Ruppert Stadium, some distance from Times Square, make the fight a huge financial gamble. The promoters refuse to take a chance on empty seats. Privately they figure many would not venture across the river to New Jersey if they could watch by television in a neighborhood bar.

On the contrary the Joe Louis-Joe Walcott heavyweight title scrap June 23 in the Yankee Stadium will be televised. All Madison Square Garden fights are screened.

Whether television will hurt sports attendance or draw new fans is still up for debate. It's a question that cannot be decided until television sets are more common outside the larger areas of population.

Grafton's Win 16-1 In Civic League

In King Edward Park last evening Graftons trounced the Cal. Nichols Cartage team, formerly known as A & F, 16-1 in a Civic Softball League game.

Clare Conroy pitched for Graftons and Bertie O'Toole for the losers. A highlight of the game was a spectacular catch behind second base by Ferg. Sheehy that was otherwise labelled for a clean hit. Line-ups:

Graftons—Sheehy, Jamison, Taylor, Lewis, Conroy, Livingstone, McGillis, Ritchies, Lake, Wilson, Price.
Cal Nichols Cartage—Richmond, Hill, O'Toole, Condon, Thorburn, Plumpton, Guerin, Huard, Fitzgerald, Finnie, Carveth, Miller, Heffernan.

Billy Hewitt Regains Health

By WILFRED GRUSON.

TORONTO, June 7—(CP).—Nearly as vigorous as ever, W. A. (Billy) Hewitt has shaken off the effects of a serious illness which his friends at one time feared would end his active role in sport extending over a 50-year span.

In his time the Toronto sportsman has become one of the most respected authorities in the Dominion on hockey and horse racing. His place in sport is reflected in his long service as secretary of the Ontario Hockey Association, registrar-treasurer of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association and chief steward of the Incorporated Canadian Racing Associations.

A slight, easy-going and immaculately dressed person, Mr. Hewitt is one of the last of the old guard who helped guide those sports to their present pinnacle of success. He has served as OHA secretary for 45 years, as CAHA registrar-treasurer for 26, and as chief steward of the ICRA for 11.

Although he is well past the retiring age of most men—a fact generally known—Mr. Hewitt is reluctant to divulge his exact age.

He was laid up for three months with a skin ailment that doctors feared might affect his heart. He was under the care of three specialists and nurses attended him 24 hours daily.

He was particularly aggravated because he was unable to direct OHA playoffs last season as he had done since 1903.

President George Panter took over his duties but rarely a day passed that Mr. Hewitt did not telephone him to help on matters that only he himself knew anything about.

Aided by a brilliant memory, which enables him in nearly every case to tell the status of the thousands of hockey players under CAHA jurisdiction without consulting records, he has no peer in his knowledge of the complexities of the game.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting—Johnny Lindell, Yankees—Broke a 4-4 tie and sent the Yankees on to victory over Detroit with a home run. He also had a triple and single in four times at bat.

... six days of turmoil—that was election week in Upper Canada! Voters formed in long queues to mount the "hustings" (a rough wooden platform) ... declaring aloud for all to hear, "I vote for John Smith." Often groups of hard-fisted toughs stood by, armed with cudgels to be used on those who voted the "wrong way."

But men who kept true democracy as their objective finally won the right of a secret ballot—the right to vote as you wish without fear of intimidation.

When YOU cast your secret ballot at every election—municipal, provincial, federal—you exercise a duty and privilege planned, worked and fought for by your forefathers. Your vote protects the future of your children. To fail in this duty is to be less than a good citizen.

Truman's Running Mate Not Named Yet

By CLYDE BLACKBURN

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—A little more than three years ago the United States was tragically reminded that the man elected for the comparatively insignificant job of Vice-President is the head of the nation when a President dies.

It was the seventh time in the nation's history that death thrust a Vice-President into the top White House job. Leaving out Harry Truman on whom history has still to pass judgment, only one of the seven entered into that select group of "great" Presidents—Theodore Roosevelt.

But, traditionally, the Vice-Presidential candidate has been picked with little apparent thought that, if elected, he would be only a heart-beat away from the Presidency.

So it is this Presidential election year. All interest is concentrated on selection of a Presidential candidate, in both the Republican and Democratic Parties.

It is not true in the third party organized by Henry Wallace. He is the Presidential candidate and Senator Glen Taylor of Idaho (Democrat) is his chosen running mate.

This week a poll was being taken of Washington correspondents seeking their forecast of the man who would be chosen to run on the Democratic ticket with President Truman.

Some veteran correspondents confessed they could not hazard intelligent guess, but could name only the man they would like to see nominated.

The Republican Party, which must make up its mind at the convention opening June 21 in Philadelphia, is little better off. There are plenty of candidates for Presidential nomination but few if any of them are willing to accept second place.

This lack of interest arises from number of reasons. Probably most important is the tradition that the man nominated to run for President should be allowed to indicate to the convention managers who he wants for running mate.

Another reason is that, in spite of the fact that seven Presidents moved to that office from the Vice-Presidency because of death or assassination, the job is looked upon as purely ornamental.

The practice is to pick a man who is in a position to help deliver the vote for his party. Also he must come from a state somewhat removed from that of the Presidential candidate. Lastly, he must be technically qualified to hold office of President if that should become necessary.

Smells Sell

CHICAGO, June 5—(AP).—Smells sell—so a Chicago mail order house is considering odorizing its merchandise to boost sales. Robert D. Stecker, vice-president and merchandise manager of Spiegel, the mail order house, puts it this way: "Smell is a natural selling aid. Recent tests have shown that women will pick up one pair of hose rather than another when one has a pleasant scent. Questioned, they do not realize why they made the choice. Bread wrapped in wax paper smelling of fresh baking sent sales soaring in another case."

FIGHTING FIRES—Nine great fires are sweeping the tinder-dry north bush of Ontario as well as several smaller ones. The whole country is reported to be "tinder-dry" as 2,000 men battle the flames. Some commercial planes, along with 30 departmental planes, are busily engaged in fighting the flames. Workers are shown here busy at work. Fish and wild life will be ruined for 50 years, officials state. Millions of dollars of red and white pine have been destroyed.

Women's Institute Told Of Children's Aid Work

ROSEBATH, June 5—(ENS)—Two features highlighted the meeting of the Women's Institute on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Anne Raby of the staff of the Children's Aid Society of Northumberland and Durham, guest speaker, told her audience of the many aspects in connection with the work of child welfare at Hillcrest Lodge, where she said all work is done with the tongue. One of the 53 such societies, it is not affiliated with the government, but is under its jurisdiction. It is supported by the United Counties, said Mrs. Raby, with a grant of $1,500 from the government.

Mrs. Raby told of child care, adoptions, foster homes, of the real challenge presented by the unmarried mother and her child. Enlarging on child care, Mrs. Raby spoke of the protection work that is the basic service of every Children's Aid Society. During the year 72 children were admitted to the care of the society and 85 discharged, 238 are now in their care, 103 are in boarding homes, 69 are on adoption probation and the remainder in free homes, wage homes or institutions.

Provide Homes

It is the aim of the society, said Mrs. Raby, to provide home conditions and loving care, a normal happy childhood for every child in their care.

"The Shelter," she said, is not an institution but a home with a married couple in charge. Mrs. Raby was introduced by the president and thanked by Mrs. F. Brown.

The second feature was the showing of a film in home and the country, the golden anniversary of the W.I. at Guelph, J. Butters, showing the film, was introduced and thanked by Mrs. B. Thackeray.

The meeting was held at the home of Miss Jessie Johnston, and Mrs. John Beatty, president, was in the chair.

The resignation of Mrs. George Mouncey as secretary-treasurer was received and accepted and Mrs. B. Thackeray was elected to office. The financial statement for the past month showed receipts of $22.12.

The president, vice-president, Mrs. C. Sandcock, secretary-treasurer, branch director Mrs. Frank Brown and Mrs. J. W. Paice were named delegates to the district annual at Baltimore June 16. The program committee will meet June 17 in the town hall. The members were asked to have the Salvation Army collections in by the last of the month. Miss Johnston served supper.

Here is the TRUTH about the CCF

Monday is election day.

In fairness to yourself, before you vote, ask yourself, "What is the real issue in this election?"

It is not, we believe, just an issue between parties. It IS an issue between principles.

We of the CCF believe that the principles to which we are devoted — the policies we will put into operation if you elect us — will make Ontario stronger, happier and a better place to live in. We believe in "PEOPLE FIRST". That means government for ALL the people. It means government that will help the aged, the needy, the handicapped as well as those more fortunate.

Is that the kind of government we have had in Ontario?

What are the conditions we find today?

Thousands of our people, having given their best years to this province, are eking out a bare existence on a miserably inadequate old age pension. Thousands of our people, handicapped by illness, are denied adequate hospital and medical care. Families are crowded into one or two rooms because there are no homes to be had. All this while the Drew government boasts of a $25,000,000 surplus.

Is it not, in truth, time for a change — a new and better way of life?

The CCF says "YES". The CCF says "IT CAN BE DONE".

The CCF says this WILL be done; Ontario has the resources to provide everyone with a good home, good health services, security in old age — a good life for all.

The CCF pledges:

Inexpensive, prepaid hospital care, more hospitals and health centres ... free treatment for cancer, T.B. and V.D. We'll eliminate all hospital bills!

A provincial Housing Administration will build thousands of homes and rent them at a price you can afford.

For all old age and blind pensioners, $40 a month pension plus free health services ... increased Mothers' Allowances ... more day nurseries and child welfare services ... comfortable homes for the aged

Labour security ... laws that will assure collective bargaining and union security ... a two weeks' vacation with pay ... a 40-hour week ... better coverage and higher rates for workmen's compensation

Farm security ... we'll speed up rural electrification ... pass the marketing act the farmers have asked for ... encourage rural community centres ... give maximum encouragement to co-ops

Local votes on cocktail bars and other outlets

A Bill of Rights to safeguard your freedom of religion, speech and association ... No discrimination because of race, creed or colour

New power plants ... new sources of power ... lower light bills ... electrical appliances at lower cost

Low-cost Auto-insurance ... all motorists and pedestrians are protected in case of accident ... no need to go to court

Protection for small business through control of commercial rents.

This is a program for ALL the people. The small businessman, the office-worker, the farmer, the housewife — all of you contribute to government and society at large, and all of you are entitled to all the aids and benefits that government and society at large can give you.

Naturally the Ontario Federation of Labour supports us. It knows that if we form the next government of Ontario, it will be able to state its views to an administration that is not hopelessly prejudiced against it beforehand.

The CCF is not, and has never been, the bond-servant of privileged groups. It can take office and govern, free of any pledges to extend particular favours to any special interests. We shall legislate, not for the good of the few, but for the good of the many. We shall provide government FOR the people — ALL the people.

Ontario has the resources to provide economic security for every section of this province. With co-operation between farmer and worker, racial and religious tolerance, social justice and equal opportunity for everyone, we can advance toward a common goal ... a united people, democratic, strong and free.

This is the pledge of the CCF to the people of Ontario. We earnestly ask for your vote on Monday.

Dorland Handed 4-Year Term Over Narcotics

TORONTO, June 4 — (CP).—Albert Dorland, 43, central figure in two sensational "frame" investigations in the early 1930s, was sentenced Thursday to four years and fined $1,000 or an extra eight months for illegal possession of narcotics.

He will go back to Kingston Penitentiary, where he first served three years and five months in connection with the attempted holdup of a Toronto bank. He had pleaded guilty to having dangerous weapons and was sentenced to five years.

Dorland was released in August, 1933, after two exhaustive inquiries into charges that he was "framed" by Toronto police. Three policemen, including an inspector of detectives, were asked for their resignations after Dorland's release.

He went back to prison a short time later for a bank robbery and was again released in 1935.

The narcotics charge on which he was sentenced Thursday resulted from the pick-up of 20 drug capsules in an east-end lane last December 29. Three morality squad officers testified Dorland was the driver of an automobile at which they fired six shots as it sped from the lane.

A general sessions jury deliberated for one hour, apparently discounting the testimony of Johnny Hill, a confessed drug addict, who swore he was the driver. Dorland claimed he was at home at the time of the lane incident and that he went to Montreal the next day.

Get Life Memberships

HALIFAX, June 5 (CP).—Four national life memberships were ratified Thursday at the final sessions of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire annual meeting.

Mrs. M. B. Morden of Hamilton was granted a membership after 20 years of service on the provincial executive committee. Mrs. Gordon Henderson, also of Hamilton, retired two years ago after 25 years on the committee. Mrs. Lionel H. Millen of Fort Nelson, has held the post of provincial president for the last three years.

Mrs. R. E. Smale of Regina, an active member of the order for 24 years, was also presented with a life membership. Five years were spent with the Kichikewana chapter at Midland, Ont.

English Gambling Big Business Horses, Dogs, Games, Weather

By ALAN HARVEY.

LONDON, June 5 — (CP).—Almost 100 years ago, the Parliament of Britain tried to legislate gambling out of existence. But the law had a loophole. Today betting is still a national fever and Britain the No. 1 gambling country of the world.

Stroll the streets of London almost any day and you see workmen hunched over the lunch pails, studying racing sheets or working on football pools. Later you will see them paying pennies for newspapers, which they quickly turn sideways to read "stop press" results. The turnover of horse racing alone is more than £1,000,000 ($4,000,000) a day.

Oddly, only a fraction of the total wagered changes hands in one day. In Britain it is easier to bet on the cut than for cash — all because of the law Parliament enacted in 1853.

Design Frustrated
The Betting Act prohibited, among other things, "the keeping of any office or other place for the purpose of betting with persons resorting thereto." The legislators thought this would stamp out bookmaking offices, other than those at race courses. The development of telephone and telephone frustrated their design.

Instead of "resorting to" betting offices, backers make their wagers by telephone and telegram. The result is that off-the-course betting in this manner is not only legal but is carried on through state services, while betting for cash is prohibited. Betting offices, as intricate a business organization as almost any other in Britain, abound to an extent that would have astounded the legislators of 1853.

Even On Weather

Bets are taken on horses, greyhounds, football, and cricket — and in at least one case on whether it rains on Sunday. At the end of a week the backer receives his winnings or pays his losses, by cheque or postal order.

Perhaps 20 per cent of Britain's adult population have "accounts" with one or more of the country's hundred-odd "investment offices." They receive neat little notebooks, often containing 20 to 30 pages of instructions on the many complex forms of wagering dear to a Briton's heart.

Each backer receives a punchy nom de plume starting with the letter of his name. This he signs to telegrams or uses in making telephone bets with the imperious girl operators who handle incoming calls. Telegrams may be dispatched any time up to the set time of a race. But if you happen to be in Canada, you would have to send it to arrive the day before the race.

To a North American, it seems a chancy method. But it works. A bookmaker who wagers is as rare as a triple dead heat.

Dad Locked Out

LONDON, Ont., June 5 (CP).—Straight-laced father used to lock daughters out of the house for misdemeanors in the old days. The reverse of this was reported by police who sent a 91-year-old parent home after giving him a night's lodging when he sought their advice. It seems that when he got home a "little high" from liquor, his daughter wouldn't let him in.

Ontario To Aid Food Scheme

TORONTO, June 5 — (CP).—Col. T. L. Kennedy, Ontario Minister of Agriculture, said Friday Ontario had been asked by the British Government to co-operate in a gigantic plan for raising food crops and preparation against a "world food shortage" foreseen by Britain "within the next ten years."

Col. Kennedy said a letter from "a high official of the British Government" was received to this effect by his Department Thursday. He declined to name the official.

"They want us to supply 100,000 acres of suitable farm land to carry out a scheme similar to that proposed in Australia," he said. "The British Government foresees a world food shortage within ten years and wants to be ready for it with essential food crops."

ROUGH AND READY, Calif., June 4 — (AP).—This gold-mining town, which once seceded from the United States, gets back on the postal map June 16. The post office, closed for several years, will be reopened on the basis of a renewed population.

In 1850 Rough and Ready declared itself an independent republic over dissatisfaction with both the United States and California. The "republic" collapsed July 4 during the camp's patriotic celebrations.

He was given suspended sentence and placed on probation for a year in the care of the Salvation Army. He must also pay court costs or go to jail for a month.

Winckler, questioned shortly after the injured child was found in a suburban York township field last May 17, was later released. Eight days afterward, at Crystal Beach, Ont., he told police he had attacked the girl. Brought to Toronto, he admitted his story was false.

HAROLD R. SCOTT

IS NEEDED ON JUNE 7 TO Keep Ontario STRONG

The outcome of this election will determine the future course of this province for many years to come. Quite apart from any political considerations, you have before you two entirely different points of view. The Progressive Conservative Party believes that this province has unequalled opportunities for development provided that our great resources are put to work under plans for the future which will provide the electric power and other requirements for the greatest period of expansion we have ever known. Our opponents do not believe that these opportunities for expansion exist. It is their right and their duty to express their own opinion about our future. They have done so. They do not believe in our great programme of development. They have acted accordingly and will continue to do so.

You know the record of the government and the many things it has done to advance the interests of all our people. You know the tremendous programme of development which we have approved and which will go into effect if we receive your support on June 7th. We believe that is the way to assure employment in the years ahead. On the other side you have a static point of view which thinks that all this development should be deferred until the threat of unemployment which they are constantly predicting is actually upon us. Developments of this kind take years to complete and the best way to maintain employment in the future is to provide the power and other resources which are needed to keep employment at a high level. That is the point of view we ask you to support.

I do wish to emphasize one unusual feature of this election. The Communists in this province, relatively small in numbers, are highly organized. They are supporting the C.C.F. I recognize that the leaders of the C.C.F. Party have disavowed this support. The fact remains, however, that in every riding except two where there are Communist candidates who were members of the last Legislature, the Communist vote, large or small, is going to the support of C.C.F. candidates. This may be unfortunate for the C.C.F., and may be against the wishes of that Party. It is apparent, however, that the policies of the C.C.F. Party find sufficient acceptance with the Communists to gain their support.

No matter how worthy any individual C.C.F. candidate may be you have only one way of making sure that your vote is not going to be joined with a Communist vote. It should be remembered that in every country where Communism has come to power, including Russia, it came originally through an alignment with the Socialist party in that country. You may think the danger is still far away here in Canada. Only a few years ago they thought it was very far away in those countries which have been brought under Communist slavery within the past three years. The time to end the threat of Communism is while we are still strong and free, not when freedom hangs in the balance and we face one last desperate decision.

This is not just an ordinary election. With democracy threatened all over the world as it is today, this is an opportunity for the people of Ontario to show by their vote that they really believe in the right to vote. Naturally I hope that you will support the candidate of our party in your riding. No matter how you vote, however, may I urge every one of you to exercise your franchise so that we demonstrate to ourselves and to those living in less fortunate lands, that we really know the value of our freedom. Never has this province advanced so greatly as it has under the progressive policies of the present government. Our programme for the future provides for still greater development in the years ahead. With the great opportunities which are before us, I hope you will give us an overwhelming mandate to keep Ontario strong through the years ahead.

Caviar From Canadian Sturgeon Compare With Best In World

TORONTO, June 5 (CP)—Caviar is Canada's newest industry and apparently going places. Harry L. Donaldson of North Bay (Northern Caviar, Ltd.) gave up 30 years as a mine manager to get into something that would take up his time and give him a modest living.

After four days at the Canadian International Trade Fair, where his jars of caviar line a booth, he thinks he is in a considerable business.

"About every country in the world has shown interest in our product. I have one offer to buy my entire production, which, however, I won't take. If I had four or five times as much, I could sell it right here. It would have taken five or 10 years to do what the Fair has done for me in a few days."

Donaldson started his study of caviar two years ago, first with the intention of importing the Russian product in bulk from New York and packing it.

Then he became interested in developing a Canadian caviar. He brought in sturgeon roe from the Northern Canadian lakes from Lake Nipissing in Ontario to the Great Slave Lake in the Northwest territories and experimented. Now he thinks he has a product to rival any, and for the last year it has been on the tables of leading Canadian hotels, while experiments continued.

The sturgeon which produces this black gold is a luxury fish on all counts. Its flesh, aside from the roe, sells for about $1.40 a pound in the New York market, where it is smoked. It ranges in size from about 35 or 40 pounds to 78 or 100, and from 30 pounds of roe and more may be taken from one fish. No. 1 Canadian caviar produced from it sells for about $15 a pound, or rather more in smaller packages.

While sturgeon is the source of caviar, Canadian or Russian, Mr. Donaldson says he has been asked to also produce salmon caviar next year.

He chose North Bay for his plant because of its facilities as a rail and air centre to which roe from northern lakes can be flown in.

His production to date has not been large, but he expects to produce about 4½ tons this year, and on the basis of his experience at the Fair he doesn't know where he is going from there.

It has been a family affair—himself, his wife, and two daughters, but he thinks he will have to expand his plant to the extent of employing a dozen or more girls for packing.

Rescind 1919 Bylaw Concerning Poolrooms

MILLBROOK, June 5 (ENS)—Reeve H. D. Bigelow presided for the June meeting of the Millbrook municipal council on Tuesday evening.

A request from the Pentecostal Church, Peterborough, asking permission to hold street services during the summer months, was granted.

The by-law passed in 1919, respecting the licensing and operating of pool rooms and billiard rooms, in the village, was rescinded, on motion of Councillors Woods and Wright.

Information in connection with the Municipal Honor Roll was received from the Department of Veterans Affairs, and confirmation of road expenditures for 1948 came from the Department of Highways. The Ontario Hydro Commission wrote regarding its property in the village, and a recent order for fire hose was confirmed. The clerk reported $35 paid out in direct relief during the month of May.

On motion of Wright-Woods, the tender from the Millbrook Electric to re-wire the Fire Hall, with separate meter, for $90, was accepted. Councillors Wright and Woods also sponsored the motion that insurance policies covering the Fire Hall and public liability and property damage, be renewed.

The following accounts were presented and ordered paid: Hydro Commission, $76.23; Millbrook Motors, $3.40; Coulter Bros. Ltd., $2.65; Decon Telephones, $7.10; Brunner Mond Co., sales of calcium chloride, $94.32; Beare's Ltd., office supplies, $5.27; Department of Health, insulin, $2.72; J. J. Study Theory That Atomic Action Causes Volcanoes To Erupt HONOLULU, June 5 (AP)—Dr. Harvey White, University of California physicist, is trying to find out whether uranium fission causes volcanic eruptions.

If the cracking of uranium atoms is the source of this catalytic energy, then the Hawaiian Islands were pushed up from the ocean floor by the same reaction—only slower—as that which devastated Nagasaki and Hiroshima.

Scientists know that volcanoes erupt when red-hot rivers of molten rock and mineral work upward through cracks in the earth's crust and break out at any weak point.

They do not know what source of energy forms these underground pools of molten matter. There are two theories. One holds that the earth's interior is extremely hot but remains solid under pressure. When cracks develop in the earth's crust, the pressure is relieved and the superheated mass turns to liquid.

The other holds that heat is released through some process, turning solid to liquid. This might be done by oxidation or other chemical activity, or by radioactive activity or some other form of atomic disintegration.

Lava, the volcanic outpouring, contains measurable amounts of uranium, a natural source of atomic energy. White will put Mauna Loa's lava through spectrographic tests, using the light bands given off by each element to find out whether neutron absorbers such as cadmium are present.

Neutrons are the bullets which break down the uranium atom. If lava contains sizeable amounts of neutron absorbers, the atomic fission theory of volcanic action would be ruled out.

If the spectrograph tests confirm that there are none, then the theory that atomic fission primes the volcanic pump will be strengthened.

Neutrons, with little to absorb them and no opportunity to escape in atmosphere, would collide with uranium atoms in the earth's interior. The uranium atoms would split, releasing more neutrons. This natural cracking of uranium atoms slowly would heat rock and mineral to boiling liquid, create vast pressures and start the volcanic action.

Scripture—1 Samuel 1-4

By Alfred J. Buscher

ANGELICAN

UNITED CHURCH

Eli, chief priest of the temple at the ancient city of Shiloh, was a man of fine character, and when he saw a woman weeping and praying in the temple he comforted her, and bade her go back to her home in peace.

Eli had two sons who were priests, but they were wicked men, taking advantage of their position to force others to give them the best of everything, and they led very immoral lives, for which their father rebuked them.

Eli grew old and almost blind; he was warned by God, through Samuel, the prophet whom Eli had trained, that God was angry with him because of his son's wickedness and that he and his house would be overthrown.

The Philistines attacked the Israelites and defeated them in two great battles. The ark of the covenant was taken by the enemy and Eli's sons were killed. When told the news Eli died.

MEMORY VERSE—1 Samuel 4:9

Care of God for His Own World's Big Inspiration

By REV. E. R. JAMES

The Angel cried saying: Hurt not the earth till we have sealed the servants of our God in their foreheads.—Rev. 7:3.

The book of the revelation of St. John the Divine is a closed book to many Christians; its interpretation is so difficult. Yet it has such treasure for the ordinary reader. Let these words grip your imagination: "Hurt not the earth till we have sealed the servants of our God in their foreheads." In this passage we have a word picture of the wrath of God. The wrath of God is not a popular idea today. All the emphasis has been laid upon God being the God of love and mercy. Yet it is in this book that we find the phrase "The wrath of the Lamb." There is a wrath that is just and lawful. If your religion is to be truly balanced there must be in it the idea of wrath. It is a psychological truth for a saintly man to be full of wrath and anger when he sees injustice, the grinding down of the poor and helpless. An educated woman, calling herself a Christian, said she was not at all moved by the disasters on the humble people during the last war. Her pacifism taught her to be calm and quiet. She had a wrong idea of God's character.

"Sealed the servants of our God." You are reminded of the mark placed upon Cain when he had slain his brother. You were thrilled by the idea. Have you seen these words on a legal document: "John Smith his mark." Did you feel sorry for the man who could not write? Yet have you looked below the surface and seen the deeper meaning. You make your mark. What do your friends and relations think of your mark. Do they look upon it as a mark of truthfulness, honesty and purity. Below these simple words is an important truth.

Have you read that thrilling chapter in Ezekiel 9. The man with the ink horn is to go through the city and set a mark—TAU, the last letter of the Hebrew alphabet—upon the foreheads of the men "Who sigh and cry for the abominations that are done in the midst thereof." Then meditate upon the awful words to the sealers: "Begin at My sanctuary." Judgment must begin at the House of God.

How old are you? In middle life. Is the mark of your Christian profession seen in your face? If Christ is being formed in you something of that marvellous character must be seen in your face. You will not see it—the mark is upon your forehead, thank God—but your friends will. You will not need to say you are saved. The mark is in your face. A famous artist painted a man's face. Under it the title: "Mammon." There was not pity, mercy or gentleness in that face. He had worshipped the god of money, regularly and seriously, and the god had left his seal on his face.

Have you seen something of the beauty of the Son of God in the face of a man. This is the sign that he is child of God. You see the Father's likeness in the child. God is revealing Himself to you through that man.

"No man shall pluck them out of My hand" is the divine promise. It is a tremendous inspiration in the time of temptation that you and the child God and that His Divine strength will flow into you to resist and overcome. "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me." "Thy Face, Lord, will I seek." THE LORD JESUS SAITH: MY SERVANTS SHALL SEE MY FACE AND MY NAME SHALL BE IN THEIR FOREHEADS. THANKS BE UNTO THEE, O LORD.

SON FOR ISRAEL—Widow of the famous British Chindit chief who won renown in the Burma campaign before he was killed in an air crash, Mrs. Lorna Wingate is shown with her son, Orde Jonathan, 4, whom she has promised to Israel. The Jewish agency in Tel Aviv quotes her as saying: "If I had gold and money, I would contribute them for the war which my husband foresaw. Not having them, I decided to send my son to be educated in Israel and to be a loyal son of both Israel and Britain."

realities jubilant because the Ark was with them; the Philistines apprehensive because of its presence, but encouraged by their leader who said: "Be strong, and quit yourselves like men. O ye Philistines, that ye be not servants unto the Hebrews, as they have been to you: quit yourselves like men, and fight."

Both sides fought valiantly, but the Philistine army was too powerful for the Israelites, and slew thousands of them until the shattered remnants of the Hebrew army fled. Worst of all the Ark of the Covenant was captured by the enemy. Eli's two sons were killed.

Poor old Eli, now 98 years old, and nearly blind, heard the shouting, and asked the meaning of it. A man who had escaped the slaughter told Eli that his two sons were dead, and that the Ark was in the enemy's hands. At hearing mention of the Ark, Eli fell from his seat in such a manner that his neck broke, and he died there.

Thus Eli's over-indulgence of his children resulted in the fall of his house and the people whom he loved, and the loss of the Ark of the temple which he revered.

Over-Indulgent Parent Often Regrets His Course

Scripture—1 Samuel 1-4.

BY NEWMAN CAMPBELL

Juvenile delinquency is one of the graver problems of our time.

Welfare workers have found a number of causes of delinquency. Chief among these is neglect by parents—failure to create a proper home life for the children.

However, a child who has been over-indulged by parents who have failed to be sufficiently strict with their offspring because of an overwhelming but misguided adoration of the child, often fails to develop properly a sense of responsibility.

A child who has never been punished, even for serious offenses, can easily reach maturity with a firm belief that "the world owes me a living." Such a child, at best, may go through life without a clear sense of his or her duty to society; at worst, drift into criminality as "the easiest way out."

Such an over-indulgent parent was the chief priest Eli, and such too-pampered children were Eli's two sons, Hophni and Phinehas.

Now Eli was a famous man, chief priest of the temple in Shiloh, an ancient Palestinian city, and also a judge of the Hebrew confederacy. Eli was more—he was a good, well-meaning man with fine understanding of the ways of life, save for one thing: he did not know how to be a good parent.

Eli's adoration of his sons was so blind that he could not see their many minor faults, and for their often gross behavior he was too prone to forgive.

Eli's tenderness and understanding are exemplified in his treatment of a woman who came to the temple to pray for a child—motherhood having been denied her. He comforted her and sent her away with his blessing.

Eli's sons were also priests in the temple in Shiloh, but in their selfishness and greed they deserved and he became almost blind. The prophet Samuel, whom he had taken into his household and reared, warned him that God was angry with him for the wicked ways of his sons and his negligence in punishing them, and that his house would fall and his people also would be punished. Eli realized the justice of this edict, and said simply: "It is the Lord; let Him do what seemeth Him good."

It came to pass that Israel was attacked by the Philistines, enemies of old, and there was a great battle. The Israelites were defeated, and at camp that night they argued with one another as to why their God had permitted the enemy to win. Some suggested that they bring the ark of the Covenant of their front lines and then God surely would be with them and they would conquer. So they went to Shiloh and brought the Ark to the battle.

field and with it came Eli's two sons, Hophni and Phinehas. When the ark was brought to camp all the Israelites shouted with joy, and the Philistines heard that about and asked what it meant, and they were fearful, for they said, "God is come unto the camp. Woe to us!"

Eli, fearful for the safety of the ark, sat himself by the wayside to get the first tidings of the second battle, which must be decisive.

The battle lines joined, the Israelites fought valiantly, but the Philistine army was too powerful for the Israelites, and slew thousands of them until the shattered remnants of the Hebrew army fled. Worst of all the Ark of the Covenant was captured by

Boys Town Work Optimists' Summer Project

Peterborough Optimist Club has released the following information on summer plans and, from it appears they will be having a busy time no matter how hot the weather becomes. Their last formal club meeting before summer sets in will be held on the 14 when Past Governor of District 15, Jack Purdy, of Hamilton, will speak to members on the "Philosophy of Optimism". A supper dance will be held on June 18 in co-operation with the Optimists headed by entertainment committee member Jack Rogers. Teams have been arranged to work steadily on Boys' Town Trafalgar House under the chairmanship of Victor Barry. As more work is accomplished on the project, informal summer club meetings will be held in their new quarters. Efforts to date on renovations have made vast improvements as refurbishing crews work their way down from the rooms on the second floor. They have already stripped all rooms of old wallpaper and three new fuel oil heaters have arrived and are being stored on the premises ready for installation.

Poor But Proud Race Helped By Peterborough Group

By NICK NICKELS

During the past 50 years various groups of Peterborough women have spent much time working for the Grenfell Labrador Medical Mission, and each year collect and pack second-hand clothing and forward it in June to one of the branches of the large International Grenfell Association. It is an association that very few people know much about but the deserving whites and natives in five hospitals, four nursing stations, two boarding schools, one day school, one children's home, two hospital ships, welcome the yearly contributions that come to settle barren settlements by the supply schooner.

Labrador has been named among other things, "The Land that God Forgot," but the late Sir Wilfred Grenfell was determined that the rest of the world should not forget these people and spent years of missionary work and millions of private and donated dollars to make life easier for them. 600 Miles East Of Quebec
The Peterborough ladies are sending their bales of clothing to Harrington Harbour, P.Q. on the North Shore of the St. Lawrence River, just across the Strait of Belle Isle, from Newfoundland. It is approximately 600 miles east of Quebec City on one of the continent's most desolate coast lines. The writer had occasion to visit Harrington Harbour in the fall of '44 and a first-hand description of the place follows:
The Junkers seaplane, in which over Cape Whittle about mid-morning and circled north over the promontory to a cluster of pink granite hills that stood well out to sea from the main shore. There was a brisk south-west wind blowing that sent long combers into the inland sheltering narrow making a landing difficult and dangerous. The pilot brought the plane down in a short sheltered cove and taxied to the main part of the settlement in front of the Grenfell Mission Hospital. A tattered urchin caught the handline far above the plane on the edge of a towering dock that stood 18 feet out of water; it was low tide. The air party climbed the slimy wharf ladder and gave the little lad a hand to tie up.

Tough Looking
"We didn't think you'd be a pichin'," was the boy's greeting. The boy spoke the peculiar jargon of Newfoundlanders and we discovered he meant that the people of the settlement were doubtful as to whether we could make a landing on the rough swell. The wharf was soon crowded with friendly people shaking hands and the writer was not long in finding

Rain Brings Aid To Growing Crops

Peterborough stepped out today with a conspicuously bright and well-groomed look after Friday night's rain, maybe like Aphrodite rising from the sea, and certainly like junior after he has been tubbed, scrubbed and rubbed. Foraging for the day's bacon, those who are still in the Saturday working class, was probably a simple accomplishment with such a cheerful, eager, almost running attack on the job of keeping the family in food and such things.
It was timely rain, on the eve of the annual picnic of the Federation of Agriculture, and just when several farmers reported during the week that much of the ground had taken on a hard surface during the recent dry weeks, and that plowing was as easy as might have been expected.
So the crops and pastures got a soaking from one of those so-appraised million dollar rains. It means refreshment for the potatoes, grains, legumes and all the rest of the growing stuff, including carrots and spinach. The value to the district is beyond estimating.

orough bales will be turned into beautiful articles that are much in demand. Money collected in the city will go toward medical supplies and contributors may feel that their gifts are very well placed to help people who are worthy of assistance, people like Fred Cox and his fellow Newfoundlanders who live to work and often die on the open sea.

Most Cuts Up Five Cents, Proposed Embargo Lift Said Reason For Increase

Householders are again digging into their pockets for another nickel a pound on the price of meat. A general increase of five cents a pound—in some cases more—has been imposed in the past three days. The Government announcement that embargo regulations on beef cattle going into the United States will be lifted shortly, and the continued heavy demand for meat by the public have been given as reasons for this latest jump in the cost-of-living, which has shown amazing "jumps" for months now.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported at Ottawa on Friday that the cost-of-living index climbed from 151.5 on April 1 to 153.3 at May 1. Most of that advance was attributed by the Bureau to substantial increases in the retail prices of meats and vegetables. Food index figures rose from 186.8 to 191.2.

Beef has been the main line of meat hit so far. Practically all cuts of that meat have gone up five cents throughout the city. It was also predicted by Peterborough retailers that the cost of pork would take a lift by next week.

"With the lifting of the embargo on cattle shipped to the United States, the retail price of beef will probably shoot up," G. S. Matthews, general manager of Canada Packers in Peterborough said today.

During the past week, retail prices of beef have advanced about 10 cents a pound.

Retail meat sellers in the city expect a further increase as soon as the lifting of the embargo takes effect.

Present high prices are due more to the mid-season scarcity of beef rather than the announcement of Minister of Agriculture James G. Gardiner concerning the return of cattle export to the United States, a private slaughterhouse operator said.

Stable-fed cattle have almost disappeared from the market, and pasture-fed beef will not be available until the middle of July, he said.

Roasts and other similar cuts have not advanced much, he went on, but mostly because the fryng-cuts of beef are more popular in the summer.

Most retailers forecast a wholesale beef price rise by the first of next week. Few local cattle are on the market, they say, and most of the beef sold in Peterborough today comes from Toronto.

Meat retailers also say that the rise in prices had little effect on demand. It is probable that people who have a limited amount of money to spend on meat will turn to the cheaper kinds, one merchant said.

Manager of the New Centre Meat Market, H. E. Lowes, said today that he was unable to forecast when the rising beef price peak would be reached and that the increase of five cents a pound imposed by packers last week has taken more money into his firm's till but sales have fallen off sharply. The latest price increase has made a total increase of 14 cents a pound in the past 12 months, Mr. Lowes said.

Last week's prices for No. 1 beef carcasses was 37 cents a pound, and for seal the price was 33 to 35 cents. One retailer said that a wholesale representative claimed his company was losing several cents a pound on deliveries.

Steak at present is selling from 65 cents for poorer grades to 75 cents for porterhouse and T-bone. Last week, porterhouse steaks sold for about 65 cents a pound.

The federal budget, brought down last month, announced the dropping of the eight per cent sales tax on processed meats, but did not apply to fresh cuts of meat.

FINE HANDLING OF LINES—Here is a home you are sure to like. While its striking lines are strictly modern, there is no obvious effort to be "different". The exterior shows fine handling of line and materials. Good planning has aided the final picture. Architect C. B. K. Van Norman designed this home for a large corner lot. Notice that the wing at the right, balancing the living room wing, is a two-car garage. Sun decks are provided over each of these appendages. Not to be overlooked are the two open fireplaces; one in the living room and one in the downstairs den. Although they cannot be clearly indicated on the small floor plan shown here there are the many built-in features in the master bedroom. Color Styling Can Do Much For Inside Home Without considerable experience in studying all kinds of painted interiors and the scientific application of color, it is no doubt often difficult for the average home owner to visualize the miraculous transformations possible with correctly styled color scheme. Good color styling can truly do wonders in the interior of the home, but if colors are chosen hurriedly at random without an overall plan, you'll find that no amount of decorating with furniture, rugs or draperies will improve the room. So choose your colors wisely.

Ask Yourself These Questions
There are five important questions you should ask yourself before choosing colors. Commencing first with the entrance hall, then the living room, next the dining room, the kitchen, bedrooms and finally the bathroom, consider these questions carefully.

1. Are the walls too dark and dreary for the size and exposure of the room?

In general, the walls and woodwork in homes of average size should be kept quite light in color-value. Dark walls and woodwork have the effect of reducing the size of the room. They also absorb more light (both day-light and artificial) than light colors, making a room very dull, cheerless and uninviting. As a matter of interesting comparison, let us quote from one authority on the "light reflecting" value of various flat wall paint colors.

White, the lightest "color" of all, reflects 82 per cent light. It is for this reason that one should mix white or cream with most wall paints in order to bring them up to the correct tonal-value for the average-size home. Other colors are rated as follows: Ivory reflects 70 per cent light; putty color reflects 58 per cent light; a medium dark green 40 per cent light; a medium dark blue 36 per cent and dark brown (of a tone too often used on hall and living room walls) reflects only 29 per cent. Little wonder then, that so many ask "What's wrong with my room?" In a great many instances, a good part of the fault lies in the treatment of the walls. Color is usually too dark and of the wrong hue for the exposure of the room.

It is the exposure of a room that determines the proper color as well as its tonal-value to select for both walls and woodwork. Too often home makers are guided too much by personal preferences in colors rather than by definite interior decorating principles.

2. Are the walls finished in the correct color and tonal value for the exposure of the room?

In answering this question we must bear in mind that colors are classified in two groups known as "cool" colors, comprising "white", blues, greys, greens and purples, and those that are referred to as "warm", such as black, orange, yellows, browns and reds.

The walls in a very sunny room just average size may be tinted in "cool" color, while the same size room that does not receive sunlight, at least very little, with too few windows, should be tinted in a "warm" color or quite light value.

3. Are the walls in a color that is consistent with both the purpose and style of the room?

The purpose of a room governs the choice of color and its value to a considerable degree. For instance, the average living room wall, if painted in a flat toned peach tint, would be out of harmony with the usual living room furnishings. The same color, however, if used in a breakfast room would be appropriate. Then, too, the value of a color may be right, they are: Noel Griffiths, of the Rural Bank of New South Wales, promoters of the tour; W. H. Bruce, Wallace Meares and M. R. Buttsworth, New South Wales farmers; and C. P. Dowsett, also of the Rural Bank, and an economic expert.

slightly deeper in tone (if exposure is bright) in a hall, living room, dining room or study, than in a kitchen, breakfast room, bedroom or bathroom.

Color Of Woodwork

4. Is the color of the woodwork too dark and contrasting for the size of the room and a restful effect?

In answering this question we might say that the majority of woodwork in homes of average size is entirely too dark for a cheerful and harmonious decorative effect. Dark woodwork in a small room effects a decidedly "cut up" and spotty appearance and tends to reduce the size of the room. Dark stained woodwork and panelling is only suitable for certain types of good-sized period rooms.

Especially attractive for woodwork in halls, living rooms and dining rooms are deep ivory, light ivory, cream, putty and the following colors for sunny rooms—light pearl grey, dove grey and neutralized tints of Adams green.

Painted woodwork should bear color color relationship (through color mixing) to the walls, though it may be several degrees deeper in tonal value than the walls, or contrasting as in bedrooms, kitchens, etc.

5. Are the floors too light for decorative solidity and a proper relationship in color-value with rugs, walls, furniture, draperies and so forth?

This is an important question, for so many floors are stained too light to be decoratively correct in color-value. A stain of medium value or darker should be used in most rooms, for a floor must give the effect of solidity, since it is the foundation upon which one's decorative scheme is built, and should therefore be the darkest color-value in the room.

When selecting color schemes from sample color-cards, remember that the sample are apt to be very intriguing in their lovely tints, but when applied to the large areas of wall space may prove to be too deep in tonal value as well as too intense in color. It is for this reason that most wall paints should be mixed with either white or cream paint to obtain the correct value. Then, to, if both all and woodwork is to be painted, one should mix a portion of the wall color with the woodwork color, and vice versa. This brings about a more harmonious color relationship. To avoid waste in mixing dark and light colors, always pour the dark colors into the lighter one.

Plywood House

Plywood roof, Plywood on the inside walls, even Plywood on the outside walls. There is one building in Peterborough—a house with huge sheets of double plate glass, radiant heating in the floor, and a swimming pool in the house has a piece of Plywood from S. America. But more of that later. You'll have an opportunity to see this house on display when it's done.

Your Home Is an Investment If Properly Taken Care Of

Even though the whole amount to or even less than the rent you have been paying a natural question for you to ask is... What will

I have when my last payment has been made?

Let's suppose you have achieved outright ownership of your home, having taken perhaps 20 years to complete payment and free it of all financial obligation. What has happened to the house during this period... and how does its value now compare with its initial cost?

Assuming of course that you taken reasonably good care of your home, and that economic conditions have remained relatively stable, your house should have very close to its original value is you have planned well.

If, on the other hand, it is worth only half as much as you paid for it, there is something wrong; and that something may have been present one month after the house was completed. Assuming that good workmanship has been employed and that your plan is a reasonably efficient one with a room arrangement which another family would be willing to use, the value of your house will probably be determined by the condition of the neighborhood at the time you finish paying for it, and the architectural style you selected in the first place.

Good Neighborhood Important

The development and fate of many neighborhoods is to a large degree in the hands of God... but there are indications which should give you a key as to what to expect. One of these is the original price of the lot.

Very cheap land has some reason for being cheap. It has been made cheap to give it an attractiveness which it does not otherwise have. There is a good rule of thumb to remember in the buying of building sites. Do not pay more than 20 per cent of the value of your completed property for a lot, and by the same token examine carefully any proposition which offers a lot which is less than 10 per cent of the value of the completed property.

Basic Styles Always Good

Be careful of the architectural style of the home. Certain basic architectural styles have been good for 200 years and will probably remain good for at least 200 more. Other architectural styles of a fad nature may last in popularity no longer than 10 years. Choose an enduring style. Physical deterioration of houses is slow and ordinary care can practically eliminate it.

We will probably never see a better grade of good craftsmanship and fine materials so unobtainably employed in home building during the period from 1880 to 1900. But unfortunately, the penchant of your Victorian ancestors for fancy work, cupolas "fussy" porches and over-ornamentation, has so reflected on houses built during this period that their value has slumped out of all proportion to the soundness of their construction.

Simple architecture has always been the best architecture and probably always will be. Flashy houses come and go, so if you are interested in your investment build conservatively.

Co-operation

RURAL CANADA GOES MODERN —

As industrial Canada develops and expands, the rural areas of the nation are keeping pace, and sights such as the above photo showing an old sway-backed thatched roof barn are becoming rarer and rarer in Eastern farming communities. The old type barn served its day — and served it well, but as scientific principles have been increasingly applied to farming, the farmer has come to realize the importance of the barn in maintaining healthy stock. For many farmers the barn shelters his greatest investment and more and more the shelter is assuming the proportions of the barn shown below. Drafty side walls of plank have been replaced by shimmering white stucco while the ragged thatched roof has given way to modern asphalt shingles, lending a gaiety to the countryside and providing comfort and safety for livestock.

Drew Not 'One-Man Gov't' Goodfellow Stresses

COBOURG, June 5. — (ENS). — The opposition label of George Drew as a one-man government was distinctly false, declared the Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, Progressive-Conservative candidate for Northumberland, at a meeting here Friday night in the town hall. Also on the program were Fred Gardiner of Toronto, and Earl Drope, MP for Northumberland.

Explaining the "why" of the election, Mr. Goodfellow said that it was the best way to keep in touch with the people and what they are thinking. The government felt its record merited it to have a mandate from the people to carry on its program of development in tapping all the power reserves of the Ottawa river and to go forward without delay in reaching agreements with New York state to develop every bit of power there, he said. He went on to point out that there had been from four to five hundred new industries in Ontario in the last four or five years, including the new CGE plant in Cobourg. There had been an increase in population of more than 400,000 people in Ontario since the start of the decade.

"It seems peculiar, then, that in 300,000, spite of the CCF claims, the province of Saskatchewan has lost 100,000 people, due to their coming into Ontario where the great attractions of this province of ours and its great future, are so evident," Mr. Goodfellow said. "We hear the criticism, from those who should know better, that Mr. Drew is a one-man government. In the more than two years I have had as a cabinet minister, I can say without any reserve, that Mr. Drew has never, at any time, attempted to dictate the policies of my department. We have never had a more responsible government and cabinet ministers work without interference in a spirit of co-operation and teamwork," Mr. Goodfellow said emphatically. In countering the CCF assertion that the Department of Social Welfare was not progressing, Mr. Goodfellow said that from the time it was founded in 1928 under the Ferguson government, it had expanded until in 1948, it administered a total of 40 million dollars, a figure which includes the federal share. He compared the department's scope under Mr. Oliver in 1942 and 1943 of $9,500,000 with his own budget announced in April of this year of $18,000,000.

Power Stations First Aim Of Special Army

OTTAWA, June 5. — (CP) — The Canadian-United States Special Service Force, which included a Canadian battalion, was formed in 1942 with the original intention of carrying out operations in the winter of 1942-43 in snow-covered areas of Europe, the chief objective being power stations in northern Norway.

This secret is disclosed for the first time in the official book on the Canadian Army in the Second World War, published by National Defence Headquarters.

Later, operation "plough," as it was code-named, was cancelled, Allied planners having decided on less ambitious schemes for sabotaging Norwegian power installations.

The Norwegian government was "rather unwilling" to countenance a general attack while the RAF in England was "decidedly unwilling" to divert 750 Lancaster bombers from the assault on Germany to carry the force and its snowmobile equipment to the raid.

Built Snowmobile
In this connection, however, the National Research Council here and other agencies produced a snowmobile for the operation.

It was this machine, considerably modified, which was used on exercise "Munich" through the Northwest Territories in 1946.

Following cancellation of Operation "Plough," the Special Service Force went to Kiska and then saw heavy action with the Fifth Army in Italy.

From July to September, 1942, another scheme to carry out large-scale operations against enemy airfields in northern Norway, from which German aircraft were striking at Allied convoys to Russia, also was studied, at the request of the British.

Much of the attention of Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton and some of his best staff officers were devoted to this project during that period, the book said.

"The scheme was a hazardous one, but it was finally abandoned only after long discussion and study. It was never specifically suggested that Canadian troops should be used in the operation should it take place, but this was obviously a likely development."

Study Cost Of Living

HAMILTON, June 5. — (CP) — Housing and high cost of living will be the major problems before the annual meeting of the Canadian Welfare Council opening here Monday.

More than 200 welfare experts are expected to attend the two-day session. Such national organizations as the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, the Canadian Association for Adult Education, the Canadian Arts Councils, as well as public welfare departments, are among those representing.

ARREST "A SURPRISE" — Jack Stachel (second from left) is pictured with reporters after his release on $3,500 bail. Stachel, 49, US national educational director of the Communist Party in the United States, was arrested by the FBI and Immigration authorities on charges of entering the US illegally. Stachel said his arrest was "quite a surprise."

PRINCIPAL FIGURES IN ABORTION DEATH—Declaring that actions of John Glover, shown at left, leaving inquest, indicated he was aware of where the abortion of Mrs. Jane Eleanor Gordon, Toronto, was performed, a jury said lack of evidence prevented them from naming the person or persons who carried out the operation that resulted in death. They also declared it was their opinion that Glover, who admitted relations with Mrs. Gordon, supplied the necessary money with full realization that said money was to be used in payment for this abortion. Another witness at the inquest was Dr. George Watson, obstetrician, who "denied" he knew Mrs. Gordon, and "thanked" police for ruining any business he had left.

Ceylon Seeking U.N. Membership

LAKE SUCCESS, June 5 (AP).—Ceylon has applied for membership in the United Nations with hopes of becoming the eighth of the British Commonwealth Dominions to be admitted.

The application from the island of India's southeast coast was received Thursday and announced this morning.

Non-Soviet sources at the U.N. speculated that Ceylon might have delayed applying until now in order to get assurance that Russia would not veto the Ceylon bid.

Ceylon would become the 59th member of the U.N. if the bid passes the preliminary tests in the Security Council this summer and then is accepted by majority vote of the general assembly meeting in Paris next fall.

Expect Boost To Gaspé's Cod With Meat Shortage Likely

PORT DANIEL, Que., June 5 (CP).—Some 3,500 cod fishermen living in the cosy villages that hug the craggy Gaspé coastline looked to-day to the Marshall Plan as a program that might partially offset lucrative markets lost at war's end.

Lost British and French markets after the Second World War dealt their industry a body blow. But Gaspésians—who live as much to fish as they fish to live and are accustomed to the hard knocks—are doing business almost as usual.

The Marshall Plan does not include fish for export in Europe's recovery program. But Fisheries Department officials maintain that in a roundabout way it will help the Gaspé fishing industry, which in 1945 and 1946 had a market value of more than $7,000,000.

They figure Marshall Plan meat export will result in a shortage both in the United States and Canada, forcing the consumer to turn more to fish. Increased home consumption is part of the campaign to ease the fish marketing problem.

The Gaspé fisherman's most prosperous days followed the outbreak of two World Wars. Prior to the war filleting of cod was unknown in the area. But they converted quickly to a simple hand-filleting process on the tables, somewhat like the practice in England.

In 1946, Quebec produced a record 35,000,000 lbs. of frozen cod fillet. After loss of the British market, in 1947 it dwindled to 1,500,000 lbs.

Now then concentrate more on the famous Gaspé cure—lightly salted dried cod—which finds its principal outlet in countries with temperate climates such as Italy. The industry is going through another period of conversion, from fresh fish to dried, smoked and pickled products.

Cod is the main catch, but Gaspé's picturesque fleet of almost 2,000 assorted boats—sail, oar or motor—also bring in herring, mackerel, lobster and salmon. Value of equipment engaged exceeds $1,000,000.

The majority of fishermen in the peninsula are grouped in more than 20 co-operatives of 75 to 100 members each. Independent firms total about 40. They own their equipment, and under provincial law can borrow up to 2 per cent from credit unions, the government making up the difference.

LABOUR GAINS

The Progressive-Conservative Government took office in 1943. Almost immediately the Attorney-General travelled to Ottawa to request a uniform code for all of Canada.

Ottawa failed to deliver. Instead it amended its own legislation by order-in-council (PC1003) restricting its use to war industries.

Asserting that this discriminated against unions and labor generally, the Ontario Government (April, 1944) incorporated PC 1003 in its own legislation, making it applicable to all industry. Other provinces followed its example.

Labor Minister Daley, Premier Drew and Attorney-General Blackwell continued to press for uniform legislation for the postwar, having guaranteed labor the 48-hour week and holidays with pay in the Ontario legislation.

In February, 1947, Ottawa, asked for an extension of its control over labor matters in provincial industries Ontario complied. In May, Ottawa withdrew, but the Ontario Government maintained identical machinery of conciliation and arbitration and retained uniformity of legislation.

New federal legislation is now before the House of Commons. Organized labor has had an important part in fashioning it.

On March 26 last, Labor Minister Daley announced that when it is approved Ontario will accept it in full for all industry in the province.

Other Progressive Steps

Among many progressive enactments by the government are the following:

1. The Hours of Work and Vacations with Pay Act.
2. The Labor Relations Board has replaced the former Labor Court.
3. The Workmen's Compensation Act has been considerably broadened, together with a general liberalization of administrative policy.

St. Andrew's Ladies' WMS Hold Annual Lilac Tea

It was lilac-time and tea-time Friday afternoon in the parlors of St. Andrew's United Church. For their annual lilac tea the members of the WMS had lined the tearoom with charming arrangements of mauve lilacs, white lilacs and French lilacs, with sprays of white apices. They were in large baskets, small baskets and vases, and tall standards held branches laden with the dainty blooms. On the mantelpiece a miniature fawn, with ears in alert position, watched the guests from his cover of French lilacs flanked with small bouquets of deep-shaded pansies.

To centre the tea table, white lilacs were effectively combined with pink tulips and pink candles placed on either side to accent the color interest. Reeve Fred Gifford Supports The Honourable Harold Scott

The widely-known Reeve of Ennismore Township, Fred Gifford, was the main speaker at a rally in favour of the Hon. Harold Scott at Ennismore on Thursday evening. Speaking for about forty minutes, Reeve Gifford praised the work done by the provincial member for Peterborough County since first elected to the Ontario Legislature in 1943. The speaker laid particular emphasis on the very successful efforts of Harold Scott towards the building of the Chemong Causeway which would mean a great deal for the development of all Ennismore Township in future. Mr. Gifford also mentioned how helpful Mr. Scott had been to the Peterborough County Council as a whole and the great amount of money he had helped to save all ratepayers, as well as how very helpful he had always been to any delegation which had gone to Toronto to interview the government.

John Corkery Jr., young barrister, acted as chairman and made an excellent impression in his remarks favouring the Honourable Harold Scott.

For the first time in this campaign, Mrs. Harold Scott substituted for her well-known husband, the Minister of Lands and Forests. The latter had telephoned her from Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., where he has been working closely for the past few days with his Department of Lands and Forests staff in the great fight against disastrous forest fires in Northern Ontario. Mrs. Scott showed that, like Mrs. George Drew, she can be of real assistance to her husband in his political work, and she created a fine impression on the meeting.

Other speakers were John Currelly, Peterborough Barrister and Gordon K. Fraser, M.P.

Square Deal in Generosity Owed by Husband and Wife

The trouble with married life is that there isn't enough reciprocity in it. If it was a fair trade in which each party gave the other a square deal and in which they vied with each other in generosity, there would be no disgruntled husbands and wives crying out that marriage is a failure, and no more unhappy homes.

But as it is, marriage is only too often a skin game, in which a man and woman each deliberately set out to get the best of himself or herself and to monopolize all of the pleasures and perquisites of the holy estate. And invariably the one who wins out is the hardest boiled, who is the most selfish and grasping and who has the least heart and conscience.

Sometimes it is the husband who grabs off all the best for himself and leaves all the work and sacrifice for his wife. We all know men who wear the most expensive clothes, smoke the finest cigars, belong to good clubs and have the reputation of being big spenders, while their wives are shabby and never have a dime that they can call their very own.

We all know men who never think of spending an evening at their own firesides, yet who raise Cain if their wives step out to the movies with a neighbor woman. We know men who are born philanderers, but who would consider themselves grievously ill-used if their wives even looked at another man. We know men who feel that home is just a place where they can vent all of their bad temper and general cussedness, yet who think that their wives should always be bright and cheerful.

Wife Greedy, Too

Just as often the wife is the greedy one who takes all of the frosting off the matrimonial cake. We see them on all sides. Women who think of nothing but dressing themselves up in the latest fashion, while their husbands look like something the cat dragged in. Women who won't cook their husbands a decent meal, who won't even get up and get them breakfast. Women who are slovenly and dull and who will do nothing toward making a comfortable home, or being helpmates to their husbands, or even being pleasant and agreeable, and yet who expect their husbands to go on supporting them and being faithful to them.

No spectacle is more common than the grafting husband and wife, the grabbers who take all and give nothing. No wonder so many women fall out of love with their husbands. No wonder so many men come to loathe their parasitic wives.

And the pity of it is that these greedy husbands and wives in trying to get everything lose all. Selfishness blights love as frost does a flower, and while we may find an altruistic happiness in offering ourselves up as a sacrifice to a beloved one, it is not in human nature not to resent our husband or wife making us the family goat.

Only those homes are happy in which the husband and wife put each other's good before their own, in which they find their own happiness in seeking the other's happiness. There should be give-and-take in marriage, but it should be mutual.

THE GOATSUCKER DOESN'T

The goatsucker is so called because of an ancient belief that it sucks the milk of goats and other animals. It is more popularly known as the nightjar.

discussion a committee of three members was appointed to look into the project and report. This was the last meeting of the board until September.

The Peterborough CGIT Board held their June meeting at the YWCA on Tuesday evening, Miss Catherine Hodgins presiding.

Mrs. D. B. Gordon reporting for camp committee announced that intermediate and senior camps are staffed and a number of registrations are coming in from the various groups.

The treasurer reported a substantial balance from receipts at the annual spring tea held on May 15. This is the board's main effort of the year to finance the camp. Miss Hodgins thanked all members who assisted in any way to make the tea a success.

Plans are completed for the leadership training week-end on September 18. A director from Toronto will take charge of the course.

The annual sunrise service will be held this coming Sunday, June 6, at eight o'clock. The groups will meet at Mark St. United Church and if weather is favorable, will proceed to Armour Hill for an outdoor service. The president requested as many of the board members as possible to attend this service.

THE STARS SAY

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLER

For Sunday, June 6

Sunday's horoscope suggests the need of adhering to the accepted and conventional routines of the Sabbath day, making it a day of conservative action, with a firm hold upon the energies, emotions, impulses and proclivities generally. Should laxity, or willful slackening loosen the hold on all sorts of leashes and "curbs," the finale might prove tragic, disastrous and of dire calamity. Accidents, fires, litigation, strife and loss of every description are pre-arranged for carelessness.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may be disposed to a program of wild, ungoverned, reckless and turbulent conduct, in any form of which there is possible danger, loss, accident or injury, with theft, fire or accidents caused by machinery or instruments. Impetuous moves, rash decisions, intemperance and violence of any nature, could exact drastic and far-reaching penalties. Calm and determined "putting on the brakes," mental, emotional and spiritual, might avert calamity and sorrow.

A child born on this day probably is endowed with a temperamental and ardent temperament, which might have disastrous influence on the life unless given early and rigid discipline.

For Monday, June 7

Monday's astrological forecast holds augury of a most propitious and progressive state of affairs, with industry, enterprise, initiative and ambition "cashing in" on a grand and generous scale. Industry, application, concentration on practical ways and means, amplified by creative efforts and clever strategies, should culminate in lasting and worthwhile success. Aim seriously toward high objectives for long-range recognition and rewards, prudently and systematically. Count up on elders and superiors' cooperation.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may be assured of a year of opportunity for placing their affairs on a firm, enduring and lasting basis. Such should find stability and long-range benefits by a well-organized program, carefully worked out in detail, thus winning the ready collaboration of those in influential places. Elders will be found willing and friendly in extending the glad hand. Ideals and spiritual leads also have value and should be expressed in clever strategy, diplomacy, or possibly sentimental appeal, for greatest realization.

A child born on this day will have sound aims and aspirations, with imagination and idealism sustaining sound tactics and sterling principles, winning support from superiors.

Serve Apple Pie Au Gratin On Father's Day

Here's a special way to say: "To Dad with love on Father's Day." Plan to give him something he's really wanted for a long time and serve all of his favorite dishes for dinner.

Apple Pie Au Gratin, a particularly delicious dessert and certain to be dad's favorite, can be prepared quickly and easily if you have a yummy, yummy pie on hand and serve it hot topped with cheese.

To make the celebration extra festive plan to have the whole family together. Instead of spending the day in the kitchen, schedule a party dinner that doesn't require hours of cooking.

Here is the time-saving secret you might like to have on hand when serving dad's delight, apple pie au gratin: 1 (7") apple pie 1/4 cup grated cheese. Spread cheese over the top of the apple pie. Heat in a moderate oven (350F.) for ten minutes or until cheese melts. Serve immediately. Cut pie into 6 wedge-shaped pieces for 6 generous portions of Apple Pie Au Gratin.

When you get those welcome compliments from the gentleman of the household, you'll be delighted you decided to spend the day with him and have a festive meal with a special dessert just for Dad.

'Mounties' Mark 74th Year With Recruiting Drive

EDMONTON, June 5 — (CP)—In scarlet tunics and gold-striped trousers, afoot because their horses had given out, 20 members of a new police force reached Fort Edmonton 74 years ago after an 88-day march from Dufferin Barracks in Manitoba.

They were the first "Mounties"—members of the Royal North-West Mounted Police.

Monday 42 musician-heirs to their tradition—members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Band—will cover twice that distance in seven hours.

Flying to Edmonton to inaugurate a cross-country concert tour, the band, under Inspector J. T. Browne, will leave Ottawa at 10:45 a.m., reaching the provincial capital at 6:45 p.m. that evening.

Three days of concerts and parades are scheduled for Edmonton before the group leaves for Red Deer on a 10-day swing through Alberta's larger centres. It would have taken as long to march from Edmonton to Calgary in 1874.

Their recruiting serenades to Prairie youths—such is the purpose of the tour—will be a far cry from the succession of bugle calls that daily charmed the early Mounties' days into a routine of frontier policemen's duties.

Their letters and diaries, and some of their descendants, tell of a policeman's life then.

Early officers disagreed that Edmonton ever would be a city—they said the river banks were too high for the expected railroad to cross.

Settling on Fort Saskatchewan 20 miles downstream, they dropped Edmonton. Canada's last-known cannibal was hanged at Fort Saskatchewan in 1882—an Indian whose last complaint was an enigmatic remark that his mother-in-law had been a bit tough.

COUNTY FARM NOTES

By HARRY THEOBALD

Some Phases Of Peterborough Dairying 50 Years Ago Recalled by G. A. Gillespie. Millbrook Spring Show Thursday, June 10
No Set Of Rules To Follow In Proper Farm Accounting

Once upon a time G. A. Gillespie was a farm magazine agent in Smith township, self-appointed and unpaid.

The magazine was the durable Hoard's Dairyman, published in the United States, rich in traditions and still flourishing and vigorous among the agricultural press of the continent.

Intangible commission was collected years after that round of subscribers by Mr. Gillespie, but never could he put his finger on the approximate time of settlement. Nor could he estimate now the invaluable returns from a voluntary undertaking that paid off, not in immediate dollars and cents, but in a timely gaining of special knowledge, a little discovery of personality through an experience in initiative, of which he was probably not then aware.

The recruiting of new readers of Hoard's was only an episode of the early Spring of fifty years ago when Mr. Gillespie moved into Smith to take charge of the cheese factory on the 4th Line. He had served an apprenticeship at the Fleetwood and Ormiston factories, and was cheesemaker at the Shearer plant that stood at the No. 7 Highway turn into the Keene Road when he was hired for the Smith job. That was his first step in a career that brought him into prominence in the dairy industry of this province, and subsequently placed him among its national leaders as a member of the Canadian Dairy Council.

As a youth in Otonabee he had learned well how to convert a vat of milk into 80-pound cheeses, pressing the curds into their cloth cover and their standard mould, striving daily for smooth texture and palatable flavor, and boxing his cheeses neatly and securely for the exacting British market which eventually placed a price premium on the Canadian product.

Laid Foundation

That was the work of summers around the turn of the century, when obscure cheesemakers were helping to lay the foundation of the dairy industry in Canada. And, a cheesemaker Mr. Gillespie might have remained if he had been content with the routine of the job. Instead, he became an experimenter within the narrow limits of his factory, finding expression for an enquiring and enterprising intelligence in the means at hand.

Confronting him was virtually the universal problem based on the dairy farm, the development of milking herds, the broadening of knowledge of planned breeding, the attaining of more certain economy or just plain profitable farm work, and the applying of new dairy science in the care of milk.

Like the stonemason building a wall but regarding himself as erecting a cathedral, Mr. Gillespie was not only making Smith milk into cheese, but also contributing within his own neighborhood to the establishment of the Canadian dairy industry. Achievement invariably raises the question of how it came about. What was the course of progress, and what secret, if any, turned up along the way? In this instance a hint is implied in a recent recollection of Mr. Gillespie. Not that he was advising junior farmers how to become members of such organizations as the Canadian Dairy Council or pointing a moral of diligence and study. He was merely recalling a few of his experience in those dimming days when he moved into Smith, and reviewing changes in dairying, particularly the expansion of the cheese industry in the Peterborough milkshed and the gradual disappearance of its once profitable factories.

"There were progressive farmers 40 and 50 years ago," Mr. Gillespie said. "One of them was C. D. Moore, an uncle of Charles E. Moore of Smith. He was a great farmer, one of the best I ever knew. One of my memories of him is that he made a study of the breeding of cattle. In that respect he would compare well indeed with any of our young farmers who today have the advantages of education and knowledge that have been developed for them.

Mr. Moore paid a great deal of attention to the selecting of a herd sire. His custom was to investigate the high testing of milk in whatever records were available of the dams in the male line. He was aiming at increased milk production in his herd. I remember that Mr. Moore used to send 800 lbs. of milk to the factory Monday mornings. It was always of top quality. He had his own way of cooling it, and he did not follow the general practice of that time of dipping it, partly to remove gases, but also exposing it to contamination from the air.

Spread the Gospel.

I soon learned that Mr. Moore was a regular subscriber of Hoard's Dairyman, a farm magazine published in the United States, and still spreading the gospel of better farming. He read it from cover to cover, and adopted many of its ideas. He said it should be read by every farmer who wanted to get along. So, I took the magazine, and in the Spring after I went to that factory I went out to call on farmers to become patrons, that is to get them to send their milk to our cheese factory. Mr. Moore came along with me on some of my calls. At every house I urged them to take Hoard's Dairyman. The result was that with some help from Mr. Moore, I got every patron to become a subscriber for that year.

Helping to boost the circulation of a farm paper had nothing to do with the actual making of cheese, but the young Gillespie soon realized that it did even more than that, it helped to make them better farmers.

The Moore cattle were Holsteins. "A fine herd," Mr. Gillespie said. Forgotten now except by relatives and surviving friends, C. D. Moore was one of the Smith farmers who must have left the impress of a questing intelligence on the dairy industry in this district. His nephew, James D. Moore, was appointed in April to a responsible assignment in promoting junior farmer organizations throughout Canada.

"One of the practical facts that gradually became understood and accepted was that herds should be culled for milk production," Mr. Gillespie continued. "The cow that gave only 5,000 lbs. a year was only a boarder, but her 10,000-pound sisters paid 100% to the farmer for his work. It was up to me to advocate the testing of milk. We had the Babcock test in those days, and it is still used. The first farmer I proposed it to was J. Gordon Mann, and he fell in with the idea. That was characteristic of him. He has been another of the good farmers of Smith. He had a Holstein herd in those days. When he had his cattle tested for T.B., he lost practically all of them, then switched to Ayrshires, and built up a fine herd of that breed.

Each cow's milk was weighed three days a week and a sample was taken for butter fat test and was sent to Ottawa to be checked. The Department of Agriculture advised farmers to adopt the testing practice. The tests used to be taken by William Weir who died in 1947 at Lang, in Otonabee, where he was for years a general storekeeper."

Mr. Gillespie in later years became a director of the Canadian Dairy Council, and was consulted at times by officials of the Department of Agriculture because as a cheesemaker he did more than make cheese. He did not perceive it at the time, but his Smith job was an opportunity of developing personal initiative and leadership.

In a few years he became the sole owner of the Peterborough Creamery on Aymer Street, one of the most dutiful and capable aldermen who ever served the city, and finally member of the Ontario Legislature.

This reminiscence by Mr. Gillespie touches only on one phase of his full and active life. Its implication should be obvious to aspiring young farmers who are staking their future in the land, recognizing the study and the labor ahead of them. Some of Peterborough's junior farmers of the present generation are not selling a dairy magazine, but they are putting forth an equivalent effort in agricultural and community affairs. They cannot see around the turns in the lane extending into the future, but by dint of application of the abilities they possess, who knows what is in store for them?

The achievement of the Central

Smith cheesemaker of 50 years ago, and the pattern of it, suggest a quotation of seeming significance for industrious youth with their best years to be turned to full account:

"O the little more and how much it is,
And the little less, and what worlds away."

FARM ACCOUNTING

"In talking with men who have kept records of their farm business for a number of years, we find no set of rules to follow," says Mr. F. K. B. Stewart, Department of Agriculture Economics, OAC. "Some suggest a small note book and a pencil carried in the overall pocket, others a scribbler in some convenient place in the kitchen, or a file where bills are placed immediately upon their receipt.

Keeping these records conscientiously is primarily a matter of establishing "The Habit," which one acquired soon becomes second nature. To quote one farmer we interviewed "It is part of my daily routine and I wouldn't think of farming without keeping records." This man follows the scribbler system. At the end of each week entries are made in the regular farm account book, which is designed and distributed by the Department of Agriculture Economics, OAC. Less than three minutes a day is the time he considers spent at this, and from the summary of his business we know it to be a sizable one."

MILLBROOK SHOW JUNE 10

Just a reminder of the Millbrook livestock show, June 10, afternoon and evening. C. L. McNeill is president, P. I. Bentley, secretary and S. S. Staples managing director. District Jersey breeders will have 50 entries. The Shorthorn breeders of the two counties will show 50 of their breed, and Herefords will be a new feature. John Stuart of Peterborough, F. E. Birdall of Asphodel and the Rodenz herd from Stouffville will be strongly represented. Kawartha swine breeders have also a unit of the show and the horse classes promise to be better than last year. Millbrook Lions Club are looking after the evening program.

NATIONAL HOLSTEIN SALE

Average price of $1,294 at the national Holstein sale at Oakville Monday was $444 more than the average of $850 last year. Total of $73,800 was paid for 59 head. Top price was $5,000 paid by R. B. Ross of Gowanda, N.Y. for a bull calf owned by J. J. E. McCague of Alliston. Three Ontario county breeders, Tom Flett, O. van Chambers and Hugh Orloff bought a bull calf from the Croft Farm for $3,500.

LONDON BUS TRIP

Bus accommodation for 37 junior farmers is being provided for their trip into western Ontario June 19 and 20. They are going as far as London, will stay there Saturday night, and attend church Sunday morning, probably in St. Thomas. Murray McRae has been mapping out the itinerary to include many places of interest. Total cost is around $17 or $18. Those who are planning to go on this trip are asked for early decision.

AT McNEVIN FARM

Dr. George I. Christie, former president of O.A.C., will be the speaker at the district Holstein breeders' picnic at the home of Mr. Bruce McNevin, near Reabro, Friday, June 11. Farmers from Victoria, Durham and Peterborough are joining hands in this field day which begins at 11 a.m. A program of judging events and athletics is slated for the afternoon.

IMPORTED SEEDS

Many of our seeds are largely produced outside the province. List would include alfalfa, alsike, bromes, orchard grass, the fescue, and several other species. Strangely enough a considerable proportion of our seed oats and barley are also imported.

There is a current belief among many people that imported seeds produce an inferior crop when compared with crops produced from native grown seed. Generally speaking, in so far as Ontario is concerned there is no basis for this belief. It is true that if seed produced in much warmer countries were imported the resulting plants would be less hardy than native ones. As most of our imported seeds come from western Canada we have no cause for worry, as the plants must of necessity be hardy to withstand the severe winters of the plains.

If we import seeds from a foreign country a proportion of them must be dyed so as to enable the purchaser to understand it is not Canadian grown. As the dyes are very bright in color, ranging from red to violet, it is easily seen by all interested parties.

The importance of obtaining a supply of good seed for our Ontario farmers has been very necessary, as the production of alfalfa and alsike clover seed in Ontario is steadily declining, and demand increasing. For the last several years Ontario seed firms have turned to western Canada for supplies. One great area in Saskatchewan near Meadow Lake being the main source for alfalfa, and Northern Alberta is rapidly becoming Canada's alsike centre. These areas are rigidly controlled for this special type of agriculture, consequently produce high yields of excellent quality. This is the seed that has been planted on Ontario farms for the past several years with excellent results. Until the time arrives when our Ontario Department of Agriculture sees fit to attack the problem of our decreasing legume seed crop, Ontario will become more and more dependent on the western producer for these products.

Net results will be the loss of an excellent cash crop on the part of our local farmer with the increased costs in purchasing high priced seeds formerly home grown. (By Ernie McWilliam).

New Freshets Threaten Worse Floods

VANCOUVER, June 7 (CP)—Heat-born mountain freshets today were threatening to swell British Columbia's flood-swollen rivers and hurt a new challenge at thousands of workers who during the week-end appeared to be slowly winning their long and bitter battle.

The unbridled streams raced through mountain gorges to the headwaters of the Fraser, Thompson and Columbia.

Hot Dispute Slows Coal Talks

WASHINGTON, June 7 (AP)—A hot dispute over miners' death and injury benefits, as well as pensions, clouded the start of new contract talks today between John L. Lewis and American soft coal operators.

Lewis declared the benefits issue will "enflame the mining population with white anger" unless it is settled by July 1.

Proposed by a court order, union negotiators were set to resume contract discussions at a late morning session. The operators scheduled a strategy meeting two hours earlier.

Lewis and the mine owners had tried to begin negotiations May 18, but the talks quickly stalled over seating Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers Association.

It took an injunction signed by Justice T. Alan Goldsborough to clear that muddle. Lewis was ordered to bargain with Moody at any meeting held for the purpose of making a contract. The present agreement expires June 30.

Goldsborough twice has fined Lewis and the United Mine Workers (Ind.) for contempt—in 1946 and again in the pension strike of March and April of this year.

The pension fight still is unresolved, although the 400,000 soft coal miners are back in the pits. Goldsborough still holds an injunction over their heads to keep them from resuming the walkout.

28 Perish Over Week-end Traffic Deaths Lead, 6 Die From Drowning

By The Canadian Press
Eleven traffic deaths, including four in an automobile-tram collision near Montreal, topped a list of 28 week-end fatalities in Eastern Canada.

A Canadian Press survey also showed two men dead in what police described as a shooting affray and two flying tourists killed in an Ontario plane crash. Six drownings were reported, five blamed for four deaths, a shooting accident for one, and a schoolboy died from head injuries

Russian Opposition Fails To Block Western Powers

WASHINGTON, June 7 (AP)—In the face of certain Russian opposition, the Western Powers announced today a five-point proposal for creating a separate Federal Government in Western Germany.

At the same time they revealed new measures to block any future German aggression. The five steps projected for creating a Federal German Government are based on the expressed belief that the German people themselves should take maximum responsibility for each step.

The steps include an authorization meeting of the allied military chiefs and German heads of each western German state, election of delegates to a constituent assembly, drafting of a constitution by the Assembly, ratification of the constitution by the German people, and consideration of needed revisions in German state boundaries.

It was to meet French security fears and ease French acceptance of steps to fit western Germany into European reconstruction, reports say, that the three western powers laid down their most comprehensive agreement thus far projected for keeping Germany under control.

Another victory for the French was contained in an agreement for an international control of the Ruhr "in which United States, United Kingdom, France, Benelux countries and Germany would participate, and which does not involve the political separation of the Ruhr area from Germany."

"It does, however, contemplate control of distribution of coal, coke and steel of the Ruhr."

The conference also agreed that the military governors of the western zones should create a military security board to assure continued disarmament and demilitarization in Germany.

Russia served notice weeks ago that she would not consider the decisions of the London meeting as legal.

For organization of a western Germany government along federal lines to be set up by the German people themselves, the London conference prescribed the following steps:

(The London agreements are subject to approval of the six governments but the only country which there is expected to be a real argument over their acceptance is France.)

1. The military governors of the western zones should meet jointly with the Ministers President of

5 New Fires Reported At Chapleau

Hold Major Blazes In Check
Rain At Nakina

By The Canadian Press
Five lightning fires broke out Sunday in the Chapleau forest area of northern Ontario as fire-fighters sought to encircle the 60,000 acre blaze.

Crews reported that, with calm weather, the fires could be held in check.

Early today rain was falling at Nakina, Canadian National Railway division point, and it is expected to move east toward the big Chapleau and Mississagi fires.

The Mississagi blaze, north of Blind River, did not spread appreciably Sunday, said T. C. Mackey, chief of the fire protection division of the provincial lands department. A strong wind was responsible for the outbreaks in the Chapleau area along the southwest side.

Fires are still raging in north-western Quebec, where crews are waiting for the hot flames to die down and hoping for rain.

Only scattered showers were forecast for today but across the north country men scanned the sky for big thunderheads that could presage a downpour heavy enough to soak the fiery timberlands.

Then the crews could move into the devastated areas and stamp out scattered patches of flame with pumps, shovels and other equipment.

Final stages of the firefighting operation will include "cruising" the burned-over area in an attempt to identify the types of timber destroyed and to estimate the loss.

The biggest fires still were those in the Mississagi and Chapleau areas of northern Ontario. Altogether those two blazes were said to cover more than 200 square miles, including burned-over and burning areas.

The Mississagi fire, north of Blind River, raged through both cutover areas and in standing timber, mostly pine. The Chapleau blaze swept stands of mixed timber, including white pine, jackpine, spruce, birch and poplar.

Spreading more rapidly than the 10-day-old Northern Ontario fires were outbreaks in north-western Quebec. These were reported near Belletre, 50 miles south of Rouyn; 17 miles south of Clovis, 190 miles east of Rouyn; and in the Val d'Or area, 65 miles east of Rouyn.

The Clovis area fires led to evacuation of two small settlements in the heart of Quebec pulp and timber districts.

Fresh fires were reported in the Dog Lake and Tremper Lake districts northwest of Port Arthur. The great fire in the Lake Helen district north of Port Arthur continued to burn in spots.

Election Service

Special arrangements to give the Ontario election results to the people in this area have been made by The Examiner and radio station CHEX. In addition to the usual telephone service The Examiner will provide up-to-the-minute results over CHEX commencing at 7:15 p.m. and continuing every 15 minutes throughout the evening. It is also hoped to present the candidates to the listeners. From 7:45 p.m. any of the following telephone numbers may be used to get results—4641, 4642, 4643, 4644 and 4646.

Vote Very Light In Election At All Points

TORONTO, June 7 (CP)—Voting was light today in the early stages of Ontario's third general election in five years.

In most ridings early voters were greeted by grey, overcast skies, although bright, sunny weather was reported in parts of Northern Ontario. Rain was falling in several sections and was forecast in others.

Officials expressed hope, however, that the voting tempo would be speeded up by early afternoon. At mid-morning, returning officers said it was too soon to predict accurately the size of the vote.

In the Ottawa area, most civil servants seemed to be taking advantage of the king's birthday anniversary holiday to sleep late. The first of the factory-worker vote in most parts of the province was not expected until the noon-hour.

Premier Drew wound up his 6,000-mile campaign tour in Toronto High Park, where he is the Progressive Conservative candidate. He made no speeches Saturday but visited party workers.

Farquhar Oliver, Ontario Liberal leader, made his final speech of the campaign in his home riding of Grey South. He said Saturday night that plans for the St. Lawrence river electric power development would be economically unsound unless carried out in conjunction with developments of the river as a seaway.

E. B. Joffe, Ontario CCF leader, closed his campaign in Windsor with prediction that that industrial city, where he started his campaign April 20, would go CCF in to-day's voting.

Polls were scheduled to be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. DT and 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. EST. In Rouyn and Kenora ridings, on Central Daylight Time voting will start and stop an hour later.

The major parties—Progressive Conservative, Liberal and CCF—have 261 candidates altogether. Premier Drew's Progressive Conservative forces, seeking reelection, contested all 90 seats, the Liberals 88 plus two Liberal-Labor, the CCF 81. The Union of Electors entered 13 candidates and Independents rounded out the field.

At dissolution last April the Government held 65 seats, the Liberals 11, the CCF seven, the FINE WEATHER

CSU Protests To Premier Against RCMP In Strike

TORONTO, June 7 (CP)—The Canadian Seamen's Union (T.L.C.) protested today to Prime Minister Mackenzie King against the "strike-breaking" activity of the R.C.M.P. at Cornwall.

Harry Davis, C.S.U. president, said in a telegram that his union looks on the presence of the R.C.M.P. as an attempt to help the five shipping companies against whom the C.S.U. struck during the week-end.

The companies are Canada Steamship Lines Ltd., Colonial Steamships Ltd., Sarnia Steamships Ltd., Northwest Steamship Ltd., and Transit Tankers and Terminals Ltd.

An R.C.M.P. detachment was guarding the Cornwall Canal entrance today and shipping moved through the waterway unimpeded.

Michael Jackson, the union's Great Lakes director, said his men were balked by the presence of police but predicted a "marshaling of forces" and one eventual "big push."

Calling the strike, the C.S.U. charged the companies "violated their agreements" and had "broken every labor law." C.S.U. prosecution of the five firms for alleged violation of Federal labor laws is pending in the courts.

The C.S.U. claimed late Sunday night that the strike action had affected 16 of the companies' 80 ships. In Toronto, a spokesman said today that a 17th vessel has been tied up at Prescott.

CSU members were chased off the CSL passenger steamer Cayuga at Niagara-on-the-Lake by crew members who used fire hose. One CSU member landed in the river and was fished out by police.

Mr. Davis said in his statement that an issue in the strike is a CSU demand for abolition of the 36-hour week on tankers and the 48-hour week on freighters.

"We are striking against those lake companies who have violated their agreement with the union, who have broken every labor law, who have defiantly rejected the recommendations of the government-appointed Brockington-McNish Commission... and who are attempting to force a company union on the backs of the seamen," he said.

Shots Kill 2 At Simcoe; Hold Farmer

Three Others Died At Same Home Back In 1941.

SIMCOE, June 7 (CP)—Violent death has struck twice in the last seven years on the farm of Seth Linton and today the 42-year-old farmer stands charged with double murder as a result of the last two killings.

In 1941 Linton's 21-year-old wife and two young children were found dead and authorities decided the woman shot the children and committed suicide. Sunday morning Linton allegedly quarreled over a neighbor's wife, then shot the neighbor and another man.

Dead are Louis Stewart, 52, whose wife had been Linton's housekeeper for six years, and John Kipp, 36, Stewart's brother-in-law from nearby Vienna. Linton has been remanded to Thursday.

Police said the double slaying apparently resulted from an attempt by Stewart and Kipp to persuade Stewart's wife to return to him.

Events leading up to the slayings started late Saturday afternoon when Mrs. Stewart, leaving her 13-year-old daughter at the Linton home, came into Simcoe where she met her husband and attended a movie with him.

Police said Linton apparently made several trips into town Saturday evening and on one of his visits here saw Mr. and Mrs. Stewart together.

Investigators said Kipp went to the Linton home about 3:30 a.m. Sunday and demanded entrance. Linton refused to let him into the house. Three hours later Kipp returned with Mr. and Mrs. Stewart.

Little Jo Ann Stewart, Mrs. Stewart's fair-haired daughter, gave this account of what happened then:

"They wanted mother's stuff because she was pulling out Uncle John (Kipp) and dad pulled the door and there was a scuffle."

"Mother and I saw Seth (Linton) shoot my dad in front of the house. We saw Seth chasing Uncle John. By the time the ambulance got there, he (Kipp) was dead and the bullet was sticking out of his chest like this."

Here she held her finger and thumb about half an inch apart.

"We started to the Lamours' house (a neighbor's place) and, looking back, saw Seth take the gun and hit father on the head three times with the wooden part."

It was the second time in seven years death had struck in the Linton farmhouse. In 1941 Linton's 21-year-old wife and two young children were found dead and authorities decided the woman shot the children and committed suicide.

Quebec Bush Fire Out Of Control

ROUYN, Que., June 7 (CP)—A huge forest fire raged out of control today over 50 square miles in the township, south of Lake Expansive, and other fires, some still threatening, dotted North-western Quebec.

Bush travel has been stopped in five counties—Témiscamingue, Pontiac, Gatineau, Papineau and Labelle.

From the major fire area there were no definite word of the fate of the little village of Belletre, believed Sunday night in no immediate danger.

W. Ab-Yberg, chief forester of Canadian International Paper, said the fire is burning over limits of that company, over government limits and limits of Consolidated Paper Co.

He said the situation was difficult to assess at the moment. In addition to Belletre there are a number of small settlements in the area.

Nearly 150 men were reported fighting the Dublin township fire. North of Rouyn in Hebecourt township a 15-acre fire still burned out of control, with 15 men fighting its progress.

Last Link With West Is Severed

Communist Gottwald Almost Certain To Succeed Him

PRAGUE, June 7 (AP)—President Benes resigned today. Premier Klement Gottwald's office announced the resignation was accepted by a special cabinet meeting.

Benes was elected to a seven-year term in 1945.

He resigned once before—in 1938, after the Munich conference brought the German invasion—but reassumed the presidency in London, July 21, 1940. He first became President in December, 1935, after Thomas G. Masaryk resigned because of age and illness. Benes had been Masaryk's Foreign Minister 17 years and helped him found the Czechoslovak republic.

The resignation took out of the government the last strong link that this country had with the West. Benes remained in office, though his powers were shorn, after he bowed to the Communists in February. He permitted the Communists to form their government, Gottwald acknowledged at the time, to avoid bloodshed and rioting. Benes said the event could have "only evil results."

The constitution which Benes refused to accept was adopted May 9 by a purged, Communist-dominated parliament. Today was the deadline for Benes' signature. He is 64.

Political circles regarded it as almost certain that Gottwald would be the next President and that Antonin Zapotocky would succeed him as Prime Minister.

Among rumors about Benes' plans, the most reliable information indicated he would remain in close privacy at his summer home Selimovitz until to regain his health and finish his memoirs.

One of the assembly's first tasks would be to elect the new president who would accept the old cabinet's resignation and approve formation of a new cabinet.

It was expected that tomorrow's cabinet meeting, or possibly an earlier special meeting, would empower Communist Premier Klement Gottwald to counteract the president's order of resignation as the constitution requires.

Man Dynamites Common-Law Wife

STURGEON FALLS, June 7 (CP)—Henri Poisson, 26, was charged with attempted murder here Sunday after he allegedly attempted to kill his former common-law wife, Mrs. Cecile Lande, by throwing dynamite at her bedroom window. He will be tried in North Bay tomorrow.

Poisson was arrested in bed 20 minutes after two sticks of dynamite exploded outside the window of the bedroom where Mrs. Lande and her seven-year-old daughter, Denise, were sleeping, showering the pair with glass and fragments of wood. Mrs. Lande suffered minor injuries, while her daughter escaped unharmed.

When Schill became ill, he and his bride declined to postpone their wedding plans. Instead, the entire bridal party moved in on Schill in his hospital room. The ceremony was performed at his bedside. The maid of honor, best man, bridesmaid, usher and floor girl were on hand. There was even an audience of nurses.

After the ceremony, Mrs. Schill went alone to the reception, where she greeted 100 guests. Doctors said it will be another week before the bridegroom will be able to have a honeymoon.

Duplessis Has 2 Planks Will Promote Provincial Autonomy

THREE RIVERS, Que., June 7 (CP)—Provincial autonomy and anti-Communism shape up today as the main campaign points of Premier Duplessis' Union National government due to seek re-election shortly.

The Quebec Premier described them as "predominant questions Sunday when his party staged its customary election-eve rally in the government-leader's hometown."

The Premier called on his patriots to join in a campaign for the "recuperation and safeguard of our rights."

Peace Unlikely In Palestine For Seven Days

CAIRO, June 7 (AP)—Count Folke Bernadotte handed to six Arab powers today his proposal for a starting time and conditions of the four-week armistice in Palestine.

Peace appeared unlikely during this week, however. Palace sources in Amman, Trans-Jordan, said the Arab league political committee will not meet before Saturday.

Fighting continued. The Jews claimed successes south of Tel Aviv, and to the north-east around the Arabs' Tulharm-Jen, in-Nablus triangle. The Syrian army became active on the north border of Palestine and the Saudi Arabians were said to have placed a considerable force with tanks and armor in Palestine alongside the Egyptians.

Bernadotte, mediator for the United Nations, has been empowered to fix the starting time of the truce, to which both sides have agreed. The Arabs, however, affixed "explanations" and the

Mumps Or No Mumps This Gal Got Married

CHICAGO, June 7 (AP)—Most new bridegrooms are pretty proud, but Ray Schill was more puffed up than most today.

He was in hospital with the mumps.

When Schill became ill, he and his bride declined to postpone their wedding plans. Instead, the entire bridal party moved in on Schill in his hospital room. The ceremony was performed at his bedside. The maid of honor, best man, bridesmaid, usher and floor girl were on hand. There was even an audience of nurses.

After the ceremony, Mrs. Schill went alone to the reception, where she greeted 100 guests. Doctors said it will be another week before the bridegroom will be able to have a honeymoon.

200 Delegates Debate Housing Issue

HAMILTON, June 7 — (CP) — Canada's housing and cost-of-living problems now may be political issues, but they will also face the critical eye of the welfare experts at the Canadian Welfare Council annual meeting opening today.

Thrashed out a year ago at the last C.W.C. convention, these two bugbears of family life will rear their heads again when 200 delegates go into a huddle to devise a solution.

R. E. G. Davis, council director, said in an interview that neither of the problems has improved. If anything, housing conditions were worse. Cost of living was higher. In his report he will present a brief urging publicly subsidized housing for low income groups.

Further attention will be given housing problems when the Canadian conference on social work gets under way Wednesday at the close of the C.W.C. meeting. At least 800 special workers will attend the conference to continue the remainder of the week.

The delegates will discuss everything from juvenile delinquency and its treatment, to immigration and placement of the newcomers.

Delegates to both meetings will include representatives from the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, the Canadian Association for Adult Education, the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, the Catholic Women's League, Canadian Arts Councils, Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, as well as public welfare departments, and child and family welfare agencies.

The new threat followed Sunday's heat wave when nearly all sections of B.C. recorded the hottest day of the year with some centres reaping up four-year highs for June.

Weather officials said snow was melting on the mountains up to 14,000 feet and the huge, thawing reserves of mountain snow would add to the flood menace. They predicted "no break" from temperatures in the 80s and 90s.

Spring tides each night this week moved up Fraser and Columbia River mounts in their highest swells of the year.

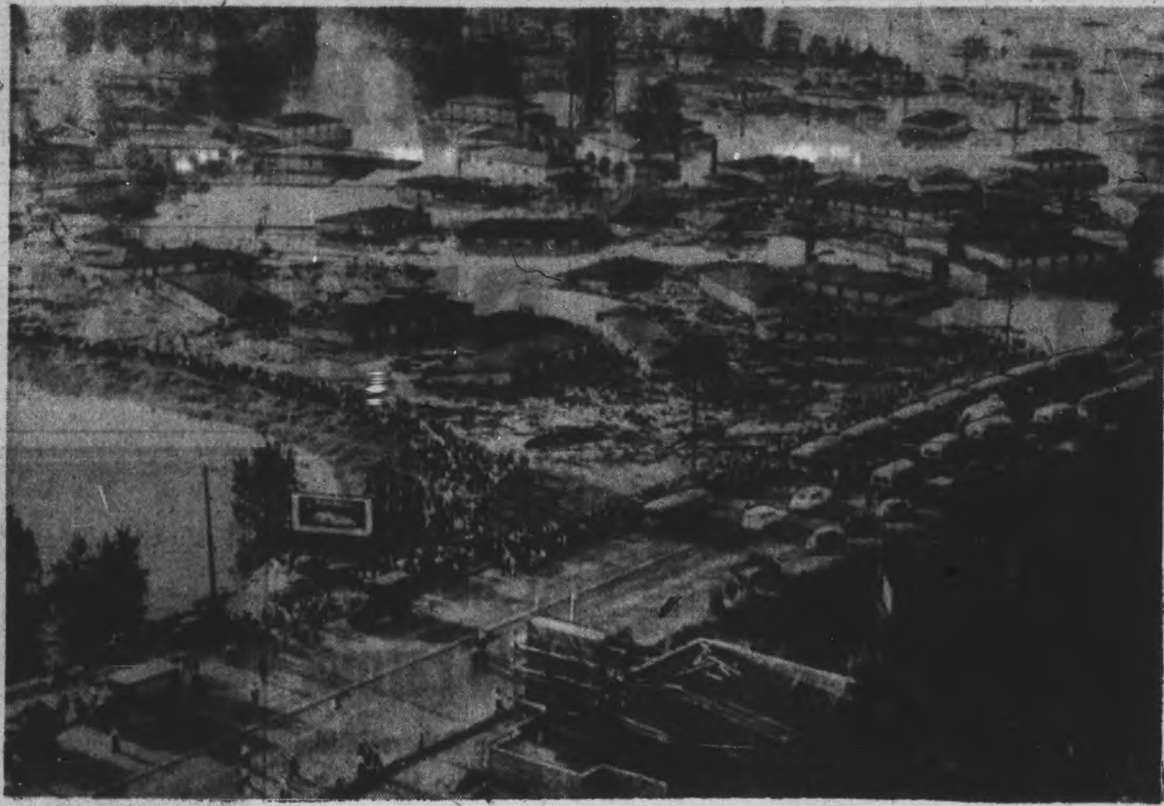

Expected to reach a peak of 144 feet in the Fraser Thursday night, the tides hold back the river's normal runoff throwing new pressure on unsubstantial barriers.

New reserves are due today to relieve weary dikes. About 200 soldiers, coming from Victoria and Nanaimo, will be sent to Pitt Meadows, 25 miles east of here.

More volunteers also are expected from the United States. Mayor Peter Barbeau and 100 men from Blaine, Wash. joined the B.C. battle yesterday.

One of the "action" during the week-end was the rescue of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Walker and their nine children by Chief Petty Officer H. J. Ward of Victoria.

He found the family, the mother holding a five-month-old child, on a water-surrounded knoll near Harrison Hot Springs, 55 miles east of here. They had been on the flood-made island in the Fraser for three days.

FLOOD MAROONS HUNDREDS — Dazed and terror-stricken residents are seen fleeing from the flood-destroyed city of Vanport about an hour after the dike broke. Hundreds stream down the dike to highway. Beyond, others stand marooned on roof tops of houses swirling and rolling in the wreckage-strewn water.

Charges 2 Voters With Fraud

TORONTO, June 7 — (CP) — Mrs. Edith Probert, Toronto-St. Patrick returning officer, said today information has been sworn for the arrest of two men for impersonation at a riding polling booth in today's provincial election.

The action followed a complaint by John Oiler, CCF candidate. He said one man misrepresented a semi-invalid and the other a shift worker, who was in bed at the time.

Mrs. Probert said a woman was in the booth at the time who knew the misrepresentation was occurring but did not speak "until it was too late."

Jews "assumptions." It was the Count's task to reconcile the differences, particularly over Jewish insistence and Arab objections to unlimited immigration to Israel during the truce and opening of the road to the 90,000 besieged Jews in Jerusalem.

He declined to comment on reports from Amman that negotiations for a truce appeared to be falling apart. Bernadotte returned this morning from fights to Beyrouth, Haifa and Amman.

The Israeli cabinet was reported in conflict in Tel Aviv over acceptance of any compromise from Bernadotte. Foreign Minister Moshe Shertok was reported to have told the government the issue revolved around the question of limiting immigration of Jews of military age.

Cairo to meet late today at league headquarters here to discuss the Bernadotte proposal.

Al Zarnani, Arabic newspaper, said Bernadotte in previous notes to Arab governments had said he understood the Arabs would accept 500 Jewish immigrants into Palestine during the four-week armistice but insisted on continuing their siege of modern Jerusalem. The paper quoted the mediator as saying the Jews insisted on immigration and an opening of the blocked supply road from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem.

Arab-Jewish fighting in the Holy Land continued. Action was reported Sunday in Jerusalem, in northern Galilee and on two approaches to Israel's leading city, Tel Aviv.

Count Bernadotte is charged with getting agreement on details of the truce, proposed by the security council and already accepted with some reservations by both sides.

Marks Anniversary First Screen Kiss

HOLLYWOOD, June 7. (AP) — The motion picture capital observes today as the 52nd anniversary of the first screen kiss.

Back in 1896 the first pursued lips and smothered sighs were recorded on celluloid by May Irwin and John C. Rice. It was his peep show called "The Widow Jones."

Actually, it wasn't a kiss, judged by today's standards. Today it would be classified as a near miss. Still, it created a stir and a demand for censorship. The clergy denounced it as a "lyric of the stockyards."

It set attendance records and paved the way for the more advanced techniques of Theda Bara, Greta Garbo, John Gilbert, Clark Gable, et al.

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT JOHNS-MANVILLE

Flexible Rooms For New Schools

Recently, the National Council of Schoolhouse Construction published a list of recommendations for up-to-date school buildings. One paragraph says: "A schoolroom should have flexibility, so it can be made larger or smaller economically to meet each year's needs." Unit Construction, a system recently developed by Johns-Manville, is especially designed to give this type of structural flexibility. It builds the complete interior—walls, ceilings, floors. The J-M Transite Walls are moveable . . . can be taken down and used again. The J-M Acoustical Ceilings are demountable and J-M Asphalt Tile permits easy extension of the floor pattern. For details on the advantages of J-M Construction for schools, offices, hospitals, industrial buildings, etc., write, Johns-Manville, 199 Bay St., Toronto.

Rush Engineers To Flood Areas

PORTLAND, Ore., June 7 (AP) — The United States army today threw fresh engineering field command against the raging Columbia river in a desperate attempt to hold the weakening 100-mile front from Portland to the Pacific.

Twenty-six officers of the army engineer corps rushed to critical points in the heavily-barricaded lower valley as the great river built up pressure with its second flood wave in a week.

The task was to prevent expansion of the flood toll by the Columbia and Fraser rivers in Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and British Columbia—26 dead, 52 missing, about 60,000 homeless, damage of perhaps $140,000,000.

The new flood crest was deep into the already-hard-hit industrial area around Portland and Vancouver, Wash. It was surging down-river, building up the current that has been grinding away the dikes since the first crest rolled down six days ago.

Thermometers soared to seasonal highs throughout the region Sunday—90 degrees and above in the mountains where the snow-pack melted fast and streamed down to add new waters to tributaries of the Columbia.

Tornado Rips Prairie Town

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Man., June 7 — (CP) — Heavy damage was left today in the wake of a gale of cyclonic proportions that struck this town 55 miles west of Winnipeg at the Sunday supper hour.

The wind and rain flattened a number of small buildings, disrupted telephone and power circuits, tore off a portion of the tin roof of the collegiate, and ripped up big trees by the roots.

The west end of Portage was most seriously affected. A number of streets in the district were closed to traffic when trees spilled across them. The wind, approaching from the northwest, reached a velocity of about 75 miles per hour.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police said there had been no reports of persons being injured in the near-tornado. The storm lashed about 15 minutes with the full fury of it being condensed into a stretch of six or seven minutes.

The Manitoba telephone system reported a number of lines out of order from falling trees while some telephone poles were blown down. Minor troubles were reported by the Manitoba Power Commission.

The Canadian Pacific Railway disclosed that four freight cars had their tops blown off. The cars were part of a westbound freight which was about five miles from Portage when the storm struck.

No Ballots Missing

A rumor of missing ballots from a rural box this morning was denied by D. J. Lawrie, returning officer. The sketchy information that came to The Examiner suggested that blank ballots were missing from a poll on Chemung.

The only poll on that road was at Milburn School, Milburn, D.R.O., said the ballots were on hand for the voters, and everything was proceeding normally. He declined to say anything more. Any further questions, he said, should be taken up with Mr. Lawrie.

"All the D.R.O.'s received their boxes, and I have had no reports of any irregularities," Mr. Lawrie told The Examiner.

7,750 School Students Served In United Counties

COBOURG, June 7—(ENS).—Enrolment in elementary schools in Northumberland and Durham for the school year which ends in June is approximately 7,750, nearly 15 per cent of the population of the counties. These students occupy during school hours 221 buildings. School health supervision requires more time than any other one part of the counties healthy unit program. A report of the counties health unit presented latest available data on school health in the area.

Control of communicable disease is one of the first functions of the health unit. Immunization plays a leading part in this attack on communicable disease and during the school year ending soon, there were 3,524 children receiving protective immunization against diphtheria, the disease which, before such protection, was made possible, was a common cause of serious illness or death among children. No cases of diphtheria have occurred in children during the school year in the counties. A total of 869 school children were vaccinated against smallpox, the report said.

When a case of communicable disease is found or reported in a classroom a notice is sent home to the parents of the other children in order that they may be on the lookout for early signs of illness. A second function of the school health program is to provide for the examination of children to discover early physical defects and advise the parents regarding their correction. In the autumn of 1947 and the spring of 1948, public health nurses made a health inspection of 5,300 children and gave first aid and other interviews to 1,888. Health unit medical officers, assisted by staff nurses made a physical examination of 2,310 pupils and 1,168 defects other than teeth were found, covering vision, tonal, malnutrition, eye defects, hearing and speech defect. There were a few cases of hernia, heart disease, anaemic appearance, skin disease, pulmonary disease, nervous disorder and postural defects. Parents in general have taken an active interest in having such defects corrected.

A third function of the school health service has as its purpose the improvement of the environment of the school child and each school building is surveyed during the year and a report on the conditions is forwarded to the school board, provincial department of health and to the public school inspector.

MUROC AIR BASE, Calif. — One of the United States Air Force's five new flying wings—the huge bat-like bombers that are powered by eight jet engines—was nothing but scattered and burnt debris today on the desert near here. The great Northrop YB-49, described by its makers as the fastest and most powerful bomber in the world, crashed Saturday, carrying its crew of five to death.

LONDON. — Informal discussions on the problems of Scandinavian defence are believed in usually well-informed quarters in London to have taken place during the last fortnight between foreign Secretary Bevin and the ambassadors of Norway, Sweden and Denmark. It was authoritatively stated that all three envoys have called at the foreign office during the last 10 days.

JERUSALEM. — A Hagana spokesman said Sunday the looting of Arab houses in Jewish occupied Jerusalem is getting priority attention from Jewish authorities. David Ben-Gurion, premier of Israel, has ordered death penalties for looters, but Jerusalem authorities have not yet issued the decree to Jewish troops who are doing most of the looting.

OTTAWA. — Federal Health authorities Sunday night declared a speeding up of the X-raying of Canada's 130,000 Indians, whose tuberculosis rate of 556 per 100,000 has been reported as "fan-

ARNPRIOR, Ont. — A can of shoe polish Sunday almost caused the death of Mrs. D. T. McNab, 81, of Arnprior, in hospital with severe body burns. She had placed the can on the kitchen stove to heat before using. The polish caught fire and exploded sending flames over her body.

TORONTO. — A youthful British immigrant, Harry Stevens, got a surprise Saturday when his first cast in Canadian waters following his arrival here two days ago hooked a Mirror carp in west-end Grenadier pond. The carp weighed 25 pounds and measured about three feet in length.

Sprightly Speaker Tells Club 'We're All Nuts'

COBOURG, June 7—(ENS).—"We are all nuts," was the unusual title of the address given at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club of Cobourg by Howard Moore, general manager of the Retail Auto Dealers of Canada.

The speaker drew a curve on the blackboard with a perpendicular at centre to illustrate the non-existing perfect man. To the left he drew further lines designating the average man, the specialists in the various professions, the man who specializes even more than the average specialist, the "crackpot" who have their heads in the clouds and who gave the world electric lights and radio and then the men who were so brilliant that they no longer could control their comings and goings and ended up in what the speaker referred to as "the bug-house."

Continuing his humorous but informative classification of man, the speaker designated the other types of humans to the right of the mythical perfect man. First there was the plodder who, given a job and told what to do, was able to do a good job within the limits of his intelligence. These men stayed in the same job year after year, doing their work capably. They were the fellows who were good to have around when the genius type went on a fishing trip, as these plodders always remembered to bring the fish worms and the fishing tackle.

Next was the pick-and-shovel man who was a good worker and filled a useful spot in life as far as he was able to go. Then there was the type so devoid of intelligence that he was unable to regulate his comings and goings and was relegated to the "nut house," the speaker said.

Happiness Best
"Everybody who can supervise his golfs and comings can fill a useful spot in life but sometimes the round peg gets in the square hole and inefficiency develops. The greatest dividend anyone can take out of life is genuine happiness and nobody can be really happy until he finds the job he likes best. In the right job he will contribute the most to the world he lives in. The present boy and girl grows up mentally much more quickly than they did in our day because radio and transportation brings the world more quickly to him than it did in the old days. Young people learn to make decisions earlier than we did and if we fail to realize that fact, they slip out of our hands," Mr. Moore said.

Like the Job
"Put a boy or girl in the job he wants, and he or she will do three things. They will do a good job and be happy doing it; find out that it was not the job they wanted and at least know that they don't want or perhaps become an outstanding expert in the field they have chosen. Parents, just to satisfy their vanity, should not drive their children into doing something in life which they are not fitted for and thus wreck their careers. If a boy wants to be a doctor and is prevented from finishing his education through ill health or lack of money, put him in a job that will be linked in some fashion with medicine and he will be happy. Study your employees, see that they are doing the jobs they are fitted for and happiest doing. The penal institutions are filled with people who were misfits," the speaker declared.

President Truman's Rolling Campaign

The current major incident of the U.S. Presidential campaign is the western trip undertaken by President Harry S. Truman. It is a journey which may have a marked effect on Mr. Truman's chances of renomination; it will take him into territory widely reported unfriendly to him, as well as into friendly territory. The manner in which he is received in both areas will be carefully appraised by all Democratic leaders, some of whom favour renomination of Mr. Truman while others are determined to block it by any means available.

In undertaking this journey west, Mr. Truman will enjoy the advantages of having preparations made by one of the ablest conciliators in the ranks of the U.S. Democratic Party. He is Oscar Ewing, Federal Security Administrator, and former vice-chairman of the Democratic National Committee. Mr. Ewing was the man who, as Franklin Roosevelt's advance agent, forced the almost incredible union between the Minnesota Farmer-Labour Party and the Democrats; it was Mr. Ewing's persuasiveness that swung Wisconsin Democrats into supporting Robert La Follette in the Roosevelt area. There is a rumour that Mr. Ewing could talk Truman at a California Democratic meeting and walk out unharmed. This is undoubtedly an exaggeration, but it offers an indication of how highly Mr. Ewing is regarded as a conciliator.

Mr. Truman will need all Mr. Ewing's conciliatory gifts, for there are states on the route in which the Democrat candidates hardly seem able to pronounce the President's name. In addition to Mr. Ewing, however, leaders of the Democratic National Committee are sparing no effort to assure adequate audiences, for, despite official denials, there is not the slightest doubt that the trip was planned and undertaken primarily to attempt to strengthen Mr. Truman's position within his own party. The Democratic National Committee is supporting Mr. Truman for renomination, and it believes it can swing many doubtful and some rebellious states to its way of thinking if Mr. Truman meets large crowds and handles himself well. The committee may be right, but there is the obvious risk that a poor showing on the trip would encourage already rebellious Democrats to greater effort to defeat Mr. Truman's bid for renomination.

Mr. Truman is facing a hard and exacting test. Former U.S. President Herbert Hoover once said there are times when a President stands on his own feet, when neither the majesty of the Presidency nor the efforts of his party can help him, when he must appear before the people to be judged personally. And one of those times, Mr. Hoover said, was during an election campaign. If Mr. Truman passes this test with high marks, it may bring about a decided revision of thinking in Democratic quarters now avowedly determined to oppose his renomination, regardless of the effect their attitude may have on the U.S. Democratic Party as a whole.

Wasting Motor Oil?

Considering the past and possibly future scarcity of petroleum products like gasoline and oil, we wonder why the oil companies and government bodies have not given more heed to their conservation, or to a re-examination of inquiries made during the war by Professor Brady, an American scientist.

Professor Brady, then head of the Quality Section of O.P.A., was instructed to investigate methods of oil and gasoline economy. Research was undertaken. Analysis of motor oil seemed to show it to be at its best after it had been used in a car a thousand miles. It was concluded that a significant economy could be made if instead of changing oil every thousand miles (as recommended by many oil companies) the motorist left it in his machine for much longer periods. Even after 5,000 miles, the oil could be used again if it were carefully filtered. Professor Brady also discovered that the fleets of trucks operated by the oil companies did not change their oil after a thousand miles.

This sort of evidence, if it is valid, should be better publicized by the oil companies. It might help to get them out of the embarrassing position of last winter when they could not supply the demand.

Housing Hitches

Various Provincial and Federal measures have been taken to alleviate the housing shortage in Canada. The Federal government has its Veterans' Housing schemes, its Crown Company, the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation and its recent Bill to encourage private building firms, a bill which guarantees to firms a 2½ per cent. return on their money. The Ontario Government is giving grants-in-aid to municipalities and loans to individuals. Nevertheless the need is not being met. Building costs are too high, not enough houses are being built, and the people most in need cannot afford them. It is reckoned that a man should not spend more than 20 per cent. of his income on rent. Even forty dollars rental a month is too high for the majority of our people. A rental of $5 dollars a month — which many young couples have to pay as a minimum charge — requires (at the 20 per cent. computation) an income of $3,000 a year.

Can Canada not profit from the Swedish housing schemes, even though Sweden's government is socialistic? The Swedish housing for workingmen is modern (block of flats instead of costly isolated bungalows), fine to look at, good to live in. Five hundred thousand of Sweden's six million people have benefited from a community building corporation. They live in flats which have an initial rental rate of $360 a year ($30 a month) for a three-room apartment with kitchen and bath. There is a rebate of 10 per cent. of the rent for every child under sixteen. A family of five would therefore pay only $250 a year for that kind of accommodation.

Canada cannot afford to continue with the old-fashioned building methods and the lack of enterprise of builders and governments. Poorly sheltered families must not continue to suffer from the lack of initiative and high prices of speculative private builders. The least publicized but most important section of the Drew housing program is the financial encouragement (on paper) given to new methods of construction. We hope that something good will come of it.

The Royal Line Of Succession

The people of the Commonwealth greet with delight the announcement from Buckingham Palace which indicates that Princess Elizabeth is to become a mother in the autumn. The announcement was not unexpected; the remarkable latest photograph of the Princess which appeared in this paper on Thursday will probably be the last one we shall have of her until after the happy event. The birth of any child is anticipated with tenderness and hope; the birth of a child in the direct succession to the Throne is anticipated with the same emotions, but widespread and manifold.

The Verdict Of The Ballots

In a few hours the ballots will be counted and the results known. We shall be interested, as will other citizens, not only in who wins what seats and by how large majorities, but in the number of ballots cast. The Examiner is attempting to cater to the desire of the people of the riding for accurate and early information about the results, and is providing special broadcast and telephone service for the evening. The details of this service are published elsewhere in this edition.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The Peterborough Fire Department has acquired a new 85-foot aerial ladder. It is now equipped to do really top-flight fire-fighting.

We have idly been watching a pair of pigeons carelessly promenading on a high ledge outside our window. Most human beings would be dizzy in such a position—the trick is to be pigeon-toed as well as pigeon-headed.

The C.P.R. and two of its employees were fined $70 in magistrate's court in Islington the other day because a train had blocked a crossing for 27 minutes. The frequent hold-ups on Sherbrooke and King streets at the C.N. tracks and on George at the C.P. tracks when there is a long Ottawa train are not usually for 27 minutes—but long enough sometimes to invite gnashing of teeth if not court action.

"Of Cabbages and Kings"

By PETER ELIOT

"SAINTSBURY is remembered by the world," (writes Charles Morgan in "The House of Macmillan" — 1943 to 1943 — a beautiful book which shows the personal nature of this large publishing house) "for his scholarship of literature and his legendary knowledge of great wines, but there are members of Macmillan's staff whose most vivid recollection is of his handwriting. Something warm and easy in Frederick Macmillan's character won Saintsbury's affection for him, as it won Morley's, and Saintsbury's letters and postcards were frequent."

"He had a misshapen hand," continues Morgan, "and, as he grew older his writing became worse and worse. When he attempted to be a typewriter, the results were what he wrote had to be abandoned, and Saintsbury's communications were interpreted by an informal committee of the staff. Their first task was to determine in what language, ancient or modern, each sentence was written, and then to decipher it. Even printers were defeated. Even Clark's of Edinburgh, who are the blessing of all authors that love accuracy and speed, when one of his later books had been sent to them and they were reproached for delay, replied that they had but one man who could read the manuscript at all, and that he, after a fortnight with it, had broken down!"

ONE of the phenomena in the publisher's world is the bringing to life of authors—long since gone to the highest and dustiest shelves—at the demand of the reading public. The most recent example of this is the case of Anthony Trollope—a "Trollope Journal" is even published by the University of California Press, twice yearly. A large group of reviewers has been campaigning for reprints of classics in cheap editions and will be greatly heartened by the printing of works like Shaw's "Back to Methuselah" in the World's Classics Series.

In this respect, Canadians (and soon Americans) are fortunate in the facilities offered by The Reprint Society of Canada—headquarters in Montreal. They are reprinting the very best of literature, authors in the first rank—Arthur Bryant, English historian and Pevensy specialist; Philip Geddis, brilliant author of "Bonnet and Shawl" and "The Duke"; Rudyard Kipling; Charles Morgan, the English essayist; the very clever Hesketh Pearson, whose works have more than once been mentioned in these columns; our own wit, Leacock; and the versatile and wonderful historian, biographer, journalist and statesman, Winston Churchill.

FOR next month's (July) selection, Sir Osbert Sitwell's "The Scarlet Tree" is being sent to members. Sir Osbert, who has just walked off with the coveted "Sunday Times" prize of £1,000, has written a special foreword for the Canadian edition. This is the second volume of a beautifully written autobiography, the first—of course you've heard of it—"Left Hand, Right Hand!"

Of Elton, where he was for a time exposed to education, he says: "Mostly I recall absurd and isolated incidents—One such episode occurred during the first half holiday of my first term, about two days after I had arrived. 'Absence' is a ceremony which takes place at two o'clock on every afternoon that is not to be devoted to work. A master mounts some steps and calls out from a roll held in his hand the names of all the boys who should be present, and they answer him, so that he can be sure that they have not sneaked away."

"WELL, my first 'Absence' was in full progress, when, suddenly intoxicated by the possession of a peashooter — a weapon that had by some chance never hitherto come my way—I fired in a friendly manner at a new acquaintance whom I saw at the other side of the crowd of boys, but missing my aim, instead accidentally hit the officiating master on the neck. The wounded head, as he was called in the cant terms of the school, roared with surprise and anger — and the boys, some hundreds of them, roared with him. As the noise subsided a little, he suddenly remarked, 'Did you do that?' and the powerful squint from which the poor man suffered induced me to suppose that he was addressing someone else rather than myself."

"Had I realized (Sir Osbert continues) that he was putting the question to me, I might, perhaps, have lied: as it was, I owned up to my crime. Though on this occasion I escaped with a light punishment, the master naturally concluded from my bold behaviour that I was an unusually unruly and obstreperous boy. In consequence he pursued me throughout my career with a special watchfulness, inspired either by a desire for revenge or, perhaps, by a genuine belief that I was a dangerous malefactor."

I SUPPOSE the reason we are so interested in the biographies of others is the reminder that we ourselves are not as eccentric as we sometimes imagine. It makes us feel good to have catalogued the follies of great men. On one occasion, for example, the Viennese musician, Gustav Mahler, was suffering from toothache, but could not discover which tooth was aching. His wife located the trouble, accompanied him to the dentist, and remained behind in the waiting room which was full of people.

"Suddenly (recalls Alma Mahler, in "Gustav Mahler: Memories and Letters") the door flew open and Mahler called out: 'Alma, dear, which tooth is it actually that's aching?' He was astonished when everyone laughed."

When Voltaire, the French philosopher, came to England—his famous visit to study the people and their language—he was told that the word "ague" had two syllables and was pronounced "a-gue." "What is the meaning of the word?" he asked. "A form of disease," he was told. When he pronounced "plague" as two syllables, he was informed that it was pronounced as one. He was becoming exasperated by this time and again asked the meaning of the word. "A form of disease" was again the answer. "Then I wish

Is Iron Curtain to Split Tennis World?

(MONTREAL GAZETTE)

THE international situation and the iron curtain seem to be having their effect in sporting circles. For in that most international of games—tennis—where the Davis Cup has come to be recognized as a symbol of friendly athletic competition on a very wide scale, there have been quarrels this year that seem to bear close relation to problems in the political sphere.

Poland and Italy were drawn to play their matches in the latter country. But the Poles refused to leave their native country, or perhaps it was suggested that they could not leave, so Italy won by default. Czechoslovakia, due to play Brazil, had to postpone its match because it did not know where its team was.

Jaroslav Drobny and Vladimir Cernick, who played in Montreal last summer, happened to be outside Czechoslovakia and were not too certain whether, once out, they should return. It appears now that they will, but the story of what pressures may have been brought to bear on them is not yet known. Spain, playing Sweden, got into a scrap and refused to finish the match.

The picture thus presented seems considerably removed from that which was envisioned by Mr. Dwight F. Davis, later secretary of war in President Coolidge's cabinet, when he put up a cup for competition between America and the British Isles in 1900. Yet the history of the Davis Cup, which now attracts an average entry of some 30 nations, has inevitably been closely linked with the international situation.

When war suspended competition in 1914, Australia held the Davis Cup. But after that war it was the U.S. that came to the fore, and with Tilden and Johnston held the Cup until that one half of the English language had the ague, and the other half the plague," he replied.

conditions in Europe became more normal. Then France produced men like Borotra, Cochet and Lacoste who first won the trophy from the United States in 1927. In the early thirties it was Perry and Austin of Great Britain, who proved unbeatable, but, curiously enough, it was again Australia that held the cup when the Second World War came.

The U.S. emerged strongest from the war and back came the Davis Cup to these shores. But as the competition has been resumed on a large scale, there is no team from Japan, no team from Germany, both of which were strong in pre-war years. Despite the current troubles of Poland and Czechoslovakia, the Davis Cup event still reaches behind the iron curtain. Yet who can say whether even in tennis the barrier may not be firmly closed some day?

London's Open-Air Exhibition Of Sculpture

An important international exhibition of sculpture was opened, on May 13th, in one of London's loveliest parks. Organized by the London County Council and the Arts Council this is the first open-air art exhibition to be held in the capital. Works executed during the past fifty years by some of the world's leading sculptors, including Epstein, Eric Gill and Matisse, have an attractive lakeside setting in Battersea Park on the south bank of the Thames. These famous statues can now be seen against a background of grass and trees bathed in summer sunshine. The site was carefully selected and the critics agree that the outdoor setting is a great improvement on the crowded picture galleries from which most of the works have been borrowed. The exhibition which remains open for four months is likely to be a big attraction both for Londoners and visitors to the capital.—(U.K. Information Office.)

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And Abraham planted a grove in Beer-sheba, and called there on the name of the Lord, the everlasting God (Gen. 21: 33.)

And it came to pass after these things, that God did tempt Abraham, and said unto him, Abraham: and he said, Behold, here I am. And he said, Take now thy son, thine only one Isaac, whom thou lovest, and get thee into the land of Moriah; and offer him there for a burnt offering upon one of the mountains which I will tell thee of. . . .

And Abraham took the wood of the burnt offering, and laid it upon Isaac his son; and he took the fire in his hand, and a knife; and they went both of them together.

And Isaac spake unto Abraham his father, and said, My father: and he said, Here am I, my son. And he said, Behold the fire and the wood: but where is the lamb for a burnt offering? And Abraham said, My son, God will provide himself a lamb for a burnt offering: and they came to the place which God had told him of; and Abraham built an altar there, and laid the wood in order, and bound Isaac his son, and laid him on the altar upon the wood.

And Abraham stretched forth his hand, and took the knife to slay his son. And the angel of the Lord called unto him out of heaven, and said, Abraham, Abraham: and he said, Here am I.

And he said, Lay not thine hand upon the lad, neither do thou any thing unto him: for now I know that thou fearest God, seeing thou hast not withheld thy son, thine only son from me. And Abraham lifted up his eyes, and looked, and behold behind him a ram caught in a thicket by his horns: and Abraham went and took the ram, and offered him for a burnt offering in the stead of his son. (Gen. 22: 1, 2, 6-13.)

Income Tax After 65

Though the concession whereby the Income War Tax Act is to be amended so that the $500 deduction from income for the 1948 taxation year is allowed taxpayers who have attained the age of 65 before the end of this year, is certainly open to the criticism that a preferable concession would be an all-round increase in tax exemption, it nevertheless will benefit perhaps 100,000 taxpayers.

Because this is a prosperous country it is wrong to assume that elderly folk in general are able to make comfortable provision for their old age. Actually, 45 out of every hundred persons become dependent on others. Of the 800,000 Canadians who today are 65 and over, 275,000 receive old age pensions and only 120,000 come into the class of taxpayer to whom the $500 concession will apply.

The rest presumably live on modest savings or are dependents. If the Minister of Finance, therefore, wanted to assist them as well as those who pay income tax, a better way would be to restore the government annuities to their former cost. This would encourage saving by those of modest means and enable them to provide small incomes for themselves in their declining years.

To do this would cost much less than the $5,000,000 the Finance Minister is prepared to sacrifice in taxation by his $500 deduction in income tax for those over 65.

—Ottawa Citizen.

Four Federal By-Elections Scheduled Soon

Two Federal by-elections are at hand and another two in the making.

Constituents of the Ontario riding of Ontario and the British Columbia riding of Vancouver Centre go to the polls on Tuesday. Only last week, the BC constituency of Yale returned a CCF candidate, Owen Jones of Kelowna.

The two in the making are in the Quebec riding of Laval-Two Mountains and the Saskatchewan constituency of Rosthern.

Announcement that Ligouri Lacombe, fiery Independent member for Laval-Two Mountains, is going to a magistrate's post means a vacancy. Walter Tucker, Liberal member for Rosthern, has resigned to run for a seat in the Provincial Legislature as Liberal Leader.

Prices Probe

The Prices Committee report, due later this month, probably will highlight a few cases of excess profit-taking, but its general tenor will indicate that profits have not had much to do with the rising cost of living.

Most government members say they feel the evidence has shown that, in the over-all picture, increased profits are a result, not a cause of increased prices. When prices go up the same percentage of profit brings in bigger cash returns.

The only work on a report at present underway is in the hands of Health Minister Martin, chairman. He has been working on a report for several weeks.

New-Look Gets Chop In Czecho-Slovakia

PRAGUE, June 7 (AP)—Those long, wide skirts use too much material, the ministry of internal trade says. Besides, they "express the unsocial western mode."

So the New Look was on the way out today in Czechoslovakia. It was slow in arriving, but some ankle-length fashions had appeared in fashionable gathering places and along the promenades.

One of the leading women members of parliament, Bozena Machacova-Dostalova, is in the forefront of the campaign against them.

"Our women certainly will understand the importance of the elegant," she told the conference, "but certainly not very long and wide skirts. We can save a lot of cloth, and help for better distribution of textiles."

There was no mention of any new policy about peasant clothing. Peasant women wear skirts that come just below the knee.

They also wear four to six petticoats, all of which uses up a huge lot of material.

Sweepstake Winners Names Not Revealed

DUBLIN, June 7 (AP)—A spokesman for the Irish hospital trust said the board decided against making public names of Canadians or Americans who held sweepstakes tickets on the winning horses in today's Epsom Derby.

Lucky ticket holders all over the world will share a prize fund of $444,200 ($1,776,800). Canadians and Americans cashed in several hundred thousands dollars in the spring sweepstakes based on the Grand National at Aintree. After that race names of the winners were announced and prizes listed.

The spokesman gave no reason for the decision against disclosing names of Canadian, United States, and Latin-American winners today. It was explained the trust had no fixed policy and announcement of winners depended on "circumstances" of each draw.

The inference was that purchasers across the Atlantic were not as lucky this time.

Antagonists Of Free Government Merely Inviting Their Own Doom

BOSTON, Mass., June 7 — Declaring that democratic government is the instrument through which an irresistible, spiritual force is being channeled into the affairs of men, The Christian Science Board of Directors today urged Christian Scientists, in annual meeting, here, to work strongly and actively for the defense of free governments throughout the world.

Rightly conceived, the Directors told the Annual Meeting democratic government is something more than an aggregation of legislative acts and legalized rules of conduct.

"It is the orderly unfolding of the moral character and spiritual integrity of its citizens," the spokesmen affirmed. As such, they said, free government rightly merits active defense of its sacred purpose, in addition to the pious declarations of allegiance to its outer form.

Thousands of Christian Scientists from many parts of the world heard the Directors issue a distinct challenge to the proud, boastful "Goliaths of today, as they go to and fro in the earth. Denying God, they are denying their own life, for God is the only life of man," they stated.

In free governments, now seriously endangered by the modern Goliaths, the Directors commented, there is a force that gathers its strength from "the same eternal truth given by Christ Jesus in his peerless Sermon on the Mount." Ultimately it shall be seen, they said, that "no individual or nation on earth can withstand the power and presence of God and His Christ."

The statement highlighted a series of papers and reports which stressed the renaissance of religious activities throughout the postwar world, and emphasized the privileges of free assembly and freedom of worship as the human symbols of "spiritual freedom."

With the warnings of serious dangers to democratic governments, the Directors also gave assurance that the antagonists of free government, were merely "inviting their own doom."

The incoming President, Harry C. Browne, declared that the success of any organization, institution or government depends upon the spiritual efficacy of the governing or controlling instrument.

Douro Pupils Plant 600 Trees

Thirty-five pupils of No. 7 school in the village of Douro have planted a half-acre of land in the village with about 600 trees. A project in a tree-planting competition run by the provincial Department of Lands and Forests, the trees were planted in two afternoon sessions of school days recently. They were evergreens, maples and birches.

The plot of land is in the village and belongs to St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, Douro, and will be the site of a new parish hall now being planned.

The pupils, from Grades 1 to 8, were under the direction of their teacher, Miss Cecilia Towns, Douro. W. A. Anderson, Keene, assisted in the work.

During the summer months, the trees, which were obtained from the nursery at Orono, will be tended by boys of the school living near there.

The plot will be judged this autumn.

Son Objects So Dad Loses His Bride

DUDLEY, Worcestershire, Eng., June 7 — (CP). — Thirty-two-year-old Charles Thomas went to his father's wedding Saturday—and had it stopped.

Thomas said: "On Friday I had a letter from a woman who said she was my mother—my father's first wife. 'That letter was from Mrs. Olive Thomas of Toronto.'"

"I immediately decided to stop the ceremony and did so on the advice of police who came with me to the church."

Charles' father, George Thomas, 52, Dudley chauffeur, said he last saw his wife alive in 1920 in Canada adding: "I have not heard from her since and thought she was dead. In 1926 I married again—Rose was my second wife's name."

"When Rose died last year I thought myself to be a widower. I have made a long statement to police and I hope the matter will be cleared up."

At the wedding Saturday, when the clergyman said: "If any of you know cause . . ." Charles said "I object. I am his son."

The ceremony was stopped and the bride, Alice Finch, 22, collapsed and George Thomas and the clergyman assisted her into the vestry.

At Toronto, Mrs. Olive Thomas, 55, said Sunday night that she was married at Toronto in 1913 to George Thomas and believes he is the man whose marriage was stopped in Dudley, Worcestershire Saturday by his son, Charles. She had never obtained a divorce.

She had heard nothing from him since 1920 when he left Toronto with Charles and another child. She had no word of her children until she received a letter Saturday from Charles saying his father planned a marriage, and he would stop it. She did not know how Charles had learned her whereabouts.

A third child was born soon after her husband left here in 1920, Mrs. Thomas said. He is a son who lives in Toronto.

Petes Capture Third Straight In COBL Win Over Locos

The Petes took a firmer grip on top spot in the COBL as Kingston Locos lost their third straight when the homers won here Saturday by a 10-3 count. Hammering two hurlers, Tony Conner and Jack Stone, for 13 hits, six of them for extra bases, the Petes rolled up an early lead and coasted in handily.

Junior Aces Take Win In Lakeshore

By FRED MAYBEE

Peterborough's classy Junior A entry in the Lakeshore Baseball League defeated Bowmanville there on Saturday 9-7 behind the steady twirling of Jake Jaquith. It was their first victory against an defeat. The visitors disposed of West early in the fifth inning after getting five runs off his delivery. With none gone and two on, Lewty Dodson took over for the home squad.

The Petes were not to be headed, despite Dodson's fine relief work, which included 11 strikeouts in four and two-third innings. Jaquith aided his own cause by driving home two runs in the fifth and with excellent support from his mates came through in fine style. Two dazzling stops by Sisson late in the game, to nip potential rallies, featured while the entire team played a fine game throughout. The home team gave their best and were good sportsmen in defeat.

Whitby Loses To Bees In Neat Game

Peterborough Bees defeated Whitby by a 6-1 count in Whitby on Saturday. It was the second win in two Lakeshore Junior Baseball League starts for Jack Turner's local team, which played fine ball throughout this tilt. They turned in an errorless game and hit in timely fashion behind dandy hurling. Plunkett pitched seven-hit ball and struck out 11 as he issued four walks. Neal started on the Whitby mound but gave way later to McDonald, and they also had good pitching, limiting the visitors to eight safeties while striking out 10 and walking two. The fans enjoyed this duel.

Sullivan and Curry each bashed out two safe blows to lead the Bees' at bat. Plunkett picked a triple, Legrow a double, with Wyatt and Ferguson having a single each. Lorenzo led the losers at the plate with a double and single. Curry came up with a nice catch in right field. The same two clubs clash here Saturday afternoon in a loop fixture.

Legion Draws With Lindsay

A last-minute goal by Smith enabled Canadian Legion to split the soccer league points two-all with Lindsay on Saturday at King Edward Park. The visitors were at full strength, while the locals were without services of some of their regular players.

Within a minute, E. Grant, Legion, rattled the upright with a first-timer when he kicked the ball off the full back's foot. A series of raids terminated in T. Foster, Sr., shooting the ball across to his son, Henry, who bulged the net from 10 yards out. Lindsay went right back to get the equalizer through Appleton on a nice effort. Willis, Lindsay, and Bromley, Legion retired through injuries for a while. Twice in succession Appleton brought Jones, Legion goalies, to his knees to clear his charge. Then B. Grant drove a low grounder and Lindsay came back with a keen offensive up until the interval.

On resuming, Lindsay dominated the play with their close-passing combination to set up a steady barrage on Legion goal where Jones held the upper hand. Then Thomas, Lindsay, found an opening away out of the reach of the goalie to take the lead. Exchanges continued on an even basis with Lindsay holding on to their meagre lead. C. Murriff rattled a 20-yard drive against the cross-bar with the custodian right under it. Smith caught the rebound to boot—the equalizer to made it read, two-all.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Before a goodly, if chilly, gallery in Miller Bowl on Saturday eve, the lacrosse Petes copped a tidy 16-14 exhibition win over West York senior "A" players. Tight all the way and a bit rough a few times but a dandy exhibition to view. We liked the all-around work of Mick Magee, Bob Breakspear and J. J. Hill, but other went well, too. Dorney was a standout for the West Yorkers, who didn't like losing to a senior "B" squad. They have a rep in their group of playing rough but soon found the locals don't mind mixing in the least. So the ref gave both sides a warning to cut out the carving when there was nothing at stake.

Bun Hill was between the home pipes the first half and then Coach Red Creighton thought he'd like to try his hand again. Working his one good eye overtime, Robert turned in a neat goaltending chore the last part. The colorful red-head, always a great athlete, would sooner play than eat—and he has a lot of ability still wrapped up in his veteran frame. Used to be one of the better all-around athletes in the city some years ago, but now confines himself to coaching hockey and lacrosse, with a little playing on the side just to keep his hand in. He'll likely still be getting into the game when tripping over long red whiskers!

Petes Took Locos

Senior ball game Saturday in Riverside, before a nice crowd, was too one-sided to be real interesting. But the Petes won some more friends with their third straight COBL victory to keep atop the pile. Hadn't too much trouble knocking off Kingston Locos 10-3 as they received steady twirling from Doug Loucks and some hard, timely binging. Six of their 13 safe blows went for extra bases, including homers by Howie Dalton and Joe Stewart. Losers used two flingers, with Stone going best. Locos will improve as they have some fair-looking players aboard.

Dalton had a nifty day of it, coming up with eight perfect fielding chances, starting a double-play once, and bashing out a homer, double and single in five. A natural ball player. Walton, though nervous at third, had two hits in three, as Loucks, Stewart and Edwanson had two for four each. Loucks not only hit and pitched okay but showed himself a fine fielder pitcher with seven chances without a slip. Starr, Mackness and Foley didn't hit up to par but their muted bats—usually so explosive—will be heard often again. Hope the men of Murphy click again tomorrow in the Locos' yard.

One Won, One Lost

Two other local ball clubs travelled to Bowmanville and split on Saturday. "Split" is not a suburb of Bowmanville but the result of two showings. A swell showing by our Junior Aces gave 'em a 9-7 verdict as Jake Jaquith pitching steady ball, getting okay support. The intermediates showing wasn't so hot as they had an off day, especially the pitchers, in a slugfest. Fred Maybee tells us there was a bit of everything in the bout, but that the cash customers enjoyed it, anyway. The team is bound to improve as the season wears on, and may surprise the Port Hoppers here Saturday p.m. Our Junior Bees trekked to Whitby and won 6-1, their second in a row. Plunkett pitched grand ball and had perfect support. Same clubs clash here Saturday aft.

And other baseball dope here and hereabouts. Batawa took an 8-6 COBL win in Oshawa to keep right on the Petes' heels, Muffitt pitching nicely. Two peewee teams drew 5-5 in Riverside on Saturday morn. Southend bantams play Hawks at 6:30 Tuesday p.m. in Riverside, with east and south peewees there the next night. North jupes play westenders on Friday. No junior "A" game in Oshawa on Saturday owing to CGE working that day. North-east juveniles and junior Bees drill at Riverside Wednesday at 6:15 p.m. The west-end jupes workout at six tomorrow night at Prince of Wales. A lot of ball these days in this busy borough.

Star-Packed Card

Windup wrestling card of the season at the Brock this Wednesday evening is a honey of purest buckwheat. Top bout has Whipper Watson and Earl McCready teamed up against the Masked Marvel and Goon Henry. And that should spell curtains for those big villains. No weakling on the side of virtue at all, the Whip and Earl both being better than the goon and both—the Whip, anyway—having an edge on the Mask. Though the Marvel did outluck McCready a couple of times. He is liable to have his hood ripped off this time as the pro mat game bows out locally till October. And a swell semi-final, also, Mike Sharpe being back in time from Texas to tackle Wee Willie Davis. Prelim is another interesting go betwixt Nick Viccarelli, local middleweight, and Juan Lopez, a return match. The show should pack 'em in.

GRAB-BAG: Girls' games at the Bowl tonight: Lindsay vs. Westclox, and Marines vs. Lock Co.; CGE is in Lakelield... De Laval and Drafting have an industrial tilt tonight at Quaker... In the Bowl tomorrow, Comstock's play R-E, and Knights meet Legion... Dalton Furriers took the Combines 8-4 in Saturday's exhibition here... Grafton girls beat Cobourg 4-3 in lakeshore play... Intermediate lacrossers have an open workout tonight at 6:30 in Miller Bowl... Juvenile lacrosse games there tomorrow, starting at seven: Legion vs. Queen's, and Scouts vs. Comstock's... Can't think of another thing today.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

The other evening we were asked by one of the prominent bowlers what would be the ruling should a jack be driven over the bank, hit the fence and then bounce back on the green again? Well, we gave this bowler our ruling and just for those who are interested in the bowling rules, doing so, we believe that you look up this particular rule—by doing so, we believe that you will remember the rule longer than if somebody tells it to you, and remember this that good judgment and common sense go a long way in dealing with situations that are not fully covered by the "constitution, rules and regulations."

Although we have not yet received any official report on the Friday night and Saturday tournaments, we have reason to believe that the turnout was small—the uncertain weather could be the cause of it.

Two weeks from this evening we hold the first round in the club's handicap singles. Have you made your entry yet? Are you going to play in the men's open tournament on this Wednesday? Bob Gamble and his committee would like to see your entry.

We have just concluded the first week of the schedule. It has been a great pleasure to no. tice that all bowlers, ladies and gents, have accepted the challenge of President W. Jeffries—the one about being on time. Each schedule night the games were completed by 10:15 o'clock. That's fine. You start promptly at 7:30 p.m. and you have the game pretty well over during the best part of the evening. Your delay holds up everyone. Your promptness greatly assists.

Canadiens Win

MONTREAL, June 7.—(CP)—Montreal Canadiens ran wild here Sunday night to whip Ottawa St. Anne's 21-9 in an Interprovincial Lacrosse League tilt before 1,500 fans at the Lachine arena.

SOMETHING TO THROW DOWN Gauntlet was the name given to a steel glove forming the part of the armor of the knights.

Locals Beaten In Ball By Bowmanville

By FRED MAYBEE

Bowmanville defeated Peterboro in a regular intermediate Lakeshore Baseball League game on Saturday. The final score was 23-9 in a game that produced thrills and spills galore. Errors played a prominent part in the result. Bill Sullivan started for Peterboro, followed in the third by Baz Murphy. Coach Billingsley also came in for an inning with Cray Billingsley. The hitting of Bagnall and Younth featured for Bowmanville while Clemence went the route twirling well enough to win, striking out 10 although he gave five walks. He allowed nine hits against 20 by his opponents. A good crowd attended and saw a wide-open battle and they enjoyed it. Coach Billingsley leads his team against Port Hope in a twilight game here this Saturday at 6:30 p.m.

West York Defeated 16-14 By Petes In Lacrosse Fray

Finishing strong in Miller Bowl before a good crowd Saturday night, the senior "B" Petes took a 16-14 exhibition win over the senior "A" West York lacrossers. It was a neat number all the way, threatening to be rough in spots and always close. The count was 5-5 in the first quarter, 9-7 for the visitors at the half and tied at 10-10 going into the fourth frame. The referee lectured the players on rough stuff early in the second, but he gave only one penalty later—to Ron Horton—when a fight broke out.

Coach Red Creighton went in goal for the last half for the locals. Both sides were shy a few regulars but put on a fine show. Bob Breakspear, Mick Magee and J. J. Hill turned in a consistently good chore through the tilt, with Dootch Vitarelli also prominent in spots. Dorney was a big star for the losers, being in on eight of their goals. Jeffries and Jeffries also looked good at times, but all the players worked hard.

The teams:
West York—Goal, Hutton; defence, Chard and Gilkinson; centre, Jeffries; rover, Vinner; alternates, Borney, Neil, Roweth, Ashbee and Dillon.
Petes—B. Hill; defence, Magee and Horton; centre, E. Creighton; wings, Dugan and Connelly; rover, B. Breakspear; alternates, J. Breakspear, Dundas, L. Vitarelli, D. Vitarelli, Smith, J. J. Hill and R. Creighton.
Referee, N. Greer of Mimico.

Summary:

First Quarter	Petes-R. Breakspear	30
(Magee)	West York—Jeffries	4.20
(Dorney)	West York—Neil	5.45
(Jeffries)	Petes—J. J. Hill	7.15

Best Mat Card Of Season Headed By Team Match

The big question to be decided in the Brook Arena ring on Wednesday night is whether the team of Whipper Billy Watson, Earl McCready can defeat the team of Jim "Goon" Henry and the Masked Marvel.
Earl and Whipper's pal Pat Flanagan just about accomplished that trick last week and with the addition of the high-flying Whipper it should make it easier this time. If the badmen lose the Mask must take off his head covering and the fans will get a look-see at that long-hidden countenance. But before that happens the fans are due for the greatest team-action probably ever seen here.

Nick Viccarelli has been granted his urgent request to once again lock horns with the vicious little Mexican grappler Juan Lopez. Lopez kicked Nick half-way out of his reputation last week to lose by disqualification.

THE MASKED MARVEL

A main bout in everything but time limit is the semi-final between Wee Willie Davis and Mike Sharpe, the tall handsome lad from Hamilton.

Cleveland Holds Clear Lead Pitching Tops

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

From a "good hit-no pitch" team of a few weeks ago, the American League-leading Cleveland Indians have suddenly burst forth with one of the finest mound corps in the majors.

Remember when the Tribe's pitching staff was described as "Bob Feller, Bob Lemon and rain?" Then, because of several postponements due to rain, Manager Lou Boudreau was able to pitch Feller and Lemon almost exclusively during the first two weeks of the season. But now Boudreau has two additional starters in Rookie Gene Bearden, who to date has won five games and lost only one, and Steve Gromek who twirled a six-hitter in his first start of the season Sunday.

Gromek teamed up with Lemon in pitching the Indians to a pair of victories over Philadelphia Athletics 5-3 and 11-1. The double triumph increased the Indians' first-place margin over the Athletics to 2½ games.

Lemon, who gave up nine hits and fanned four, helped win his own game by collecting two of his team's eight hits and driving in two runs.

The Indians banged out 16 hits off Toronto-born Dick Fowler and Bob Savage in the nightcap. Joe Tipton, Ken Keltner and Dale Mitchell led the assault. Tipton smacked out five hits including two doubles. Keltner's three safeties included his 14th home run of the season. Mitchell got four hits in six times at bat and knocked in five runs.

The world champion New York Yankees whipped St. Louis Browns 4-3 and 3-0 to climb within half a game of the second-place A's.

Sam Spade May Make Jump Studio Seeks Movie Rights

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, June 7 (AP)—Sam Spade, that ace private eye of the airwaves, may do his detecting on the screen.

Howard Duff, who portrays the tough gumshoe on the air, has been carving a film career at U-I and that studio has been angling for the screen rights to his radio character.

Duff, who has been doing all right in other dramatic roles in films, isn't too anxious to screen his radio counterpart.

"I would do it only if it was given a big production," he said. And he is doing well enough not to get tied down to a film series.

Newark Bears Hold Top Spot

(By The Associated Press)

The ability of Newark Bears to beat Syracuse Chiefs is one of the reasons the Bears top the International League standings today.

Manager Bill Skiff's Bears have clashed with the Chiefs six times so far and on each occasion the Bears romped off with the decision.

Sunday the Bears bagged 3-2 and 11-0 triumphs. Dick Starr gained the nod over Syracuse's Johnny Hetki in the first game although he yielded 10 hits.

Clarence Marshall allowed only five hits in the second game, coasting home behind a nine-hit attack that included a three-run homer by Jerry Coleman.

Montreal Royals moved over the Chiefs into second place, a game behind the Bears by pulverizing Toronto Maple Leafs twice, 23-3 and 8-0.

Chuck Connors, Duke Snider, Al Glavin, Oscar Grubbs and Cliff Dapper each hit homers in the first game with Connors' blow coming with the sacks jammed.

Connors, Grimes and Glavin also homered in the second game while Johnny Van Cuyk held the hapless Leafs to three hits.

Jersey City Giants and Rochester Red Wings also swept twin bills. The Giants turned back Baltimore Orioles, 6-5 and 3-0 and the Wings clipped Buffalo Bisons, 9-3 and 5-4.

Waterloo Leads Intercounty; Petes Top COBL

(By The Canadian Press)

The see-saw battle for first place in the Intercounty Baseball League again highlighted weekend baseball play as senior teams swung into action not only in the Intercounty Loop but in all corners of the province.

Waterloo Tigers took over sole possession of first-place in the Intercounty circuit standing by shading Guelph Maple Leafs 9-8 Saturday night. Kitchener Panthers were in a hitting mood Saturday night as they hammered three London Majors hurlers for 14 safeties and a 13-2 victory. Brantford Red Sox, the only Intercounty team to play two games, garnered a double victory. They blanked Stratford Nationals 7-0 behind the two-hit twirling of Harrison Fisher and then eked out a 2-1, 11-inning win over Galt Terriers.

In the Central Ontario Baseball League, Peterborough Petes took a firmer grip on top spot by trouncing Kingston Locos 10-3. In the only other COBA tilt, Barrow Shomern consolidated their old on second place with an 8-6 win over Oshawa Merchants.

Niagara Falls Flores snapped Welland Stokes' unbeaten streak at six in the Niagara District senior league with a 4-1 victory in the only game played. The Temiskaming Baseball League swung into action over the weekend, with Hollinger Bombers squeezing out an 8-7 decision over Porcupine Combines.

Guelph trailed throughout in their tilt with Waterloo, but tied the score at 8-8 in the top half of the ninth, scoring three runs on an error, Lefty Hammond's single and Apple Finkbeiner's triple. Tigers roared back for the winning margin in their half of the ninth.

Thanks to Milt Schmidt's four-bagger, Tigers sent in two runs in the first. Clare Martin, Waterloo's leading batter, boosted his average with three hits in four trips.

HELD IN SHOOTING—Neighbors of Seth Linton, who is now being held as a result of the shooting early yesterday morning of Louis Stewart and John Kipp are seen entering the court house at Simcoe for interrogation. At left is Dave Larmour and at right Len Maylin. In foreground is Provincial Constable Clarence E. Parmenter.

Says Successful Farmer "Man of Moderation" With Lots of Common Sense

Moderation as an attribute of the successful farmer was discussed with practical exemplification in some of its marks and manifestations by Prof. A. D. Runions of the staff of the Ontario Department of Agriculture as guest speaker at the Peterborough Federation of Agriculture picnic at Morrow Park Saturday.

The ideal member of the Federation should be a successful farmer, a leader in his community and respected by his neighbors, said Prof. Runions as he proceeded to fill in features of the kind of man he was showing forth for example and emulation. Basically he was a man of moderation, with proper sense of proportion and sound judgment, which could be paraphrased as intelligence and common sense.

Prof. Runions said his opinions were based on years of travelling about the province and into every county except Grey. Success in the operation and management of a farm obviously depended on the farm itself, the type of its soil and its convenient location for carrying out the business of farming. It would be difficult to attain any degree of success on a farm that was isolated during winter with a natural handicap of snow filled roads and similar obstacles. On this point of the farm itself, Mr. Runions offered the advice: "Don't spend your life time trying to build up a run-down farm."

Moderation should be evinced in the size of the farm, with its attendant considerations of help, machinery and general accommodation. Prof. Runions said there was no question about the utility and advantages of modern farm machinery in these days of definite planning for efficiency and adequate returns, but he offered the advice: "Make sure you have use for every type of machinery you buy, and that you have economical use for it."

Need Sensible Balance

There should also be sensible balance of the buildings of the farm, between the house and the barns. In Middlesex county, Prof. Runions said he had noticed many large houses, big enough for families of 15. Generally throughout the province there were farms with spacious barns and fine equipment, but the same thought and provision was not carried in to the house. With all the responsibility the farmer and his family have to carry today, he should have a home as well as a house.

In laying out crop and live stock programs, the farmer should avoid prejudice here and there where it was likely to show itself. He should temper his decisions with sound judgment. As a former agricultural representative in Peterborough, Prof. Runions said the bulk of the income in this county was realized from livestock and its products. That important detail of farming, therefore, deserved more attention than it received on many farms. Of the Ontario farm income in 1946 some 70 per cent was derived from livestock and animal products.

The successful livestock man must be a good judge of stock, just as the successful salesman must know everything about the product he is selling. Knowledge of livestock required for decisions was an asset which young farmers could learn, and one of the agencies of acquiring that information was through judging competitions. Building up a herd, collection of the best stock, feeding programs, market requirements and opportunities were to some extent a natural gift with many men, but they could also be acquired, and Prof. Runions said he pleaded with the young farmers today to avail themselves of every chance to engage in club work and to study and apply themselves to this broad branch of their work.

Must Keep Up To Date

"Agriculture is moving rapidly in our time, and we must keep up to date to be successful. You have to keep abreast with the times in your thinking; use moderation; adopt the practical approach to all your farm problems; be unbiased in all your valuations." One form of bias in making a decision was that of the men who deliberately passed by good livestock in their own neighborhood because he thought he had to go farther afield. He probably could have done just as well nearer home. Speaking of exhibitions, Prof. Runions said they had a place in agriculture, and it was a grand thing to win, but there, again, moderation should be used. Of first importance was the having of livestock at home, fertility of the soil and generally good management.

"Most men like to see a horse race once in a while, but when they go to exhibitions where there are opportunities of education they shouldn't give all their attention to the races and attractions of that kind. Don't confuse education and entertainment. On the other hand some men stay too close to home all the time. I believe that periodically they should have a day off. When there are breed shows or seed fairs and so on, including educational meetings, they should attend them from the educational standpoint and not for entertainment."

In other words, and coming back to his philosophic subject, Prof. Runions said farmers should try to extend the approach and attitude of good judgment toward all their affairs.

"I believe the Federation has a great future," Prof. Runions concluded, "especially if it receives the earnest support of successful farmers, as many of them have been doing. I feel assured that it is going to have greater success than ever and on a higher plane."

W. W. Dawson was chairman of the program in the main building at Exhibition Park. V. S. Milburn, secretary of the Ontario Federation, brought greetings from the provincial organization. Don Milburn moved a vote of thanks to Prof. Runions. Guests included Mrs. A. A. McIntyre and Mrs. Ed. Wand of the Local Council of Women, and Miss Myrtle Sargent of the Peterborough unit of the Canadian Cancer Society who outlined its purpose and urged farmers to become members. Mrs. Ernest Thompson, Federation representative to the Society, also spoke of its work. Also at the head table were the agricultural representatives of this district: F. C. Paterson, Peterborough; M. H. Winter of Victoria; Ed. Summers of Durham and Ralph Banbury of Northumberland; also Murray McRae, assistant during the summer in Peterborough and Durham.

Prof. Runions was introduced to the dinner company of three or four hundred members and their families, by Norman McConkey.

Prize Lists

A judging competition took up the morning, and the afternoon program included games directed by Jack Dane of the Peterborough Recreation Commission.

Mexican Youths Object To Mural

MEXICO CITY, June 7—(AP)—Some young men scratched the phrase, "God does not exist," out of a Diego Rivera mural Friday night, but the artist painted it right back in again.

The mural, titled "Sunday Afternoon in the Alameda," is on a wall of the main dining room of the government's new $8,000,000 Prado hotel.

The younger men, numbering 100 to 150, invaded the dining room, overpowered three detectives and kept back waiters while one mounted a chair and, using a table knife, scratched away all the phrase but the word, "God." Rivera, dining a few doors away at the time, later brought a paint box into the hotel dining room and, climbing on a chair, restored the obliterated words.

JERUSALEM, June 7 (AP).—Roman Catholic dignitaries said Saturday they had sent a protest to the Vatican that Jews consistently failed to respect holy places in the war in Jerusalem, while Arabs kept their word in this regard.

Busy Week-end For Family— Chases Thief Saturday Rescues Two Boys Sunday

This has been an interesting week-end for the Fontaine family, 146 Aymer St. Late on Saturday night the bicycle shop on Water St., belonging to Alphonse Fontaine and his son Keith, was broken into and a motorcycle was stolen. It was recovered after an exciting chase. Then early on Sunday afternoon Alphonse Fontaine spotted two boys clinging to an overturned canoe in Little Lake. He rescued them and then circled about the area to recover cushions and paddles floating in the water.

The theft was discovered shortly after 10 p.m. on Saturday when William C. (Babe) Fontaine, proprietor of Babe's Place, was informed that there was a customer at his brother's store next door. Mr. Fontaine knew his brother closed the bicycle shop hours previously and so went to investigate. The prospective customer explained he had walked in when he found a light on inside and the place unlocked.

Mr. Fontaine then noticed that the lock had been pried off the door and one of four motorcycles was missing. The man in the store said he had seen nobody leave the premises before he came in. But Jack Young, a neighbor, told the police he had noticed someone scrambling under the counter at about 1 p.m., but concluded it was Keith Fontaine.

An unidentified man reported he had seen a man wheeling a motorcycle across Victoria Park, the motorcycle answering the description of the stolen one. Immediately the chase was taken up by P.C.s Gordon Trennum and Eldon McDonald and half a dozen teen-aged youths on bicycles, each equipped with a flashlight.

They were David Shanz, McDonald, St. John Thompson, Water St.; Don Marshall, Bethune St.; Charles Viner, RR 2, Otonabee; Robert Crone, Stewart St.; and Daniel Goodfellow, Aymer St.

Robert Crone then spotted the thief again, and chased him east on London St. When he reached the "goose pond" near the wooden bridge, the wanted man realized that it was a matter of saving his own skin, so he abandoned the motorcycle which he'd been unable to start and cut through a number of backyards in the general direction of McDonald St.

Despite a protracted search the police and their youthful helpers were unable to find the man. The motorcycle, valued at $411, was returned with a couple of bumps but otherwise unharmed. Rescue Two Youths

Alphonse Fontaine, head of the family, was out on Little Lake trying out the motor recently won by his son in a raffle when, at about 1.30 p.m. on Sunday he noticed two youths clinging to an overturned canoe.

At first he paid no attention to them, thinking they were fooling, but then he noticed one of them was fully clothed. He pulled ed over to them and Darrell Lipsett, 13, of Hunter St. E., climbed into the boat, but the other boy, Allan Forsythe, 15, Rogers St., a non-swimmer, was unable to climb aboard and so he was towed to shore. None the worse for their adventure they both set out with Mr. Fontaine for the paddles, cushions and other equipment, as well as to bring in the canoe.

According to the boys they had hired a canoe to go for a paddle out in Little Lake. They were several hundred yards from the point at Little Lake cemetery when Forsythe stood up in the boat and turned over. They both clung to the craft and shouted for help. Apparently his motor was making too much noise for Mr. Fontaine to notice their cries.

Neither of them was any the worse for the ducking and they went home to supper with their clothes dry, and with not a word of the incident to their parents.

"They were real good lads," chuckled Mr. Fontaine commending on the rescue. "I was talking to them for some time afterwards. They didn't seem to be in any great danger when I picked them up, but you never can tell in a case like that."

Radio Script Wins Mention

"Story Period for Juniors," an Ontario school broadcast of the CBC, written by Miss Fern Rahmel, of 209 Crescent St., won an honorable mention at the 12th American exhibition of educational programs. The exhibition was held last month by the Institute for Education by Radio at Ohio State University.

The program was described as "an admirable demonstration of the value of professional quality in the production of dramatic materials for children."

The same program of Miss Rahmel won an honorable mention last year. Altogether, four first awards and two honorable mentions were won this year by CBC programs.

HOLD FIRST BAND CONCERT

First of 16 summer band concerts, four of them slated for Riverside Park, was held on Sunday night. About an hour and a half of music was supplied by the Salvation Army Band under R. G. Routly, bandmaster. Guest artist was drummer Owen Davis, Wellington, N.Z. An estimated 900 people sat in the stands or on the grass nearby. Others heard the concert from the comfort of their cars and joined in the applause which followed each selection by honking their horns.

St. John Brigade Inspection On Wednesday

Peterborough branch of the St. John Ambulance Nursing Division was the first Ontario Division to complete the Child Welfare examination. On Wednesday successful candidates will be presented with certificates by Dr. W. J. Bell, Toronto, provincial inspector, who will officiate at the annual inspection of the Nursing Division and the Men's Brigade. It will be held at the Salvation Army (Simcoe St. entrance) on Wednesday at p.m.

It is expected that about 20 in the Nursing Division will receive certificates. The lecturer for the group was Dr. Agnes Moffatt, Peterborough.

The inspection will consist of Dr. Bell describing several hypothetical injuries and the examinees will then be judged on their ability to cope with them.

During the winter a course was held on Home Nursing and First Aid, sponsored by the local division. About 75 women from the Peterborough region took part in this course. They were examined by Dr. R. A. Kelly, MOH, and successful candidates will receive certificates.

Jas. Fraser To Attend Session At McMaster

James Fraser, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, will be among the delegates from across Canada attending the second annual session of the Canadian Institute for Board and Chamber Secretaries from June 13 to June 19 at McMaster University.

Delegates to the session will discuss problems encountered by local secretaries and managers of chambers of commerce and boards of trade. Special attention will be given to a study of public relations.

D. L. Morrell, executive secretary of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, commented in announcing the opening of the school: "The board of trade or chamber of commerce secretary occupies a most important position in the drive for increasing community welfare and for the preservation of our free enterprise way of life. The Institute for Board and Chamber Secretaries attempts to offer him an opportunity to study new techniques and discuss his problems with others engaged in the same work."

CITIZENS COMPLAIN

One night last week, someone with a boat and an outboard motor ran up and down the Otonabee with the throttle wide open. This happened about 9 o'clock, and people who live near the river began complaining at once. Some of them wondered whether Peterborough has an anti-noise bylaw.

Reports Crash To Police Arrested, Faces 2 Charges

Considerable damage was done to two cars Sunday afternoon when a car driven by Mansel Wilson, 166 Adaline St., struck a parked car belonging to Gordon Saunders, 1306 Monaghan Rd. Saunders' car was standing in front of his home.

Wilson reported the accident at the police station, where he was arrested. Police say he will be charged with careless driving and illegal possession of liquor. He was released on $100 bail.

On the Wilson car the right front fender was torn off completely, the right front headlight broken, the front axle bent, and the right running board and right side of the body smashed in. The right windshield of the Wilson car was splintered when a passenger's head was thrown against it by the impact. The passenger, Shirley Clark, 51 Maria St., was uninjured.

Saunders' car, in reverse when struck, was pushed nine feet ahead by the impact. The left rear fender was badly crumpled, the fuel line broken, and the hub cap knocked off.

Wilson was travelling north on Monaghan Rd. when he struck the other auto. P.C.s Leo Murphy and Gordon Trennum investigated.

Several windows of the Indian River School on No. 7 Highway were broken Sunday. There was no entry and there was nothing missing. Police believe that neighboring boys are responsible.

Mayor William Owens, attending the 20th annual convention of the Association of Ontario Mayors and Reeves at Windsor, was elected to the executive of the association on Saturday.

DELAYED IN FLOOD AREA

THIRD ANNIVERSARY

This was the episcopal anniversary of Bishop Gerald Berry whose elevation from the priesthood took place three years ago. His Excellency celebrated high mass attended by a large congregation including the school children at St. Peter's Cathedral.

LIONS ALSO BALLOT

Some local Peterborough businessmen will be casting two ballots today. But it's all perfectly legal. Members of the Lions Club vote not only on the provincial election, but on the balance of their club executive. Second vice president, Lion Tamer, Tail Twister and two-year directors all must be chosen this evening.

VOTERS AT ROTARY

It seems that Rotarians are as lazy as other people, for when all those present at the Rotary luncheon today who had voted were asked to stand, not more than a dozen rose from their seats. Probably, like most of the public, they intend to get around to the polling booths later in the day.

AVERAGE MARKET

In spite of fine weather Saturday, there was only an average market. There were many boxed plants, especially marigolds, 75 cents for 50. Cut flowers were also plentiful, particularly irises and tulips. The price for irises varied from 2 to 15 cents to 25 cents a dozen. Rhubarb was selling at 5 cents to 10 cents a bunch and onions at 5 cents a bunch. Eggs were plentiful as usual, the price for grade A large being 45 cents. Chickens were selling at about 40 cents a pound, potatoes at $3.25 for 75 pounds.

FIRE DAMAGE TO OFFICE

Carelessly thrown cigarette butts can be considered No. 1 menace to property at Exhibition Park. On Saturday evening at 9.17 p.m. a passerby reported that the ticket office at the right-hand side of the gate was burning and by the time firemen arrived and extinguished it severe damage had been done. While it is not a total loss, the structure will have to be demolished and another one built. Last night the ticket office on the left-hand side of the entrance suffered a similar fate. "I guess we get in free now," chuckled one wag.

CLEANING FLUID BURNS

A lighted cigarette is believed to have been responsible for igniting a deposit of used cleaning fluid at the rear of Lansfield's Cleaners and Dyers, 177 Charlotte St., early on Saturday evening. As the fluid was dropped on the earth in the backyard no damage resulted. Earlier in the afternoon on Saturday a chimney fire was reported at the residence of E. Kingan, 11 Conger St.

LARGE MARKET SATURDAY

For the second week in a row a Brighton marketer sold out about 700 assorted box plants at the Saturday market. Tomato plants were sold out as fast as they appeared. Seed potatoes were selling according to quality, and cooking potatoes at about $3 a bag. There was very little butter, eggs were retailing at from 45-4 cents a dozen and chickens at 35-40 cents a pound.

WIN GOLF SWEEP

Winners in the first flight ball sweepstakes at the Peterborough Golf and Country Club Saturday were Herb Bradburn with 80, and O. A. DeGraw with 82-10 for a 72. In the second flight, the Rev. G. F. Kelly had an 89 while Don McIntyre carded 91-17 for a 74, and Jack Graham had 97-30 for a 67. William Vanstone led the nine-holeers with 40, as Ben Benson turned in 45-11 for 54, and Frank Sheedy 51-5 for a 366.

SECOND OLD COIN FOUND

After noting an Examiner report of the discovery of a 155-year-old coin, Mrs. Brenda Lincoln decided the 174-year-old coin she had found might be valuable. About a month ago, she came across a coin dated 1774, and minted in the reign of George III. The minted value of the coin is unknown, since it is dated badly and worn smooth in places. This beats this year's record of 135 years by 39 years.

Car And Motorcycle Collide, Two Hurt

Two people were slightly injured when a motorcycle and a car collided Sunday afternoon at the intersection of Stewart and Charlotte Sts.

Kenneth Hopkins, 492 King George St., driver of the motorcycle, received injuries to both wrists, and his passenger, Miss May Wishaw, 717 Elcombe Cres., cent, has a scraped left hand and ankle. Mrs. Lucille Mace, Burielgh Falls, after driving east on Charlotte St., was making a left turn to Stewart St., when her car collided with the motorcycle. The right door of the car was pushed in, and the right running board and right rear fender were crumpled. The front forks of the motorcycle were bent, the front wheel broken, and the frame twisted. Police say about $100 damage was done to each vehicle. P.C. C. J. McGillen investigated.

Fish Derbies Under Fire Anglers Rap Laxity Ontario Law Enforcement

Fish derbies offering prizes came under fire over the week-end when 20 directors of the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters held their second quarterly meeting of the year in Peterborough. Three members, Jack Hambleton, Toronto; Walter Wilson, Kitchener, and Dr. Norman Douglas, Owen Sound, led the attack on the derbies, and the conclusion was a unanimously supported resolution to the Department of Lands and Forests on the subject. The resolution urged that "The Department of Lands and Forests ban all short term game fish contests with prizes, better known as derbies and held in public waters, and of less than an own season duration."

Members claimed the derbies are only publicity stunts and are a detriment to sustained fishing, because they attract big crowds on opening day and result in rapid depletion of fish.

"The worst harm is done when someone catches a large fish, then many others are encouraged to fish more heavily in the hopes that they can also catch a large one. In short such catches lead others to believe that fishing is good when it isn't," Dr. Douglas said.

Made a Day's Pay

"Fishing contests cause heavier fishing, and because of the prizes, the publicity and the bragging of the lucky anglers, a swarm of anglers flock to the place. It is pure commercialization and it must be stopped. Why up at Owen Sound, one man was paying anglers a dollar prize for every fish over a pound taken. I know people who slept in cars and fished steadily during the period of the contest considering that they would make a good day's pay out of it," Walter Wilson declared.

"There were more than 300 people at Eugene Pond on opening day of the speckled trout season, and at Williams Lake it was almost as bad," Dr. Douglas said. "Meat was not much better," Walter Wilson added.

"Can you imagine a man getting a prize for catching the most fish," said Henry Eller, St. Catharines.

"I'm opposed to fish derbies," Jack Hambleton added. "Actually I haven't too much sympathy for the Owen Sound people. Their chickens are now coming home to roost, in short, there is undue depletion because of contests."

No Objection To Contests

"Am I to understand that the objection is only to short term derbies, or does the meeting also oppose fishing contests that last all year," Pete McGillen, Peterborough, asked.

"No there is no objection to the usual seasonal contests that bring prizes to anglers catching the biggest fish—but only to the short-term jam-packed derbies," Vivian Sutton, Windsor, and president of the Federation, replied.

When the vote was put on the resolution it was unanimous.

Laxity in law enforcement of fish and game regulations came in for criticism from several delegates, and a resolution was submitted by Walter Wilson, Kitchener, asking that "The Federation recommend to the Department of Lands and Forests that they issue explicit instructions to law enforcement officers to make more vigorous efforts to apprehend violators of the fish and game regulations and to prosecute all such offenders whether native or tourist without fear or favor to the full extent of the law. Action is imperative at once to help conserve our fast dwindling fish and wildlife resources." The second was Pete McGillen, and the resolution passed without opposition.

Too Many Hunters

Vivian Sutton, Windsor, complained that there are so many hunters in the Essex Kent area that restrictions will have to be imposed very shortly. "Why doesn't the Ontario government pour a little of that money they are using for publicity back into restoring what the tourists take away with them — our fish and game."

Dr. Norman Douglas, Owen Sound, presented a brief asking the Department of Lands and Forests to appoint district managers in areas where they are required. The chief had previously been approved by the Owen Sound Board of Trade. This manager is to be a layman, and is to manage all fish and game affairs in the district. He is to have salary and expenses and a budget for stream and lake improvements on the basis of a few selected programs to be carried out each year. The appointment is to be for a ten-year period.

Dr. W. Curran, Kingston, objected to the brief because the manager was to have greater authority than the district biologist. Pete McGillen also protested this point, suggesting that perhaps Dr. Douglas was dissatisfied because there was no close liaison between Fish and Game Associations and the Government overseers.

On motion of Austin Peters, Kingston, and Jim Hutton, Trenton, the brief is to be sent to all clubs for their consideration.

Reports on progress in zoning Southern Ontario were given by Austin Peters, Kingston; Walter Wilson, Kitchener; and Blake Wilson, Windsor.

Miss Elinor Mary Sheehy Bride of Eugene J. Sheehy

St. Peter's Cathedral was the setting for the ceremony this morning at which Elinor Mary Sheehy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Kelly Sheehy, became the bride of Eugene John Sheehy, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Matthew P. Sheehy of Toronto.

The Rev. F. A. Marrocco performed the marriage and Mrs. Robert Aman played wedding music. The soloist, Miss Geraldine Collins, sang "Ave Maria" during the signing of the register. Bouquets of red peonies and mauve iris decorated the altar.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and was attended by Mrs. F. J. McNulty as matron of honor, and Miss Patricia O'Brien, of Detroit, as bridesmaid. Mr. Frank K. Sheehy was groomsmen for his brother. The ushers were Messrs. Fergus P. Sheehy, Wm. R. Sheehy and Wilton Sheehy of Toronto.

A gown of white brocade bengaline with net yoke inset was the bride's choice for her wedding. It was designed with a bustle back and full skirt falling in a long train. She wore a Juliette cap and a long veil of embroidered tulle that was caught to a tiara of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was a cascade of white carnations and lily of the valley. Her attendants wore similar frocks of blue moire taffeta made with quaint hoop skirts on fitted bodices with cap sleeves and V-necklines. They wore wide-brimmed picture hats in the same shade of blue and carried nosegays of white sweet peas and pink roses.

For the reception which was held at the Peterborough Golf and Country Club, Mrs. Sheehy wore a gown of figured grey crepe with hat of black mohair and a shoulder bouquet of mauve and white sweet peas. She received the guests with the bride party, assisted by Miss Catherine Sheehy of Toronto, sister of the groom. The latter was dressed in navy crepe with hat of natural straw and wore a corsage of lily of the valley.

Later, the bride and groom left to spend their honeymoon in the Laurentians. Mrs. Sheehy travelled in a grey silk bengaline suit under a shortie coat of midnight blue, and her hat and other accessories were in tushia shade. Mr. and Mrs. Sheehy will live in Peterborough on their return.

Catherine Hoar and the late James Hoar of Peterborough.

The bride wore a street-length dress of heavenly-blue crepe with black accessories and a corsage of American Beauty roses. She was attended by Miss Marcelle Ritchie attired in a two-piece dress of turquoise and black with black accessories. Mr. James Hoar of Detroit attended his brother.

The nuptial mass was said by the Rev. W. C. McCannery and was served by two brothers of the bride, Carl and Stanley Carey. The wedding music was played by the bride's mother.

The bridal party took breakfast at Peterborough and later a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The couple left later by train for Toronto and Niagara. On their return they will reside in Peterborough.

Mary Robinson Weds D. I. Chamberlain

The groom is a son of Mr. C. M. King and the late D. H. Chamberlain. The Rev. P. Gardiner performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a pillar box suit of red wool with black and beige accessories and a corsage of Starlite roses. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cummings of Peterborough. The latter as matron of honor wore a grey suit with black accessories and a corsage of Bettertime roses.

LAKEFIELD, June 7 (ENS).—A "Sunbonnet" tea was held in Lakefield United Church by members of the "B" Group of the Women's Association.

Individual tables were arranged in a picturesque setting with lattice fence, and tea was served by the ladies, who wore gay sunbonnets with aprons to match. The large tea table was laid.

with a lace cloth, tall green tapers and centred with mauve and yellow tulips. Tea was poured by Mrs. J. A. Porter, Mrs. E. Dunford, Miss Ella Down. Tea was served by Mrs. L. Bailey, Mrs. K. Lichty, Mrs. F. L. Erskine, Mrs. E. Jewell, Mrs. Gerald Northey, Mrs. Ray Jackman and Mrs. George Graham.

Junior League Holds Annual Breakfast
The Catholic Junior League's annual communion breakfast was held Sunday morning.

Tables were tastefully arranged with bowls of lilacs and iris, and tiny place cards were cut in the shape of tulips and daffodils and placed in flower pots of colored gumdrops.

Miss Jean Dorris, convener and toastmistress, welcomed the guests and members.

Mrs. E. Collis sang two vocal selections, "Ave Maria" and "I Passed By Your Window" accompanied by Miss Veronica Scollard at the piano.

A toast to the Pope was given by Miss Louise Hickey, to the King by Miss Veronica O'Leary and to the Junior League by Miss Barbara Hickey with the response by Miss Doris Strickland.

Past president Miss Hilda Sullivan introduced the guest speaker, Miss Irene Hindelang, of Hamilton, national convener of Catholic Junior League, who outlined activities of the Junior League.

Addressing the study clubs are important as many problems enter into everyday life with which one should always be ready to cope. Members were reminded that it is important to welcome displaced persons and make them happy in this new land. Make them your friends and guide them in their selection of friends until they find their way in this country, as the seed of discontentment is being sown by many unkind people, approaching these displaced persons with that idea solely in mind," she said. A brief outline of other works such as girl guides, sisters of service, social service, Canadian League magazine, civic duties, retreats, and publicity was included.

Miss Anne Donoghue thanked the speaker for her most interesting talk.

Among those present were: Misses Irene Hindelang, Margaret Quinlan, Camilla Reding, Bernice McGann, all of Hamilton; Lorenda Kearney, Mary Clancy, Myra Hickey, Veronica Scollard, Veronica O'Leary, Anne O'Leary, Phyllis Perdue, S. Flynn, Helen Hickey, Barbara Hickey, Doris Strickland, Genevieve Murray, Louise Hickey, Hilda Sullivan, Rita Young, Jean Dorris, Gladys Perdue, Margery McNulty, Thelma Lucas, Alice Krom, Anne Donoghue and Mesdames Redmond, J. Madden, M. Crough, P. D. Scollard, C. McCoy, E. Collis, J. Gannon, J. S. Black, J. Dunn, Hancock and O'Brien, all of Peterborough.

Some New Ways To Serve Fresh Asparagus

Asparagus shoots springing up in the home garden, look good enough to be eaten raw. Well, one thing you can do is cook and chill the tips to serve marinated with potato salad or jellied vegetables. To "marinate" leave the cooked vegetable in French dressing or season vinegar and salad oil for an hour.

Another way of serving asparagus cold is in jellied salads. For a hot dish there is nothing more tasty at this time of year than fresh asparagus cream soup. But for a dish that is different, try "cheesed" asparagus tips or stalks, baked golden brown.

Jellied Asparagus Salad
Two tablespoons gelatine, ½ cup cold water, ½ cup vinegar, 2 cups boiling water, 1-3 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 pound fresh cooked asparagus, ½ cup sliced olives, lettuce, celery curls.

Soak gelatine in cold water for 5 minutes. Add vinegar, boiling water, sugar and salt and dissolve. Chill until slightly thickened. Pour a small amount into moistened or oiled mould or individual moulds. Chill until firm. Arrange asparagus tips in the mould attractively with sliced olives. Pour in remaining gelatine mixture and chill thoroughly until firm. Unmould to serve on crisp lettuce. Garnish with watercress and celery curls. Serve with mayonnaise. Yield: 6 servings.

Cream of Asparagus Soup
2 bunches fresh green asparagus, or 2 cups canned asparagus, ½ cup chopped onion, ½ cup chopped celery, ½ cup cream, 6 cups chicken stock, 3 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons flour, salt, pepper, paprika.

If fresh asparagus is used, wash and cook standing upright in a deep saucepan or bottom of a double boiler, covered with upper part of deep saucepan, so that stalks of asparagus are thoroughly cooked while tips are steamed until tender. Remove tips and reserve them. Place asparagus stalks, onion and celery in chick. on stock and simmer for ½ hour. Rub thorough a sieve. Combine

Robert John Hardill Weds Betty Scott of Whitby

At Whitby, on Saturday, June 5, in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, nuptial vows were taken by Betty Constance Scott, daughter of Mrs. R. H. Scott and the late Mr. Scott, formerly of Regina, and Robert John Hardill, of Peterborough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milford Hardill. The Rev. D. Marshall officiated at the ceremony. A background was formed of white and mauve lilacs banked with palms and fern. Miss Janet Spratt, soloist, sang "Because" during the signing of the register, and Miss Weller was the organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. T. R. Scott. Her wedding gown was of white marquisette embroidered in lily of the valley design and styled in Marie Antoinette fashion. She wore a floor-length veil caught to a beaded tiara and carried white calla lilies.

The attendants were her sister, Miss Edith May Scott, and Miss Edelyn Adams of Toronto. They were dressed alike in azure blue faille taffeta and wore matching picture hats and gloves. Each carried a bouquet of deep pink roses with lily of the valley.

Following a reception held at Adelaide House, Oshawa, the bride and groom left on a wedding trip through the United States. Mrs. Hardill wearing a navy and white ensemble for travelling. Upon their return they will take up residence in Peterborough.

butter, flour, seasonings and cream as in Basic Recipe for Making Cream Soups. Add asparagus stock. Heat in a double boiler. When hot add in the asparagus tips. Yield 6 servings.

Cheese Asparagus
Dip asparagus tips or stalks in thick white sauce, then in grated cheese, roll in bread crumbs, dip in beaten egg and then in bread crumbs. Bake in electric oven at 375 degrees until golden brown.

Take A Tip
1. Add asparagus to cream sauce rather than sauce to asparagus to prevent curdling.

2. To prevent lumps forming in a cream sauce mix the flour with enough cold milk to make a smooth paste and stir hot milk constantly while you add the thin paste slowly.

3. Crisp the crackers for soup. Place them on a baking sheet and heat until lightly browned.

4. Croutons are favorite accompaniments for soup. Cut stale bread in half-inch slices, then cube. Place in a baking pan and brown in a hot electric oven.

Of Interest to Women

Boy Should Be Aware Of Aggressive Woman

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Can you help a young man who is being persecuted by a girl who is determined to marry him, although he tells her positively that he has never even liked her; that he will never marry her, and that he wants her to quit hounding him? He never escorts her anywhere, and Dorothy Dix when she begged him to marry her at a dance he absolutely refused to even consider it. He told her he did not love her, never did, and never will, and that he is in love with another girl. This girl has even announced their wedding day.

The girl's family are bringing pressure on the boy to prod him to marry her, but so far he has resisted. Isn't there some way that he can rid himself of this pest?

P. A. PAX

ANSWER: When a girl throws away all decent reserve and tries to force an unwilling man to marry her, she is a subject for the psychiatrist instead of an adviser to the lover. For, unless she is insane, she is bound to know that if she finally badgered the young man into marrying her it would bring her no happiness. He would regard her with disgust, and they would live a cat and dog life in which he would always be fighting in vain to hold him.

Wed Other Girl Fast. But unless this young man is a very weak brother, there is no reason why he should permit himself to be victimized by this conscienceless girl. The roads to freedom are still open and he still has a chance to prevent himself from being dragged to the altar. He can say NO, and if he has the backbone God promised a fish, he will do it. But there is no denying that his danger is great.

My advice to him is to marry the girl he loves at once. A wife will be his best protection.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My husband has asked me to give him a divorce. When I refused, he told me that he was in love with a woman who has given him more love and companionship than he has ever had with me. He said I was selfish, thoughtless and lazy. I have always spent most of my time at clubs, church parties, etc., never cared about the things he wanted, or tried to make him happy. He said he was so lonesome and love-starved that he would have left me long ago if it hadn't been for our child.

I had no idea my husband felt this way about me, but I know the things he wanted, or tried to make him happy. Now when I do, he doesn't seem to care. I guess I never loved him, but he makes good money and has always been generous to me. Don't you think he will get over this affair and come back to me if I hang on to him?

DEWILDERED WIFE. ANSWER: Not a chance. You killed your husband's love by your selfishness and neglect, and there is no magic that can ever put another heart into his breast for you. A dead love is the dearest thing in the world, and it is folly for you to imagine that by hanging onto your husband you can win him back.

You threw away a good man's love. The only atonement you can make is to be a good enough sport to bow yourself out of the picture.

DEAR MISS DIX: I have a daughter nearly 18 years old who has just gotten a job where she comes in contact with the public. The trouble is that she is very popular, but she goes out with different boys and I am afraid that will give her a bad name.

WORRIED MOTHER

ANSWER: Be glad that your young daughter is popular and has many dates, instead of a few. There is safety in numbers, and if your girl has a lot of boy friends she won't think that she is in love and want to get married while she is still a child. A girl should know many boys before she narrows herself down to one. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

on the brink of very expansive and significant prospects, with the demand for generous and sagacious support from influential sources. Joint issue require quick decisions, but as there are radical factor to be cautiously analyzed it would be unprofitable and disconcerting to fly unprepared into danger zones. Reasonable tactics and wise conclusions might bring excellent culminations, surprising and gratifying in all relationships. The plan of action calls for prudent and studied routines for truly dynamic results.

A PICTURE IN PRINT—Better and brighter than ever is the print dress. This style has become virtually an all-year-round favorite, but it is at its best when it can be worn without a coat. Varied and most original are many of the new designs, with a reappearance of the geometrics, the florals and all the other standbys. An animal print in flame and black is used for this charming crepe frock, a good all-day number. It has an attached double capelet that ties at the neckline, a brief peplum at the sides, and a tailored black patent leather belt.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP is a lot of little things

LET'S CUT DOWN ON RUMORS

Rumors are seldom good news. All too often they are not based on fact. Every time they are relayed they stray farther from the truth. Rumors usually hurt somebody—so let's help put an end to them. Gossip lives only when it has listeners... dies when the facts are known. By making sure of the facts, each one of us can do his share toward stopping rumors. That's "Good Citizenship".

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

The sidereal operations accent the need and wisdom of entering into agreements, making joint plans and issues, in a swift, straightforward way with prudently-executed techniques. Such cooperation is vital, could spell expansion, larger projects and far-reaching culminations, but at the same time could be bungled, and thus be unprofitable. There could be surprising turns or erratic complications, unless acumen, sound judgment, and above-all tactics determine ultimate issues. Analyze carefully before joining forces or making vital moves.

Freddie Mills After Lesnevitch

LONDON, June 7 — (AP). — A new edition of fearless Freddie Mills will fight champion Gus Lesnevitch for the world light heavyweight title at White City Stadium here July 28.

A once rough and ready product of carnival rings, Mills has polished his tactics since he lost to Lesnevitch two years ago.

If the reformation pays off with a world crown Mills will reach the Eldorado of a career that started with his winning a novice competition in his teens.

Today, a 28-year-old bachelor, light heavyweight champion of Great Britain, the Empire and Europe, Mills is the national ring idol. Currently the highest paid slugger in the land, he lives in a modest home in middle class Denmark Hill suburb.

There are none prouder of the new Mills than his trainer, Nat Seller.

"Freddie has that little bit of extra experience that can win now," said Seller, fishing out a card that unobtrusively advertises him as "England's premier boxing trainer."

D-Day Anniversary

LONDON, June 7 — (AP). — The fourth anniversary of D-Day was marked Sunday on both sides of the channel which British, Canadian and United States forces crossed four years ago.

At Portsmouth, Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery unveiled a memorial which faces the sea at a spot from which many units of the Armada sailed with troops and equipment for the Normandy beaches. The memorial is a simple stone.

At Utah beach, in Normandy, Jefferson Caffery, United States ambassador, and President Vincent Auriol of France, toured the invasion beaches.

6,000 Athletes Expected At Olympics

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, June 7 — (CP). — Six thousand well-muscled sons and daughters of 49 countries will pile into Britain in the next two months and for 17 days, July 29, Aug. 14, will divert attention from the world's woes to the sports arena.

This cavalcade of sport will be unfolded at Wembley, Harringay and Earl's Court stadiums in London, and at Blisley, Aldershot, Windsor, Henley and Torquay. There are 17 sports and 136 events, from fencing to wrestling, and the Olympic "must"—an art exhibition.

For all this, more than 2,000,000 ticket-holders from all parts of the world, will scramble, squeeze, shove, jostle and push their way into stadiums. Grubby London is sprucing itself for the arrival of visitors speaking a hundred different dialects and languages.

No country is declared winner of the games, although standings will be compiled by writers to show that this country or that obtained more first places than any other.

Because of post-war scars and the accompanying shortages of food, money, labor and material, some newspapers have blasted that Britain led with her chin in accepting the games.

Other newspapers differed, saying it was about time austerity Britain "let her hair down and had some fun."

This was made known here Sunday by President Al Leader of the PCHL, who met with Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League and representatives of the American and United States Leagues to draw up an affiliation agreement.

Thus the UCHL took its place alongside the NHL, USHL and AHL as a full-fledged pro league. Preliminary plans for the change to professional ranks were drawn up in Pittsburgh when representatives from the three pro leagues met with representatives of the PCHL.

The 10-club PCHL had its greatest year last season, said Leader, and "we felt the fans would get a better brand of hockey by going outright professional."

"Most of the clubs already have working agreement with teams in the other professional leagues and it is expected that before the 1948-49 season starts every club in the league will have a National or American League contract," he added.

Clubs in the PCHL are Vancouver, New Westminster, Seattle, Tacoma and Portland from the northern division, with Oakland, San Francisco, Fresno, Los Angeles and San Diego in the southern division.

Others attending the meeting were:

NHL, Lester Patrick, New York, and Jack Adams, Detroit; THL, President Maurice Podoloff, and Al Sutphin, Cleveland; USHL, President James Keady, Eddie Shore and Lyle Wright; PCHL, Fred Bergin, Fresno, Coley Hall, Vancouver, and Fred Urban and Sam Bergeson, Tacoma.

Pacific League Is Not Amateur

MONTREAL, June 7 — (CP). — The Pacific Coast Hockey League is no longer "amateur."

This was made known here Sunday by President Al Leader of the PCHL, who met with Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League and representatives of the American and United States Leagues to draw up an affiliation agreement.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS

By The Canadian Press

It was learned in Regina on Sunday that President Al Pickard of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association has received an apology from Manager Ed Bruchet of Lethbridge Native Sons for remarks made about the refereeing of the western junior hockey playoffs this year.

"While I was and still am displeased with the officiating," Bruchet said, "I realize I was indiscreet in using terms which imputed the honesty of CAHA officials and do now retract those statements and apologize for having made them."

Bruchet had said the officiating was responsible for his team's defeat by Port Arthur Bruins in the western junior final.

Sian Horne, steady-playing Montreal Isere professional, fired a 73 Sunday to capture top honors in the Quebec spring golf open in a special playoff over the wine-sweet Marlborough course. Horne bested Bill Kerr, a fellow Montreal pro, by four strokes after the two tied for top honors last Friday at Laval-Sur-Le-Lac.

Herb McKenley clipped 3/10's seconds off his listed world record in the 400-yard run in the annual Pacific Association track and field championship at Berkeley, Cal., Saturday. The swift Jamaica-born sprinter ran the distance in 46 seconds flat. He set his former record one year ago. Another Jamaica-born star, Lloyd La Beach, hit the 100-yard dash finish tape in 9.4 seconds to tie the official world record already held by six others.

Demaret blew in with a 67 Sunday, his average for four 18-hole rounds, to cop-first money in the par-battering local tournament. Regulation figures for the 6,813 yards are 35-37-72.

Montreal Wins Meet

MONTREAL, June 7 — (CP). — Montreal High School's powerful 58-man squad romped off with major honors at the Dominion interscholastic track and field meet at Molson Stadium Saturday. Twenty-two records were set.

The Montreal high tracksters piled up 164 points in all five classes, to top Montreal West Hill high school with 156. Ottawa Glebe Collegiate took third spot with 79, but won aggregate honors in class five, or senior, to capture the Sir Arthur Currie Memorial Trophy.

Cricketers Tie With TCS In Return Tilt

On Saturday, the Peterborough Whitaker team travelled to Port Hope to play a return game with Trinity College School. It will be remembered that on May 29, TCS scored an easy win by 107 to 24 but on Saturday the drawn game was slightly in favor of the local team, the final score being PW 103, TCS 42 for 4 wickets.

The Peterborough team batted first and made a good start. The score was 52 for 4 wickets thanks to L. Jennings (14) the opening batsman and very much to W. Wright, another newcomer. He went in first wicket down with the total 14, and stayed in until it was 86 of which his personal share was 39. W. Dyer 14 was a valuable assistant and the pair added 32 runs. After his dismissal, the end soon came with a total of 103. Six School bowlers were used and the most successful was Cooper 4 for 24.

Down For 12

The School opened with W. Greenwood and L. McKenzie to the bowling of F. Dyer and J. Wild. Three wickets were down for 12 but then to Deynan (14) and McIntyre 10 made a good stand and took it to 36. Shortly afterwards time was called with score 42 for 4 wickets. Dyer 2 for 13, and Wild 1 for 16, shared most of the bowling. Wright, relieving Wild had 1 over taken a wicket for 8. The feature of the local inning was the fine display

Liverpool Soccer Team Brings New Life To Game

MONTREAL, June 7 (CP). — The visiting Liverpool soccer team, which drew 12,000 fans the night it knocked off one of Montreal's best teams 4-2, has given the game a shot in the arm hereabouts.

Further, the skill, power and speed shown by the Liverpoolians started the old arguments as to whether football as played in the Old Country is better to watch than football as it is played in Canada.

Elmer (Montreal Herald) Ferguson left no doubt about how he felt.

"Consider this reason, if you like," he writes, "but after watching the game, soccer played by better-class teams has far more skill and cleverness than is found in our own Canadian football, and soccer provides more sustained speed than our stop-go three-downs game.

Dink (Montreal Gazette) Carroll seeking comparison between the salaries of soccer stars with those of professional baseball and hockey players received this answer from Col. S. Ronald Williams, chairman of the Liverpool club:

"They don't compare very favorably with the salaries of baseball players. We don't believe in the star system. With us the team is the thing. All our players receive approximately $50 a week."

Professional players enjoy some advantages that are not extended to baseball or hockey players.

"One club cannot buy a player from another club unless the player agrees to the transfer," said Col. Williams. "Nor can one player be traded for another player unless both players are agreeable."

by W. Wright, formerly of Rugby, England, who followed up his 37 against the Toronto CC by again being top scorer with 39. S. Jennings is proving a useful all-rounder; he scored a steady 14 on Saturday and kept wicket in effectively, and in the Toronto match he proved a useful change bowler.

Following is the score:

Score PW—S. Jennings 14, F. Honour 8, W. Wright 39, E. Roberts 6, J. Wild 5, F. Dyer 0, W. Dyer 14, H. Tasker 0, D. Dyer 4, R. Harvey 2, J. McKissack 5, I. Morrison 2 (not out), extras 5—total 103.

TCS—D. Greenwood 5, M. McKenzie 2, W. Deynan 14, J. Hughes 0, A. McIntyre 10 (not out), A. Hughes 6 (not out), extras 5—total for 4 wickets 42.

How food protection makes jobs for Canadians

From gardens, farms, orchards, lakes and seas come vast quantities of food of every variety for use on Canadian tables. Food processors have constantly been seeking new ways to protect the purity of food. International Nickel has cooperated in this work, and has carried on a great deal of research aimed at developing better and better equipment.

So today the equipment used to handle, cook and process fruits, vegetables and soup; meat, fowl and fish, is largely made of Nickel or Nickel alloys.

These metals resist the action of food acids, do not rust or corrode, do not discolor or contaminate foods.

As a result of scientific research, processed foods are safe, pure and tasty. More and more Nickel alloys are used for utensils, cooking vessels and other food processing equipment. The production of this Nickel provides jobs for scores of Canadians.

Thus does research develop better products, increase the use of Canadian Nickel and create more employment.

6-In Memoriam
BELL—In loving memory of Percy Flegler Bell, who passed away one year ago today, June 9, 1947. Gone, dear father, gone forever. How we miss your smiling face. But you left us a memory that lives. None on earth can take your place. A happy home we have and a sweet life. How sweet the memory still. But death has left a loneliness. The world can never replace you. Ever remembered by daughter Wilma and son-in-law Ronald and grandchildren.

DRUMMOND—In loving memory of Private Fred Drummond, killed in action June 7, 1944. We cannot forget his grave. The place we know it not. On God thou knowest where he lies. May angels guard the spot. Ever remembered by sister and brother-in-law Mildred and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Bert Henderson.

DRUMMOND—In loving memory of my son, who was killed on active service June 7, 1944. There's a spot but sweet remembrance. There's a memory fond and true. There's a token of my love, dear Fred. And a heartache still for you. Ever remembered by his mother, Mrs. John Palmer.

MAHONCO—In loving memory of Philomena Mahonco, who passed away June 3, 1948, and Joseph Mahonco, who passed away June 1, 1948. Time speeds on, the years have passed. Since death's gloom, its shadows cast. Within our home, where all seemed bright. And took from us two shining lights. We miss those lights, and ever will. Their vacant place, there's none to fill. Down here we mourn, but not in vain. For up in Heaven we will meet again. Ever remembered by Joe and Ivy Rome.

British Tories Criticize Wheat Buying

LONDON, June 7.—(CP)—Canadian delay in shipping wheat to Britain bought under a $1.55-a-bushel contract forced British authorities to buy from Argentina at prices of more than $3 a bushel, said a Conservative party publication.

The publication, "a study of government bulk purchase," is critical of post-war policies followed by the labor government in buying food and other materials in quantity through government agencies.

Sometimes, as in the case of Canadian wheat, the bulk purchase agreements got a price lower than the market price, "but a wrong price is always wrong," the booklet said.

"In the summer of 1946, the food ministry fixed up a four-year agreement with Canada for the purchase of quantities of wheat."

"Within each of the crop years 1946-47 and 1947-48 we were to buy 160,000,000 bushels at $1.55 a bushel, and within each of the crop years 1948-49 and 1949-50, 140,000,000 bushels at prices left for future negotiation but not to fall below certain minima. A price of $2 a bushel for the 1948-49 crop year has subsequently been agreed upon."

"Now, the price of $1.55 a bushel which we paid for the 1946-47 crop compared with quotations on the Chicago futures market, of between $2.12 and $2.98 1/2."

"In the absence of a delivery schedule with penalty clauses for non-fulfillment our $1.55 wheat did not get shipped either when we expected it or when we most wanted it."

"While in the four months August to December, 1946, half of Canada's additional surplus was shipped overseas to other countries, we suffered a short-fall of 10,000,000 bushels."

"When the St. Lawrence froze the government had to make frantic efforts to ship wheat from Pacific ports which must have

Edmonton Zoo Rebuilds Homes For Its Guests

EDMONTON, June 7.—(CP)—Smoke over the Zoo has cleared sufficiently to show the honors going to the crusaders. The bears are going to get a new home.

But to the 100-member Edmonton Humane Society, City Council's decision to spend $1,000 building a ground-level bear cage is merely victory in the first round of what they say appears headed for a long-drawn-out campaign.

Headed by Mrs. Allan Miles, president, the group recently handed council an ultimatum: "Give the animals in the Zoo decent living quarters, release them to the wilds, or destroy them. But do not keep them in their present conditions."

Mrs. Miles said she was against animals being kept in captivity, but if done it should be humane. She charged that Edmonton's Zoo housing was as pressing a problem as for the 3,000 to 5,000 citizens who visit the animals every Saturday and Sunday.

The society contends the monkeys and birds are in too-confined quarters, poorly ventilated. "The rabbits should have a bigger pen—though why anyone should have to go to zoo to see a rabbit I can't imagine," said the diminutive, gray-haired president.

She said the one wolf looked lonely, though not as badly quartered.

The city has been hoping local firms would sponsor the zoo—each exhibit taken over by a company. They say the advertising accruing from the responsibility would pay for the outlay, judging by the place's popularity. But a money box on the site last year brought exactly 57 cents in public donations.

The present bear pit is below ground, open and unsheltered. The new pen will be above the ground, steel and concrete.

Arab Attitude To War Dismays UN Councillors

LAKE SUCCESS, June 7.—(CP)—The United Nations Security Council, discouraged by reports from Amman, Trans-Jordan, may ask Count Folke Bernadotte to fly here this week and report in person on his efforts to effect a four-week truce in Palestine.

Members of the 11-country council were dismayed Sunday by a dispatch from the Trans-Jordan capital which indicated the Arabs may balk at accepting the U.N.-approved truce. An Arab source was reported to have said that the Jewish demand for continued immigration might force the Arab states to renege on their earlier acceptance of the May 29 U.N. proposal.

The council scheduled a meeting for this afternoon to continue discussion of the problem. Faris El Khouri of Syria, president of the council for June, said he was hopeful that the first of Bernadotte's weekly reports would be available in time for the meeting.

Should the report not be available and if there is no further word of the possibility of the cease-fire, it is considered likely that the council will adjourn its meeting until later in the week.

Sources here were unable to confirm a report from Amman Sunday night that said cease-fire had been arranged for Thursday. However they indicated that a majority of the council members were "prepared to take a grave view" of any failure to get a four-week truce.

Though it is expected that resort to sanctions of various kinds laid out in the U.N. charter would have the approval of Britain, the United States, Russia and France, the council is said to prefer more cautious exploration of all angles.

Fresh Fires Reported In The North

30 Separate Blazes Being Fought; Firefighters Weary

By The Canadian Press
New forest fires raged today in Canada's belt of timberland from eastern Manitoba to northern Quebec. Weary firefighters battled to contain the fresh outbreaks as well as hold giant blazes in Northern Ontario that left an ever-widening ruin.

Fires that started over the week-end in northwestern Quebec appeared under control except for a blaze raging in Lake Expansé district, 50 miles southwest of Val d'Or, Que.

Another fire that endangered the mining town of Belleterre in the Val d'Or district has been checked and a pilot who flew over the blaze reported the wind is blowing away from the town.

Seaborne Force Aids Egyptians

CAIRO, June 8.—(AP).—The Jews said Monday night the Egyptians have used the seaways to reinforce their armored spearhead in an Israel trap down the Palestine coast from Tel Aviv. At the same time, the Egyptians claim to have inflicted 330 Jewish losses in taking a settlement in that region.

Arab and Jewish leaders meanwhile are weighing proposals for a four-week truce from Count Folke Bernadotte, United Nations mediator, who wants replies by tomorrow. Egyptian leaders said the Arabs will give them their tomorrow. The Jews did not say when they would.

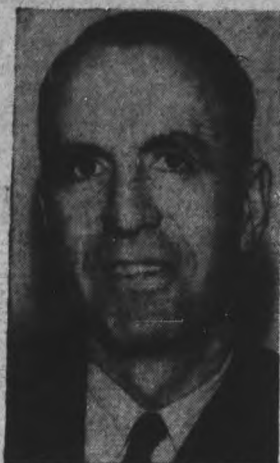

A neutral Cairo source said Count Bernadotte's plan, given the parties Monday, was to freeze the military situation during the armistice.

Egyptian forces back in Tel Aviv from the southern battlefront Monday said the story of Egypt's seaborne reinforcements.

They said at least one and perhaps several Egyptian ships had landed troops of undisclosed strength to back up forces encircled at Isdud, 23 miles south of Tel Aviv on the coastal plain.

In a week's battle at Isdud, the Jews say they have surrounded perhaps 1,000 men of an Egyptian force of 5,000. They reported Monday they still were attacking there.

The Egyptian defence ministry Monday night claimed the capture of Mifsa.

Return Scott For 3rd Term In Peterboro

Elliott Is Second; Morton, CCF Gets Record Vote

Hon. Harold R. Scott held Peterborough safe for the Progressive Conservative party in the re-election Monday of its government of Ontario.

With 72 per cent of the people voting, and 148 of the 151 subdivisions reporting for tabulation at noon today, the results in this riding were:

H. R. Scott, Pro-Con. 10,155
C. H. Elliott, Liberal. 7,674
John G. Morton, CCF. 5,867

Peterborough's Minister of Lands and Forests, carried the city, the three villages, Lakefield, Norwood and Hawkeston, and the townships—North Monaghan, Smith, Dummer, Harvey, Chandos, Ennismore, Burleigh-Anstruther.

The three polls that were unheard from today were in Methuen township.

Hon. Mr. Scott was leading in Belmont-Methuen. Mr. Elliott carried Douro, Ashpole, Otonabee, Galway and Cavendish.

According to the figures received by telephone from the deputy returning officers and reviewed at the office of D. J. Lawrie, returning officer, the number of qualified electors in the riding was 32,877, and the number of ballots counted was 23,698. That was an approximate 70 per cent vote.

Interesting comparison is afforded in several directions from the results of the general elections in the province in 1945:

H. R. Scott, Pro-Con. 12,398
W. W. Dawson, Liberal. 7,714
Wm. C. Grant, CCF. 4,225

The total vote then was 24,337 or 641 more than on Monday. Three years ago Mr. Scott was a majority representative by 459 votes, the difference between his 12,398 and the combined vote of his two opponents, 11,939.

Minority Winner

In this election he was a minority representative by 3,386 votes, the difference between his 10,155 votes and the combined 13,541 of Mr. Elliott and Mr. Morton. There may be some changes in Monday's figures, but they are unlikely to be substantial.

According to the official vote three years ago as compared with the present totals of yesterday, Mr. Scott received 2,243 votes fewer than he did then, and Mr. Elliott 40 fewer than Mr. Dawson.

On the other hand Mr. Morton, the C.C.F. candidate, showed a gain of 1,643 over his party candidate, Mr. Grant.

RETURNED THIRD TIME — Hon. Harold R. Scott, Minister of Lands and Forests in the Drew cabinet, was re-elected for his third consecutive term in the Peterborough riding on Monday. It was a three-cornered battle with Charles Elliott representing the Liberals and Jack Morton, the CCF. Mr. Scott held the riding for the Progressive Conservatives by a substantial margin.

Plan By-Election To Provide Seat For Drew

TORONTO, June 8.—(CP).—Premier Drew, defeated in his home riding despite the re-election of his government, will continue to lead the Progressive Conservative party in Ontario, it was reported today.

A by-election will be necessary to provide him with a seat in the Legislature. Two Progressive Conservative members have offered to step aside for the premier.

Rev. M. C. Davies made that offer Monday night shortly after he was re-elected in Windsor-Walkerville. Agriculture Minister Kennedy, swept back into office by Peel voters with a 4,720 plurality, also has offered to step down.

Premier Drew was defeated largely on the strength of a lively cocktail-lounge issue in traditionally-dry Toronto High Park.

William H. Temple, 50-year-old manufacturer's agent, defeated the premier by 1,015 votes to take the West Toronto riding for the CCF. Mr. Temple, an air force veteran of two wars who has two children, had lost out to the premier in 1943 by a few hundred votes.

Speculation on another seat for Mr. Drew was raised soon after he conceded defeat. The premier said, however, it was "too early" to decide where and when he would seek another seat.

Agriculture Minister Tom Kennedy, who won handily in Peel county said he would be glad to vacate his seat for Mr. Drew.

It was Mr. Temple who established liquor as the chief issue in High Park early in the six week campaign. He declared time after time that if the Drew gov.

2 By-Elections Being Held Today

By The Canadian Press.

Elections in two federal constituencies go to the polls today to vote in by-elections called to fill vacancies in the House of Commons.

Voting will start at 8 a.m. and close at 6 p.m. (PDT) in Vancouver Centre. Voters there will cast ballots for a successor to Senator Ian MacKenzie (L-British Columbia), former Veterans Minister, who was appointed to the Senate last December.

The polls open at 9 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. (EDT) in the Ontario ridings.

Joliffe, Oliver Back In House; Drew Out In Cold

TORONTO, June 8.—(CP).—Premier Drew's Progressive Conservative government was re-elected in Ontario Monday. But the premier suffered personal defeat in an election which saw the CCF replace the Liberals as official Opposition.

Big CCF gains cut deeply into the big majority enjoyed by the Progressive Conservatives in the last Legislature. But the Government weathered the election safely and emerged with 53 of the 90 seats.

These are the totals, compared with results of the 1945 election:

1948 1945
Progressive Conservative 53 66
CCF 22 8
Liberal 12 11
Labor-Progressive 2 2
Liberal-Labor 1 3

Total 90 90

Re-election of the government was assured almost from the start but, as first returns were received, it also was apparent that the CCF would be big gainer. The Canadian Press at 8:44 p.m. reported that the Government's re-election was indicated.

The CCF's new strength was greatest in the 17 Toronto and York ridings, traditional Progressive Conservative strongholds, none of which had CCF representation in the last House.

The CCF, led by 39-year-old E. B. Joliffe, grabbed 11 of the 18 held by Progressive Conservatives. The other two were retained by the only Labor-Progressive members in the Legislature.

Premier Drew's personal loss to W. H. Temple, 50-year-old native of Montreal, a former resident of Saskatchewan and a member of the CCF since its inception.

Drew Candidates Badly Beaten In Toronto Area

TORONTO, June 8.—(CP).—CCF candidates won a sweeping victory over Progressive Conservatives in Toronto area Ontario elections today.

Without one of the 17 Toronto and York county seats in the last House, the CCF captured 11 from the Progressive Conservatives.

A striking instance of the change in fortunes was the defeat of Premier Drew and the election of CCF Leader E. B. Joliffe. Premier Drew lost his Toronto High Park seat to a CCF candidate, W. H. Temple, Mr. Joliffe, who had been beaten in 1945, won the York South seat from the Progressive Conservatives.

Two other cabinet ministers were re-elected, Planning Minister Dana Porter in Toronto St. George and Attorney-General Leslie Blackwell in Toronto Eglington. A fourth minister, Roland Michener, was defeated by a CCF candidate in Toronto St. David.

But the total popular vote still showed a slight

2,530 Soldiers Fight Floods

EDMONTON, June 8 (CP).—Western Army Command headquarters Monday night broke down figures on organized flood-fighting forces in British Columbia which show the Army with more men in the field than civilians.

Active force personnel engaged total 1,225, reserve forces 1,305 for an overall army figure of 2,530. The civilian total is registered at Army Headquarters.

The figures do not include 10 officers and 410 other ranks being moved to the coast from Manitoba stations.

Michael Takes Firm Stand All Children Must Be Greek Orthodox

ATHENS, June 8 (AP).—Child born of the union of ex-King Michael of Romania and Princess Anne of Bourbon-Parma will be raised in the faith of the Greek Orthodox Church, one of Michael's aides announced Monday night.

The couple will be married here Thursday by Archbishop Damaskinos of the Greek Orthodox Church. Michael is a member of that church; Anne is a Roman Catholic.

In Paris, Prince Xavier of Michael of Romania and Princess Anne's family is opposed to the marriage because "we cannot admit of marriage outside the Roman discipline." Special dispensation for the wedding had been sought from the Pope, but it was reported refused because of Michael's insistence that children of the marriage be raised in his faith. Prince Xavier is Anne's uncle.

The former King's aide said: "Under the provisions of the Romanian constitution and the statutes of the Romanian royal family, the King of Romania must be an Orthodox and must be married according to the rites of the Greek Orthodox Church. Another reason why he should be Greek Orthodox is because the King is head of the Romanian Orthodox Church."

"The King's children also have to be Orthodox because under the provisions of the constitution and royal family statutes, the heir to the throne must be orthodox."

Michael, although he abdicated last December, has renounced his abdication and still has hopes of regaining the throne.

Sweeps Oregon

PORTLAND, Ore., June 8.—(AP).—The Columbia and Fraser rivers fired their third flood crest down-river today as weary sand-bag battalions defending battered American and Canadian dikes were reinforced for three more weeks of siege.

Severe weather throughout the Pacific northwest sent tons of water from fast-melting mountain snow into the two rampaging river systems. In the vast, flood-ravaged region of Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and British Columbia men and machines held the weakening levees—barely held them.

In both countries, more manpower and earthworking equipment was thrown into the battle that already has cost 27 lives and perhaps $140,000,000 damage. Hundreds still are listed as missing in the Memorial Day drowning of Vapour, war housing city of 18,700 on the Columbia in Oregon.

Near Portland, the $43,000,000 Reynolds Metals Company aluminum reduction plant, Portland Airport and Rich Commercial Gardens stand behind soft levees.

Progressive Conservative 41 45 36 40
Liberal 29 27 31 51

The candidates in Vancouver Centre are Ralph Campney, Liberal, a former secretary of Prime Minister King, Lyle Jettley, Progressive Conservative lawyer, and Rodney Young, a CCF war veteran.

Ontario riding is contested by W. H. Gifford, Liberal, Mayor Frank McCallum, of Oshawa, Progressive Conservative, and Arthur Williams, CCF.

Vancouver Centre was held for the Conservative Party by Hon. H. H. Stevens from its creation in 1917 until Senator MacKenzie won it for the Liberals in 1930. It has been Liberal ever since.

The government majority in the last election was 518. There were seven candidates. Senator MacKenzie received 9,959 votes, the CCF 9,141, Progressive Conservative 8,896, Labor Progressive 3,757, Social Credit 1,049, New Democracy 400, and Labor Socialist 319.

Ontario riding, created in 1924, was Conservative until 1930, and has also been held by the Liberals since then. Mr. Sinclair's majority in 1945 was 3,069.

He obtained 12,119 votes, the Progressive Conservative candidate 8,980, the CCF 4,491, and a Labor-Progressive candidate 612.

Prince Philip Honored

Lauds Those Who Followed Orders

LONDON, June 8.—(AP).—Prince Philip, spic and span in a naval uniform that stood out among garbs of medieval splendor, accepted the freedom of the Ancient City of London today as one of "those who follow."

With Princess Elizabeth near him in a long midnight-blue dress, the duke brought cheers from the crowd with a reference to "my wife and I."

Opposition Leader Winston Churchill and his wife, and Prime Minister and Mrs. Attlee were among those attending a lord mayor's luncheon following the ceremony.

It was the young royal couple's first formal public appearance together since a Buckingham Palace announcement last week disclosed they are expecting their first child this autumn.

"In every kind of human activity there are those who lead, and those who follow," Philip told the lord mayor, Sir Frederick Wells.

The handsome blonde prince, who helped fight the Nazis in the Mediterranean and North Seas as a naval lieutenant, said he accepted the freedom of the city "for all those millions who followed during the Second World War."

"Our only distinction is that we did what we were told to do, to the very best of our ability—and kept on doing it," Philip said.

Two Convicts Charged With Murder

KINGSTON, June 8.—(CP).—Two convicts who shot their way out of Kingston penitentiary last April 26 and killed a prison messenger were formally charged today with murder.

They are Howard Urquhart, 21, of Toronto and Austin Craft, 46, of Brantford. The slain messenger was John D. Kennedy, 58.

Urquhart and Craft, long-term prisoners, will be arraigned June 18 for preliminary hearing. Urquhart is serving 20 years for manslaughter in the slaying of Meyer Tobias, a Toronto shopkeeper, Dec. 27, 1945. Craft is serving 10 years for armed robbery of a Hamilton branch of the Bank of Toronto.

Urquhart was reported to have hidden in the rear trunk of an automobile. Kennedy was driving from the prison yard when Craft begged a lift.

Reports at the time of the break were that Craft got out of the car as it approached the inner main gate and then followed it through into the courtyard. As Kennedy left the car to walk toward a storeroom, Craft is alleged to have fired twice at the messenger's back. One bullet pierced Kennedy's heart. He staggered into the storeroom, collapsed and died.

U.S. Export Ban Hits Russia Hard

WASHINGTON, June 8.—(AP).—Some $21,000,000 worth of Russian orders for American goods has been tied up by the virtual ban on industrial shipments to the Soviet Union clamped down March 1.

Officials gave this estimate today as Commerce Secretary Sawyer prepared to lift some of the secrecy over what goods can and what can't be sold to Russia under the new trading policy.

Previously almost the only official guidance American business men had was that no goods could be exported which "might contribute to the war potential" of the Soviet bloc.

Indirectly, through Sawyer's announcement May 26 of an exception in Finland's case, it has been made clear that the ban definitely applies to machine tools, power generator parts, and many steel products.

All Groups Down On Stock Market

TORONTO, June 8.—(CP).—Prices were down in all groups in dull trading here to-day. Golds moved down in narrow margins and industrials and base metals continued easier. Western oils were quiet and showed a weaker tone.

Papers and steels weakened and utilities were firmer in the industrial groupings. Shawinigan was moderately active, advancing 1/4 to a new high at 22 1/2. Bell Telephone also reached a new high at 17 1/2 and Imperial Oil, Consolidated Paper and Brazilian Traction were gainers.

Hollinger and Kerr Addison were down in the senior golds with small losses scattered throughout the juniors. Cochran, Deloitte, Eldons, Negus, P. Mours and Madsen eased 2 to 6 cents. Bordulac, Paymaster and Senator advanced.

Pacific Petroleum was the only gainer in the western oils, rising 5 cents up to $1.40.

Gardiner Denies Socialist Claims

MAPLE CREEK, Sask., June 8.—(CP).—Agriculture Minister Gardiner said Monday night all major attempts to control the operations of "big business" in Western Canada had been made by Liberal and Conservative governments.

He said Liberal and Conservative governments had helped to organize the farm co-operatives, but the "CCF have tried to make us believe that they are the only ones who believe in co-operatives."

Opening a speaking tour in the Saskatchewan election campaign, the Federal Agriculture Minister dealt largely with provincial issues in an address before 250 people in support of Alex Cameron, Liberal candidate for Maple Creek.

He made no reference to the federal embargo on livestock shipments to the United States, fires in Northern Ontario were reported spreading as one of five new blazes spread over eight square miles. More than 30 separate fires are now being fought in the district.

All but essential travel has been stopped in some 30,000 square miles stretching 300 miles along the Ottawa river and 100 miles inland. The embargo now covers 110,000 square miles, including 80,000 in Ontario.

Fires that flared up Saturday in Dog Lake area, 35 miles northwest of Port Arthur had burned through more than 8,000 acres of green timber and were expected to be brought under control.

Lands and forests department officials disclosed there have been 600 fires in Ontario since spring. About 14 attained considerable size.

All fires in Manitoba were reported under control. As in Ontario blame for most of the fires was laid to carelessness and S. W. Shortinghuis of the Manitoba Forestry Service said charges of carelessness would be laid against a landowner in eastern Manitoba within a day or two.

despite rumors that he might choose this town in the middle of the Saskatchewan ranch country to make an announcement on the embargo.

ALFRED H. CHATTERTON

Phone 91 — Lakefield

The Parliament of Canada has just passed "an act respecting The Bell Telephone Company of Canada". Here is what this act means to the telephone-using public:

More and Better Telephone Service

A Period of Unequaled Growth

In the 34 months since V-J Day we have added 350,000 telephones—many more than in the preceding ten years. We now serve 1,360,000 telephones—22 for every 100 persons throughout Ontario and Quebec. We have never before provided so much new service in so short a time.

This unprecedented pace has been maintained with the aid of new capital from Canadian investors. More will be required.

The Continuing Demand for Service

Yet, our customers are coming in every month. Long Distance calls are three times pre-war levels. Many new buildings, switchboards, lines and other equipment must be provided as rapidly as possible. The next decade may well see more telephone construction than during the preceding 68 years of our history.

Rural Telephone Service

Rural telephone service has expanded, and will continue to do so. In the territory we serve, 55 of every 100 rural homes and businesses have telephones. In 1945 only 39% had service.

Vast Construction Program Continues

Parliament has given the Bell Telephone Company permission to increase its authorized capital by $350,000,000.

The Company can now continue to go to invest for the future to further the growth of the program.

Our objective is to extend and improve the service so that ultimately we can give every applicant the kind and quality of service he wants, when and as he wants it.

Our farm program calls for still more telephones, for fewer parties on each line, and for more new switchboards.

Dial Telephones

New dial equipment is being installed in tremendous quantities. Today we have more dial telephones than the total of all our telephones in 1942. Now 70 out of every 100 telephones are dial. More exchanges will be converted to dial operation.

Best Service—Lowest Cost

The skill and enthusiasm of telephone workers will be devoted to turning the materials obtained with the new capital into service of the highest standard. The public can be assured that The Bell Telephone Company of Canada will continue to provide the best telephone service at the lowest possible cost.

PC's Win Northumberland As Goodfellow Returned

COBOURG, June 8.—(ENS).—The Hon. William Goodfellow, minister of welfare, was returned member for Northumberland County by a majority of almost 2,900, with four polls still to report. In No. 7, Haldimand, a traditionally Liberal riding, Goodfellow had a majority of 45 over his Liberal opponent, Leonard Gordon.

Lorneville, Provincial Treasurer, the Hon. Leslie M. Frost captured the Victoria riding in Monday's election for the fourth consecutive time. C.C.F. George Dent, polled a fairly large vote in Haldimand village but was never in contention at other district polls.

Security Council Tackles India-Pakistan

LAKE SUCCESS, June 8.—(CP).—The United Nations Security Council today turned to the India-Pakistan problem once again after tabling further discussion on Palestine until Thursday afternoon.

Adjournment of the Palestine problem followed a request Monday from Count Folke Bernadotte of Sweden, U.N. mediator in the Middle East.

However, before the adjournment Russia raised an issue which has troubled several powers in the United Nations ever since the Palestine question arose. In making a bid to send military observers to the Holy Land, Russia brought into the open interest as to whether the U.N. can stop the fighting in Palestine by force without having to include Russian army troops.

Discussion disclosed that the United States, France and Belgium—the members of the truce commission in Palestine—had been invited to send military observers.

Andrei Gromyko, deputy Soviet Foreign Minister, said he did not interpret the resolution saying there should be a "sufficient number of military observers" as stating clearly how the observers would be chosen. He said Russia was ready to send her observers and that the Soviet would not accede to the theory that the three countries on the truce commission were the only ones allowed to send observers.

But in compliance with Bernadotte's request, the Council delayed further discussion on Palestine until Thursday. The mediator's message said that by Wednesday he should be able to report whether he has succeeded or failed in bringing about an armistice in the Jewish-Arab conflict.

Today's meeting on the Kashmir question is the result of a letter from Prime Minister Nehru of India asking that the U.N. Kashmir Commission, now en route to India, not proceed with its investigation of issues to which India has objected.

Nehru said charges against India of genocide and non-implementation of agreements with Pakistan are baseless. He said further they do not constitute a threat to world peace and that they are "outside the Council's jurisdiction."

More than half the working day at a dairy is spent in the thorough cleaning and sterilizing of equipment. Every pipe and piece of equipment through which milk passes is dismantled and scrubbed inside and out before each batch of milk is processed.

In fact few other businesses have their plant actually working so few hours a day and spend so much time on cleaning. Milk cans are sterilized with superheated steam before they go back to the farmer. Bottles are polished and sterilized before they are filled. So much labour is expensive, but it is an investment in health your dairy is making for the consumer.

The Election

It was no surprise to anyone that the Progressive Conservative party was returned to power in yesterday's election; nor was it surprising that it returned with a marked decrease in its majority. It is not even very surprising that the C.C.F. will be the official Opposition in the new Legislature. The Liberal party is still suffering from the ruin which overtook it during the latter days of Mr. Hepburn's leadership, and although Mr. Oliver made a good attempt to rally his broken forces it will be a decade before he can reconstitute his party completely. But the large body of opposition to Mr. Drew had to find a voice, and it found it in the C.C.F. Many Ontario people of progressive outlook will welcome the opportunity, we believe, to see the Ontario C.C.F. in action in a position of responsibility.

A change in the temper of the Province was shown in Tory Toronto more clearly than anywhere else, for the C.C.F. took eleven seats there, the Communists two, and the Conservatives four. Premier Drew was defeated in his own riding—not an uncommon fate for a leader but one which his proud nature will find galling. In this marked access of power on the part of the C.C.F. we see, among other things, a sharp rebuke to the Communists, who have sought the leadership of the labour movement in Ontario. This is decidedly the Ontario C.C.F.'s hour, and the way in which it meets its new responsibilities will decide its future for a generation.

The real surprise in the riding of Peterborough was not the proportionate showings made by the candidates but the performance of the electorate. Yesterday's polling was exceptionally heavy. Our first congratulations go out to the voters themselves who accepted the duties imposed by the ballot in a free country and went to the polls. The number of ballots cast was well above the average in the Province. This comes as a surprise, for the campaigning locally was considered dull and the electorate publicly apathetic. The reasons for the heavy vote are not merely that the weather was good and that many of the men overseas in 1945 have returned home to increase the electorate; it shows that the people of the riding have turned their attention from war on foreign soil to our domestic concerns of peace. It shows that we are maturing politically and are being driven to the polls not by oratory, tub-thumping or cars supplied by beseeching candidates. The citizens are going to the polls because it is right and necessary so to do.

We offer our congratulations to the Honourable Harold Scott on his re-election. He will be a most worthy representative of his constituents. Mr. Elliott made an excellent showing. Mr. Scott polled proportionately fewer than they received yesterday. If that is the case we think that the rent should be raised. We think also that the electoral authority should either provide adequate tables, at which a ballot can be marked by a voter without bending double, or should inspect the booths to see that adequate tables are provided by the landlords of the polls.

Complaints come to our ears, also, about the conduct of deputy returning officers and poll clerks who did not appear to know their jobs, and who were, in some cases, inefficient either through age or infirmity. It became obvious last night that the scrutineers were, as a group, markedly more efficient than the D.R.O.'s. Inefficient electoral officials give the voter a sense of insecurity about the secrecy and proper treatment of his ballot. We suggest that this situation might be remedied if women who have had experience in organization work and who are interested in politics would offer to discharge these duties. They once did so, but for some reason there is a feeling that women do not now concern themselves in such matters. Nothing could be further from the truth. A staff of competent women who had been given a brief instructive lecture by the chief returning officer on the conduct of a poll, the day before the election, could improve our local election machinery by one hundred per cent.

The Taxi Operators' Problems

Mr. Hugh Davis, the city's leading taxi-cab owner, has written in reference to our editorial of last Tuesday on the taxi-cab problems in Peterborough. His letter is published elsewhere on this page.

We welcome Mr. Davis' letter, for he puts the cab operators' point of view in greater and more authentic detail than we could attempt. We could merely suggest it in such phrases as this from last week's editorial: "Taxis are used most frequently... during the hours when buses do not run—inconvenient hours for tired taxi drivers". His implication that some local firms or taxi drivers do not carry out the 24-hour service to which they are committed is informative. That might be a partial explanation of the lack of cabs and the overcrowding at stations, particularly at late hours.

In our earlier editorial we remarked that Peterborough's basic taxi fare rate seemed high in comparison with New York, Montreal and Toronto. Certainly for short runs it is—cab meters (which we have said are not feasible here) are more equitable to both passengers and owners of the cabs. We must disagree with Mr. Davis' statement that the rate of 20 cents for the first quarter of a mile and ten cents for each quarter of a mile thereafter "applies to Montreal and Toronto, or any other place where they operate meters". It may apply in New York. In Montreal the basic rate is 25 cents which takes the passenger (or four of them) a quarter of a mile. Thereafter, for each quarter of a mile the cost is five cents. In Toronto the tariff rate for one to four passengers is 40 cents for the first mile or part thereof, and ten cents for each additional half mile. Therefore, in Montreal and Toronto one to four passengers can ride up to a mile for 40 cents. In Peterborough the cost is 50 cents, and the passenger often has to share the cab with others from whom the driver collects 50 cents a head.

Peterborough cab users get extra value for their money when they drive two or three miles. A three-mile trip costs 50 cents in Peterborough, 80 cents in Montreal. This system discourages people from using taxis for short runs. We must disagree with Mr. Davis' statement that "50 to 60 per cent. of the calls are 5 miles and over". The fifty cent rate is for drives within the city limits, and with no intermediate stops. The City Engineer's office informs us that by street the

The Examiner's London Letter

By J. D. CAMBRIDGE

AN interesting court decision was handed down this week in a Norfolk case, and all the London papers have been running articles by lawyers on the ramifications of the award. It was a case in which the unusual situation arose of a motorist suing a pedestrian for damages arising from the pedestrian's negligence on the public highway. Of course the reverse situation is often before the courts, and would scarcely be newsworthy as such, but this was a true case of "man bites dog", and the decision will undoubtedly be cited in future cases of similar nature. Briefly, the circumstances were these; a man stepped off the sidewalk without looking, causing a motorcyclist to swerve and crash with fatal results to a pillion-seat passenger. The widow of the passenger sued the driver and pedestrian jointly for the damages, and the judge, while dismissing the action against the motorcyclist, awarded $10,000 damages against the pedestrian, observing that it was clearly his fault alone. A footnote might well be added as to the widow's chances of collecting. The pedestrian, a 60 year old workman, told newspapermen that he was earning $18 a week, and had virtually nothing in the way of assets with which to pay the damages awarded the widow. On this basis, there seems little chance that the widow will get her $10,000, and the chief beneficiaries of the award are the various insurance companies, who report brisk sales of personal liability insurance to an aroused and alarmed public. The authorities in charge of the public safety are probably well content also, since a great deal of interest in the case has been shown, and the need for care on the highways on the part of all is re-emphasized. But what about the widow?

THE major domestic issue in the news here this week is the action of the House of Lords in rejecting that clause of a criminal law reform bill that called for the trial abolition of the death penalty for murder. This was passed by the Commons in a free vote, but only narrowly, and against the wishes of the Labour government. In the Lords it was defeated most decisively, again on a free vote that cut across party lines. This presents a delicate problem to the Labour government. While the abolition of the death penalty was against their wishes, it is not appreciated when the Lords balk the will of the Commons, and at time of writing the Cabinet was still discussing what was to be done about it.

THE whole debate has been conducted in an atmosphere of hysteria on both sides, and some mighty fatuous arguments have appeared in the press. A public opinion poll has indicated that a majority of the British public is against the abolition, and this fact has probably played a big part in the decision of the Lords. Unfortunately for the exponents of the clause, there have been several murders of a most sensational type during the debates. In one case a man as yet unidentified was found in a number of small and gory pieces in a pond, and in the other, an elderly widow living alone was murdered and stuffed into a trunk. On top of this, several policemen have been shot recently, one fatally—a rare sort of crime in Britain. This has been sufficient to convince many waverers that now is not the time to experiment with the death penalty.

MANY strange arguments have been presented, and the curious assumption is made that a person will willingly face life imprisonment but not death. Speaking for myself, I would much prefer the death penalty to the prospect of imprisonment for the rest of my days, but this side of the question has not been presented in Parliament. Since the Commons' action, the Home Secretary has taken it upon himself to compute all death sentences to life imprisonment, and as one member of the Lords has pointed out, there have been 15 murders since his action compared to 16 murders for the same period before. Statistically speaking, on the experience of those countries and territories that have already abolished the death penalty, and there are many of them—there is no significant change in the number of murders in either direction as the result of such abolition. The truth seems to be that few murderers stop to consider the consequences of their action, or perhaps they are merely optimistic on their chances of being caught.

THE debates have had their amusing side. In the Lords, the Bishop of Truro, far from supporting abolition of the death penalty, suggested it be extended to a number of other crimes. On the final vote in the Lords, 19 of the 20 bishops voting were against abolition, which led one horrified the distance travelled by the cab before it picks up the passenger and after it drops him. Meter rates are not calculated that way. How far the cab has to travel empty is the concern of the cab owners, not of the passengers. Some firms (like Mr. Davis' own) are attempting to cut their operating costs in this regard through organization and special equipment.

Mr. Davis' letter serves to emphasize what we stated in our preceding editorial—a taxi-cab problem exists in Peterborough. We still believe that it can be solved or at least diminished. The public will be interested in the report the operators present to the Police Commission and the action the Commission takes.

The Chatham News, after some heavy thinking, announces that "there's a lot of good in everybody". True, friend, but a lot of people look terribly spotty after you have ignored all the bad.

any more was met with. On practical grounds it can well be argued what point is there in confining some poor wretch for life, to his misery and the country's expense, when a simple and painless death could be the solution, but the record suggests that death penalty or no, the murder rate will remain about the same.

JUNE has been a sorry excuse for a month to date. It has rained every day of the month so far in London, and near-record rainfalls are reported from the Midlands. The forecast for the first week-end in June is equally gloomy, and high winds and chill temperatures have combined to present a scene of unbroken melancholy. Sporting fixtures have been washed out, and the opening of the Epsom racing season, a traditionally fashionable event, was quite ruined. The new styles and dresses were carefully hidden under coats and mackintoshes, according to the fashion reporters covering the scene. High winds have caused damage everywhere, and were responsible for a tree being blown down on the route to Epsom a short time before the arrival of the Royal party. Londoners are darkly hinting that the fine spring will now be paid for by a cold and miserable summer similar to that of 1946, when rain

Letter To The Editor

THE TAXI MAN'S PROBLEMS

Sir: I happened to read your editorial re meeting of the Police Commission and Taxi Cab owners, and am very much surprised that you were flummoxed by some of the opinions aired at the meeting. Perhaps I should not be surprised. Not knowing Taxi business, you should hardly be expected to know what a taxi operator has to contend with.

You know, in the taxi business you do not just walk out at 4.30 or 5 o'clock and return the next morning at 9 o'clock, nor do you walk out Wednesday or Saturday afternoon and all day Sunday, and every holiday that comes along, nor do you sit down in comfort and eat a hearty Christmas dinner. Instead, you possibly get sandwiches brought in to the office and eat them from the desk as my wife and I did last Christmas.

No, it is not half as rosy as you may think. You ask if the cabs need be so few as they are at night trains. No, they do not have to be so few if more were to live up to the by-law and give 24 hour service which it calls for. Why don't you stay up some night after 3 a.m. and try to get a cab and see how many are operating. I notice you do not mention the number of cabs that go to the trains time after time and drive away empty. Of course that is our hard luck. No one worries about that.

You say our 5 mile trips are very rare. If you would be so kind as to sit in with me at your convenience I will prove to you, at my dispatch board, that from 50 to 60 per cent of the calls are 5 miles and over. You go on to state that the Peterborough rate of 50 cents would seem quite high compared to New York's 20 cents. Why did you not tell all of the story, and say the fare is 20 cents for the first quarter of a mile, and 10 cents for each quarter of a mile thereafter. This also applies to Montreal and Toronto, or any other place where they operate meters.

Meters might be the solution to the Peterborough problem, but they are costly to own, and I am sure they would be much more costly to the patrons. The letters of complaint to which you refer, do not state how often they use a cab. Why could they not sign their name to the letters.

The public voted a 10 year franchise to the bus company. They are not complaining too much about the crowding on the buses, or how often they have to stand, and I doubt very much if those passengers standing are covered by insurance. We have no franchise. Our license can be cut off at a minute's notice, yet look what is expected of us. Yes, we are in the business and we need the business, but can't we all be fair about it. Yes, sometimes drivers go out and are not at all courteous with the public. We do not tolerate it if we find it out, but a lot of the patrons

THE basic gasoline ration for pleasure driving was restored as of June 1st, but at half that given last fall before the ban. Motoring organizations reported light travel on the first day of the lifting of the ban, which is scarcely surprising, as the size of the ration is such that it will need careful nursing to last out the week-ends alone. Previous to the ban on pleasure driving in October, a great deal of gasoline from commercial users found its way into the hands of pleasure motorists, according to the committee set up by Parliament to consider the problem. Under the new regulations, an attempt is being made to prevent this by using different colour gasolines for commercial and pleasure driving. Unfortunately, as those who served in the army know only too well, such efforts can be easily defeated by a simple filtering process, so it remains to be seen how successful the effort will be. The government have promised drastic treatment to offenders, which should be more effective than coloured gasoline.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Thou, even thou, art Lord alone; thou hast made heaven, the heaven of heavens, with all their host; the earth, and all things that are therein, the seas, and all that is therein, and thou preservest them all; and the host of heaven worshippeth thee. Thou art the Lord the God, who didst choose Abraham, and broughtest him forth out of Ur of the Chaldees, and gavest him the name of Abraham. . . . And thou didst see the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, and heardest their cry by the Red sea. And thou didst divide the sea before them, so that they went through the midst of the sea on the dry land; and their persecutors thou threwest into the deeps, as a stone into the mighty waters.

Moreover thou leddest them in the day by a cloudy pillar; and in the night by a pillar of fire, to give them light in the way wherein they should go. . . .

But they and our fathers dealt proudly, and hardened their necks, and refused to obey, neither were mindful of thy wonders that thou didst among them; but hardened their necks, and in their rebellion appointed a captain to return to their bondage; but thou art a God ready to pardon, gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and forsookest them not. . . .

Thou gavest also thy good spirit to instruct them, and withholdest not thy manna from their mouth, and gavest them water for their thirst. Yes, forty years didst thou sustain them in the wilderness, so that they lacked nothing; their clothes waxed not old, and their feet swelled out. (Neh. 9: 6, 7, 9, 11, 12, 16, 17, 20, 21.)

Instead of calling the owner to report these things just do not bother calling again, and the owner is in the dark as to why his customer has left him to ride with some one else.

How many owners went out of the taxi business during the war years simply because the going was tough, cars were hard to get, parts not possible to get, man-power the same way. Some of us stuck it out and made the best of it, with long hours and many headaches. So, Mr. Editor, if you can come along and improve the operation of taxi cabs I am only too sure that the owners will find a swell bouquet for you, because there are still some owners that have been operating almost 30 years and they have seen a lot come and a lot go in that period of time. Ask Mr. Paddy Allen and Mr. Herb Stinson what they think. They are two of the oldest operators. Harold Dunford could give you a few answers, too.

I would like this letter printed, if you will consider it, so that the public will not get the wrong impression from your 20 cent, 25 cent and 40 cent fares. Those fares are for the first quarter of a mile, plus 10 cents for each quarter of a mile thereafter. I have a copy of every taxi by-law of places the same size as Peterborough, for your convenience.

Trusting I may have the privilege of going into some of these 5 mile rare calls with you, I remain,

Yours very truly,

HUGH J. DAVIS.

A BRITISH OPINION

King May Make Appointments Before Retiring

OTTAWA, June 8 (CP). — In one man's head are the plans for several other men's future political careers.

The man is Prime Minister Mackenzie King and the other gentlemen concerned are various members of his Liberal colleagues in and out of the cabinet. Involved are 13 Senate vacancies and the cabinet lineup to be left to Mr. King's successor when he gives up the Liberal leadership in August and, later on, the office of prime minister.

Just now the odds favor the proposition that Mr. King will distribute the Senate jobs before he departs and, as far as possible, leave cabinet reshuffling to his successor. There are, however, parliament Hill pundits who like long-shots and will bet you that Mr. King will fix up some cabinet changes before he goes.

Best bet appears to be that Fisheries Minister MacKinnon will go to the Senate. Hon. C. G. Power, former air minister, is a sort of second favorite for Senate appointment. You would get longer odds on Labor Minister Mitchell. Some of these would seem to involve appointment of replacements in the cabinet but many M.P.'s think that, as far as possible, the Prime Minister will make the appointments on an acting basis. They point to Mr. MacKinnon's recent tasks which have included looking after two other departments as well as his own on a temporary basis.

Similarly, these members think the vacancy which will arise when Justice Minister Ilsley retires to private law practice at the end of this month may well be filled by appointing solicitor general Jean or another cabinet lawyer.

The argument behind this line of thinking is that Mr. King probably feels his successor should have as free a hand as possible. Permanent appointments, as they figure it, might create an obligation for the next prime minister.

Vatican Masterpieces To Be Photographed

LONDON, June 7 (Reuters). — David Waddington, 40-year-old London photographer, leaves for Rome next week on the world's biggest photographic assignment—to record in direct color the famous frescoes in the Vatican.

His major task on the £40,000 ($160,000) job will be photographing Michael Angelo's work in the Sistine Chapel which will alone take several weeks and most £300 for each exposure.

"My six technicians and nine assistants will require more scaffolding than Michael Angelo himself needed when he was painting the chapel," said Waddington. "He took seven years to do it and it made him a cripple. We foresee only a few headaches."

Waddington, a non-Catholic, says he is a naturalist.

Commons Will Amend Canada's Criminal Code

OTTAWA, June 8 (CP). — Canada's laws on libel, sex crimes and culpable homicide will be tightened under 46 Criminal Code amendments Monday introduced in the Commons.

Justice Minister Ilsley, obtaining first reading for the changes, said the Libel section of the Code will be amended so that charges of conspiracy to publish defamatory libel must be tried only in the province in which the libel is published or where the defendant resides.

It will prevent a recurrence of the recent New Liberty magazine case when two of its editors, resident in Ontario, were required to go to Edmonton to face trial.

Other of the amendments deal with stock market manipulations, trials by jury, powers by magistrates, thefts from the mails and intimidation of persons by threats.

Amendments dealing with changes in powers of magistrates will not become effective until Oct. 1, 1949, but most of the other changes are to become effective Nov. 1, if accepted by parliament. Mr. Ilsley told the Commons that Code sections will be tightened so that courts may add indeterminate sentences to the terms of sex criminals.

He said if the court finds evidence that offenders are criminal sexual psychopaths, they may be sentenced to penitentiary for two years and for "an indeterminate period thereafter."

"Infanticide" will be added to the section dealing with culpable homicide. At present a jury trying a person on a charge of murder may reduce the charge to manslaughter.

Under the change "a woman who by wilful act or omission causes the death of her newly-born child," may face a charge reduced from murder and manslaughter to infanticide. The charge carries with it a liability to three years' imprisonment.

Charges Canada Rejects DP's With Brains

HALIFAX, June 8 (CP). — Young women who want to emigrate to Canada from German displaced persons camps must not appear "too intelligent," newly-arrived Lillian Giga declared here Monday.

The 23-year-old Latvian woman told reporters "I had to lie to get to Canada. If I had told the 'Canadians' in Germany that I had studied commerce for two years in Riga they wouldn't have accepted me."

Miss Giga, who arrived aboard the liner Marine Marlin with some 600 other immigrants Sunday, is slated for work as a domestic here.

"If Canada doesn't want intelligent people, then Australia does," she said. "Every one of the girls turned down by Canadian authorities was accepted by Australia, which seems to prefer some brains and not all brawn."

She went on: "You don't believe me? Well, in the D.P. camps over there, there were several girls with the same education as I had. They had been turned down . . . and told me that if I wanted to come to this country I must appear dumb and stupid and have no education. I did, and here I am."

Claim Landowner Set Seven Bush Fires

WINNIPEG, June 7 (CP). — Charges under the Fire Prevention Act will be laid "within a day or two" against a landowner in the Great Falls area of Eastern Manitoba. The charges arose from a series of bush fires during the latter part of May along the Winnipeg Electric Company's power transmission lines, S. W. Schortinghuis of the Provincial Forestry Service said Sunday.

Schortinghuis said, "he has admitted setting seven — some of them on his own land which have spread to adjoining fields, and some of them on vacant lands."

"This is definitely not an arson charge," he said. "It will come under the civil code, not the criminal code."

Politician Dies

WINDSOR, N.S., June 8 (CP). — Hon. Albert Parsons, a former member of the Nova Scotia Legislature, and prominent business executive, died suddenly at his home here Monday. He was 77. He served as Speaker of the House, and in 1923 was made a cabinet minister without portfolio which he held until his retirement in 1933.

Fiery Latins Want Duel To Settle Spat

OTTAWA, June 8 (CP). — The Argentine Embassy, a persistent hot spot along Ottawa's tranquil diplomatic row, today is back in the news . . . the ambassador, Dr. Juan-Carlos Rodriguez, has been challenged to a duel.

Julio Ricart, consul-general of the Dominican Republic, said he had been publicly insulted by the ambassador and the ambassador's wife at an embassy reception.

He wanted Dr. Rodriguez either to apologize or face a duel on "the field of honor." He later explained it would have to be in the Argentine embassy. "technically outside Canada." The ambassador, he added, could choose the weapons.

To that, a spokesman for Dr. Rodriguez replied Monday night he had no words for Mr. Ricart and reply to Mr. Ricart's challenge would be sent to the Dominican capital, San Domingo. A direct reply was out of the question since Mr. Ricart was of lower diplomatic status.

At first Mr. Ricart declined to discuss details of the "insult" but later he explained that Mrs. Rodriguez had been the cause of some of the trouble.

At a reception, Mr. Ricart made some pleasant about-dogs. (The embassy had been visited by Humane Society officers after it was reported two dogs at the Argentine residence had been beaten to death.)

The issue was raised a few days afterwards when "the Argentine ambassador did not invite me to his party," continued Mr. Ricart. He referred to the annual celebration in honor of the Argentine revolution. "It meant then a double offence, one to me personally and one to my country."

Meanwhile an official of the external affairs department was quoted by Ottawa's French language newspaper, Le Droit, as saying the Canadian government was anxious to have Dr. Rodriguez recalled because of recent incidents.

The embassy had entered the news only a few weeks ago when police arrested an embassy employee, 26-year-old Enrique Ledesma and fined him for possessing an unregistered machine gun and revolver.

For almost three generations...since 1886...Coca-Cola has been a 5¢ product. Today you pay 7¢, the extra 2¢ being due solely to the two special wartime taxes imposed on soft drinks.

Newspaper commentaries, following the recent Federal Budget, outlined two main reasons given for the Government's decision not to remove certain excise taxes. One of these was summed up as follows:

"There is no guarantee that if they (the taxes) were dropped the saving would be passed on to the consumer."

We are pleased to say that this does not apply to the special wartime taxes on Coca-Cola, because we continue to hold our traditional belief in a 5¢ price for our product. We have been and are now prepared to pass on to the consumer the full amount of these taxes, when removed. We will neither want nor seek any profits from the elimination of these taxes when they are removed.

Winning Hand in Card Game -- By Alan Mavor

CGE Colleens Too Much For Lakefield

CGE girl softballers collected a 26-8 win in Lakefield last night to keep around the top in the standing with four wins and a loss, Lakefield having dropped two. The homesters had an off night and were weak at the plate besides kicking eight. CGE clouted the ball hard and fielded well behind good twirling by M. Selkirk and J. Hart (nee J. Withers). The Electric took an early lead and built it up to large proportions with scores in every inning. The losers broke out briefly in two frames to threaten with rallies. G. Atkins and Marg Selkirk starred defensively, the latter having two well catches on first. V. Clemence and V. Dunford went best afield for the losers. E. Boyce led their hitters with three in five tries. M. Batley had six in eight trips for the victors, while M. Selkirk hit a homer and two singles. They were all belting the ball hard for extra bases.

Westclox Girls Down Lindsay

Westclox turned back Lindsay last night at the Bowl with a 20-10 victory to keep tied atop the Girls Softball League with Marines, who also won their tilt. It was the third win in as many starts for the Clockers' and Lindsay's second loss in three games. The winners hammered out 20 safe blows while holding the visitors to five, and played errorless ball afield as the losers kicked in with nine miscues in the one-sided joust. Westclox struck early and scored in every inning.

M. Downer pitched nice ball for Westclox, who are improving every time out, while whiffing half a dozen and getting the best of backing. J. Bryan was hurt in the fourth but stayed in the game, through it affected her hurling. She had seven strikeouts but was hit solidly. D. Hunter, D. James, B. Morrow and M. Downer went well defensively. A. Anderson, B. Morrow, M. Hawthorne all had three hits for the winners, with J. Vass getting a homer.

Has Fine Crop Of Ball Rookies

The International League has come up with one of its best rookie crops this season since the outbreak of the war.

Bob Porterfield, the sensational freshman hurler of Newark Bears has received the most rave notices but every team in the circuit has at least one recruit that seems a cinch to advance to the majors. Porterfield, who hurled for Norfolk in the Piedmont league in 1947, has started and won nine games for the Bears. Four of his victories have been shutouts and he tops the league in strikeouts with 62. At one stage Porterfield pitched 36 consecutive scoreless innings.

The Jersey City Giants have a number of players who are making good in their first season of ball.

Chief interest is centred on first sacker Jack Harshman. The parent New York Giants gave up five players and a considerable amount of cash to pry Harshman away from San Diego of the Pacific Coast League. The young first sacker is holding his own both at bat and in the field.

Buffalo's Johnny Groth, young outfielder on option from Detroit Tigers is one of the best power hitters in the circuit. He is batting over .300 and has slugged seven four-baggers.

Three games were scheduled Monday but all were postponed because of rain.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Portrait of a man talking to himself: Should have shaved this morning but too tired. Talcum doesn't hide a beard. Got to wait till noon now. Meanwhile must comb last night's politics' out of the whiskers. Politics and sports don't mix. Same as liquor and gas don't. How come liquor and gas got into this? Must still have politics on the weary mind. Glad they don't go in for arguments and sometimes mud-slinging before a ball game. They just go out and start play to see which side is better. A neutral umpire to see that rules are observed. Action, not words. Got to have politicians, it seems, but couldn't they cut down on the wordage and come up with more action? Oh, well, we're tired today. And need a shave.

Couple of juvenile lacerose fixtures on tap tonight in Miller Bowl. Legionnaires play Queen's sharp at seven, and this one is followed by Scouts against Comstock's. The intermediate gutted-stick games are getting set, too, if they can line up a district grouping. Fort Hope is agreeable but a couple more are needed to make it worthwhile. The Pates open their OLA senior "B" schedule tonight in Huntsville, it being the longest haul they have this season. Scarborough isn't so bad and Oshawa it but a hop away. Locals' home schedule starts this Friday with the Motor Citizens supplying the opposition.

In The Men's Setup

Male softballers hold sway this p.m. at the Bowl over east, Comstock's against R-E Combines at seven, followed by Knights' against Legion. On Thursday, Combines play Legion while Knights' tackle Comstock's. At the moment, the race is closer than this with Legion and Combines tied atop the pile with four wins and two reverses each, closely followed by Knights and Comstock's who are sewn up with two victories and four losses apiece. A win for either one will put 'em right up there around the top. All this if it doesn't rain.

And the baseball business. Pates have a COBL floodlight fray tonight down Kingston way and are away again Saturday, battling the Bata Shoemen in Bella Villa. This leaves Riverside clear Saturday for a Lakeshore Junior League tilt, Whitby vs. our Bees, followed at 6:30 there by an intermediate game between Port Hope and the Billingsley bunch. Latter drill at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Ex. No junior "A" game in Oshawa this week-end. Jack Turner is calling a workout for the north-east juves and junior Bees at 6:15 Wednesday eve in Riverside. City Loop tussles are: South vs. Hawks bantams tonight in Riverside, east vs. south peewees Wednesday at the Ex; and north vs. west juves Friday, at 6:30 in Riverside.

And It Struck Out

Oshawa Merchants made it pretty close in their week-end COBL contest with Batawa but the Shoemen won 8-6. Muffitt and Peacock split slab duties for the visitors and fanned 11, the former breezing a third strike by half a dozen. The Merchants were somewhat loose defensively but always in the hunt, and they'll be tough enough from here on in. Kennedy, Quino and Muffitt each had two hits for the Bata bunch, while Red Jubenville got three and Cooke two for Oshawa. While the baseball in this revived Central Ontario League isn't the best yet, the fans are seeing some fair scraps as the clubs are shaking down gradually and appearing pretty well matched. The Pates are billed for Kingston today, and Oshawa is slated to go there on Friday.

Three girls' games last night, and the crowds are improving over at the Bowl. Westclox romped through the Lindsay lasses 20-1 with perfect fielding and good hurling and hitting. Barb Rome is back in their lineup again. Marines took a 20-6 triumph over Lock Co. but it was close enough till out in the last of the seventh. The belt came off them. Two twirlers did their stuff for each side. Up in Lakefield last eve, the Electric won their fourth in five starts with a 26-8 swish as the homesters had an off night. CGE-ers got the flinging, fielded okay and murdered the melon. Games here Wednesday: Lakefield vs. Ashby's, and Westclox vs. Woolens.

Something On Soccer

Soccer meeting at 7:30 tonight in the "Y" for the executive, election shoving it back from Monday. A Wednesday game will be decided at this huddle. Lot of local soccer players and fans are figuring on going to Toronto on June 15 to see the Liverpool team on "over home" play the Toronto Uster team. The English outfit is going great guns on tour now and showing huge crowds some perfect football tactics. Their precision plays are reported really something to see for followers of this sport. Those interested in taking a bus up can phone Edgar Woodcock at 4259.

MITHER AND YAWN: Stan McBride will discuss the Civic Arena over CHEX at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. Lot of mat talent on the pro grapple windup card in the Brock Arena tomorrow night. Fraser Dunfield hit a hole-in-one, on the 195-yard ninth at Kawartha over the week-end. East City peewees drill at 6:30 tonight in the Oval. This weather may ball up everything tonight again. Fort Hoppers took Newcastle 13-7 in intermediate play, while Oshawa Hunters won a junior joust from Cobourg 11-6. Now are the school and church loop playoffs shaping up now? Industrial softball tonight, barring rain: Westclox vs. Brintons at Brinton and Marines vs. Nashua at Woolens. On Thursday 11:30: Marines vs. Canoe at Brinton and Drafting vs. Nashua at Woolens. Batawa had quite an argument with Trenton are getting an okay to use Muffitt on the slab. FLASH: Just got word that the Pates' tilt tonight in Kingston is off, owing to wet grounds. And we're off, too.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

Up to date we have not had one postponed game, in either the ladies' section or the men's section.

Just a reminder to those who intend to play in tomorrow's tournament—2:00 o'clock is the hour for the get-away.

We'll have an important announcement to make in a day or two. In the meantime make arrangements for a good holiday on Wednesday (all day) July 14.

If a bowler, when he walks up the green to see the outlay of the end, should carry his bowl with him, is this bowl declared "dead" or may it be played?

Connie Mack A Link With The Past

The following interesting information on big league baseball is contributed by Fred Maybee of Peterborough:

This year's race in the American League has aroused sentiment in the hearts of fans everywhere.

Connie Mack, venerable patriarch of baseball, who serves as a link between a golden era of days gone by, leads his team at a dizzy pace in close conjunction with Cleveland. Mack is 86.

These two are battling for the early lead and hold a comfortable margin over their rivals for the moment.

Although the season is young, the signs are ominous. Barring injuries there is every possibility one of these two may hold the pace and win out. Time will tell.

"Can Mack come through again after 17 years?" Many fans are now asking this question.

He Did It

After 14 lean years, including seven straight in the cellar, Connie did it in 1929 with that great team of Bishop, Boley, Fox, Simmons, Cochran, Dykes, Haas, Miller and pitchers Grove, Earnshaw, Walberg, Ehme and Shores, to name the best.

Can he repeat? Thousands hope he will. And if he should, what a spectacle we would see this October. A man 86 leading a team in a world series—the same club he led in 1905, with new personnel.

Matty blanked his 1905 team three times, for a record never equalled, though Waite Hoyt, tolling for the Yankees in the series of 1921, tied the mark technically against McGraw's Giants. An unearned run spoiled it for Hoyt in one game. Yes, sentiment favors Connie Mack this year.

An old catcher, Mr. Mack has had singular success with pitchers, which is no accident.

Develops 'Em

With average fielding and hitting teams are slightly better, he has developed fair or good twirlers into master performers.

After all, didn't McGraw turn Grove down in 1923 only to see "Lefty" rise to superlative heights under Mack and win over 300 games?

Many temperamental hurlers like "Rube" Waddell, "Chief" Bender, Ed Plank, Grove, Walberg and Marchildon have obeyed his quiet command and achieved greatness. So this year with a well-balanced team Connie Mack may again realize anew hopes long deferred.

Would you like to see Mack win this year? Of course you would.

Then what about Cleveland and Bob Feller? Feller, the Iowa farm boy who has made Frank Merriwell appear more fictitious than ever during the past 12 years, has not yet appeared in a world series.

Will he one day join that vast array of great pitchers who were never fortunate enough to participate in the golden series though they toiled nobly for many a day for losing clubs? Man like Dazzy Vance, Wes Ferrell, Dutch Leonard and many more. Or will he be like still others whose chance came late, as twilight gathered, as was the case with Walter Johnson, Ehme and Earl Whitehill, among others?

Incidentally Whitehill shut out the Giants 4-0 in the first and only appearance he made in 1933.

I recall following that game closely over the air. In fact, I have heard at least one game or more since 1921.

Ehme Won

Ehme, of course, defeated the Cubs in the opener of 1929 for a shutout and set a new mark for strikeouts with 13 which has stood up well since. This was his only appearance. Also odd, isn't it?

Walter Johnson was 36 when he first appeared for Washington and "Big Boy" Harris (now Yank mentor) in the '24 series. But his "smoke" was gone and Walter did not show much as his team went down fighting. However, in 1925 against the Pirates, Johnson did have the satisfaction of winning the final and deciding game, a 12-inning affair, via the relief role to add a final highlight to his career of glory with a losing club for years.

Feller, 30 next birthday, will never be better and if Cleveland wins he might challenge Matty's record even in seven games, though it is doubtful. At any rate many would like to see him get the chance before he passes that points all pitchers reach when their effectiveness is not that of yesterday.

Would you like to see Cleveland win this year? Certainly you would. And why?

Because you and countless others want to see teams like these win for sentimental reasons, born of the admiration for individuals or groups who strive nobly for years in a losing cause, later to emerge triumphant and find the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow's trail.

Men who for years have fought an uphill fight for little gain, even as gallant men of old, for a laurel crown.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Representatives of three professional hockey leagues and the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association met in Montreal over the week-end to redraft and clarify rules acceptable to all the bodies.

One of the most important changes was provision of a penalty for a goalkeeper who leaves his net to protest a decision. Even if he is team captain or alternate captain he will not be allowed to wander about the ice protesting. In the professional ranks an automatic fine of $50 will be imposed while a minor penalty will be given the offending goalie in amateur play. Rule-makers also decided that any goalie dropping a puck on top of the net to stop play will be given a minor penalty.

Provision for an extra player made by the National Hockey League rules committee at the annual meeting last week will not apply to amateur teams.

Beau Jack, who has twice been world's lightweight boxing champion, will meet Champion Ike Williams on July 12 in a 15-round title bout, it was announced on Monday night at Philadelphia.

Managers of the two battlers signed articles for the match of Monday and Promoter Herman Taylor said the site of the fight will either be Shibe Park or Municipal Stadium.

Boston's Ted Williams thumped the ball at a .500 clip last week to bolster his grip on the American League batting leadership with a .391 percentage. Williams collected 11 hits in 22 trips last week. He holds a 29-point margin over runner-up Lou Boudreau of Cleveland, who has .362. Bobby Brown of the New York Yankees is in third spot with .340. Ken Keltner is still the home run leader with 14.

Wrestling's Greatest Team, Moose and Whip Should Unmask Marvel Here Wednesday

Whipper Billy Watson, British Empire champion will team up with powerful Earl McCready against the combination of the Masked Marvel and 270-pound Jim "Goon" Henry in tomorrow's tag team bout. Whip and Earl look to be the right pair to take care of the two rough guys and it looks as if at long last the hooded wrestler is due to be revealed. Regardless of whether Henry or the Mask is finally defeated the mask must come off and that little event will be awaited with intense interest in these parts.

Big Four Feuding Again— Now It's Sunday Games

By DON HUNT
MONTREAL, June 8 (CP).—Canadian football's Big Four are a-feudin' again and this time it's Hamilton Wildcats who have decided to abandon Sunday games, inasmuch as Sunday games are played only in Montreal, Elmer (Montreal Herald) Ferguson feels that the Alouettes will be taking a kick in the pocketbook.

"If Hamilton's pious notion to abandon Sunday football goes through, Alouettes will take something of a box-office beating," Ferguson writes.

The latest Big Four development is only one of a series of battles in that circuit. First there was a report Alouettes would jump to the Ontario Rugby Football Union because of the ban on imports. Alouettes decided to stay when the Big Four united the imports from the United States to six instead of the five permitted by the Canadian Rugby Union.

Then Hamilton Tigers withdrew and were replaced by the "Cats." The Tigers had dropped out when they failed to reach an agreement on a cut of out-of-town gates. They promptly took Wildcats' place in the ORFU.

Ferguson comments on the latest move:

"If Hamilton joins Toronto Argonauts in shunning Sunday football, that will leave only Ottawa to face Alouettes in the Sunday matches." It was Sunday football that enabled the Dandurand-Hayman combine to lift Big Four football out of the rut here and place it on a financial basis where it could compete on even terms with other clubs in the circuit.

Teing Along.

Now that the Quebec Senior Hockey League has expanded to an eight-team loop, Baz (Montreal Star) O'Meara asked "Where are sufficiently good players coming from?"

"The league," said Baz, "may see a decline in quality with Sherbrooke included in the loop because such well-endowed teams as Montreal Royals, Quebec Aces, Ottawa Senators, Shawinigan Falls, and Boston Olympics, Valleyfield Braves and New York Rovers will have an edge in the bargaining."

Grey Hair Now the Style For Male Movie Maulers

By BOB THOMAS.
HOLLYWOOD, June 8 (AP).—The latest fashion among Hollywood male stars is grey hair.

In the old days, the best friend of an actor advancing through his 30s and 40s was his dye pot. Times have changed. Jimmy Stewart is the latest to sport the distinguished strands of silver in his hair. He joins Clark Gable, Ray Milland, Spencer Tracy, Humphrey Bogart, Ronald Coleman, and other members of the "Frankly Grey Club."

I have even heard of one star who has ordered a grey-streaked toupee.

Jaunt Postponed

Sonia Henie's European jaunt has been postponed because most of "Countess of Monte Cristo" will have to be shot again. The first version lacked oomph, and a fast rewrite was ordered. Sonia still expects to spend three weeks in Paris and Southern France, after which she will return to start rehearsals for her ice show.

Betsy Drake, Cary Grant's new find and co-star in "Every Girl Should Be Married," is due for a double-barreled build-up by R. KO and Seiznick. Both Studios own her contract. I might add that Grant himself is her best press agent. He discovered her first in the London company of "Deep Are the Roots."

Betsy seems unaffected by all the hubbub over her.

"I'm just sitting back and letting my bosses handle everything for me," she says. Her only nervous moments have been during the close-ups.

"It terrifies me to think that my face will take up all that space on the screen," she remarks.

Capsule Review

"So Evil My Love" (Par.) is an arresting study of a missionary's widow who becomes a thief and murderer through the influence of her lover. Naturally, it's a fantastic tale, but it is made credible by (1) the polished acting of Ann Todd, Ray Milland, and an English cast; (2) being filmed in England with an authentic flavor.

Former Cardinal Haunts St. Louis

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

It never fails—trade away a guy and he comes back to make you rue the day.

Eddie Dyer, manager of St. Louis Cardinals, is the latest to feel the wrath of a discarded player. Dyer must have had moments of regret Monday night when Dick Sisler, former Redbird first baseman, cracked two home runs to lead Philadelphia Phillies to a 5-1 victory over the Cardinals.

St. Louis' loss together with New York Giants' 9-5 victory over the Pirates in Pittsburgh, dropped the Cards into second place, half a game behind the Giants.

The Giants climbed back into the lead by clubbing Kirby Higbe and Elmer Singleton for 13 hits. After the Pirates had overcome deficits three times to pull even 5-4 at the end of seven innings, the Giants finally moved ahead to stay when Bobby Thomson whacked a two-run homer in the eighth.

Jim Russell blasted two home runs and two doubles to lead Boston Braves to a 9-5 victory over the Cubs in Chicago.

Tommy Holmes' batting streak for the Braves was stopped at 17 straight games.

In the American league, St. Louis Browns upset New York Yankees at Yankee Stadium 5-3, to snap their six-game losing streak. Rookie right-hander Ned Garver went the route for the first time this season, scattering 11 hits, Johnny Lindell and Phil Rizzuto hit homers for the Yankees and Paul Lehner slammed one for the Browns.

The Senators rolled to a 7-1 victory over the last-place Chicago White Sox in a night game at Washington. The game was halted by rain with the Senators at bat in the last half of the seventh. Rae Scarborough checked the Sox with five hits to post his fifth victory of the season.

Zale, Graziano Money Wise

NEWARK, N.J., June 8 (AP).—The "seven millionaires" promoting the third Rocky Graziano-Tony Zale fight here tomorrow night won't get rich but Rocky and Tony will do all right.

A little matter of a guarantee posted in New Jersey assures Graziano, middleweight boxing champ, of at least $120,000. The ex-champ from Gary, Ind., will get $60,000 or more.

Neither Graziano nor Zale are close to the Dempsey-Tunney payoffs but they should have a little stacked away for their old age. In the first fight they each took down $78,892. As defending champ in Chicago last July, Zale was paid $152,968 and the Rock $76,484.

These figures add up in a nice neighborhood. For Zale it's $231,800 for two starts and $155,376 for Graziano.

Despite early optimistic estimates of a Ruppert-Stadium gate of $450,000 it looks now as though they'll settle for $350,000. At $30 tops the house is scaled for a $450,000 sellout.

This probably is the last big payoff for Zale, even if he wins the crown. The only other opponent for a big-money fight is France's Marcel Cerdan, whose prestige was damaged by his recent loss at Brussels to Cyille Delannoy.

Apparently the eight-year youth advantage of Graziano, who is 26 to Zale's 34, is the most important factor with those who bet on fights. Rocky was established as an early favorite and remains 5 to 12 despite the late hour.

Tide Menaces Flooded Areas

VANCOUVER, June 8.—(CP).—The tidal power of the Pacific ocean surged up the channel of the Fraser early today to a 13.9-foot swell but sagging Lulu Island dykes held—and so did 5,000 Queensborough district residents.

The prospective evacuees turned their backs on waiting evacuation buses and stayed the night in their homes despite a plea from flood control officers to sleep in Red Cross hostels in New Westminster until the high tide was over.

Queensborough is a suburb of New Westminster at the east end of Lulu Island, 12 miles south of Vancouver. But while Lulu Island dykes held, first notice was given late Monday from Creston 350 miles east, that a dangerous new flood threat is being spawned by the province-wide heat wave.

Days and nights of back-breaking toil ended suddenly when a second dyke gave way to the gnawing Kootenay south of Creston. The rampaging river poured over another 7,700 acres of the rich fruit farming area.

Jolliffe, Oliver

Two of his cabinet ministers were defeated—Provincial Secretary Michener lost to William Dennison, CCF, in Toronto St. David, and W. G. Webster, minister without portfolio, was downed in London by Campbell Calder, Liberal.

Mr. Jolliffe, who did not have a seat in the last legislature, was elected in York South, defeating W. S. Gibson, Progressive Conservative, and Ragnar Johnson, Liberal.

The Liberal leader, Parquhar Oliver, 44, was re-elected in Grey South—a seat he has held since 1926. He defeated three opponents—H. A. McCauley, Progressive Conservative; Alice Katon, C.C.F.; and Arnold Russell, Union of Electors.

One Woman Elected
Agnes Macphail was the only successful woman candidate, winning York East for the C.C.F. Six other women were defeated. Miss Macphail, who in 1921 became the first woman ever elected to the federal parliament, was elected as a C.C.F. candidate in the 1945 provincial election and was defeated in 1945.

Despite cold, wet weather in most parts of the province yesterday, the vote was heavy. It was expected to exceed the 1945 record of 1,765,793.

Issues of the election, called by the premier last April 16 shortly before the legislature prorogued, were the $800,000,000 program for development of Ontario's hydro resources and the general administrative record of the Drew government.

Premier Drew, who conceded Mr. Temple's victory at 9:38 p.m. E.D.T., a little more than 2½ hours after the 7 p.m. closing of polls, said his personal defeat was "very disappointing."

But he called other results "more satisfactory" and said in a radio address a few hours later that he believes his party won "wider representation." That was an apparent reference to Pro-

OLD-TIME WHEEL — In 1829 Casper Shirk, Pennsylvania Dutchman, established a mill on a little tributary of the Rouge river, north of Unionville. It had an overshot wheel made of wood. Today the mill, now owned by Bruce Bros., still has an overshot wheel, probably the only one in Central Ontario. It's not the same wheel, of course.

gressive Conservative gains in northern Ontario. They increased their standing there from one to six of the north's 12 seats.

The Premier reiterated in the radio speech his oft-sounded warning against Communism, which succeeded "only through socialism."

"I hope people who stayed away from the polls today and felt it unimportant have this warning. Socialism was the Trojan Horse in Europe. It is Marxism without Moscow."

Mr. Jolliffe described the reduction of the Progressive Conservative majority as a "clear indication of growing dissatisfaction" among the electors.

The Toronto lawyer has not held a legislative seat since 1945, when a Progressive Conservative landslide tumbled down on the C.C.F. in the wake of his charges that Premier Drew maintained a political "gastrop" at Queen's Park.

The Premier subsequently was absolved of the charges. W. J. Grummett, member for Cochrane South, who became C.C.F. house leader when Mr. Jolliffe was defeated, was re-elected Monday.

Mr. Oliver's post-election statement urged the people of Ontario to support the "democratically-elected" government.

One of the Liberals elected is H. C. Nixon, former Liberal premier and dean of the legislature. He has served in eight previous legislatures, representing Brant continuously since 1913.

Rev. John Foote, Presbyterian clergyman who won the Victoria Cross at Dieppe as an army chaplain, was elected Progressive Conservative member for Durham in his first bid for public office.

Return Scott

The unrevised figures for the city were Scott 6,126, Elliott 4,562, Morton 4,373. That leaves the vote from the townships and villages. Scott 4,050, Elliott 3,112, and Morton 1,491.

Morton took two of the four polls in Monaghan, the two others going to Scott. Scott carried five of Smith's eight polls, Elliott two and Morton one.

Ennismore threw its weight to Scott. The six Dummer polls were in the Scott column. Six of nine Otonabee polls rallied to Elliott and Scott got three. Scott was ahead at two Dour polls and Elliott at the other two.

Township Picture
Totals from the townships and villages were:
North Monaghan: Scott 261, Morton 172, Elliott 129.
Smith: Scott 598, Elliott 431, Morton 258.

Ennismore: Scott 202, Elliott 35, Morton 5.
Havelock: Scott 236, Elliott 167, Morton 83.
Lakeland: Scott 337, Elliott 274, Morton 183.

Norwood: Scott 271, Elliott 146, Morton 29.
Dummer: Scott 300, Elliott 193, Morton 96.
Harvey: Scott 243, Elliott 148, Morton 39.

Chandos: Scott 176, Elliott 94, Morton 33.
Dour: Elliott 282, Scott 223, Morton 160.
Asphodel: Elliott 292, Scott 259, Morton 9.

Burleigh-Anstruther: Scott 141, Elliott 129, Morton 54.
Galway-Cavendish: Elliott 69, Scott 56, Morton 28.
Belmont-Methuen (incomplete): Scott 282, Elliott 176, Morton 83.

Otonabee: Elliott 537, Scott 490, Morton 208.
The first telephone return at the Liberal headquarters gave Elliott a plurality, but at the Examiner Morton was the first to break in front at Wm. Park's house, King George St. where the C.C.F. candidate counted 40 to 38 for Scotland and 10 for Elliott.

Scott went out in front on the second poll reporting, and gradually increased his margin over the two others down the tabulating columns. Morton and Elliott were tied with 294 at 7:20 and Scott was leading with 389. At 7:30 Scott had 430, Morton 956 and Elliott 827.

Forty-five polls at 7:45 gave Scott 3075, Morton 2350 and Elliott 2243.
Morton dropped back to third place in the next 15 minutes and remained there as Elliott moved into second. At 8 o'clock, the totals from 67 polls were Scott 4941, Elliott 3809, Morton 3428.

Victory Conceded
Scott continued to build up strength, and with 125 polls accounted for, half the total Mr. Elliott tossed in the sponge, deciding to concede the victory to Scott who then had 9027, Elliott 7026 and Morton 5378.

By 7 p.m. about 200 people had gathered at the Progressive Conservative headquarters to lend their moral support to their candidate Harold Scott, M.P., Minister of Lands and Forests. The excited chatter suddenly fell to a tense silence as at 7:10 the marker approached the election board chalk in hand. As the figures were chalked in the Tories broke into a roar of applause. The first poll was the advance poll taken on Friday and Saturday—Scott 15, Elliott 8, Morton 2.

The result was symbolic. From that first poll Mr. Scott was never headed and his lead steadily increased as further returns came in.

Slight consternation was apparent at first when the CCF candidate John G. Morton received an unexpectedly high balloting in several city ridings. And by the cheers which resounded through the long committee room when Mr. Morton received a particularly low vote it was also apparent that they regarded him as their main opponent.

When the first 1000 votes had come in Mr. Morton was in second place with a 400 lead over Mr. Elliott. Neither of them were seriously threatening Mr. Scott, however, who by this time had passed the 4000-mark. From then on it was little more than a matter of how much.

(With three polling subdivisions still to be heard from Mr. Scott's total stands at 10,155, slightly down from his 1945 figure when he received 12,358 votes out of a possible 24,337.)

A Tough Fight
It was when the rural and village returns began to come in that Conservatives noticed they would have a tough fight on their hands in those districts. And it was this vote that ended the nip-and-tuck battle between the Liberal and CCF candidates.

At 8:45 p.m. Gordon K. Fraser, M.P., mounted the flag-draped platform gaily waving a piece of paper. He announced that the Liberal leader, Charles H. Elliott, had conceded the election and had congratulated Mr. Scott on his victory. Just previous to this the count was Scott 9027, Elliott 7026 and Morton 5378, with a majority of the polls tabulated.

Whooped It Up
When his supporters heard this news they threw their hats in the air, stood on chairs and whooped and shouted like holiday-making schoolboys. Several clerical Tories hopped from one foot to another with plenty of enthusiasm if less agility and brandished sticks about their heads (apparently a sign of delight).

One lady, who must have been at least a grandmother, not to be outdone, twirled her furled umbrella in the air with a deft hand. From the back of the hall someone started a chorus of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Smiling with delight and with his arm around his wife, the Minister stood on the platform while the throng, which by this time packed the committee room, gave him a thunderous ovation.

"Kiss her," shouted a voice from the crowd. But Mr. Scott just kept on smiling.

Mr. Fraser, however, apparently felt this was less than gallant and dashed over to kiss Mrs. Scott squarely. The crowd loved it. Then chairman James Jube kissed Mrs. Fraser, and once again a throaty roar rose from the ranks of the merry makers.

By this time the kissing was over and Mr. Scott spoke to his supporters. He thanked them for the wonderful support I've received," and said he "will carry on the trust given me by the Prime Minister. He said he hoped to continue his present work of "conservation of our forests, fish and wild."

Mrs. Scott said simply, "From the bottom of my heart I thank you."

Among those who crowded to shake the hand of the three-elected member for Peterborough were James Gifford, Ennismore, Melville Johnston, North Monaghan (both townships went Conservative), Alderman R. Raine and Mayor William Owens.

Has Celebration
Mr. Scott then invited his supporters to attend a victory celebration at the Ball Room of the Empress Hotel, at the conclusion of the evening.

Mr. Morton conceded defeat a short time later and after that it was almost anti-climatic as the results rolled in. Occasionally loud clapping and cheering broke out when a particularly favorable poll was brought in.

By 9:30 it was all over but the celebrating and the crowd began to disperse as Mr. Scott left the committee for a brief radio address to the people of Peterborough County whom he will represent for the next five years.

Talked On Radio
In his radio address Mr. Scott once again thanked the Peterborough electorate for supporting him and testified to the fair treatment he had received in the news columns of the Examiner.

The Ontario Minister of Lands and Forests then paid tribute to his two opponents, Charles Elliott, Liberal, and John G. Morton, CCF. It was the cleanest campaign in which he had yet campaigned, he said.

He described the large majority chalked up by the Drew government as a justification of the policies of the Conservative administration in the eyes of the people of Ontario.

With the Liberals
When Scott had a plurality of 2,090 with 125 polls giving him 9,027 to 7,026 for Elliott and 5,378 for Morton, Mr. Elliott announced to the crowd of a hundred or more in the Liberal committee rooms: "I guess we might as well concede it." He telephoned his congratulations to the developing success of the Minister of Lands and Forests.

Returning to the committee room, Mr. Elliott: "I don't see any chance of making up 2,000. I wish to thank everybody for the way they pitched in and worked. It was one of the heartening things of our campaign. I don't feel ashamed the results in view of the apparent trend throughout the province. I think the totals will show that we have made a gain over the last time. I wish to thank you all from the bottom of my heart, and I would like to mention the fine work done by our women's organization and by Mr. Arthur Lewis and our riding association of which he is president."

Mrs. C. M. Scott, chairman of the Liberal women's organization, said she wished on behalf of its members to congratulate Mr. Elliott on the fine run he made. "He has nothing to be ashamed of. He conducted this campaign in fair and square manner."

Mrs. Scott expressed regret that many names were left off the voters' list. "I wish to thank the women for the willing and happy way in which they helped in the short opportunity of only three weeks."

Mr. Lewis added his appreciation of all the assistance that was forthcoming in such a short time. "We didn't have sufficient time for our organization to get functioning, but I think we did a fair job. We had a splendid candidate, and of course we hoped to win. I am hoping that Liberals of this riding will join in keeping alive our organization."

Senator J. J. Duffus congratulated Mr. Elliott on the fine show he had made, and also for the leadership he had given in this election. "Our women's organization did marvellously well for the short time they had. We also have a young president and executive, and they deserve our congratulations. I noticed many young people taking an active part in the campaign, and I think that it is to our young people whom we have to look for the future of Liberalism."

LEARNING AERO ENGINE AND AIRFRAME MECHANICS

ONTARIO'S products are desired and purchased by people all over the world and the capacity to produce such goods largely determines the economic welfare of every man, woman and child within her borders. Because the sale of every article produced in Ontario brings valuable dollars into this Province, we all are more assured of job security... and we and our children can have more of the better things in life. To produce such goods in sufficient quantities, skilled labour is vital. That is why every single one of us should be glad that war veterans are constantly being trained to provide the skilled hands so needed by industry. Veterans receive ON THE JOB training under expert instructors in our Ontario factories.

This training, provided through the co-operation of the Department of Veterans' Affairs, the Federal Department of Labour and the Ontario Department of Education, starts veterans off on the road to skilled craftsmanship. Taught to use their hands in general zero engine and airframe work, both on military and civilian aircraft, these veterans may qualify for a Department of Transport license, authorizing them to declare aircraft airworthy. In aircraft manufacturing plants and on flying fields throughout Ontario, these newly-skilled veterans will have the opportunity to apply their talents and training. Their efforts will help to make Ontario a finer place in which to live and will contribute to the welfare and happiness of all her citizens.

AERO ENGINE MECHANICS
H. Parry, 35, of Oshawa, Ontario, a Canadian Army veteran, is shown making an adjustment to the engine of a Cub Trainer. Students work on various types of aircraft ranging from the Cub Trainer to multiple engine military aircraft. Many veterans, trained as ground crew specialists during the war, have chosen to take post-war training in this occupation for which they are particularly suited. For them the transition to peace-time employment has been easier.

Kin Horse Show To Attract Record Crowd

The horse will be monarch for Friday and Saturday of this week, as the second annual horse show of the Peterborough Kinsmen Club is held. Thousands of people, from the district and many provincial points, are expected to attend this presentation of beautiful specimens of horse-flesh.

Besides the standard competitions of saddle horses, jumping horses, Percherons, Clydesdales, carriage horses, ponies, road horses, heavy and light draft singles and teams, there will be several outstanding displays by leaders in the horse field.

The Canadian Army jumping team, one of the finest in the world, will be on hand to show the crowd the form which has won it fame at the Royal Winter Fair, Chicago Fair and other international competitions. A famous stable of show-ring Percherons will be shown.

Prize-winning horses from the Royal Winter Fair and the New York horse show will be there.

A feature attraction will be "Baldy," trick horse, trained by Murray Gould, trainer of "Golden Flame," the horse which starred in last year's horse show.

In the show, beside the horse displays, there will also be a dog show by the Kewartha Kennel Club, a bench show, demonstrations of dog training, field trials and obedience. The Department of Lands and Forests will have a booth showing preserving nature.

Five More Yugoslav DP's Arrive In District To Start Anew On Farms

Not all civil servants had a holiday Monday, as in the cases of W. Mellis, head of the National Employment Service Bureau here, and his assistant, J. Sharpe. They received word on Saturday of the arrival of a ship in Halifax from Genoa, Italy, on which were five farm laborers for Peterborough district. They arrived in the city on the Monday noon train.

These new citizens, all Yugoslavs, had sailed on the SS Solistiki from Genoa 16 days before, and, from what they were trying to tell, they had a very rough voyage of it. Five farmers were waiting at the Employment Office to take them to Canadian farms for a new start. Their employers are: Reginald Seymour, RR 4, Campbellford; Allen and Herbert Thompson, Keene; Harold Weir, RR 1, Indian River, and Donald Lowes, RR 1, Cavan.

Two of the DP's were brothers and naturally wanted to work together on the same farm, but as this was possible, the best thing was done by placing them on neighboring farms owned by the two Thompson brothers in the Keene area. In less than half an hour, selections and arrangements were made between employees and employers and the journey back to the new farms—and the new Canadian life—had started.

Duty Above All

SARNIA, June 8 (CP).—Nothing seems to be beyond the call of duty for Constable Ernest Dunfield. He set out to serve a summons and found the man he was looking for was working on a water tank, 140 feet above the ground. He called to the man to come down. The man replied, "Oh no, you come up." The constable climbed to the top and handed the summons to the amazed workman.

GUARDS CROWN JEWELS—Field Marshal Lord Wavell, one of England's great soldiers, became constable of the Tower of London, in a colorful ceremony held in London. An office created by William the Conqueror, the constable of the Tower, is responsible for the safe custody of the crown jewels, but doesn't get paid for the job. In the picture, Lord Wavell is holding the cushion bearing the gold key, after receiving it from the Earl of Clarendon, the King's representative as lord chamberlain.

Deputy Returning Officer Deliver Ballots Cast For Each Candidate To Candidate

Art Lewis, president of the Peterborough Liberal Association, retains a souvenir of Monday's election which few men have ever received. It is a receipt from a deputy returning officer for a return of the ballots marked for the liberal candidate which had been given him by mistake.

It seems that one deputy returning officer thought that the ballots marked for Scott should go to the Hon. Harold Scott, the one marked for Elliott to the Liberal candidate and the one marked for Morton to the CCF

City To Make Road Slash Through Morrow Park To Extend George Street

Following the preliminaries of approach and negotiation, City Council last night directed City Solicitor Huycke to prepare a by-law for the expropriation of a street slash through Morrow Park. Council has spent months in discussing this question with the members of the Morrow Trust and Exhibition Board, and is now proceeding to act upon the petition of the ratepayers who asked for the extension of George St. through the park. The motion by Ald. Raine was seconded by Ald. Sands.

Races, Judging Competitions Feature Picnic

The competition in judging of horses and cattle at the Federation of Agriculture picnic Saturday brought out nearly 25 contestants, but at that the number was less than the hopes of the executive.

Senior winners, in order were: Burritt Mann, Allan Drummond, Don Milburn and Keith McIntyre. First six in the juniors were: Francis Walsh, Murray Pimmett, Marie Kelly, Alan Stewart, Gerald Bolton and Kelly Wilson.

The horses were obtained from Hugh Stewart, Jerseys from Roger Hanbridge, Shorthorns from the Pimmett and Lowes herds, Holsteins were owned by David McIntyre.

Also demonstrated were four of John Stuart's Herefords and five Ayrshire calves from Glynwood Farm, shown by Clarence Coon.

The results of the field events directed by Jack Dane, supervisor of recreation in Peterborough, were:

Third reading of a bylaw authorizing the laying of sewers in the Cherney subdivision, Weller St. west, concluded the preliminaries of that reality improvement.

A bylaw is to be prepared providing for sidewalks in the Dutton subdivision, south of Lansdowne St. The planning of Housing Enterprises called for a paved road to serve through the community without sidewalks. Experience picked out a weakness in that economy. The roads were plowed for snow removal. Then toward spring, with rain and thaw, there was only one channel for the surface water—down the road. Apparently there are no surface drains.

The incident occurred at Camp Ingelstane on Eaglemount Island, on August 11, 1946, when a 12-year-old Toronto boy, Donald Harris, fell from the prow of a motor boat speeding through the narrows in front of the YWCA Camp. He struck and cut his leg on the propeller of the boat.

Miss Pitchford, who was standing on the camp pier with several other girls, at first thought he was fooling, but when she heard him cry out and sink from view she knew that something was wrong.

Young Harris was so dazed that he was unable to struggle and she was able to pull him to shore some 40 feet away, without any struggle on his part. He was given first aid by Miss J. Yarn, the camp nurse, and was then taken to Dr. E. H. Castle, Lakefield.

In view of the boy's dazed condition it is believed he would have drowned in the deep channel water if the Peterborough girl had not dived in when she did. Miss Pitchford had never taken lifesaving lessons but did not hesitate to undertake the rescue.

Brave Rescue By City Girl Wins Award

City Council gladly set aside a few minutes on Monday night to honor a Peterborough girl, Joyce Pitchford, 17, of Morrow St., who has received a Royal Canadian Humane Association award for rescuing a boy from drowning in August, 1946.

Mayor William Owens presented the parchment certificate and congratulated Miss Pitchford on her heroic action.

The incident occurred at Camp Ingelstane on Eaglemount Island, on August 11, 1946, when a 12-year-old Toronto boy, Donald Harris, fell from the prow of a motor boat speeding through the narrows in front of the YWCA Camp. He struck and cut his leg on the propeller of the boat.

In a letter to Mayor Owens, Miss Foote expressed her regret that she could not come to Peterborough to witness the presentation ceremony, but she sent her congratulations to Miss Pitchford and added, "I'm sure Peterborough is as proud and pleased with Joyce as I am."

58 Years Wed

PRESTON, June 8.—(CP).—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Halberstadt celebrated their 58th wedding anniversary Saturday. Mr. Halberstadt was also 84 that day. Coincidence in the anniversary dates is supplemented by the fact his wife's maiden name was Halberstadt, also that they were married in St. Peter's Lutheran Parsonage, Buffalo, and are members of St. Peter's Lutheran Church in Preston.

Lands 14-Lb. Trout

BAY lake, two miles from Bancroft, yielded a whopper of a lake trout Monday night. Pete Kellar, Jr., of Bancroft, landed the big grey as a member of a fishing party which ignored the hurly-burly of the election night reports, counter-reporting alternate gloom and glee as the returns came in. They went fishing. The catch was one for the books.

Fourteen pounds was the weight the fish tipped at the station scales at Bancroft. It measured 36 inches long and had a girth of 18 inches.

To land the fish, Kellar had to beach his boat and then play the fish out until he could beach it. The trout put up a tremendous fight, the party reported, and it was impossible to land it in the boat while it fought savagely in the water.

The bride chose blue corded silk for her ballerina-length wedding gown. It was styled with cap sleeves on the fitted bodice and a draped peplum over the full skirt that was gathered in bustle effect at the back. She wore a white straw hat with blue and white flowers and white veiling and white lace gloves, and carried a Colonial bouquet of red roses and white carnations.

Miss Helen Dummitt was her sister's bridesmaid and was gowned similarly in pink moire taffeta with matching straw hat and carried white carnations with pink and mauve sweet peas.

The groom was attended by his cousin, Bob Everson of Lindsay. Ushers were Laurie Nicholls and Walter Dummitt, cousin of the bride.

For the reception held in the church parlours, the bride's mother chose a gown of black crepe with pink accessories and wore a corsage of roses and carnations. The groom's mother wore a dress of blue printed silk jersey, white accessories and a corsage of pink sweet peas. Afterward the bride and groom left on a wedding trip to Ottawa and Kingston, including the Thousand Islands. For travelling the bride wore a blue wool crepe suit and black accessories and

Brides Advised to Avert Trouble by Quoting Mother

If you could give one piece of advice to a bride more earnest than any other, it would be: Never quote your Mother's opinion to your husband. Listen to it if you must. Act upon it if you will. But don't ever be dumb enough to throw what "Mother says" in your husband's teeth, unless you are marrying with one eye on the divorce court.

Mother may be a female Solomon. She may be a wizard who can spread a dollar bill over ten dollars' worth of merchandise. She may be a born executive. She may know all the answers and be a hundred times more competent to manage a bridal couple's affairs than they are.

It doesn't matter whether Mother is right or wrong, silly or wise, the one thing that no young husband can take lying down is for his wife to set Mother up as the family oracle, and the minute the starry-eyed bride begins telling Friend Husband that Mother says we should do this, or we shouldn't do that, that instant another marriage is headed for the rocks.

Probably no other domestic situation is fraught with such danger as that in which Mother binges dishing out advice to the newlyweds. For she is rushing in where angels fear to tread, and if she doesn't succeed in messing up her children's marriages, it is a miracle.

Unintentionals
Not that Mother is deliberately a home-wrecker. Not at all. She is horrified when Sally or Susie quarrels with her husband and come back home with the baby, and she would deny it bitterly if accused of having been first aid to her daughter's divorce.

But it is true, nevertheless, that mothers are the one who chiefly disillusion their daughters about their husbands. When Sally gets married, she sees her husband as the hero of her girlish dreams until Mama comes along and begins stripping his halo from him until she doesn't leave him with a single attraction that a wife can hang her love on.

Many and many a woman would never find out that her husband is just a plain business man, instead of a romantic Fairy Prince, if her mother didn't point out his defects to her. Many a wife loses her taste for her husband just because Mother is always making fun of his grammar and the way he eats and his taste in neckties. And the queer part about this is that Mother doesn't intend to wreck her daughter's marriage. She just can't bear not to be first with her children.

The worst feature, however, about the dominant mother is that she impresses upon her children that she is incarnate wisdom and she-who-must-be-obeyed; so they have no initiative whatever themselves. They begin every sentence with "Mother says" and that has set more husbands to roaming and made more peevish wives than almost any other crime.

Especially do men resent being manager by the remote control of a mother-in-law. For what practically every man marries for is because he thinks he has found a girl who believes he hung the moon and that he is an infallible oracle. There is never a divorce in a family where the wife settles every question with "John says". So take the tip, you young brides. Never quote Mama to your husbands.

THE STARS SAY

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Wednesday, June 9

The auguries for this day emphasize concentrated, well-organized and executed plans and projects, based on a foundation of lasting and far-reaching results. This should be instrumental in establishing basic security and concrete objectives for the future as well as the present. Diligence, patience, astute and studied action should win support from those in high places who are ready to recognize merit and reward it. Personality likewise counts for much in this, although an undercurrent of duplicity or subtlety could create complications. Beware misplaced confidence.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are assured of sound openings for working, by concentrated efforts, industry and shrewd tactics, for future basic security. Far-seeing and adroit plans, with studied goals and objectives, could attract substantial encouragement from those in influential positions, ready to give opportunity and reward for merit and sterling efforts. While the use of personality, charm, cultural or social graces might have weight in such conclusions as well, there is a hazard of subtle or sinister complications, calling for upright and open dealings to gain any sort of lasting returns. Crafty, scheming or intriguing plots or lures, even innocent misplaced confidence, could prove regrettable and detrimental to all sound efforts.

A child born on this day, while having sound qualities for success, could be easily lured by flattery, intrigues or over-confidence in questionable quarters.

2 Church Groups Hold Meetings

CENTREVILLE, June 8 — (ENS). — W.M.S. of Centreville Presbyterian Church met at the home of Mrs. Roy Greer with Mrs. R. Brackenridge presiding. Mrs. Martin and Mrs. William gave papers on "Our Commission in British Guiana and India". Miss Carol Martin sang a hymn.

During the business session, it was announced that the semi-annual presbytery meeting will be on June 9 in Cobourg.

The Ladies' Aid also met with Mrs. Wm. Morrison presiding. Plans were discussed concerning a cold meat supper at Centreville Church on June 22, with plans for a play as entertainment in the evening.

The ladies presented Mrs. Houghton (nee Bernice Falls) with a combination magazine rack and table lamp. Mrs. Tate gave a brief address. Miss Allie Berry read a short address and Mrs. Rutherford and Miss E. Donaldson made the presentation.

Lunch was served by the hostess with Mrs. Edwin Eagleson and Mrs. Dawn Rutherford assisting.

THE BEAUTIFUL BRETON — For those who are not enamored of an extreme flat-top hat but would like to wear a modified version, here is a shallow Breton with a very flat crown. This model is made of taffy colored straw, worked in the new oval silhouette. The crown is almost hidden in the draping of molasses-colored maline which is trimmed with large mock pearl hat pins. This is a good choice to go with a summer suit or a simple print. It is a most becoming hat for almost any type.

with early summer blossoms on Saturday afternoon, for the afternoon tea and homemade candy sale, held by the girls of the Junior Hostess Club, under their leaders, Mrs. J. W. Hilton and Mrs. Herbert Brenner. The well-attended event was a demonstration of the excellent training these teen age girls have had in connection with their year's project,

"The Club Girl Entertains," and was carried through with dignity, and a fine showing of the work. Receiving at the door were the club president, Helen Falls, and Mrs. Brenner. Mrs. Hilton poured tea from a silver service at the lace-covered hostess table, centered with a crystal container of flowers, flanked by tall white candles. All the tempting sandwiches, small cakes, and cut cakes, served were the work of the girls themselves and the evidence of their year's training, not only in cooking, but in department, and other essentials of correct entertaining. Among those waiting on the tables were Miss L. Ann, Irene Trick, Glenna Hall, Doris Hutchison, Yvonne Richards, Nancy Richards, Jean Hubbard, Joan Sanders, Beverley Patton and Margaret MacKay. Salesgirls at the candy table, where delicious chocolates, the product of the club girls' clever fingers were dispensed, were Ruth Allison and Betty Falls. Mrs. D. L. Lunn of the Senior W.I. society, made the tea and looked after filling the plates. The undertaking netted $28.00 to the club funds.

Hastings WA Holds Tea

WA members of St. George's Anglican Church, Hastings, held their annual "Lilac" team in the parish hall Saturday afternoon. The president, Mrs. Clifford Baker, convened the event. A profusion of lilacs, spirea and phlox created a delightful scene for the large crowd of guests. Tea was poured by Mrs. C. R. Spencer and Mrs. Baker. A table of home baking sold well, with Miss D. Plant and Mrs. Wm. McGrayne in charge. Mrs. W. Dainard was in charge of the "white elephant" table. The Junior WA had a display of candy and cakes which was popular. Proceeds are to buy china for church use.

A NOVEL NOTION — Clever and ingenious is the way of a maid with costume jewelry. For instance here are some charming little scatter pins, such as coral and pearl stars, old-fashioned enamel flower pins and dainty pearl fleur de lis. So what does a girl do but find a new parking space for these pretty pieces by placing them all around the crown band of a simple hat and even by setting one or two on the ribbon streamers. Nice idea, don't you think?

Northern Ontario Swings To Tory Camp

TORONTO, June 8. — (CP). — Stronghold of either the Liberals or CCF over the last 10 years, Northern Ontario gave the Progressive Conservatives new strength in Monday's provincial election.

Where they held only one seat before June 7, the Drew forces today have six of the 12 Northern Ontario ridings. Two of those gains were from the CCF — in Sudbury and Kenora — while three seats were picked up by the Tories in formerly Liberal Cochrane North, Nipissing and Parry Sound. John Fullerton, Progressive Conservative, was re-elected in Algoma-Manitoulin.

Premier Drew's announcement of plans to establish a Northern Ontario university and aid to mining communities were believed factors in the results.

In the Sudbury riding Progressive Conservative Wendell S. Gemmell squeezed into the seat when the CCF vote was split. Robert Carlin, member of the last House whom the CCF refused to endorse this time because of alleged Communist association, ran against A. V. Whalen, official CCF candidate. Carlin finished a close second to Gemmell. Mayor William Beaton, Liberal, was third and Whalen fourth.

The far northwestern riding of Kenora went to Jim White, weekly paper editor, who had lost a close fight to CCF's William Dock in the 1945 election.

Nipissing, Liberal in 1937, C.C.F. in 1943 and Liberal again last election, went to W. B. Harvey Monday when he defeated Victor Martin, Liberal, in a bid for re-election.

A wartime air force hero, Johnny Carriere, took the vast constituency of Cochrane North away from the Liberals when he defeated Joseph A. Habel and two other candidates. Carriere, whose home is in Cochrane, fought with the French Air Force early in the Second World War. He later escaped from the Germans, came back to Canada and joined the R.C.A.F. With it, he won the D.F.C. and Bar.

Parry Sound, which saw M. T. Armstrong elected with a majority of 124 for the Liberals in 1945, turned its support to Charles W. Cragg in this ballot.

There was one surprise in the North — the victory by Mayor Charlie Cox of Port Arthur over Mayor Garfield Anderson of Port William. The unusual race was for the riding of Port William which went from the C.C.F. to the Liberals.

W. J. Grummett, C.C.F. House Leader in the last Legislature, held his Cochrane South seat easily. Calvin Taylor retained Temiskaming for the C.C.F. and George Harvey again won Sault Ste. Marie for the party. Port Arthur was retained for the C.C.F. by F. O. Robinson.

Election Highlights

Joe (the man you know) Meininger, colorful member of the last House from Waterloo North, was defeated by Liberal John G. Brown. Meininger gained prominence during the last session of the legislature when he suddenly announced that he had seen "the light" and decided to change from an Independent Liberal to a Progressive Conservative. The party wouldn't have him, however, and he was unable to get the Tory nomination in this election. He ran as an Independent Conservative, splitting the Tory vote and enabling the Liberals to win the seat.

A split Conservative vote in Brantford helped George T. Gordon, Liberal, to victory. Stanley Dye, Tory member of the last House, failed to receive the nomination this time. In his place was C. C. Slemin. The riding was Liberal in 1937, CCF in 1943 and Progressive Conservative in 1945 before going back to the Liberals.

The battle of the mayors a race that livened up the election campaign at the head of the lakes, went to the Liberals. Mayor Charles Cox of Port Arthur, who couldn't win his own city in the 1945 election, tried it in Port William and won a close victory over Garfield Anderson, mayor of that city and CCF member of the last House. Now Cox represents the city in municipal office and another Liberal city at that — in other words, a Liberal city in a Liberal province. With the high degree of rivalry that exists between the two cities it would be quite possible for Mayor Cox to find himself forced to favor one or the other as Legislature representative for Port Arthur.

Miller Stewart, CCF candidate in Middlesex North said Monday that a party-vetoed truck Monday before it was released on a decision of returning officer Morris B. Percival that its use was not contrary to election day regulations. A similar truck was used by Progressive Conservatives in the London city riding.

Coldwell Happy Over Results In Ontario

OTTAWA, June 8. — (CP). — Progressive Conservative members of the House of Commons Monday night expressed pleasure on hearing of the return to power of Premier George Drew's government in the Ontario provincial election Monday.

They expressed keen disappointment at Mr. Drew's defeat in his own riding.

John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, made no public statement on the election result. However, he sent Mr. Drew a telegram expressing congratulations on his government's return and regrets at his personal defeat.

CCF members expressed their delight at the increase in their membership in the Legislature and were particularly elated at their victory in Ontario riding, where a federal by-election takes place today.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King made no comment on the result, but Liberal members indicated privately their disappointment at the Ontario Liberal party's showing.

M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, said he was delighted with the results. "I am particularly pleased that we have elected a very strong group led by E. B. Joffe, who now becomes leader of the opposition," said Mr. Coldwell.

"My personal delight is enhanced by the outstanding victories of my old friend, W. H. Temple, over Premier Drew, and of Reed Scott, who captured a Toronto seat."

Returning Officer's Quarters Noisy Spot Bewildered DRO's Dropped Keys In Boxes

Pandemonium, gabble, and chatter ruled in Returning Officer D. J. Lawrie's office Monday night. Confusion describes the scene mildly. Deputy returning officers entered in all stages of panic.

No less than four DRO's came in with the unhappy story of having dropped the keys into the ballot boxes. Said one: "A man phoned from Peterborough and told me to put the keys in too."

Others nervously had placed their affidavits in the boxes before showing up.

For the first two hours, the office was a madhouse. Forty people packed the small room for an hour, as the voice of the telephone man, George Benton, 782 Water St., droned out the subdivision results.

Working calmly amid the noise was Miss Mary Eason, 83 Hunter St., who tried to hear names and numbers, and somehow managed to get them right.

By 10 p.m. only a few straggling DRO's were coming in, the noise and heat of the office had subsided, and officials were able to accomplish something in quiet and comparative comfort.

Eleven o'clock came around, and only 90 subdivisions had been heard from officially, the unofficial results were almost complete.

of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation.

"Ontario electors did not respond to the campaign of misrepresentation of the Saskatchewan government's record and the Communist bogey."

39 New Faces In Legislature

TORONTO, June 8. — (CP). — There will be 39 "new faces" in the 23rd Ontario Legislature.

But several of the men — and one woman — elected, Monday to replace members of the last House are not strangers to provincial politics.

E. B. Joffe, CCF leader, was first elected in 1943 but lost his seat in the Progressive Conservative landslide victory two years later.

Agnes Macphail is another CCF member who served those two years.

CCF Confident Party To Grow In This Riding

First election returns received at the CCF committee room on Hunter St. justified the confidence of the CCF supporters that their party would make a better showing at this election than in 1945.

The first three quarters of an hour, Mrs. Gerald Bullied, Clayton Fee and Maurice Ketcheson were kept busy at the telephones as returns came in from the various divisions. Jack Morton, the candidate, and Walter Dinesen, president of the Peterborough CCF Association, posted the results on the election board.

A small crowd of some twenty people gathered around a radio to hear the commentary given by Pete McGillen, city editor of the Peterborough Examiner, and the early returns from other Ontario constituencies. A cheer greeted the news that W. H. Temple, CCF candidate for the High Park riding of Toronto, was leading Premier Drew.

Later, as returns came in from the outlying divisions, it became obvious that the CCF would hold third place in Peterborough, but all present felt that the comparatively large number of votes polled was an indication of future prospects. As Jack Morton stated in an interview: "The poll clearly shows that the CCF is now a party to be considered in Peterborough. The substantial gain is encouraging, but sufficient people here do not yet realize that the CCF is the only party with a constructive program."

She Knew Too Much

PHILADELPHIA, June 8. — (AP). — The semi-nude battered body of a 43-year-old woman mystery story writer was found Monday night on a bed in her apartment. The dead woman was identified as Mrs. Katherine Mellor, wife of Charles Mellor, 47-year-old former newspaper man, who told police he found his wife's brutally-beaten body when he returned home.

France Wants Ships

PARIS, June 8. — (Reuters). — Fouques Du Parc, French ambassador to Rome, has asked the Italian government for delivery of a number of Italian warships to France under the Italian peace treaty, it was learned on Monday night. Italy has already sent one oil tanker and a despatch vessel to France since the beginning of the war.

5 Women Lose In Bid For Legislature

TORONTO, June 8. — (CP). — Agnes Macphail, first and only woman in the House of Commons when she was elected in 1921, today is the only woman in the new Ontario Legislature.

While the other five women candidates were beaten at the polls, veteran Miss Macphail, 56, defeated three men to become CCF member for York East.

And being one woman among 89 men in the 90-seat House fazed her not a bit.

"I'm sorry I'm the only woman and that's not because I'm embarrassed there," she said as the Co-operative Hall on Pape Ave. rang with cheers of her supporters.

"After 14 years at Ottawa, I'm conditioned to it. Besides, there's a good bunch of boys in the CCF."

"But, Oh my, only one woman at Queen's Park! But I'll come!"

"It," she said, would be an equal number of men and women. With that, she would be satisfied.

Actually Miss Macphail sat in the House of Commons for 18 years, first as a Progressive member and later as UFO-Labor. But between 1935 and 1940, when Miss Macphail was defeated in the Federal election, she had company—Mrs. George Black of the Yukon, sitting as an Independent Conservative.

In 1943 Miss Macphail turned from Federal to Provincial politics. As a CCF candidate, she won York East, only to lose it again to the Progressive Conservatives in 1945.

Monday's election was her comeback. She re-enters the Legislature as a member of the second largest party, official opposition to the Progressive Conservative Government. It was her 10th election campaign.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

COUNTING IS THE KEY

MANY READERS OF bridge columns are able to understand the fanciest and most intricate plays, and spot the opportunity for them, if they know the cards of all four hands. It is the real bridge player, however, who figures them out when only two hands are in view—his own and the dummy. In that situation, he often has to infer the location of certain hidden honors and suit lengths from the bidding and the early play. Often the key to his choice of plays is his counting of the suit-lengths in the other hands, sometimes exact counting, she shows all four hands, as in the deal above, and enables the reader to score his own solution against the most expert play. It is truly one of the great bridge books of all time, including also a lot of keen bidding problems. Every bridge devotee, from the worst to the best, can enjoy it and profit from it.

To get her idea, suppose you cover the East and West hands, with your thumbs or otherwise. West leads the heart 9 to the 10 and South holds up the K, then must win with it when the J is returned. That lead obviously is to leave West a heart for a third-

Welfare Council Suggests Federal Welfare Bureau

HAMILTON, June 7. (CP)—The formation of a Federal Children's Bureau, to deal with such matters as adoption and juvenile immigration, has been recommended to the Dominion government, by the Canadian Welfare Council, delegates attending the CWC annual meeting were told today.

"Because child welfare is such an important area of social welfare, it merits national attention," Phyllis Burns, of Ottawa, secretary of the Council's child welfare division, told more than 250 social workers gathered here for the two-day sessions. "We require greater uniformity of legal provision to safeguard child life across the country; both new and improved services for children are needed if we expect to have a new generation capable of meeting the tremendous challenge of the future."

Miss Burns said there was "an urgent need" for a children's bureau established within the health and welfare department. An eight-page brief on the subject already had been forwarded to Health and Welfare Minister Martin.

Abolish Veto New Plan Says

BERLIN, June 7. (AP). —

Abolition of the veto which has stalled four-power rule in Germany is regarded in military quarters as one of the most significant details in the new western agreement on Germany.

The agreement on international control of the Ruhr, the toughest problem of post-war Germany, stated the international authority shall take its decision "by majority vote."

"The international authority for the Ruhr at least will be a working body," one source said.

As in the case of the security council of the United Nations, Russia, more often than any other power, has blocked four-power decisions on Germany as a whole.

Doctor Develops New Operation On Heart

QUEBEC, June 7. (CP)—Successfully tried on animals, a new type of operation developed by Dr. Arthur Vineberg of Montreal, might be of value to humans suffering from heart disease, the American Association of Thoracic Surgery was told today.

In a paper read to the annual convention, the Montreal surgeon, who has experienced in surgery since 1925, said the operation would provide a fresh source of arterial blood to the heart, relieving angina pectoris and coronary thrombosis conditions.

Describing the operation, he said the internal mammary artery, which normally supplies the breast, is removed from its position on the chest wall and is transplanted into the heart muscle. There the artery grows new branches through which the heart muscle can be supplied with a fresh source of arterial blood.

"The operation has been performed successfully on animals," Dr. Vineberg said. "It is suggested that this operation may be of value in patients suffering from angina pectoris and coronary thrombosis."

FOSTER MOTHER — Spring lambing season on the farm always has its minor tragedies; on some cases death comes to mothers and offsprings alike; sometimes there is neglect and occasionally a mother refuses to have anything to do with her lambs. This was the case here and Eleanor

May Compromise On Hanging Ban

LONDON, June 8. (AP). — A well-informed source reported today the cabinet has agreed to compromise a parliamentary fight over capital punishment by keeping hanging as a penalty for Britain's worst murderers.

Home Secretary Chuter Ede probably will recommend retention of the noose for slayers of policemen and for those who commit premeditated murder.

Ede relieved all murderers under the death sentence after the Commons voted recently to abolish the death penalty for murder for an experimental period of five years.

The Lords, mindful of a long series of unsolved murders in the last two years and of public opposition to abolishing the rope, defeated the Commons will last week by a heavy majority.

To mollify Labor opponents of hanging and prevent an intra-party fight over the issue, the Government may propose to reconsider the "no-hanging" legislation after the current crime has abated.

Under present law, still in effect until Parliament finishes work on the new hanging bill, all persons convicted of murder must be sentenced to death. Only the Home Secretary can commute their sentences.

1,100 Delegates Attend

BANFF, Alta., June 7 (CP). — About 1,100 delegates were on hand today for the opening sessions of the annual National Retail Credit Association conference.

Business sessions and election of officers is expected to occupy the major portion of the opening held at Banff Springs Hotel. Speakers Tuesday will include Premier E. C. Manning of Alberta

Copa Cabana Burns

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., June 7. (AP). — The swank Copa Cabana night club, scene of some of Florida's gayest night life during the winter season, was almost destroyed early today by fire.

Fire Chief D. C. Kenneth estimated the loss at about $200,000.

Policeman H. L. Fiedue, who lives near the night club, turned in the alarm about 4 a.m. He said a "terrific explosion" preceded the blaze which gutted the lush furnishings and left only the shell of an outside wall standing.

Eisenhower Heads Columbia University

NEW YORK, June 7 (AP). — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower today became Columbia University's 13th President, just four years and one day after leading the mighty allied invasion of Europe. He will be formally installed in office next fall.

The General indicated to reporters he considered his civilian post an adventure.

"This time four years ago," he said, "I was visiting (Gen. Omar) Bradley (Field Marshal Viscount) Montgomery and people along the beaches."

"After 38 years in one profession," he said, referring to his army career, "it has been a little adjustment."

Asked if he had "anything to say politically?" he replied: "I don't know of anything as unlikely to answer. I think I've said all I should."

Gen. Eisenhower succeeds Dr. Frank Fackenthal, who has been acting President of 194-year-old Columbia since Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler retired Oct. 1, 1945, after 49 years as President. Dr. Butler died Dec. 7, 1947.

Welfare Head Says Housing 'No. 1 Social Problem'

HAMILTON, June 8 (CP). — Another brick was tossed at the housing shortage Monday when R. E. G. Davis of the Canadian Welfare Council described it as "Canada's No. 1 social problem."

The CWC executive director said the situation was "more serious" than a year ago. And if the number of families continued to increase at present rates "we shall be no better off next year than we are now."

In his annual report to the Council's two-day meeting, Mr. Davis noted that record employment and wage rates had continued generally throughout Canada.

However, they had been accompanied by heavy strains on family life "due to an unprecedented rise in living costs and a desperate shortage of housing."

Instead of a long-term housing program, Canadians were given short-term expedients of help only to families of above average income, or to veterans.

While marked progress had been made in improving health and welfare services, the director deplored the failure of the Dominion and two of the provinces to reach financial agreements which "still blocks the implementation of the social security measures."

The shortage of professionally trained social workers in both public and private welfare programs has become so "critical" as to compel a re-examination of recruiting and training methods, of salary and employment policies, said Mr. Davis. The problem had been highlighted at a national conference on personnel in social work in Ottawa last January.

Today we Live in a Greater Canada

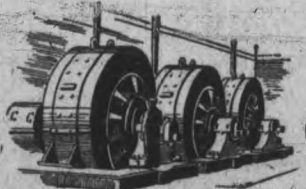

The Barren Lands Produce New Wealth

NEW MINES, new power dams — whole new communities — are rising where only yesterday was nothing but a waste of rocks, water and trees and frozen tundra. Today Canada has a new empire in the wilderness.

The development of our one-time wastelands is one of the most significant phases of Canada's modern advance. Every Canadian is benefiting from that expansion. Today we live in a greater Canada — far greater than land of new and exciting opportunities for those commencing their careers today.

WAR-CREATED transportation facilities — by road and air — have opened up a hundred thousand square miles of the northwest, making accessible, for the first time, vast resources of farmland, forests, coal and power sites.

WHERE BEFORE the war was a roadless Quebec wilderness, Shipshaw is now producing more than a million horsepower of electrical energy. At Yellowknife on Great Slave Lake, rich gold-bearing ores are being developed. From Great Bear Lake near the Arctic Circle comes precious radium.

NEW... OPPORTUNITIES

JOHN ADASKIN, son of an immigrant woodworker, developed his talents as a musician to win a distinguished place in Canadian radio. He became CBC's senior program producer; now has his own Productions company in Toronto; has produced over 4,000 radio shows, including some of the most popular on the Canadian air; is Master of Ceremonies and musical conductor on the national talent show "Opportunity Knocks."

JOHN ADASKIN says: "I have never regretted a career in Canada. Today — more than ever before — new fields and opportunities are opening up for young Canadians. As business in general expands, as the arts gain wider recognition, it's certain that opportunity will continue to knock harder and more often for the talent of this country."

CCF Wins 2 Federal By-Elections

BC And Ontario Ridings Change; Third Gain In Week

By The Canadian Press

CCF victories in Vancouver Centre and in Ontario riding have cost the Liberals two House of Commons seats.

The Socialist triumphs Tuesday in by-elections in traditionally Liberal strongholds came just a day after the CCF rose to official Opposition status in the Ontario Legislature. Last week the CCF won the Federal by-election in the British Columbia riding of Yale, long held by the Conservatives.

Winning candidates Tuesday were Rodney Young, 38-year-old law student, in Vancouver Centre, and Welsh-born labor organizer Arthur Williams, 52, in Ontario riding. Williams sat in the Ontario Legislature in 1943-45, the by-election was Young's first political venture.

Both led their nearest opponents by pluralities of roughly 2,000 votes.

The House of Commons standing now is:

Liberals 124; Progressive Conservatives 66; CCF 31; Social Credit 13; Independent 4; Bloc Populaire 2; Independent Liberal 1; Independent Progressive Conservative 1; Independent CCF 1; Union Des Electeurs 1; vacant 1.

The Vancouver seat was vacated last December with the appointment to the Senate of former Veterans Minister Ian MacKenzie, who had represented the riding since 1930. The Ontario riding seat became vacant with the death of W. E. N. Sinclair, a Liberal.

Complete returns from Ontario riding's 150 polls gave Williams 10,301 votes, compared with 8,324 for Lyman Gifford, Liberal, and 7,555 for Mayor Frank McCollum of Oshawa, Progressive Conservative. The riding includes the automobile-manufacturing city of Oshawa, east of Toronto, and surrounding communities.

Complete returns for the 133 polls in Vancouver Centre gave Young 9,955 votes, Ralph Campney, Liberal, 7,570 and Lyle Jettley, Progressive Conservative, 5,242.

Williams worked in coal mines in his native Tredegar, Wales, before coming to Canada in 1929. His political experience started in Britain where he was a labor party organizer.

He now works as union organizer. Young, a former railroad and shipyard worker, has been a CCF member 15 years. He joined the army in 1940 and fought in Italy and western Europe.

Final Returns Give Scott Lead Of 2,487

With the 151 polls in the Peterborough riding reported late on Tuesday the unofficial results of Monday's election are: Elliott, 7,895; Morton, 5,408 and Scott, 5,408.

These figures give Mr. Scott a lead of 2,487. The last three polls which reported were from the northern part of Belmont and Methuen townships. Oak Lake Schoolhouse gave Elliott 6, Morton 1, Scott 7; South Lake Schoolhouse, Elliott 12, Morton 1 and Scott 10; and Carrol's Schoolhouse, Elliott 1, Morton 0 and Scott 8. The townships totals are Elliott 195, Morton 85 and Scott 287.

Princess' Parents Approve Marriage To Michael Given Blessing

ATHENS, June 9 (AP).—A spokesman for ex-King Michael of Romania said today Princess Anne of Bourbon-Parma is being married here to-morrow with the full consent and agreement of her parents.

He declared that Anne's uncle, Prince Xavier of Bourbon-Parma, spoke without authority in Paris Monday when he said the Bourbon-Parma family did not approve the marriage.

"Anne has a mother and father with whose full consent and agreement the wedding is going to take place," the spokesman said. "The reason Xavier made WINS FOR CCF — Arthur Williams, 52, Oshawa union organizer, was elected as Federal member for Ontario riding at Tuesday's by-election. He occupies the seat left vacant by the death of W. E. N. Sinclair, Liberal. The CCF also swept that riding in the provincial election.

Fraser Breaches Two Barriers; 30 Dead In U.S.

VANCOUVER, June 9 (CP).—British Columbia's mighty Fraser river, surging forward into the already-devastated flood zone, early today broke through two of its barriers about 16 miles apart. The new torrent, precipitated by torrid temperatures and swift mountain run-off, breached dikes in the Pitt meadows and Lulu island areas but army and navy authorities did not consider the breaks "major." However, 200 weary workers toiled for several hours to patch the dikes.

Threats of renewed flood devastation also appeared in the flood picture of the B.C. interior where the Columbia river continued its upsurge.

The smelter city of Trail, B.C., 230 miles east of here, engaged in all-out defence activity on a 24-hour shift basis. At nearby Fraser Breaches (Continued on Page 2, Column 4)

New Czech Code Becomes Law

PRAGUE, June 9 (AP).—Czechoslovakia's National Front Coalition, ruled by Communists, announced tonight Communist Premier Klement Gottwald is its only candidate to succeed Eduard Benes as president.

The National Front chose Antonin Zapotocky as premier to succeed Gottwald.

A government announcement to this effect did not say by what executive signature the document was made valid.

The presumption is that Communist Premier Klement Gottwald signed it after Benes handed in his resignation Monday. Gottwald is considered the leading candidate to succeed Benes. Parliament will choose the new president Monday.

The new constitution, adopted last month ago today, proclaims Czechoslovakia a people's democratic republic in "the great family of Slav nations."

By the constitution, parliament consists of a single house of 300 members. The deputies were chosen at a single-ticket election May 30.

The voting age is fixed at 18, and the minimum age for holding public office at 21. Women have equal rights with men.

This statement is because he is under the complete domination of the Catholic Church and is most anxious to protect his position. (Xavier is a pretender to the Spanish throne.) Although the spokesman said Anne's mother and father will not be in Athens for the wedding, that fact should not be taken as "evidence that they disapprove. The fact that Prince Erik, Anne's uncle, is here and will attend the wedding as a representative is the best evidence that the wedding has been approved by the family."

Forest Fire Hurdles Lines 2 Crews Flee To Safety 35-Mile Wind Whips Blaze

Heavy Rain Believed The Only Agency Capable Of Subduing Two Blazes Of 60,000 Acres Each

By The Canadian Press

If the two vast forest fires in the Chapleau and Mississauga districts of Northwestern Ontario spread over the few miles that separate them, they will join in what may be the largest forest fire in Ontario's history, forestry officials said today. The Department of Lands and Forests said the two fires covered a total area of some 580 square miles. The largest previous Ontario fire is believed to be the blaze which destroyed 500 square miles of timber in 1941 in the Gogama area.

The Chapleau fire bulged Tuesday along its west, northwest and east fringes, spreading over about 330 square miles. Bulldozers were being used to cut a fire-break between a Panet township fire and the town of Chapleau. A change of wind halted flames 15 miles from the village of Sultan on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Two fire-fighting crews fled for safety during the night as the Mississauga forest fire, driven by 35 mile-an-hour winds, broke through fire lines, forestry officials said today. The men are no longer in danger and preparations are being made to bring them out of the area.

Bulldozers have been brought into play in the Chapleau fire area as a Panet township fire threatens to reach into the town of Chapleau. Back fires are being set north of the town and fire fighters are trying to hold the uncontrolled blaze at the Canadian Pacific railway tracks on the town's western fringes.

Quebec's worst fires were in Bellemare township, 15 miles from Rouyn, and in a 75-square mile section embracing four townships roughly 60 miles south of Rouyn. The Bellemare blaze, covering five square miles, burned through timber and slash and through areas blackened by fires in the past.

Both the Chapleau fire and the Mississauga blaze, northwest of the lumbering town of Blind River, were estimated at 60,000 acres each. They have been only a few miles apart for more than a week. Only in the Port Arthur and Sioux Lookout districts of northwestern Ontario has the outlook brightened since the week-end. Rain showers there enable fire-fighters either to extinguish or to start effective control of all fires.

TORONTO — Basil Wilson, 45-year-old kitchen helper in a downtown hotel, was crushed to death today by an elevator in a freak accident. Police said Wilson was descending in the elevator when he leaned forward to greet a friend. The elevator, continuing downward, crushed him between the elevator roof and the window sill.

Sullivan Rushes 200 Men To Strike Scene

MONTREAL, June 9 (CP). — J. A. (Pat) Sullivan, president of the Canadian Lake Seamen's Union, said today he was sending 200 men into Cornwall, "to give protection to his contract ships" after an outbreak of violence last night at Cardinal, Ont.

Mr. Sullivan said in a prepared statement that several CLSU members were "beaten up aboard ship and forcibly taken off the SS Hastings" at Cardinal.

He added that the decision of his union's executive was taken after a statement of the rival Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC) that the CSU was "marshalling their forces for a showdown with law officers, if necessary."

He said the first group of men would leave for Cornwall about noon by taxi.

Crew Replaced THOROLD, June 9 (CP). — In a surprise move by Canada Steamship Lines officials, a replacement crew was put aboard the freighter Battleford here today and the ship cleared port a few minutes later. An escort of 40 RCMP officers and Provincial Police was provided, but no resistance was encountered from the Canadian Seamen's Union picket.

Jewish Boy, 9, Whistles "5 Minutes More" Mortar Shell in Street Ends Melody

JERUSALEM, June 8. — (Tuesday) (AP). — It had seemed incongruous in the first place to hear a little Jewish boy about nine whistling "Only Five Minutes More."

He strolled along in tennis shoes, shorts and a blue blouse. An Arab mortar salvo began. Five of them fell 30 yards away and the little boy and I, the only persons on the street, lay flat alongside a high wall. The sixth one fell short and hit the street only 10 yards away from us. Lucky, I thought, only an incendiary.

Then I heard the little boy scream once and go quiet. I sprinted to him and saw a pool of blood.

"Where are you hit?"

He answered calmly: "I am going to die."

There were flecks of blood in the froth which appeared on his lips. A Hagana staff car raced down the street. I stopped it. We loaded the little boy into the car. He didn't cry. We hurried him to hospital. The nurses and doctors worked on him but soon stopped. He was dead.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 9 (CP). — A passenger train from Toronto, plowed into three box cars standing on a spur line here today. The box cars were reported wrecked and an undetermined number of persons taken to hospital.

The injured were: Mrs. Robert Yule, 73, Fort Erie; Mrs. Orwell Yule, Toronto; Mrs. Maggie Hildreth, Fort Erie; Mrs. Henri I. Aikion, Niagara Falls; Mrs. Clayton Aikens and young son, Niagara Falls; V. L. Roberts, porter, Toronto; James Pratt, express messenger, Toronto; mail clerk V. High Prices Elected CCF Premier King Believes

OTTAWA, June 9 (CP). — Prime Minister Mackenzie King said today in a prepared statement that the CCF victories in three recent by-elections reflect "the inevitable dislike felt by persons of all classes for high living costs and privations and restrictions of any kind."

CCF candidates won two Federal by-elections Tuesday in Ontario riding and Vancouver Centre and a third last week in Yale, B.C.

Text of Mr. King's statement follows: The lead which the CCF has gained in the recent by-elections reflects the inevitable dislike felt by persons of all classes for high living costs and privations and restrictions of any kind.

In Canada, as in other countries, all of these have been an inevitable consequence of war, and, in the main, are due to inflation, itself among the worst of post-war evils.

While conditions of the kind are immediately felt, they are not as readily understood. It so happens that this untoward tide of unfortunate sequences is today at the flood.

In the political campaigns and in personal canvassing, the worst aspects of the situation have been overemphasized. The irritation has been heightened by the constant criticism in the House of Commons by Opposition, political parties, none of which have anything in common except their desire to see the Government weakened.

CCF Profited The CCF Party has profited most by this ill-matched combination. "The Progressives" have live Party, by joining in the combination, has well nigh destroyed itself. It is fortunate for all but the CCF that opportunity should have been afforded, thus early, of seeing these under-currents at work.

While inflation may be bad, and takes time to control, it should never be forgotten that there is one thing worse than inflation and that is depression.

The Federal Government, at the risk of its own immediate popularity, has so shaped its policies as to restrict further inflation in the present, and to lessen the possibilities of depression later on. This, too, is a course of action not too readily understood.

It is, however, the long run rather than the short run which counts for most. It would be a mistake to attach too much significance to CCF gains in the present.

Army Chasing Indian Rebels

NEW DELHI, June 9 (AP). — V. P. Menon, secretary of the ministry of states, said today India has ordered her army and police to enter Hyderabad territory if rebel leaders. Menon said talks with a Hyderabad delegation had yielded no results and that the delegation is returning for further instructions. Hyderabad, next to Kashmir, is the largest and most populous of the Indian states. It is ruled by the Nizam of Hyderabad. It has refused to accede to India.

India has charged that Razakars, members of the militant Moslem organization in Hyderabad, have raided villages beyond their borders, and the Indians demand disbandment of the group.

Britisher Killed In Malaya Wave Of Violence Sweeps Peninsula

SINGAPORE, June 9 (Reuters). — John Ramsden, son of Sir John Ramsden, British landowner, was found murdered at his home in Northwest Malaya last night, police announced here.

He had been shot with his own shotgun, which was missing. Police said that Ramsden, who was managing director of the Caledonia estate in Northwest Malaya, was apparently walking downstairs when his assailant fired. He rolled to the bottom of the stairs.

Four-Week Truce Starts Friday

Fighting Continues Both Sides Try To Gain Advantage

CAIRO, June 9 (AP). — Arabs and Jews replied today to the United Nations proposal for a four-week truce in Palestine and members of each camp said they accepted unconditionally.

Authoritative Jewish informants at Lake Success said the Israel government approved unconditionally the plan of the U.N. mediator, to become effective at 2 a.m. EDT Friday. Arab spokesmen in both Cairo and Amman, Trans-Jordan, said the Arab acceptance was without strings.

The Arabs replied well before the deadline set by the mediator. The Jewish reply, probably because of communications difficulties, arrived from Tel Aviv 50 minutes after the deadline.

Both the Arabs and Jews continued the fighting in Palestine in an apparent endeavor to strengthen their positions before the truce comes into effect.

Egyptian planes bombed central Tel Aviv today even as the Israeli leaders were meeting to consider their truce reply. It was feared casualties were heavy.

The terms of the truce are as follows:

1. No fighting personnel, including persons identified as belonging to military organizations or bearing arms, to be introduced into the Arab states or Palestine during the truce.

2. The mediator to exercise his discretion to determine whether men of military age are among immigrants in such numbers as to give one side a military advantage.

3. The mediator to keep a check on all immigration at ports of embarkation and debarkation and place U.N. observers on ships bearing immigrants.

4. The mediator may ban all immigrants during the first week of the truce.

5. Movement of troops or war materials from one Arab country to another or close to the ARABS ACCEPT (Continued on Page 2, Column 2)

U.S. Trade Policy Puzzles Reds

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP). — United States policy on trade with Russia settled into a "keep-em-guessing" phase today under strange circumstances.

To one secrecy over what goods the Soviet Union will be licensed to buy in the United States was added another puzzle: what she actually has been allowed to get since the United States clamped down on export licenses March 1. Plans for Commerce Secretary Sawyer to visit Moscow Saturday have been seen as a rough guide to what she can have in the future, were cancelled abruptly Tuesday. No reason was given for the cancellation, but it was learned authoritatively that State Secretary Marshall made a personal call on Sawyer shortly before the plans were changed.

Speculation over why the state department might object to disclosure of buying automobiles already given Russia centred on possible fear of its effect on the current battle in Congress over funds to aid western Europe.

Commons Acts To Succor B.C.

OTTAWA, June 9—(CP).—Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced Tuesday night a joint arrangement between the Dominion and British Columbia governments to finance the relief and rehabilitation of the flood-ridden coastal province.

Outcome of conferences here this week between Premier Johnson of B.C. and Federal cabinet ministers, the arrangement follows:

1. The two governments will divide the costs of temporary emergency relief equally.

2. The Federal government will bear 75 per cent and the provincial government 25 per cent of the costs of emergency measures already taken or being taken for strengthening dikes and their eventual reconstruction, and for the restoration of their protected lands by the pumping out of flood waters.

3. Cost of eventual rehabilitation of the affected areas will be settled by later agreement between the two governments on the basis of a report from the Fraser Valley Relief and Rehabilitation Commission.

Mr. King said the two governments have directed their representatives not to permit the working out of detailed arrangements to delay action on emergency relief or on dike repair.

Communist-Led
TORONTO, June 9—(CP).—The Canadian Seamen's Union's strike against five Great Lakes shipping companies has entered its fifth day amid a welter of accusations and counter-claims.

The TLC-affiliated union called firms' ships and set up picket lines to sign a contract with it. The CSU ordered its men off the firms' ship and set up picket lines in Great Lakes ports.

But since navigation opened this spring the five companies—Canada Steamships, Sarnia Steamships, Colonial Steamships, North-western Steamships and Transit Tankers—have manned their 80 ships chiefly with members of a rival union, the Independent Canadian Lake Seamen's Union. They refused to deal with the CSU on grounds it is Communist-led.

Russian Undercover Plans Discussed In Commons

OTTAWA, June 9—(CP).—Canada may get a look into Russian undercover activities in this country, though no more than a peek past a lifted corner of the RCMP's curtain. Under pressure in the Commons, Justice Minister Ilesley agreed on Tuesday night to give "very careful consideration" to disclosing RCMP information on any spy rings and Russian-dominated organizations operating in Canada.

But he warned that any disclosures would be skimpy. John Diefenbaker (PC—Lake Centre) prodded the Minister—who is in charge of the RCMP—into thinking the matter over during discussion of Mr. Ilesley's estimates for the force.

The Lake Centre member, recalling that the Royal Commission on espionage, had found five Russian spy rings operating in this country three years ago, wanted to know what the situation was now on subversive activities—particularly Russian.

The Canadian people, he said, should be told:
1. The extent to which "various organizations under Russian domination are in fact operating today in this country to the detriment of the country, and designed to sabotage our system and our form of government."
2. Whether there are one or more spy rings operating now in the Dominion, as the royal commission found in its inquiry.

Mr. Ilesley said at first he did not know it would be in the public interest to discuss these matters in parliament, but later he agreed to look into it and see what he could say.

Beat CFI Amendment
Earlier, the House moved toward simplification of the income tax law. It gave second reading—approval in principle—to a voluminous bill to streamline administrative procedure in income tax collection.

From Prime Minister Mackenzie King, the House received an announcement of a major reorganization of the board of transport commissioners, which will in future be headed by an exchequer court judge instead of by a direct government appointee as at present.

This announcement followed reports that such a move would be the government's answer to provincial demands for a general royal commission inquiry into the railways.
On the only vote of the day, the Commons voted 97 to 38 to defeat a CCF amendment that would

Situation Critical
PORTLAND, Ore., June 9 (AP).—The Columbia and Fraser rivers cut deeper today into soggy dikes on the Pacific northwest's far-flung flood front. The situation grew more critical by the hour.

A new break-through in the lower valley of the Columbia drowned Puget Island. Other earthen barriers along the swollen river's 100-mile stretch run from Portland to the Pacific were getting softer, saturated by 21 days of watery assault. United States army engineers called their condition "very critical."

Turk Government Quits Under Fire

ANKARA, June 9—(AP).—The government of Premier Hasan Saka collapsed today under harsh fire from critics of its domestic economic policies.

Foreign policy played no part in the disputes which led up to the Saka cabinet's unexpected resignation early this morning. Turkey is receiving United States aid under the Truman doctrine, intended to protect Greece and Turkey from Communist pressure.

President Ismet Inonu accepted the cabinet resignation but immediately asked Saka to form a new government. Informed political sources said the new cabinet probably would have new ministers of economics, labor, commerce and perhaps of agriculture. Necmeddin Sadak is expected to continue as foreign minister.

Saka has been premier since last September, when the cabinet of Premier Recep Peker fell in a similar dispute. Saka had been foreign minister in the Peker government and as such helped set up the arrangements for the $100,000,000 American aid program.

One of the loudest complaints, against the government and the most frequently heard, concerned the wheat shortage. Normally, Turkey produces more wheat than she consumes, but recently she has been importing grain to meet consumer demands.

United Counties Tax Unchanged 1948 Total Needed $357,363

COBOURG, June 9—(ENS)—There will be no change in the tax rate for this year, it was announced at the opening of the June session of Northumberland and Durham Counties Council yesterday. Treasurer William Barr brought in his budget for 1948, forecasting the rate at 10 mills. The school costs are up $10,000 this year, but this is a direct charge on the municipality and does not appear in the tax rate.

In the 1948 budget, administration of justice was estimated at $22,000; gaol, $12,000; charity and welfare—counties home $22,000; children's aid, $36,000; hospital grants $8,500; indigent patients $10,000; board of health $37,500—total $114,000. Debt service and interest $28,325. General administration—council and committees $10,000; rental and office up-keep $6,000; interest on loans $3,000; printing, postage and stationery $2,000; Workmen's Compensation $500; salaries $6,500—total $28,100. Registry offices $3,000; reforestation $2,000; sundry grants $3,000; county roads 50 per cent share, $147,938; weed eradication $2,000; anti-corn borer $300; entrance examinations $700—total $357,363. Less 1947 surplus of $2,377.95; total amount to be raised by levy $354,985.05.

The statement of receipts up to

May 31, 1948, included 147 balance road subsidy, $50,248.77; temporary bank loans, $83,000; maintenance counties home, $5,796.03; balance as of Jan. 1, 1948, $3,324.73. Expenditures included roads, net, $74,085.02; child welfare, $11,430.20; counties home, $10,751.91; board of health, $16,000; balance of May 31, 1948, $9,007.40.

Losers Are Members

Two defeated election candidates were among the members of council when the June session opened Tuesday. They were Reeve Leonard Gordon of Coburne, who was the Liberal candidate and Reeve Norman Allison, CCF, of Bowmanville. William Goodfellow, who polled a record majority to be returned to the provincial, is a former member of the counties council.

A number of communications, including resolutions from other county councils, were referred to committees. Request for a $3,500 grant from the juvenile court committee was referred to finance; the budget report was also referred to the finance committee. A letter regarding superannuation of jail employees was referred to finance; letter from the Northumberland Trustees Association, asking for grant, referred to finance, along with other requests for grants.

Many Resolutions

Communication from Waterloo County Council regarding remuneration for trustees in school areas was referred to the schools committee; applications from Hamilton Township, Cramahe and Haldimand for establishment of new high school districts were referred to the schools committee. A letter from the Cobourg Collegiate Institute Board enclosing a resolution of the board expressing its willingness to discuss high school districts with the municipalities concerned, was referred to the schools committee.

A resolution from Grey County urging that grain exchanges be closed because of the effect on bacon export to Britain, was referred to Legislative and By-Laws. A resolution from Grey County recommending that feed grain prices be set to coincide with rise in livestock prices, was referred to Legislative and By-Laws committee. A resolution from Elgin County expressing opposition to American trucks operating on provincial highways carrying bonded merchandise between U.S. and Canadian points, was referred to the Legislative and By-Laws committee. Huron county council had a resolution suggesting that doctors, who use the hospitals for treating patients and receiving remuneration therefrom, be charged a fee of 25 cents per patient and that this fee be not charged by the doctor in his bill to the patient; referred to Legislative and By-Laws committee.

A resolution from Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry urged that all counties adopt a standard equalized assessment basis which would help uniform government subsidies; referred to Legislative and By-Laws; Peterborough County Council resolution recommended that income tax exemptions be increased from $750 to $1,500 for single persons and $1,500 to $3,000 for married persons; referred to the Legislative and By-Laws committee.

Road Report
Following was the report of counties road superintendent, J. Jordan:

Equipment—We are awaiting delivery of a truck and snow plow. A plow for the grader, ordered last year, has been delivered. A second-hand steam boiler has been purchased. The patching kettle which was burned last year has been rebuilt and three sanders have been made. Delivery of a motor grader, on order for next year, will complete the counties' equipment needs for some time to come except that we should have some kind of a roller.

Work in Progress—Work has been completed on Bensford bridge piers except for some bracing and the deck has been replaced. The timber bridge on No. 18 in Alnwick has also been completed. A contract has been awarded for concrete culverts and there are several pipe arches scheduled for installation this year. Road construction work is in progress in Cartwright, Manvers, Clarke, Percy, Cramahe and Brighton with more to follow. Surface treatment and priming are now in progress, and chloriding is almost completed.

All frost boils have finally been repaired.
Expenditures to April 30
Non-subsidy, $1,113.48; maintenance, $41,084.61; construction, $6,616.89; accounts, $2,904.58; stock, $17,818.33; new machinery, $15,248.66; miscellaneous, $5,802.47; machinery, $34,806.94; less credits, $41,136; less 1947 balance, $7,496.75. Total expenditures, $76,760.40.

A New Wrinkle

CHITEK LAKE, Sask., June 9—Lumbermen said Tuesday they suspected that a forest fire—raging near here for a week—had been started deliberately to get around a Provincial Government order prohibiting the cutting of rough green pulp wood. "A fire so n changes green pulp wood to dried pulp," one Northerner said.

Israel Advisor Resigns Post

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. — Lionel Gelber, the Canadian who has been chief political advisor to the State of Israel, has resigned, it was learned today from a reliable source. Mr. Gelber resigned, according to this report, because when he was asked to choose between Canadian citizenship and citizenship of the new State of Israel, he chose to remain a Canadian.

He will continue to work on an informal basis for the Israeli cause. Gelber is a well known figure in Canadian academic circles. A graduate of the Universities of Toronto and Oxford, he was a former lecturer in political science at Toronto. He is an expert on Commonwealth relations and his papers on this subject have been markedly in favor of retaining the Imperial tie.

It was Gelber who coined the phrase "middle power" to describe Canada's unique position in the post-war world.

During World War II he served in the Royal Canadian Air Force. He is a member of a Toronto family, prominent in industry. His brother, Marvin Gelber, is an outstanding Canadian Zionist, and a leading figure in the United Nations Association in Canada.

A Man's Right To Work As Hard As He Likes

Elsewhere on this page we publish a letter from Mr. John A. Russell, an independent gasoline station owner, in which he protests against a bylaw which, if passed by the Council, would limit his hours of sale. A majority of the gasoline station operators of the city want the bylaw passed, and because they are a majority they do not care that their law will affect Mr. Russell as well as themselves. But we think that there is a great deal to be said on Mr. Russell's side, and we feel that an important principle is involved in his case.

In the first place, the matter is not one in which the will of a majority has any validity. If a group of gasoline station operators form an association and make rules within that association which are binding upon themselves, that is their privilege. But they have no right to seek legislation which will affect gasoline station operators outside their membership, or which will prevent Mr. Russell from giving the public a service which he eagerly desires to give. There is no good reason why the rules of a trade association should be given the status of municipal bylaws.

Next, we think it highly desirable that there should be some gasoline stations in Peterborough which are open when emergencies arise. During the war many stations forgot their eagerness to serve the public. Mr. Russell has not forgotten this great virtue, and we do not see why his enthusiasm should be dampened by an association of which he is not a member.

Finally, we defend Mr. Russell's right to work as hard as he likes, when he likes. Virtually everything that has made commercial history has been done by men who were ready to work longer and harder than their rivals, and who were ready to serve the public when the public wanted service. We are confident that the Council has far too much good sense to allow itself to be made the tool of a trade association, or to be put in a position where it denies a man the right to work as hard as he pleases.

Denying The Mails To The Kinsey Report

The Health League of Canada has decided to ask the Postmaster-General, the Hon. Ernest Bertrand, to refuse the use of the mails for distribution of the book on the sexual behaviour of the human male which has come to be known as "the Kinsey Report". This does not surprise us, for although the Health League, through its leader, Dr. Gordon Bates, has done much fine work, Dr. Bates makes no secret of his opposition to the distribution of any information concerning sex which does not meet his own somewhat specialized views. Dr. Bates, who can see no good in Havelock Ellis, is not likely to care for the findings of Dr. A. C. Kinsey.

Now the Health League is sensitive to the value of publicity, and a protest of this kind is always good for a story in the papers.

An important principle is concerned in this matter, however. The decision as to what books are not fit for Canadians to read lies now in the hands of the Customs and the Post Office; admirable as the officials of these services are, they are certainly not fitted to act as censors, and the power of censorship should not be given to them. They have made some remarkably silly decisions in the past, though we do not hold that against them; they are pitchforked into work for which they are not suited, and are the objects of such misplaced zeal as that which has moved the Health League to make its protest. The sooner the problem of censorship is squarely faced by Ottawa, the better for Canada.

As for the Kinsey Report, we think it would be stupid to refuse it transport by mail. We have read it from cover to cover (and in that respect we have the advantage of several of our contemporaries, who have abused it without reading it) and we can assure our readers that it is very sober reading, and is completely free from smutty details or descriptions of sexual acts. It is an objective work, attempting to find out what sexual behaviour in our time really is, instead of what we would like to think that it is. The book could not corrupt anyone who was not already thoroughly prepared for corruption. Surely it is time that the people of Canada told Mrs. Grundy that they do not need her assistance in guarding their morals?

The Weight Of The Vote

According to the figures presently available, the Liberal Party did not get the trouncing indicated by the few candidates elected, and the Conservatives fared more poorly than their high representation of 53 candidates elected suggests. The Conservatives polled only 41 per cent. of the total vote, yet 60 per cent. of the new Assembly will be composed of Conservatives. The Liberals polled 29 per cent. of the votes but only 12 Liberals were elected—13 per cent. of the new Assembly. The C.C.F. actually polled fewer votes than the Liberals yet had nearly twice as many candidates elected (22). This is a change in fortune for the C.C.F. who in 1945 got 22 per cent. of the total vote and yet only 8 C.C.F.s were elected.

According to the unofficial figures of Monday's elections it took only 13,300 votes to elect a Conservative. It took 20,900 votes to send a C.C.F. candidate to Queen's Park. It took 41,400 votes to elect a Liberal. If Ontario had not a straight, one-vote system but proportional representation the new Legislative Assembly would contain 36 Conservatives instead of 53; 26 Liberals instead of 12, and the 24 C.C.F.s instead of 26. This analysis is of the same kind as that made about the last general election in Britain, when the Labour Government secured a large majority. This was the result:

	Votes	Members
Labour	11,992,000	393
Conservatives	8,665,566	189
Liberals	2,239,668	12

A. P. Herbert uses such figures to argue for a system of proportional representation. We hold no brief for that system of voting, even though under our present system the new Ontario Legislature will not be truly representative of the votes cast. Proportional Representation can lead to impasses in government, with a multiplicity of parties and no one party having a decisive strength. For instance, with P.R. in Ontario the Conservatives would be helpless against a Liberal-C.C.F. combination on specific legislative measures.

The analysis of the vote by percentages shows that the Liberals were not showed under in Monday's election. It does seem to show weakness of organization.

Strictly Personal To Smuts

The results of the recent South African federal elections occasioned not chiefly world-wide surprise that Field Marshal Smuts' party had been defeated, but sympathy for Jan C. Smuts personally because he was ousted in his own constituency.

Field Marshal Smuts has devoted his life to his country and to the international world. He is the most venerable Commonwealth statesman and one of the wisest. Soon he will be installed in the high office of Chancellor of the University of Cambridge.

Canada's Prime Minister sent the renowned statesman a cablegram, not as from one Prime Minister to another, about to resign his office, but as from a personal friend. It was a message of which the Canadian people will approve and require no diplomatic explanation in the House of Commons, although Mr. King made one. The message was dated Ottawa, May 28, and read as follows:

Capetown, South Africa.

Personally, I realize that it would be most improper for me to comment upon a matter so completely related to the domestic affairs of another nation of the Commonwealth as that of the results of the general elections in South Africa. I hope, however, I may be permitted to say to you personally how very much I regret that at the end of a life so completely devoted to public service in your country and in the arena of world affairs you should have met with defeat in your own constituency, and that the results of the elections should have compelled your resignation as Prime Minister before the time came that you felt you, yourself, should lay down this high office. I hope the outcome may be for you a sense of relief from burdens which become increasingly heavy with the advance of years, and of freedom newly and honourably won for what may remain to you of the even tide of life. My warmest personal regards.

W. L. Mackenzie King.

This message from one elder statesman to another is not a breach of diplomacy. Sympathy and heartfelt regard transcend the niceties of protocol.

A Model National Library

By THOMAS DUNBABIN
In The Ottawa Citizen

IN its Library of Parliament Ottawa has something of which the city and the Dominion may well be proud. In due course this will no doubt become the National Library of Canada. Proposals for this are already in hand. However, Australia has shown the way. Australia has its National Library at Canberra, of which the library of the Australian Parliament forms a part.

Apart from books the National Library at Canberra is building up a most valuable collection of manuscripts and other things connected with Australian history. It has the Boeckow log of James Cook's first great voyage of circumnavigation, made in the Endeavour, 1768-1771, in the course of which he charted the east coast of Australia.

INCIDENTALLY, the museum at Saint John, N.B., has an earlier chart of the Saint John River made by Cook. This has apparently escaped the attention of most historians and scholars though Cook's charts and soundings of the St. Lawrence River are well known.

The National Library is now building up an American section. This will be called the Roosevelt wing, as a memorial to the late President Roosevelt. It is to be hoped that "American" will not be taken in too narrow a sense and that the section will include material on Canada. After all, President Roosevelt was a very good friend of both Canada and Australia.

AUSTRALIA is "long" on libraries. The public library of New South Wales and its specialized Mitchell Library form in effect another National Library. In these is the world's greatest and most valuable collection of "Australiana." The chairman of trustees is Dr. H. V. Evatt, Australia's Minister for External Affairs and himself a historian.

You walk into the library over a mosaic reproduction on the floor of the vestibule of the "Tasman Map." The original, now in the library, shows the results of early Dutch exploration of Australia, including the two great voyages of Abel Jansz Tasman—the first circumnavigation in 1642-43 and Tasman's voyage along the northern and western coasts of the continent in 1644.

This original, made soon after 1644, was given to the library by Princess Marie Bonaparte, the wife of Prince George of Greece. It had belonged to the father of the Princess, Prince Roland Bonaparte. He had expressed a wish that it should be given to an Australian library.

THE library also houses the Huydecooper MS, an account of the voyage of 1642-43, in which was discovered Tasmania and New Zealand. It was the Prætor MS which tells in more detail than had been previously known, the voyage of Luis de Torres through Torres Strait, between Australia and New Guinea, in 1607. From a later period come Captain William Bligh's log and journal, including his account of the mutiny of the Bounty, the papers (still undated) of the great botanist, circumnavigator and patron of science, Sir Joseph Banks (whose name bulks large on the map of the Canadian Arctic) and many original documents dealing with the work of Captain Cook.

The public library also has its American section. It has, on loan from the United States government, the extensive American Information Library established in Sydney during the recent war by the U.S. Office of War Information.

SYDNEY had a library catalogue before it had a library. In 1821, when the British settlement in Australia was only 33 years old, a group of Sydney citizens made out a catalogue of the books that they owned, with the initials of each owner beside his books. If any member of the group wanted to read a book not in his own list he borrowed it from the owner.

In 1826 ten citizens met and formed "The Australian Subscription Library and Reading Room." This contained solid works but included some of Walter Scott's novels, "as a concession to the weaker characters in the community." Later the committee reluctantly included works by Bulwer-Lytton and other novelists approved by reviewers for the Edinburgh and Quarterly Reviews.

IN 1834 the library was incorporated by Act of Council and described as a public library but was still on a subscription basis. In 1846 women were allowed to become subscribers. In spite of this the library struggled on till 1869. Its books were then offered at auction. As no reasonable bid was made they were sold to the government for £5,100 ($25,000). And so the public library proper came into existence.

Before it opened to the public, on September 1, 1870, it had a collection of 2,000 ephemeral character, including about 2,000 volumes of fiction, as likely to act as a lure to the idle and frivolous. The policy then laid down was "to minister to the convenience of earnest students seeking intellectual improvement."

TODAY the attendance is swollen, especially on wet days, by persons with time to kill while waiting for appointments with doctors and dentists in the nearby Macquarie St., the Harley St. of Sydney.

In 1898 David Scott Mitchell advised the trustees that he would leave to the library his great collection of "Australiana," with an endowment of $50,000 for spending on books and MSS. If suitable housing were provided. The public library had become so crowded that it was alleged that only thin attendants, who could slip into the narrow spaces between the book stacks were employed. It was Mitchell's housing proviso that "led eventually to the building of the present magnificent library."

MITCHELL, a wealthy man, spent most of his life in building up his library. Every Monday he made the round of the Sydney

NEW ARMS FOR D-DAY TOWN

Parachute figures are included on the new coat-of-arms of the Normandy village of Ste. Mere Eglise. The arms were recently bestowed by President Auriol when he visited the D-Day battlefields on the fourth anniversary of the landings in France. The shield, which is supported by two Normandy leopards, has a third in the lower section and in the upper, two starred parachutes representing the Allied airborne troops who landed, over the village church on which are the letters AM for Alpha and Omega.

Letter To The Editor

ASKS FOR FREEDOM OF ENTERPRISE

Sir: Do the people of Peterborough know that certain proprietors of retail gasoline service stations in the city of Peterborough are asking the City Council to pass a bylaw to regulate the hours of closing shops engaged in the Retail Gasoline Service Industry and if this bylaw is passed it will mean that you will not be able to get gas in this city during these closed periods? That our tourists will be left stranded in our city? That the thousands of dollars which should be left in Peterborough during these closed periods, will be left in the country, where the service stations are allowed to remain open?

When I built my service station, not one of these same dealers came to give me a helping hand; not one of them came to offer congratulations on my opening. It was common talk around town that I could not operate this business successfully for the reason that I had no experience in this kind of operation. Some gave me two months, some gave me six months at the longest. When my service station was ready for operation, I carefully instructed my boys to start giving real service at the pumps; a service that had been very much neglected during and after the war period. To the surprise of these same dealers, my business started to increase, so what were the results? We have built up a business that has created a little jealousy; we have built up a road service that people can depend on; we are on call 24 hours daily. People don't come to my station because I am Johnny Russell; people come to my service station because I can give them the service that they require at the time they require either gas or service.

Some of these dealers may say we can't afford to stay open, it doesn't pay, we can't hire the help. I am in the happy position to say I have the help (my own help in my sons and daughters) to give the motoring public the services they require. I don't tell these dealers what they have to do. This is my business, and I should be able to run my business the way I see fit. I think any bylaw concerning the welfare of the people should be voted on by the people, and not by a few that try to impose their wishes on the public.

The city sent a delegation of aldermen and one newspaperman to Cleveland to promote our tourist business. They were told that they would be able to get gas and service in this city at any hour. Now what will happen if this bylaw is passed? We will undo all the good that these delegates have done. I will be deprived of the right that belongs to every citizen—the right to make an honest living. I pay taxes, I buy all my goods in Peterborough, I've brought up a family that I am very happy to have, boys and girls that are a credit to any community. I have something at stake. What have some of these same dealers at stake? Nothing but company-owned stations. They are on the spot because if they don't produce they are let out. If I am giving the public the kind of service that they want, why should I be deprived of the right to continue this service? If any one doubts what I say, I can produce a petition signed by hundreds of the motoring public and some of our leading citizens who are strongly against this bylaw being passed.

Yours for free enterprise,
John A. Russell and his boys,

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And upon the first day of the week, when the disciples came together to break bread, Paul preached unto them, ready to depart on the morrow; and continued his speech until midnight. And there were many lights in the upper chamber, where they were gathered together.

And there sat in a window a certain young man named Eutychus, being fallen into a deep sleep; and as Paul was long preaching, he sunk down with sleep, and fell down from the third loft, and was taken up dead. And Paul went down, and fell on him, and embracing him said, Trouble not yourself; for his life is in him.

When he therefore was come up again, and had broken bread, and eaten, and talked a long while, even till break of day, so he departed. And they brought the young man alive, and were not a little comforted. (Acts 20: 7-12)

There is none like unto the God of Jesus-him, who rideth upon the heaven in thy help, and in his excellency on the sky. The eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms. (Deut. 33: 26, 27)

Canada's Wealth In Books

The book you want may be in a library other than your own, somewhere between Halifax and Vancouver, and perhaps it can be found by diligent inquiry. But it may be so rare and the few copies so obscurely placed that nobody knows of it.

Very few persons indeed have anything like full knowledge of the wealth of books in the public and private collections of this country. Who has heard of the treasure of 15th century printed books in King's College, Halifax, or of the unusual volumes in Pine Hill College and Old Province House, in the same city? Priceless works are on the shelves of Quebec institutions; Ottawa has many collections in special fields; Queen's University is rich in Canadiana; the University of Manitoba has its depository of Icelandic publications and the University of British Columbia its Reid-Howay western materials.

So Miss Marie Tremaine of the Arctic Institute of North America suggests in the Ontario Library Review that Canada should have a national bibliographical center to catalogue all the book collections in the country. She describes how the Pacific Northwest Bibliographical Center at Seattle photographed the cards of member libraries in several states, building its own files at a cost of $150,000. She tells how the Philadelphia center arranges book loans and as an additional service redistributes discarded and duplicate books.

As well as giving great assistance to libraries, such a center in Ottawa would serve readers throughout the country. Its value to research could not be exaggerated. It could be established concurrently with the establishment of a national library. — The Ottawa Citizen.

Violence Sweeps Malayan States

IPOH, Malaya, June 9—(Reuters).—An emergency meeting of 100 estate managers decided today to ask Sir Edward Gent, high commissioner of the Federation of Malaya, to declare a state of emergency and impose martial law in the state of Perak, in view of the "appalling present lawlessness."

They said that if martial law is not imposed other "appropriate actions should be taken immediately."

In a telegram to the governor, the estate managers called for the reimposition of the death penalty for carrying arms and blamed the "weakness of the civil government for deplorable situation."

Malcolm MacDonald, British High Commissioner in Southeast Asia, declared in a broadcast Sunday that Communist "political agitators" were behind the fresh outbreaks of lawlessness and violence sweeping Malaya.

HEINZ tops ballot in Young People's Club TASTE TEST

A taste-test carried out as part of the refreshments served at a young people's club recently resulted in a 2 to 1 preference for Heinz Condensed Vegetable Soup after comparison with another popular brand.

A mixed group of young men and women were served two bowls of hot soup without knowing the brands they were tasting. Below is a record of the favorable comments on four different qualities registered by those who preferred Heinz.

	Women	Men
Appearance	98%	68%
Flavour	100%	93%
Seasoning	72%	68%
Consistency	68%	75%

Many of those participating added such compliments as: "Better than any canned soup I ever tasted" . . . "Much superior" . . . "Flavour more like home-made." A verifier among the men wrote: "3 bowls a day would be OK."

Try this Taste-Test!

Heat a tin of Heinz Vegetable Soup and a tin of any other brand. Serve half-helpings of each and get your family's verdict, when they have tasted the wonderful difference. Chances are it will be two to one for Heinz. If you have been buying some other brand for any reason, try Heinz Vegetable Soup just ONCE. It will be the beginning of a long friendship. Taste will tell!

Tattered Bibles Emphasize Austerity Era

LONDON, June 9—(CP)—Old, tattered Bibles in homes, in churches and schools have become part of the austerity life of post-war Britain.

Export has been given first priority and millions of Christians in India, China, and other lands pour in new orders for the Authorized Version, mainly printed in the United Kingdom.

And at home, where retailers get three-quarters of their pre-war needs, teachers complain they cannot obtain enough Bibles. One tried to give religious instruction to 30 pupils with just three Bibles among them. A Bible that could be bought for 1 s (20 cents) before the war now runs about 8s.

Expensive editions of the Bible are shown in some shop windows. One London store features the gaudy placard: "Take a New Look at the Old Book."

"There is no decline in the world demand for Bibles, for it is being read as much as ever," said T. J. Reeks, administrative assistant to the British and Foreign Bible Society.

Reeks said that even schools in Britain have been unable to replace Bibles now worn out. Thousands of copies were destroyed in enemy raids at a time when production was reduced. Church-going may have declined in the United Kingdom compared with past years, but the world's best-seller remained in top demand.

"We must take the world view and Bible-reading obviously is on the increase when all countries are concerned," Reeks said. Another source said that in Japan Bibles are so scarce a black market in them has developed.

Petes Open Lacrosse Season With 10-7 Win In Huntsville

HUNTSVILLE, June 9 (Special)—The Peterborough Petes, 1947 OLA senior "B" champions, opened their 1948 senior "B" schedule in the arena here last evening with a 10-7 victory over Huntsville before a large crowd of spectators.

The game last night was fast, close and rugged, marked with one fight between Foote and Kay. It was tight throughout with only a goal or two separating the squads at any time. The Petes led 2-0 in the first quarter, Huntsville outscored them 3-2 in the second, the visitors had a 3-1 margin in the third, and the scoring was even in the fourth. The count was 8-7 for the Petes with seven minutes to go and they were short two men, but managed to fight in and win home two more markers and hold off the homesters' drive.

Hard Going

There was considerable chopping and hard checking with the referees missing a lot and then turning around and throwing players off for minor offences. Both sides laid it on at times in a pretty rough struggle. A dozen penalties were drawn with the winners getting eight of them, including one major.

All the Petes played good lacrosse, with Dootch Vitarelli, J. Breakspear and Emmett Creighton prominent on the attack. They passed and shot well but found Goalie Tunney of the homesters hard to beat. Goalie Hill of Peterborough also was strong in the visitors' cage. Snowden and Gordon turned in a good effort on the attack for Huntsville, but all the home players worked hard throughout in a classy contest to mark the opening of the season.

A little tennis chatter. Not much info lately from the Kawartha Club, but the Kawartha Tennis League has started play. Cobourg losing in Lindsay 4-3 in the first competition. Kawartha Club is scheduled to play at Quaker tonight, and Campbellford is the other entry. With its heaviest membership yet, the Quaker Club is going full blast on two courts nightly. Beginners, who are members of the club, are encouraged by having two nights weekly in June from six to eight of the clock. Doug Tanney is chairman of tennis there, with Walker Jones heading the tournament committee, Joyce Jeffries secretary, Joy Elmslie social convener, and Roy Johnstone the games chairman. About The Ballsters
In baseball, the Petes' billed COBL contest in Kingston was washed out yesterday, and they play Batavia in Belleville on Saturday. East City and southend peewees play at 6:30 tonight in Morrow Park, with the north and west juveniles in Riverside on Friday eve. A Junior Lakeshore Loop game at three Saturday in Riverside between Whitby and the local Bees, followed there at 6:30 in the evening by Port Hope vs. the intermediate Petes in a league fixture. Two drills tonight, the intermediates going at the Ex. at 6:30, while the north-east juveniles and the junior Bees are in Riverside at 6:15 o'clock.

Scribe Mike Rodden of the Kingston Whig reports: "The Petes pack power according to their record but Manager Ole Olsen predicts that they will have their troubles winning under the lights in the local park. Locos returned from that 10-3 defeat in Peterborough determined to redeem themselves and hit the victory trail. Jack Stone went to the relief of the injured Tony Connor in the Lifflock City and indicated that he is ready to go the route. While the locals report the Petes as powerful, they maintain that the score last Saturday would have been much closer if Locos, who were over-anxious, had not erred so often. They promise that it will be different here." About half of the Petes are quite used to playing under the arcs in softball at the Bowl.

And Both Were 8 To 4
Two 8-4 men's softball games at the Bowl last gloaming—the gloomy skies keeping the crowd down. Comstock's beat Combines and Knights took Legion. So the race is tighter than the star boarder's belt after a Christmas dinner. Both were interesting tilts. It is a pleasure to see the long legs of Mackness manoeuvre him into position to make a tough catch look easy, or to take another base in a few strides. A good ball player. Comstock's are coming, and so are the Knights. Bob Crowe handled a lot of putouts for the R-E crew. Dalton doubled as a pinch-hitter for Legion, and Lewis looked good in right despite one miscue. Hawks again out-foxed a runner. Yeah, a lot of good ball in this loop.

Soccer executive met last night and lined up games for the next couple of weeks. They're listed elsewhere, and show O'Halloran's playing Electrics in King Edward Park this evening, with Petes and Legion meeting on the morrow. The setup for the Phelan Cup draw was settled, too, with three byes, and the league will decide on the dates later. A Petes' practice on Lindsay was washed out as the Comstock's knocked off the R-E Combines 8-4 in a tidy men's softball tilt before a slim crowd at the Bowl last night to tighten up the race. Combines started strongly but bogged down and their rivals kept pecking away to gain the nod, several errors by the R-E crew helping out.

The pitching by Gordon and Guilfoyle was pretty even and also the hitting, but timely hits by Comstock's paid off. Castle who transferred from Combines to Comstock's, hit a two-run homer, Mackness, Pryde and Blewett also hitting homers. Thomson led the winners at bat with three for four, as Pryde topped the losers with three in five tries. A pick-up by Leether was the fielding feature.

K of C Victors By 8 to 4 Against Legion

Knights defeated Legion 8-4 at the Bowl last night to get right into the hot scramble for leadership of the City Softball League. They are tied with Comstock's now, one game behind the tied Combines and Legion crews. Hitting with ducks aboard, plus some loose work early in the game by Legion, gave Knights a neat lead, but Legion pressed hard the last three frames. They had two on in the ninth when a double-play cut them off. The game was interesting throughout.

Terry Woods hurled nice ball and had pretty fair support. Tommy Parsons didn't have it and gave away early in the third to Bob Greenlaw, who pitched good ball the rest of the way. Neither Legion twirler got the best of backing. Tompkins and Kumpf led the winners at bat with two for five each, including doubles, while White headed Legion with two in three attempts, as Loucks and Dalton—as a pinch-hitter—hit doubles. The double-play and grabs by Withers and Ralph were features.

Bearden Likely Cleveland's Key To Pennant

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer.

A "throw-in" in a deal between New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians two years ago, Gene Bearden loomed to-day as the key player in the Indians' pennant chances.

The wavy-haired southpaw came along as excess baggage when the Tribe acquired Allen Gettel and Hal Peck in a trade that sent Sherman Lollar and Ray Mack to the Yankees.

No hurler in the American League has pitched better ball. Bearden's earned run average of under 1.00 is easily the best in the majors. Only Vic Raschi of the Yankees, with seven victories in eight decisions, boasts a better won-and-lost record than Bearden's 6-1.

Bearden gained his sixth victory Tuesday night when he pitched the Indians to a 2-0 triumph over the Red Sox in Boston. It was his second shutout of the season, both against Boston. The victory increased the Indians' first place lead over the Athletics and Yankees to 3½ games.

The Indians collected only five hits off Lefty Mel Parnell, but one was a home run by Manager Lou Boudreau, his sixth of the season. It came in the fourth inning with one on and precipitated a heated argument between the Red Sox and Umpire Charley Berry. The Sox and most of the Boston home crowd of 33,032 claimed the blow was foul, but Berry ruled otherwise.

The Yankees moved into a second-place tie with the Athletics, coming from behind to edge out Chicago White Sox 3-2 in a 12-inning night battle at Yankee Stadium. Detroit Tigers nipped the A's 2-1 in another "squeaker" at Philadelphia.

Bobby (Golden Boy) Brown drove in the winning run for the Yankees with a two-out single in the 12th. It scored Yogi Berra from second base.

Hal Newhouse continued to climb back by holding the Athletics to seven hits. It was his fifth straight victory after four consecutive defeats. Loser Lou Brissie matched Newhouse in the hit department, but was charged with his fifth loss when the Tigers scored two runs in the sixth. It was Philadelphia's fourth straight loss, its longest losing streak of the season.

The Senators came from behind three times to tie the score, then faltered twice in the seventh to nip St. Louis Browns 6-5 in a night game in Washington. Carden Gillenwater and Mark Christman led the Nats' 12-hit attack.

St. Louis Cardinals advanced to within four percentage points of the National League-leading New York Giants by defeating Philadelphia Phillies 7-5 in a night game at St. Louis. Harry (The Cat) Brecheen gained his sixth victory against one defeat, but Ted Wilks saved the game for him with some brilliant relief pitching.

Scoring six runs in the first two innings, Brooklyn Dodgers staved off a couple of desperate Cincinnati rallies to nip the Reds 6-5 in Cincinnati. Willard Ramsdell, relieving starter Ralph Branca in the third, allowed only two hits in 6 1-3 innings.

Young Vernon Rickford gave up only four hits in pitching Boston Braves to an 11-1 victory over Johnny Schmitz and the Cubs in Chicago. It was the Cubs' seventh straight loss.

Canadian Horse Has Chance At 2 Big Purses

NEW YORK, June 9.—(UP).—

Dr. Stanton, the pacer many horsemen believe is the only one in training with a chance to tie or break Billy Direct's record of 1:55, is bedded down at Roosevelt Raceway. Here he is being pointed for the $25,000 National Pacing Derby and the $40,000 Nassau two mile race.

Two years ago the horse was a trotter and not a very good one at that. But since veteran W. L. (Lindy) Fraser of Forest, Ont., bought him as a castoff for $500 and changed his style of running, the Doctor started going places.

He arrived this winter at Santa Anita where the trotting fans took him to heart in the same manner that the racing fans of several years ago adopted the mighty Sea Biscuit.

The Biscuit climbed to popularity and success after a mediocre early career and so has Dr. Stanton. But the huge, short-coupled pacer with the big feet has taken longer time to scale the heights.

He finally arrived among the country's top pacers when he paced a winning local record mile of 2:00 1-5 in the Del Mar at Santa Anita. Next he won the San Diego impressively and the stage was set for the $50,000 Golden West race.

But a false start ruined his chances in the big event. Indian Land and Scottish Boy locked wheels as they scored for the start. A recall was sounded but Fraser, who was driving his horse, didn't hear it and went three-quarters of a mile before he was flagged down.

Indian Lad won the race and Fraser immediately challenged the field that beat him. Santa Anita officials decided to hold the challenge race and Dr. Stanton rose to the occasion.

He set a world's record for a mile and a quarter, stepping the distance in 2:31 to knock Jimmy Creed's mark of 2:32 off the books. And it is on the strength of that effort that Dr. Stanton is conceded an outside chance of beating Billy Direct's record.

Temperamental Chuck Campbell, Canadian and United States singles sculling champion, resigned by request from the Toronto Argonauts Rowing club 13 years ago today following a fracas with coach Don Paul. "Lone Wolf" of Canada's 1936 Olympic team, Campbell made his own way to Germany but failed to win major points for the Dominion.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS

By The Canadian Press

Formation of Montreal's first all-Negro amateur athletic association was announced in Montreal Tuesday by officials of the Negro branch of the Canadian Legion, backers of the project. Purpose of the NAAA is to organize and promote all amateur sports in Montreal's Negro community and to give boys and girls every opportunity of engaging in some sport.

Although plans are still in the infant stage, the NAAA hopes to make its first major step in track and field although the Association also will promote other activities such as boxing, hockey, football and baseball.

Jack Solomons, British boxing promoter, said in New York Tuesday night that he is prepared to make Arthur King, Canadian lightweight champion from Toronto, an offer to go to London to meet Bill Thompson, British and European lightweight champ, for the British Empire title on July 26. Jack Allen of Toronto is trying to arrange a bout between Thompson and King in Toronto and is expected in New York Wednesday to bid against Solomons for the championship bout.

The Fort William Columbus Club Juniors of the Thunder Bay Hockey League have been taken under the wing of Montreal Canadiens, general manager Frank Selke announced in Montreal Tuesday. The sponsorship will go right down through juvenile, midget and bantam ranks. Beginning next season the club will be known as the Columbus Canadiens.

Right-hander Don Carter of the International Baseball League Maple Leafs has been sold outright to Birmingham Barons of the Southern Association. It was announced Tuesday night at Toronto. Carter appeared in nine games for the Leafs this season for a record of one victory and three losses.

It was announced in London on Tuesday that the football league voted unanimously to ban television of all league soccer matches except the football association cup final and international games. W. C. Cuff, president of the league, put the television question to a vote after several members suggested that television might reduce gate receipts.

Unless immediate steps are taken to stop illegal fishing by setting up a "non-professional" provincial game commission, Quebec rivers and streams will soon be "fishless," A. T. Stikeman, president of the Quebec Anglers' Association, told the St. George Kiwanis Club in Montreal Tuesday.

At Fairmont Park, Ill., Cleveland took an easy victory Tuesday night in feature seventh race of the Grand Circuit. The winner, driven by Tom Beasley, moved to the front at the first call and held a five-length lead at the finish.

Babe's Place Wins

Manager George Bowen had the Babe's Place squad right on their toes last evening at King Edward Park to beat Eddie Niziol's recently-strengthened Police team in a Civic Softball game, 18-9.

Police have such notables as Jack Dane and "Dit" Clapper on their lineup. Clapper handled several fielding chances without a miss and Jack Dane looked right at home on first base, and if a few of his long drives down the third base line were a little straighter, the score would have been much closer.

Stew Loyst's homer, a terrific drive to deep centre in the third inning with the bases loaded, just about sewed up the game for Babe's Place; Anderson and Pest also clouted homers.

McGillen, Traynor and Niziol for the Police, and Craig, Post and Mortimer for Babe's Place, all played head-up ball.

Grafton's meet the Police to-night at King Edward Park, 7:00 p.m. A good crowd is expected as all teams in Group No. 2 are pretty well bunched together in the standing and both teams will be out for a win.

Babe's Place: Post, Craig, Mortimer, Lorne, Westlake, Sanderson, Carnegie, Anderson and Wilford.

Police: McGillen, Hunter, Fife, Weaver, Downer, Clapper, Niziol, Dane, Richardson and Traynor.

Schedule Drawn In Soccer For Two Weeks

A further part of the soccer schedule was drawn up at an executive meeting Tuesday night in the YMCA with President Bill Gracie in the chair. The Petes' protest claiming two points was thrown out because the Lindsay Club had conformed with the rules in postponing a game. The committee decided on three byes in the Phelan Cup draw so as to provide two semi-finalists, and the draw will be: Petes vs. O'Halloran's and Legion vs. CGE vs. Legion.

Art Downer's request to be taken off the Legion list was refused as he must state what club he will play with in a transfer to be arranged. Legion got permission to play Kingston on July 1 and on another open date in August. The next meeting will be June 25. Following is the game schedule:

June 9—O'Halloran's vs. CGE, Asa Downer referee.

June 10—Petes vs. Legion, Tom Garland referee.

June 12—O'Halloran's vs. Lindsay at 3:30, W. Harris referee.

June 16—CGE vs. Legion, Asa Downer referee.

June 17—Petes vs. Lindsay, Asa Downer referee.

Woman Found Guilty Of Stealing A Roast

Charged with theft of a chicken Tuesday Mrs. Anne storms, 143 Rubidge St., pleaded not guilty, and was found guilty of theft of one roast of beef from a Groceries. The package containing the alleged chicken was not opened until court opened today, when it was found that instead of the chicken, a roast of beef was inside the wrapping.

Mrs. Storms claimed she had her coat open and was holding the parcel beneath her arm when she went to the checking clerk. She said she paid for some other groceries, and forgot the meat, and was about to return to pay for it when Arthur Brockley, an employee of the store, tapped her on the shoulder and asked her to go to the manager's office.

Brockley said he saw her having trouble buttoning her coat, and that he noticed a parcel underneath. He said she was on her way out of the store when he stopped her and asked her to go to the manager's office. Detective Sergeant John Stevenson was called to the store where Mrs. Storms was arrested. Magistrate W. R. Philp found her guilty and placed her on suspended sentence for one year.

6-Year-Old Girl Missing Overnight

MILTON, June 9 — (CP) — Six-year-old Shirley Broatch staggered or was pushed into her home near this Milton county town early today after being missing since early Monday night. Hundreds of neighbors formed a search party which combed bush-land in which the little girl told her parents she had been.

Hysterical when questioned by her mother, Mrs. Harry Broatch, and police, the girl showed no outward signs of having been molested. Her 17-year-old sister, Loraine, said she was sure Shirley was pushed into the door by a man.

There were scratches on the little girl's legs and back and she told her parents that all she could remember was that she had been chased by an automobile. Her parents thought the child might have been mistaken because there had been a number of cars near the house Monday night.

Shirley, whose mother said appears "to be acting as though in a dream," will be examined by a doctor.

Europe Drafts Broad Program Social Security

MONTREAL, June 9 — (CP) — A report showing the extent to which European governments have re-established and enlarged their pre-war social security programs was made public in Montreal today by Dr. Rudolf Aladar Metall, secretary-general of the International Social Security Association.

Several governments - in - exile were making plans to modernize and improve their national social insurance programs even while their countries still were overrun by the Nazis, the report said. Belgium, from the beginning of 1945, was able to put into force the provisional plan prepared in secret under the occupation.

The report shows that as soon as they were liberated and their governments reconstituted, the countries of Europe set about the reform of their social insurance schemes which resulted in the rapid development of the past two years.

The survey reveals that France, Great Britain, Sweden and Yugoslavia already possess social security legislation providing complete coverage.

These systems embrace practically the whole population of employed and self-employed, with their wives and children. They cover sickness, maternity, invalidity, old age, death and family responsibilities, and, for the employed, the risk of employment injury.

In Czechoslovakia, Greece and Poland, plans for the reform of social insurance legislation are being drafted.

He Had Ideas

CLEVELAND, June 9 — (AP) — Jail life was getting dull, so Salvatore C. Laducca ordered some reading material. But when Judge Frank J. Merrick saw the titles of Laducca's books he said no. The titles: "The Greatest Prison Breaks of All Times," "Big Shot Gangsters—Their Careers, Crimes and Deaths," "The 10 Most Terrible Crimes of All Time," "How Detectives Catch Crooks," and "Mysteries of Magic, Mind Reading and Hypnotism."

STRIKE AFFECTS 16 LAKE SHIPS — Sixteen lake ships are either tied up or have lost crew members because of the strike called by the union, Canadian Seamen's Union claims. In Thorold, Ont., provincial police and RCMP are investigating the action of CSU members who boarded the Canada Steamship Lines package freighter Battleford and induced 16 members of the union to leave the ships. The striking union charges lockout by Canada Steamship Lines and four others. Here, a picket line paces Canal dock with freighter seen in background.

Blast Shatters Posh Clubhouse

LOS ANGELES, June 7 (AP) — A shattering explosion blew the roof off the Hillcrest Country Club—favorite gathering-place for movie, big-wigs — during the breakfast hour today.

Police at the scene, beaten back by terrific heat, said they could not hazard a guess as to casualties in the blast. One ambulance driver said he picked up two bodies.

Other officers said they believed "several persons were killed or buried" by a gas explosion. Despite the efforts of a dozen fire companies from Los Angeles, Culver City and West Los Angeles, the clubhouse—a frame structure built when the $150,000 clubhouse burned down two years ago—quickly was gutted.

A policeman at 20th Century-Fox Studio, across Pico boulevard from the club, said the blast "almost blew the buttons off my uniform."

The main roof was lifted into the air and deposited many feet away in a stand of trees.

Lindsay Council Told Lobbying, Pressure Being Used Concerning Police Appointment

LINDSAY, June 9 (ENS)—Ald. Lloyd Burrows intimated that there was a move on foot in Lindsay to remove the present chief of police and replace him with a former Provincial Police man, W. H. McBrien, 56, of Dunnville.

The charges came during Tuesday night's council meeting when W. H. McBrien, formerly of Peterborough, was chosen to fill the vacancy on the local force. The new constable, was selected on the deciding ballot of Chairman Burrows after council had voted four for McBrien and a former recommendation that Milton Hadley of Lindsay be engaged was disregarded.

Said Ald. Burrows "There has been heavy lobbying and pressure brought to bear on me and other councillors." He said it was nasty business and added that more is going on behind the scenes than indicated.

During the meeting the resignation of Deputy Reeve J. L. Nesbitt as chairman of the Board of Works was accepted and Mayor Charles Lamb appointed to the post. Mr. Nesbitt said he resigned over the firing of Town Engineer Cobb last month and because other councillors meddled in the Board of Works.

Newsman's Election Shots Thudded Close To Mark

By BOB BUCHANAN

Sam Curry, publisher of the Tweed News, is a brave man. Four days before the voters of the province went to the polls to name their new legislature, Mr. Curry published a riding-by-riding list of his selection of the winners. He "called" 59 of the 80 seat-winners correctly.

His estimate of party standings after the election was only one short for the Progressive-Conservatives (he said they'd get 54, they got 53). He predicted 19 CCF seats, three short of the actual win, and 15 for the Liberals, which was three more than the actual. He predicted only one of the two Labor-Progressives would win. (They both won). And he correctly called that there would be one Liberal-Labor member.

Ten of Mr. Curry's 31 wrong prognostications were in Toronto and the Yorks—which makes the publisher's view of the matter about the same as that of most observers, as general public surprise was felt at the amazing display of the CCF in that metropolitan district. One of the errors was naming Premier Drew as winner in his own Toronto High Park riding.

However, some of the surprises of Monday's elections were forecast by Mr. Curry's preliminary list. He said Hamilton Centre would go CCF. He also predicted that traditional Tory Toronto Woodbine would elect CCF'er B. E. Leavens, and it did. Seven of Mr. Curry's incorrect listings were qualified by him with such comments as "very close," "narrow margin." A check of the actual figures shows that. Although hitting only about seven winners, his judgment of close races were correct. In all seven, a matter of a few hundred votes would have elected his choices.

The daring venture into the (then) unknown was based, said the article, on "reading 50 or more newspapers every week, talking to those who have visited various parts of the province, examining past voting records" and past personal observations.

Although hitting only about two-thirds of the ridings with winning tickets, Mr. Curry's selection of party standings was head-and-shoulders above those of several Toronto daily newspaper pundits who profoundly misread their fortune-telling abilities.

The article said: "These predictions will probably be rudely shattered next Monday, and in that case, we will go into permanent hibernation and permit someone else to do the forecasting next time."

Laying the predictions beside the actual returns seems to indicate no necessity for Mr. Curry to go into hibernation.

Farrell Takes Chance

NEW YORK, June 9.—(AP)—An "angel" who likes his own show, even if the critics don't, took a $3,000,000 flier Tuesday to take a home for the musical, "Hold It." Anthony B. Farrell, Albany, N.Y., businessman, who invested $350,000 as the sole backer of the show, Tuesday said he had purchased the 1,000-seat Warner theatre.

The play, which has been showing at the National theatre, will close Saturday night. Farrell said it would re-open at the new theatre Sept. 9, and that he hopes it will run there for years.

$27,000 Taken From Meters In First Year

May receipts from the parking meters were $2,095.07, as reported to the council Monday night by City Clerk Outram.

The total of $27,107.96 was collected from the meters from the time they were put into use, May 12, 1947, to the end of last month. Parking stickers to the amount of $80 were sold during May, and parking penalty tickets at one dollar each, brought in $111. For 51 marriage licenses fees the city received $235. Various commercial licenses amounted to $986.50. Total receipts at the city clerk's office were $5,999.82.

They were: licenses $986.50; police court, $1,221.25; miscellaneous, $1,697; parking meters, $2,095.07.

Saving of approximately $2,000 in bank interest was effected by payment of business taxes in one instalment, one month prior to the property taxes. Mr. Outram said he had recommended this innovation. More than 93 per cent of the business taxes were paid before the due date.

Car Rolls Over, No Bad Injuries

LINDSAY, June 9.—(ENS)—Kenneth Reid, salesman for a Lindsay motor firm, had a narrow escape from possible serious injury Tuesday when the car in which he was driving overturned.

According to Provincial Police Corporal R. Taylor of Lindsay, who investigated the accident, Reid was proceeding north on the county road three miles from Manilla. After coming over a knoll, Reid met a farm tractor proceeding in same direction and he pulled over to the side of the road.

The left wheels of the car, said the officer, got into the ditch and after Reid tried to get back onto the gravel road, the car rolled over. The driver was badly shaken up and complained of a sore leg. The top of the car was panicked in.

Kitchen Fire Damage $200

Fire caused damage estimated at $200 to the kitchen of Mrs. R. McIlmoyle, 194 Hunter St. E., early this morning. How the blaze began is not yet certain, but it started in Mrs. McIlmoyle's kitchen, an upstairs room which she sub-lets from J. Titus, who occupies the rest of the house.

She was out at the time and the fire was discovered by Mr. Titus who smelled smoke and went to investigate. He saw one corner of the kitchen ablaze and tried to extinguish it by throwing water on it. In the meantime somebody phoned for the Fire Department.

Before it was put out it travelled both upwards and downwards through the wall. An attic above the kitchen was slightly damaged and flames also ate through the floor into the room directly beneath.

Transport Firm Acts On Protests Of Noise

Protest of Douro and Rogers streets residents, through the city council, about noises from the Provincial Transport Company's barn in that vicinity, has brought reply from the company's head office in Montreal.

S. Bowman, general superintendent of maintenance, has written that on a visit here late in May he issued instructions that there must be no excessive noises "due to the running of engines. I am led to believe that this has been cleared up."

In a letter to Mayor Owens, received Monday night, Mr. Bowman wrote: "I wish to assure you and the members of the council that everything possible is being done to eliminate noise, and to keep the building and surroundings clean and presentable."

Mr. Bowman expressed appreciation of the friendly spirit of discussion with Mayor Owens during his visit.

Adequate Supply Forecast By Coal Official $1 Price Boost Likely

Despite assurances of a high-ranking businessman that there will be sufficient Pennsylvania coal to meet Canadian needs this winter, local dealers are frankly sceptical. And they expect an increase in price, as well. According to a Canadian Press dispatch Walter L. Banta, chairman of the Producer-Retailer Committee,

Pennsylvania region, told the 44th annual convention of the Canadian Retail Coal Association meeting yesterday in Niagara Falls that there would be enough anthracite to meet this country's normal demand.

He estimated that 50,652,000 tons of Pennsylvania anthracite will be produced this year, and he said this was enough for both Canada and the United States.

Not all local dealers were agreed. One thought that this amount should be sufficient and that it would help to keep the price down. He said the usual Canadian consumption was about nine million tons, with Ontario and Quebec each requiring about two million tons.

Wages Are Factor
The joker in the pack however was the expiration of coal contracts—the soft coal contract at the end of this month, and the hard coal one in July. It is expected that at that time John L. Lewis will complicate the picture by asking for wage boosts or other benefits, cost of which will inevitably be shifted along the line to the ultimate consumer.

And the one dealer who felt that the present price of a ton of coal could be maintained, admitted he was not taking the unpredictable factor of the renewed coal contracts into consideration. "Now that coke is practically off the market, because it's being used by steel companies, those who usually buy coke will now be buying coal instead. So that will increase demand and I don't think that figure is enough." That was the comment of another coal dealer who was not optimistic about the situation.

He too mentioned the new coal contracts which would have to be negotiated this summer. "With Lewis it's 'no contract no work.' Prices are more likely to advance."

Only one retailer was willing to talk about specific prices. He said he had been warned by his central office to expect a rise of $1 a ton. And he said a company had already raised the price of anthracite by 25 cents a ton on June 1, and tacked on another 75 cents a ton beginning June 7.

This spokesman also said the retailers were no longer getting the good coal. I is too much of the egg size, considered by most householders as too large, or buckwheat size equally undesirable because it is too small.

He too, believed the contract negotiations would result in a price jump and predicted "coal will be very scarce this winter."

Make it A Lovely Spring for Peterborough

Chinese crab trees along the George St. front of King Edward Park have been in bloom during the last two weeks and are again attracting the complimentary attention of citizens passing that way. They were planted during the time the late Ald. Walter Stoker was chairman of the Parks Committee. Their pinkish white flowers are notably beautiful. Armar Butcher of the Parks Department reports that Norway maples have been planted on Fagan Ave. this spring and have put out their first leaves. The city also planted the trees on Douglas and McCannan Avenues. They have been established for some years, already are providing shade on both streets, and accentuate the trim appearance of lawns and flower beds.

Work started this week on the completion of landscaping and planting on Hamilton and McKellar Streets in the Dutton subdivision. Trees and shrubs are being set out on the streets of this development which was planned and carried through by Housing Enterprises Limited and is now being finished by Central Mortgage and Housing. This work will probably be completed next week.

The spirits of King Edward School is another of the present show places of the south end. It is embellished by the elms and other trees in the school grounds and park to the east and by the lawns of De Laval Co. and Martin-Hewitt Ltd. on the west side of Park Street.

Elmwood Park of A. Wander Limited has put on all its glory of trees and shrubs, and is one of the most striking horticultural and arboreal assets of the city. Its wire fence is a slight distraction, but on the other hand the Ovaline people appear to avoid exploiting their own name about the premises.

These community and industrial developments of beauty in that section of the south end tend to lift eyebrows at the blank fences of Morrow Park even with people who are not unfriendly to that property and its present purposes.

Londoners Lose Millions To Thieves Every Year

By NORMAN CRIBBENS.

LONDON, June 9 — (CP). — Every year in the teeming Metropolis of Greater London some 30,000 people are in one way or another robbed of money and possessions.

The total deficit, according to Scotland Yard, is in the neighborhood of £1,500,000 ($6,000,000) annually and more than half of it goes to the intrepid housebreaker. By the end of 1947 more than 14,000 Londoners had ruefully checked over their ransacked possessions and called on their local "bobbies" to report the loss of jewellery, furs, clothing and cash.

Small Part Restored.

Of £880,000 worth of property stolen from London homes, only £26,200 was restored. Nearly £250,000 of articles vanished from autos during the same period of which little more than 10 per cent was recovered.

Stolen goods under miscellaneous headings reached a total value of £756,000. Of these all but £76,000 worth were never traced.

While high-priced stolen jewellery is usually smuggled out of the country, most garments find their way into retail stores through the black market and are bought as legitimate goods.

A small proportion, however, changes hands furtively in public houses, cafes, pin-table saloons and dingy back-street clubs — where the burglar meets his agent, the spiv.

Worst Headache.

"This traffic is one of our worst headaches," a Scotland Yard inspector said. "Nowadays with high prices and the shortage of clothing coupons, the spiv can always find a customer willing to take the risk he runs of being charged with receiving stolen goods."

Jewellery successfully smuggled abroad is rarely retrieved. No clue, for instance, has revealed the fate of the Duchess of Windsor's jewels—major pieces of unique design stolen from her temporary home at Ednam Lodge, Sunningdale, Berkshire, in October, 1946.

These in most criminal circles, would have been considered "too hot to handle."

Gets 15 Months For Stealing Car

Albert Selmes, 37½ Water St., was sentenced Tuesday by Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C., to 16 months definite and two months indefinite in Guelph Reformatory. He had pleaded guilty to theft of a car when charged on May 31. The car was the property of Clifford Cunningham, 186 Perry St.

Garnet Brooks, 332 Rubidge St., also charged with the car theft, was released when the charge against him was dismissed, the Crown offering no evidence.

The car had been recovered in Toronto several hours after it had been missed. Cunningham was surprised it had gone that far, he said.

Few Cases Fined

In police court Tuesday, several traffic cases and two liquor charges were heard by Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C.

Hugh Kerr and Ivan Jensen, both of 508 Water St., pleaded guilty to illegal possession of liquor and were each fined $10 and $2.50 costs.

Orvil Ellis, Havelock, pleaded guilty to a charge of having inadequate brakes and was fined $10 and $2.50 costs.

Earl J. Duff, RR 1, Havelock, pleaded guilty to a charge of careless driving and was fined $10 and $2.50 costs.

E. J. Thompson, 178 Charlotte St., was fined $5 and $2.50 costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding.

Reid Scott, 21 Youngest Member

TORONTO, June 9. — (CP). — Election of Reid Scott, 21-year-old CCF candidate in Toronto Beaches, establishes him as the youngest member ever elected to the Ontario Legislature.

The youthful secretary of the Teamsters' Union in Toronto bettered the record set by Farquhar Oliver, who was elected in 1926 at the age of 22.

Despite his youth, Scott, who was graduated in political science and economics at University of Toronto last Wednesday, has been connected with socialism for 13 years. He delivered party literature when he was eight.

Scott, winner of four oratorical contests in elementary and high schools, broke the 22-year-old hold on the Beaches riding by Progressive Conservative Thomas Murphy, who is 63.

The new member for Beaches is studying law and will enter Osgoode Hall in the fall.

Prices Group Checking Silks

OTTAWA, June 9. — (CP). — Common price committee today begins its examination of artificial silk prices after concluding its probe into the cotton side of the textile industry Tuesday.

The cotton inquiry was completed at least three days ahead of the tentative schedule which the committee has been following in its textile inquiry.

The detailed statements of their companies' finances and past operations submitted by witnesses from the industry did not become the fruitful source of questions that have arisen in the committee's earlier investigations.

Attention has been almost exclusively concentrated on the relatively simple subject of production and its decline from the peak reached in the first three years of the war.

The industrial witnesses were G. Blair Gordon, president of Do-

Family Group Helps Note 50th Anniversary of Pair

Fifty years ago on Tuesday, Thomas Cavanaugh and Ellen Shannon of Ennismore came by buggy to Peterborough to be married by the late Mr. D. J. Casey at St. Peter's Cathedral. First cousin, William J. Cavanaugh, followed with his future wife, to stand up with the young couple and see the knot well and truly tied. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cavanaugh went on their honeymoon to Toronto, and on their return settled in Ennismore on Lot 5, Concession 8, in the midst of the district cleared by their forefathers.

Mr. Cavanaugh's parents were Michael Cavanaugh and Bridget Doran, children of original settlers from the South of Ireland, and his wife's parents were John Shannon and Kate Hickson. They raised a family of five boys, four of whom are still living: Gerald and Dan in Ennismore; John in Detroit and Roy of Blind River, Ont. Frank died early this year.

Their 50th wedding anniversary was held in Peterborough on Tuesday noon in the form of a place in Selwyn United church this month. The evening was spent in making a bride's book.

Lunch was served by Mrs. J. R. Hull and Miss Muereta assisted by Miss Jean Graham. The bride elect was presented with a number of gifts by Miss Beth Vici of Peterborough. Those present included Misses Joan Pae, Jean Millar, Shirley Graham, Ruth Wilkinson, Mrs. Archie Stuart and Mrs. Ed. Vici. Those unable to attend but who sent gifts were the Misses Joan and Doreen Kelly and Betty Lake.

Charlton to say farewell before their departure for Brantford where they will reside. Mr. and Mrs. Windsor have resided in the village for about 25 years and previously in Apsley district. Mrs. W. Gillman read an appropriate address and presented the couple with a gift—a nosegay of flowers centred with dollar bills.

WA Hold Supper Meeting

Sootheran, president, presided for a short discussion of business before the tea hour. The head table was prettily decorated with lilies and the guests were Archdeacon W. P. Robertson, Archdeacon C. W. Balfour and Mrs. Robertson.

Yvonne Naples Bride of John W. Flagler

Summer flowers formed the setting for a pretty wedding in Knox United church, Saturday, when Yvonne Audrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Naples, 567 Sherbrooke St., became the bride of John Wilfred, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Flagler, Western Ave. The Rev. H. G. Douglas performed the ceremony. Wedding music was played by Mr. W. R. Potter. The soloist, Miss Olive Rome, sang "The Lord's Prayer" before the ceremony, and "God Make These Mine" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing a portrait gown of bridal satin. The moulded bodice was inset with tulle at the neckline and circled with folds of satin edged with guipure lace. Side bustles on the full skirt fell into a long train and she wore a full length veil of embroidered illusion net caught to a tiara of lilies and orange blossoms. Her shower bouquet of red roses was tied with long white satin streamers.

Mrs. Henry Whitley attended her sisters as matron of honor and wore a gown of turquoise blue bengaline taffeta, with matching headpiece and carried a Colonial bouquet of pink roses. Miss Dorothy Clark as bridesmaid was gown in deep pink silk lace and net with flower headpiece and her Colonial bouquet was of Tailsman roses.

Mr. Norman Fields was the groomsman. Ushers were Stephen Flagler, brother of the groom, and Thomas Williams.

At the reception afterward, Mrs. Naples received, wearing a gown of black figured silk jersey with black accessories and a corsage of Tailsman roses.

The bride and groom left later on a trip to the United States. When leaving Mrs. Flagler was wearing a heavenly blue crepe frock, black accessories and a corsage of red roses. On return, they will live in Peterborough.

Windrem-Wood Nuptials Held

At the manse, Campbellford, on Saturday, the Rev. J. O. Ralston officiated at a quiet wedding ceremony when Jean Wilhelmine Wood became the bride of William Thomas Windrem. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Sarah Wood of Peterborough, formerly of Campbellford, and the late Percy Wood, and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Windrem, Peterborough.

The bride wore a powder blue suit with small Tuscan hat and black accessories. She carried a white Bible with gardenias and ribbon streamers tied with lily of the valley. Her sister, Miss Ila M. Wood was bridesmaid and wore a light grey suit with navy accessories and corsage of deep pink roses. The groom's attendant was Mr. Wilbert L. Wood, brother of the bride.

Afterward, a reception for the immediate families was held at the Villa Trent. The bride's mother wore a dress of grey mesh with black accessories and a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother was attired in black and white,

I am married to her oldest son, who makes a fair salary, and we pitch in to get enough money together to buy a home, but instead of my mother-in-law getting all of her children together and asking each for a few dollars a week, which they can well afford to give her, she keeps taking as much as

PLAN JUNE WEDDING—Rolen Pearl Fitzgerald and Arthur Frederick Northcott whose engagement has been announced. happily when the high contracting parties marry strangers or men and women of whom their parents disapprove. But I should be highly suspicious of a man who wanted to keep his family in the background. There must be something the matter with them, and marriage is a big enough risk without throwing in a mysterious stranger. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

The Stars Say . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Thursday, June 10

An adventurous, enterprising and thrilling day could find culmination in some rather exciting and dynamic situation or crisis. The astral indications are for a very positive invitation to "live dangerously" with all objectives and aims partaking of a free, lavish, reckless and improvident urge in business, personal and physical outlay of the forces and faculties. The energies being highly stimulated, and the personal equation keyed to the emotional, it might be easy to be carried into excess, extravagance and ultimate repentance. There are excellent returns for keeping the brakes on.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are advised that there are many indications of a pleasant, profitable and adventurous year, with all faculties, forces, and initiative keyed to high enterprise and fine creative expression. While there are sound and practical factors and aspirations, yet an indomitable urge to reckless ventures, excesses, and emotional impulses could prove ruinous and devastating. Properly curbed, there is splendid promise for ingenuity, skills, energies and enterprise, to a dynamic degree and with much pleasure and profit on the side. A child born on this day is endowed with great energy, initiative and versatility, but a rampant urge for outlets of high pressure and tensions might prove its detriment.

Run-down Feeling May Be Often Caused By Nervous Trouble

Strained, tense nerves are often the cause of restless nights. Improper rest, night after night, is quickly followed by loss of appetite, irritability and a tired, run-down condition.

For disorders such as these, Milburn's Health and Nerve Pills are highly beneficial. The iron and other ingredients they contain help to improve the blood content, stimulate the nervous system, and the appetite, aid digestion, thus helping to promote sleep.

Milburn's Health and Nerve Pills are sold at drug counters everywhere.

Bitter Debate Features Assembly Meet

TORONTO, June 9. (CP)—Bitter Nova Scotia controversies in which two ministers were accused of violating the constitution of the Presbyterian Church in Canada echoed Tuesday at the church's 74th general assembly.

The assembly quashed an appeal against decisions of the Synod of the Maritimes and Cape Breton Presbytery. Both appeals were filed by Rev. A. A. Murray of Sydney, N.S. One was heard in camera.

The first appeal dealt with minutes of a church court which last year convicted 29-year-old Rev. Perry Rockwood of Truro, N.S., of following "a divisive course" in his sermons. The one heard in camera concerned Rev. Frank Lawson, Moderator of the Halifax Lunenburg Presbytery, charged by an individual member of the Cape Breton Presbytery last March that he had denied the virgin birth of Christ. The charges were rejected by the Presbytery for lack of evidence but a supporter of the charges said they would be repeated before the current Assembly here.

Dr. Murray said the Rockwood minutes should never have been approved by the Synod without first being read publicly. Judicial committee chairman Rev. W. J. Graham of Thorold, said evidence was "insufficient and irrelevant" when he asked dismissal of Dr. Murray's appeal against Cape Breton Presbytery's decision.

Earlier, Rev. S. Banks Nelson of Hamilton and Rev. W. Stanford Reid of Montreal urged a "clean-up" of motion pictures both on this continent and Europe. They supported resolutions for a stricter movie censorship and increased production of religious films. The assembly also went on record as being opposed to "the nation's sin of drunkenness." A resolution protesting radio liquor advertisements was approved.

"Our country will suffer badly if we neglect our rural churches," said Rev. W. M. Sutherland of Whitechurch, Ont. In a report he said many rural pastors become discouraged and pessimistic.
